Feeling ran high in the third period, a fist fight threatening when Wannamaker and Rogers collided on the ice, the latter going off for repairs. Wingett, Stuart and Cripps brothers are other outstanding men on the ice.

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 14.—(A. P.)—John Pedersen was out of a job, but not out of resourcefulness.

So P. and his wife went to work with their capital of 45 cents making oil cloth flowers. That was four years ago. Now there are 14 girls at work for Pedersen and his business is estimated at $6,000 a month. He was asked what inspired his venture.

"I guess," he said, "it was because we were hungry."

REDISTRIBUTION SHUFFLE MERGER

of the U.F.O. riding of South Grey, and make two Dufferins.

Seats Likely to Disappear

Among other old seats which are allegedly doomed to pass out of the electoral picture, either through absorption by other ridings or total elimination, are Centre Simcoe, Liberal; Glengarry, Liberal; one of the Conservative Hastings; the Conservative Brockville riding; the conservative constituency of North Ontario; North Middlesex, Conservative; one Conservative Lanark; and Peterborough city, a constant Conservative winner.

Merging of the two Victorias will throw William Newman, Liberal, against W. W. Staples, Conservative; and a merger of the two Renfrews—which is still under advisement, it is said—would pit Provincial Treasurer Edward A. Dunlop against Tom. P. Murray, Irish Liberal.

A good many ridings in Western Ontario, in particular, remain unchanged. The two Wellingtons, both Liberal, have been untouched, and the same disposition, according to reported present plans, will be made of North and South Oxford, Progressive and Liberal, respectively. The two Kents, both Conservative, will be still in the picture. So will be the two Lambtons. The two Essexes, reinforced by the territory of one Windsor seat, will continue as two Essexes. City of London, inasmuch as plans call for the absorption of practically all the North Middlesex fighting ground.

Other Shuffles

There are several three and four riding shuffles, for purposes in each case of a single seat reduction, in the redistribution proposal. Out of the present two Hurons, and two Bruces picture, all anti-Government at the present time, will emerge three seats. The same sort of policy will apply to the Niagara Peninsula where Lincoln, Haldimand, Welland and St. Catharines will be whittled down, it is reported, to three seats.

Opposition Leader W. E. N. Sinclair's South Ontario seat will not be affected. Neither will Hon. Dr. Joseph D. Monteith's riding in North Perth; Premier Henry's riding in East York, nor Hon. Charles McCrea's riding in Sudbury; Hon. J. R. Cooke's riding of North Hastings may be enlarged somewhat, with the dropping of one Hastings seat. Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb's Algoma seat will be considerably increased with the addition of Manitoulin Island; and Hon. Dr. Paul Poisson's North Essex constituency is due for an extension, with the incorporation of part of the Windsor riding that is to be eliminated. In the event of a new York riding being established, Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways, may contribute some of his present South York constituency to the make-up of the newcomer.

Durham—W. J. Bragg, Lib., unchanged.

Hastings East — James F. Hill, Cons., to figure in shuffle to make two Hastings ridings instead of present three.

Hastings North—Hon. J. R. Cooke Cons., to figure in same shuffle.

Hastings West—William H. Ireland, Cons., to figure in same shuffle and in event of being dropped from electoral picture will be merged with Conservative riding of Prince Edward to form one riding.

Northumberland—Fred J. McArthur, Cons., unchanged.

Ontario North—James Blanchard, Cons., to be eliminated.

Ontario South—W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., Lib., unchanged.

Peterboro City—J. F. Strickland, Cons., to be absorbed by Conservative riding of Peterborough County.

Prince Edward—Horace Colliver, Cons., to retain identity, and likely to absorb Conservative riding of Hastings West.

INTERESTS OF CHEESE TRADE

of co-operation, stressing the need for this among cheese factory groups. He advocated the collection of the county cheese in the Belleville cold storage plant which it was hoped, would shortly be acquired by the Central Ontario Co-operative Limited, a company that was out to arrange storage for cheese, butter, poultry, fruit, and vegetable interests in the country, and was ready to accept organizations of any of these lines of agriculture into their organization. He also outlined some of the advantages of this system, especially the saving on freight rates and the general cutting of expense.

Mr. Ashton also told of the new inter-Empire group that had started in England, The Empire Farmers' Co-operative Limited, an organization that was out to build up agriculture through the United Kingdom by linking up with associate organizations in the Dominion.

The co-operative purchasing of cheese factory supplies was discussed and a committee composed of G. Van Volkenburg, J. A. Murray, F. Harnden, H. Arnold, and W. Bruyea was appointed to meet the executive of the Campbellford Cheesemakers 'Association to take action regarding this matter.

Speaking on this subject, Walter H. Smith, county agricultural representative, pointed out that this case action had been taken by the fruit growers of the county with great success, between eight and ten thousand dollars having been saved in the county. "Possibilities for an organization such as this to look after the purchasing interests of cheese factories seemed to him to be good," he said.

The purchase of cans and linware for patrons was also discussed, and Mr. Gillespie was appointed a purchasing agent to obtain prices on these articles which will be sent to agents at each factory, where orders will be obtained and bulk shipments made.

The marketing of cheese was gone into very thoroughly, although no definite steps were taken regarding this matter, which is one of the most important in the cheese industry. It was, however, felt that all cheese should be graded before its arrival at Montreal, and some expressed the desire for the establishment of a cheese board at Campbellford. Much of the cheese in the district is shipped through the U.D.C. and some sold on the Belleville market.

Quick, sure relief with Fruit-a-tives

"Your splendid remedy acted like a tonic to my entire system. I can't begin to tell what I suffered from backaches due to kidney derangement. When I would bend down it seemed that I couldn't straighten up again. I was continually awakened at night from the same cause. Dizzy, sick headaches and a weak stomach made me feel perfectly wretched. Now thanks to your wonderful 'Fruit-a-tives', I am enjoying life again."

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person. (Address furnished upon request.)

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Bank Robber Suspect Makes No Confession

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 14.—(CP)—Detective Sergeants Harold Zatterhouse and Norman Tinsley, Toronto, today questioned Stanley Lawrence of Hamilton also known as John Boyd, regarding his alleged connection with a bank holdup at Toronto last week.

While the youth, soon after his arrest in a downtown hotel yesterday, allegedly told police they would find $755 in a pillowcase in his bedroom, Detective Inspector Claude Renaud of the local force said officially Lawrence or Boyd has not confessed to participation in the bank holdup as reported.

Strict watch was maintained all day and night by border police for the possible arrival of Lawrence's supposed accomplice.

MOTHERS' BISCUITS BEING DISPLAYED

Made From Mothers' Biscuit Mix Product of Quaker Oats.

Samples of the biscuits that mother used to make are in the south display window of The Examiner.

They are made from "Mothers Biscuit Mix,' 'gauranteed to "make biscuits in a jiffy," and made by the Quaker Oats Company.

The pan of biscuits on view shows just the type of delicious-looking smooth-crusted biscuits, with flaky grain, that go so well, when hot, with plenty of butter and honey.

A very effective display has been contrived by the use of raised stands covered with red crepe paper, while blue and yellow streamers alternate in the window decorations, which carry out the prevailing notes of red, blue, and yellow used in the attractive packages of "Mothers' Biscuit Mix."

The Rev. Chas. Daniel took the topic of the evening, with a very interesting character chart which the basis of an entertaining and instructive period.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

The regular monthly meeting of Central Home and School Association was held last evening in the kindergarten room of the school, with a good attendance present. Mrs. J. Kingsbury, president, presided, and as this meeting marked the end of the year, a brief resume of the year's work was given. Mrs. E. Wand, president of the Local Home and School Council, was present to take the chair for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and also as guest speaker.

Reports Read.

Annual reports were called for from the retiring secretary and treasurer. These reports were lucid and inteesting, and showed the society to be on a sound basis. In the absence of Mrs. W. Flannery, the relief convenor, Mrs. Skitch read a most splendid account of the good work done during the year, $140.74 being spent on this work.

Mrs. Stanger reported for the Local Council of Women, and made a special plea to those present to interest themselves in this work.

It was intimated that in the near future a representative from the Blind Institute would visit the city and give an illustrated lecture on the work of the Institute. The date will be advertised, and this meeting will be of great interest.

Mrs. J. Kingsbury then closed the business session and thanked the retiring officers for the kind courtesy and help which she had received during her presidency and spoke of the pleasure and interest she had experienced at all the meetings.

Miss Freda Castle delighted the audience by dancing the Highland Fling and the Sword Dance, accompanied on the bagpipes by Mr. A. Milne.

Mrs. E. Wand then took the chair for the election, and the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. J. Kingsbury; Treasurer, Mrs. F. Skitch; Secretary, Mrs. A. J. Weames; First Vice-President, Mrs. Wilfred Boorman; Second, Mrs. W. Flannery; Third, Mrs. A. Metheral; Social, Mrs. D. McKinnon; Program, Mrs. Vass; Membership, Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Lush; Flowers, Mrs. Wilson; Relief, Mrs. W. Flannery; Telephone, Mrs. Stanger; Representative to Local Council of Women, Mrs. Wilfred Boorman; Press Secretary, Mrs. J. Wyllie; Pianist, Mrs. A. J. Weames.

Mrs. Wand gave a splendid address to the members on the home and school work, making special reference to the late Mrs. A. C. Courtice, who was the founder of the Home and School Clubs. In memory of this woman, "Founders Day" will be observed by all the societies representing this splendid work, to which the speaker observed it was not only a privilege but a duty to advance. The Home and School is the strongest factor in the education of the child.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was heartily responded to by the delighted and interesting audience.

The singing of the National Anthem and a service of refreshments closed the meeting.

stated that he had not reported the fact that he had been gassed at Amiens to anyone officially.

Cross-examined by Mr. Robertson, applicant said he was a farm laborer before enlisting in the army. One of the first jobs he handled after coming back to Canada following his discharge from the army, was to work in the bush at Fenelon Falls as a teamster.

Dr. A. S. Thompson of Havelock had treated the applicant for bronchitis. He first came into the doctor's office on October 5, 1921, and did not return until August 15, 1930. On the latter occasion applicant was brought to the doctor's office early in the morning suffering from a severe attack of asthma. Witness did not know anything of the applicant's medical history, apart from having treated him on the two occasions referred to.

W. Forsyth of Belmont Township had known the applicant since 1909. He served overseas in the same battalion with McDonald and while he could not state definitely that McDonald had been gassed at Amiens, he recalled the morning of which applicant spoke. There were twenty-two members of the battalion, stated witness, who received a slight touch of gas. Witness himself was slightly gassed, but had felt no serious after effects.

CITY IS DEFEATED IN McDONALD CASE

Important Judgment Delivered By Judge L. V. O'Connor.

An important judgment was delivered yesterday by His Honor Judge O'Connor against the City of Peterborough. Mr. C. C. McDonald, an old resident of Peterborough, was the owner of some lands at Downer's Corners, and the City of Peterborough had not collected the taxes from the tenant, who had chattel property sufficient to pay these taxes, during the years 1924, 1925, 1926, and 1927, and these were returned and charged against the lands.

Judge O'Connor finds that the taxes for these years are not a lien upon the lands, because the taxes could have been realized, from the tenant on the land, who had sufficient chattels to meet the taxes, if a seizure had been made.

Judge O'Connor allows Mr. McDonald's claim against the City of Peterborough, with costs, and relieves the lands from the taxes, amounting to $291.60. The judgment is an important one inasmuch as it affects mortgagees and owners of land where a municipality does not collect the taxes from the person in possession, if that person has sufficient goods to distrain to pay the taxes for that year.

The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. appeared for Mr. McDonald, and Mr. J. R. Corkery, the city solicitor appeared for the City of Peterborough.

Peterboro' Relief Drive Subscriptions

Peterborough's Relief Fund to-day totalled $10,377.10, with the number of contributions at 303.

The two largest items into to-day's acknowledgments are for $50 each from the C.G.E. Canteen Fund and from Silverwood Peterborough Dairies Limited.

Mayor Denne, as chairman of the citizens' committee, said this morning that he still had hope that the objective of $20,000 would be reached. The larger the amount contributed by citizens, the less by that amount, plus the government's assistance, will have to be provided directly from the city treasury.

"We will be lucky if we can hold this year's tax rate at last year's figure," Mayor Denne said, "and for that reason those citizens who can afford to contribute to the Relief Fund should do so as generously as possible."

The staff of the Prudential Life Insurance Company has been making grants to the Central Charity Board, and their ninth contribution was diverted yesterday to the Relief Fund. Another item acknowledged to-day was $37 from the Loyal Order of Moose.

WILBERT MAROIS GIVEN ONE YEAR

MAN STOLE WOOD.

"This is a very deliberate case, Your Worship," stated Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., in addressing Police Magistrate Langley this morning in the case of Wilbert Marois, aged 20, of Harvey Township, charged with stealing more than $100 in goods from the summer cottage of Dr. C. H. Kent, situated on Clear Lake.

Marois pleaded guilty to the charge, stating in his own behalf that perhaps he had gone a little too far in this case.

"This young man," stated the Crown Attorney, "got possession of a horse and rig and drove over the ice to Dr. Kent's cottage. He loaded the vehicle with goods from the cottage and then drove back to the mainland, concealing the stolen property in a barn."

Mr. McElderry read off a list of more than 40 articles which Marois admitted carrying away from the cottage.

"The fact that this is your first offence seems the only thing in your favor," stated His Worship. "This deed was done in such a serious manner and with such a deliberate intention." Marois was sentenced to one year in the Ontario Reformatory, three months of which is determinate.

For some weeks back someone has been making regular thefts of wood from the woodpile of School Section No. 5, Otonabee Township. School trustees decided to lay in wait for the thief. At night they sat in the darkened school house. A week ago last Monday night their watchfulness was rewarded. They saw a man drive up in a car, back the car up to the woodpile and then begin piling sticks into the back seat of the vehicle. They stepped out and accosted the man.

The man, a resident of this city, appeared in Police Court to-day and pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing wood.

He said that it was the first time that he had stolen wood, and that he had plenty of wood at home, but that that day he ordered wood from a local wood merchant, and for fear that it would not be delivered decided that he would take a few sticks from the school yard as he was passing.

The man's previous record was clean, Crown Attorney McElderry told the court. Magistrate Langley granted him suspended sentence, on a two-year bond, guaranteeing future good conduct.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED WOODMEN OF WORLD CASE

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—(Special to The Examiner) — The Canadian Woodmen of the World case against Edwards, Morgan & Company, its former auditors, came before the Supreme Court of Canada in an effort to confirm the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeal, upon an appeal from the Court of Appeal of Ontario, which found Edwards, Morgan & Company liable for damages to the Woodmen.

The appeal was for the purpose of confirming the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to hear the appeal, while the Woodmen of the World objected to appeal on the ground that it was not a final judgment, as a reference had been ordered.

Counsel claimed that the case was a very unusual one and extended the liability of auditors beyond what had formerly been recognized as their liabilities to corporations.

Judgment was reserved. Kilmer, Irvin & Davis acted for Edwards, Morgan & Company and Edward A. Anglin was counsel for Gordon and Elliott of Peterborough, who were the solicitors on the record for the Woodmen of the World.

BOWMANVILLE JUNIORS DEFEAT PETES 6-4

VISITORS TURN IN POOR EFFORT AT SHORE TOWN

Referee Armstrong's Rulings Also Contribute Largely to Local Defeat.

STIFF CHECKING.

In the first game of their junior O.H.A. group finals in Bowmanville last night, Peterborough lost 6-4, their first defeat of the season. They will face a two-goal deficit in the return match at the Brock Wednesday. The game was close and exciting, played on fast ice before a fair crowd, but listlessness or staleness on the part of the junior Petes combined with poor refereeing by Armstrong of Oshawa, gave the Bowmanville boys the victory.

It was probably the poorest effort turned in to date by the Blue and Whites, their speed and fight being missing and their defensive play bad. Referee Armstrong's rulings which tended to favor the home club throughout also contributed largely to the loss, though the classy Bowmanville squad earned a win on their smart work.

Good Game in Goal

Sanderson, in goal, could not be blamed. He received very little support from his defence but kept the score down by good work between the posts as the opposing forwards roamed at will around his goal. He did muff one soft one, deflecting a high shot into the net, but saved a dozen almost-sure goals as well. Cadd did some fine rushing, but none of the defencemen used their bodies at all, being partly afraid of drawing penalties. Calladine, Jay and McGregor were the best of the forwards, Bill being the most effective. They all tried hard but had not the speed or pep, and were checked up persistently.

The home crew turned in some fine hockey, flashing a world of speed and some really fine combination. They bored in continually and peppered Sanderson with hard shots, besides taking advantage of the locals' poor defence. Their own defence checked unusually hard, and the forwards backchecked to good advantage. The goalie was hard to beat. Bill Mutton, Dunlop, Bagnell and the Osbornes looked unusually strong. The Petes drew just four of the ten penalties, being particularly careful while Bowmanville roughed it up as much as they dared. The score was 3-2 for the Petes going into the second, but 5-4 against them at the start of the third.

Homesters Hold Edge

The visitors started slowly and Bowmanville had an edge. Cadd made a nice rush and then Calladine scored early on fine teamplay with Jay. Dunlop galloped in close a minute later to tie it up, and both sides were checking hard for a bit. Burley and McGregor each nearly got in as they opened up to play on even terms, the locals' second line playing hard. The homesters were charging and slugging but it was Jay who drew the first penalty for charging. Weir was chased right after allegedly for the same offense and the Petes were two short. C. Osborne took advantage of this to work in close and tally. Jay came back and tore in to hammer Hill's rebound by Mutton to even it up again. Hill got another but play had been called back. Cadd and Calladine combined nicely in close, Cliff sinking it just at the gong.

Scores Tieing Counter

Within half a minute of the middle canto, Dunlop pounced on a loose disc inside the defence and made sure of the tieing counter. The Petes were not bodying at all now and the Rubbertown lads were barging through regularly, keeping play bottled up in the visitors' end of the rink. Then Cadd and Calladine got away and went through to score, Cliff netting it.

Sanderson came out for a spectacular save and had to keep on the jump to hold the rubber out for a while, with Calladine's tricky stickwork easing the pressure. Bagnell went off for boarding, and then McGregor was chased for tripping. Later, Fenton and Mac almost bagged one, and play was more even. Dunlop got the next penalty for tripping, but Williamson was eased out too for holding, and the Petes continued to suffer when their defence failed to hold. C. Osborne walked right through them to shove in another counter, and then Williams' long high shot was deflected into the net when Sanderson reached for it. Bowmanville was having a decided edge, though Jay, Calladine and McGregor were doing a bit of threatening too, at the bell.

Poor Refereeing

Early in the third, Bagnell drew a mere three-minute penalty for butt-ending Calladine in the face as he tried to go through, Bill being helped off the ice with his nose bleeding. He returned before long and he and Jay tallied but play was called back at the last possible moment for some reason or other. The refereeing was so bad at this time that a home player threw the puck out of danger with his hand right in front of Armstrong and not even the bell was rung. The goal-umpire, a Bowmanville man, kicked the rubber to safety out from behind his net when the Petes tried to get it twice and nothing was done about it.

Thickson was benched for tripping, and then Bowmanville protested the opposite goal-umpire's decision on a shot, finally having him removed. They were having most of the play and the Petes appeared disorganized. Cadd and Jay made a nice rush, and then W. Mutton checked and recovered in close and batted it by Sanderson for the finaly tally. The Blue and Whites' first line opened up and threatened with several fine rushes but were later sewed up tight near their own goal for a time. C. Osborne was next one rule off for tripping, and Jay's shot on Cadd's pass hit the post. Williams was chased for charging leaving the homesters two short. The Petes fairly buzzed in and threatened hard but could not quite score, good goal-tending and continual bell-ringing by the umps both being responsible. Play was sluggish at the end. The teams:

Petes: Goal, Sanderson; defence, Weir and Cadd; centre, Calladine; wings, Jay and Hill; alternates, Williamson, Burley, McGregor and Fenton.

Bowmanville: Goal, J. Mutton; defence, Williams and Thickson; centre, C. Osborne; wings, Dulop and Bagnell; alternates, D. Osborne, Gunn, W. Mutton and Hunt.

Grove "Old Boys" Loses To 1st Team

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14.—The Grove Old Guard met the Standard Bearers of the present at the Lakefield rink on Saturday night when the first team played the "Grads" in a game of hockey which was worth seeing. The score 6-4 for the Grove is really the best indication of the relative strength of the teams.

Eight minutes after the play began Macrae scored and three minutes later Neilson tied it, then again in one minute, Macrae scored and two minutes later Stuart added his quota. With a lead of two The Grove went into the second period encouraged and here they added two more to their score sheet with Macrae scoring the first after twelve minutes and two minutes later Stuart scored. The Grads stepped in to the game in the third and Hudson in his best old form rushed in on Ames and scored after 5 minutes then D. Wishart scored five minutes later and Stabler got in his counter three minutes later and Stabler got in his counter three minutes later. Then Gunn scored one minute after Stabler.

The line-up was as follows:

The Grove—Goal, Ames; defence, Wright, Wood; centre, Macrae; wings, Gunn, Stuart; ;subs, Dench, Hepburn, Fletcher.

The Grads—Goal, A. Boyer; defence, B. Hunt, W. Macrae; centre, H. Stabler; wings, D. Neilson, H. Dawson; subs, D. Wishart, G. Wishart, F. Hudson.

Lawless Bull Dogs Tie Grove Fourths

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14 (Examiner Correspondent).—Pat Lawless' Bull Dogs played a tie game with The Grove Fourth team in the Lakefield Arena on Saturday afternoon. Last week the Bull Dogs won and The Grove expects to win the next. The boys are about fourteen years of age, and are well matched. The Prep. School aggregation show a stronger combination, but in speed the Bull Dogs are rather superior, and also in weight. J. Macrae handled the game. Charlton, Johnston and J. Riel were the strong men of the Bull Dog team. Herder was the outstanding player for The Grove, with Robertson and Dunn also playing good hockey.

The line-up was as follows:

Lawless Bull Dogs—R. Mason, goal; W. Garbutt, r. defence; B. Johnston, l. defence; G. Charlton, centre; P. Lawless, r. wing; J. Reil, l. wing; H. Nicholls, D. Jackman, P. McFadden, T. Hunter, subs.; D. Yale, sub. goal; T. W. Chaplin, manager.

The Grove Fourths—Budden goal; Pentland, r. defence; Dench ii., l. defence; Dunn i., centre; Robertson, r. wing; Herder, l. wing; Peck, Pullen, Harvey, subs.; A. Wright, manager.

DOHERTYS HOLD EDGE TO WIN 5-3 VICTORY

Winners Display More Speed, Better Combination and Experience to Take Lead.

RETURN GAME WEDNESDAY

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 14.—(Special to The Examiner).—Belleville D.A.C. will take a two-goal lead into Campbellford on Wednesday night for the second game of the playoffs, having defeated the "Northerners" in this city last night by a score of 5-3, being always on top and having a distinct edge in territorial and close in play. Campbellford were minus the service of "Buster" Whitton, who was rendered hors de combat in the last scheduled game, but the team gamely stuck to their task and were still trying at the end of the game.

It was a typical Campbellford-Belleville tilt with the Green Shirts of the Doherty's displaying more speed, better combination and more experience. Both sides at various times were riddled through penalties and three of the goals scored were tallied when the opposition was short-handed. "Pete" Morgan, fiery right winger of the winners, came back into his own and dominated the play for forty minutes. He was easily the best man on the ice and it took at least three men to stop him every time he went on the offensive. Gord McMeekin, Red MacDonald and Nicoll also went well on the front line and their criss cross plays and long passing had the Northern squad bewildered at times and were checking half the time on the wrong side of the play.

Leads Maroons

Ken Davis carried the whole load for the losers and was easily the second best man on the ice. He was only rested for about five minutes in the whole game and was going strong at the end.

McArthur and Harry Ingram made a sturdy defense but were inclined to use the elbow and knees but were closely checked by "Duke" McCurry, the arbiter, who incidentally handled one of the nicest games seen in this city in some years. McKay had the chip knocked off his shoulder more than once and was in subjection all the time. Belleville carried the offensive practically all the game but on the defensive steered the puck carrier down the centre lane where they were ably looked after by Sherry and Weir.

Scores First Goal

"Pete" Morgan raced from end to end shortly after the game started and bulged the twine with a well placed drive in the upper corner and Hulin looked bad on the play. Campbellford evened the count at the half way mark, when Hendy was left uncovered in front of the net, this player receiving a pass out from Harry Ingram after Tice had made two spectacular saves. The defence of Belleville was to blame for the goal. McMeekin put his team in front again with one of the prettiest goals of the night. Securing in centre ice, he passed to "Pete" Morgan, who carried the rubber, passed the defence and then tobied a rink wide pass to the left boards and McMeekin made sure of his drive, Hulin being on the wrong side of the net to play the shot.

Run Wild in Second

Starting the second period the Dohertys simply went wild with their speed and combination and soon Campbellford were bottled in their own end of the rink and badly disorganized. "Pete" Morgan took "Red" MacDonald's pass and made sure and shortly after MacDonald drilled Harry Morgan's pass into the hemp. "Pete" Morgan in ten seconds again flashed the red light without a reply from the Campbellford squad and it looked like a case of how many. Davis finally put his team back in the running when he took Harry Ingram's pass inside the defence to go in close on Tice, carrying the goalie into the twine with the rubber. Forty-seven seconds after the opening of the third frame, Davis again scored for his team on an individual effort and from then till the end of the pastime both goalies were called upon to make some nice saves but were always in front of the drives. The play slowed down in this period.

1,500 See Game

More than 1,500 witnessed one of the best games in this city in years and the return game has all the earmarks of another battle. The Dohertys feel that two goals is plenty but Campbellford are far from being out.

The line ups:

NORWOOD BEATS RANGERS 3 TO 2

PORT HOPE LOSES 13-4

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, Feb. 14. — Alex Kempt's Juniors came through on the long end of a 3 to 2 count against the Rangers of Peterborough in a City Junior League tilt on Friday night at Norwood Arena. Game was one of the best junior affairs of the season. The Rangers had the advantage of the weigt, but the Norwood kids offset this with gameness.

Play ranged from end to end in the first period with both goalkeepers pulling off some smart saves to make the score a goose egg at the first rest. Coming out for the middle session Rangers were the first to get on the score sheet. Watson outguessing Thorley. Lyle Rogers evened it up on a smart play. The first line put Norwood one up, Godin taking the puck in, making a pass to "Chuck" Puffer. Neil Rogers put the game on ice for Norwood in the final stanza on a pass out from Davies. Rangers pressed hard, Watson again being the marksman, one goal down they tried hard but to no avail.

Referee, Cliff McConnell.

First Period

No score.

Second Period

Norwood—L. Rogers.
Rangers—Watson.
Norwood—C. Puffer, (Godin).

Third Period

Norwood—N. Rogers (Davis).

Defeat Port Hope 13-4

Port Hope intermediates were guests of the Combines in an exhibition tilt after the junior game in which the Combines outclassed the Lake Shore outfit to win 13 to 4 and with a little more effort could have added considerable to this especially in the first period when Concilla was in the nets, he was replaced after the first period by McCarroll of the Peterborough Rangers who made scoring not quite so easy, although he got little protection.

Port Hope were minus a few of their regulars as was the case with the Combines who were without the services of Pat Calladine and the Cripps brothers. Alex Kempt brought three of his juniors, Lyle Rogers, Davies and McGowan who worked hard when out. Davis showing up very well. McConnell was best for Norwood along with Beavis in goal although the latter was well protected. For Port Hope, Harwood, Turner and Francey looked the pick.

Port Hope—Goal, Cancilla, (McCarroll); defense, Harwood and Francey; centre, Dawcey; wings, Hagerman and Hills; subs, Turner and Roach.

KEENE DEFEATS QUEEN'S CO-EDS

Mary McCarthy Scores Long Tally of Game Played at Kingston.

KEENE, Feb. 14. — (Examiner Correspondence.)—Over icy highways and through Saturday's near blizzard, the Keene girls' hockey team journeyed to Kingston to fill a hockey engagement with Queen's University that had been pending since last winter.

The small sheet of ice on the home rink and the few cold days when ice could be made at all, have been a handicap to the locals. These added to the long trip increased the diffioulties, but in spite of everything they defeated the University team by a score of 1-0, the winning tally being made by Mary McCarthy.

The teams were quite well matched. Both, of necessity, practice with men's teams and proved more effective in defence than in scoring.

Marj. Brown and Dot Gainor were noticeably the best stickhandlers on the ice, but their best efforts met with disappointment, owing to the clever checking of Jean Nelson and Lillian Ward on the Queen's defence.

On the other hand, Kay McCarthy and Kathleen Nelson invariably spoiled the best rushes the Queen's girls were capable of. Both defence lines were working well, as most of the play was behind the blue lines.

It is hoped that a return game may be played in the Brock street rink in Peterborough as the Keene hockey team is the same popular aggregation who for the past two years have carried off the baseball championship of the East Peterborough League.

Line-ups:

Queen's—Goal, Marg. McGregor; defence, L. Ward, Jean Nelson; wings, Jean Stewart, Jean Cameron; centre, Mary Chambers. Subs, R. Cordy, Carmel Milne, Aileen Mason.

Keene— Goal, Lois McCarthy; defence, Kathryn McCarthy, Kathleen Nelson; wings, D. Gainor, H. Nelson; centre, M. Brown. Subs, M. McCarthy, E. Nelson, R. Gainor.

Switchgear Outfit Takes 6-1 Decision From Tool-room White Machine Shop Trounces Fractional Motors 7-2.

The first two games in the play-downs of the C.G.E. Inter-department Hockey League played last night at the Brock street rink, produced two lopsided scores and practically assures the two winning teams in these games a place in the finals as goals count in the two game series for the Group championships, the winners of each group to meet for the league trophy.

In the first game the Tool Room seniors tangled with the Switchgear team but were forced to perform without the services of the three junior O.H.A. players, Jay, Sanderson and McGregor, and were handed the small end of a 6-1 decision. In the intermediate section the Machine Shop took on the Fractional Motors and trounced them 7-2 to pile up the highest score made in the shop league this year. These four teams will meet in the last two games on Saturday afternoon and the play-off dates will be announced then.

A Bruising Battle

The Tool Room-Switchgear tussle was a bruising battle and the one-sided score is hardly an indication of the closeness of the play as the Toolmakers forced the fight at several stages of the game and on several occasions narrowly missed scoring. At the end of the first frame the count stood 1-0 in favor of the Switch-builders but during the first five minutes of the second period the Tool Room forwards swarmed around the opposing net with a determined display of persistent hockey that gave promise of a decidedly close argument. These hopes were rudely shattered however, when the Switchgear team with a splendid exhibition of teamwork pushed three more counters past Jones in the Tool Room net before the period ended.

Superior Combination

Despite persistent checking by the Toolmakers the winners' combination plays continued to click with amazing regularity and their thrusts usually penetrated the Mechanics' defense to give them an open shot on the net. Ron Routley sunk the lone tally for the losers at the start of the third period, Earle getting the assist. Playford, Maudsley and Pagget were the stellar trio for the winners with the second line of Higgins, Hurst and Cordery also playing good hockey. On defense, Mowry and Whatley backed up the forwards with a style of play that wrecked most of the Toolmakers' tries, while Hope in goal was right on.

The Teams

Tool Room—Goal, Stan Jones; defense, Connors and Griffin; centre, Earle; wings, Routley and Wheeler; alternates, Wherry, Craig and Williams.

An Easy Victory

After the first period of play in the Machine Shop-Fractional Motor game which saw the Machinists chalk up four tallies and hold their opponents scoreless, the issue was never in doubt. The latter players uncorked a brilliant style of teamwork that gave them a decided edge despite the tenacious checking of the Motorbuilders.

In the second session the Machine Shop scored one and the Fractionals also bulged the twine once, Hatton making the play alone on a long shot that should have been easy to handle. Fanning put the count up to two for the losers in the last frame when he batted the puck into the Machinists' net from a scramble but the opponents got this one back and another with it:

The Teams

Machine Shop—Goal, Ted Tice! defense, Clair McGillen and Ashmore; centre, Craig; wings, Jones and Pearson; alternates, Clarke, Hetherington, Rogers and Gibson.

Fractional Motors—Goal, Routley; defense, Hatton and Cathcart; centre, Rainey; wings, Hollingsworth and Hayes; alternates, Hall, Fanning and Thomas.

Summary—

First Period

Machine Shop—Pearson (Jones) 6.50
Machine Shop—Clarke 9.00

BEST BATSMEN OUT.

M.C.C. Favored to Return to England With Mythical "Ashes" in Possession.

BRISBANE, Feb. 14 (C.P.).—Australia started off the day by scoring 108 for the loss of four wickets in the second innings of the fourth Test match of the mythical "ashes" here to-day.

Following upon the brilliant stand made by the last three batsmen in England's first innings which overcame the Australian lead, the Antipodean batters failed at the outset of the second innings to make a fair stand. With four of Australia's best bats out for a second time and only a small score on the board, it appeared at the close of to-day's play that England would regain the "mythical ashes." But there is no accounting for the result of a cricket game, and 15,000 people who saw the game were confident the Aussie players would show an immediate reversal to form.

TRACY SHAW GAME REFEREE

Toronto Bell-ringer Appointed For Bowmanville-Petes Game Here Wednesday.

TWO FAST TEAMS.

Tracy Shaw of Toronto has been appointed by the O.H.A. to referee the final junior group play-off game here Wednesday night, the Petes meeting Bowmanville two goals down on the round. Armstrong of Oshawa proved highly unsatisfactory to the Peterborough team and he was protested to the O.H.A. with the result that a competent Toronto bell-ringer was named. The game at the Brock to-morrow evening will see the Petes striving bitterly to overcome that 6-4 defeat at the hands of Bowmanville last night, and the game, if tied on the round at the end of sixty minutes, will go until one team has scored.

Fast ice has been promised, no games being permitted on it to-night, and it will easily be the finest fixture shown at the Brock this year. The junior Petes were overconfident, having gone through their schedule without a loss and defeating Fenelon Falls with ease. But a strengthened and fighting Bowmanville squad, aided by one-sided refereeing, gave them an important victory just at the critical time. They will be mighty hard to stop now, but the aroused Petes should just about beat them here with a fair break. A crowd of rabid Rubbertown rooters are coming down for this fray and it will be a memorable one.

Bowmanville played a wide-open, fast and hard-hitting brand of hockey, and clearly earned the decision. Two or three new players has made them a powerful junior team. The Petes will be back at full strength and fighting to step in and body opposing forwards, the game should be somewhat different here than was the case last night. It will be a bitter one from start to finish, and every bump the Petes got will doubtless be repaid in kind, though they will be warned to draw no penalties if they wish to win.

The biggest hockey crowd of the year, aside from that benefit game, will likely fill the rink, and reserved seats may be obtained now at the Brock. If the Petes lose, they will not be seen in action here again till next year. If they win, they should go a long way.

(By C. J. P.)

With all returns from the benefit fund for George Merrett in, the sum of $394.25 has been given to the injured player. This total was reached through 1,877 paid admissions, several donations of money and cheques, and expenses cut to the minimum. A letter of appreciation from Merrett appears elsewhere in today's issue. We'd also like to congratulate the committee in charge for staging a highly-successful benefit game. That's a fine amount to raise in such a manner, and will more than take care of doctor and hospital bills, and time lost at work.

* * * * * * *

The City Basketball League schedule opens tomorrow night at the Collegiate gym. McLeish's team will play the Collegians at 8.15, followed at nine by McLeod's and Kitchen's. Five teams have entered and the proper names of each outfit will be known shortly when the schedule is drawn up. Next games will be played in the Y.M.C.A. Saturday.

* * * * * * *

Two goals down on the group finals and their first defeat of the season—that's what the junior Petes brough back from Bowmanville last night. The loss may do them some good, teaching them that no team in group playoffs is a cinch, and we believe they can win the group title here tomorrow (Wednesday) night—provided they go out and play the type of hockey they are capable of. The score was 6-46 last night and Bowmanville certainly deserved the win on their play, having a big edge on the Petes, not forgetting a kindly referee who let them get away with murder and jumped on the visitors for everything.

* * * * * * *

Efforts will be made to have the O.H.A. appoint a different referee for the game here to-morrow. "Army" Armstrong of Oshawa gave a fine exhibition of "homing it" for Bowmanville last night. He did the same against the intermediates from here when they played their last game in the Rubbertown. At that time, we dismissed it with a crack that any referee will have an off-night, but twice is too much. "Army" knows that he'll get more game and dough if a Bowmanville team is in the running than he would from a Peterborough outfit, on account of the distance, and this has apparently warped his judgment. A strong statement that, and we wouldn't make it just for an alibi. He was downright putrid last eve.

* * * * * * *

We don't believe one of the Petes' defencemen used his body during the last two periods, chiefly because they were afraid of being jerked by the referee. That tends to knock the fight out of the whole team. Bowmanville got wise to it quickly enough and they were just skating in around the net and the locals' zone like jaywalkers on George street at 2 a.m. On the other hand, Peterborough players were charged, boarded and tripped repeatedly with few penalties being called against them. Sanderson had little chance all evening, as mere poke-checking by defencemen isn't enough, particularly when the other side is playing good combination and skating plenty fast.

* * * * * * *

Nothing should be taken from Bowmanville in the way of credit. Since adding two or three new players, that bunch is a real tough morsel, fast, tricky and full of fight. And the Petes cannot say they were robbed entirely, as they turned in some mighty poor hockey which could not be laid at the door of the referee. Perhaps, they're stale, or maybe they were overconfident. Whatever it is, they had better snap out of it pronto or hang up their skates and read about the other junior teams in the O.H.A. playdowns. Probably the best of the locals last night were Sanderson, Cadd, Calladine, Jay and McGregor. With a complete change of heart and a fair referee, we feel they can still win the round to-morrow. If they can't.

* * * * * * *

The two forward lines were shaken up for this tussle, but it didn't work so well. McGregor was put in centre for the second line, and Hill moved up in his place. It helped the second-stringers all right, but Hill didn't fit in so well with Jay and Calladine. The two lines have been used to working as they were all season and found it a bit strange last evening. Later on, McGregor took his place with Jay and Bill and both lines showed improvement. The second line doesn't score so much, though they check well.

* * * * * * *

Fifteen hundred fans, considered a fine crowd in Belleville even though they have artificial ice, saw the Doherty A.C. take the first group play-off game from Campbellford last night, 5 to 3. It was another Belleville-Maroons' battle, both sides fighting hard and evenly and laying on the hickory with utmost abandon. They go back to the Hydro town Wednesday and this should be a swelegant emproglio, punctuated by a flock of penalties, but marked by good exciting hockey throughout. The Maroons have an even chance of copping it yet. The Petes will likely meet the winner around the end of the week.

* * * * * * *

It was no necking party back in Lakefield last night, either, when Norwood took a 2-0 E.P.L. win over a scrappy home team. Both sides laid on the gad and sticks were carried high throughout. Rogers of Norwood had his beezer busted in the third when he and Wanamaker piled into each other in a fist fight—both getting the air the rest of the session. Stenner and Webb suffered minor injuries, also. The two goalies starred, Beavis in particular having a lot to do with the Combines' victory.

Maroons meet All Saints at 7.30 tomorrow at All Saints' rink in the first of the two-out-of-three series for the Grafton Cup .... C.G.E. and Church League games of last night appear elsewhere in today's paper .... Ernie Schaaf's death from his 13th round kayo at the hands of Carnera Fri. in N'Yawk is certainly a tragic contradiction to the thousands of fight fans and scribes who claimed he took a "dive" in a fixed fight.

Lakefield Students Win From Warsaw

LAKEFIELD, February 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — As a curtain-raiser to the Westclox-Lakefield game on Friday night the High School won a sensational game from Warsaw Rangers 9-3 in the District Hockey League. The High School showed splendid form, passing the puck and back-checking like demons when the play grew hot in the third. Blewett played the best game he has played all season, Chittick, P. Payne, Morrison and White were also specially strong, but every man played a real game of hockey.

Bowen was outstanding for Warsaw, wth Ivan Payne and Alexander Bowen also in the top line. Darling in goal was good and stopped plenty, but his team did not support him as they usually do. It was an off-night for the visiting hockey teams, it seemed.

Braden Blewett handled the game.

The line-ups:

Warsaw Rangers — Goal, A. Darling; defence, P. Bowen, J. Morgan; centre, R. Darling; wings, A. Bowen and F. Bell; subs., I. Payne, C. Payne, Lonsberry, and Watts.

KNOX BLANKS MARK STREET BY 5-0 SCORE

All Saints' Juveniles Also Winner in Church League Play-offs.

FINAL GAMES THURSDAY.

Knox midgets and All Saints' juveniles won their first Church Hockey League play-off games at All Saints' rink last night. The former outfit blanked Mark Street, 5 to 0, while the juvenile squad pulled out an 8-6 win over St. James'. Final games will be played, goals counting, Thursday evening. In the first junior game last night, Knox won from St. Paul's, 7 to 4; while in the second Trinity defaulted to All Saints'.

The midget contest saw a smart Knox team play nice combination and bore in hard to run in five goals, while checking their opponents up tightly. Williams got two goals in the second and one in the third, while Lucas, who also starred, scored one in the middle chapter and one in the third.

The Teams

Mark Street—Goal, White; defence, Legon, Doris; centre, Blade; wings, Hoperoft, Foster; subs, Craig, Bedding, Brady.

Referee—C. Sproat.

Finish Stronger

All Saints' finished stronger than St. James' in the juvenile play-off, but both teams made it a real game throughout. Webb scored one in the first and two in the third for the winners, the last on a pass from Rusaw. Platt notched one in the middle canto, and Livingstone shoved in one in the second and another in the third; and Rusaw got one in the first, one in the second, and helped St. James' score one in the third when he pushed the rubber into his own net. Leggitt starred for the losers, getting one in the second and three in the third. Smart gave him two passes and Wood one. Heal also tallied in the third, as the losing side fought back hard but couldn't quite tie it up.

The Teams

St. James'—Goal, Welch; defence, Heal; wings, Smart, Dinsdale; subs, fence, Leggitt, Spencely; centre, Lawson, Close, Wood.

Referee—C. Sproat.

7-4 Win Over Saints

Knox juniors earned a 7-4 win over St. Paul's in a lively tilt, both sides showing a lot of speed and smart hockey, with the winners having more finish in close. A. Clark and G. Clark each countered in the first for the Saints', Rowan having one assist. Anderson notched two and Gatfield one for Knox. In the second, G. Clark took Morrow's pass to sink it, while Watson marked up two for Knox, aided by Anderson and Gatfield. Then Anderson scored on a pass from Watson, all goals coming in quick order. In the third, Watson tallied banging in Seabrook's rebound, and Leith chalked up one for the Saints, aided by White and R. Clark. Ten penalties, mostly trips, were evenly divided.

The Teams

St. Paul's—Goal, Kirkwood; defence, R. Clark, Marsh; centre, A. Clark; wings, Wooll, Rowan; subs, G. Clark, Morrow, White, Leith.

Knox—Goal, McDonald; defence, Seabrook, Fisher; centre, Watson; wings, Gatfield, Anderson; subs, Masters, Hughes.

Referee—H. McFadden.

Trinity juniors defaulted to All Saints', not having a full team. They picked up a couple of players and played a 3-3 draw. Huffman, Hamley and Armstrong did the scoring for Trinity; while Hetherington, Frost and Pulford tallied for the other side.

The Teams

McBain, E. Huffman; centre, Hamley; wings, Armstrong, B. Huffman; subs, Platt, Webb.

All Saints—Goal, Worsencroft; defence, R. Hope, E. Hope; centre, Clarke; wings, Hetherington, Frost; subs, Pulford, Williams.

Referee—H. McFadden.

King Edward Wins At Lakefield 4-3

King Edward School hockey team journeyed to Lakefield for a friendly game with the Lakefield Public School yesterday, the visitors getting a 4-3 decision in a close contest. Jewell scored in the first frame for the homesters, and Jobe evened it up early in the second. Morin and Jewell then ran in one more apiece in this session to have a two-goal lead. In the third the K.E. squad tallied three times in a row, Jobe getting the first, Leggitt taking Post's pass for the second and Patterson sinking the deciding marker. It was a fine clean contest.

The Teams

King Edward—Goal, Strickland; defence, Grose and Hall; centre, Patterson; wings, Jobe and Post; subs, Wainman and Leggitt.

Lakefield P.S.—Goal, Mason; defence, Morin and Charlton; centre, Jenkinson; wings, Jewell and McFadden; subs, Riel, Junkin, Patterson and Johnson.

Referee—B. Blewett.

HUGH STIRLING IS ONE OF BEST

STARRED AS JUNIOR.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Feb. 14 (C.P.)—Just as St. Thomas' chief claim to athletic fame lies in a brilliant rugby record so does she turn to the gridiron for her outstanding athlete. He is Hugh (Bummer) Stirling, one of the few Canadian football greats who has earned national prominence outside the intercollegiate and Big Four unions.

Stirling, tall, rugged backfielders whose punting featured the title bids of Sarnia Imperials, Ontario Rugby Football Union champions, in 1931 and again last fall, outranks such other St. Thomas grid luminaries as the Baldwins, the Metcalfes and the Chantlers by the sheer power of his right foot.

They ranked Stirling "one of the best" kickers in the country two years ago. Many observers called him the best last season, a more mighty punter than Huck Welch of Montreal or Frank Turville of Hamilton, with the placement judgment of an Ab Box. Even water-soaked balls zoom for 60-year rides off the Bummer's instep.

Starred as Junior

Until four years ago when he joined Sarnia's football colony, Stirling stood out among St. Thomas junior stars. He played on the backfield of the collegiate senior 'WOSSA' team and later became chief offensive threat of the city's junior O.R.F.U. team. He played with Tigers when they won the eastern junior championship in 1923, losing here in the Dominion final to Regina Pats. Then he moved to Sarnia to help Imperials win three senior O.R.F.U. titles in four years.

A brilliant infielders, Stirling played second base on St. Thomas' senior baseball team—one of the best in the province—and starred at basketball and hockey.

LOOP LEADERS WIN SATURDAY

English Line Blanks Petherick's 2-0, While Menie Trims Hoard's 4-1.

EAST SEYMOUR LEAGUE

BURNBRAE, Feb. 14.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — While the two league-leading teams won in Saturday's East Seymour double bill, the backers of the English Line team at least, must have suffered some pangs as their favorites failed to tap in their usual goal in the first period to obtain a lead. The unbeaten league leaders eventually won over the Pethericks squad by a count of two goals to nil, while in the second game Menie got revenge for their opening day defeat, when they trimmed Hoards to a four to one finish.

A Close Contest.

The opening game was the most closely contested and provided a lot of fast, wide-open hockey with the rival goalies in starring roles. While Owens had nearly twice as many saves to make as Turner, the latter was in no wise to blame for his team's defeat. The Line team were without their regular defence player, Locke, who took the day off for the purpose of being made a benedict, but the team were no weaker as Don Peake played a splendid game in his place and scored the first goal.

Best Goalie in League.

Owens carries to date the best record as a goalie in the league, only two shots having beaten him in four games. Eagleson of Menie stands next with three misses in four games.

Line-ups:

English Line—Goal, Ted Owens; defence, Shillinglaw and Don Peake; forwards, Fry, H. Stevens, A. Stevens. Subs, Little, J. Stevens, A. Potts, F. Potts, Ted Peaks.

Petherick's— Goal, Turner; defence, Anderson and Dorie; forwards, G. Kerr, Southworth, D. Kerr. Subs, A. Petherick, G. Petherick, D. Watson, Barnum, J. Watson.

No Match For Menie.

Weakened by the absence of Jones and Remington, Hoard's were hardly a match for the speedy Menie crew. Manager Hobbs recruited Shillinglaw and Little of the Line team to help them out and both played good hockey. Roy Odde, in goal for the losers, was clearly off his game, and the Menie sharp-shooters took advantage of him on corner shots.

Line-ups:

Menie—Goal, Eagleson; defence, Doug Milne and Craighead; forwards, E. Whitton, J. Rannie, Nelson. Subs, K. Milne, W. Whitton, E. Little, T. Little.

Hoard's—Goal, Roy Oddie; defence, Shillinglaw and Hobbs; forwards, K. Oddie, McKenzie, O. Rannie. Subs, C. Gunning, E. Little, Referee for both games, Harold Dunk. Timer, Ray Fry. Penalty time, Rev. MacTavish.

The League Standing.

	W.	L.	T.	Pts
English Line	3	0	1	7
Menie	2	1	1	5
Hoard's	1	3	0	2
Petherick's	1	3	0	2

The remainder of the schedule as follows:

Thursday, Feb. 16 — 7.30 p.m., Hoard's vs. English Line; 9.00 p.m., Menie vs. Petherick's.

Saturday, Feb. 18—2.00 p.m., Hoard's vs. Petherick's; 3.30 p.m., Menie vs. English Line.

The play-offs between first and second teams will start the following week. There is still a mathematical possibility of Hoard's or Petherick's working into a tie for second place, but at present Menie and English Line look like finalists.

ST. VALENTINES IS PRETTY MYTH THAT HAS NEVER BEEN EXPLAINED

Love Stuff Just as Effective on the Other 364 Days.

WHY ST. VALENTINE?

By PATRICK O'LEARY
Central Press Canadian Writer

Why so many sweet poems and so much love-chatter on the fourteenth of February, known as Saint Valentine's Day?

Why St. Valentine? What did he ever do for the benefit of mankind at large?

Therein lies the mystery. It has never been definitely shown who, when, where, why or how St. Valentine.

This much we know about it. In olden times it was a habit of the people to interchange letters whenever the spirit moved them. One example was the use of "v" for "g." Thus we have valiant for gallant, each from the Latin word valens. There was also the Norman word galantin (not to be confused with gelatin), for which a v was substituted and which therefore became valentine. Now this word meant gallantries, so that whenever a young man was asked to become the mate of some fair damsel in distress, he displayed gallantry and thus became a valentine.

But that does not settle the date.

It seem that way back in the good old days of Rome (before burning) they had a little game they played with the names of their gods. They drew them out of a hat (or something) and with them drew the name of one of the fairest of the fair eligible for slavery. Needless to say, they did not consult the young lady.

This delightful ceremony took place early in February.

Then one day along came the Christian missionaries. Said they: "This pagan custom cannot go on." Said the people: "It must go on."

So they compromised.

On February fourteenth, they decided to pull out the names of saints from the hat instead of gods. It worked fine for a while, but the youth of the land missed the love-punch.

So just on the quiet they used the occasion to send pretty love tokens to each other.

But some of the lads and lassies couldn't write their own notes, so they hired learned poets to do their love-making by proxy. This resulted in a nice little business of post-card selling.

And as man's sense of humor increased, it resulted in many alleged humor cards—which we still have with us.

Maybe we'll evolve from this, however.

So, all in all, there never was a Saint Valentine, February fourteenth doesn't mean a thing, and this love stuff is just as effective on the other 364 days of the year.

Now for Saint Patrick's Day, Saint Swithin's Day and sundry other saintly days.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

When my dog Rag
Plays a game of tag,
He always chases
Around in big spaces,
Until he catches
His tail—or scratches.
—Shadow Sayings.

Have you ever met a Meanie. I hope not. At any rate, I hope you don't mean the same Meanie that Knarf met.

It was a cloudy afternoon, Meanies like to come out of their dens on cloudy afternoons. They hate the sun. They hate a lot of other things. You'll soon see.

Well Knarf, being a shadow as you know, wasn't very fond of the sun either. Shadows always get as far away from the sun as possible. That is why you will always see your shadow (who is just like every other shadow) always doing its best to hide behind (or in front, or on either side) of you whenever you go out walking in the sunshine.

Since there was no sun on this particular afternoon, Knarf decided that he didn't need to stay near his master, so Knarf went out walking, all by himself. First, however, he made himself small—about as small as a good sized pin. He hadn't taken more than a dozen steps from the front door when he met the Meanie.

A Chin Like a Dill Pickle

"Hello," greeted Knarf.

"Hullo," the Meanie grumbled, making a mean face at Knarf. The Meanie was as big as a peanut and had little squinty eyes. It has a chin like the end of a dill pickle, and a nose as sharp as the prong of a fork. It wasn't a pretty sight to look at, as you can well imagine.

But Knarf thought he might as well be pleasant, so he continued in a cheerful voice: "Do you want to go for a little walk?"

"I don't like your name," said the Meanie to Knarf.

"Even if I did," the Meanie answered, "I wouldn't go for a walk with you."

"Why not?"

"I don't like your name."

"But you don't know my name," crief Knarf in surprise.

"I don't like it anyway. And don't answer back. Go home, do you hear, go home!"

Knarf thought there was no use going home. He had just come from home. Besides, he had planned on going for a walk. So instead of going home, he stayed just where he was. The Meanie glared at him for a minute or two, then turned its back on him. Finally the Meanie decided to play a game of tag with itself, so it started to chase itself around. Now you should know that Meanies are curious in this: they have two left legs instead of having a right leg like everybody else. Because of its two left legs, the Meanie could only run in circles. All at once it ran right in the path of an automobile.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, February 15

A very likely and satisfactory state of affairs is presaged from the prevalent planetary positions both by lunar and mutual aspect. There is likely to be a spur to business, especially in those lines relating to writing, publishing, promotions and kindred interests. Also promotion, preferment and various favors from employers or those in authority may be assured, with some recognition or assistance from elderly women. But be careful of small losses and impulsive acts.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of advancement and progress both in business and in employment. Preferment, favors and honors as well as substantial assistance may be sought at the hands of those in power or authority, but be on guard against small impetuosities and minor losses. A child born on this day should be active, versatile, ambitious to rise in employment and should gain the attention and assistance of those able and disposed to confer favors.

FIRE SWEEPS CHURCH

SAULT. STE. MARIE.—Damage of $10,000 to $15,000 was done by fire to-day which gutted the interior of the First Baptist Church here.

The fire was believed to have started from one of the two furnaces which heat the building. It was discovered by Thomas Henderson, the janitor, and was brought under control after a stiff fight.

A telegraph cable was opened in 1931 between Newfoundland and the Azores over which 2,500 letters a minute can be sent in one direction. When used for simultaneous sending, 1,400 letters can be sent each minute in each direction.

"Forgotten Man" Proving Problem

WINDSOR, Ont., February 14 (C.P.). — John Smith, the "forgotten man" who has been held in Essex County Jail for four months for immigration authorities, is still proving a problem to county officials.

Reeve L. L. Crowley, chairman of the County Jail Committee, says habeas Corpus writs cost too much; the man has been declared not insane by the Council jail physician, and immigration authorities have been unable to prove the United States citizenship of the man, who says he was born in the Southern States.

Permission is now being sought to have Smith photographed and the pictures circulated in the Southern States in an attempt to obtain identification and proof of his nativity.

Judgment Is Upheld In Lancaster Case

A local case of interest came before the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall yesterday, decision being made on the appeal brought by Mrs. Jessie Lancaster, of Otonabee, and her son Harold B. Lancaster against a judgment delivered against them by Judge L. V. O'Connor in a case brought by Ross L. Lobb. In his judgment Judge O'Connor had given judgment for something over $400 against the Lancasters, the balance Lobb claimed was owing to him for work done and materials furnished in building a barn for the defendants.

The Appeal Court yesterday sustained Judge O'Connor's judgment and dismissed the appeal with costs.

W. F. Huycke appeared for Mrs. Lancaster, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., for Harold Lancaster and J. A. O'Brien for Ross Lobb.

THEATRES

"DECEPTION"

This is a good title. Deception makes the picture. Those who enjoyed the wrestling matches at the rink last season will like this picture very much. It has some of the most real thrills imaginable in the scenes which show wrestling matches on the big time circuit—in Madison Square Gardens, New York.

There is an atmosphere of reality about these scenes that makes them very interesting. The boys certainly take some awful bumps.

Leo Carillo is the crooked promoter, Jim Hurley, with a foreign twist to his tongue; Nat Pendleton is the hero, "Bucky" O'Neill, who is a "set up" for the crooked manager and then comes back for a real triumph. And the blonde and lovely Thelma Todd is Lola Del Mont, the lady who tries to double-cross the crook and doesn't quite get away with it.

There is plenty of vivid action and enough romance to keep the picture from being a straight sport feature. "Deception" makes excellent entertainment.—Jeanette.

AT THE CAPITOL

"STRANGE INTERLUDE"

Here is Eugene O'Neill's famous play. The talkie version uses the 'asides' that were a feature of the stage drama. They have the effect of mixing up the ideas of the audience. In real life, it is quite true that people say one thing and think another, but why bring that up

The acting is superb. It is doubtful if anyone but Norma Shearer could carry off so triumphantly the delineation of that erotic creature, Nina Leeds, who yearns at all moments for the spotlight and who is so terribly and sombrely intense. She illustrates the type of person who goes one road while longing to be travelling on another. She has almost immoral longings, but a sense of duty and a conscience that keeps her on the straight and narrow—against her own desire. She tries to eat her cake and have it too, and the confection gets rather mussed up in the course of her struggles.

It is a story of fixations. Nina has a fixation about a child, Ned Darrell (Clarke Gable) has a career fixation, and Charles Marsden, the writer, suffers from a mother fixation. Between them, they contrive to get nowhere at all, except to provide entertainment for their audiences.

Nina longs for a child and marries a healthy man who turns out to be of an insane family. The plan which she evolves to get around the dilemma makes the theme of the story. It is always a tense drama and the actors are at all times portrayed at the height of some emotion. Even the little boy at his birthday party shares in this tension. The only member of the cast who lets the strain down at all is Maureen O'Sullivan, as the sweetheart of Gordon.

"Strange Interlude" will be here for three days and it will have large audiences. The theme is unusual, the treatment is distinctly different and the acting is exceptionally fine. It stands alone as a talking picture.

Another aspect of reality that makes the picture unusual is the age element. Starting with youthful players, the story progresses with the same people, until they are in the sere and yellow. The girl of the opening becomes the old lady of the finale.

—Jeanette.

FRIENDS HONOR MARMORA MAN

ONE OF PIONEER STOCK.

His parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew McGarvey, natives of County Derry, sojourned but a short while in Rawndon township before moving to the 6th concession of Marmora township, at what is known now as Shanick. A road of three miles length had to be cut before the hardy old pioneer came to the land which he was to clear and to pass down to posterity as the McGarvey property. Of the eleven children born to Mr. and Mrs. McGarvey, David Belford was the second oldest son.

He recalls how the only other families in the immediate neighborhood of his birthplace were those of James Scott, Emery Demas, John Pressley, Joseph Reid, Patrick Sheridan and John Phayre, all men who lived to a ripe old age. Mr. Phayre attained to the age of 103 before passing away at Belleville a few years ago.

The late Matthew McGarvey soon became famed as a shingle maker and used in the early day drew them as far as Stirling, 26 miles distant, with his oxen. His son David used to assist him from an early age for at that time the nearest school was in the Wells Settlement, five miles away. David's schooling, which has made him a great reader, came later.

River Driver, Lumberman.

David has spent half of his life as a river driver or lumber man, but of later years has followed the occupation of a carpenter. He has a goodly stock of shanty songs and when not troubled with a cold, is ready at shortest notice to oblige an audience with some of the very best in a strong clear voice.

One of the greatest surprises of his life occurred on Saturday evening when his home in the vilage was invaded by relatives and a few friends who showered upon him useful gifts and felicitations. Because he is such a lover of music, a program unrehearsed, extending three hours, resulted, in which songs and instrumental music proved to be the big entertainment of his life. Besides the members of the McGarvey family taking part, W. J. Cottrell gave a number of comic songs and Glen Sayers with guitar accompaniment gave practically the whole of his repertoire of cowboy songs.

After the delicious lunch had been served, and the health of David had been drunk, the sacredness of secular things must have been in the thoughts of some, for as all were leaving for their respective homes, the time honored hymn was sung, 'God Be With You Till We Meet Again.' It was a memorable evening in the lives of those participating.

PERSIAN TRIBES

Rumors fly fast in the savage mountainous regions. Nothing seems easier than for some false report, touching the tribes in their amour-propre, to set a cavalcade on-mischief-bent in the the direction of the oil-fields. Such an attack could inflict serious damage before Teheran was aware of it. Before protection could arrive on the spot the raiders might be hundreds of miles away, safe from pursuit and punishment in their inaccessible mountain fastnesses.

In government circles it appears a certain amount of confusion reigns as to the Shah's policy in abrogating the Anglo-Persian oil agreement. There is an anglophile group, and a russo-phile group in Teheran. It was that way already back in the days of the Russian Czars. At one time Imperial Russia and Britain had divided Persia into spheres of influence, Russia the northern part and Britain the southern. It was in fact in Persia that the two world empires, one of which has disappeared since, fought an incessant duel for predominance. The stake was not only Persia itself. The struggle had far deeper ramifications. Persia is the antechamber of India. Everything that happens in Persia has its repercussions in Afghanistan and in the north-west provinces of India. All the tribes inhabiting these regions are kinsmen. They are moreover bound together by the tie of Islam. Their economic interests are also interlocking and interdependent. Imperial Russia, when installed in Turkestan exercised a deep influence on Persia. Britain pushed up from the Persian Gulf. There was a constant subterranean stream of intrigue, diplomatic jockeying and manoeuvring. There is to this day.

Fear Britain

In 1916 Amanullah of Afghanistan, taking advantage of the war, declared war on Britain. For at that time Afghanistan was in the same position as Persia, a land of commercial and diplomatic rivalry between Russian and Britain. Amanuallah thought the day had come when he could free himself at least of one of the imperial rivals, and at the same time extend his domains beyond the Peshwar frontiers, where the tribes are blood-brothers of the Pathan of Afghanistan.

If you believe the legion of sinister intrigants, oily half-diplomats and baksheesh rumor-peddlers, who are as thick throughout the Levant as mosquitos in a swamp, Britain never forgave Amanullan for his sudden attack in 1916. As soon as she had her hands clear, and even at the moment when Amanullah was being entertained on a grand scale in London, the famous Colonel Lawrence, he of the Arab Revolt, entered Afghanistan and roused the tribes against Amanullah, who lost his throne to the "Son of the Water-Carrier" who in turn was ousted by the present Emir. This they tell you quite seriously in Persia and all over the Near East. It is common knowledge. I don't know how true it is, but if anything it will give you an idea of the atmosphere of intrigue and conspiracy which permanently exists in these parts.

What is certain is this: the Shah of Persia and Amanullah were bosom-friends. They were animated by a common desire to modernize their countries, and detach them from foreign tutelage or half-domination on the part of western powers, either Russia or Britain. With the fall of the Czarist Empire the threat from the north was removed. The Soviet regime has given the clearest possible indications that it seeks no territorial aggrandizement. There remained Britain. I know how easily the accusation of anti-British sentiment is handed out in certain quarters, but we must nevertheless keep in mind that these Eastern peoples do not look upon Britain as we do. To them, quite naturally, it is an alien power, an imperialist state. They are far from believing the British Empire "the greatest power for good in the world." This is not my fault by the way. And if I say this I do so merely to forestall those inconsiderate critics whose imagination operates along the lines of a private detective and who see a national enemy in everybody who does not repeat their worn-out old shibboletho word for word.

Would Follow Turkey's Lead

If Britain had not forgiven Amanullah, the Shah of Persia, who fully believes for reasons of his own that his royal friend in Afghanistan who came to a fall as a result of British intrigue, the Shah of Persia has not forgotten that incident. His pact with Amanuallgh to modernize their respective countries was temporarily suspended by the circumstance of Amanullah's flight. But the Shah has not abandoned his project of modernizattion and of following Kemal in thec reation of a national state.

On the walls of Basra and Teheran and other Persian cities, today appear huge placards, manifestoes signed by Riza Khan, explaining to the people the fundamental policy of the Shah's government.

Among other things these manifestos say: "Persia must learn to stand on her own feet. I hope to see the day coming soon when foreigners are no longer required to operate intricate western machinery. We must learn to do everything ourselves and dispense with foreigners. We do not hate foreigners, but we must have patriotic sense and national feeling to realize that the presence of foreigners in their present capacity is humiliating to the Persian people.

"We must be the masters in our own home. Persia is nobody's colony. We do not wish to be unjust to anybody. But we will no longer tolerate a position of sham-independence. We have too great a civilization behind us to submit to a position of a half-subject people. Persia for the Persians!"

MONTREAL, Feb. 14—A sudden wave of buying sent butter prices up nearly a cent a pound on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

The new buying wave came as the result of the Ottawa announcement that butter in stock in Canada as of Feb. 1 were approximately 3,000,000 pounds lower than last year's figures. As production will not get under way in volume for a few months, buyers quickly came into the market. Not only was butter bought for Montreal and Quebec consumption, but also for Toronto and Eastern Ontario points. At the close of the market yesterday No. 1 grass make in carlots or less were quoted at 21¼ to 21½ cents a pound, up three-quarters of a cent. Receipts were only eight boxes.

Eggs advanced another cent a dozen yesterday. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less were quoted at 26 cents, firsts at 24 cents, pullets at 22 to 23 cents and seconds at 20 cents a dozen. To retailers eggs in cartons advanced three cents a dozen. Receipts were 706 cases.

Cheese quotations remained steady. Ontario colored selling at 10 to 10¼ cents, and Ontario early make at 11¼ to 11½ cents a pound. There were no receipts.

Potatoes were unchanged. New Brunswick Green Mountains being quoted at 75 cents per 80-pound bag; Prince Edward Island Green Mountains at 80 to 85 cents per 80-pound bag, and at 90 to 95 cents per 90-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 14. — Enlivened with intermittent bursts of trading, wheat prices fluctuated widely on the Winnipeg grain market yesterday. The price range for the session was more than a cent and values recovered from early declines to close fractionally higher.

May delivery, easing slightly from the high spots, closed at 48⅜c. July ended at 49¼c to 49⅜c, and October at 40½c, an all-round advance of ¼c for the three futures.

Outside buying and reported export sales sent values upward at mid-session, reacting from opening half-cent losses caused by lower overseas markets. At one period prices were half a cent over the previous finish, but eased fractionally in the closing flurry.

Offerings Light.

Offerings throughout were light. Their own market on holiday, Chicago interests gave good support to the Winnipeg pit and Vancouver houses also appeared on the buying side. Export sales were estimated at nearly 400,000 bushels of wheat, sold chiefly from Vancouver.

Cash grain tradng continued quiet with spreads unchanged. Activity in flax was the sole feature to a dull coarse-grain market.

The morning service at St. Paul's on Sunday took the form of a memorial service for the late W. C. Pearce. Hymns selected by the deceased were sung: "Shall we gather at the river," "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer my God to Thee." The rector, Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell, discoursed upon the text, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth," and showed how the things which count in life as enlarged upon in the sermon were noticeable in the life of the deceased.

Mr. Ralph Free, of Frankford, took tea with Mr. and Mrs. Allan McGarvey on Sunday.

SCHOOL BOARDS FREE TO CLOSE NIGHT CLASSES

Premier Henry Sends Notification to Officials Throughout Province.

MEASURE OF ECONOMY.

Move Not to Aid Government But Hard Pressed Local Bodies.

TORONTO, February 15.—School Boards throughout the Province will be permitted to discontinue evening classes in the vocational schools, Premier George S. Henry, Minister of Education, stated last night. An announcement to that effect was forwarded to all boards in Ontario yesterday.

Premier Henry explained this action had been taken following a request from some school boards which were hard pressed financially, and said it was intended to facilitate and expedite matters of economy where it was essential that this should be done.

Such action was in no way intended to curb expenses of the Government, Premier Henry said, pointing out that the cost of these night classes to the Provinces was not high. Rather, it was intended to help local boards and local districts with the problems with which they were faced because of inability to secure revenue.

Welcomed in Toronto.

Such a step will be welcomed by the Toronto Boar dof Education, it is believed, and will permit the board a freer hand in cutting down the number of classes and the expenditure. "The expense of night classes is entirely out of proportion to the costs of other services in the system," Mrs. H. P. Plumptre, chairman of the Toronto Board, asserted last night. A meeting will probably be called of the Advisory Vocational Committee to-day in order to consider what action may be taken. The Toronto Board would save $120,000 to $150,000 if the night classes in vocational schools were discontinued, she said.

Time to Cut Down.

"While I do not feel that we should discard all evening class work, it will give an opportunity for continuing only those classes which are of especial value to the younger people. The time has now come when we are obliged, by reason of the cost, to consider the cutting down of evening classes, both in number and in kind, and while classes for adults were advisable and warranted during prosperous times, classes for adults conducted at the public's expense must be cut down now," Mrs. Plumptre declared.

15 PRISONERS GIVEN HEARING

ALL Committed for Trial as Result of Portsmouth October Riots.

EVIDENCE BRIEF.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 15 (C.P.)—Seven more convicts were committed for trial when they appeared before Magistrate J. M. Farrell to-day on charges growing out of the riots at Portsmouth Penitentiary last October. One of those appearing to-day, Edmund Powell, had his case enlarged until next Wednesday. A witness for Powell is ill.

The total is now 15 who have appeared for preliminary hearing and have been committed.

Evidence by guards and officials to-day was brief concerning the part the convicts played as leaders in the disturbances and in smashing prison furniture and equipment.

Several of the convicts appearing to-day questioned the witnesses briefly in an effort to shake the story told by guards as to the time of the occurrences and extent of participation by the accused. All witnesses held steadfast to their descriptions of the events.

Those committed to-day were Hugh Burling, Noel Charron, Ray Boven, Leo Halshal, Jacob Miller, Solly Flader and John Evans.

Edmund Powell, a negro is serving a 15-year term. He was sentenced in Chatham in 1930 for assault with intent to rob. He is 24.

John Evans, a negro is serving a 25-year term for assault with intent to rob at Chatham in 1930.

Charron asked the court if he could arrange for counsel and was assured this would be done.

1932 Car Licenses Good to March 15

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Further extension of the time for motorists to operate their automobiles with 1932 license plates today was announced by Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways.

"March 15 has now been set as the last day upon which motor vehicles bearing 1932 plates may be operated and no further extension should be expected by motorists," Mr. Macaulay said.

While there are more than 500,000 motor vehicles in Ontario to date only approximately 125,000 have been registered for the current year.

SECTION 98 OF CRIMINAL CODE IS UNDER FIRE

Section Must Stand, Hon. Hugh Guthrie Declares in Commons.

CADET VOTE HELD UP.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe Favors Appeal of Controversial Section.

OTTAWA, February 15 (C.P.).—Section 98 of the Criminal Code, possibly the only secton of the Code the average Canadian knows of by number, is under fire in Parliament again. It has been under fire nearly every session for more than ten years and outside of Parliament has been denounced by Labor and other organizations of various shades of Radicalism.

This year the Bill to repeal the section sponsored by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg North Centre) has advanced as far as the second reading, but is unlikely to go any further. Opposition to the measure was voiced last night by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, after the Winnipeg Laborite had argued for repeal of the section which makes it an offence to be a member of an organization working for the overthrow of constituted authority.

In arguing for repeal Mr. Woodsworth offered no justification for the activities of Communists. He said he was opposed to forcible overthrow of Government. The Communists now serving in the Penitentiary, however, had been convicted under Section 98. These men had been guilty of no overt act, and he did not believe a man should be punished for the views he holds or the thoughts he expresses.

Lapointe in Agreement.

Support for Mr. Woodsworth came from Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, who attempted to secure the repeal of the section while he was in office. He believed other sections of the code amply provided for seditious activities.

If there was any reason for enacting the section in 1918, said Mr. Guthrie, there was abundant reason for retaining it under present disturbed conditions. There was unrest in Canada to-day, and "a number of dangerous organizations were at work. The Labor Defence League was operating in "a most insidious manner." It was closely affiliated with "The Friends of Russia Society."

The numerous petitions and personal threats he had received said Mr. Guthrie, convinced him of the intensity of the activity of these organizations. At one time he had looked upon repeal of the section with indifference but now he felt it should stand.

70 P. C. CITIZENS ARE DESTITUTE STURGEONFALLS

Mayor Gives "Exaggerated Zeal to Save Town" as Reason for Overcharging Gov't.

PROBE IN SIXTH WEEK.

Treasurer Admits Irregularities but Claims None Benefitted Except by Relief.

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., Feb. 15 (C.P.)—With five weeks of evidence-taking behind it, the royal commission headed by Judge J. M. Hall of Sault Ste. Marie inquiring into relief disbursements in Sturgeon Falls, to-day listened to statements of Mayor J. P. Marchildon and clerk-treasurer W. L. Fortier in explanation of the town's tangled relief affairs.

Mayor Marchildon said he admitted the government was overcharged, "but it was done in an exaggerated zeal to help the town." He declared he was sorry to "learn my evidence was not believed," particularly with respect to ex-town clerk A. E. Blagdon. This man, he said, "ran his office in an imperious manner." The mayor declared he was unfamiliar with all the details of office administration, but denied he shirked his duty. He said 70 per cent of the people of Sturgeon Falls are destitute.

The mayor said he would have corrected abuses in relief had he known of them.

Evidence Truthful

Clerk-treasurer Fortier declared his evidence before the commission had been truthful. He said that at times he could not answer questions properly because he was not conservant with the situation. He said he admitted the government was overcharged and that there were certain irregularities, but he did not know of a man connected with the administration of relief who benefitted in any manner except through the relief he was given.

Judge Hall and W. H. Williams, K.C., commission counsel, at times question the speakers as they gave their statements.

At one stage of Mr. Fortier's statement the commissioner asked what was the reason for the high charges against the government.

"To save the town," said Fortier, he added, after a further question, there was also the fear the town was going bankrupt.

COST OF RELIEF MAY BE 2 MILLS

Committees of City Council Are Preparing Their Estimates.

MEET THIS WEEK.

The City Fathers will come to grips this week with the chief problem facing this year's civic administration, when they convene in committee to consider the estimates for the year. It is from the estimates that the tax rate evolves, and citizens will watch with close interest the toll of the City Council in their attempts to keep the rate down.

It is probable that the various committees will meet Thursday and Friday evenings to do their budgeting. It is understood that Alderman J. A. McNabb, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee has already prepared the estimates for this committee.

All the aldermen have voiced at various times their grim intention to use the pruning knife with sure purpose, and it is likely that the estimates of all committees will be reduced from last year.

Little Reduction.

However, the City Council's effort to reduce the tax rate will not be successful, it is thought, in well-informed circles. It is deemed that the cost of relief will be so large that it will more than balance any savings the Council and Board of Education can make.

About two mills on the tax rate. The Examiner learned unofficially to-day, may be the amount needed to take care of relief costs.

Be that as it may, the meetings of the Council committees this week are rightly deemed the most important of the year.

SENATE GROUP FAVORS RAILWAY ARBITRAL BODY

AMENDMENTS CONFIRMED.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (C.P.)—The Senate Railway Committee, with out a recorded vote, put the stamp of approval to-day on the clause in the new railway legislation setting up an arbitral tribunal to render decisions in the event of disputes that might arise between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies in the future co-operative efforts.

Although the committee had previously gone through practically the whole of the bill and prepared it for a report to the Senate, all amendments relating to the proposed arbitral tribunal were only tentatively adopted pending to-day's final decision as to whether or not any such tribunal would be set up.

Only three members of the committee opposed the tribunal. They were Senators James Murdock, John Stanfield and F. L. Beique. Senator Murdock moved an amendment that in place of an arbitral tribunal, set up by the act, the disputing companies could set up conciliation boards. He secured only two active supporters and the motion was lost 14 to three.

Subsequently all the amendments and clauses respecting the operations of the tribunal, tentatively adopted, were confirmed. The committee will meet again this afternoon with little work on the measure left to be completed. Section 25, dealing with appeals from the tribunal's decision, and a couple of proposed added safeguarding clauses, will be considered.

LOSES CENSURE MOTION, BELGIUM CABINET QUITS

The resignation followed the defeat of the Government by 82 to 72 on a Socialist motion censuring the Minister of the Interior for cancelling Communal elections at Hastiere.

Premier de Broqueville stated after the division that although the vote did not reflect on the Government as a whole, he considered it necessary that the present Cabinet resign.

All the rinks will play three games; the draws having been made this morning. Those joining the largest number of points will then play-off in the finals for the cup. It is expected to complete the play-tonight, leaving the ice free for curling for the Morrow Cup tomorrow.

The ice was in splendid condition for play to-day and a high-standard of curling was furnished on every side.

Toronto Man Held On Vagrancy Charge

A wrecked and forsaken motor car, left in a dangerous position five miles below the city on Highway 28, caused the arrest at 1.45 this morning of Ernest George O'Hare, alias Douglas Bruce, aged 22, of Toronto.

The car, an eight-cylinder Auburn sedan, bearing a 1933 Toronto motor license, was found sitting on the travelled portion of the highway at the five-mile curve by Highway Patrol Officer A. E. Hornick. The car had swerved into several guard rails on the turn, snapping them off. Its gasoline tank was empty.

The driver of the car had apparently deserted the scene, but returning to the city, Hornick picked up O'Hare. Various stories told by the youth in answer to questions aroused the officer's suspicions.

He was lodged in the police cells and to-day in Police Court faced a charge of vagrancy, to which he pleaded not guilty.

Inquiries are being made in Toronto to learn the owner of the car, which is believed to have been stolen.

Lighter Burdens For Ratepayers Speech Promises

Ontario's Newly-Appointed Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Herbert A. Bruce, Opens The Legislative Assembly In Toronto.

MORE RELIEF FOR MORTGAGORS FORECAST IN SPEECH FROM THRONE READ AT OPENING

Largest Crowd To Ever Witness An Opening Of Legislative Assembly Present—Little In Speech Not Already Forecast.

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Readjustment of the legislative assembly's membership; further relief for mortgagors and lighter burdens for ratepayers are forecast in the speech from the throne read today by Lieutenant Governor Herbert A. Bruce before a House crowded with legislators and women.

Perhaps the largest crowd ever to witness an opening attended today in tribute to Ontario's newly-appointed Lieutenant Governor, Dr. Bruce. Gaily gowned women and sombrely dressed men packed the chamber. Outside, guns boomed dully as the Lieutenant Governor, accompanied by Premier George S. Henry, walked into the chamber, took his place on the throne and outlined the government's programme for the fourth session of the 18th legislature.

There was little in the speech from the throne not already forecast. The redistribution issue had been announced publicly before, and had aroused considerable comment. Premier George S. Henry in a recent speech had stated there would be further relief for mortgagors, and that taxation increases would not be made this year.

Tribute to Hon. W. D. Ross, former Lieutenant-Governor, who retired recently and to Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice, who had been acting as administrator, was paid in the speech.

The speech carried praise for Ontario's gold mines which had "placed Ontario in an enviable position and helped the province to sustain the credit of the Dominion. All indications read "point to further expansion of gold production in this province.

Brief reference was made to the recent Federal-Provincial conference on unemployment insurance, with existing duplications of public services and instances of overlapping legislation.

JAPAN CEASES NEGOTIATIONS WITH LEAGUE

Anticipated Withdrawal From Membership is Not Expected for Month.

TOKIO EXCHANGE CLOSES.

Gov't Feels Quitting League May Be Turning Point in Nation's History.

TOKYO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Japan served notice today that it has ceased negotiations with the League of Nations in the Manchurian dispute but its anticipated withdrawal from league membership was not expected for about a month.

The Tokyo Stock Exchange was closed at noon today and those of Osaka and Nagoya also were shut down owing to a severe slump in prices caused by indications of increasing anti-Japanese sentiment at Geneva.

It was learned on high authority the government feels withdrawal from the League would be the turning point in the empire's history. Before the ultimate decision is made, the council of elders, the nation's highest distinguished personages, the heads of branches of the Imperial family, and all living ex-premiers will be summoned for consultation. N. Yosuke Matuoka, who has been Japan's special counsel during the long debate over Manchuria before the League, cabled the foreign office today requesting permission to leave Geneva soon.

BOYD WANTED IN HAMILTON

Believed to be Responsible For Majority of Recent Bank Robberies.

COMPANION SOUGHT.

HAMILTON, Feb. 15 (C.P.).—Hamilton police to-day issued warrants for the arrest of John Boyd, or Stanley Lawrence, now held by Windsor police, and for a man named Marion Fourie, and said to be from New Orleans, charging them with the robbery of the Royal Bank here on November 22 last.

Police here intimated that Toronto police would charge the two with the robbery of the branch of the Bank of Toronto in East Toronto a few days ago, when $5,000 was taken. It was further intimated, however, that police believed they would be able with the arrest of the pair to solve the whole series of bank robberies that have occurred in Ontario in the past few months.

Boyd has been held on suspicion at Windsor for three days, and at present is on remand on a charge of having a revolver in his possession. He is thought to be from Baltimore, Md. The whereabouts of Fourie are unknown.

NIGHT CLASSES WILL NOT LIKELY BE ALL CLOSED

Vocational Committee Has Already Discussed the Question.

WOULD SAVE HALF MILL.

Some Classes Will Be Discarded it is Expected by Board Members.

While the announcement from Premier George S. Henry, that school boards throughout Ontario will be permitted to discontinue evening classes in the vocational schools, would appear to be generally welcomed by Peterborough Board of Education, it is not likely to result in the wholesale abandonment of night classes here it is believed. It is almost certain to result in curtailment of certain classes that are considered, in view of the present need for economy, to be unnecessary.

Interviewed by The Examiner E. F. Reid, chairman of the board stated that notification was received on Monday from the Premier of Ontario announcing the intention of the government to allow school boards throughout the province to temporarily cancel their agreement in respect to night classes, with the Department of Education. The question was fully discussed, said Mr. Reid at a subsequent meeting of the Advisory Vocational Committee and certain recommendations are to go forward to the Board.

While Mr. Reid intimated that the matters under discussion concerned the night school fees and other major problems affecting the night classes, he stated that he was not in a position to reveal what recommendations the committee had made to the Board.

Would Close Them

His personal opinion was he stated, that, 'it would be a good stroke of business if we closed all the night classes".

"Is there any possibility of the night classes here being abandoned", he was asked.

"It is hard to say what the attitude of the Board might be. The question will certainly be taken up at the next meeting of the Board", he remarked.

Mr. Reid estimated that the saving of a half mill on the tax rate could be effected by the entire closing of the evening classes.

Committee Favors Classes

ROBBERS LOOT HOME OF $3,500

Couple Supping Coffee With Guests Faced by 6 Men With Machine Gun.

GUNMEN STAY TO DINE.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15 (C.P.).—Armed with a machine gun and pistols, six men robbed five persons in a Highland Park West district home after three of them first forced the Negro cook to give them food.

They ate in the kitchen last night while Mrs. Katherine Shea, whose home they invaded, and her guests supped after dinner coffee, unaware they were soon to lose money and jewelry to the estimated value of $3,500. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dorsey, Mrs. J. B. Veale and Abe Green, Jr.

When the men had eaten, they suddenly confronted the five in the dining-room, warning them to obey orders, since three other men were outside. They had cut telephone wires.

One of the men forced Green to accompany him upstairs, and ransacked every room. Mrs. Dorsey was robbed of a diamond engagement ring she told police she valued at $2,500.

LINDSAY SAILS WITH BRITAIN'S DEBT PROGRAM

Contents of Proposed Settlement Are Kept Closely Guarded.

PARLEY NEXT WEEK.

London Times Urges MacDonald Leave Now to Guide Discussions.

LONDON, Feb. 15 (A.P.)—Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay's departure to-day for the United States with the completed but closely guarded British programme for a new debts settlement was heralded by an appeal to Prime Minister J. Ramsay Macdonald to leave for Washington at once.

Mr. Macdonald was urged by the London Times to go to the United States immediately to confer with President-elect Roosevelt and lay and foundation for the British debt commission's conversations with American representatives shortly after March 4.

The plan now being followed, however, is for the ambasador to conduct his preliminary work. He is expected to confer with Mr. Roosevelt immediately after arriving in New York early next week.

An assistant secretary of the treasury, T. K. Bewte, was sailing with Ambassador Lindsay on the steamship Majestic.

Arguments in Favor

Editorializing on the Prime Ministers statement, which he made in the House of Commons after evading direct questions on the debts programme, the Times contended there were strong arguments in favor of him going to Washington to lay the foundation for those conversations.

Such a prompt visit, the newspaper argued, would be something more than an act of courtesy and might well prevent a divergence of views between the two peoples, American and British, degenerating into a deadlock.

Concurrently, the London Post argued against Mr. MacDonald going to the United States at all since "his presence would virtually place the stamp of plenary authority on everything the delegation might be disposed to do."

200 DISTRICTS TO GET REBATE

Cooke Forecasts Credits of Hundreds of Thousands After Hydro Adjustment.

13TH POWER BILL.

WATERLOO, Feb. 15. — (CP) — More than 200 municipalities of the province will have credits of "hundreds of thousands of dollars" in the 13th power bill covering adjustment of power costs, for 1932.

This information was given by Hon. J. R. Cook, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, addressing the annual meeting of the Waterloo Board of Trade held at the Waterloo Club last night.

It was Mr. Cooke's first visit to Waterloo, and he paid tribute to the work of E. W. B. Snider, D. B. Detweiler and Sir Adam Beck in his reference to this community being the birthplace and home of these three "who gave of their best in laying the foundation for Hydro."

Mr. Cook stated that the 13th power bill for Waterloo would be a credit of $3,000, and that of Kitchener, a credit of $1,500. He explained the computation of power costs, and pointed out that the amount for general administration, operation, and maintenance was less than two and one-half per cent. This should dispose of any charges of extravagance against the commission, he said.

In upholding the necessity of surplus power, Mr. Cooke declared there never has been as great an amount of surplus power in the province as when the Chippawa Canal was built.

Red Ryan Appears In Surgeon's Role

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 15.—(C.P.)—A reporter who went to Portsmouth penitentiary yesterday to check on rumors of disquiet found his way to the modernized hospital. A tall figure, dressed in white from head to foot, looking for all the world a successful surgeon, approached Warden Meglaughlin and remarked quietly:

"I think you'd better take a look at Smith. He's not in very good shape."

"I'll do that immediately, Red," replied the Warden.

The "surgeon" was none other than Red Ryan, one time notorious bank robber, centre of a sensational escape from the penitentiary some 10 years ago.

VOCATIONAL NIGHT CLASS ACTION PLEASES SARNIA

SARNIA, Ont., Feb. 15 (C.P.).—Board of Education members here were pleased by Premier George S. Henry's announcement that discontinuance of evening vocational classes would be officially allowed. The local board was one of the first in Ontario to take action in this regard, suspending evening classes more than a year ago.

Since that time the board has been reminded several times that discontinuance was a violation of the agreement with the Department of Education and loss of the entire vocational grant was threatened. Representations were made through Dr. A. R. McMillen, M.L.A., and Premier Henry was interviewed upon his recent visit here. The board has been asked to further pare estimates this year, and news that resumption of classes would not be forced was welcomed to-day as appropriations are considered.

PRISON'S FARE OF PRUNES, HASH STARTS FRACAS

Five Inmates and Three Keepers Sent to Hospital Injured.

EX-POLICEMAN LEADER.

Guards Redoubled as Officials Fear Trouble From 526 in Custody.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP) — Demostrations against the prevalence of prunes and hash on the prison menu flared yesterday into rioting during which five inmates of the Raymond Street jail and three keepers were injured.

James F. Cahill, a former policeman, who battled keepers with a club until he was beaten unconscious, was taken to hospital with concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull.

Last night a redoubled guard inside the prison kept alert to prevent a further outbreak among the 526 inmates. The rioting was preceded by two days of vocal rebellion against the prison food and what the men called "dishwater coffee". Whenever the enthusiasm of the inmates waned Cahill who has been arrested on charges ranging from robbery to homicide would shout:

"What'll we get for breakfast?"

And the prisoners would thunder back:

"Prunes and hash."

Shortly after midnight a new relief of guards sought to quiet Cahill. He ripped a board from the bench in his cell and started a battle with the keepers. It was a signal to the others. Some set fire to papers and threw them into the corridors. Others ripped up mattresses and set fire to them. Some cut their pillows and tossed the stuffings through the cell bars. Others broke up furniture.

Cahill batted the keepers until he dropped unconscious. Then the keepers turned to the other ringleaders.

While Cahill was being taken to a hospital, ambulance surgeons treated the other injured men.

DE VALERA BANS PRIVATE ARMIES

Says Uniformed Supporters of Cosgrave Are Menace to Free State Peace.

IGNORES NON-PARTISANS.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 15.—President Eamon de Valera last night warned the Army Comrades Association, or White Army, as it is called, that the Government would not permit it to usurp functions of the civil guard. The White Army recently started a campaign of recruiting.

"The Government," Mr. de Valera said, "will not permit usurpation of the functions of the police by the White Army or any other body. During the election their activities were a constant danger to the public peace, and added to the difficulties of the police in maintaining order.

"Conducting of route marches in uniform, or other military exercises by unauthorized bodies will not be tolerated."

The White Army provided escorts for candidates of former President William T. Cosgrave's Nationalist Party during the election campaign, and several times aided police in quelling disturbances. The Government, however, held that the disturbances would not have occurred had it not been for the presence of White Army members.

The President made no mention of the Republican Army, another militant organization, which has been reported at various times to be training young men in the use of arms and in other military exercises.

Trent River Loon Dies of Dizziness

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Feb. 15. — (CP) — Henry the Loon is dead. Henry died after swimming in circles for 24 hours in a bath tub. The large black-feathered bird was caught by C.A.L. Carter as it floundered about on the ice of the Trent River, unable to take off because of lack of water. As there is a penalty for killing the birds, Carter took it to the police stations. Just as puzzled, the police hit upon the idea of placing Henry in the tub. Henry performed nobly; swam and swam until he died, a victim of dizziness.

TWO ARRESTED FOR KIDNAPPING

Denver Chief Confident Millionaire Will Be Recovered Inside Two Days.

SPURS FORCE ON.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 15 (A.P.)—Two men are in jail and several arrests have been ordered by police who to-day drove toward the 48-hour deadline set Monday by Chief Albert T. Clark for the solution of the kidnapping of Charles Boettcher, 2nd, the 48 hours are up to-night.

Clark emerged from a conference with Boettcher's partner and his attorney to announce the arrests of W. M. "Red" Mitchell and George Zarlengo, whom he identified as minor bootleggers. The chief declared the two were definitely suspected of a part in the kidnapping Sunday at midnight of the 31-year-old scion of a wealthy pioneer Colorado family.

At the same time he cleared Ben Mykasa and Frank J. Sullivan, who were held in Chicago for Denver police, of connection in the case. The men, he said, were ordered held by Detective Sergeant William J. Armstrong in connection with another case.

"I said 48 hours and we've got some time left," Clark said. "Maybe it will run over that time," but I'm just as confident as I was when I said we'd have this case cleared up and Boettcher returned home within two days."

The kidnapped broker's partner, James Quigg Newton told Clark the family had not heard from the kidnappers, assuming a note purporting to offer a $10,000 reduction in the sum of $60,000 ransom demanded by the extortionists was a fake.

MICHIGAN BANKS WILL HAVE CASH READY THURSDAY

Permit 900,000 Depositors to Withdraw Up to 5 p.c. of Balances.

CONFERENCES CONTINUE.

Part Ford Played Somewhat Clarified—Governor Misunderstood Facts.

DETROIT, Feb. 15 (C.P.).—Going into the second day of the extraordinary bank holiday proclaimed yesterday by Governor William A. Comstock, Michigan's 900,000 bank depositors were encouraged to-day by promises that part of their balances would become available by to-morrow.

The Detroit Clearing House Association has arranged to make $25,000,000 available Thursday, permitting depositors of Detroit banks to withdraw not in excess of five per cent. of their balances for emergency purposes before the end of the eight-day holiday.

It seemed a certainty that some such plan would be put into effect for the remainder of the State, although it was not determined whether it would be by gubernatorial proclamation or by voluntary action on the part of the banks.

In a series of conferences last night, representative bankers urged upon Governor Comstock the issuance of a supplemental proclamation authorizing emergency withdrawals up to 10 per cent. of balances.

Urges Voluntary Action.

The Governor, however, urged voluntary action. He said that "while my proclamation declaring a bank holiday was mandatory, it is not my disposition to prohibit any bank from making a sensible arrangement to permit withdrawals to meet family necessities or to allow the cashing of pay cheques, and I believe many banks will do this."

He said the conferences with bankers would be resumed to-day.

Meanwhile, the depositors whose $1,500,000,000 bank balances were tied up accepted the situation philosophically. Confidence was expressed the eight day respite would permit a sound adjustment of the Union Guardian Trust Company's financial difficulties which precipitated the drastic action.

QUAKER OATS COMPANY PLACES NEW PRODUCT ON THE MARKET

Mother's Biscuit Mix Has Passed Most Exacting Tests.

SELF-RISING FLOUR.

The Quaker Oats Company has begun this week the marketing of a new product, Mother's Biscuit Mix, a prepared self-rising flour that should be welcomed in every household.

After extensive research work for more than six months in the Quaker Oats laboratories of their Cedar Rapids and Peterborough plants, Mother's Biscuit Mix has passed the most exacting tests before being offered to the pubilc bearing the Quaker Oats trade mark of quality.

Innumerable baking tests have proved without exception that Mother's Biscuit Mix is all that the experts realized when they had finally completed their formula, and the actual results which have been obtained in the final stages have been wonderful.

Mother's Biscuit Mix is particularly suitable for making tea biscuits, shortcake, muffins and other similar domestic confections that amplify the family table.

The fact that in the manufacture of this new product virtually all the ingredients have been included which the housewife would otherwise be called upon to mix makes Mother's Biscuit Mix a great time saver in home cooking, and to emphasize that advantage the Quaker Oats Company has adopted for this new product the slogan "Bisuits in a jiffy."

The recipes shown on each package were developed and approved by one of the leading dietitians in Canada, and the Quaker Oats Company has the assurance of various independent cooking experts that this product is far superior to anything else of its kind.

Mother's Biscuit Mix should carry a strong appeal to the modern housewife because of the valuable time it saves and also because it guarantees a greater degree of success in home cooking. Baking tests are made in the Peterborough plant of the Quaker Oats Company on regular schedule for the purpose of assuring continuous uniformity of Mother's Biscuit Mix, and as with every other product of the company the greatest care is exercise maintaining the essential feature.

Mother's Biscuit Mix is made with specially selected soft wheat flour as its main ingredient. All the housewife has to add is milk and water. Directions are complete and specific, thereby enabling every woman to make biscuits which she will be proud to place on the family table.

The merchandising of Mother's Biscuit Mix has been begun this week through the usual channels of trade, and can be purchased at the grocery stores. With each package is given a free bake sheet on which the biscuits and muffins may be cooked.

Havelock

(Examiner Correspondence).

HAVELOCK Feb. 15. — T. P. Lancaster, M. P. P., of town, was in Toronto last week attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Society, and was one of the prominent speakers on the program.

Mr. R. P. Wright, an old Havelock boy, who has made good, was appointed manager of the Yonge Street and Belsize Drive branch of the Bank of Toronto. "Bob," as he is better known to his many friends throughout the district, started his banking career as a junior clerk at the local branch. His first move was to Western Canada, later being transferred to Brockville, Montreal, Ottawa, then after two years on the bank's inspection staff he received this new appointment. "Congratulations Bob," will be the exclamation in order.

Mrs. Douglas Brennan and little Marjory, journeyed to Toronto on Saturday to see Doug play with the New York Rangers against the Toronto Maple Leafs. They were accompanied home by Doug, who left on Tuesday morning for Ottawa.

W. J. Hill of Winnipeg, Man., was in town on business on Friday. Mr. Hill is a former resident, and while here renewed old acquaintances. He reports little change in conditions in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mathison left for a short holiday in Toronto on Monday morning.

The main roads in this district are in splendid condition just now, and hundreds of loads of all kinds of cordwood were brought to the village on Saturday, the farmers and lumbermen taking full advantage of the extra good sleighing. The trucks that have played a big part in bringing most of the wood out of the bush up until now are still going, although not making so many trips.

Mr. Nathan Hoard broke the road out from Tongomong on Monday, and left part of a black bear with James W. Ketchen, local butcher. The bruin was shot last week when the extreme cold forced it to come too close to civilization resulting in his ultimate death. Some of the villagers report the steak as being "first rate."

At a meeting of the local Horticultural Society directorate on Friday it was decided to give each member one dollar's worth of premiums as they did last year. A real drive for increased membership is under way, and Secretary-Treasurer L. A. Gould will be kept busy issuing new cards.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY MEETS

John Edgar Will Represent the Society at District Meeting.

UNUSUAL CASE.

A record in short meetings was reached yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber when the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society spent only thirty minutes in receiving reports and transacting business.

The report of the superintendent, John Edgar, was as follows: Applications for children, 2; children returned to shelter (not wards), 2; wards placed out, 4; wards returned to shelter, 1; mileage covered, 375; complaints, 7; warnings given, 2; investigations, 11; court attendance, 3; children sent to Industrial School, 1; foster homes heard from, 81 children involved, 29; mail received, 29; mail sent out, 79.

There were nine children in the shelter during the month of January, but the little boys who at present constitute its population could sing "We are seven" with much truthfulness.

Mr. Edgar reported a donation from Coldsprings Sunday School of $8, and a donation from the estate of the late Mary Maud Rae of $100.

It was decided to send a letter of sympathy to the Rev. C. J. Phelan, of Campbellford, a former president of the society and now a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Edgar spoke of listening in over the radio recently when a Buffalo station reported numerous cases held up at the border on account of immigration difficulties. One was the case of a child who was a former resident of the city with her supposed parents. The mother died in Chicago and the father resided near Rochester. A brother living in Peterborough decided to bring the little one back here, think she was his sister. When she was refused admittance at the border owing to lack of proper papers, it was discovered that both the boy and girl had been adopted and that they were no relation. The child is now in Chicago, where she had been adopted.

Treasury Watch Dog.

Mr. Edgar read a letter inviting him to take part in a conference of agents of Children's Aid Societies in this district, which will take place in Belleville on March 14th, when the Deputy-Minister, M. A. Sorsoleil, will hear suggestions as to betterment of conditions in children's work.

Alderman Stocker, who has constituted himself a watch dog of the treasury, exclaimed, "we can't afford it," but a resolution carried by the members agreed to Mr. Edgar's presence at the conference.

Mr. Stocker also pointed out that the County Council had recently reduced the salary of its matron and caretaker at the House of Refuge in Lakefield, although there were many acres of land there to take care of. His comments were received in silence.

Members present at yesterday's meeting included the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, president; Messrs. John Edgar, R. H. Parsons, H. B. Cowan, L. Dobbin, C. A. Salmonsen, Alderman Stocker, Dr. H. M. Yelland and Mesdames L. Yeotes, N. Henry, J. J. Lynch, J. Welsh, J. S. Fanning.

The report of the Purchasing Committee was read by Mrs. J. S. Fanning, as follows: Grant and Thorpe, $4.90; Stock's Bread, Ltd., $5.31; Castle's Meat Market, $7.02; J. E. A. Fitzgerald Company, $10; McLeod's Drug Store, $1; Allen's Cash and Carry, $25.68; J. John, $1; Sunshine Dairy, $27.85; Canadian Packing Company, $6; W. S. Bogue, $2.10; R. Hall, Ltd., $37.80; Grafton & Co., $6.75; Kingan Hardware, $7.40; H. W. Nigh, $2.70; Bell Telephone Company, $9.59; Darcy Foster, $5.25; John Edgar, $1.32. Total, $161.66.

Donations during the month were: 5 dozen buns from Hooper's store; cake and buns from St. Paul's Church; bread and cake from Mrs. Roy Laing.

THE MATCH BOX IS PRESENTED AT ST. LUKE'S

Play is a Breezy Bit of Banter in Three Acts.

WELL PRESENTED.

Second Showing is Scheduled For Thursday Night.

"A breezy bit of banter in three acts" is the manner in which the publishers describe the three-act comedy, "The Match Box," presented by the A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's Church in their parish hall last evening, with a second presentation scheduled for to-morrow (Thursday) night.

An element which entered into this production and added much to its worth was the fact that a great deal of courage, in the face of tragedy, was necessary to maintain the tradition of the legitimate stage, "the play goes on." The Rev. G. J. Bousfield commenced the direction of this A.Y.P.A. play some time before the recent death of his son, and he refused to allow the young people to be disappointed by its postponement. For the same reason, Hector Bousfield continued his part in the production, carrying it off with splendid ability.

The play was very finely enacted by a group of talented amateur actors from the A.Y.P.A. It is full of breezy dialogue and clever acting and the youthful cast did it full justice. A distinctly unique touch was provided by the fact that the regular stage setting was simply turned backward for the summer camp cabin of the second act, and this idea worked marvellously well.

The smart little plot deals with the trials and tribulations of several lovers and would-be lovers, among them a very bashful young man. The heroine loves a hero who is so handsome that she cannot trust him out of her sight, so she begs her best friend to follow him on his vacation and keep an eye on him. When he promises to perform a like office for his best man friend and keep the latter's lady love too busy to trifle with other men, complications develop. And these twists and turns provide plenty of entertainment for the audience and lots of work for the actors.

The Cast.

The cast includes Miss Margaret Bethune, as Charlotte Bancroft, a sweet, clinging vine, known as "Sugar" to her intimates; Miss Margaret Guthrie, as her best friend, Irma Hastings, with a sense of humor and a keen mind; Ormie Heap, as Charles Dudley ("Chickie"), a handsome hero of the matinee idol type who is unaffected and unassuming, however; Roland Krant, as Edwin Rowley, a bashful beau, undecided in action; Miss Hazel Seymour, as Anita Thorndyke, a self-reliant damsel who bewitches the bashful Edwin; Miss Clemena Long, as Jane Oxford, high-brow and snobbish and painstakingly gracious; Hector Bousfield and Bob Sedgewick, as Jack Belmont and Ripley Brooks, "two-thirds of an irrepressible trio"; and Miss Edith Wills, as "Billy" Flood, the enigma of the tale.

The costuming is excellent in this bright three-act comedy and the settings are very good, considering the limitations of the stage. Stage furnishings were kindly loaned by Comstock Brothers, and a new drop curtain, the gift of an anonymous donor, added to the attraction of the staging.

The president of the A.Y.P.A., Miss Clemena Long, announced the production at the opening and Miss Muriel Davies played the piano between acts.

"The Match Box" will be presented again to-morrow night in St. Luke's parish hall.

PATRIOTIC.

BALTIMORE. — A Bill in the Maryland General Assembly would require members of politically active patriotic organizations to pass Eighth-Grade history and civics tests.

Its authro, Mrs. Marie Bauernschmidt, said:

"I think it is time for patriots to know what their ancestors died for as well as what they died of."

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

The best cough remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and saves two-thirds of the money a family usually spends on cough medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

APPEAL CASES NOT IN ARREARS

Wilberforce Ex-Service Man Appears Before the Tribunal.

EX-SIGNALLER

Contrary to popular opinion that the hearing of returned soldier's pension applications are in arrears, Pension Advocate Harry Bray, of Toronto, who is in the city this week along with the Pension Tribunal, made the definite assertion to The Examiner that applications over the whole province have practically all been dealt with. That was particularly true of this district, said Mr. Bray, where there are few applications that have yet to be heard.

Yesterday afternoon the Tribunal, under chairmanship of Major Leo Warde, heard the evidence in the application of Wilfred Croft, of Wilberforce.

Croft, an ex-signaller in the Canadian artillery, was stated to be afflicted with disordered action of the heart, and serious mental and emotional instability.

He described to the Tribunal the frequently recurring attacks to which he was subject. The first he had, he said, was in March twelve years ago. He had been lying on the couch and he started to sing. He did not know that he had been singing. His wife had told him about it. He described the attacks as being hallucinations, accompanied by heavy sweating, extreme dryness of the throat and a hacking cough.

Going Into Line.

Applicant asked by the chairman of the Tribunal if he could recall any war experience to which he might attribute his mental and emotional condition, related that he recalled having been in the vicinity of Ypres station. There was a company coming out of the line, and he was with his company going into the line. "There was very heavy shelling and I was close enough to see what happened. It had a dreadful effect on me and for some days I didn't know where I was."

When he regained his senses, the applicant stated, "I found that instead of having gone into the line, as I should have done, I was at Poperinghe."

A Mr. Agnew, former station agent at Wilberforce and now proprietor of a general store in that community, testified he had known applicant intimately for some years. He had seen Croft overcome in the store with the attacks as he had described them. Witness related that Croft would suddenly be seized with gasping, choking spells.

Sick Since Demobilization.

Croft had often spoken of his different experiences in France, and had said that he had been subject to attacks of sickness almost since demobilization. When he would speak of his war experiences, the witness said, Croft would get excitable, but not necessarily emotional.

The applicant, stated witness, was now employed in drawing freight. "I place so much reliability upon his honesty that I can trust him to unpack my goods and place them on the shelves in my store."

The president of the Tribunal expressed himself as having been much impressed with the evidence of the applicant and the witness, Agnew.

Alfred G. Barnes, also of Wilberforce, had known Croft for thirty years. In July, 1919, he was working along with Croft and had seen him suddenly overcome by spells of choking and gasping. Croft would complain of extreme dryness in his throat.

Describing the preliminary symptoms, the witness said Croft would be at work when, without warning, he would be seized with a hacking cough. He had to sit down, and after he had taken a drink of water and rested for some time, he would be able to resume work.

MICHIGAN'S PREDICAMENT.

Reading of the acute financial crisis in Michigan which finds the state's 550 banks and trust companies tied up for eight days on a state bank holiday decreed by Governor Comstock, Canadians have more than ever reason to congratulate themselves upon the soundness and stability of this country's financial institutions.

That it should have been necessary for Michigan's Governor to take this unprecedented step is proof of the most critical nature of the situation as it concerns the state's banks.

By this action the sum of $1,510,385,767.00 is tied up at least until February 23, while the public, in spite of the fact that the holiday has been declared to protect its interests, will undoubtedly be in a state of panic.

It is hoped to formulate a plan by which sufficient withdrawals will be permitted to meet payrolls and provide living expenses for depositors during the period the banks are closed; such a plan will have a re-assuring effect, but if it should be found impossible to arrange these withdrawals the situation would undoubtedly have a demoralizing result upon business generally.

THE REDISTRIBUTION SHUFFLE.

The report from Toronto that the two Peterborough seats in the Ontario Legislature are under redistribution to be merged into one had already been foreshadowed and will occasion no surprise.

In fact, when it was announced that the Legislature was to be cut down by at least a score of members it was inevitable, having regard to the population of the present local ridings, that one would disappear in the shuffle.

Under the new arrangement the county will send only one member to Toronto, the city constituency, composed of Peterborough and the townships of North Monaghan and Smith, being absorbed by the county constituency, now represented by T. P. Lancaster, M.L.A., of Havelock.

Other changes in this district, such as the wiping out of one of the Hastings seats and the amalgamation of North and South Victoria into one constituency are undoubtedly logical developments in the scaling down of the Legislature from 112 to 88 seats.

The redistribution program announced yesterday was not, of course, official, and the whole matter will have to be fought out by a special committee of the Legislature, but it serves to show how the wind is blowing, and so far as this particular section of Ontario is concerned is likely to be found very close to the mark.

THE NEW SESSION.

The session of the Legislature which opened today may produce some lively debates as the parties do their window dressing in preparation for the next election, but, except in the matter of political oratory, is not likely to prove very momentuous.

It has already been announced that very little in the way of new legislation is to be brought to the attention of the House, the most important being a measure designed to protect victims of the depression who are threatened with the loss of their property.

The redistribution bill will be, of course, an important and interesting feature of the session, while the public will be seriously concerned with the budget to be brought down by Hon. E. A. Dunlop, although the announcement a few days ago by Premier Henry that there will be no new taxation will rob the budget speech of some of its usual interest.

This will probably be the second last session of the present Legislature, for in spite of protests from the opposition at what they call the holding of a "lame duck" session, it would seem to be certain at the present time that there will not be an election until at least June of next year, which means that the Legislature will sit next January and February.

Although the legislative program is not heavy, this session may not be without its interesting moments, for there is plenty of material for debating fireworks.

WINDSOR'S ACHIEVEMENT.

One Ontario paper speaking of Windsor's recent financial operations, declares the Border Cities must have taken the "un" out of "uncontrollable," as well as the "im" out of "impossible."

In view of what has been accomplished by the Windsor Council, this remark would seem to be entirely justified.

The city, facing a serious financial condition, has grappled with the problem in a most vigorous manner, and with such conspicuous success that it has reduced the Windsor tax rate from 37 mills last year to 28 mills this year, while the assessment is now $80,000,000, as compared with $89,215,000 last year.

In view of present-day conditions, that would seem a most creditable achievement, the magnitude of which should give new heart and a fresh lead to other municipal governments who are confronted by much the same problem.

Windsor has shown that it can be done, that a municipal council which seriously and energetically sets about the task of cutting down expenditures can find ways and means of reaching the desired end if it is sincere in its effort to bring about economies.

The line of least resistance is to say that the thing is impossible, but Windsor has demonstrated that given the will to succeed, it is not impossible to make an appreciable slash in tax rates.

ALPHABETICAL POLITICS.

(From the Farmers' Sun)

Canadian politics is going alphabetical. An honest reformer, displaying only modest zeal, can belong to the U.F.O., the L.S.R. and the C.C.F. If he is a westerner, he may take his choice between the U.F.A., the U.F.C. (S.S.) or the U.F.M., and having made his choice, join as well the L.S.R. and the C.V.F. If he is a Labor man, he may be I.L.P., or S.P. of C. or O.B.U. and L.S.R. and C.C.F.

A true politician, seeking support from all elements, say in Ontario, may find himself described as John Reformer, U.F.O., I.L.P., L.S.R., C.C.F., M.P. Which is all very difficult. And imagine the problem of speaking to a mixed audience on the principles of these bodies. "I would be recreant in my duty as an I.L.P. if I did not concur in the noble principles of the U.F.O. as so superbly enunciated by the C.C.F. and advocated by the L.S.R. No red-blooded Canadian but can feel his C.C.F. blood boil at any attack upon the L.S.R. Stand by me, fellow-Canadians, let the U.F.O., L.S.R., I.L.P., U.F.A., U.F.M., S.P. of C., C.C.F. end the depression and remodel the distributive system so that the production of letters equals the consumption of alphabets."

And what do they stand for, these letters? The L.S.R. is the League for Social Reconstruction, the research and educational groups, associated with the C.C.F. The U.F. names we know. The I.L.P. is the Independent Labor Party, the S.P. of C. is the Socialist Party of Canada. And the C.C.F.? Of course, that is the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation; we mean, it is the Co-operative Federal Wealth; we mean, it is the C.C.F.

NOW LET'S EAT.

To-night, thanks to Dr. Stanley Cobb, of Boston, we can enjoy a dinner adequate for a pick-and-shovel worker without offering as an explanation our determination to help consume the over-production from which the world is supposed to be suffering. "Desk Men Given Appetite Alibi," says a bright caption writer, and the story below it tells how Dr. Cobb told the American College of Physicians at Montreal that "a hard-working brain uses energy as fast as a hard-working muscle," and this is the reason why "brain workers who lead a sedentary life often are more hungry after their usual mental work than after exercising in the open air."

We are prepared for the obvious retort when we quote the estimable doctor from Boston, but facts are facts, and when our humble opinion is backed by expert knowledge we shall hope for a more general recognition of the truth that we eat heartily because we work hard—with, of course, the other side of the argument: that we are able to work hard because we eat largely. Nothing could be simpler than that.

The brain worker ought to derive considerable satisfaction from Dr. Cobb's findings—alibi if you like. In the past he has had, perhaps, some sense of guilt when about to surround a meal of the sort calculated to stoke a pick-and-shovel stalwart for the next few hours. He had felt like apologizing for his appetite because if he told the truth, that he was hungry because he had been working hard, someone was likely to remind him that a lot of exercise for him consisted in walking to the corner for the street car or applying the brakes of his motor car. He is given to understand that a slice of toast and a dash of spinach would just about meet his requirements, and what was a poor brain worker to do when he had to stand out, alone and hungry, without expert support, against domestic and public opinion?

Now the hungry brain-worker—and if that classification doesn't include newspaper writers we will abandon the argument forthwith—may quote Dr. Stanley Cobb as he proceeds gaily from soup to apple pie by way of roast beef, vegetables, salad, and what have you. He can plead alibi, justification and medical science, and that should carry him a long way.—Ottawa Journal.

WORLD HOPE.

Prime Minister James Ramsay MacDonald offers the encouraging announcement that the World Economic Conference, over which he is to preside, will be held at the earliest possible moment.

Next month will see the staging of the Anglo-American war debts meeting in Washington, with Mr. MacDonald, Neville Chamberlain and Mr. Runciman as the likely British delegates. On the agreement worked out in the American capital—war debts settlement being regarded as the key to general recovery—it is expected to develop a new world economic structure at the subsequent meeting.

* * * *

At this writing the prospect of a mutually satisfactory agreement at Washington is not too hopeful. The attitude of certain American public men and a recent significant statement by Mr. Chamberlain, in which it was made known that Britain would make no trade concessions in return for an easing of war debts, were not particularly cheerful developments. At the same time, it is always darkest before the dawn and we cannot get away from the belief that when British and American statesmen put their feet under the table in Washington they will be determined to get action on the problem or, as Mr. Bennett might say, perish in the attempt.

* * * *

It is essential, of course, that the debts conference produce a satisfactory result prior to the summoning of the World Economic Conference. The first obstacle must be disposed of before others can be taken up. With agreement reached on debts and the shadow of uncertainty which now hangs over European and American relations removed, the various countries of the world can then proceed to consideration of the six major problems that the Associated Press details as follows:

1.—Monetary and credit policy.
2.—Prices.
3.—Resumption of the movement of capital.
4.—Restrictions on international trade.
5.—Tariff and treaty policy.
6.—Organization of production and trade.

* * * *

As the Hon. Charles McCrea said in his Windsor address the other day, the prospect for 1933 is really encouraging. If the European nations can get together with the United States on the debt question—and they must—and then follow this up with worthwhile action at the Economic Conference, the most important developments since the ending of the Great War will have been set in motion. Washington and London are the world's hope-centres to-day. —Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Relief Fund needs your help. The objective is still far from being reached, and everybody who can help should make his contribution.

There are so many cures being worked out for our economic ills that it is difficult to understand who are solving all the jig-saw puzzles.

With the Legislature open, the task of leading the Liberal partty so far as the Queen's Park warfare is concerned will fall upon the shoulders of W. E. N. Sinclair, M.P.P. Meanwhile Mr. Hepburn will continue to lead on the sidelines.

THE TUTTS By CRAWFORD YOUNG

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 43

The message puzzled Kane. He stared at it for a moment, trying to comprehend its meaning. Then he stuffed it in his pocket and went to his room.

He tossed his hat on to the bed, drew off his coat, dropped it in a heap on the back of a chair and sat down before the window. Moodily, he gazed out over the city.

Almost unconsciously, he reached across the table and took three or four sheets of paper and drew his pencil and began drawing hieroglyphics. Slowly one of these took the shape of the lower floor of Bailey's home.

Under it he scribbled: "Plan of Bailey lower floor."

Then on another sheet of paper he drew another, which took the shape of Nanette LeRoi's home.

Under this he scribbled "Floor plan of LeRoi home."

On the third sheet of paper he wrote in this fashion:

Chivington
Nanette LeRoi
Lucy Wilbur
Lillian Hull
Dorotha Deane
Larry Weldon
Rodolf Holmes
Young man in cap.

Then, slowly, he erased some of the names until these remained:

Nanette LeRoi
Lucy Wilbur
Dorotha Deane
Larry Weldon
Rodolf Holmes
Young man in cap.

Then he added two more names:

Evelyn "Buddy" Deane
Harmony Hale.

But immediately he drew lines through both of these names and after the name of Evelyn Deane wrote "murdered." After the other name he wrote "improbable."

He pushed that paper to one side and stared at the LeRoi plan. It was, he realized woefully incomplete, but it served his purpose. He was interested in but two rooms of that house, really in but one, the drawing room.

Then he remembered the diagram which Dorotha had given him. He found it lying on the table where he had tossed it last night. Comparing his and the other one he found that where he had placed one question mark was Dorotha's bedroom. The other question mark filled the spot where the dining room and kitchen should be.

Silently, he sat staring at these three diagrams. It was while he was thus cogitating that his telephone rang. Answering, a voice came to him:

"This is Holmes. May I come up?"

"I've been waiting for you," Kane told him.

But a few moments passed before Holmes knocked on the door. When Kane admitted him he seemed excited. A fierce light burned in his eyes. A scowl contracted his features.

"I'm worried about Nanette," he announced.

"Tell me about it," the other man said easily. "If I can help you—"

Holmes dropped on to the edge of the bed. "She's—well, you know she and I were married last night."

Kane said that he did, and offered his congratulations.

"I don't know whether congratulations are in order or not," doubtfully. "She insists today that she has made a mistake. She wants to have the marriage annulled."

"What?" Kane demanded incredulously.

"She wants the marriage annulled," the actor repeated downheartedly. "And I can't shake the idea out of her head."

"Doesn't she give you any reason?"

"Her career!" with a snarl. "She's afraid it will ruin her if it should become known. I tried to tell her that everything is going to be all right, but she won't listen."

Kane forced himself to smile. "Get her out in a car in the moonlight," he suggested. "She'll change her mind."

"I'm afraid you don't know her very well," Holmes said ruefully. "When she gets her mind set on something hell and high water won't make her change it."

"When did she make this known to you?"

"Today—it was after you were out there. That's what has me worried. Did you say something to her?"

"Why of course not," Kane assured him. "I'm a confirmed bachelor."

"I don't mean that," impatiently.

"Was Lucy Wilbur still with her?"

"Yes."

Kane thoughtfully gazed out the window. Then: "Holmes, I want you to do something for me."

"Anything can," he agreed.

"All right. Get everyone out of that house and when the road is clear let me know."

The actor's bewildered countenance showed that he did not understand.

"Never mind why," Kane declared. "You just do what I ask. I don't care how you do it, but get them out of the house."

"How about Dorotha?"

"I want her out of the way, too. But I would like to have you stay there or, at least, be within easy reach."

"You will be here?"

"Yes."

As Holmes left the room the expression on his face showed that he was none too pleased with the task which had been given him. If the truth be known, he did not know just exactly how he was going to accomplish what had been asked of him.

Too, he was puzzled as to why Kane should want the women out of the house. What did the man have on his mind? Did he suspect Nanette?

When he was left alone Jere Kane got Richard Bailey's diary, threw himself across the bed on his stomach and began reading the small volume from the beginning. He had read it so much already, it seemed, that he should have had it memorized.

As a matter of fact, he could repeat much of it almost verbatum. But there must be something, he told himself, that he had missed, some elusive phrase that would give him the clue for which he sought. Slowly, carefully, he digested every word, some of which were written in a smooth, flowing hand, others in a hurried scrawl. Occasionally he came across passages which were almost illegible.

The first entry, he noted, was in October, just a little less than a year before he met his untimely end. His first reference to Nanette LeRoi was early in February. It merely said that Holmes had introduced him to a "gorgeous exotic creature who would replace reigning stars in the affections of the motion picture public."

In March he found this entry:

"At last I have found the one woman in the world who can make me happy. She is kind and gentle, and young enough to be trained into the ways of good wifehood."

And in the very next entry he wrote: "Why can't I be a man instead of a beast?"

Kane read these again and again, hoping that there might be something hidden there that would aid him. But he found nothing.

Later on in the same month was this: "I have lost my buddy—through my own ignorance. I guess I just don't understand women, and never will. She has found out something about me—she won't tell me what it is."

And early in April this hopeful exclamation:

"I have managed to get her a good assignment. Maybe that will keep her quiet."

The hours dragged by as he buried himself in the man's attempt to reveal the innermost secrets of his soul. And finally, as he turned to the last page his eye came across an almost illegible line. He ran over and over it.

"Why didn't I see that before?" he cried.

The single line said:

Member Initiated For Omemee Lodge

OMEMEE, Feb. 15.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—Despite the unfavorable weather of Wednesday evening a fairly good number of members of Lorne Lodge, A.F. & A.M. turned out for their regular monthly meeting. A candidate for masonry was balloted for, was accepted and duly initiated. The new officers were all complimented on the excellence of their work. A fourth degree brought to a close a pleasant evening.

THE NIGHT CLASSES.

The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I have been asked to reply to Mr. Cridland's letter which appeared in a recent issue of The Examiner. He says: "I would like a question answered through the medium of your paper that is on the minds of many people and to which I have never heard a satisfactory answer. It is, Why is the so-called fee for night students always returned at the end of the term?"

The fact of the matter is that it is not always returned and never has been. However, it is but fair to state that the registration fee of $2.00 is returned to those who show sufficient interest in their work to attend 80 per cent. of the classes held during the six months' term of the night school.

The Advisory Vocational Committee authorizes this return of the $2.00 registration fee on the recommendation of the Education Department at Toronto. The recommendation is as follows: "The fee for evening class pupils, if one is charged, should be merely nominal It is found to be good policy, instead of charging a fee, to require the applicant to make a deposit and to return it to him at the end of the course, if his attendance has reached a stated standard This policy is found to be effective in increasing regularity of attendance, and persistence to the end of the course."

It will be thus seen that the educational authorities at Toronto are of the opinion that classes for adult education should be free, just the same as the classes in primary and secondary schools.

A word or two in answer to Mr. Cridland's facetious jibe at the cooking and dressmaking classes. He says that in his day the classes were attended by young working people for whom the classes were intended, anxious to improve their positions, "not filled by all and sundry who want to get a few more fancy recipes for their bridge guests and some new and cute ideas in dressmaking."

If Mr. Cridland will call at the school any night during the week I shall be pleased to conduct him through the building, so that he may get a personal knowledge of the class of students in attendance and of the very practical work which is being carried on by the members of these and other classes.

He will find that of the one hundred in the cooking classes 45 are factory workers, 27 are clerks in stores and offices, 7 are domestics, 3 are teachers, 9 are unemployed and 9 are housewives.

In the dressmaking classes the occupations of the numbers are as follows: factory workers, 56; clerks in stores and offices, 43; domestics, 16; teachers, 7; housewives, 80, and unemployed, 32.

Of the 80 housewives in the dressmaking classes there is a small minority—and it is a very small minority indeed—who belong to well-to-do families. This fact is used as an argument for doing away with these classes altogether and thus preventing the big majority of the members from effecting much desired economies in their homes as a result of the training they receive in sewing and dressmaking.

Just a few words about the auto mechanics' classes. Mr. Cridland states that experienced garage mechanics who have learned their trade are losing their jobs through lack of trade at the local garages. He blames this on the night classes in that subject.

Here are the facts. We have 68 taking auto mechanics. Thirty-eight of these are in classes for garage men, and the other thirty are in the class for the owners of cars. The latter bring in their cars for demonstration purposes and have minor—and only minor—repairs made. The owner pays for the parts required and is not charged for the time it takes to make the repairs. During the fall term, October, November and December a record was kept of these repairs. This was taken to a local garage man in no way connected with the night classes. He was asked to estimate what these repairs would have cost if they had been made at a garage. His estimate was less than $50.00. This small amount for three months' work distributed among the many garages in the city is hardly worth mentioning.

In conclusion, I may say that the night classes have been called the poor man's university. They are supplying a community need, and that need was never so great as it is at present. Many who attend the classes are at present unemployed, and everything possible should be done to keep up their morale. It is quite possible that next term they will be temporarily discontinued. If they are it will be a retrograde step, the result of a short-sighted policy of economy.

Yours very truly,
H. R. H. KENNER.

There is an element of strain in this signature which is a manifestation of an inner necessity to keep constantly planning ahead, and pushing ahead. This man is fortunate in that he has sufficient vitality to satisfy the demands put upon him by a large amount of restless, nervous energy. He is a high power man, under constant tension. He is at once concentrated and resourceful. He seeks consciously to be impenetrable although his emotional makeup is of such strength as to render the wearing of the mask a difficult matter. Because of his own sensitive and passionate temperament he is quick to perceive the play of emotion in others. He has relentless determination and tenacity of achievement of his ends. He seeks outdoor activities and sports as a relief from the strain and tension of being constantly ridden by an even too active mind.

CROP REPORTS.

CENTRAL ONTARIO.

DURHAM. — Poultrymen report a sudden drop in egg production caused by the severe weather during the past week. There are still a few carloads of apples in storage. The larger percentage are Ben Davis being held for the export trade. Of course there is also a fairly large supply of Spys for the late winter and early spring demand.

HASTINGS. — Seed oats, No. 1 regular 75c; No. 2 regular 65c.

MUSKOKA and PARRY SOUND. —Live stock in average condition. Due to low prices last fall and a greater supply of home grown grains, a few men hold over their young stock and are finishing it for killing this winter. Baled hay is selling at $10 to $11 at the farm and $12 to $13 delivered. Very few oats are offered for sale, local merchants allowing 32c a bushel.

PETERBOROUGH. — There has been some movement in purebred livestock during the last few weeks, nine good young bulls have been purchased by farmers at prices around $50 each. At a farm sale this week good milk cows brought from $25 to $30.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE LOW-PRESSURE SALESMAN

We were sitting in the office, talking. (I don't insist we were working.)

We heard a noise at the door and looked up and there he was. He didn't belong there. We'd never seen him before. He had bushy eyebrows, a gray mustache, a toothpick under the mustache. . . . A perfect stranger.

He came right in and glared at us.

Then he lectured us on what fools the two of us were. We didn't know anything. We never would know anything, we go on and on forever, throwing our money away, wasting it on foolishness. He couldn't hope to save us. We were natural "suckers."

We took it. We didn't say a word, didn't try to make any defense. He was probably correct. We didn't have any defense at all. Consciousness of guilt weighed heavily on our shoulders. We knew we were "suckers," but how did he know?

He told us why.

We were suckers because we sent our suits to the cleaners thinking that the cleaner really got the spots out of them. (So he did. We'd always thought that our suit slooked very nice when they came back from the cleaners.) But didn't we know that the cleaner really rubbed the spots in instead of rubbing them out? (No, we didn't.) Well, he did. (But what could we do about it? What could anybody do about it?)

The ferocious fellow pulled a little bottle from his hip pocket and thrust it in our faces. There was the answer. It looked like petroleum jelly. It would last for years. You put some on a spot and rubbed it off just as easy as can be. It took him eight hours to make that magic stuff. He sold it for a dollar. But, of course, we wouldn't buy it. Not us. We were suckers. We had no more intelligence than other people. Even to save all that money and get our suits really clean we wouldn't spend a dollar for his product. And he turned on his heel and put the bottle back into his pocket and walked out with his toothpick sticking up a most truculent angle.

A salesman with a chip on his shoulder. Telling the world what he thought of it. A rough diamond with a heart of gold. Bending his knees to nobody. Educating the benighted. . . . Never gave us a second's chance to get our hands into our pockets. Went away from us and never came back. A low-pressure salesman, that's what he was.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A LYNCHING IN ONTARIO.

On this date, in 1819 there took place the only lynching (so far as I have been able to trace) in the history of Ontario. A man named DeBenyon, employed as a farmhand by a widow living near Whitby, married his employer, who had a 13-year-old son. From the moment he secured authority over the lad the stepfather manifested great hatred and there were frequent quarrels between the couple over the boy. Finally one bitter winter night the stepfather turned the boy out of the house to seek shelter in an old barn. At dawn the unhappy lad crawled back to the house, severely frozen, seeking his mother that she might minister to him. Instead of his mother he was confronted by the stepfather, who, exasperated because the cold had not accomplished the boy's death, grabbed him, took him to the stove and tortured him with hot pokers and other stove implements until death mercifully took the unhappy child from his hands.

The broken-hearted mother gave the alarm; the neighbors were aroused and it was not long before a posse of them, mounted and afoot, went in pursuit of DeBenyon, who had fled when he found that he had added murder to his torture. He led them a long chase over hill and dale and frozen brooks and it was not until he was in sight of York (as Toronto was then called) that his pursuers caught up with him. Retribution came quickly. The yeomen did not stand on ceremony. No officer of the law was present to prevent and within half an hour of his capture the murderer was dangling at the end of a rope to a great tree on the river bank. For many years there was a legend that the tree was haunted, and timid folk used to give it a wide berth at nights until it was cut down.

If any reader knows of any other instance of lynching in Canadian history will he, or she, send me the details care of this journal. There were certainly none in Alberta or British Columbia under the Mounted Police; nor were there any in Yukon in '98 and '99, though there were plenty on the American side in Alaska. Lynching is not a British habit.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Feb. 15. — (CP) — The stock exchange had its quietest session in some time today and at the close gains were in a majority over losses by a small margin. Price fluctuations in most cases were narrow.

Consolidated Smelters finished three points higher at 61, making up exactly half ow what it lost yesterday. International Nickel added ⅜ at 9⅜. Brazilian was unchanged at 8¼ and Canadian Pacific closed at 11⅞ with a net loss of ¼.

Some of the Utilities showed improvement. Quebec Power moved up a full point to 13. Shawinigan was up ½ at 11¼ and Montreal Power ¾ at 29¾. Montreal Power debentures were off ¼ at 42.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (C.P.)—The mining market moved forward throughout the day and closed with prices not far under the level that preceded yesterday's sell-off with the Michigan banking disturbance. The market slowed down in the late afternoon.

Turnover approximated 800,000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, February 15 (C.P.).—The Toronto stock market failed to hold the gains made to-day and weakened slightly before the close. The oils, Ford, and C.P.R. were the chief issues to settle back, but International Nickel and Smelters retained the recoveries made from yesterday's slump.

After chalking up fair recoveries in the day the interlisted shares slipped, C.P.R. to 11¾, Ford to 6¾. Brazilian to 3¼, and Nickel held at 9⅜, and Smelters at 61½. In the oil group British-American, whose annual statement made public to-day revealed 99 cents earned on the Common, held firm at 7⅛, but Imperial slipped a fraction, and International Pete at 11⅜ was down ¼.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR COOL ACTION IN BANK CRISIS

Limited Supply of Funds Being Made Available in Many Cases.

NO DEFINITE POLICY.

Bill Being Prepared to Define Amount of Withdrawals When Holiday Ends.

DETROIT, Feb. 14 (C.P.)—Efforts to ease Michigan's cash situation created by the proclamation of an eight-day banking holiday, continued to-day, with the State gradually following the lead of Detroit in arranging for the release to depositors of limited amounts of money.

While no definite policy for the remainder of the State had been adopted to-day, several banks reported arrangements for supplying limited funds. At Ann Arbor, the city's four banks will permit withdrawal of $20 for each family, beginning to-morrow. Several other State banks planned to follow Detroit's plan, which included the release of $25,000,000 on Thursday, withdrawals being limited to 5 per cent. of balances. The State Bankers' Association met in executive session here to-day to formulate a plan of action for State banks.

Meanwhile, at Lansing, a bill designed to permit the limiting of withdrawals when the holiday is ended, in case such action is necessary, was prepared to-day for introduction into the State Legislature.

No Strict Ruling.

Governor William A. Comstock, whose early morning proclamation yesterday closed the banks for the period, Feb. 14 to 23, in the face of what he termed an "acute financial emergency" in Detroit, said he has been informed that some banks are opening for essential business, such as cashing cheques drawn on local banks only for payroll and emergency needs, and the acceptance of deposits. He said the State will not attempt to force them to comply strictly with his holiday proclamation.

"A holiday was ordered to avert a panic when the news of the Detroit financial situation became public," said the Governor. "The situation is not subject to rules, but good judgment."

Bert C. Brown, district chief of the United States Secret Service, reported to-day that 125 special operatives reached Detroit to-day, and another 700 arrived at Grand Rapids to stem circulation of rumors against the State's financial condition.

W. R. Belt, Little Britain, Presents His Case to the Board.

GASSED OVERSEAS.

W. R. Belt, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Little Britain, and son of a doctor had his application for an ex-serviceman's disability pension heard by the Pension Tribunal here this morning.

Applicant was asked by Pension Advocate Harry Bray of Toronto why he had not asked his father, by whom he was professionally attended upon his return from overseas, to testify at the hearing.

Mr. Belt, replied that while he and his father were both of the opinion that his disability was caused by overseas service, he had not wished to apply for a pension because he believed there were other cases that were worse than his. "I have since changed my point of view", applicant admitted. He said he had his wife and family to consider.

In evidence applicant stated that prior to enlistment in the army he was employed by the Bank of Toronto. He served overseas with the 4th Canadian Division Trench Mortar Battery. His major disability, he said, was a throat and chest condition. He had suffered from continuous colds and lack of vitality ever since his return from War service.

He attributed his present condition largely to having been gassed on October 25, 1918, as he was coming out of the line with his battery.

From his medical history it was revealed that while on military service, applicant had suffered from bronchial pneumonia, trench fever, and influenza. He was invalided from France to England, and was in hospital at Orpington. After his discharge from hospital applicant was sent to Whitley Camp. It was while at Whitley that unknown to applicant, he was discharged as physically fit. His discharge did not become effective until he arrived back at Toronto with his unit.

Asked by the pension advocate as the condition of his health immediately following discharge from the army, Belt stated that the first summer he was back in Canada after the war he just hung around. He did not go back to his work at the bank until the Fall of the year. "I did not feel well, I lacked vitality and had a cold" he testified.

Cross-examined by Commission Counsel W. G. Robertson, Belt said that when he was gassed he was not "knocked out." He was able to get to the dressing station by himself, and was immediately sent to hospital. His eyes and lungs were affected and he ran a high temperature.

"There is no record of gas on the medical history sheet" Mr. Robertson observed.

Applicant had seen several doctors since his returned from over-seas. The first doctor who examined him was his father, who had diagnosed his trouble as being acute bronchitis.

Dr. Geo. W. Hall of Little Britain in evidence said he first saw the applicant professionally on October 2, 1929. The doctor gave it as his opinion that the disability of applicant had been set up by having been gassed overseas and by exposure while on service.

Hamilton's aggregate was 43 to 14 for Lindsay, and Agincourt's 37 to 19 for High Park.

Two Western Ranchers Prove Ability To Hoodwink Banker in High Finance

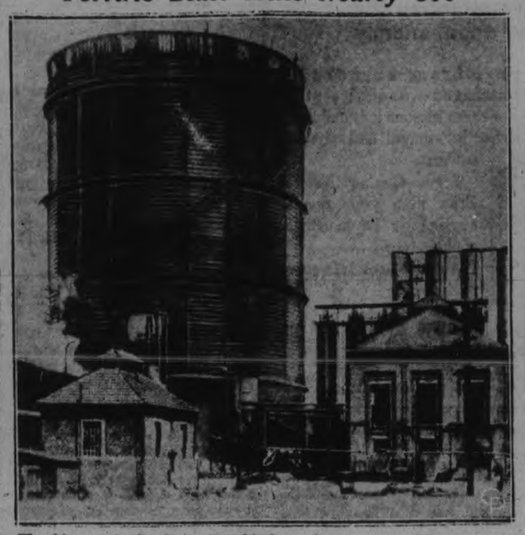
LINDSAY, Ont., Feb. 15.—(CP)—Ranchers in Western Canada can hold their own in matters of high finance, according to Jack Hamilton, who had experience there as manager of a bank.

Relating one experience, he said two ranchers had secured a loan on 600 cattle. Feeling suspicious about the security afterwards, he sent a junior to the ranchers' place 100 miles away. The junior came back with a glowing account of the qualities of the ranchers and reported the number listed in the security was there.

Dubious, the manager went with the sheriff to make a seizure and found 40 cattle. He asked one of the ranchers how they had misled the junior who, he said "knew a horse from a cow but that's about all."

The ranchers said they had taken the junior out on the range, posted him on a hill and told him to stay there. Then they drove the cattle round and round the hill until the junior thought the loan was well secured.

Terrific Blast Kills Nearly 300



The big gas tank of the Neunkirchen, Germany, Iron Works, which suddenly exploded Feb. 10, wrecking the industrial section of that city, caused fatalities estimated as high as 275, and injured 1,000 more persons. The reverberation of the first blast, which was followed by three or four lesser ones, was heard as far as Basle, Switzerland, 250 miles away. People at some distance from Neunkirchen thought there had been an earthquake. Among the dead was a leading industrialist, Dr. Pupp.

are going forward from the committee that the night classes be not discontinued".

Mr. Dutton added that in its recommendations the committee advises the closing of certain of the classes due to the need for economy.

Respecting the fees to be charged for night school pupils, he said, the committee was recommending an all-round fee of $3 per pupil. It was considered that a $5 fee was too high.

There had been a great deal of misunderstanding, Mr. Dutton believed regarding the attitude of the Department towards the charging of night school fees. Strictly speaking he said, the money paid by a night school pupil was not to be regarded as a fee, as it might be returned to the pupil upon completion of the prescribed course of study. The payment was merely levied in order that the classes might not be made up of an enrollment of students who did not intend to carry them through to a conclusion.

J. A. McKone stated, "I would not like to see a discontinuance of the evening classes, but I believe those wishing to take them should be prepared to pay the cost of the tuition.

BELLEVILLE TO TAKE ACTION.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Feb. 15.—(C.P.)— There is every possibility Belleville will act on the announcement made by Premier G. S. Henry, and discontinue the night school at the Collegiate Institute in the interests of economy. A meeting of the Board of Education, with Mayor Tice and the Finance committee of the city council, was held on Monday. The question was discussed then and it was agreed to ask the Department of Education if something could be done along that line.

The saving to this city, it is said, will be considerable as Belleville has a large night school, with students in attendance from all over the district.

CONFIRMS ACTION.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Feb. 15. — (C.P.)—Chairman Clayton S. Moyer, chairman of the Brantford Board of Education, said to-day Premier G. S. Henry's announcement concerning discontinuance of evening classes in vocational schools confirms action taken by the Board at its last meeting. At that time it was decided to suspend vocational school night classes for this year.

WAS NO SURPRISE.

HAMILTON, Feb. 15.—(C.P.) — The action of Premier Henry in limiting the night classes in vocational schools as an economy measure came as no surprise to the Board of Education of this city. Last week a deputation from Hamilton interviewed the Premier upon this subject and obtained his permission to adopt such a policy in this city. The changes in the schedules are already being made here to a limited extent, existing classes not being disturbed, but the ban is being placed upon opening any new branches of tuition.

NO IMMEDIATE ACTION.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 15.—(C.P.)—It is not likely that immediate actiol will be taken to close down night classes at vocational school here, Chairman Carl Stanbol said to-day commenting on the statement of Premier George S. Henry that schools would be allowed to suspend such classes. There is only about one month to run on the present term, he said.

NO ACTION LIKELY.

CHATHAM, Ont., Feb. 15.— (C.P.)—William S. Goodeve, chairman of Board of ducation, said to-day it was unlikely the local Board would take advantage of Premier G. S. Henry's permission to drop night classes in the vocatoinal school. The net cost of these classes to the city is about 1,500 and the term has already begun, with six weeks yet to run.

SPEED ATTEMPT IS POSTPONED

Mechanics Unable to Complete Car Adjustments in Time for Test.

TRY AT WEEK-END.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15 (C.P.).—Inability of mechanics to complete extensive adjustments to Sir Malcolm Campbell's trim racing car prevented the 48-year-old British driver from making an official assault to-day upon his own world's land speed record of 253 miles an hour.

Possibility that the trials might be further postponed until Friday or Saturday was seen by the driver, because of unfavorable tide conditions that will prevail for the next day or so.

Following a test run yesterday, in which he estimated he attained a speed of between 230 and 240 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm said several major adjustments would be necessary to the car before he could race again.

Mechanics worked all night on the machine, and to-day parts of the 2,500 horsepower car were strewn about its garage. They said it would be impossible to assemble the machine in time for further trials to-day, so the king of land speed definitely abandoned plans for test runs at low tide, which occurs late this afternoon.

understanding from which, after further investigation, definite results may be expected."

Completion of Railway.

Completion of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway to James Bay had opened fresh avenues for the progress of Ontario, with a wide range of attractive possibilities according to the speech. The new terminus at Moosonee was destined to become an important distributing centre.

All the time-honored ceremony was adhered to as the House opened. Lieut. Governor Bruce left Government House and was met by a contingent of Royal Canadian Dragoons. Outside the building, a guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Regiment presented arms, and the Lieutenant-Governor then entered the House with Premier George S. Henry as the customary salute of 16 guns rang out on the frosty air.

Inside, hundreds of men and women rose and stood in silence as the Lieutenant-Governor mounted the Throne.

Text of Speech.

"In welcoming you to the discharge of your Legislative duties, I avail myself of this early opportunity to extend cordial greetings to the members of the House, and to the citizens generally, as Lieutenant-Governor of this Province.

"As a people we unite in rendering thanks to Almighty God for the benefits of the past year, and for the hope of Divine favor in the future.

"I desire to pay respectful tribute to the conscientious services of the Honorable William Donald Ross as Lieutenant-Governor, and the Right Honorable Sir William Mulock as administrator, and at the same time to tender to both these distinguished gentlemen the grateful acknowledgments of our people.

Provincial Conference.

"My Ministers lately participated in the conference between the Federal and the various Provincial Governments on a number of subjects of common interest. Much consideration was given to unemployment insurance; and the plans for providing and distributing funds for direct relief at the present time. Existing duplications of public services and instances of overlapping legislation were discussed and progress was made towards an understanding from which, after further investigation, definite results may be expected.

"An agreement has been reached between the Federal authorities and his Government concerning the development of the water powers of the international section of the St. Lawrence River. Upon the ratification of the seaway treaty between the United States and Canada you will be afforded an opportunity of pronouncing upon the proposed development.

"One of the outstanding achievements of the Province during the past year was the completion of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway to James Bay. The event opens fresh avenues for the progress of Ontario, with a wide range of attractive possibilities. The new termius at Moosonee is destined to become an important distributing centre.

"As a people we have a deep interest in the progress and development of Northern Ontario because of the opportunities they offer for enterprise and individual effort, and for their bearing upon the general prosperity of the province. The vital importance of cheap and abundant electric power prompted the recent purchase of the Abitibi Canyon Power project by means of which industry and mining in the north country will be placed in an exceptionally favorable position.

Expenditures

"A close scrutiny of the proposed expenditures for the current year has been in progress during the past few weeks by the recently appointed budget committee. It is expected the economies recommended by the committee, in addition to the retrenchment effected during the past fiscal year, will improve materially the financial outlook of the province.

"Circumstances are directing public and expert attention to the study and consideration of the prevailing rates of interest, as well as the importance of their relation to the economic and domestic life of the community.

"It is a matter of much concern extremely low prices continue to hamper the agricultural industry, a situation which was further complicated by the forced departure of Great Britain from the gold standard. The prospect of an early return to better conditions is improved by the outcome of the Imperial Economic Conference and by the energetic work of the market board, coupled with the plans for an intensive drive for British and Canadian markets. Further results are anticipated from a definite effort to stimulate the consumption of Ontario's products by our own people.

Met Obligations

"During the past year the Hydro Electric Power Commission met all its financial obligations, and further increased its reserves which now amount to some $62,500,000 The fact this was possible under existing circumstances, and that the bonds of the commission rank among the premier securities of the Dominion, materially enhance the public credit.

"Certain contracts entered into by the Hydro Electric Power Commission were referred to a judicial commission of inquiry. After an exhaustive investigation, findings were arrived at which were made public, and will be laid on the table of this House.

"The results of gold mining have placed Ontario in an enviable position and helped the province sustain the credit of the dominion. All indications point to further expansion of gold production in this province.

Highway Costs

"Last year provincial subsidies on county and township roads amounted to $5,547,739 and on our King's Highway system there was expended $7,706,649 for construction and maintenance.

"Throughout the province, the schools have been maintained with courage and sacrifice by the ratepayers, assisted by the government, as generously as present conditions permit. Legislation will be proposed to lighten the burden of taxation to local taxpayers, without impairing the efficiency of the system.

"In the improvement of plans for direct relief, my ministers enlist the assistance of an advisory committee composed of representative citizens from various sections of the province. The valuable report submitted by it provides the basis of the administration of the relief funds. The community is greatly indebted to the public-spirited citizens who have given gratuitously of their time and energies to the solution of the pressing problems of this period.

Radium Plant

"By the establishment of a plant for the development of radium products at the University of Toronto, one of the important recommendations of the cancer commission has been brought into operation, and the distribution of radium emanations has been already commenced.

"A measure will be submitted to you to readjust the representations of the people in this house with a view to removing existing inequalities as revealed by the recent census. In this connection you will be asked to approve of a reduction in the membership of the legislative assembly.

"Legislation will be introduced to afford further relief to mortgagors, particularly to those who are home owners; other measures have been prepared to make amendments to the statutory law in conformity with experience and changing conditions.

"The public accounts have been prepared and will be submitted to you at an early date. Estimates of expenditures for the current and ensuing fiscal years are in an advanced state of preparation.

"In conclusion, I invite your earnest attention to the public business, and trust your labors will advance the welfare of all classes and improve the conditions of your people."

1933 OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Large Attendance at February Meeting of George Street W.M.S.

ALLOCATION REPORT.

The February meeting of the W.M.S. of George Street United Church was held in the Board Room of the Sunday School Hall yesterday afternoon with an attendance of over fifty. The president, Mrs. C. W. Coon, occupied the chair and the devotional exercises were in charge of Group "A" with Mrs. J. C. Wood as leader who conducted the service call to worship. Mrs. Reynolds read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. Fairbrother led in prayer.

A very impressive service followed where Mrs. A. J. Brown, president of Peterborough Presbyterial installed the officers of the Society for 1933. Business was then resumed and Mrs. H. G. Walker submitted a splendid report of the work of the committee which supplied the meals at the Presbyterial meeting in January. She thanked the groups for their generous contributions and all who had assisted in any way. A report regarding the allocation for 1933 was given by Mrs. E. Piper. The W.M.S. was asked to contribute $1050 but the Y.W.A. and the Mission Bands allocation was slightly lower, making the total amount of givings the same as last year. On motion it was decided to accept the responsibility.

Day of Prayer

The members were reminded of the Day of Prayer of which fuller announcement will be made later. A committee composed of Mrs. Coon, Miss Might and Mrs. Brown were named from George Street W.M.S. to attend a meeting in the Y.W.C.A. to complete arrangements.

A bequest to the Society from the late Miss McCamus was read and the president expressed her appreciation.

Mrs. T. H. Curvin rendered a charming solo accompanied by Mrs. Ludbrooke. Mrs. E. E. Harvey took up the Study Book "His Dominion of Canada."

A resolution was passed that Mrs. F. Mather supply secretary be given a donation for the purchasing of new goods required for the bale.

Mrs. J. A. Spencer, Strangers' Secretary, reported three calls made and the Sick and Visiting Committee had made 79 calls.

Several of the group leaders reported new members had been received into their group. It was suggested that the groups take up the study book at their meetings and thus obtain a fuller knowledge of the subject.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. J. E. J. Millyard and the singing of a hymn.

WINNIPEG EXCHANGE

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15 (C.P.) — Strength at Chicago, together with a fair export business worked in Canadian wheat out of Vancouver overnight brought upturns in wheat prices early to-day. Offerings during the first hour were noticeably light and the market found little difficulty in holding close to the high points.

At mid-session prices held ¾c to ⅞c higher with May at 48¼; July at 49⅝ and Octo. at 50¼.

Practically all of the support came from sea-board interests and houses with continental connections. Pit trade generally was inclined to drag as many traders were displaying caution in view of the banking troubles in the state of Michigan yesterday.

Liverpool wheat opened ½d lower but firmed as the session progressed and quotations in the closing stages were ½d higher per 100 lbs. Buenos Aires wheat was unchanged at noon.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

A coal that's full of dust,
Needs to have a brush.
—Shadow Sayings.

Do you know what a Meanie is? It's a queer disagreeable creature; in other words, it is mean from top to bottom, and all the way round it has two left legs (among other things), instead of a right leg and a left leg, like ordinary creatures. It is about as big as a peanut. Because it has two left legs, it always runs around in circles.

Well, this particular Meanie was playing a game of tag with itself while Knarf, the shadow boy, watched. Knarf would have liked to play, only the Meanie wouldn't let him. Meanies always like to play alone. All at once, the Meanie ran right into the path of an automobile.

Rather than let the Meanie be run down, Knarf rushed forward and gave the Meanie a push, so that it was knocked out of the way. The automobile went by. Was the Meanie thankful to Knarf for having saved it? I should say not.

That's Gratitude!

"Why did you push me so hard?" the Meanie grumbled, picking itself up. It was all full of dust. It began brushing itself off.

"I didn't want you to get hit by the automobile," Knarf answered.

"Why didn't you push the automobile instead of me? Haven't you got any sense?"

Knarf felt very much ashamed of himself. "I'm sorry I hurt you," he said

"'Oh, no—don't be sorry, you didn't hurt me. I just got all full of dust, that's all." Knarf said he would be glad to help the Meanie brush itself off but the Meanie said: "Go away. Brush yourself off."

"Why didn't you push the automobile, not me!" said the Meanie.

Now Knarf didn't know what he ought to do. He didn't want to go away, and he hadn't any dust to brush off. So he said to the Meanie: "I'll stay, if you don't mind."

"I do mind!" screamed the Meanie. "You've caused me a lot of trouble. I don't want to see any more of you. You've pushed me, and you've gotten me all full of dust."

Just then another automobile (a good deal bigger than the first) came along. Knarf remembered what the Meanie had told him about pushing the automobile. So instead of pushing the Meanie out of the way, Knarf pushed the automobile. Dear me—the automobile couldn't be pushed. Bang! The Meanie went flying head over heels. I think it landed in an ash can, though I'm not sure.

POWER PROVER TESTS MOTORS

Newly Developed Machine Tests Efficiency of Motors.

ONE IN TORONTO

If you are a motorist it may be worth your while, next time you drive to Toronto to see the Power Prover, a newly developed machine which tests the efficiency of motors. This boon to motorists has been provided by the Cities Service stations located at Church and Gloucester Streets and St. Clair and Homewood avenues, Toronto.

The Power Prover analyzes exhaust gases and detects gasoline wastage that would otherwise be unknown. By placing a tube in the exhaust pipe of a running engine, a dial immediately records whether unburned gasoline is being blown through the exhaust pipe and wasted. If power is wasted, the cause can generally be traced to defective spark plugs, faulty timing, ignition or carburetion. A Power Prover operator uses special tools to adjust and tune the motor until maximum combustion efficiency is recorded. After a test, a car owner, say Cities Service experts, is often able to save from 10% to 15% on his gasoline bill, through the added combustion efficiency and performance of his motor.

The Company points out that the Power Prover is one of the greatest inventions ever offered to the motoring public. Already thousands of cars of every type and description have been Power Proved. Of this amount, more than half were wasting as much as 30% of their gasoline. This wastage was stopped after a Power Prover test.

Overlooked

A year and a half ago the "man the police forgot" was convicted in city police court for drunken driving and was sentenced to spend seven days in jail. He fyled an appeal within the statutory 30 days but put up no bail. The appeal was never heard and was apparently forgotten for 18 months, during which time the convicted man was as free as the wind.

To-day, however, George W. Ballard, K.C., moved for dismissal of the appeal in county court before Judge Thompson. This was done and Guster, who police say is known to be around, will spend a week in jail.

MICHIGAN BANKS WILL HAVE CASH

banks of the Guardian-Detroit-Union group, Inc., with an estimated $500,000,000 in deposits was given as a major reason for the general closing order.

No question was raised as to the stability of other Detroit institutions.

Different Situation

Except for the upper peninsula, which is separated both geographically and economically from the remainder of the state, the banks were abiding by the order. The upper peninsula is in a different federal reserve bank district and, although the governor of the federal reserve bank of Minneapolis said he was keeping hands off in the situation, most banks above the Straits of Mackinac were doing business as usual.

"Business as usual," also was the policy below the straits in other than financial houses, and the Detroit stock exchange, which is closed. Larger grocery stores and milk and fuel concerns promised liberal concessions. The Public Utilities Commission requested the utilities companies to extend due dates on current bills.

It was all but impossible to cash a cheque, but in some communities, cheques in small amounts were being written and interchanged in lieu of cash.

The Governor's unprecedented action ,which already has unofficial legislative approval, was destined to receive legal sanction soon. Admitting that possibly his proclamation was without legal effect, the governor urged speedy enactment of measures covering the situation and bearing retroactive clauses. Such bills were in the legislative hopper to-day.

Ford's Part Clarified

The part Henry Ford played in the negotiations for salvation of the Union Guardian Trust Co., in which he is heavily interested, was somewhat clarified overnight, but at his office in Dearborn it was said he had no statement to make —as yet.

Governor Comstock, who had indicated yesterday a controversy between Henry Ford and competing automobile companies figured in the failure of the negotiations, said last night he had been informed "I misunderstood the facts."

He had said in his earlier statement that he was informed Mr. Ford refused to join other large depositors, including Chrysler and General Motors, in an agreement to subordinate their claims to those of smaller depositors and the R.F.C.

"General motors and Chrysler are not depositors," his statement last night said. "Mr. Ford had no agreement with the Trust Company or with Chrysler or General Motors." He added that when it was suggested the Ford Company put up a "substantial part" of necessary funds, the company decided it could not add to the approximately $20,000,000 it had put into the Trust Company.

Scientists say the common cold lasts only three or four days and gives immunity for three months. Longer illnesses are due to secondary infections.

*Is Your Diet A Thief?

*Is "Deficiency The Robber" Stealing Your Strength, Vigor and Resistance?

A diet deficient in certain elements that the human body needs is a thief no less than a hold-up man is a thief. For example, a diet deficient in Vitamin A robs the body of vigor, lowers resistance and makes you more susceptible to catching cold and to other germ diseases.

Chronic fatigue, lack of appetite, unsatisfactory bowel movements are often symptoms of a deficiency in Vitamin B^1.

Underweight in children is frequently caused by a deficiency in B^1.

Nutritional anaemia, so common today, is due to a deficiency in iron.

These are only a few examples of the results of deficiencies in diet. But, more important to you, is the fact that a new product, called VIP, has been developed after long, patient and expensive research, to bring to you an increased supply of vital elements in which the ordinary diet is frequently deficient.

* Science Turns To "Life Cells" To Overcome Dietary Robberies

To secure the needed elements, scientists went to one of the richest known sources of Vitamins, Proteins and Minerals—the life cells of wheat. A life cell, while only a tiny one-hundredth part of a grain of wheat, is its most vital part. It is the embryo from which life springs and which causes the wheat plant to grow. This life cell, however, has one defect that has restricted its use. When separated from the grain of wheat, it deteriorates, becoming rancid and disagreeable to the taste. This is the reason why it is discarded when milling white flour.

In order to use these life cells of wheat, a special process has been devised that overcomes this defect without destroying or impairing the nutritional value or vitamin content. The manufacturers of VIP are the sole owners of this special patented process.

With these specially processed life cells of wheat are combined cocoa and malt, and an easily-assimilable form of iron, to produce a delightful, nut-like food drink packed with vital nutritive elements.

* VIP Increases Your Vitamin Supplies

Because of these life cells of wheat, VIP brings to you an increased supply of Vitamin A so necessary to maintain the health of eyes, air passages, lungs, the bladder and the skin, and to maintain bodily vigor and resistance to disease. VIP also brings you a much increased supply of Vitamin B^1 which has been proved to have a stimulating effect upon the appetite, to invigorate the intestinal tract and to aid digestion.

A third valuable Vitamin in the life cells is Vitamin B^2 which has a beneficial effect on the nerves and digestive organs, while a fourth Vitamin, the life-producing reproductive Vitamin E, without which human life would cease, is richly concentrated in the life cells of wheat.

* Children Gain Weight

Research has conclusively proven that Vitamin B^1, so richly stored in the wheat life cells, is vitally necessary for children. An adequate supply increases their rate of growth and weight.

* Supplies Energy Builders and your Daily Needs of Iron

In addition to Vitamins, VIP brings to you an increased supply of energy-producing proteins and minerals stored in the life cells. These have been amplified with an additional supply of iron for the purpose of enriching the blood and preventing nutritional anaemia. Two teaspoonfuls of VIP supply the 12 milligrams of iron needed by the blood daily.

*Add VIP to Your Daily Diet

If you are rundown, nervous, lack strength and vigor, if you have intestinal and digestive disorders, as a result of deficiencies in your diet, you cannot start too soon to add VIP to your diet. Even if you are in good health today, a deficiency of Vitamins and Iron, if continued, is bound to store up future trouble for you. "Deficiency the Robber" is no less a menace than a "hold-up" man.

* Delicious Hot or Cold— A Distinctive Nut-Like Flavor

You'll like your first cup of VIP, and your children will drink it eagerly.

VIP is easy to make. Just stir two rounded teaspoonfuls into a cup or glass of hot or cold milk until dissolved, adding sugar if desired.

While it is a delicious drink HOT or COLD at any time, the greatest benefit to you will come from the steady daily use to offset the work of "Deficiency the Robber".

* Obtainable from Druggists

VIP (Vitamins + Iron + Proteins) is obtainable from druggists and department stores in two sizes. The 10-oz. size at 65c and the 1¼-lb., (20-oz.) size at $1.10. The large size is the more economical to buy.

Scientific Food Products, Limited, maintain a Research Laboratory under the supervision of Dr. F. A. J. Zeidler, Ph.D., where the Vitamin and other nutritional constituents of VIP are under constant test and supervision.

Unrest Very Serious

"We know that there is unrest in the Dominion of Canada to-day of a very serious nature," Mr. Guthrie declared, in moving that the bill be given a six months' hoist. He referred particularly to the Canadian Labor Defence League. He was sufficiently aware of the activities of that league to know "that it is a Communist society of Canada operating under another name."

The minister told the House of the threatening telegrams he had received, of the great batch of petitions in connection with the imprisonment of eight Communists and the riots at Kingston penitentiary.

"I know that the Canadian Labor Defence League and the Communist association have their affiliations outside the Dominion of Canada," said Mr. Guthrie. "I know that from telegrams which I have received threatening myself. I have been told that 150,000 Communists in New York are watching me; and I forget how many hundreds of thousands in Chicago—all telegrams framed, I believe in the city of Toronto."

Mr. Lapointe recalled that he had on five occasions introduced legislation to repeal the stature and that the House of Commons had always supported the bill. During the session of 1930 nobody on the opposite side of the House had opposed it.

"If it is a crime to-night to favor the bill introduced by the Hon. member for Winnipeg North Centre, all Hon. members who sat opposite me in 1930 and supported the bill introduced at that time—because they did not oppose it—were guilty of a similar crime."

Cadet Vote Cut.

The cadet services appropriation for $300,000 encountered squalls. Although the vote is $80,000 less than the item for last year, the appropriation had not passed at adjournment following an hour's discussion.

Agnes MacPhail (Prog., South-East Grey) made her annual attack. But her move found opposition. The discussion produced a statement by Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, that with economy ever before its eyes the Government would do all in its power in the way of reducing future contractual obligations. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had carefully explained the operation of the Lord Strathcona Fund for cadet public school training regarding which Dominion payments arise. The stage was then all set for the passing of the vote; but Vincent Dupuis (Lib., Laprairie-Napierville) arose a few minutes to 11 o'clock and held the vote as it was about to be approved.

Repeating her objections voiced in previous years, Miss MacPhail said while she was opposed to cadet training, she was not opposed to discipline provided it was self-discipline. Cadet training was a sort of rigid regimentation, she claimed, which discouraged thought and should be done away with along with many other features of the present educational system.

F. G. Sanderson (Lib., South Perth) would not go as far as Miss MacPhail's motion called for, but he believed that if there were any items in the estimates that might be left out during the present difficult times, the cadet item was one of them.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

STRATFORD—Delegates from 12 counties gathered here today for an educational conference, held under the auspices of the educational committee of the Perth county council, for the purpose of discussing questions pertaining to secondary school questions.

H. HENDRICHON PLEADS GUILTY

Sentence is Reserved for Week by Chief Judge Perrault.

WANTED TWO YEARS

(Special to The Examiner)

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Charged with a hold-up that took place at Verdun, Que., nearly two years ago, Harry Henrichon, arrested at Peterborough, who gave the alias of Harold Kenyon, was arraigned here and pleaded guilty before Chief Judge Perrault on his arrival from the Ontario city where he had been acquitted on a chargeof manslaughter.

By changing his name to Kenyon and keeping away from Quebec province, Henrichon had escaped arrest on the Verdun charge until one of the Verdun officers who happened to read of the Peterborough case, recalled that a man of that name was wanted for a hold-up which took place in April 1931 at the junction of Church avenue and Lasalle boulevard, but proved fruitless because the store clerk defended himself and put the bandit to flight.

Te only clue at the time was an automobile that had been stolen at Notre Dame de Grace and driven to Verdun by the bandit. By the time Henrichon's identity had been established by patient detective effort he had vanished from the province.

Judge Perrault intimated that he would pronounce sentence a week hence.

STRANGULATION USED UPON ROTH

PROBE CONTINUING.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 15 (C.P.).—It was learned here on good authority that Harold Roth, Hamilton jewelry salesman, died of strangulation. The canvas sack that enveloped his head when the body was taken from the ice of Lake Gibson on Friday was tightly bound about his neck with a sash cord.

This cord, it is believed, was tied with a slip knot which was pulled tight.

There was blood about the sack, although no marks of violence could be discovered in the post mortem examination.

Bleeding from the ears as a result of hemorrhage of the brain is a natural consequence of strangulation, it was pointed out. Inspector Albert Boyd of the Criminal Investigation Department, who spent some time in Hamilton yesterday, continued his investigations locally yesterday with Provincial Constables Mackay and Wood.

HEBREW JUDGES KEEPING PEACE

rate of 500 a month. Afuleh made me think of Edmonton in its pioneering days, mostly wooden houses, but here and there rows of brick buildings, shops, banks, theatres, etc.

On the hills to the north you can see Nazareth, a purely Arab town, but with many cloisters, churches and monasteries. From three o'clock onward to-day there has been a steady stream of Arab peasants coming into Afuleh. The monks at the Hospice of Notre Dame de France in Nazareth, who accorded me hospitality for a day, warned me that there might be trouble. There is a dispute over some land near Balfouria, one of the colonies, between Jewish settlers and Arab peasants. The court of Afuleh is going to hear the case this evening. There will be a verdict. If the verdict goes against the Arabs there will be trouble.

Sessions of the peace-court are held in the evenings, so as not to interfere with the work. They are held in a wooden building, a mere shack, with bare walls. There is a plain wooden table, a bench for the judges and some benches for the litigants.

Court opened at eight o'clock. Three Jewish young men took their seats on the bench. They were mere boys, you would have said at first sight, wearing khaki shirts, English shorts and sandals. I happened to know all three of them, two Socialists and a Communist from the collectivist colonies of Tel Joseph and Ain Charod. But all three highly educated men, all three graduates from famous European universities. They had come in straight from the fields, after washing up, of course. There they sat on the bench, simple peasants, each with a block of notepaper on the rough board in front of him.

Court is Crowded.

The room was crowded to suffocation. The windows had been removed and another crowd of spectators stood in a compact mass before the openings. Arab fellaheen squatted in front of the bench, at the feet of the judges, against the walls. But the Jewish spectators mixed freely with them, Chalutzim and Chaulutzoth, male and female Jewish pioneers with sun-tanned faces and hard muscles. There were no lines of demonstration, Jews on this side and Arabs on the other. They were mixed up pell-mell.

First, the Arab spokesmen presented their views of the dispute. They were heard in a breathless silence. Darkness was coming on. A solitary electric bulb glowed above the bench. Witnesses did not come up to the bar or to a witness-box to give their testimony. They spoke from the spot where they stood in the crowd. The three judges made notes of what was said.

Three hours passed. My feet began to protest against so long a period of immobility. But of the men and women around me, men and women who had a long day in the fields and factories behind them, nobody seemed to weary. I asked a question to a man next to me. A fellow standing further away took my whispered question apparently for an adverse comment on the proceedings. "It is a matter of principle," he shot at me angrily. "It's not the material advantage that must be considered!"

I was grateful for those words. A question of principle! That is the whole Zionist enterprise in Palestine summed up in one word. For a principle they had trudged long miles after working all day to be present here. The movies of Afuleh were deserted. There was nobody in the cafes that night. A matter of principle held them fixed to the spot, silent, fascinated. Silence itself is a tour de force with young Jews—anywhere else but Palestine.

Deliver Judgment.

At eleven-thirty the judges withdrew to deliberate. I saw them walk out under the olive trees talking rapidly. Then they returned and the president of the court delivered the verdict. The only ornament on the wall was a lithograph of Dr. Theodore Herzl, the Viennese journalist, founder of Zionism. The imposing face of Herzl with his Assyrian beard and black eyes looked squarely at the judge. The picture showed Herzl in a characteristic attitude, arms akimbo, expectant, half-defiant.

For ten minutes the president spoke in Hebrew. The crowd hung on his lips. He spoke with a dignity and a force that held me spellbound. A flame danced in his black eyes. Vanished the khaki blouses, the shorts, the bare walls of the cabin. It was as if the spirit of the Prophets, those immortal champions of justice, brooded over the assembly. No lord high chancellor sitting in all his glory of powdered wig and regal robes could have been more impressive than that Jewish boy.

When he had finished in Hebrew, the judge spoke in Arabic. He leaned his elbows on the table and talked straight to the fellaheen sitting and standing right in front of him. He talked with an intensity that was electric. But at the same time with the kindness as of a father talking to his children. You could see that he did his utmost to be simple. From time to time he paused to ask the Arabs if they had understood him completely. Then he looked around the ring of faces. When they nodded assent, he went on.

The judgment was against the Jewish settlers.

"Are you satisfied?" I asked some Arabs after court. They nodded.

"And you?" I asked the Jewish litigants.

"The judgment is just!" they said.

"You are doing great things in Palestine!" I said.

"No," said the president, "that is not correct. What we are doing is creating the atmosphere so that great things might be in the future!"

ROSENEATH.

The King's Workers' Mission Band met in the United Church on Saturday afternoon and was extra well attended. Mrs. Blodgett gave a talk on the study book, entitled "Two Heroes." Mrs. Andrew Brown read a story of how a Mission Band was organized in Manitoba. The Band is soon starting into work, including the making of a quilt, making little booklets and other articles, also they are to memorize a verse of Scripture for their next meeting. The meeting closed with repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison, after which ice cream was served and enjoyed by all present.

Author Is Skeptical Of Spartan Bravery

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (A.P.)—Spartan bravery was something of a myth, in the opinion of Preston H. Epps, author of "Classical Philology" published to-day by the University of Chicago Press.

Alarm and dismay the reluctance to fight were more typical of the Spartan character than natural valor, the author says, quoting extensively from ancient writers to support his contention.

Burns' Anniversary

Again we meet tae sing in praise
O' Scotia's bard, this day o' days;
Where'er we be we keep in m'nd
The man wha sang tae a' mankind.
His sang will help us tae win through
The tryin' times we're faced wi' noo—
A gey stiff task, as weel we ken
Machines hae ta'en the place o' men.
For a' oor colleges and schules,
In some ways still we're maistly fules,
We've just acquired the alphabet,
But higher stuff we'll master yet.
Surely ere lang we'll learn a way
Noo that machinery's cam' tae stay,
O' sae arranging oor affairs
That we may smile at waridly cares.
Yes! when we've grown tae be mair wise
Oor needs an' deeds we'll harmonize.
By working on the Burns plan
O' each for a', an' man tae man

The above greeting, from the pen of Archibald McPhail, past president of Greenock Burns Club, was sent to clubs in various parts of the world on the anniversary of Robert Burns' birthday on January 25, 1933. The Burns Club in Greenock (Scotland) is the Mother Club of the world.

"Old Timer" Recalls Chilly Snap In '86

CALGARY, Feb. 15.—The reporter encountered the Old Timer on Eighth avenue. He was wrapped up to the ears in a muffler and wore a fur coat, fur mittens, a fur cap and overshoes.

"Cold?" asked the reporter.

"No," said the Old Timer. "Im just airing these before I put them away for the spring."

"Big change in temperatures, wasn't it?" said the reporter by way of conversation.

"Ive seen bigger" said the Old Timer. "Why, in '86 or maybe it was '84, it changed 90 degrees in 10 minutes. That was in the middle of March, too. We all thought that spring had come and some of the boys had shaved and got a haircut. We were standing by a slough where the Palliser stands now, or maybe the Burns building, watching a bunch of ducks swimming around. Before they could get off the water the slough was frozen solid. We chopped them out and had fried duck for dinner for two weeks.

"Some of the farmers had clipped their horses and they had to put fur coats on them till the cold spell was over," he added.

A queer light had come into his eye. "I remember in 1902, or maybe it was 1903," he said, "when it was so cold the eyes froze in the coyotes and dropped out. A fellow shipped them east and made a fortune. They didn't know they weren't glass till the thaw came. I remembers——" But the reporter had fled.

The Sweet-Voiced Pleiades Are Most Remarkable Naked - Eyed Group Of Stars In The Winter Skies.

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

The Pleiades group of stars is the vanguard of the wintry starry host. They are classed as part of the constellation of Taurus the Bull and are located on his shoulder. In many ways it is the most remarkable naked-eyed group in the winter heavens. It is visible from every habitable part of the globe. Because of its appeal to the imagination it has adorned the myths, and the legends, and literature of every age and race. Every object in nature and in human life appeal to the poet's fancy. This power of the superior mind lends charm to our world. To him nothing remains commonplace. The fancy of Homer and Hesiod of ancient times helped make our world livable. Their wonder was aroused by the mystery and twinkling of the Pleiades. So stolid and material going is the Chinese mind that it is rather surprising to find in their literature many elegant metaphors inspired by this notable group of stars. Bayard Taylor wrote of this cluster as, "a swarm of golden bees," Milton in Paradise Lost watched:

Dawn and the Pleiades the gray befor him danced.
Shedding sweet influence.

Pleiades is a Greek word and means to sail. The original Greek term is pleo. A photographic plate reveals some twenty-five hundred stars in this cluster. Nine of the stars are quite visible. It is a human family, of which Atlas is the father, Pleione is mother. They have seven daughters. Atlas is a giant. Pleone is handsome. The daughters are of surpassing grace and charm, and beauty.

Of this family, nine stars are plainly seen by moderately keen eyes. Some exceptionally keen-sighted star gazers can distinguish from eleven to fourteen. An opera glass brings into view forty or more. A two inch telescope brings to the eye one hundred. And then the photographic plate vividly pictures twenty-five hundred. To begin with the utmost number the naked eye can distinguish after long practice, and then look through a two inch lens telescope, and finally begin the study of twenty-five hundred stars the photographic plate brings to light is an experience that heightens devoutness for the hand that made them all.

The nine principal stars of this cluster are as far apart as the earth is from the nearest fixed star. They form an outline of a short-handled dipper, and are called, "The Little Dipper of The Pleiades." At the end of the handle of the dipper is Atlas, a fourth magnitude star, and just above Atlas is Pleione a fifth magnitude star. At the junction of the handle and the bowl is one of the daughters the coy Alcyone which Oriental peoples call, "The lotus-flower of heaven." This big sister of the Pleiades, in a two inch telescope, is discovered to be a triple star, the two smaller stars are of the seventh magnitude. With Alcyone they form a beautiful little triangle. Alycone is famous among astronomers because Madler the German astronomer on account of its brightness imagined it to be the center of the universe, and "The Mansion of the Eternal." His theory was popular for a time. It has been definitely rejected.

The Pleiades are two-hundred and fifty years distant. The whole group is completely enshrouded with magnificent nebulous matter. The nebulosity stretches in whisps from star to star. This cosmical fog has for thousands of millions of years been condensing into stars and so the process of evolution is not yet complete. Ours is a world in its infancy.

The statement of accounts of the municipality of the Township of Otonabee from December 15th, 1931, to December 16th, 1932, on page 16, show assets (unpaid taxes, 1931, $2,667.17) over the signatures of John J. Moore, clerk, and F. D. McIntyre, Reeve.

On January 9th, 1933, the Council of Otonabee asked the collector of taxes for Otonabee to furnish the Council with a list of all unpaid taxes and were furnished with a list of 1931 unpaid taxes, which totals $2,834.80.

On February 6th, 1933, the Municipal Council of the Township of Otonabee received the report of the auditors for the year ending December 31st, 1932. On page 16 assets show the item 1931 taxes unpaid $4,587.30.

C. A. Robertson and J. A. Drummond, auditors.

The Council, confronted with the above differences relative to the unpaid 1931 taxes, did not finally audit and allow the accounts of the treasurer and collector, as provided by R.S.O., 1927, chap. 233, sec. 247.

But the Council did pass a resolution asking the collector to return the 1931 roll by March 6th, 1933.

Were R.S.O. 1927, chap. 236, sec. 118, followed, this 1931 roll should have been returned to the treasurer on or before December 24, 1932, or on such later date in 1933 as the 1932 Council might have appointed, but not later than February 1st, 1933.

It seems as though the 1932 Council did not appoint a later date than December 14th, 1932, for the return of this roll.

Had the 1931 roll been returned by December 14th, 1932, the amount of unpaid 1931 taxes should have been definitely known, and the very unsatisfactory situation now existing should have been avoided.

In addition to the $4,587.30 of 1931 unpaid taxes, this report of the auditors contains items of unpaid taxes, 1930, $175.26, and 1932, $14,145.73, or a total of $18,908.29, which when the penalty of 5 per cent. is added, is in all, $19,853.60 the ratepayers of Otonabee were indebted to the township on December 31st, 1932.

A small part of the above is non-resident or has not sufficient property to distrain or is otherwise not collectable, but around $19,000.00 of it is against farm property, and it is safe to say that $18,000.00 of this amount is unpaid, because taxes, interest and practically everything a farmer has to buy, to carry on his farm operations is at a price so far above the price he can obtain for what he has to sell, that a very large percentage of farmers cannot carry on a full production and pay the cost of doing it from what the produce will sell for.

These farmers of Otonabee would not have let the 14th of December pass without paying their taxes, and have penalties to the amount of $900.00 imposed, if they could have done otherwise.

From a survey of the tax situation in the township that pays the largest county tax, it must be evident to every member of all councils that the farmer must have a reduced tax bill; and also some plan whereby the taxes the farmers cannot pay, so consolidated, that the farmers can be kept on the land in a position strong enough to make their own living and, above that, ensure to the rest of the population their living in so far as it comes from the land.

What a tragedy to contemplate, possibly the world later on with a food shortage and many farms and farmers so depleted that production was away below what it should be, because that during this period just taxes of all kinds, are more than agriculture can stand.

Those with unpaid taxes in Otonabee Township who cannot within a seasonable time, make payment, are invited to see the Reeve to consider the merits of the proposal to have their taxes payable over a term of years.

Sincerely yours,
W. A. Anderson.

7,838 MEMBERS UNITED CHURCH IN PRESBYTERY

$124,494 Raised For All Purposes During Past Year.

PRESBYTERY MEETING.

Ministers Held Retreat With Rev. J. J. Coulter Leading.

The total membership of the United Church of the Peterborough Presbytery was 7,638 in 1932 it was reported at the Presbytery meeting held yesterday in St. Andrew's Church. Two hundred and ninety-four members were received by profession of faith during the year, 126 more than in 1931. There were 3,674 families under pastoral supervision and 14,686 persons under pastoral oversight during the year.

It was reported that $124 949 was raised by the churches for all purposes, which was considered to be a very creditable showing during such a year. For the Missionary Maintenance Fund, $18,862 was subscribed, this being a decrease from the previous year.

The concensus of opinion of the Presbytery was that the various figures were remarkable in view of the financial stress.

Rev. C. D. Daniel, convenor of Religious Education, reported for that department as follows:

49 Sunday Schools

The were 49 Sunday Schools in the Presbytery with a total membership of 6,820, being an increase of 43 over last year. There were 69 organizations active in weekly meetings, such as Young Peoples Tuxis, Trail Rangers, C.G.I.T., etc., with a membership of 2,047.

A motion was passed that the eulogy to the late Rev. Dr. Chown, as prepared by Rev. A. H. Going, B.A., be placed on the Presbytery records. The motion was carried by a standing silent vote.

That there are some boards and ministers mutually seeking a change and that these were being favourably dealt with the committee, Rev. David Wren, M.A., B.D., reported for the Pastoral Relations Committee.

Hold Retreat

Perhaps the main feature of the Presbytery was the "retreat" held in the afternoon under the direction of the Committee of Evangelism and Social Service, led by Rev. S. A. Kemp, of Havelock, when the Rev. J. J. Counter, of Danforth Avenue United Church, Toronto, and ex-president of the Toronto Conference, led the members of the Presbytery in an hour of heart searching fellowship. Speaking of the Oxford Group, Rev. Mr. Coulter said that he felt, most Toronto ministers felt, the movement had been the means of cleansing many lives and bringing many souls in closer fellowship with God and with their fellowmen.

The discussion which followed indicated that the men of the Peterborough Presbytery felt the need of more such meetings for sharing and discussing problems relative to the church's work and welfare. With this in mind, it was agreed to convene the minister for such a purpose on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 14, at 1.30 o'clock in the vestry of Mark Street Church.

A vote of thanks was expressed to St. Andrew's Church, the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean, the pastor, and the ladies of the church for their hospitality.

Rev. J. V. McNeely, M.A., B.D. of Keene, was chairman of the meeting, and Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., of Lakefield, acted as secretary.

Admits New Charges Gets 4 Extra Years

HAMILTON, Feb. 15.—(C.P.) — Steve Smith, who was brought back from Portsmouth penitentiary, where he was serving a term of three years for robbery, appeared in police court to-day and received a further sentence of four years, making a total of seven.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of armed robbery involving the hold-up of Sam Grlica's store in December. He was given a two year term for this. He further admitted stealing Grlica's car and was given one year. He then admitted he was one of the men who tunnelled through the wall of Carroll's grocery store and stole a quantity of goods. This brought another year in prison, all terms to run consecutively.

FRIENDS HONOR MRS. L. O'HARA

HER 70TH BIRTHDAY.

MADOC, February 15 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. Lester O'Hara, of Madoc Village, celebrated her seventieth birthday on January 31, and a number of her neighbors and friends met with her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Curtis to spend a social evening, and to present her with mementoes of the occasion.

Mrs. O'Hara was asked to be seated at a table covered with parcels, and to her surprise was asked to open the parcels handed to her by her friend, Mrs. Marshall Maybee, who cut the strings, while Mrs O'Hara read the cards bearing the good wishes of the assembled company, and displayed the useful and beautiful gifts.

The four grandmothers present were honored with seats at the dining table, which was decorated in yellow with flowers and candles, while the remainder of the company encircled them singing "For they are jolly good fellows." After seating the company, dainty lunch was served, and toasts, recitations, and songs were enjoyed.

The evening was brought to a close by Mrs. O'Hara returning thanks to all the assembled company and to her host and hostess for their kindness and goodwill, and all went home, having enjoyed one more real old-fashioned social evening.

RELIEF DANCE NETS $65 AT MILLBROOK

Women's Institute Turns Proceeds Over for Village Council.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. Russell Smith entertained the Women's Institute for its February meeting held at her home, Tupper street, on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., the president Mrs. J. L. Byam, in the chair, and the treasurer, Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, reporting a cheque for $65 handed the council for relief purposes as a result of the charity concert and dance, the decision to hold another similar evening for local relief about St. Patrick's Day being later arrived at.

Correspondence read by the secretary, Mrs. George Fallis, included letters of thanks from the Clerk of the Municipality for the relief cheque; from Mrs. W. H. Jordan for fruit while she was in the hospital, and a request from George Lewis, member-elect for East Durham for the Older Boys' Parliament, asking assistance with the share-selling campaign. On motion, the branch decided to buy a five-dollar share.

The president introduced the matter of a serving door for the kitchen in the Town Hall, the Reeve having promised the permission of the council, and help with the project, the W.I. deciding to paint the kitchen and improve its accommodation.

Bulbs were on hand and were practically all sold, and the program included a poem, "The Home Town," read by Miss Jean Burnham, and a talk on Community Activities by the convenor of the standing committee for that section of the W.I. work.

Mrs. Smith served a dainty lunch at the close and the members extended a hearty vote of thanks for the hospitality enjoyed, and for the program provided. Next meeting to be in charge of the district secretary, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, whose committee is that on Historical Research.

Free Skating.

The local branch of the Women's Institute is continuing its gift of a free afternoon's skating at the Cosmos rink for all boys and girls of the community ten years of age and under, an older person being present each Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock to give such supervision and help as is necessary. J. L. Byam and T. G. Harkness have given such assistance since the free skating began, but last Friday owing to the very cold weather no child put in an appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Richardson, of Winnipeg, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson and other relatives in the village for a brief stay.

Friends of Councillor J. R. Eakins will regret to learn that he has been quite ill for the past two weeks, and unable to leave the house.

Gordon Davis has been awarded the Norman Allen Scholarship as the boy with the best all-round record during 1932, with Jack Stinson coming a close second for the honor. The school board has mailed the cheque for fifty dollars to Gordon, the framed certificate to be publicly presented at the annual Continuation School Commencement which usually occurs in February.

Keeping Well a Real Problem Act Promptly to Avoid Pain

Meaford Women Depends on Dodd's Kidney Pills to Relieve Rheumatism

Meaford, Ont., Feb. 15. (Special). Experience is proven to be the best teacher when it comes to keeping in good health. Every man or woman approaching or past middle life has learned the wisdom of paying attention to pains and aches as symptoms of some disorder or forerunner of illness.

Many have discovered simple and safe methods of avoiding suffering or sickness. Mrs. J. Breese, for example, says—"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills for my kidneys and rheumatism. Sometimes when I get up in the morning my back aches and I have rheumatism in my arms. I take a couple of Dodd's Kidney Pills and within a few hours feel relief. Your pills have been a great help to me."

It is the duty of the kidneys to remove all impurities from the blood, and unless this is done sickness is sure to follow.

Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys. They cleanse, purify, soothe and heal the kidneys, and at the same time—backaches, rheumatism and headaches disappear.

MRS. J. BREESE

A well known resident of Meaford, Ontario, whose cheerful smile indicates a jovial disposition and good health. Mrs. Breese gives credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills for helping her avoid rheumatism and other ailments arising from faulty kidneys.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

TORONTO, Feb. 15. — Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 43c to 45c; oats, 23c to 24c; barley, 32c to 35c; corn, 33c to 35c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat, 28c to 29c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Liquidating sales by holders of grain resulted yesterday from weakness of securities and from disturbances in Michigan banking circles.

Wheat suffered a fall of 1 3-8c a bushel, and finished at the lowest point reached. Near-record big shipments of wheat from Argentina and Australia had a contributing bearish effect.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady, 7-8c to 1 3-8c, under yesterday's finish, corn ½c to ¾c down, oats 3-8c to ½c off, and provisions unchanged to 10c lower. Acting as somewhat of a restraint on sellers was 1,686,000 bushels decrease of the United States' wheat visibe supply, reducing the total to 149,452,000 bushels, compared with 202,608,000 a year ago. Another steadying influence on the downturn of values was word of new purchases of Argentina wheat for China. It was announced China had contracted with Argentina for 30,000 tons of wheat, and was also contracting for wheat from Australia. New export business in North American wheat was estimated at more than 1,000,000 bushels.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Feb. 15 — Butter and egg prices maintained their upward movement on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday.

Good demand from Montreal and out-of-town points continued and as a result butter advanced a quarter to half a cent a pound making the week's gain a cent to a cent and a quarter over last week's closing levels. No. 1 grass make in carlots or less closed at 21¾ cents a pound. Receipts were only 17 boxes.

On the egg market extras and firsts gained a cent a dozen. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less were quoted at 26 to 27 cents and firsts at 24 to 25 cents a dozen. Pullets at 22 cents and seconds at 20 cents a dozen were unchanged. Prices to retailers held firm. Receipts were 1,614 cases.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes gained five cents at 80 cents per 80-pound bag, while Prince Edward Island Green Mountains were unchanged at 90 to 95 cents per 90-pound bag. Only small quantities of Prince Edward Island Green mountains per 80-pound bag were available.

Cheese prices remained steady, Ontario colored being quoted at 10 to 10¼ cents and Ontario early make at 11¼ to 11½ cents a pound. Receipts were 169 boxes.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 15.—Trading fractionally lower most of the session, wheat futures, taking their cue from Chicago, broke sharply near the close of the Winnipeg Grain market yesterday. Support imparted by moderately good export sales, failed to halt the decline, and prices at the close were scraping bottom levels, more than a cent lower.

May and July deliveries moved in parallel, each ending an even one cent off at 47⅝c and 48¼c, respectively. October dropped 1⅛c at 49¼c.

Absent for some time, inwinding of spreads between Winnipeg and Chicago resulted in heavy offerings here. The Michigan State banking situation acused unsettlement in the southern market, and this weakness was soon felt locally.

Overnight export business was estimated at between 500,000 and 750,000 bushels of wheat, said to have been worked from Vancouver.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. Use it freely; it does not hurt the heart.

"VIP" IS UNIQUE NEW FOOD-DRINK

Life Cells of Wheat Are Basis of Highly Nutritional Product.

A new and definitely different food-drink called "Vip", is being introduced this week to the people of Ontario through the drug stores, which are making special displays of the product.

Vip was originated by Scientific Food Products, Limited, Toronto, and is a Canadian product of unique merit. The life-cells of wheat are the basis of Vip. A special, exclusive process guarantees perfect keeping qualities for the wheat embryos, thereby overcoming the tendency of these life-cells to become bitter and rancid. The remarkable vitamin values of the wheat germ are maintained 100 per cent in Vip.

The new product derived its name from its contents, the three letters, V, I and P standing respectively for Vitamins, Iron and Proteins—in which three essentials of a balanced diet VIP is notably rich. Easily assimilable iron is one of the added mineral constituents of VIP, which has a high content also in grade "A" proteins.

VIP was developed for a definite purpose—to supply the healthful, vigor-building food elements in which the food we customarily eat is frequently deficient. It has been increasingly evident that the customary diets of both adults and children are apt to be lacking in vitamins and iron. Vip was originated to provide, in the form of a delicious food-drink, these needed elements. Extensive experimenting and laboratory testing preceded the final selection of the ingredients for Vip. The makers maintain a modern research laboratory under the supervision of Dr. F. A. J. Zeidler, wherein the vitamin and other nutritional constituents of Vip are under constant test and supervision.

Because of the importance of the "story" to be told about Vip, the newspaper advertisements give the complete facts concerning the character and actions of the new food-drink. As will be noted from the Vip advertisements appearing in this paper. Vip is delightful to the taste when served either hot or cold with milk. It has a thoroughly delicious chocolate-malt flavor. Its energy-building virtues become apparent with use. It promotes strength, resistance and vigor in adults and growth in children. Vip is very attractively packaged in two sizes containing 10-ounces and 20-ounces respectively.

The initial marketing campaign is being limited to Ontario, but it is expected that the distribution of Vip will be extended to Dominion-wide proportions as rapidly as feasible. An enthusiastic reception of Vip by the drug trade and the public is reported.

Ladies to the number of about thirty were guests last night of the Mens Brotherhood Bowling Club of Knox Church, the members entertaining their wives and friends at a most enjoyable evening. A welcome was extended by Mr. Joseph Lancashire, president of the society. Carpet bowls were played, with three sets constantly in use, the ladies showing surprising proficiency in the game. The final score of the evening was 54-53 in favor of the men. Later, the gathering was augmented by several members of the choir of the church and the guests were served with lunch by the hosts of the evening. Arrangements for a sumptuous service of refreshments were in the hands of Mr. John Allen and his "kitchen police", Messrs. George Davis, John Foster, Roy Laing and Herb. McCannan. Then the assembly enjoyed a musical program, with Mr. Harry Hotston at the piano and Mr' H. McCannan playing harmonica selections. Mr. Frank Clarke also gave one of his infrequent but skilful step-dancing exhibitions. The expression of thanks from the ladies was voiced by Mrs. John Londerville and Mrs. John Allen.

The old-fashioned girl was brought back into the limelight last night at St. Paul's Young People's Society when a debate, "Resolved that the girl of to-day makes a better help-mate to her husband than the girl of yesterday", was decided in favor of the negative side which was supported by the Misses Clara Patterson, Edna Morrow, Connie Legon and Sybil Jackson. The affirmative side, which put up a strong argument for the modern girl, was composed of the Misses Ila Valleau, Marion Armstrong, Isabel Duthie and Howard Orvis. The judging was done by Miss Mignon Mayneord, Ralph Clark and Harry Marsh. The program of the evening opened with a devotional period which included a Scripture reading by Russell Rowan. Miss Mignon Mayneord gave a whistling solo accompanied by Miss Marion Armstrong. Bob White was appointed postmaster and Miss Alma Rutherford and Miss Mary White assistants to distribute Valentines. Some very interesting and instructive motion pictures were shown by Mr. Larmer Brown of the Bell Telephone Company. The pictures took the young people to all parts of the world, showing the method of gathering the raw material which is used in the manufacture of the telephone. A Valentine party at the Young Men's Christian Association was a pleasant event of last night, when the members of the local staff of the Bell Telephone Company entertained their friends there. Those present were made acquainted in a unique manner by Mr. J' C. Mclenaghan and Mr. D. A. Loomis, who acted as Masters of Ceremonies for the evening. A much-appreciated swimming exhibition was given by 'Y' boys, under direction of Mr. Loomis, after which a series of jolly games and stunts were enjoyed in the gym. During the service of refreshments, very fine guitar duets were played by Miss Helen Ludbrook and Miss Violet McNevan. The remainder of the evening was spent in bowling, playing bridge and dancing. Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. P. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gray, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Just Between Us Women

* * * * * * *

This is of especial moment when the kitchen is in close proximity to the other rooms in the dwelling, as is the case in apartments.

* * * * * * *

And if the room is of the combination sort, such as alcove-kitchet or dinette, or when there is a kitchenette and the living-room has to do double duty as sitting and dining room, it is imperative that odors are kept down, especially when they are not agreeable.

* * * * * * *

When cooking cabbage or cauliflower, these two excellent vegetables have water in the kettle boiling hot and slightly salted. Drop in separate leaves or floweret so slowly that the water does not cease boiling, or bubbling. Cook uncovered. A small pinch of soda added to the water is helpful and not deleterious.

* * * * * * *

However carefully the above vegetables are cooked, also dried beans, such as are used for making Boston baked beans, etc., the water in which they are boiled should not go down the sink drain, lest for a long time the odor permeates the rooms.

* * * * * * *

The water seems to get the full extract of the odor which the drain pipe gives off for an amazingly long time. To prevent this, the water when cold can be thrown out of doors, if one lives where this is possible and practical.

* * * * * * *

When odors are caused by particles of food getting burned, there are counteracting pungent or penetrating scents which can be infused into the room. In olden times a little coffee was thrown on to the range, or it might be that sugar was used instead.

* * * * * * *

To-day these seem satisfactory, although many people do not like these odors any better than the other burning particles.

* * * * * * *

No mention of airing kitchens has been made, because the air does not always counteract odors. It blows them away, and it takes a strong draught to do this quickly.

* * * * * * *

It is assumed, however, that no suggestions of opening windows is needed, as the homemaker would naturally do it. At all times the air in a kitchen should be kept pure and sweet with a continual ventilation.

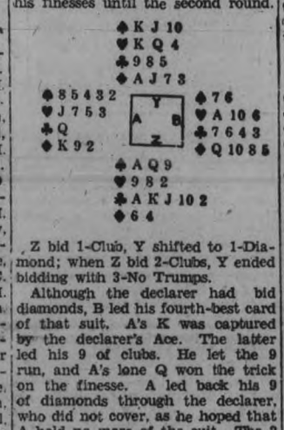
WHEN TO FINESSE

Avoid unnecessary finesses, which are attempts to win tricks with cards lower than the highest missing card of the suit. When necessary to finesse, delay making it as long as possible. The declarer who lost game on the hand given below did so because he failed to delay his finesses until the second round.



Z bid 1-Club, Y shifted to 1-Diamond; when Z bid 2-Clubs, Y ended bidding with 3-No Trumps.

Although the declarer had bid diamonds, B led his fourth-best card of that suit. A's K was captured by the declarer's Ace. The latter led his 9 of clubs. He let the 9 run, and A's lone Q won the trick on the finesse. A led back his 9 of diamonds through the declarer, who did not cover, as he hoped that A held no more of the suit. The 2 of diamonds was led. The 10 won the trick, and B's Q picked up the declarer's J, giving the defenders their fourth trick. B need not have feared that the declaring side could go game, as it could have taken only four club tricks and three spade tricks before having to lead a heart. These, with the one diamond trick already won, would have yielded only eight tricks, but B was taking no chances that Y might run off four spade tricks. B led his Ace of hearts, winning the fifth and setting trick then. This always is wise policy when uncertain how many tricks the declaring side may win.

What the declarer should have done when he won his first trick with the Ace of diamonds, was to lead his 9 of clubs, just as he did, but instead of risking a finesse on the first round of the suit, he should have overtaken his 9 with dummy's K. The lone Q would have fallen. Then the declarer should have run off his five club tricks. After which the declarer should have taken three spade tricks, or nine tricks total before leading hearts. Of course the Ace of hearts must win the tenth trick, affording the defenders an opportunity for a bit of strategy.

The declarer would be stripped down to K-Q of hearts and J-7 of diamonds when he led a heart a the tenth trick. B would hold the A-10 of hearts and the Q-10 of diamonds. Dummy would have three hearts and one diamond. A would have the J-7 of hearts, one diamond and one spade. If B took his Q of diamonds, when he won with the Ace of hearts, the declarer would win one heart and one diamond. If B led back a heart, after winning with his Ace, the declarer would have to lead back diamonds and give two tricks in that suit to B.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The relative moisture content, or humidity, of Death Valley is about 23 per cent. In the average heated home or building of the United States in the winter it is 10 to 15 per cent. The proper humidity is around 40 to 50 per cent. The air of the American home during the winter is drier than that of any outside air in any part of the world at any season.

This unquestionably accounts for much of the discomfort and dragged out feeling that we have during the winter and, in many ways, for bad health.

There is considerable evidence to show that the incidence of colds is due to the humidity of the air breathed. For instance, we know that colds are more common in people who work indoors at a sedentary occupation than those who work outdoors during the winter. This has been explained on the ground that the dry air inside dries the mucous membrane of the nose and devitalizes it, rendering it incapable of killing the germs which enter from the outside air during the act of breathing.

The skin also suffers from the over-dry condition of American homes and buildings during the winter. Much of the winter skin disease which we discussed recently is due to extreme dryness of the skin, and in those who have a tendency in this direction, the lack of humidity indoors certainly aggravates it.

Much of the discomfort which we ascribe to over-heating is actually due to difference in humidity. Both too much humidity and too little make us uncomfortable. And if the humidity were to be made constant at a proper figure, differences of 10 to 20 degrees in temperature would not be so noticeable. In other words, with proper control of humidity, a temperature anywhere between 65 and 85 degrees would be quite comfortable. As it is, during the winter an inside temperature of 80 makes us very uncomfortable on account of the dryness which attends the ordinary methods of plumbing. Scientific methods of humidification can be installed in homes and offices now at little expense, and would seem to be economical in the long run.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

M. P.: "They say in our part of the country that there is a species of bug, or beetle, which will produce a painful blister if mashed on the skin. Is this true?"

Answer: Yes. The beetles of the melodia family have been called "blister beetles." They are known throughout the world. As they are very destructive to plants, the commonest way in which they cause blistering is when they are picked off the plants and accidentally mashed by the fingers. The blister is caused by a substance in their bodies known as "cantharidin." In fact, certain species of these beetles are used to produce this substance in order that it may be used in medicine. Their dried bodies are ground up into cantharidin extracted. It is used in medicine to produce a counter-irritation by the formation of blisters.

C. W. H.: "I would like to know what causes a person to see colored lights flickering around, at about the age of 46. These lights come around and the patient has to lie down 15 or 20 minutes."

Answer: This symptom may be of no consequence or it may indicate glaucoma. The question could only be determined by an oculist.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Recently, when I first introduced the series of face masks that I am now describing for your enlightment, I remarked that face masks, to be effective, must be chosen wisely. And it is simple enough to understand why. For there are different types of skin, and each type reacts differently to external applications. A face mask that would benefit one skin might be far from beneficial to another. And so the type of skin must always be given consideration when a face mask is chosen.

Yesterday I described a bleach pack for removing discolorations and for lightening the skin. This bleach pack is a most effective one, and yet I would not advise its use by dry, sensitive-skinned women. For it may prove too strong for use on such skins. Dry, thin-skinned women usually encouter difficulties in using bleaches, anyway, because such preparations, by nature of their contents, tend to dry the skin still further.

There is, however, one bleach pack that is designed especially for use by sensitive-skinned individuals. It is composed of milk and almond meal, and is not harmful for dry skins because the warm milk used in the treatment reduces the drawing action of the almond meal, and makes the treatment a gentle one.

Before the mask proper is applied, a mask of cloth should be made. sA square of cheesecloth or gauze may be used for this purpose, and holes cut in it for the eyes, nose and mouth. The skin should first be cleansed with a good cleansing cream, and after this is removed a nourishing cream should be applied. This should be permitted to remain on the skin for a few minutes, and then removed with a soft cloth and tepid water.

In the next step, take the cheesecloth or gauze mask, dip it into warm milk, and fit it over your face, patting it into contact with your skin. Then make a smooth paste of almond meal and warm milk, and spread it over the cloth mask. Permit this mask to dry thoroughly. Then remove it by simply lifting it off the face. Take a pad of cotton, and bathe the skin again with warm milk. Then dry it, and as the final step, apply a good astringent to tone up the skin.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Hand Lotion

D. K. T.: An excellent lotion for keeping the hands soft and smooth can be made of one part of glycerine and three parts of rosewater. A half-and-half mixture of glycerine and rosewater may also be used.

Hair

Gay: My methods of correcting dandruff and falling hair, and of increasing the thickness of the hair, are too long to print here. They are, however, contained in detail in my "Beauty Culture" booklet.

Mouth Wash

Ida: An excellent mouth wash can be made by dissolving one-fourth teaspoon borax ,one-fourth teaspoon salt, and one-fourth teaspoon peroxide in a glass of warm water.

Culbertson Family Raised On Schedule

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15 (C.P.)—Ely Culbertson and his brilliant bridge partner-wife are five up on Russia and engaged in a job proportionately prodigious in their 10-year plan of child-raising.

Ely, working on a motion picture in Hollywood, says the Culbertson children, Fifi, Five, and Bruce, nicknamed "Jump Bid," three, are being reared along modern, scientific lines. They speak German, French and English and write weekly letters to their parents.

The 10-year-plan emphasizes intelligence, character, physique, and the parents give at least one hour a day to personal assistance, supplementing the teaching of a university graduate tutor and a German nursery-governess. The children wait upon themselves, make their own beds and will not be permitted to give orders to anyone before they are 16 years old.

"Gossip and Such"

TO ST. LOUIS GOES A BIG, broad-shouldered fellow with an amiable face and prominent nose—Arthur C. (Dazzy) Vance, traded by the Brooklyn ball club to the Cardinals in a four-player swap.

THIS DOES THE DAZ-zler, one of the National League's most successful pitchers of the last decade, follow the trail which brought a final burst of glory for two of his most illustrious contemporaries—Grover Cleveland Alexander and Burleigh Grimes.

IF HISTORY REPEATS, and, in this instance, has repeated, Vance should lead the Cardinals to a brilliant victory in the world series next October.

The reason? Kindly consider the cases of Alexander and Grimes.

ALEXANDER, WHO IS OUR Exhibit A in testimony to prove that St. Louis' climate works wonders with ancient moundsmen, was dropped by the Chicago Cubs June 22, 1926, and the Cards, battling for the National League pennant, got him for the waiver price.

* * *

ALEX—THOUGH 39 YEARS old—was a big help to the Cards in landing that pennant, their first. In the world series he was selected to start a game and won.

* * *

THE FINAL GAME brought real drama and undying fame for Alexander. With the Cards' slim lead threatened by a Yankee uprising Grover Cleveland Alexander stalked into the game from the bull pen and with his aging right arm stopped the attack cold. That gave St. Louis its first world championship.

GRIMES, EXHIBIT B, came to St. Louis June 16, 1930, in a trade with the Boston Braves. The Cards again were driving toward a pennant. And the 37-year-old righthander rendered yeoman service to the Red Birds in their successful fight.

* * *

SCOWLING LIKE AN IN-furiated bull, Grimes faced the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series. But it took more than scowls to dethrone the great Mack machine. The Athletics licked Burleigh twice.

HOWEVER, THE FOLLOW-ing autumn Grimes wreaked his revenge. This time, the A's found him impregnable. His right arm was a mace which cut down the great batting stars of the Athletics—Simmons, Cochrane and Foxx.

GRIMES ALLOWED BUT nine hits and fanned 11 Athletics in two games, both of which he won. Thus, at 36, did Grimes win world series fame, just as had the aging Alexander five years before.

VANCE, WHO MAY BE-come Exhibit C in a come-to-St. Louis-and-grow-young publicity campaign, joins the Mound City forces at 39 years of age. But he will be 40 in March.

VANCE IS BY NO MEANS through as a major league pitcher. Though he can never again attain the form he had from 1922 to 1928 when he was one of the greatest hurlers in the game, turning in a no-hit performance in 1924. But he is still a very capable righthander.

* * *

THOUGH NOT FIGURED to be a favorite in the '33 pennant race, the Cardinals look good enough to come through if the outstanding favorites falter. In which case, Vance would find himself in another world series and, with the glowing examples of what those two other old warriors did for the Red Birds before him—

BRUINS SWAMP LEAFS TO TAKE 7-2 VICTORY CANUCKS DOWN WINGS

Stanley Cup Holders Draw 11 Penalties, One a Major to Conacher, to Help in Boston Win — Marty Burke Traded to Ottawa for Harold Starr and Leo Bourgeault.

RANGERS SLAP 3-1 DEFEAT ON OTTAWA SENATORS; ANDY AITKENHEAD IS STAR OF CAPITAL CITY GAME

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (C.P.)—The very best of them in the National Hockey League have the habit of losing on foreign ice but what happened last night to the circuit's twin leaders was something terrific.

It was no ordinary defeat Boston Bruins dished out to Toronto's Maple Leafs, Canadian group pacesetters but it looked ordinary beside the 6-2 trouncing the lowly Canadiens of Montreal batted out against Detroit Red Wings. The Boston win was by a 7-2 margin.

While this was going on New York Rangers were downing Ottawa Senators 3-7 at Ottawa to join the Red Wings in a tie for the united States section leadership. Bruins remained a single point behind.

Marty Burke Traded

So close to another slap by Leo Danduarand's wrecking paddle that even the surprising triumph made no difference, Canadiens played inspired hockey to drub the Red Wings more soundly than the Adams flyers have been beaten since back on December 22 when they took a 7-0 thumping from Boston.

After it was over Dandurand announced he had traded Marty Burke, sturdy defenceman to Ottawa Senators for Harold Starr and Leo Bourgeault, also defencemen. And he would not deny Johnny Gagnon might be traded also to Senators though the black cat from Chicoutimi had just finished rapping in a goal against Detroit and passing to Sylvio Mantha for another.

Morenz Leads Attack

Without scoring a goal Howie Morenz, the unfading king of speed marshalled the French troops in old-time fashion. Morenz was credited with three assists while the goals fell to Hago Harrington, Albert Leduc, Wildor Larochelle, Aurel Joliat and Mantha and Gagnon.

Herbie Lewis, goal-a-game winger, scored once for the Wings and Larry Aurie got one but they came at times when Canadiens were riding with safe margins.

Too Many Penalties

The Leafs spent far too much time in the penalty box to be in a position to battle Bruins effectively. The world champions drew down 11 penalties, one a major to Charlie Conacher, to six for the Bruins. Conacher was given a five minute sentence for punching Eddie Shore.

Marty Barry led Bruin scorers but, like Morenz, Shore was the attacking leader. Red Beattie, Nels Stewart and Harry Oliver all scored on raids engineered by the hustling wheat-grower. Alex Smith scored the other.

Four for Red Horner

Usually Leafs were short-handed through penalties, Red Horner drawing four minors. The red-head scored the final Toronto tally in the third period immediately after leaping from the box on the sidelines. King Clancy got the first.

Young Andy Aitkenhead all but earned himself a shutout at Ottawa's expense as the Cook brothers and Frank Boucher dominated the Ranger attacking bill. Bun Cook scored on Bill's pass and the Cooks worked together to provide Boucher with an opening for another. Cecil Dillon sandwiched a goal between these two.

Senators outshot the New Yorkers by a wide margin but it was late in the third period before Bill Touhey got in close and averted a shutout.

All Set For Attack On Own Record

Waiting for favorable beach conditions to make an attack on his own speed record of 254 miles an hour, established last year, Sir Malcolm Campbell, British auto speed king, is pictured at Daytona, Fla., as he carefully checked over every detail of his giant racing car, "Bluebird II." Sir Malcolm expects the car to make 300 miles an hour or better, given favorable weather and beach conditions.

THE EARL OF WARWICK, seventh of his line, is snapped playing a noble game of golf on the Palm Beach, Fla., County Club course, where he is vacationing. The Earl is prominent in New York and London society.

LARRY FRENCH, Mrs. French, and son, Larry, Jr., tune up for the 1933 baseball season in the Los Angeles, Cal., home of the Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw hurler. None of the three appear worried, do they?

BOWLING NOTES

AUBURN SHOP LEAGUE

The Auburn Shop League, nearing the end of the first section saw a severe shake-up last week. The most unexpected thing, from a perusal of the standing, will be the rapid rise of Blackbirds from the cellar into a tie for third place. This was due in great part to the classy exhibition of bowling given by C. Barson, who toppled the maples for a single of 320 and the steady bowling of Joe Robinson, 630—241. Other high scores were:

Ladies' high three—N. Sauve 546; G. Grisdale 513; B. Goldie 476.

Men's high three—C. Barson 523, (two games); M. English 645; J. Robinson 639.

Men's High Single—C. Barson 320; J. Robinson 241; M. English 233.

JINX TRAVELS WITH SAILORS

Harry Gray Has Ankle Gashed as Ports Tie Cataracts 1-1.

IN LENGTHY CONTEST.

(By the Canadian Press)

"Old man injury" the jinx which wrecks many a good hockey club was today struck the camp of the Port Colborne Sailors as they mark time for the group play-offs in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" series.

Playing against Niagara Falls last night in the final game of the schedule, Harry Gray, aggressive centre and leading scorer of the Ports suffered a gashed ankle which will keep him off skates for at least 10 days.

The game itself, resulted in a 1-1 deadlock, after the teams had struggled through 90 minutes of bruising hockey.

The tie gave the Ports an edge over their opponents on the season's play as they have garnered six out of a possible eight points.

Scores Tying Goal

Jerry Shannon, leading pointgetter of the group scored the tying goal in the third period, on a pass from Maxie Kaminsky. The Sailors had taken the lead in the second session, when Gray slipped Fan Heximer a pass, which enabled him to beat Esseltine in the Cataracts' net.

There is a possibility of a three-cornered tie for second place as Toronto Marlboros and the Ports are now deadlocked for that position with 31 points, while Niagara Falls, two points behind have another game to play with the Dukes.

PETES WILL BE MATCHED WITH TO-NIGHT'S WINNERS

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 15 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — With the stage all set for the final clash in the Davidson Arena, Campbellford, to-night (Wednesday) between the Belleville D.A.C. and the Campbellford Maroons, to prove out group honors in the O.H.A. grouping, the winners of this clash have been scheduled to play the Peterborough Intermediates in Peterborough on Friday of this week, the return game being set for Monday in either Belleville or Campbellford, whichever the win goes to.

The D.A.C. got a two-goal lead on their own ice on Monday over the Maroons, but the game this evening should enable the locals to overreach this score. Local fans are looking to see the Maroons and the Petes clash for honors, and to them the prospects look good.

CAMPBELL MAY ATTEMPT NEW MARK TO-DAY

DEPENDS ON BEACH.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15. (AP)—The possibility of an attempt to-day by Sir Malcolm Campbell of England to shatter his own world land speed record of 253 miles an hour was balanced on scales of varied conditions, clouded with a big "if."

After streaking across the ocean beach at a clip well in excess of 200 miles an hour on a preliminary test run yesterday, the 48-year-old driver announced definitely he would take his Blue Bird racing car onto the course again this afternoon for further trials.

If he decided then his trim 2,500 horsepower machine was tuned up to its best, he said he would be ready to make an official trial for a new record provided the beach, weather, wind and visibility were suitable.

Low tide occurs about 5 p.m., E.S.T., but he planned to tow his racing car to the course an hour or two before that in order to have ample time for his runs before the waves begin flowing in over the beach again.

Just what speed he expected to attain on his next test was a matter of conjecture. Prior to his trial yesterday he announced he would not drive faster than 150 miles an hour.

212 Miles Per Hour

Instead he flashed across the course at a clip he estimated reached as much between 230 and 240 miles an hour. He was officially clocked over two Kilometres, approximately a mile and one-quarter, at 212 miles an hour, and over five miles at 179. At one time during the run he said he pressed the accelerator to the floor board for an instant and the machine approached 240 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm expressed general satisfaction with the speed he attained on the run in view of the fact he only took a three mile rolling start, compared with the five mile start he usually takes for an official record attempt.

Afterward he said, several car adjustments would be necessary before to-day's trials.

Peden And Le Page Win At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, February 15 (C.P.)—Fears that William "Torchy" Peden was "burning out" had been stilled to-day.

The Baron of the Bike-a-thons, from Victoria, B.C., riding partner with Henri Lepage of Montreal, completely erased such a possibility early this morning by coming from behind to win St. Louis' second international six-day bike race.

The Germans, Tony Schaller and Charley Winter, were a lap behind as the Canadian redhead and Lepage drove their bikes past the 2,314 miles, six-lap mark, just as the final gun ended the grind. Otto Petri and Fred Zach of Switzerland were third, two laps back of the flying leaders.

MARMORA, Feb. 15 (Examiner Correspondence)—Though no honors were at stake, a keenly contested game of hockey was seen on the Marmora rink on Monday evening when Deloro furnished the opposition and lost by 4-1. There was a goodly number of fans to urge on both teams.

Victorias May Be Forced To Choose New Candidate

LINDSAY, Ont., Feb. 15.—(C.P.)—Victoria and Haliburton Conty. Liberals and Progressives are concerned about reports of redistribution of Ontario constituencies. Under the redistribution bill as reported, the two Provincial ridings would be merged.

Within the past two months Liberals and Progressives chose William Newman, M.L.A., as candidate for North Victoria and Haliburton, and Deputy Reeve Pogue, of Lindsay, as candidate for South Victoria.

Now they will have to start again to choose a candidate for the united ridings.

Millbrook

The community Glee Club, under the direction of Martin Chenhall, supervisor of music in the schools of Cavan Township, resumed its practices on Monday evening, meeting in the basement of St. Andrew's church, and immediately following the young people held a jolly St. Valentine's party.

The forty or more present were divided into groups of five by the simple method of each taking a little heart and 'following the trail' to the big red Valentine heart which centred the others, those having the same number sitting together for the solving of the jigsaw puzzle waiting their attention. The prize was won by Ken Fallis' group, and when partners had been secured for lunch, this feature brought the happy gathering to a close. Sadie Rowland was the vice-president in charge of the devotional period which preceded the social hour, and Jean Burnham contributed a reading, "St. Valentine's Friends."

J. H. George, T. Douglas and Rev. W. W. Jones motored to Cobourg on Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Cobourg Presbytery.

Mrs. Charles Larmer, of Oshawa, sister of Mr. J. H. Might, Mrs. Jas. Hutchison and Mrs. T. Douglas, of Millbrook, has gone to Moose Jaw, Sask., to visit their half-brother, Edward Might, who is seriously ill in the hospital of that city.

ENGLISH TEAM NEEDS 53 RUNS TO GAIN HONORS

POOR CROWD SEES MATCH.

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 15. — (C.P. Cable).—Only 53 runs separated the touring English cricket team to-day from victory in their battle against Australia for possession of the "ashes," mythical symbol of world cricket supremacy.

Playing with confidence and aggressiveness, the Marylebone batsmen had amassed 107 runs for the loss of only two wickets at the close of play to-day in their second innings stand. They had dismissed the Aussies for a mediocre second-innings count of 175 runs, and with eight wickets in hand triumph for the visitors in the fourth Test match was generally conceded. England scored 356 against 340 for Australia in the first innings.

Sorry Display.

The Aussie batsmen put up a sorry display before a crowd that dwindled to 3,000. Veteran Test players fell by the wayside before the persistent attack of the M. C. C. eleven. Harold Larwood took four wickets with the aid of the much-discussed "bodyline" bowling.

L. S. Darling, a Victoria cricketer playing his first Test cricket, made the highest Aussie score with 39, and then was victim of a poor judgment by H. S. Love, who had him run out.

V. Y. Richardson with 32, Don Bradman with 24 and Stanley McCabe with 22 were the only others to make even a weak stand for the Antipodeans, the last five men making a combined total of only 16 runs.

The talented Don Bradman, who was handicapped by the fact that everyone expected so much of him, was again unable to show much of the form which has made him the finest batsman in present-day cricket. He was out with a catch which he poked up to point off Larwood.

When the last of the Australian wickets fell shortly after lunch and the score board showed a total of only 175, there was a hush over the stands.

45 For One Wicket.

Following a short interval, the Antipodean players took the field, and in the usual tossing of the ball from man to man there was evident a determination to win against the heavy odds.

The determination was strengthened at the very outset of the English innings. Herbert Sutcliffe and Maurice Leyland opened, and after a fumbled catch by McCabe from Sutcliffe on the second ball, Sutcliffe was out by poking one from Wall into Darling's hands at point. Sutcliffe scored two, and the first wicket fell for five runs. Leyland and Jardine got settled, and at the tea interval the total score was 45 for one wicket.

An attempt to sweep one from Ironmonger to leg cost Jardine his wicket, when he misjudged it and lost his leg stump. The English captain had scored 24, and the second wicket fell for 78 runs.

Leyland marked up his own 50 when he glanced one from Ironmonger to the leg boundary after being in two hours and 13 minutes. When play was closed on account of failing light, Leyland had 66 and Walter Hammond eight. The total for two wickets was 107, which left England with the task of getting 53 runs with eight wickets in hand.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING
BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

Tonight is the big night as far as the junior O.H.A. team is concerned. They either prove they can come from behind and fight through to a win, or they pass out of the picture to a smaller-town outfit for this year. Bowmanville starts at 8.30 in the Brock tonight two goals up on the group playoffs, and the young Petes will have to wipe out that lead and run in at least one more, or it's good-bye and we'll bee seein' ya some other winter! On good ice, it'll be a grand old battle and will likely pack the arena.

* * * * * *

The improved Rubbertown squad is a mighty tough nut to crack. True, we licked 'em twice in the schedule, but once by a one-goal margin and the other time by going into overtime. They're better now, too. A lot of hard playing and the addition of several classy youngsters has made Bowmanville a serious threat. They break real fast, barge into the corners and around the rival goal, shoot hard and often, and they've always been noted as persistent back-checkers and stiff body-checkers. And watch 'em go in tonight's important tussle.

* * * * * *

Who do we think will win? We've been asked that a couple or three dozen times since our outfit took it on the chin Monday eve. Here's the answer: A guy in a barbershop this morning pulls out a green back and says: "I'm betting on Bowmanville tonight; do you want it?" We came right back with an iron man and says, "And there's four more in the wallet that speak the same language." Bue he changed his mind at that. If the Petes play the sort of hockey they can—and show some real fight—they ought to win the round by three goals. If they curl up, then it's just too bad. That's about the way it stands. The Petes are a better team and they're playing at home, with a decent referee, and they should win.

* * * * * *

But the boys wont go anywhere if the defence tries to poke-check the rubber away from forwards coming in. They should body them hard and often, but always legitimately. That's how they beat Fenelon Falls, by keeping the other players shooting from outside. The O.H.A. this year permits defensemen to body-check the puck-carrier, and not only him, but every player who comes inside—as he's a potential receiver. Every one of them should be covered up like a family scandal.

* * * * * *

And the forwards want to do more brainy passing and check back hard. Don't give those Bowmanville boys a yard or they'll take a mile and do it before you have time to yell "Look out, Sandy!" We don't pretend to be hockey experts but we can see when a classy team goes to pieces, and when they're letting a poorer outfit lick 'm to a frazzle. Of course, that one-sided refereeing of Armstrong's knocked the hearts out of the players and Bowmanville took advantage of the return of Santa Claus, and this wont happen tonight. Tracy Shaw, a good Toronto bell-ringer, will be on the job, and the best team should win.

* * * * * *

W. B. (Bill) Cavanah, who used to be pretty well known around here some time ago, is back in town from Chicago on a visit, his mother being ill. Bill was a member of the Peterborough intermediate hockey champions, back in the days when hockey was an iron-man's game. He played defence and forward and starred locally some thirty years ago. Dropping in on old-time friends and renewing acquaintances now, and looking like he could hit a man an awfully stiff body-check these days.

* * * * * *

Ernie Schaaf's death following a kayo at the hands of Primo Carnera, the Ambling Alp, in New York last Friday, throws an unfavorable spotlight on the plug-uglies' game. But boxing has to take a back seat to football, the collitch sport killing off a bunch of youthful athletes every autumn, while the ring which is busy the year round seldom sees more than one fatality in twelve months. And packed with rough play and minor injuries as hockey is, fewer deaths are blamed to the Canadian winter pastime than to the gentler game of baseball. With reasonable precautions taken, none of these sports should be censured because of deaths—not when you compare the number of young people taken annually when joy-riding in cars or swimming at the beaches.

* * * * * *

The Peterborough and District Football Association holds its annual meeting in the Chamber of Commerce next Monday evening. The executive for the past year will report its financial statement for approval, etc. A couple of important business items will be brought up: Affiliation to the O.F.A.; applications of entries from local teams and Port Hope, Deloro and Lindsay; also rules amended to present regulations. Should be a lively gab-fest.

* * * * * *

Odds and ends: Note: That above-mentioned four dollars to bet was just a bluff so, borrowers, lay off .... Winner of tonight's junior series will likely meet either Belleville or Queen's .... Maroons and Belleville wind up their intermediate series in Campbellford this e'en .... More Church League payoffs tomorrow at All Saints .... City Loop and E.P.L. games are held up for the nonce waiting on the O.H.A. tangle .... City Basketball League opens this p.m. at the Collegiate gym .... Why isn't the inter-alley bowling league running this season? .... Quite a bunch of local sports are laying their shekels on the junior Petes to cop tonight .... Placing (running second) is no go .... The intermediate long layoff may come against 'em yet .... Secretary Mike O'Brien of the Southend Loop is calling a meeting of managers in Duffus' tomorrow at seven .... Play-offs will be arranged and the draw held .... A tip: Never match coins over a grating.

REPEAL OF NEW YORK STATE BOXING LAW IS THREATENED

Athletic Commission Frowns on Carnera-Sharkey Bout For Heavyweight Honors.

ITALIAN "ON THE PAN."

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The death of Ernie Schaaf had struck a heavy blow at boxing in New York state today, brought about threat of repeal of the state boxing law and caused the virtual disbarment of Primo Carnera, solely upon the grounds of his gigantic size.

Only a few hours after Schaaf had died in Polycylinic Hospital of a brain injury, Governor Lehman ordered a thorough investigation of his bout with Carnera in Madison Square Garden last Friday night; the legislature moved toward more stringent regulations for boxing if not outright repeal of the law under which it is conducted in this state, and the State Athletic Commission flatly declared it would not approve a match between Carnera and Sharkey nor allow the huge Italian to box anyone less than six feet two inches tall and weighing less than 220 pounds.

Muldoon Behind Move

Back of the Commission's surprising action, wrecking the Garden's plans for a title match here in June between Sharkey and Carnera, was the venerable figure of William Muldoon. With Gen. John J. Phelan concurring, Muldoon announced that the "super-dreadnaught" class for oversized heavyweights, first organized in 1931, would be re-established and that Carnera, if he is to fight in this state at all, must pick his rivals strictly from within that division.

Muldoon declared he had opposed the Schaaf-Carnera bout from the start but that public opinion had led him to approve it against his better judgment.

"I didn't see the fight," the veteran commissioner said, "but I was afraid of it from the start and now my fears are borne out. Carnera is a great athlete from the feet up. He is the greatest physical specimen I have ever seen."

Virtual Disbarment

The effect of the Commission's ruling is practically to bar the big Italian from competition in this state. The "super dreadnaught" division, as defined by the commission, would include only about a half dozen heavyweights—Carnera, George Godfrey, Jose Santa, Walter Cobb, Ray Impelletiere and Victorio Campolo. Of these Carnera has met all but Impelletiere.

Schaaf's body was sent to Sheldonsville, Mass., near Boston, last night. Funeral services will be held there Friday from the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucy Schaaf.

SARAZEN FACES TOUGH PROBLEM

Must Defend His British and American Titles Over Unknown Courses.

PRACTISING DAILY.

(By Henry S. Wrenn, A.P. Staff Writer.)

MIAMI, Fla., February 15 (C.P.). —Gene Sarazen this year will defend his British open golf championship over a course where eleven years ago he disregarded the warning of a friendly Scot who told him "Laddie, ye must play the auld course, or there'll be a curse on ye."

"The "auld course" is the famous layout at St. Andrew's, in Scotland, where golf was born. Sarazen never has played it, and has seen only the 17th and 18th holes, then by twilight.

Similarly, he will defend his American open championship over the North Shore Course at Chicago, which he neither has played nor seen.

Practising Daily.

Recently returned from Santa Monica, Calif., where an attack of influenza confined him to hospital for ten days, Sarazen now is practising daily for the drive in defence of his laurels.

Between practice sessions to-day, the dapper little Italian smiled as he told of the time back in 1922 when he had his look at the two holes of St. Andrew's. Then he was the "boy wonder" touring Scotland just after winning the American open and the United States Professional Golf Association championship, and prepared to compete in his first British open at Troon.

On his tour, he stopped for a night at a hotel overlooking the St. Andrew's Course. The Scots welcomed him genially.

"Laddie, ye must see the auld course," one of them told him. He strolled with them over the 17th and 18th fairways, but the gloaming then was too near darkness for him to see much.

"Laddie, ye must play the auld course, or there'll be a curse on ye." Sarazen said another Scot told him. But he did not play it, and went his way.

Perhaps, Sarazen mused, the curse held true and churned up a terrific storm a few days later at Troon that blasted him out of the British open qualifying by one stroke. The wind caused him to shoot 85 the second day.

"SANDY" SOMERVILLE IS MOST POPULAR OF LONDON ATHLETES

Confidently Believed London er Will Capture British Amateur Title in His Old Country Invasion This Summer Starred in Hockey, Football and Cricket Also.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 15 (C.P.)—London's Sandy Somerville, the lean and silent golfing master, who stands alone above Canada's link corps and tops the amateur field of the United States, will be the most interesting figure in 1933 on international fairhe likes it or not — whether he wins or losses.

When he sets out in early summer for England for a try at the British amateur championship, then matches his shots with British and American professionals in the open, Somerville will carry more golfing prestige to far shores than any Canadian in history. They will compare his jaunt to the 1930 sweep-up excursion of Bobby Jones.

And whether or not Sandy wins in Britain he will go to the post at Cincinnati in September the most colorful figure in the U.S. amateur. That will be his big stand, defence of the title he won last fall at Baltimore's three farms event.

Most Popular Athlete

Somerville has been London's hero ever since his triumph last year in the U.S. amateur but he was the city's most popular all-round athlete long before that.

Hockey followers liked the idea of the former Ridley cricketer and University of Toronto footballer coming home to play centre on the one good intermediate team London had had in years. And they got to like the polished play-making and poke-checking he dished up almost as well as the modest star himself. The 12th battery team, pivoted by Sandy, won the intermediate O.H.A. title in 1927, defeated the northern Ontario senior champions, South Porcupine and only lost in the Allan Cup play-downs to University of Toronto Grads who eventually won the Olympic championship for Canada.

Londoners confidently believe silent Sandy will go on to greater heights—perhaps tack a British amateur triumph beside his American victory and his several wins in the Canadian amateur.

BLONDE BULLDOGS GOOD MARKSMEN

Shifted from centre to left-wing, blonde Russell Blinco found the change to his liking and combined with Whitey Fields, fair-haired playmaker, to send the luckless Redskins down to their fourth successive defeat by a score of 5-4.

Blinco scored three goals and assisted in one, while Fields tallied once and participated in two others. Roger Cormier, third member of this line, gathered in the other Bulldog counter.

Indians gave a fighting display, coming from behind twice to tie the score. It was their fourth and last appearance on Windsor ice this season, and they failed to win one verdict.

Their goals were divided among four players: Halliday, Hoffinger, Macfarlane and Matte being their marksmen.

CANUCKS DEFEAT BUCCANEERS 7-1

Southenders Run Wild In South-end League Tussel to Score One-sided Victory.

Canucks ran wild in a Southend Hockey League intermediate fixture at the Sacred Heart rink last night to defeat Pirates, 7 to 1. Babbs, losers' goalie had a tooth knocked out early in the first frame, and this threw him off his regular stride to some extent, though the fast-breaking Canucks could not be held in any frame. They bored in close throughout, teaming up well and burning the rubber at the goal, while their own defence kept the Bucs shooting mostly from outside and being back-checked persistently. There was no particular star on either side, Hefferman in goal, the regular front line and the defence all looking well for the winners. The teams:

TO-NIGHT'S GAME HOCKEY "NATURAL"

Local Juniors Determined to Eliminate Bowmanville From O.H.A. Running.

A determined Peterborough junior hockey team will skate out on the ice of the Brock at 8.30 to-night to play Bowmanville. The home outfit will be in there fighting with backs to the wall, having to overcome a two-goal lead this evening to win their O.H.A. group and eliminate the tough Rubbertown boys. It is the hockey game of the season—a "natural" in every sense of the word. On the other hand, a classy Petes' team on home ice playing what may be its last game of the year; on the other hand, a classy Petes' team Bowmanville outfit with an advantage of two goals in the series, and a strong determination to hold them.

The ice will be fast for this crucial contest and both teams at full strength. This should make for as fine a junior hockey fight as has been seen here in several years. An impartial referee from Toronto will give both teams an even break, and the Petes will not be afraid to hand their opponents stiff body checks, as fas the case when they lost, 6-4, in Bowmanville Monday night. A number of Rubbertown rooters will attend the fracas, and the largest junior hockey crowd of the year is expected.

The husky visitors are very fast and scrappy. They have a hard-hitting defence and tricky, nicely-combining forwards—and that two-goal lead! Doubtless they will play a smashing defensive game, at least toward the end if they are still in front. The Petes will open up fast from the first and tear away throughout trying to get these two back and as many more as possible—by way of retaliation for the tough time they took in Bowmanville. The game will go into overtime, if the round is tied up at the end of sixty minutes. All in all, it should be a fine game from every point of view and should pack the fans in as no other contest has done here outside the benefit game recently.

Nels Stewart Listed In "Select" Scorers

BOSTON, Feb. 15 (C.P.). — Nels Stewart, of Toronto's east-end, today found himself in a small but select hockey class. The burpy Boston Bruins centre has been skating along at a goal-a-game clip of late, and last night's tally against the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs was the 200th of his major league career, which started with the Montreal Maroons in 1925.

Only two other active major leaguers have equalled that impressive total. Bill Cook, the New York Rangers' veteran, and the spectacular Howie Morenz of Montreal Canadiens. Both, however, have been playing big time hockey much longer than Stewart, who was purchased from the Maroons by the Bruins before the start of the current season.

Puck Chasers Lose To Cavan Team 5-4

The Puck Chasing Printers suffered their first setback of the season on Monday night last when they dropped a 5-4 decision to the Cavan Plough-Followers in an exhibition tussle at the Brock Street rink.

The game was replete with the usual amount of shin-slashing, poke checks to the midriff with the occasional straight left or right to the jaw, "Coal Heaver" Butcher, "Dough Boy" Baker and "Poggi" Glover were the outstanding stars of the Printers while Dugan in the nets deserves special mention for his work in stemming the avalanche of rubber heels raining from the sticks of the Rural Rounders.

Line ups:

Cavan—Goal, Cliff McGill; defense, Roy Fern and Percy Phillips; centre, Eldred Snider; wings, Ken Thorndyke and Bob Cathcart; subs, Clayton Card, Trevor Braithewaite and Art Roach.

Examiner—Goal, H. Dugan; defense, Baker and Glover; centre, Pat Cullen; wings, Butcher and Grey; subs, Johnson, O'Leary and Gainey.

JIM CORBETT WEAKER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—James J. Corbett, former heavyweight boxing champion, was reported very low last night by Dr. G. Willard Dickie.

"He is considerably weaker than he was Monday," said Dr. Dickie. "He may last for several more days, but I am doubtful."

The trade routes of Asia Minor, which connected the east with the west about 2000 B.C., were the first highways known.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

KING GEORGE

Mrs. Groombridge presided over the early part of last night's meetin which was well attended and enthusiastic. Miss Dobbin's room won the banner for attendance.

Mrs. Chartren was unanimously elected president for this year.

Mr. Kerr gave notice of mation that at the next meeting he would move that this executive hold office until Sept. 1934 and that future executives hold office during the school year beginning in September.

A very fine program was rendered including a chorus by six boys, "The Tin Pan Parade", followed by an encore "Good Night Ladies". Two humorous readings by Mr. Max Peters; an exceptionally bright playlet given by six little girls of Miss Dobbin's room "When I Grow Old" by Marion Wathen Fox, and a reading by Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. W. R. Morris was the special speaker of the evening and after discussing the difficulties of relief work, gave a most impressive address on the life of Mrs. Courtice the founder of the Home and School Association. She was a woman of intense devotion to the cause of bringing the home and the school together and thus solving many problems. Sixteen years ago she called representatives from the different Women's Clubs in the various Toronto schools and in this way the Home and School Council was organized. Mrs. Medd of Peterborough was much interested in the movement and through her influence it spread throughout the province.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker a social hour was spent.

QUEEN MARY

The annual meeting of the Queen Mary Home and School Association was held in the school on Monday evening. Mr. Wagar, the president, presided and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Annual reports were given by the secretary and treasurer and showed a satisfactory year. The banner for the month was won by Miss Cairn's room. Mr. Clark took the chair for the election of the following officers for the ensuing year:

Hon. president, Mrs. W. R. Morris; past president, Mr. E. G. Wagar; president, Mrs. C. Turner; first vice president, Miss McNaughton; second vice president, Mrs. Gates; secretary, Mrs. E. R. Shirley; treasurer, Mrs. M. G. Hardill; relief committee, Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Abbott; convenor program committee, Mrs. Hooper; convenor reception committee, Mrs. Lytle; convenor refreshment committee, Mrs. English; convenor Telephone committee, Mrs. Hill; representative to Home and School council, Mrs. Andrews.

The new president, Mrs. C. Turner then took the chair for the remainder of the evening. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Wagar for his year of faithful service. Mr. F. Dearborn of the Queen Alexandra School was the guest speaker of the evening and gave a most interesting and helpful address on the "Beginning and Growth of the Home and School Movement".

A vote of thanks to the speaker was heartily endorsed by all present and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

One Royal Shoemaker Turns To Old Trade

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 15.—(C.P.)—This talk of depression — nothing to Rizieri Particelli, Italian resident of the Sault, who once made shoes for Italian Royalty and is now turning them out for citizens of the Sault in his modest little shop.

In a period when most business men are complaining of lack of trade, this 54 year old shoemaker has more business than he can handle.

"Work!" he said. "I have more than I can take care of. It is not so much work I need as competent assistants."

Particelli says he owes his success directly to the depression. When the paper mill in which he was employed closed down a little over two years ago, he decided to return to the trade in which he had been brought up.

What is the longest river in Africa?

What is meant by "The Decalogue"?

Correctly Speaking—

The subject of an infinitive and the predicate substantive completing an infinitive should be in the objective case. For example: "The gazette reported him to be dead." ("Him" is the subject of the infinitive "to be," and not the object of "reported").

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

A radio tube is not necessarily defective when showing a bluish glow. In some types of tubes it actually indicates good qualities.

Some types of power tubes show a flickering "fluorescent" glow, others show a gaseous, or "ionized" condition when bluish in color, and still another new type of rectifier tube, called a Mercury Vapor type, must show a light-blue when in operation.

Automatic Volume Control is obtained by using an extra tube that prevents variations in signal strength. When the station signal fades the tube delivers more power, and as the signal increases the tube delivers less power, thus holding the volume steady.

This feature in a radio not only helps to prevent fading, but also prevents strong stations "bursting in" loudly when tuned in.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

ATTEMPT TO SLAY ROOSEVELT FAILS

Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago and Four Others Are Wounded

CONDITION OF TWO VICTIMS VERY SERIOUS

Chicago Mayor and Mrs. Gill Are in Very Critical Condition.

WOMAN LOSING GROUND.

Both Were Wounded By Assassin Who Tried to Kill Roosevelt.

(By Francis M. Stephenson, A. P. Staff Writer)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16—(A. P.)—Solemn and intent, United States President-Elect F. D. Roosevelt called by the Jackson Memorial Hospital here today to say good-bye and to encourage the five victims of the assassin who sought his life last night.

He found Mayor Cermak of Chicago, one of the wounded, in a critical condition. Mrs. Joe Gill of Miami, was fast losing ground. She underwent a blood transfusion just before Mr. Roosevelt arrived. The others were declared on the road to recovery.

The diminutive hater of government officials, Guiseppe Zangara, who fired into the crowd about Mr. Roosevelt's car last night remained in police care high up in the Dade county jail just across the street from the train Mr. Roosevelt boarded to go to New York.

Dr. Joel T. Boone, physician of President Hoover, called by telephone while the president-elect was at the hospital. Marvin McIntyre, the Roosevelt secretary, gave him a report.

Entering the room of Mayor Cermak, the president-elect said: "You are looking fine. The first thing you know you will be back on your feet."

Cermak in a faint voice replied: "I hope so. I hope it will be in time for the inauguration. Before you came I visited here with Jim Farley and Mac and we had a good time." An extra detail of police and secret service men surrounded Roosevelt at every turn.

Cheered By Big Crowd

Returning to the train immediately across the street from the jail holding Zangara, Roosevelt was greeted by a huge throng which cheered him. Upon reaching the back platform he turned, took off his hat, and waved a response to the greeting. Three service men were immediately about him.

Police were still holding Andrea Valenti, arrested on suspicion last night because he resided at the same place with Zangara, although police indicated they did not think he was connected with the incident.

GANGLAND PLOT.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(A.P.) — Shocked by the news that its anti-gang crusading and "World Fair" Mayor had been shot down in Miami by a would-be assassin, Chicago

ADMITS HURLING GIRL INTO RIVER

Prisoner Claims He Became Panicky After Victim Fell in Alley.

UNABLE TO REVIVE HER.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Maurice Meyer, 25, has confessed the slaying of Rose Gendler, Sheriff Fred R. Schleuter said to-day. The girl disappeared the night of Dec. 21, after leaving a Davenport department store, where she was a clerk.

Her body was found the next day on the ice covering Rock River under the high Moline bridge.

Meyer, according to the sheriff, said he threw the girl from the bridge.

The sheriff said Meyer confessed he bound and trussed the girl in a burlap sack at a cleaning establishment in which he was interested. He said she had fallen in an alley, striking her head and becoming unconscious.

He took the girl inside the establishment, but was unable to revive her. Becoming panicky, Meyer said, he tied her up without knowing whether she was dead or alive and carried her to his truck, drove to the bridge and dumped the body into the river.

Famous Aviator Missing

BUENOS AIRES, February 16 (C.C. Cable). — Captain J. A. Mollison, distinguished British flyer, who just last week completed a 5,800-mile flight from Lympne, England, to Rio de Janeiro, is missing on a flight from the latter city to Buenos Aires.

Captain Mollison, only man to fly the Atlantic solo from East to West, took off for this city at 3.32 a.m. (1.32 a.m. E.S.T.), and had not been reported at 10.30 a.m. (8.30 a.m. E.S.T.).

PROVINCE WILL FOLLOW OTTAWA IN INTEREST CUT

Henry Denies Suggested Plan to Lower Savings Rates.

AWAITING ACTION.

Chief Move Coming From Banks is Unofficial Opinion of Queen's Park.

TORONTO, Feb. 16. — Premier Henry made it perfectly clear yesterday that the Province of Ontario is ready to follow any lead the Federal Government may give in respect of the widely-mooted suggestion of a lowering of prevailing rates of interest.

Assurance to this effect came from the Premier after he had denied there was any particular significance to a reference to the interest question which had appeared in the Legislature Speech from the Throne. There was no thought at the present time, he emphatically stated, of reducing the interest rates (as had been inferred in some quarters from the Speech reference) on deposits in Provincial savings banks.

Will Follow Lead.

"However," he said, "we are ready to follow any lead that the Dominion authorities may lay down in this matter."

It is generally known that at the recent Dominion-Provincial conference in Ottawa, the interest rate situation was extensively discussed, although no action was decided upon. The feeling of the provinces on that occasion is said to have been that the initial step in lowering rates should come from Ottawa.

Unofficial opinion around Queen's Park is that the chief move toward that objective just now is coming from the banks themselves.

FIELD MARSHAL IS LAID TO REST

Great Warrior, Sir William Robertson, Buried as Civilian—Own Request.

GREAT MEN ATTEND.

By THOMAS T CHAMPION
(C. P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, Feb. 16. (C. P. Cable) Field Marshall Sir William Robertson, who rose from the ranks to become one of the nation's outstanding soldiers, was burried today as a civilian. He died last Sunday at the age of 75.

In accordance with his explicit directions the field Marshal's funeral was devoid of all military display. He was buried privately at Brookwood, not far from Bisley, where many Canadians who died in England during the Great War lie in their graves.

No uniforms were worn by military pall bearers. The coffin was born to the cemetery in an ordinary hearse. No bugler sounded the last post. At the crowded memorial service in Westminster Abbey, Lord Allenby, hero of the eastern front in the war, who represented the King, wore civil dress, and even representatives of regiments with Sir William was closely associated were in mufti. Col. G. P. Vanier, secretary to the Canadian High Commissioner's office, represented the Dominion.

All arrangements were made in keeping with the Marshal's changed attitudde which took him to many platforms in his later years to condemn what he called the futility of war.

Escapes Would-Be Assassin's Bullet

PRESIDENT-ELECT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

who had a narrow escape from a would-be assassin's bullet at Miami, Florida, last night, while five others, including Mayor Cermak of Chicago, were injured.

RELIEF FRAUDS NET JAIL TERMS

Two Hamiltonians Given Month and Fines or Extra Sixty Days.

WOMAN ARRESTED.

HAMILTON, Feb. 16 (C.P.) — Stern measures against those who practice frauds upon the City Relief Department were taken in Police Court to-day when a number of persons were convicted of this offense. G. W. Ballard, Crown Attorney, stated that the deceptions practiced upon the city would, if unchecked, antagonize the taxpayers who had to foot the bill, and would work to the hardship of those who deservedly received relief. Magistrate H. A. Burbidge concurred in this view, and warned that under the statutes governing fraud, such offenders could be sent to penitentiary for three years.

John Wardack admitted receiving $41 in civic aid to which he was not entitled. He was given one month in jail plus a fine of $50, in default of which he must serve an additional two months. His wife was charged also, but had been called yesterday and did not appear, the excuse being that her child was sick.

Fail to Find Child.

Police visited the home and found no child, so to-day Stella Wardack was locked in the cells, to remain there while the police investigate. Wardack was found to be also guilty of a breach of recognizance, having been convicted of bigamy in 1931. He was given three months on this count, the term to be consecutive.

Nick Orik received $28.60 from the city fraudulently and was sentenced to one month plus a fine of $40 or two months. Sam Hewson represented to relief officials that he had a child named Margaret and received aid for the supposed little girl. Later it was found that she did not exist. He was remanded a week for sentence. A similar decision was made in the case of Joseph Schoffer, also guilty of a relief fraud.

OUT FOR MODERATOR.

NEW GLASGOW, N.S. — Pictou Presbytery has recommended Rev. J. A. Ramsay, of Moncton, as a candidate for the post of Moderator of the United Church of Canada. Mr. Ramsay formerly was pastor of St. Andrew's church, New Glasgow.

Says Cold Boon In Disguise

MEMPHIS, Tenn., February 16 (C.P.). — After all, the common cold may be one of the b'essings of mankind" in disguise.

Dr. Logan Clendenning, Professor at the University of Kansas, had termed it that to-day in te ling physicians attending the Mid-Sou h Post-Graduate Medical Assembly that colds give men the opportunity to "loll around the house for a couple of days."

"What this country needs is more men staying at home occasionally to rest and regain their mental equilibrium," he added.

BOYD IN HANDS TORONTO POLICE

Suspected Back Bandit Remanded on Charge Possessing Revolver.

TWO OTHERS SOUGHT.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Stanley Lawrence, alias John Boyd, alleged robber of banks at Toronto and Hamilton, appeared in Police Court to-day on a charge of possessing a revolver and was remanded for a week, and turned over to Toronto officers. Boyd was manacled to a police officer.

Warrants were sworn out yesterday in Hamilton and Toronto, charging Boyd with bank robberies. The one at Hamilton occurred in the Royal Bank on Mount Hamilton last November 22, when more than $2,000 was taken. The loot in the Toronto robbery was $5,000.

Hamilton police also have issued a warrant for Marion Fauria, Windsor truck driver. Toronto police yesterday issued a warrant for an unnamed accomplice of Boyd, or Lawrence.

Toronto detectives have been here several days investigating and expect to leave for Toronto late today with the prisoner.

Boyd was arrested Monday at a Windsor hotel. A revolver found in his room is believed to have been stolen from the Toronto bank at the time of the holdup. Police also seized $750, thought to be part of the loot.

BANDIT IS SHOT PALS CAPTURED IN GUN DUEL

Fracas Occurs as Police Trail Car to House After Bank Hold-up.

$50,000 LOOT RECOVERED.

Three Women Accomplices Held—Prisoners Confess to Other Robberies.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16 (C.P.). —Within an hour after they had held the cashier prisoner and looted the First National Bank of Suburban Ambler, four bank bandits today fought a thrilling pistol battle with police armed with sub-machine guns.

One man was killed, three others captured and three women held as suspected accomplices.

About $50,000 was taken from the bank, all of which was recovered.

Detective - Lieutenant James (Shuey) Malone said the surviving bandits confessed to three bank holdups in New Jersey. They also are suspected of two additional bank robberies in Philadelphia besides the one at Ambler.

The dead man was identified by police as William Ferguson, 35, who only recently was released from prison in Baltimore after being held there in connection with a jewel robbery.

All Identified.

Others who figured in the battle and declared by detectives to be implicated in the bank robberies were identified as Barney Wacht, 31, alias "The Spider"; Samuel Mitchell, 38, who rented the house in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia, where the police fought the battle, and James McGee. All are Philadelphians.

The women held said they are Catherine Mitchell, wife of one of the men held; Betty Berman, declared to be the woman who rented automobiles with which the gang worked, and Alice Daly of Atlantic City.

Gunman Opens Up As Mr. Roosevelt Completes Speech

Little Hope Is Held For Recovery of One of The Women Who Was Shot—Chicago's Mayor Has a 50-50 Chance For Recovery.

ALLEGED ASSAILANT RESCUED FROM CROWD EXULTS IN CRIME—SORRY I DIDN'T KILL HIM.

By Francis M. Stephenson

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—A gunman who "hates" all governments tried to assassinate United States President-elect F. D. Roosevelt last night and failed as the five shots he fired struck five other persons, one of them Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago.

With an old fashioned .32 calibre pistol Guiseppi Zangara, shot wildly into the crowd gathered about the automobile of Mr. Roosevelt in the picturesque bay front park just as the next president had concluded a brief speech.

Mayor Cermak, standing just behind the Roosevelt car, was among the first hit. A bullet lodged in his abdomen and an operation was contemplated as physicians reported he had a little better than a fifty-fifty chance to live.

Shocked and started by the gun play, Mr. Roosevelt waited to pick up the Chicago mayor, and sped to the hospital with him. He remained there to visit the other victims and cancelled his train departure for New York until today.

Fired Blindly Into Crowd

Firing blindly into the throng, the assassin made each of his five shots good although he missed the mark for which they were intended.

The other wounded are:

Mrs. Joe Gill of Miami, shot in abdomen.

Miss Margaret Kruis of Newark, N.J., shot in hand.

Russell Caldwell of Miami, shot in head.

"Mayor Cermak was given a "fifty-fifty" chance for recovery. To-day Mrs. Gill's condition took a turn for the worse and was described as "most critical." The others were believed out of danger.

Confusion prevailed for a few minutes as the crowd milled about. Secret Service men and police

HOSPITALS IN PALESTINE ARE OPEN TO ALL RACES AND CREEDS

Arabs Like Zionist Methods Which Lack Missionary Activity.

TREAT ALL ALIKE

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN
(Copyright.)

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9.—Although not inspired by philanthropic motives or charitable endeavor, the policy of Zionism has in practise come down to this: Doing good to the Arabs. Every Jew, whether he be a Zionist or not, may be justly proud of his people's record in the post-war Palestine. No taint of injustice attaches to the White and Blue banner of Hope which Zionism has unfurled in the Holy Land. And yet this policy of "doing good" to the Arabs is detrimental to the cause of Zionism itself. It has cost the Jews tremendous sacrifices, both in blood and in money. For this policy has naturally involved a deflection of Zionist energy into other channels than those directly leading to the transformation of Palestine into a Jewish homeland.

Self Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Alone in the cafe where she is employed, Miss Barbara Chick was nonchalant when two gunmen demanded the money from the cash register.

"Get it yourself," she said. "This place is cafeteria style for robberies."

The intruders helped themselves to $16 as Miss Chick went ahead with the business of filling sugar bowls.

Empire Agreements Show Good Results

OTTAWA, Feb. 16. (CP)—"Empire agreements and preferences showed very definite results in January," says Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in a statement issued to-day.

"The January exports to the United Kingdom totalled in value $12,626,208, an increase of $2,754,757, or almost 28 per cent over January 1932, and an increase of $4,634,534 or about 58 percent over January, 1931

"The increases were pretty much along the whole line of Canadian products" Mr. Stevens states. "From agricultural products to chemicals there was a considerable general advance in our trade with Great Britain."

DETROIT BANKS ARE OPEN TODAY

Depositors Are Allowed, However, to Draw No More Than 5 p.c. of Balance.

CASH RUSHED IN.

DETROIT, Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Some of Detroit's millions of "money in banks" becomes "money in pocketbooks" to-day for the first time since last Saturday noon.

Added encouragement to citizens hard pressed for cash because of the eight day bank holiday proclaimed by Governor William A. Comstock last Tuesday morning came in the announcement that President Hoover would ask Congress to enact emergency legislation which would relieve the banking situation in Michigan.

Executives of Detroit banks said they received that assurance in telephone conversations with President Hoover and Secretary of the United States Treasury, Ogden L. Mills, during a conference here late yesterday.

All but one of Detroit's banks were re-opening to-day, but permitting only emergency withdrawals. The maximum any depositor may withdraw until the end of the extraordinary "holiday" next Tuesday is five per cent of his balance.

$25,000,000 Available

The aggregate thus made available, however, is estimated at $25,000,000 in Detroit alone. Many times that amount is on hand. The Detroit Federal Reserve Bank has received $40,000,000 in recent days from New York and Chicago.

Many outstate banks were remaining closed, or opening only to furnish change and perform similar services without permitting withdrawals. Scores of those banks have heavy deposits in Detroit institutions and they, like any other depositors, can withdraw only five per cent.

The Detroit Bank remaining closed to-day was the Union Guardian Trust Company, the institution whose condition precipitated the drastic action. All other local units of the Guardian-Detroit-Union Group, Inc., with which it is affiliated, were opening in accordance with the Detroit Clearing House Association's plan.

JOBLESS RIOTING.

MONTREAL, February 16 (C.P.) —Further disturbances broke out in the Vitre Street Unemployed Refuge here to-day, and police were rushed to the scene to quell the rioting.

MORROW TROPHY PLAY ATTRACTS 18 QUARTETTES

Keen Exhibitions of Roarin' Game Seen in First Round This Morning.

FORMER WINNERS ABSENT.

Rinks From Millbrook, Norwood, Keene, Lakefield and Cobourg Taking Part.

Eighteen rinks representative of local and district clubs are participating in the Open Bonspiel for the prized Morrow Trophy here today. Besides the dozen Peterborough rinks, the line-up includes includes rinks from Millbrook, Norwood, Keene, Lakefield and Cobourg.

Ten rinks took the ice at nine o'clock this morning in the first draw and some nice exhibitions of curling were witnessed in the forenoon. The remaining eight rinks in the second draw commenced play at the conclusion of the first series of games around noon.

Five times holders of the Morrow Trophy since it was first put up for annual competition in the open 'spiel by W. G. Morrow in 1919, Peterborough curlers entered a strong representation, which included Skips Walter J. Oke and Dr. N. H. Sutton who recently won their way into the O.C.A. Tankard play-offs at Toronto. Incidentally Oke, who skipped a rink against D. Charlton of Lakefield in the second draw, was vice skip on Alec Kay's rink, when that rink won the Morrow Cup in 1921.

Lindsay, Fenelon Falls and Orillia successive holders of the Cup failed to put in an appearance. Outside of Peterborough all the other district clubs entered in the contest have yet to win the trophy for the first time.

Veterans Absent

Dr. J. N. Harvie of Orillia, this year's winner of the Ontario Silver Tankard and holder of the Morrow Trophy in 1926 and 1927, was conspicuous by his absence. For almost twenty years this doughty veteran of the roarin' game has visited Peterborough for the Open Bonspiel. This year the date happens to clash with the Macdonald Brier Trophy games in which the doctor is playing.

Each of the rinks will play three games, with two points for each win. This morning's results for the Morrow Cup were:

Campbell Attempt Is Again Postponed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Sir Malcolm Campbell of England likely will be unable to make an official attempt to break his own world's automobile speed record of 253 miles an hour before Saturday.

The giant Bluebird racing car of the 48-year-old driver has been torn down and the parts strewn about its garage as mechanics labor to complete several major adjustments. They said it would not be in condition for speed trials before tomorrow at the earliest.

Company Based on Mutual Principle Has 8,251 Members.

(By a Staff Reporter.)

LINDSAY, Feb. 16.—An increase of $66,000 in cash receipts and a reduction of $57,000 in the total expenditure over 1931 was reported by Bruce McNevin of Reaboro, president of the Farmers' Union Mutual Fire Insurance Company, at the 38th annual meeting of the company here yesterday.

This company, based on the mutual principle, has 8,251 policies in force with a total risk of $22,068,714. Victoria and Peterborough counties are the centre of its territory, which extends also into Ontario, Durham, Northumberland and Haliburton counties.

Its policy holders are its members, electing their own directorate, its capital stock consists of the premium notes given by the 8,251 members, and its entire scope and management is confined to the rural section of the six counties.

Expense of management last year amounted to $16,450.48, representing a cost of 6c per $100 of insurance in force.

With an attendance of about 200 members yesterday, and expressions of confidence in the company's progress and also in its directorate, the annual meeting was largely a calm procedure of routine as compared with the excitement of a year ago when hundreds of members met in the armouries to protest against the special assessment which was decided as a necessary financial safeguard as a result of the fire loss of $133,147.53. It was then realized that many of the members did not fully understand and appreciate the principle of mutuality, but the extreme conditions which were then recognized as one of the economic "hangovers" from the lush years of the last decade had to be met by that unusual recourse together with other changes in insurance to conform with the depreciated values of property.

After that temporary turbulence and the subsequent clearing of the air, the company proceeded on an even keel throughout 1932 reporting a total fire loss of $77,490.98 as compared with $133,147.53 in 1931 and $111,225.23 in 1930.

Twelve Directors.

One of the minor changes adopted yesterday was the increase in the directorate from ten to twelve members.

The two new directors are G. A. Brethen of Norwood and Fred H. Clayton of Beaverton. Three dirtors re-elected were Wesley Campbell of Nestleton, Thomas Brown, Peterborough, and R. S. McElwain of Gelert.

The other directors whose terms are unexpired are: Bruce McNevan, president; J. J. Robertson, Dunsford, vice-president; Fred A. Eason, Otonabee; Jasper Forman, Kirkfield; Charles Jenkins, Little Britain; Alex Horn, Lindsay, and F. G. Sandy, Omemee.

SENATE GROUP FAVORS RAILWAY ARBITRAL BODY

AMENDMENTS CONFIRMED.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (C.P.)—The Senate Railway Committee, without a recorded vote, put the stamp of approval to-day on the clause in the new railway legislation setting up an arbitral tribunal to render decisions in the event of disputes that might arise between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies in the future co-operative efforts.

Although the committee had previously gone through practically the whole of the bill and prepared it for a report to the Senate, all amendments relating to the proposed arbitral tribunal were only tentatively adopted pending to-day's final decision as to whether or not any such tribunal would be set up.

Only three members of the committee opposed the tribunal. They were Senators James Murdock, John Stanfield and F. L. Beique. Senator Murdock moved an amendment that in place of an arbitral tribunal, set up by the act, the disputing companies could set up conciliation boards. He secured only two active supporters and the motion was lost 14 to three.

Subsequently all the amendments and clauses respecting the operations of the tribunal, tentatively adopted, were confirmed. The committee will meet again this afternoon with little work on the measure left to be completed. Section 25, dealing with appeals from the tribunal's decision, and a couple of proposed added safeguarding clauses, will be considered.

AUSTRALIA STILL PAYING $2,000,000 WEEK FOR WAR

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 16.—(C.P.).—Official figures show that Australia is still paying, at par, $2,000,000 a week for the Great War. The total war bill shouldered by the Commonwealth is approximately $3,850,500,000 at par, nearly $600 per person.

Of that amount $260,000,000 was actually spent by Australia in combat. War expenditures by the Commonwealth since the armistice was signed have been $510,000,000.

Interest charges and pension payments have been the two chief factors.

HOUSE STUDIES FAST HANDLING OF ESTIMATES

Scheme May Cut Length of Average Parliamentary Session by Third.

McGIBBON'S IDEA.

Would Refer Items Now Passed by Whole House, to Special Committee.

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (C.P.)—Speedier and more efficient handling of the sums of money voted by Parliament for the public service is the object of a plan now before the House of Commons. If adopted it will mean a radical change in a system which has been in vogue since the dawn of Parliamentary history and, in the opinion of some members, may cut the length of the average Parliamentary session by one-third.

The proposal is to have the estimates now passed through a committee of the whole House referred to a special committee. In urging adoption of the change Dr. Peter McGibbon (Cons., Muskoka), who sponsors the idea, claimed the present system was unbusinesslike and out-of-date.

The plan found considerable favor on both sides of the House when it was discussed yesterday, although no decision was reached. Among those who supported it was Premier R. B. Bennett.

Discussion of the estimates gives private members one of their best opportunities of getting the grievances and needs of their own constituencies before the Government and the public. If a town wants a wharf, a new post office of a customs house, the member presses the claim when the Public Works estimates are under review.

Still Room for Discussion.

The new plan would not preclude the airing of such matters before the whole House for after approval by committee the estimates would come before the House. Minor matters, however, could be settled in committee.

An ordinary board of directors would accomplish more in three weeks than Parliament accomplished in three months, exclaimed Mr. McGibbon, introducing his resolution.

For 60 years the house had considered departmental estimates in the same old way, and "for heaven's sake let us bring up to date our methods of doing business."

Debate was not concluded at six o'clock, under the rules of the House, the dinner hour ended the debate and it may not be resumed this session.

Hon. J. C. Elliott, former Minister of Public Works, opposed the motion. "I am bound to say," he declared, "that I do not believe any time is better spent from the beginning to the end of the session than the time spent in committee of the whole while discussing how the people's money will be expended.

"Does the honorable member recall any instance in which the discussions have resulted in the reduction of the estimates by a single dollar?" asked the Prime Minister.

"Yes, I do," Mr. Elliott replied. He could not, however, recall any such instance since the present Government came into office.

Hon. James Malcolm (Liberal, North Bruce) said he did not think referring estimates to a committee would cut down the work of members of Parliament. There were a great many committees now, and members were cut short on time to attend to their mail, etc., in the mornings. He doubted whether anything would be gained by sending estimates to a small committee room there to be discussed by a limited number of members.

Bennett Favorable.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett said the case which had been made by

Potato Magnate

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 16. — (C.P.)—There may be something in a name after all. William Murphy, potato-grower extraordinary, has the permission of Sandwich Town Council to boss all those who choose to share his potato patch.

Mr. Murphy has more land than he can handle himself, so the Council agreed he can give his O.K. to those who will share the large plot with him.

The reason behind it all is that Mr. Murphy wants to keep potato bugs away from his spuds. Last year careless vacant lot gardeners adjoining his plot nearly ruined the Murphy harvest by not attending to their fields.

GLAD IT WAS ME CERMAK SAYS

Surgeons Decide Against Attempt to Remove Assassin's Bullet.

HOLDING HIS OWN.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Lying cirtically wounded from an assassin's shot intended for United States President-elect F. D. Roosevelt, Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago said to Mr. Roosevelt at the hospital here last night, "I am mighty glad it was me instead of you."

A deep expression of agony showed in the sun-tanned face of President-elect Roosevelt as he bent over the bed.

"I wish you would be careful," Cermak continued, "the country needs you."

"We need you and men like you," replied Mr. Roosevelt, who had held the Mayor in his lap en route to the hospital. He spoke words of encouragement and sympathy as he left.

About midnight physicians decided upon an operation, but a second consultation resulted in a contrary decision.

More than one hundred telegrams and long distance calls from all parts of the country were received at the hospital expressing hope for Mayor Cermak's recovery. Among the telegrams was one from President Hoover.

The following statement was issued by physicians:

"The condition of Mayor Cermak at 2 a.m. was as follows: Pulse 88; temperature 98.6; respiration 24. His condition is regarded as dangerous but not immediately critical. The bullet evidently traversed the diaphragm and margin of the liver and lodged in the body of the eleventh dorsal tertebra. Surgical intervention is deemed unwise unless his condition becomes worse."

tent that it might be divided into two parts was discussed by some of the members, including Fred Sandy, Tom Brown, Fred Eason, Chas. Logan of Verulam, and Jasper Forman. The consensus was in agreement with Mr. McNevin that this subject might be considered at some future meeting when the universal economic cloud has lifted and industry has regained its normal flow of prosperity. For the present, however, the idea was dismissed completely in the metaphor of Mr. Forman that it is no time to swap horses when crossing a stream.

Mr. McNevin's assertion that the cost of insurance could be reduced most efficiently by better measures of fire prevention was endorsed by other speakers, and it was emphasized that this improvement could be achieved by more care and precautions by each member of the company.

Several questions of insurance were referred to the directors.

President's Address.

In his presidential address Mr. McNevin touched upon two topics, the general condition of farmers to-day and the progress of the compan last year.

"When you compare the present price level of farm products with taxation, interest, fixed charges, living expenses, etc., it reveals a state of financial embarrassment without precedent in the history of Ontario agriculture.

A farmer with $150 taxes to pay, if he made payment in 1932 with hogs at curent prices must sell 23 hogs weighing 200 pounds to pay the bill. In 1926, far removed from war time prices, 5½ hogs were sufficient. If he paid with buckwheat, 600 bushels are required in 1932 at current prices, but 250 bushels in 1926 would have settled the bill. If he paid with fall wheat, 375 bushels would have been necessary in 1932 as compared with 100 bushels in 1926."

After mentioning three topics which he suggested for discussion, Mr. McNevin continued: "It should be borne in mind that while the total amount of insurance at risk of $23,567,759 is less than was carried in previous years, the insurance written in 1932 of $5,136,435 would have represented a much larger amount based on the valuations of former years.

While we are pleased to report a reduction in the amount of the fire losses of $55,655.55, as compared with the experience of the previous year, each member by practising Take Farmers' Mutual fire prevention about his own premises may eliminate further much of the unnecessary fire loss. This can be substantiated by the fact that the five outstanding causes of farm fires contributed to our total loss as fololws: Unknown 22 p.c.; stoves, chimneys and roof fires, 13 p.c.; lightning 17 p.c.; lanterns and lamps 14 p.c.; thresher fires 3 p.c.; representing in all 69 p.c. of the total loss all preventable, and if eliminated would reduce the cost of insurance 50 p.c."

Mr McNevin stated that the directors last year were firmly convinced of the need and advantage of closer inspection of insured properties, adopted this policy and covered a large part of territory served by the company

"The total cost of this work amounted to $1,670. Of this sum $300 was paid to the former inspector up to the time the Board placed this responsibility upon the director representing each district. When you deduct travelling and other expenses I am sure you will agree the work was efficient at a very moderate cost, less than we pay out in many cases for one fire.

When you consider the extra work entailed with the collection of $133,500 on the assessment account and 1,200 adjustments that were effected following inspection of our risks, we report an increase in the cost of management of only $27 over the previous year.

The total cost of management of $16,460.48 represents a cost slightly over 6 cents per $100 of insurance in force. The reduction effected by the Board in their fees and the extra effort on the part of our staff assisted materially in keeping our expenses down.

Fire a Serious Loss.

On the question of fire prevention and the economic aspect of the rural fire waste, I want to approach the question from the angle of the dire effects of the fire loss as a tax upon the resources of Agriculture. On all sides we hear of the straitened circumstances of the farm people. These stories are not exaggerated in the main, for in this broad land of peace and plenty there are to-day large areas of fertile land where tax sales are frequent and farm families are subsisting on relief. Our farms are not prosperous anywhere to-day, and in such a situation the needless burden of cost imposed by the fire waste would not be tolerated if clearly understood.

If Agriculture had the millions of dolairs lost by fire waste to spend for actual necessities, it would help to relieve the pinch of want in our unfortunate farm areas. Every saving helps, and the currents of trade will be unable to flow with full force until such times as the farm people are in reach of something more than taxes, interest and taxes. We need here a clarity of vision on the part of farmers, thus creating a fear of fire which would wipe out the large amount of preventable losses and bring about desired savings in the cost of insurance.

Agriculture stands to-day where it can scarcely stretch its resources to equal its bare necessities, and to be in such circumstances and yet needlessly wasteful is unworthy of so large a section of our people."

Mr. McNevin briefly sketched the progress of farmers' mutual insurance companies since they were first founded in Ontario in 1859. By way of a suggestion for future consideration he said that the local company had grown to such an extent that it could be divided into two sections or separate companies with one centre at Lindsay and the other at Peterborough.

The Peterborough office, Mr. McNevin said, might be made headquarters for the townships of Otonabee, Asphodel, Percy, Belmont, Harvey, Burleigh, North Monaghan, Douro, Dummer, Ennismore, Smith, Cavan, South Monaghan, and any part of Haliburton on the eastern side that might desire service at Peterborough.

Other parts of Haliburton and Durham with Victoria and Ontario counties could be made the other group with office at Lindsay.

In conclusion, Mr. McNevin said: "Mutual insurance has furnished the Ontario farmers ample protection over a long period of years at a very moderate rate. Its record merits your continued support and confidence."

One paragraph in the annual statement was as follows:

We regret to report the death during the year of George B. Nicholls of Peterborough, a former director and president of this company.

GUNMAN OPENS

pounced on the gunman. Women screamed.

Looking back from his car, Roosevelt waited for Cermak to be lifted in his car. Waving re assuringly to the crowd and told those near: "Tell them I am all right."

Issues Statement

Returning to the yacht of Vincent Astor, from which he had just landed from a fishing cruise, the President- elect early to-day issued the following statement:

"I am deeply moved by the serious injuries inflicted upon my friends to-night and I am remaining in Miami to learn in the morning of their condition. I am entirely unharmed."

President Hoover immediately communicated with Mr. Roosevelt by wire. He said:

"Together with every citizen I rejoice that you have not been injured. I shall be grateful to you for news of Mayor Cermak's condition."

The President-elect replied:

"I deeply appreciate your message. Mayor Cermak is resting, but his condition is still serious. I will wire you in the morning after I have been to the hospital."

Gruelling examination of the swarthy complexioned, stocky-built assassin by secret service men and Miami officials brought out a disconnected, wierd story.

Pistol Cost $8.00.

According to their acount Zangara purchased his pistol in a pawn shop here three days ago for $8.00. He told them he intended to kill President Hoover, but when he read that Mr. Roosevelt was coming here he decided to give attention to him

Second Arrest Made.

Taking no chances that the gun play was the work of one distorted mind, police early to-day took into custody under suspicion, Andrea Valenti, who lives at the same address as Zangara.

King High At Ski Races

State affairs, such as the depressing business of balancing budgets, war debts and so forth, are not allowed to interfere with the relaxation of King Carol of Roumania and his son, Prince Michael, who are shown as they attended the ski races at Predal, near Carol's Winter Palace. Note the up-to-the-minute costume for snow sports adopted by the royal fans.

Newspaper clippings found on Zangara reported the movements of Mr. Roosevelt, and police said one of the clippings told the story of the assassination of President McKinley.

Intimate friends of Mr. Roosevelt stood about his car for the brief speech he made as he motored from the yacht to the train. They included Robert Gore of Chicago, Marvin McIntyre, secretary to Mr. Roosevelt, and Representative-elect Wilcox of this district.

The next President had just spoken a few words into the microphone from his automobile. Sitting down beside Mayor Gauthier of Miami, he turned to talk with him when the firing started about 25 feet away.

Grabbed at Assassin's Arm.

It was a woman, Mrs. W. F. Cross of Miami, who grabbed at the arm of the assassin. James Galloway of Miami Beach joined her. George Broadnax, a secret service operative, pounced on the shooter. Police joined. With the departure of Roosevelt and the hurried carrying away of the assassin, order was quickly restored.

Mayor Cermak sagged to the pavement. Mrs. Gill also fell. The victims appeared stunned. It was the bystanders who did the shouting and screaming.

Police indicated at 5.15 a.m. today, after lengthy examination of Valenti, who was taken into custody on suspicion, that they did not believe him identified in any way with the attack made by Zangara on President-elect Roosevelt. He was held temporarily in custody, but the conviction grew that it was a one-man job.

At 6 a.m. hospital physicians reported that the conditon of Mayor Cermak had improved considerably. However, they said the condition of Mrs. Gill, wife of the president of the Florida Power and Light Company, had changed from critical to "most critical." The other victims were believed out of danger.

The penalty for attempted assassination in Florida is life imprisonment ,and that for assassination death.

Some Quotations.

President-elect Roosevelt, hearing the gunfire, sought to calm the crowd, saying: "I'm all right," when he saw the bullets had found human targets, ejaculations of deepest concern came from him.

Joe Zangara, the assailant: "I kill all Presidents! Kill all officers!"

The crowd: "Kill him! Lynch him-"

Anton Cermak, Bohemian-born Mayor of Chicago (as Mr. Roosevelt bent over him at a hospital): "I am glad it was me instead of you."

Mrs. Franklin D Roosevelt, whitefaced: "When you're in public life you've got to expect these things."

President Hoover: "It is a dastardly act."

BRICKLAYER BY TRADE.

HACKENSACK, N.J., February 16 (C.P.).— Police-Sergeant George Greeland said early to-day he learned a man named Joseph Zangara had lived at 100 Green Street here until September, 1931.

He said the man came to this country from Italy nine years ago, and was a bricklayer by trade. His real name, Greeland said, was Giuseppe Zangara, and that he often used another last name, Zingarn.

In September, 1931, Zangara left Hackensack, Greeland said, for either Paterson or New York. As far as inquiries went among men who knew the man, the policeman added, he did not show any abnormal traits or display Communistic tendencies.

On his person was found a note reading:

Lattin, who showed indications of being a drug addict, entered the home while both Kemper and his wife were absent. In the house were Sally Ann, her nurse, Ann Wilde, 19 and a maid, Beulah McNeal.

When Miss Wilde opened the door Lattin jammed an automatic pistol against her body.

"Don't yell," he warned. "I've come here for money and I'm going to get it. I know Kempter's girl is ill—that she's in an upstairs room. Lead me to her."

Demands $15,000

Gesturing over the child's bed with his gun, Latin told the girl.

"Get in touch with Kemper. Tell him to come home at once. When he gets here, tell him I want $15,000. If he doesn't give it to me, I'll kill this baby."

Mrs. Kemper returned. Threatening her, the intruder declared:

"I've placed a value, of $15,000 on my life. If you value the child's life you'll tell your husband when he arrives to be prepared to pay that sum to me. If he doesn't, I'm going to kill her."

While he threatened Mrs. Kemper, Miss Wilde slipped into another room and called police.

From a window Lattin saw a veritable multitude of officers in the yard. Realizing his plot had failed, he put his pistol to his temple and pulled the trigger.

The bridge sponsored by the Bemersyde Chapter, I.O.D.E., held on Tuesday evening in The Herold block, proved a very successful event with over one hundred people present. In all, twenty-three tables were in play; the winners being: Ladies, Mrs. J. O. Benor; Gent's, Mrs. H. Beatty; lucky chair, Dr. E. A. Stuart.

ROAD SURVEYED BY FINLAYSON

Minister Pleased With Progress Being Made on Coboconk-Dorset Rout.

COUPLE 50 YEARS WED.

LINDSAY, Feb. 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—Fire of a mysterious origin completely destroyed the barn on the farm of H. Golden, near Sunderland, on Tuesday night. Besides the barn, a large flock of sheep and about five hundred dollars worth of implements were burned. No one was living on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Adam, parents of Mrs. Bruce McLean, of Peterborough, are being congratulated by their friends on the occasion of their golden wedding. Both are natives of Port Hope. Mr. Adam retired as conductor on the C.N.R. five years ago, and was one of the best known trainmen on the division.

Owing to the contemplated merging of the ridings of North and South Victoria, Liberals are planning holding a convention in Lindsay during the next few weeks to nominate a candidate to contest the new riding for the Provincial Legislature. William Newman is the sitting member for North Victoria, and Deputy-Reeve Percy Pogue was nominated a few weeks ago as candidate for South Victoria.

Hon. W. F. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, made a trip over the Coboconk-Minden-Dorset Highway a few days ago, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the work that is being done.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Union Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held yesterday in the Town Hall, with a large attendance of policyholders from Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland and Victoria Counties. Mr. Bruce McNevin, of Reaboro, president of the company, presided. The statement presented by Miss James, treasurer, showed a reduction in the amount of total fire loss of $55,656.55, as compared with 1931, and cash assets in excess of liabilities of $50,000. Last year's officers and directorate were re-elected.

MAN COLLAPSES WHILE IN BOX

Ex-Service Man Collapses While Before Pensions Tribunal.

DIFFICULT CASE

Suffering from a severe mental disability, and claiming that his condition resulted from having been blown up in a bomb explosion following a German air raid at Shorncliffe Camp, C. H. Sequire of Cobourg, a pension applicant, collapsed while giving evidence before the Pension Tribunal here yesterday afternoon.

Appellant was assisted from the witness chair by Pension Advocate, Harry Bray, and after having lain on one of the benches in the Council Chamber for a brief period returned to testify of his own volition.

An ex-service member of the Canadian Ordinance Corps, appellant was discharged from the service as medically unfit. His condition was diagnosed as dementia praecox. During and since his service in the army, Sequire testified he had suffered from hallucinations, and extensive bleeding from the nose.

After recovering from his seizure while giving evidence, the appellant sat in his chair giving further testimony in a halting manner, as if he found great difficulty in concentrating his thoughts.

"Is that all you can tell us?" asked Major J. F. McKay, chairman of the tribunal.

Sequire, sitting bolt upright in his chair, and looking fixedly ahead of him with a dazed stare, recounted an experience that befell him shortly after leaving Christie Street Hospital on one occasion. He had apparently been found wandering about on Spadina Avenue, and had probably been asked where he lived or where he was going. He only remembered very vaguely. At any rate, he stated when he came to his normal senses he found himself sitting in the waiting room at Fort William railway station. A railway official had told appellant that he got off the train at the station the night before. He had to pay his own way back to Toronto. It had cost him a lot of money. He went to the ticket agent at the station at Toronto and the ticket clerk recalled that he had purchased a ticket some days previously for Fort William.

Mr. Bray, addressing the bench, referred to the case as a very difficult one. "Here we have a case of dementia praecox," he said, "which indicates a congenital origin. But we have no proof of origin at all. It was hard to believe that it was a congenital condition in view of the evidence."

CARTERS LOSE TO LAKEFIELD

R. Wannamaker's Goal in Second Overtime Period Gives Homesters the Win.

HARD FOUGHT BATTLE.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 16. (Examiner Correspondence) — R. Wannamaker's goal in the second overtime period gives Lakefield a 5-4 victory over Payne's Carters in an East Peterborough league fixture played in the northern village last night. The teams treated Lakefield fans to a clever exhibition of the ice game, battling tooth and nail from the gong of the first bell.

Jewell drew first blood for the home team when he counted after three minutes in the first period while R. Wannamaker scored 6 minutes later. Lackey followed this up with a count for the Carters, leaving a score of 3-1 for the Lakefield crew.

Lackey scored the only goal of the second period while both teams battled hard for a tally. In the third period Williamson counted for Petes while Stuart added another to the Lakefield total. Maudsley sank the tieing counter one minute before the bell rang. The teams failed to score in the first overtime period.

Line-ups:

Lakefield—Goal, G. Wannamaker; defense, McFadden and Wingett; centre, Northey; wings, Jewell and Stuart; subs., R. Wannamaker, Kennedy and Walker.

Payne's Carters—Goal, Foley; defense, Lackey and Swanger; centre, Maudsley; wings, Magee and Williams; subs., Staunt, Jones and Meagher.

Referee—John Sabatino.

HOUSE STUDIES FAST HANDLING

Dr. McGibbon would support the setting-up of the proposed committee.

Time and again the House had occupied many hours on small items without regard to large matters involving policy expenditures. He believed the suggested committee should be tried out.

F. G. Sanderson (Lib., South Perth) said he would support the resolution if he thought it would have the effect sought by the mover, but he believed the result would be quite the contrary.

Nervous

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 16—(A.P.)—A street car conductor took one look at the "determined" expressions on the faces of four men who boarded his car to-day, decided they were bandits, and threw his money out of the window.

A moment later the quartette—Federal agents—arrested a passenger on a narcotics charge. The conductor hastily halted the car and spent some minutes scrambling for his money.

Earl Rowe (Cons., Dufferin-Simcoe) supported the resolution and expressed a doubt if the business men of Canada would approve of the methods by which the country's affairs are being conducted. He was talking when the House adjourned.

THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

More and more in recent years the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Ontario Legislature has evolved into a review of the past year's activities of the administration rather than a forecast of what is to be expected in the current year, and that was the case yesterday when most of the speech was devoted to a recital of what had been accomplished since the last session.

As was foreshadowed, little new legislation is promised for the present session, and all the items in this regard mentioned in the speech had already been announced, including a redistribution bill and a measure to provide further relief for mortgagors, both of which have already been brought to the attention of the public.

Ontario ratepayers, searching the text of the speech for evidence of the possibility of some relief in their tax bills, will undoubtedly find some ground for hope in the reference made to the work of the recently appointed budget committee, and will echo the words of the Lieutenant-Governor to the effect that the financial outlook of the province may be improved materially by the economies recommended by the committee.

There is every need for such an improvement, and it is to be hoped that the retrenchment will be sufficient to make a noticeable effect upon provincial taxation.

TO AVOID SKIDS.

At this season of the year, with provincial highways and city streets often covered with a slippery surface of ice and snow, skidding adds a new risk to motoring and a good many accidents result from this cause.

The Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Ontario, realizing that fact, have issued some helpful suggestions designed to reduce the number of skidding accidents. They are well worth the consideration of all motorists Here they are:

Check your windshield wiper at the start of each day to make sure it is in good working order at all times, as no accessory is more useful or more important.

Start the car slowly and evenly. Apply your power gradually.

Slow the car down to minimum speed before turning and keep the clutch in.

Round off turns and operate your steering wheel smoothly; avoid sharp turns and jerking of steering gear.

Avoid the necessity for sudden emergency stops by (a) slowing down when nearing intersections; (b) keeping a safe distance behind the car ahead; (c) driving at reduced speed.

Keep the steering gear tight and brakes squarely adjusted to work simultaneously.

Carry chains and use them whenever conditions warrant.

NOT THE TIME TO SCRAP IT.

The agitation over Section 98 of the Criminal Code which makes membership in any organization working for the overthrow of constituted authority an offence would seem to be a waste of time of Parliament.

If there ever was a year in which such a law could be considered necessary, surely it is this year of 1933; and seeing that the measure has been on the state books for over a decade without in any way prejudicing the welfare of law-abiding Canadian citizens, the proposal to toss this safeguard overboard in a period of greatly disturbed conditions might well be scrapped.

It is only necessary to point out that no loyal Canadian has any reason to regard Section 98 as a menace to his safety; only those who would by force overthrow our political and social system need fear the law, and on them no sympathy need be wasted.

Men who advocate Communism in Canada and who align themselves with organizations whose doctrine is to bring their policies into being by the use of forcible measures know what the law of the land is and what they are facing when they enter into membership in such organizations.

If they choose to set themselves up against constituted authority, they do so with their eyes open, and they must be prepared to accept the consequences.

It might be that under normal conditions there is no great need for a law of this nature, but in the face of present-day circumstances with evidence at hand of dangerous activities on the part of a certain element, it will do no harm to let the section remain.

It can hurt only those who would hurt this country.

IT MUST BE DONE.

Intimations that there is little likelihood of the civic tax rate being reduced this year will prove disquieting to a great many taxpayers, who have been hoping that the plight in which they find themselves would be recognized by a sincere and businesslike effort on the part of public spending bodies to cut down their expenditures.

It seems to The Examiner that unless each committee chairman devotes his attention to an honest endeavor to slash the appropriations of his own particular committee, instead of trying to make the other fellow do the saving, that not much progress in the way of economy will be effected.

What is needed in the present crisis is a program of genuine retrenchment that will cut deep into the public expenditures, not merely lop off a few dollars here and there.

The whole field of public service should be reviewed and every item studied carefully in the light of the certainty that unless the tax burden is lightened the arrearage in tax collections at the end of the current year will have reached disturbing proportions.

Many services have been provided in more prosperous years that could be easily budgeted for when civic revenues were buoyant and taxpayers generally were prosperous; to-day some at least of these services, a good many of the civic grants and other expenditures should be suspended for the time being.

It is beside the mark to say that a saving in taxation is not possible; it is not only possible but it must be done if a good many of our citizens are not to be driven to the wall.

USING OUR OWN PORTS.

News that the second test shipment of Canadian wheat has been denied the preference of six cents a bushel under the Canada-United Kingdom agreements, has been hailed with delight in the Maritime Provinces.

It may be that the news should be hailed with satisfaction throughout most of the rest of Canada.

When announcement first came that in order to get the preference wheat must be shipped from Canadian ports, a great cry went up. We were told that it would mean heavier shipping charges, that there would be loss for wheat growers, that, in any event, our ports couldn't handle the shipments.

All of these claims have been falsified. Halifax, Saint John and Vancouver have been receiving the bulk of wheat shipments for months past, and there have been no complaints from either farmers or shippers. In the meantime, Canadian railways are getting more traffic, Canadian ports more business, Canadian workmen more work.

On February 1, 1932, Canadian wheat in United States lake and Atlantic seaboard ports totalled more than 20,000,000 bushels. On the same date this year, according to figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Canadian wheat in the same ports totalled only 10,000,000 bushels. In other words, our wheat in United States elevators—where it helped Americans as against Canadians—is to-day but one-half of what it used to be. In the years 1929 and 1930, in fact, Canadian wheat in American elevators in February averaged 30,000,000 bushels.

This, surely, is to the good. It certainly is in line with the policy which, through more than a quarter of a century, has aimed to build up Canadian ports.—Ottawa Journal.

"BRITANNIA RULES THE AIR."

Aerial supremacy was clinched for Great Britain last week by two sturdy English flyers who took off from Lympne Aerodrome, England, and settled down in their seats for a 5,340-mile flight which landed them four-fifths of the way down Africa. In so doing they set the non-stop flight record of the world and thus annexed for Great Britain the three major aviation records.

Captain Cyril Unwins of the Royal Air Force has attained the record altitude of 43,976 feet; Flight Lieutenant George H. Stainforth has burned his way through the ether at the phenomenal rate of 408.8 miles per hour; Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Flight Lieutenant G. E. Nicholetts have outdistanced their rivals by flying 5,340 miles without stopping.

Truly not a bad record for one little country which is supposed to be "on the decline," and populated with "slow Englishmen."

The Royal Air Force officers are reported as having been little fatigued by the 57-hour journey and on their arrival at Walfish Bay "quietly explained they would have gone further, to Cape Town, if they had had any fuel left." The Canadian Press writer has caught the unostentatious attitude of the English flyers when he sums up the event thus: "It was a perfect ending to a perfectly planned and finely executed adventure."

From outward signs one might hardly know the British Air Ministry is probably the most active body of its kind and is doing more for the progress of aviation than any other organization. It admits of no procession of announcements that, "We are going to do this and we are going to do that," nor is there any riotous gloating over newly-gained laurels. The work goes ahead, systematically, thoroughly and quietly.

When, after months of preparation, including a vigorous training for the pilots, the Royal Air Force is prepared to launch another attempt to attain some difficult mark, the scheme is soberly announced. No encouragement is given the sensational aspect of the venture, which, should it be successful, is merely regarded as a vindication of experiments and plans.

The human side of the flights is referred to very little. It is taken for granted that the man chosen to execute these ventures is the best man available, is in perfect condition—mentally and physically—and prepared to give his all. He neither expects nor wants compliments or signs of hero-worship for his feat in overcoming fatigue and weakness, but has that incomparable feeling of satisfaction when the Air Ministry formally announces his flight a success.

The aviator placed in charge of the highly-powered and most up-to-date machine of the Royal Air Force, is not "Jack Smith, daring courier of the clouds," but "Flight Lieutenant Jack Smith."

The business-like yet restrained manner—perhaps therein lies the secret of its greatness—in which the Air Ministry attacks its work is found in convincing form in the official comment made on the recent crowning effort of the Royal Force—"The establishment of the record is not only valuable as further proof of the excellence of our aeronautical material, but also suggests a solution of difficult strategical problems, and more economical and effective employment of air units."—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Every donation to the Relief Fund eases the demand on the city treasury and helps the burdened taxpayer as well as the unemployed.

It took a royal commission five weeks to hear all the evidence in regard to the Sturgeon Falls relief situation. And now the question is, "What is going to be the next move "

Michigan people will have some difficulty at the present time in believing that the United States banking system is not inferior to the banking policy followed in this country.

The House of Commons has been in session for several weeks, but it cannot be claimed that much progress has been made in solving Canada's major problems.

Mr. Hoover declares that "the re-establishment of the gold standard among the important nations of the world" is the only way out of the present depression. It is a viewpoint that will undoubtedly be strongly stressed at the World Economic Conference.

THE TUTTS By CRAWFORD YOUNG

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

(CHAPTER 44

When Rodolf Holmes left the Embassy hotel on the mission assigned him by Jere Kane he was impelled by conflicting emotions of eagerness and hopelessness. He did not want to lose Nanette now; he loved her and wanted her to remain his wife.

But she had made up her mind. But one thing was uppermost in her mind; it was almost a fanaticism with her. She wanted success in the motion pictures and he knew that she would stop at nothing until she had won her way to the heights. It was an obsession.

Last night she had been a woman. She had forgotten the character of imperial snootiness with which she had been endowed. There was new color in her cheeks, a new light in her eyes, a new warmth in the way she spoke to him.

But something had happened today. What was it? The murder of Lillian Hull? Did she know something of that crime? He knew that she hated Lillian—and it was a hate that was so baseless, so foolish, born, as it was, of a few chiding words and a knowing wink.

When he had left her early this morning, after their return from their wedding trip to Nevada, she had been happy, laughing, chattering. She had been the woman he had known before that tragic affair in New Orleans. He had gone to the studio for his work verily walking on air.

But what happened from that hour until he saw her again? What had changed her so?

He tried to relive that morning in his thoughts in a vain effort to find the answer.

He remembered their parting at her home:

"I must get to the studio," he had told her. "There are some shots which must be made—"

"I know, Rodolf," she murmured. "In Hollywood no man is master of himself."

"I'm glad you understand, Nanette. But the picture will be complete today and then we will go away somewhere, just we two, to start life again and—"

"I'll be waiting for you, dear," softly.

He hastened to the studio and donned his make-up. On the set the director was irritable. The picture was behind schedule; the business office was "riding" him hard.

They were just getting ready to shoot the last scene when good old Bill Harrison laid down his megaphone at the approach of a messenger, listened intently to the message which had been brought and then called Holmes to him.

"Another one," Harrison, the director, groaned. "What are we going to do, Rodolf?"

Holmes' expression told the other that he did not understand.

"Lillian Hull," the other muttered.

Holmes started. He felt cold chills racing up and down his spine. "You mean," he could barely get out the words, "that she has been—murdered?"

Harrison nodded. "In her apartment—this morning."

"Who—who did it?"

"It's as much a mystery as the others," bitterly. "These police—"

"I must go to Nanette," hastily. "If anything happens to her—"

"I understand, Rodolf," gently. "I have known about you and the LeRoi for a long time. But you can trust me to keep my mouth shut—"

The two men shook hands and Holmes raced for his dressing room. A half hour later he was with Nanette. She greeted him coldly.

"I'm glad you've come, Rodolf," she said evenly. "I want to talk to you."

He dropped into the handiest chair. She stood in front of him. Lucy Wilbur came upon them, and was startled when she saw them, but Nanette would not let her go. Finally:

"We were very foolish last night, Rodolf," Nanette said. "We should never have done what we did."

"You mean, Nanette, you're sorry that we're—"

"Married? Yes," quickly. "It was a very foolish thing to do."

"But, Nanette," he started to protest.

"You must have the marriage annulled. We can't go on."

Holmes looked at Lucy in bewilderment, but she merely shrugged her shoulders and glanced away.

"Annulled! Why, darling, you're mad!"

"I was never saner in my life," coldly.

"But why?" he demanded hoarsely.

She paused to consider this for a moment. He could see that she had some secret, something she was keeping from him. Finally:

"My career," simply. "I have gone too far to give it up now, and if we should be discovered—well," with a nonchalant shrug of her shoulders, "it would ruin me."

"Oh, bosh!" he exclaimed disgustedly. "What do you want a career for, anyhow? I can take care of my wife. That is a man's prerogative—"

"Rodolf, that marriage is going to be annulled," coldly.

And he had left her, sick at heart, wondering if what had happened this morning had had anything to do with her decision.

Now, as he drove toward that little cottage in Beverly Hills he thought over all this and was suddenly seized with fear. Kane wanted her out of her house. Why?

Nanette received him graciously. When he walked into the house he found Dorotha and Lucy in the tiny drawing room. They greeted him with forced cheerfulness.

After a few brief preliminaries:

"Nanette," hopefully, "you've changed your mind—"

She shook her head and smiled weakly.

"But, Nanette, if we can go on—"

"It's no use, Rodolf," she cut in. "I have made up my mind."

He arose and faced her. His arms sought to encircle her but she slipped away. Disgustedly, he walked to the window and gazed out. The room was warm and he started to open the window.

Lucy glanced fearfully about. Dorotha started and clutched at her throat. Nanette said:

"Please don't open that window, Rodolf. It's rather cool."

He whipped around to face her. "Nanette, why don't you go off somewhere for an evening and think this thing over. Try to give me an even break—"

"Where would I go?"

Dorotha smiled. "That's it, Nanette—I mean Miss LeRoi—"

"It's all right, Dorotha. Nanette."

"Why don't you do as he suggests?" the secretary went on. "Go out tonight—get under the stars—the moon—and let your heart decide."

"Where," she repeated, "would I go?"

"Why not drive up to the summit house on Mount Lowe for dinner? It's wonderful up there," eagerly, "Just like it is in another world."

"Yes," Lucy added, "it will do you good, Nanette. The air up there is fresh and clean. It will make you feel like a new woman—even if it will be for only a short while."

"Will you go with me?" she asked them.

"I'd love to," Lucy exclaimed, "Just to get away from—all this."

There was an ominous ring in her words; her eyes narrowed and her cheeks colored.

"And you, Dorotha? I want you."

Dorotha hesitated. "I'm sorry, Nanette, I can't—"

"A date?"

"Yes—after a fashion."

"Oh, come on with us, the engagements will keep. You need to get away from all this just as much as we do."

"But I can't—"

"I'm not going to take any excuses," Nanette cut in. "Get your things and let's go."

A few moments later they drove away in the small car which belonged to Dorotha. She had suggested that it would be more chummy than Nanette's larger machine.

Holmes watched them go. Dorotha was driving, Nanette was in the middle and Lucy sat on the other side.

"Please, Nanette," he murmured, "don't wreck my life."

TIME FOR ACTION

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir—Thus far we have little evidence that either the Council or the Board of Education have a real view of the seriousness of the financial situation as it affects Peterborough.

At present home owners and landlords in the city are on a par with the farmers' condition. It is said that the ostrich hides his head and thinks himself safe so long as he cannot see the danger. Many humans do the same, and in the fear of being called alarmists refuse to face real conditions.

We must take note that rents, interest, principal, and taxes, in many instances (that are rapidly increasing) are not collectible. How long can tax paying property owners (rapidly decreasing in numbers) with decreasing revenues carrying this extra load in addition to their own?

It is also grossly unfair that these tax payers should be asked to maintain salary levels that in view of the lower cost of living really amounts to a bonus over normal times.

This is a situation analogous to war times when every class in the community should bear its share of the burden.

Our 1933 Council has yet failed to give necessary leadership. The meagre results of the Citizens Relief fund is an example. Financial objectives are not reached by simply inserting an ad. telling people where to contribute. This kind of work can only be accomplished by the enthusiasm of personal contact and inspiration. There are concerns here in Peterborough that if in Brantford would have been expected to give five thousand. The Council should renounce their own salaries, not so much for the amount as for the value of example and principle. Small salaries invite small men, and free public service invites and gets the best, especially under trying situations. If the Council took the lead there would be no excuse for the teachers and other civic employees to lag behind. The Toronto council has made itself ridiculous in this respect.

National leaders warn us that taxation has reached its limit and borrowing capacity almost the same. Government leaders state that aid to municipalities can not be maintained much longer at present rates; municipalities including Peterborough are unable to collect large tax arrears, others are going bankrupt.

The taxpayer is the only source of revenue for either government of municipality. Conscription of wealth would be next door to Communism, while the delusive bogey of inflation is only a sop for the simple. We must economize while it will do some good. When rent, interest principal, taxes, and consequently money for relief cannot be secured, how far will we be from Russian conditions

It is foolish complacency to ignore the fast approach of these conditions, and it is the essence of wisdom to prevent such a calamity.

School taxes are a heavy charge in normal times, now we must face the fact that many thousands of dollars of this tax is in hopeless arrears and the additional burden must be borne by the (ever decreasing number) of taxpayers already overburdened.

It is only absolute essentials that we can afford, only humanitarian grants should be considered; it is no time for band, tourist and exhibition, grants or cadet training and other frills.

It is time our governing bodies awakened to the needs of the situation and acted accordingly, nor should the unemployed house holder be taxed to bring a little revenue to service stations and main street dealers. Taxation must be for the benefit of all.

Yours truly,
Unemployed Householder.

30 Persons Attend Mount Horeb Y.P.S.

MOUNT HOREB, Feb. 16. — The weekly meeting of the I.P.S. was held at the church with more than 30 in attendance, when the Scripture lesson was read by Ross Parks, and the commentary on the Scripture given by Miss Robinson.

The topic, "Art and Music" was given by Mrs. Smith and was followed by some discussion. A humorous reading, "Why an engine is called a She," was given by Tommy Moore, and contests in charge of Mrs. (Rev.) Smith were enjoyed also.

The following meeting will be a social evening in the church when the Fleetwood Y.P.S., will be in attendance.

The members of the W.M.S. sponsored a social put on by the Busy Bee Mission recently.

Friends of Mrs. Harrison, sister of Mrs. B. McAlpine will regret to learn that she fell one day recently in Lindsay, breaking a bone in her wrist.

TRIFLE CARELESS.

WINDSOR. — H. Crowley was a bit careless with his gold trombone. He told police he left it on a curb in a downtown area, and some person "adopted" it . Value was $300, he says.

This signature would indicate the romantic and the practical in harmonious combination. Such a man commands the loyalty of others by reason of a personality scrupulously just, capable of deep feeling, unaffected, natural, spontaneous and "wise to himself." He thinks slowly, forging the chain of his thought deliberately and carefully, but delivers himself of his purpose, when that purpose is ready, with directness and executes it with unflagging energy. He knows what he can do and does that without hesitation; at the same time he knows what he can't do and lets it go at that. He talks little and does much. Always finishes what he starts and usually adds the extra touches he is under no obligation to make. He is fond of the outdoors, particularly of virgin territory, equally for its appeal to his romantice sensitively and to his love of natural freedom and delight in adventure.

'FRAID CAT!

When he was a youngster he was afraid of dragon flies. He had been told, and he believed it, that if you fell asleep in the dry grass of a summer's afternoon the dragon flies would come along and sew up your eyes. And who wants his eyes sewed fast by a dragon fly? Not that small boy.

When he was only a bit older he was afraid of witches. He thought that old lady who lived in the house on the edge of town was like the witch in Hansel and Gretel, and if she caught you she'd pop you into her big oven, fattening you first; and your father and mother would never see you again. Very terrible for you, very sad for them.

When he was a youth he was afraid of girls. They were mysterious, charming, impertinent creatures. They laughed at you. They made you feel awkward, embarrassed, all legs and elbows, and if a boy was wise he had very little to do with any of them. Go swimming and fishing with the boys, but have nothing to do with the girls.

When he was almost grown he was afraid of Death. He had gloomy thoughts about living. Life was rich and luscious, and some day he'd die. He was afraid he was a coward, but he didn't want anybody to know it. It used to bother him considerably. He'd look at other people and wonder whether they, too, were afraid.

For a while, too, he was afraid of Life. He didn't understand it. It was so immense and so various, and it carried so many challenges and so many responsibilities. How could one man bear so much on his young shoulders?

But he discovered, at last, that a dragon fly is harmless and beautiful, and the old witch is just an unhappy old woman, and girls are very nice when you get to know them, and that even Death is not anything to make a man cringe. He got himself into the war and learned in various violent ways that bravery is a common thing, that Death is but a minor character in the drama....

And at last it came to him that neither should life be a bugaboo. Let a man be busy and curious and let him learn for himself that Life can be a splendid grab bag....

So he feared Life no more, but was merely afraid that he might let too much of it escape him in his few short years on earth.

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

JOHN A'S SECOND MARRIAGE

On this date, in 1867, John A. Macdonald took a second wife, the bride being Agnes Bernard, daughter of the Hon T. J. Bernard, for many years a member of the Privy Council of Jamaica, and sister of Colonel Hewitt Bernard, who had acted as secretary of the Confederation conference at Quebec in 1864, and of the London conference in the winter of 1866 at which the final draft of the British North American Act was adopted. The ceremony took place in St. George's, Hanover Square, London, Eng. Mrs. Macdonald, who was to become Lady Macdonald on July 1 following, the first Dominion Day, proved an able helpmeet to the great statesman, caring for his comfort in health and sickness, conducting his homes with wisdom, according to their means, which varied greatly; for in the years 1873-78, when in opposition, John A. had pretty hard times and it required a strong women's ingenuity to make ends meet. She was always gracious, in poverty as in comfort. John A. was never well-to-do, having, even in the days of his premiership, many old debts to clear off, and not enjoying the large salary paid to prime ministers, for in those days the salary of the office was only $7,000 and the parliamentary indemnity only $1,000. Lady Macdonald gave Sir John a daughter Mary. She was, however, an invalid almost all her life, which ended only a few weeks ago.

When Sir John died in 1891 Queen Victoria, who had a great affection for her Canadian premier, herself conferred a peerage upon Lady Macdonald, who took the title Baroness Macdonald of Earnscliffe, the latter being the name of the Macdonald home on the shores of the Ottawa river. She lived until September 5, 1920 and spent most of her time in England and the south of France, never returning to Canada for any lengthy stay, although always glad to meet Canadians in the old world.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 16. (CP) — Wheat see-sawed in early trade to-day, influenced by a variety of opinion. From an unchanged opening values soared on strength of buying against export but later settled back to opening values.

Prices at the mid-session period were an even ⅛c higher with the May future quoted at 8; July at 49 and October at 50.

Pit operations were mixed in character. Early reports indicate that slightly more than 500,000 bushels of wheat was worked for export from the Pacific seaboard overnight, with one cargo cleared to the Orient.

Liverpool wheat opened lower due to the forecast of larger shipments from Argentina again this week and near the close were ½d to ¾d lower per 100 pounds. Buenor Aires wheat was ⅛c to ¼c lower per bushel at noon.

Argentine wheat shipments for the week are estimated at 5,000,000 bushels, or about 1,000,000 bushels more than was shipped last week. There was no wheat cleared from Black Sea ports last week.

DOUKHOBORS STAND BEHIND THEIR LEADER

REVIEW "OPPRESSION."

Society Charges Government Leading Dark Role Over Community.

BRILLIANT, B.C., Feb. 16 (C.P.) —The arrest and conviction of Peter Verigin, head of the Canadian Doukhobor community, for perjury "is nothing else but a pretense of some politicians who are at the head of government and have been seeking his deportation from Canada for their personal egotistic reasons," charged the Union of Youths of the Canadian Community of Doukhobors to-day.

In a message provoked by the attempt of the Canadian Government to deport Verigin from Canada, following commutation of his sentence for perjury, the Union of Youths of the Doukhobor Communities declared the Doukhobors were promised freedom of religion in Canada.

"But shortly after they settled," the declaration went, "these promises were broken and confiscation of land followed for refusal to take the oath of allegiance. All this was endured patiently, but the last actions of the authorities challenge us to tell the truth."

No Chance of Farewell

Commutation of Verigin's sentence from eighteen to nine months "without the knowledge of Mr. Verigin or his counsel, without granting him an opportunity to bid farewell to his old mother and his people, and also depriving him of the possibility of completing his important matters is one of the most malicious acts to which humanity can bring itself," the declaration added.

The "spiriting" of Verigin from jail at Prince Albert and his rush trip to Halifax, where deportation is now being stayed pending court action by Verigin's advisers, was described as reminiscent of the Spanish Inquisition. "It is clear," the Union also said, "the Government is leading a dark role over the Doukhobors and their leader."

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, February 16 (C.P.). —The stock market suffered another sinking spell to-day with numerous declines ranging from 1 to more than 3 points, but short covering in the late dealings reduced losses by about half. Tobacco firmed with American Tobacco B and Liggett & Myers B advancing fractionally. Losses of about 2 to 3 points occurred in Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Public Service of New Jersey, Corn Products, and Union Pacific, but were reduced by about a point later. Extreme losses of more than 4 points occurred in Texas Gulf Sulphur and Norfolk & Western. Turnover approximated 1,050,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Following an early afternoon spell of weakness, prices on the Standard Mining Market firmed slightly but the trend throughout the day was downward. For the moment the sponsorship which several gold shares enjoyed over the last several weeks seem to have been withdrawn and while no sell-off has developed buying power is lacking.

Qute a lot of Noranda was taken to-day in small lots, suggesting public participation and the stock held up better than some others. It closed down 25 at 24.60. Nickel fell off from $9.45 to $8.95 before firming to close at $9.15.

High-priced gold stocks maintained a fairly even course. Hollinger at $7.65 was off 10, McIntyre at $26.40, off 40; Teck at $4.55, off 5, and Wright Hargreaves at $4.68, off 2.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 16.—(CP)—Miscellaneous issues took a small flop today and the interlisted shares were not any too firm but otherwise it was just another day on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Investors must have been quite satisfied with the British American Oil Company's statement issued yesterday for they bought that issue freely today and kept the price at 8. The other shares of the group just held on without change.

C.P.R. and Brazilian were the weakest in the interlisted section, the big rail at 11¼ while Brazilian went back to 8. Ford held at 7 and Nickel at 9¼ was off ⅛.

In the Utilities Bell Telephone held its ground as did also Consumers Gas but the Quebec Utilities receded fractions. Sagging tendency in the Goodyear issues featured the miscellaneous list. The preferred issue fell to 85⅛ and the common to 45½.

CONDITION OF TWO VICTIMS VERY SERIOUS

awaited to-day the outcome of Anton J. Cermak's condition with anxiety and hope for his recovery.

The first reports that the Mayor had been shot by the gunman who failed to take the life of United States' President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, were followed by speculation that a gangland plot might have been responsible because of Cermak's determination to drive all hoodlums out of Chicago before the World's Fair opens in June, only to be discounted later by officials.

Miami officials were asked to arrest 18 Chicagoans reported seen in Florida recently.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, however, after a conference with police, expressed belief that no gangland motive was responsible.

"My only official interest," he said, "was to learn whether there were any Chicago gangsters involved. Evidently there was none."

Guard Is Increased.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (C.P.).— President Hoover, shocked by the attempt upon the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt, his successor-elect, today found a doubly alert guard of secret service agents watching over his own safety.

Acting upon their own initiative, White House secret service guards threw extra precautions around the United States chief executive even before word of the Miami shooting was relayed to him. This added watch was continued to-day as Mr. Hoover received by his own request more details of the attempted assassination.

These were the words of the President as he and members of the White House family were awakened last night by the startling report from the south.

The chief executive's deep feeling was felt all through official and unofficial Washington. On every street corner as details spread in an ever-widening circle there were words of anger, shock and surprise.

Speaker Garner, the Vice-President-elect, was awakened and expressed his disturbance over the news. Friends of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago poured out their sympathy and regret.

PRISONER EXAMINED .

MIAMI, Fla., February 16 (C.P.). —Guiseppe Zangara, his bulging eyes dilating as he talked with severe interrogators high up in the Dade County Jail, to-day said he had no regrets for his attack on United States President-elect F. D. Roosevelt.

Speaking in broken English, the prisoner answered questions readily Sheriff Hardie, something of a linguist, helped carry the conversation Here is Hardie's account of the examination:

"Why do you want to kill? Did you want to kill the police who caught you?"

"I no care to kill police," he replied. "They work for leeving. As a man I like Meester Roosevelt. As a President I want to keel him. I want to keel all Presidents."

"In Italy ten years ago. I want to keel the King, but I cannot get to heem."

"Are you an anarchist?"

"I do not belong to any society. I am not an anarchist. Sometimes I get beeg pain in the stomach, too, and then I want to keel these Presidents who oppress the working men."

There is a deep scar on the abdomen of the assassin. He speaks to the officers without apparent realization of what he did. Occasionally he grows bitter.

He said he came to Miami about two months ago, "because they tell me it will help these pains in my stomach."

He has been in the United States for about nine years, and is understood to be a naturalized citizen.

He is caged in a little steel barred cell 21 floors above the ground in the Dade County Jail.

Truck, Auto, Trolley Smash, One Man Hurt

TORONTO, Feb. 16. (CP). Passengers screamed and brakes shrieked when a street car, an automobile and a milk truck figured in a terrific smash to-day.

Then J. Parker, truck driver, stepped from his cab nursing a slight scratch—the only casualty.

Thomas Clark said he was driving alongside the street car and behind the truck when the latter stopped. Clark applied his brakes. His machine crashed between the street car and truck and finished its dash smashed on the front end of the car. The impact sent the truck bouncing over the curb and crashing into a tree.

Clark, with his auto twisted and battered and glass showered all about him, said he "felt a bit shaky."

EARLY ELECTION IS NIXON'S AIM

Strongly Opposes Present Government Continuing Legislature for Five Years.

REDISTRIBUTION UP.

TORONTO, Feb. 16. (CP)—Declaring his opposition to the Conservative Government continuing the present legislature for five years, H. C. Nixon, leader of the Progressive party in the Ontario House, to-day amplified his previous statements regarding his intention to call for an early election.

In 1930, Mr. Nixon declared, the Legislature passed an amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act. It read: "Every assembly shall continue for five years from 55 days after the date of the writs for the election and no longer, subject to it being sooner dissolved by the According to the rogressshrdlu lieutenant-governor."

According to the Progressive leader, it was fully understood when the act was passed the House would not take advantage of this section to proing its own life.

Election Due

The present session of the House is its fourth and hence, Mr. Nixon claims, an election should be held after this session. However, Premier George S. Henry has definitely stated no election would be held at this time.

"I intend to move an amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act which would clearly indicate this session should be regarded as the last of the Legislature. In other words, the amendment of 1930 should not be applicable to the present sitting. It was my understanding when the amendent was passed such would be the case and the government has no right to remain in office without going to the country and obtaining the mandate to do so" Mr. Nixon said.

His motion will be made Tuesday, "Leader's Day."

Discuss Redistribution.

Members of the Ontario Government met in caucus to-day to discuss further details of the Redistribution Bill which will reduce membership of the House from 112 to possibly 82 or 85. To-day's caucus is expected to be the last before a House Committee is appointed to draw up the necessary legislation.

The redistribution question will prove a knotty one. All members of the Government have agreed at previous caucuses the membership of the House should be reduced, but on excellent authority it is understood members in the affected ridings will strongly oppose the measure.

"We have all agreed the representation should be reduced, but naturally some of the members who will automatically lose their seats at the next election are somewhat disgruntled," one prominent Conservative member told the Canadian Press.

17 Grains Of Gold To Standard Dollar

TORONTO, February 16 (C.P.).— Proposal to re-establish the redeemable gold standard with a dollar of 17 grains of gold instead of the present 23 was made by Prof. Stephen Leacock, head of McGill University's Political Economy Department, to-day in a speech before the Empire Club.

This, he claimed, would cause immediate rise in prices and stimulate production of all sorts. "The gold from the Canadian mines," he explained, "would be taken as the basis of a paper currency redeemable in gold at 17 grains to the dollar. The $60,000,000 now produced annually would represent $80,000,000 in the new dollar and could be used to carry $240,000,000 worth of paper. Of this one-third would pay the mine owners."

MASEFIELD AT KINGSTON.

KINGSTON.— An audience that filled the Technical school auditorium, greeted John Masefield, poet laureate of England when he read from his works here last night.

The distinguished gentleman, with cultured voice and humorous blue eyes, held the attention of his audience for more than an hour and a half while he read from Reynard the Fox, the Youth Who Told the Unending Tale of the Sea, and of the English Countryside. His poetry recital was interspersed wth humorous anecdotes.

TORIES IN CAUCUS.

OTTAWA—Conservative members and Senators met in brief caucus to-day. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett presided, with approximately 250 of his followers in attendance.

Matters appertaining to the Legislative program for the remainder of the session were discussed.

No announcement was made.

WORK FOR PRINTERS.

WINDSOR.— "Let the Printers live" is one principle of Sandwich town councilolrs even though the town owns a large duplicating machine. The council decided to let printers get out the assesor's notices instead of having the work done by the town clerk's staff.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

The electrical value of various parts of a radio sometimes change after being in use for a year or more. As all parts do not change the same amount the set often loses volume, or the ability to separate stations as well as originally. New tubes will not correct this trouble, but the set's performance can be restored by re-aligning the tuning section of the set.

Ed,—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

N. ZEALAND WILLING TO REGULATE HER BUTTER EXPORTS TO CANADA

Wishes to Maintain Friendly Trade Relations Existing at Present.

PACT EXPIRES IN MAY.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Feb. 16 (C.P. Cable).—New Zealand is prepared to consider regulating her exports of butter to Canada in view of Canadian representations that farmers of the Dominion fear the influx of New Zealand butter might harm their own production.

J. G. Coates, Minister of Finance, gave this assurance to-day and declared further, New Zealand would make every effort to maintain the friendly trade relations existing between this country and Canada.

Affirming the Government's intention of guarding the mutually beneficient trade agreement signed during the Imperial Conference, the Finance Minister referred to the advices that had been received from Canada regarding New Zealand butter exports.

The trade treaty would expire in May unless renewed, Mr. Coates said, intimating a new agreement would be drawn up if the old agreement was not continued. "So far," he pointed out, however, "the trade is lopsided in Canada's favor."

Referring to London reports regarding the possibility of British import restrictions on dairy produce, the Finance Minister said the Dairy Board would meet Feb. 17 to consider them, in a special session. He pointed out that if there were any restrictions they would be voluntary ones since the New Zealand producers were protected under the Ottawa agreement.

So far as the treaty with Canada was concerned, Mr. Coates expressed the hope it would not be endangered by any regulation of New Zealand butter exports that might be made.

Poisoning Particularly Difficult Crime to Trace.

NOT ALWAYS CLUES

By JOHN KOBLER
Central Press Canadian Writer

LONDON, Feb. 16. — "Mordre Wol Out!"

Chaucer said it six hundred years ago and to-day the self-righteous still insist categorically that "Murder will out!"

But will it always "out?" Not always. Not even nearly always according to a famous British criminologist. When Sir Basil Thompson, one of the past chiefs of Scotland Yard's criminal investigation department, retired, he declared:

"The proverb 'Murder will out' is employed wherever one out of many thousands of undiscovered murderers is caught through a coincidence that captures the popular imagination. It is because murder will not out that the pleasant shock of surprise when it does calls for a proverb to enshrine the phenomenon. The poisoner who is brought to justice almost invariably is proven to have killed other victims, without exciting suspicion until he has grown careless."

Scotland Yard experts state that the perfect murder certainly exists, although the public finds it hard to believe.

The menace of the secret poisoner, for example, is far greater than the average man realizes. The public assumes that every criminal must leave some clue. He must make some oversight. It is true that in the case of the crime of passion, unpremeditated as it often is, the murderer makes a mistake. The thought of punishment is usually awakened in these cases only when the passion which motivated the crime has died down. Then the murderer clumsily tries to cover up his tracks.

In the case of the carefully planned crime any doctor can name several drugs which could feature in a perfect crime. These drugs leave symptoms which indicate that death might have been due to natural causes. One of the leading English pathologists recently stated that there are hundreds of secret murders committed in Europe every year.

Cremation is the poisoner's greatest aid. The great argument against cremation is the fact that many times murder has been discovered years after the victim has been in the grave.

Criminologists also point out that in giving burial certificates doctors are not compelled to view the body. They insist that every body should be examined before burial.

Another popular fallacy is that the criminal always returns to the scene of his crime. There is no basis for such a notion.

Then there is the strange idea that in the retina of the eyes of any person strangled or shot the likeness of the murderer is automatically photographed. There is no record of such a miracle.

J. K. Hughes' Staff Gathers At Dinner

A dinner for the staff was held by J. K. Hughes Limited last evening in Hooper's Palm Court, with G. R. Melton presiding in the chair.

Mr. Hughes, owner of the business, stressed the fact that after experiencing a few years of unparalleled prosperity, the automobile dealer had, owing to general conditions in business, been hard hit by a falling off in volume. J. K. Hughes, Limited, were however, he stated, in the happy position of not only having the best franchise for selling cars, through their connection with General Motors Corporation, but had also the added advantage of being wholesale distributors for Cities Service Oil Company, both in Peterborough and Oshawa territories. The company was, therefore, Mr. Hughes believed well equipped to carry on and take full advantage of the business which would undoubtedly be theirs in the years that were to come.

Among the guests at the dinner were: E. R. Birchard, zone manager, Toronto zone, General Motors Corporation; P. Harvie, assistant zone manager; J. Cornwall, sales representative, and G. Yorke, service representative, all of General Motors.

The gathering spent an enjoyable evening and listened with keen attention to discussions from the representatives of General Motors Corporation.

Members of the staff expressed their views on problems from their own angle, and all showed a desire to continue serving Peterborough motorists.

Municipal Ballots Burned In Furnace

The city's 1933 municipal election went up in smoke to-day. But no excitement was created.

Flaming ballots whirled up the huge chimney of the City Buildings as George Grange, caretaker of the buildings, stuffed the contents of the ballot boxes into the fiery furnace.

City Clerk Armstrong was on hand to superintend the job, burning of the ballots from a municipal election being necessary by law, and the municipal clerk having to take an oath that the ballots have been destroyed.

It took more than our hour to empty all the ballot boxes and burn the ballots. The hot blaze in the furnace sent up the steam pressure in the gauge, and the temperature in the city offices bounded up to summer heat.

Twisted Brains Of Those Who Attempt To Kill Public Men Always Prompts Them to Vain And Glorious Utterances

(By the Associated Press)

The twisted brains of men who seek to kill public men prompt them to vain glorious utterances at the time of the crime.

When Joe Zangara fired on President-elect Roosevelt last night, he screamed: "I kill all presidents! Kill all officers!"

Leon Czolgosz, after shotting President McKinley, said: "I have done my duty; I am proud of it."

Charles J. Guiteau, disappointed office-seeker, who murdered President Garfield, said: "I did it and will go to jail for it."

Paul Gorgulov, firing the bullets that killed President Doumer of France, shouted: "Die for the Fatherland!"

CANADA'S LARGEST RETAIL GROCERS

MARY LOU GOES SHOPPING

SHE is only eight, but, even at this tender age Mary Lou is a daily customer at the neighborhood stores. Perhaps it is a package of crackers, and a pound of coffee at the grocer's. Perhaps it is some tooth-paste or toilet soap at the drug store.

Of course Mary Lou doesn't decide on what she is going to buy. Her mother writes a list—this brand of crackers, this brand of coffee, this make of tooth-paste, this kind of soap. She knows the prices, and gives Mary Lou just enough money, with an extra penny or two, perhaps, to spend for herself.

Buying is just as simple and easy as that because of just one thing—Advertising.

Advertising has given all of us a lot to be thankful for.

Because of advertising, people in Texas know about and buy Michigan motor cars. People in New Hampshire buy oranges raised in Florida and California. Because of advertising, merchants and manufacturers are forced to improve their products. It has standardized quality. It has increased consumption and thereby lowered costs. It promotes competition and thereby keeps dealers and merchants wide awake to secure for you the most for your money.

But bets of all it writes "Finis" on the business career of any merchant or manufacturer who attempts to fool the public or give them less than value received.

MRS. ROOSEVELT SHOWS METTLE

Calmly Continues Trip to Give Address at Cornell University.

SENDS SONS MESSAGE.

(By Lorena Hickok)

En route with Mrs. Roosevelt to Ithaca, N.Y., Feb. 16 (A.P.).—Because, she said, she has a habit of doing things she has said she will do, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was on her way to Ithaca early to-day to make a speech on the program of Farm and Home Week at Cornell University.

Pale and tired, she boarded a trainn less than two hours after receiving word that an assassin had fired five shots into a crowd surrounding her husband at Miami last night.

In the meantime, however, she had talked over the telephone with the President-elect, had broken the news gently to his mother, had conferred over the telephone with her son Elliott, in New York, and had sent to Groton School in Massachusetts a telegram requesting that the Roosevelt boys, Franklin, Jr., and John, be told in the morning and assured that their father was all right.

"Franklin is all right, for which I am very, very thankful," she said, "therefore, I see no reason why I should not go to Ithaca as I am supposed to do."

PLANETARY MYSTERY.

To teh Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Few of us realize the stupendous mystery of our planetary life in the magnitude of space.

Tho' wars and conflicts mar our peace,
Roll on, old earth, roll on;
Manchurian strife, and warlike threats,
Depression rife and national debts
Monopoly by capital;
Tho' worry doth most all enthrall—
Despite our insignificant race:
Thro' endless time and endless space,
The earth rolls on and on.

Let us muse awhile from the physical standpoint, on this thing life—which Lowell rightly terms, "The Great Miracle." Ofttimes our sky meanderings, sentimentally susceptible, are attracted to and cease at the moon. Then, too, sunburn or sunstroke tend to make us aware of the influence of the sun, even at 90 million miles.

But on clear nights we gaze enthralled on the host of stars in the vault of Heaven. Astronomers have taught us that these are planets, many larger than ours. The farthest there visible, Andromeda Nebula, is at a distance of miles expressed by some 18 integers! We can yet discern myriads more by telescopes. However, we see only those planets possessing brilliancy, whereas there are many great bodies possessing little or no brilliancy. In fact, we are told that the universe which we behold bears but a small ratio to the larger part which is invisible in the sombre shades of night. We cannot but recall Job 26, 14: "Lo, these are but a portion of His ways; they utter but a whisper of His glory."

It believe it was Allingham, who said:

"But number every grain of sand.
Wherever soft wave touches land,
Number the leaves on every tree,
Number earth's living creatures all
That run, that fly, that swim, that crawl;
Of sands, drops, leaves and lives, the count
Add up into one vast amount,
And then for every separate one
Of all those, let a flaming SUN
Whirl in the boundless skies, with each
Its massy planets to outreach,
All sight, all thought: for all we see
Encircled with infinity,
Is but an island."

Once again we ponder on the plausibility of plurality of worlds. On further research we discover double planets encircled with double suns: What wondrous effects of light and shade were there! There are planets affording ample scope for the abodes of myriads of inhabitants. They have a general similarity, and, as every part of nature on our earth is destined to support animated beings, we would offer as presumptive proof the fact that there are special arrangements indicating the adaptation to enjoyments of sensitive and intellectual beings. Thus, we may conclude that inhabitation of these planets must have been the ultimate design of their Creator.

Whether inhabited or not, our reasoning is left suspended midst the vast expanse of starry space, when we try to conceive Herschel's contention that the whole system of universes—stars, planets, comets—is moving in space. We try to derive some knowledge from a Socratic series of self-queries: Has the universe no boundaries? What is space? Is space infinite? What lies beyond space? But Einstein comes gallantly to our rescue in an endeavor to teach us an entirely new conception of space.

Abruptly we are recalled to the responsibilities of everyday life. For life, says Carlyle, "is all thou hast to front eternity with."

Yet, whenever we are gazing up at those mystic, twinkling stars shining so brightly, which have shone and doubtless will shine for centuries beyond our ken—we marvel at the wondrous mystery of the universe. We must needs agree with the German poet Richter, "End is there none to the universe of God. Lo! also, there is no beginning." Yet a greater mystery suggests itself—the insignificance of man, and of life, which Lowell defined, "a confused noise between two silences."

Truly, "We are such stuff as dreams are made of, and our little world is rounded with a sleep."

Mannish Touch Is Smart, But Feminity Reigns In Style Circles

Reading from left to right: Canary yellow skirt, scarf, reversible cape, check jacket; two, theatre dress; third, English riding habit; four, navy blue crepe with turquoise blue dress; five, plaid wool swagger suit; six, black chiffon dress with red jacket

By MME. LISBETH

A touch of the mannish is smart in fashionable circles. In fact, more than a touch is allowable.

In certain style centers milady wears the trousers in no uncertain fashion, even her evening clothes are built on strictly manly lines—a tux, no less.

However, Miss The Most of Us will be wearing garments that are strictly feminine—even more so than of yore, with only a tailored frock or shirtwaist dress to relieve our frills and furbelows, capes, big sleeves and what not.

The suit pictured at left above is the sort of thing that the really smartly dressed young woman will be showing along about Easter time. The skirt and scarf are canary yellow wool, the latter with a contrasting trimming motif. The jacket is checked wool, and the cape is reversible, lined with the check. Kid gloves and hat in matching color complete the costume.

For the theatre or cocktail hour the masculine touch is present in the second model. The dress is black chiffon and the waistcoaty jacket is white pique. Notice the white pique collar on the dress.

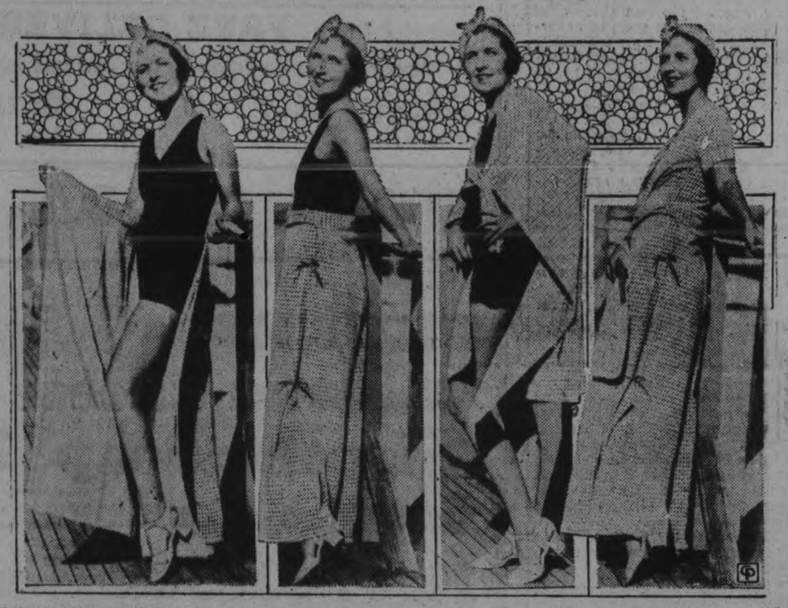
A new English riding habit for country riding is pictured third. The coat is grey-green plaid with rust colored breeches and black boots. The little swagger hat completes this neat riding habit.

The model seated, four, wears a navy blue crepe cape with a turquoise blue dress—one of spring's smartest combinations of colors. Blue kid pumps and navy gloves with one of the new fabric sailors finish the ensemble.

The next standing, wears a plaid wool swagger suit with white pique gilet trimmed with emerald green collar and green straw hat to match—an extremely tricky little suit for the young girl.

The formal dress at the extreme right is of black chiffon with a glistening red cire chiffon jacket, bright color contrast being one of the points of the season.

Beach Costume Is Three-In-One



Left, one leg of pajamas on; second, pajamas in place; third, pajamas worn as cape; right, ensemble complete with trousers and blouse.

By MME. LISBETH

It may be the depression and it may simply be the yearning for efficiency in every department of our lives, but the three-in-one beach suit is undoubtedly smart and economical and also very efficient. This costume is called the "sylojam"—don't ask me why. The trouser part is shown at left in process of being put on. One leg is in the trousers and the belt is about to be fastened and the other limb enclosed. In the third picture, Miss Nell Hughes of Memphis, Tenn., the model, has decided to wear the thing for a cape, and has it tied about her shoulders. But in the right hand view she's all dressed up to go places and do things in a natty check beach ensemble with trousers and blouse, and even a matching cap—the sylojam complete.

Roof Landing Field On New Post Office

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (A.P.)—A $16,000,000 post office with a roof constructed as a possible airplane landing field has been opened in Chicago to-day.

Trains chugged beneath it as it was dedicated yesterday. The system under which transcontinential trains can unload mail directly underneath the post office will save valuable time, as well as expense in transporting it by truck to a post office some distance away.

If sufficient air mail business is obtained, postal officials said, small shuttle airplanes will fly from municipal airport to the roof of the building.

CASGRAIN INQUISITIVE ABOUT PRISON OFFICIALS

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Pierre Casgrain, chief Liberal Whip, has filed in the House of Commons a series of questions relating to penitentiary officials. He wants to know who recommended Col. W. H. Craig, Kingston, Ont., for the position of inspector of penitentiaries, what qualifications he had and "has Col. Craig applied for the position of warden of the Kingston Penitentiary on two occasions when that position was advertised, and was his application refused?"

The Liberal Whip also asks if General W. St. Pierre Hughes, former superintendent of penitentiaries, retired voluntarily or was he asked to take his superannuation. He also asks what rating the Civil Service Commission gave General D. M. Ormond of Calgary, who succeeded General Hughes, what experience, if any, he had in penitentiary administration, and who recommended him for the position.

2,000 Unemployed Invade Seattle City

SEATTLE, Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Two thousand singing, jesting unemployed—men, women and children—took sleeping quarters for the night in the county-city building and vowed they would not leave until King County commissioners met their relief demands.

The group "camped" following a series of demonstrations in which the unemployed asked for:

$13.50 worth of groceries per family per week.

Three days work weekly at $4.50 per day.

Or—5,000 gallons of gasoline and $40 cash per family for a "pilgrim-Legislature is in session.

They sang, played pinochle, slept, made speeches—but they stayed. A squad of police was placed on guard but, the demonstrators remained peaceable and organized their own police force to maintain order.

Victoria Liberals Biding Their Time

LINDSAY, Feb. 16. (CP) Liberals of North and South Victoria are going to sit back and wait for the redistribution bill before making any nominations for a united provincial riding.

There will be a convention if and when the bill is passed, said one prominent Lindsay Liberal. "That wont be for five or six weeks probably" he added.

It is said the convention will be "wide open" with no preference for either of the candidates already nominated. They are William Newman, M.L.A., Lorneville, Victoria North, and Percy Pogue, Lindsay, Victoria South.

MEN MUST WORK IN RETURN FOR DIRECT RELIEF

Officials Can Demand Work Equivalent to Value of Relief.

MALCOLM WRITES MAYOR.

Certain Men in City Have Refused to Cut Wood.

Relief officials here have been instructed to refuse relief to men who will not work in return for the relief given.

These instructions were given to S. R. Armstrong, city clerk, to-day in a letter from James L. Malcolm, chief inspector of the Ontario Unemployment Relief Department. "Our ruling on such matters is that the municipality is entitled to ask and even demand able-bodied men drawing direct relief to do an amount of work equivalent to the value of the relief they receive. I presume it is up to the municipality concerned to determine the nature of such work," states Mr. Malcolm.

Certain men on relief in the city have refused to cut wood or do other work set for them by relief officials. Mr. Malcolm's letter was a reply to a request by Mayor Denne that the city be instructed on what steps might be properly taken to cope with the situation.

Mr. Malcolm's letter follows:

"I have your letter of the 14th stating that the Mayor has asked you to write me regarding asking men who are receiving direct relief to do a certain amount of work in return for the relief given.

"I also have a letter of the same date from Mr. John B. Teevens, our inspector for that district, stating that certain men drawing relief have refused to cut wood in return for the relief or to do any other kind of work.

"Our ruling on such matters is that the municipality is entitled to ask and even demand able-bodied men drawing direct relief to do an amount of work equivalent to the value of the relief they receive. I presume it is up to the municipality concerned to determine the nature of such work.

"I have this morning discussed this situation with Mr. Ellis, who asked me to advise you that it would be quite proper for you to refuse relief to such persons as object to working for it.

"I understand from our Inspector Teevens that the wood in the woodyard is for relief purposes. Therefore, in substance, the men who are to receive the wood refuse to cut it. This seems rather an unfortunate and serious situation, and I see no alternative but to refuse relief to such persons.

"Sincerely yours,
"Jas. L. Malcolm, Chief Inspector,
"Ontario Unemployment Relief
"Department."

TRENT RIVER LADIES' AID SOCIETY HOLDS JOLLY VALENTINE SOCIAL

Splendid Program of Songs, Instrumental, Recitations Given—Lunch Follows.

PUPILS HOLD CONCERT.

TRENT RIVER, Feb. 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—Ideal weather favored the Valentine social sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church, Tuesday night.

The small admission fee of ten cents was collected at the entrance, each one entering receiving a heart-shaped valentine with the name of their supper partner. The program was held in the auditorium of the church, with Mr. Harold B. Wood, in his usual efficient manner, acting as chairman. The opening number was a selection by the church choir, "Victory," after which the chairman, in a few well-chosen remarks, explained the object of these social gatherings which the Ladies' Aid planned to hold monthly to raise sufficient funds to assist with the church's finances.

A recitation, "Love," was given by Miss Irene Wood; vocal number, "Bells of St. Mary's," by Mr. Everett Maycock (teacher at Conolly's school) accompanied on the piano by Mr. Wesley Wildman; recitation, Miss Jean Brown (West Seymour); piano instrumental, "The Chapel in the Mountain," Mrs. Harold Brown; vocal solo, "I'm Glad My Heart's My Ain Yet," by Mrs. Jean Porter (of Norwood), receiving a hearty applause and gave as an encore, "The Little Irish Girl," with piano accompaniments played by Miss B. French; piano duet, "Engleman's Pride of Honor," by Miss B. French and Miss Margaret Brown; recitation, "Is Marriage a Failure," Miss Genevieve Milne; piano solo, "Sabbath Chimes," Mr. Everett Maycock; reading, "The Minister's Grievances" Miss B. French; piano selection, "My Wild Irish Rose," Mr. Wesley Wildman; Mr. R. W. Umphrey spoke a few words expressing appreciation for the high-class program, after which an automobile contest was in charge of Miss B. French.

During the preparation for refreshments, Mrs. Jean Porter again contributed a vocal number in fine voice, with Mr. Everett Maycock at the piano; after which the crowd repaired to the dining hall where the members of the Aid served pie and tarts of all varieties, and coffee

The total receipts amounted to nearly ten dollars. The Aid members are planning for a St. Patriek social, to be held in March.

Pupils Hold Concert.

The annual Valentine concert was held Tueday afternoon at the public school, with the teacher, Mr. R W. Umphrey, in charge. There was a fair representation of the parents of the chool section to hear the following program: Speech on St. Valentine, Clifford Dunn; song, Alice and Ila Free; recitation, Genevieve Milne; organ instrumental, Phylis Brown; song, "Maron Parker," by Blanche and Bertha Carnrite; chorus, "Jack Frost," by Ethel and Florence Shearer, Evelyn Wannamaker, Marie Seaborn, Ruth Glenn, Helen Brown, Genevieve Milne, Helen Carnrite; organ instrumental, "Pipe and Bowl," Helen Brown; "Prisoner's Song," Rudolph Dunn; recitation, Doreen Free; recitation, "It Can't Be Done," Ethel Shearer; recitation, "Little Things," Florence Shearer; organ instrumental, "Merry Bobolink," Vaughan Brown; recitation, Reta Vanvolkenburg. The teacher, R. W. Umphrey, distributed the valentines, after which the pupils enjoyed a treat of cakes, home-made candy, popcorn, and apples.

Grain Elevator Transformed Into Ice In Fire

Only this mountain of ice remained when 80 fire companies quelled the conflagration that destroyed a seven-storey grain elevator in sub-zero weather in Chicago. Some 2,000,000 bushels of wheat and corn were devoured and damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

MINING OF GOLD BEING REVIVED IN THE HILL OF GREAT BRITAIN

Originally Started by Romans Over 2,000 Years Ago.

OLD GOLD MINES

By T. C. WATSON
Central Press Canadian Writer

LONDON, Feb. 16.—While patriotic Britons are selling their gold trinkets and jewelry, the more far-seeing are exploiting the hills and mountains of Wales and Scotland for the long-hidden natural gold.

Within a few weeks gold mining will be resumed at Carmarthen. The crown has granted a 63-year lease to Professor Bernard Hollander, who means to revive the gold mining industry which has been lying dormant for 2,000 years. It was originally started by the Romans.

Ancient Industry.

The industry is older even than that. There is an ancient corselet of Welsh gold in the British Museum and a breastplate of beatengold was found in a Celtic "barrow" or burying place in North Wales.

There are rich seams of gold all over the British Isles.

In the thirty years before 1911 £370,000 worth of gold was taken from a mine near Dolgelly.

There are many goldfields in Scotland. One is at Glenconnor, in Clydesdale, another on Crawford Moor, a third in Wenlock, and a fourth at Mannock Water.

Sixty years ago a rich gold find was made at Kildonan, in Sutherlandshire, and several nuggets worth $75 each were picked up in hill streams in the district.

There is a gold reef underlying the Forest of Dean, within 150 miles of London. It is 30 miles long, in a strata that closely resembles that of the famous Witwatersrand, in the Transvaal.

Old Gold Mines.

Several gold mines have been worked in Devon and Somerset.

In Ireland the getting of gold dates back to prehistoric times. The gold ornaments of early Ireland show a high development of craftsmanship. The chief sources of the metal are the Vale of Avoca and the mountains of Donegal.

In the Dublin Science and Art Museum there is a model of a 22-ounce nugget found in Wicklow-in 1795, and some of the Wicklow gold is exhibited in the London Museum of Geology.

The wedding rings of the Queen, Princess Mary and the Duchess of York were all made of Welsh gold and the brides of the Sutherland family are all married with rings from the Kildonan mine.

Tell Her Your Story Before She Leaves The House To Shop

The average woman before going shopping looks through the advertisements in her local paper to see if any of the purchases she has in mind are listed, and their prices. All women—and most men, too—Class the value and sales stories told by local merchants among the best news in their paper, and buying reaction follows. In this way the merchant who uses The Peterborough Examiner's columns to carry his merchandising message into thousands of homes, enjoys an advantage over his competitors who do not advertise.

Here follows a fourth testimonial—this time from Peterborough's oldest Watch, Clock and Jewelry House—that advertising in The Peterborough Examiner is a dividend-paying investment.

Dear Sirs:

In renewing our contract for advertising during the current year, we also extend our hearty appreciation of The Examiner's value as an advertising medium. In our experience over a number of years, we have found the use of its columns by us a paying investment. We put on a big sale the latter end of last November, and placed a considerable amount of advertising with The Examiner. This sale was a huge success in every way, and ran with big results three weeks longer than originally intended. Of course, we offered exceptionally attractive values, and The Examiner enthusiastically co-operated with skillful and effective service. We believe the newspaper the most effective of all advertising mediums.

Yours truly,

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Indications of more cheerful feeling in financial circles led to a sharp advance of wheat values yesterday.

Active buying of wheat for future delivery was much in evidence the greater part of the time, but after prices had bulged 1⅛ cents, selling pressure increased, and fractional set-backs ensued. The enlarged selling was attributed to Government-sponsored agencies and to liquidation of May contracts.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛c to ¾c above Tuesday's finish; corn a shade to ¼c up; oats, 1-8c to ¼c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5c off.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—Butter prices continued to move higher on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday.

Although demand was not so brisk as in the past two days, prices rose ¼c a pound to 21⅝c to 22c a pound for No. 1 grass make in car-lots or less. Receipts were 42 boxes.

Prince Edward Island Green Mountain potatoes per 90-pound bag declined 5c to 90c. New Brunswick Green Mountains per 80-pound bag were unchanged at 80c.

Eggs held steady, fresh graded extras in car-lots or less being quoted at 26c to 27c; firsts at 24c to 25c, pullets at 22c and seconds at 20c a dozen. Receipts were 952 cases.

Cheese quotations were firm. Ontario colored selling at 10c to 10¼c and Ontario early make at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts were 30 boxes.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 16.— Wary of subsequent developments from Tuesday's sudden drop in prices, traders on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday failed to take full advantage of encouraging reports from various sources. Support petered out in closing minutes and values, easing from earlier one-cent gains, recovered only half of Tuesday's one-cent decline.

Good overnight export sales, firm outside markets, and scarcity of offerings, which normally induces a strong upswing, were partly nullified by the slow trading May future closed at 47⅞c, June at 47⅞c July at 48¾c, and October at 50c an all-round half-cent advance.

Five hundred thousand bushels of Canadian wheat were sold for overseas shipment, inducing strong support by seaboard houses and continental interests.

"A Trip Through Scotland" was the program at the Efficiency League of the United Church on Monday evening and moving pictures were put on by courtesy of the Cunard Company, who sent the films and a lecturer down from Toronto. It was a particularly enjoyable program, which was a history and geography lesson and a delightful entertainment in one.

Owing to a break-down at Oshawa, the guest speaker was late in arriving, but Rev. W. R. Archer gallantly filled the breach, organizing a sing-song and arranging an impromptu progra which kept the large audience entertained till the speaker arrived. Among those who assisted were Miss Betty Brown, Mrs. W. J. Charlton, Mrs. MacMillen and Mrs. Yale.

Mr. A. Boyer of Toronto was a week-end guest at The Grove.

Mr. Derrick Nielson of Toronto was a week-end guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie at The Grove.

Miss Marion Wagar of Peterborough was in the village on Monday visiting her parents.

depends on creating a Jewish majority in Palestine, but the efforts of Jewish doctors, clinics, hospitals, maternity wards and other Jewish institutions have greatly raised the standard of Arab health, with the inevitable result of diminishing the Arab infant mortality and keeping down the general Arabic death-rate. Jewish immigration, at a most favorable rate, cannot hope to catch up, let alone outdistance, the natural increase of the Arab population. Yet Jews are making it possible for the Arabic population to increase in an unprecedented tempo. It is a strange irony of fate. At the same time it constitutes a beautiful gesture on the part of the Jews.

Result of Ideals

It may be argued that Zionism is pursuing this policy of doing good to the Arabs out of considerations of self-preservation. The elimination of malaria, social diseases and the dread eye-disease, trachoma, among your neighbors naturally is a safeguard for your own family. And yet the proof of Jewish disinterestedness and the authenticity of the basis of practical idealism at the bottom of Zionist endeavor may be gauged from a curious phenomenon now noticeable in the Holy Land.

It is this: Christian eleemosynary institutions are closing up. The Arabs don't visit them any more. Why? I asked this question of a dozen prominent Palestinian Arabs. Since the men I consulted were all Mohammedans, they were not averse to explaining the reasons. When an Arabs goes to a Christian hospital, for some reason or other, they said, he comes under the influence of the missionaries. The Christian hospitals are in fact the most valuable adjuncts Christian missionary endeavor possesses in Palestine. It stands to reason that Moslems do not go to Christian churches to hear sermons preached by missionaries or priests.

Yet the evangelic command is formal: "Compel them to enter." The Christian fishers of men must cast out the net wherever possible. The hospitals and institutions of that kind are the best instrument. Thousands or Arabs, especially women, have been won over to the Christian religion in that gentle, insinuating way with which sisters of charity, social workers, deaconesses, go about their business. At the same time this is a reason that the true Moslem does not like to come near a Christian hospital. He knows that the price of treatment of his physical ills in those places requires of him to be a deferential hearer of a little Christian propaganda.

He may not like it. But he is more or less compelled to listen. His mullahs and muftis certainly warn him against Christian priests and if that is not enough there always is that challenging inscription in man-sized Arabic letters above the porcelain portals of the greatest mosque in Jerusalem, containing these words of the Prophet Mohammed: "Remember, Muslim, Jesus was the son of a woman! They are your enemies who say that God had a son. God is one and indivisible. God's majesty does not permit of a division!"

Dislike Theory of Trinity.

Every Christian priest, pastor or exhorter, no matter what his denomination, will tell a Moslem another story. Yet if there is one point on which Mohammedans can be roused to blind fanaticism it is a reference to the doctrine of the holy trinity. That to him is the utmost heresy, the foulest blasphemy.

Now the Jews have no misison-army program. They try to make no proselytes. Zionism is not a religious movement. In fact, ultra-orthodox Jews go so far as to accuse Zionism of being irreligious. There is no danger of an impressionable young Arab woman coming under Jewish religious influence in a Jewish hospital. Moreover, if she did, it wouldn't matter. Both Jews and Arabs are strict monotheists. "There is no God but God," cry the muezzins. "Hear, Isreal, the Lord our God is One!" it says above the portals of the synagogues.

"At first our people thought the Jewish hospitals just a trick to catch the unwary," said an Arab citizen to me. "But fourteen years have passed and not a single attempt has been made to proselytize. The poorer classes of Arabs would not think of going anywhere else now. They are treated on a footing of perfect equality with Jews at the Jewish hospitals. They have perfect confidence in the Jewish doctors. They know there are no strings attached to the treatment they receive, no pecuniary, no political or spiritual strings. It is different with the Christian hospitals," he went on. "And that is why some of the congregations which maintain charitable institutions in the Holy Land are transferring their activities to Irak and Syria. There is nothing more to do for them here."

Yet it would be a grave error to take the view that Zionism is animated by an anti-Christian attitude or that it seeks to counteract the influence of a single Christian denomination in Palestine. Zionism has solemnly pledged itself to prejudice in no way the interests of the Christian denomination, of course. That the Zionists have kept word in this respect becomes clear from the very real sympathy it has received not only at the Vatican, which has formally given its assent to the upbuilding of the Jewish National Home in Palestine, but also in Protestant circles, where Zionism is considered a fulfilment of Biblical prophecy.

"NOW CAN EAT ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION"

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letters

"Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic.

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan. (Address furnished upon request.)

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

TRUCK COMES TO AID

Times beyond counting horses have come to the rescue of the motor car dragging the gasoline vehicles from mudholes in summer and snow banks in winter, but today on George street a motor truck brought a team of horses out of their difficulty. A team drawing a sleigh-load of hay found it impossible to drag the runners over a bare spot at the corner of George and Hunter streets. An oil truck backed up in front of the team, a chain was attached to the sleigh-tongue and, seeming without effort, the sleigh and team were dragged over the pavement.

BRITISH CABINET SPLIT IS DENIED

Rumors Stated MacDonald and Chamberlain Differed Over War Debts.

LINDSAY HAS WIDE POWER.

(By Frank H. King, A.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Feb. 16 (A.P.)—Reports of a serious split in the British cabinet over war debts, involving Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, with a threat of possible ministerial resignations, were emphatically denied in highest Downing Street quarters to-day.

Reports which it was stated had been sent to North America by some newspapers in recent days, have disturbed leading Cabinet members because of damage which might be done to the forthcoming debts talk in Washington.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, now en route to that country, will arrive in Washington it was revealed, empowered to make arrangements which will have the full and undivided support of the British National Government.

His consultations with the Big Five of the Cabinet proceeded according to plan in London, and the whole Cabinet without dissention, gave the final stamp of approval to the program of arrangements which Sir Ronald will launch in Washington.

SIX ARE SLAIN IN BUCHAREST

Many Wounded as Troops Rush Workers Barricaded in Railway Shops.

2,000 ARRESTED.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Six persons were killed and an undetermined number injured in a battle to-day between troops and several thousand workers who barricaded themselves in the Government railway shops here.

The workers, who had been in possession of the shops for about 24 hours, thrice refused the military commander's appeal to march out peacefully. The soldiers then opened rifle fire, which was answered with pistol shots from the yards.

After 15 minutes of firing the troops forced the gates and overpowered the defenders. The soldiers rounded up 2,000 prisoners.

Twenty-four others were injured in yesterday's fighting and there was some shooting last night. The workers demanded release of eleven Communist prisoners.

The shops will remain closed until the situation has been cleared up.

Boy Struck By Car Has Leg Fractured

Struck by a motor car as he was playing on Hunter Street East yesterday afternoon, Cecil Youden, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Youden, of 39 Hunter Street East, suffered a severe fracture of his left leg above the knee.

Edward Palmer Nicholson, aged 25, of 319 Bethune Street, driver of the car, told police that the child darted out from the sidewalk in the path of the car. The accident occurred just east of Burnham Street.

"I was driving in an easterly direction along Hunter Street at a normal rate of speed," Nicholson said, "when the child darted out from the sidewalk into the path of my car. At the time I was driving on my proper side of the road."

The radiator of the car struck the child, knocking it down forcefully. The child was removed to the Clinic for treatment.

Railroaders Decide To Accept Pay Cut

TORONTO, Feb. 16. (CP). Some 4,500 to 5,000 railwaymen in Ontario and about 10,000 throughout the country in the railway running trades have accepted unofficially the further 10 per cent cut in pay asked by the railways, says a Toronto paper to-day. On March 3, it says, the railway men's pay will be "anywhere up to $50 less than to-morrow."

The paper continues: "The railways said in effect to the men: 'The cut is going into effect for reasons of strict economy' and the men after pleading their case against it have decided to accept it.

"The running trades include engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and railway depot telegraphers. This cut is in addition to the 10 per cent. cut put on a year ago and comes as a reply to the men's representatives' demands that the first cut be discontinued.

SOCIETY ACCEPTS W.M.S. ALLOCATION

Mrs. E. Benson Appointed Assistant Temperance Secretary for St. James' Society.

St. James' W.M.S. held its February meeting yesterday afternoon in Wesley Hall, with a splendid attendance. Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse conducted the business session. The secretaries of the various departments reported that good work has already begun and will be carried on through the year. Business brought down from executive meetings by the secretary was introduced, discussed, and ratified by the auxiliary. Among the important items were arrangements for a mother and daughetr banquet to be held in March. A committee to act jointly with the X.L. Class committee for the details of the coming banquet was appointed, with Mrs. W. K. Soane as convenor. Miss Luella Rorke, W.M.S. missionary to Japan, and Miss Black of All Peoples' Missons in Ottawa, were adopted by the auxiliary for prayer for 1933. The World's Day of Prayer was announced by the president for March 3, and the allocation for the auxiliary was received and accepted. Owing to the removal of Mrs. Munn, assistant temperance secretary, Mrs. E. Benson was appointed to this office. In view of the many committee meetings just planned, the reading of "Our Committee Meeting" by Mrs. Casey was appropriate and everyone enjoyed its humor.

Interes ing Program.

At ths point Mrs. H. J. Davidson, 1st vice-president, took charge of the program, which was exceptionally interesting. In her "Scripture Talk" 'Mrs W. H Buck'ev chose as her theme "The Call to Christ and the Surrendered Life." Sen'ence prayers by Mesdames Sargent Benson, S'oane, W. A. Wood, Byers, and Wood'ey followed the Scripture reading. Echoes from the Presby'erial were heard from the two delegates, Mrs. R. B. English and Mrs A Davis. A delightful duet, 'Following in His Footsteps," which fitted into the spirit of the meeting was sung by Mesdames Fell and Sollitt. Prayer for all missionaries, and our own tow in partcular, was offered by Mrs. Ingham. The fourth chapter of the Study on Canada was given in an interesting and well arranged synopsis by Mrs W Rose, and was enjoyed The prayer-hymn, "Saviour, again to Thy dear name we raise," sung with bowed heads, brought to a conclusion this successful and inspiring meeting, which was dismissed with the benediction led by Mrs Moorhouse.

Hot breads for every meal! That is not correct, I am afraid, and it would scare most housewives to death to think of the preparation. We'll try it just for a day, however, and if the griddle cakes, popovers and waffles all are successful, we'll file the recipes for future reference.

Today's Recipes

Griddle Cakes—Three cups flour, five and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-fourth cup sugar, one egg, one-fourth cup melted shortening, two cups milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat egg, stir in melted shortening, add one-fourth cup milk and beat half minute. Add rest of milk and stir in dry ingredients all at once. Drop by spoonsful on hot griddle. Cook on one side until full of bubbles, turn and cook on other side. If cakes seem too thick add more milk.

Bread Griddle Cakes—One and one-half cups fine dry bread crumbs, one and one-half cups scalded milk, four tablespoons shortening, one egg, well beaten; one-half cup flour, three-fourths teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder. Add milk and butter to crumbs and soak until crumbs are soft; add egg, then flour, salt and baking powder, mixed and sifted. Bake on both sides on hot griddle.

Waffles— Two and one-fourth cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, three eggs, one-half cup melted shortening, one and one-half cups milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients, beat eggs and stir in melted shortening. Add milk, then dry ingredients all at once. Beat until thoroughly mixed and bake in hot waffle iron about five minutes.

Popovers—One-half teaspoon salt, one cup flour, one egg, one tablespoon melted shortening, one cup milk. Mix salt and flour. Beat egg slightly, stir in melted shortening, add milk, then dry ingredients all at once. Beat only enough to mix well, and pour into hot oiled gem pans or custard cups. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) 30 minutes, then turn out fire and keep in oven for ten minutes. Iron or earthenware is better than agate or tin for baking popovers.

Corn Griddle Cakes—Two cups flour, four and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-third cup sugar, one-half cup corn meal, one cup boiling water, one egg, one-fourth cup melted shortening one and one-fourth cups milk. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add corn meal to boiling water and boil five minutes. Beat egg, stir in melted shortening and add one-fourth cup milk and beat into meal. Add rest of milk and stir in dry ingredients. Bake on both sides on hot griddle. If cakes seem too thick add more milk.

Unique Fur Trim

By MME. LISBETH

This frock for spring may be thought to be simple except for the elaborate fur trimming.

It is not, however. Incrustations of self material make the model quite complicated, and it introduces the new skirt jacket with a novel arrangement of silver fox fur trimming.

The model is made of gold color Schiaparelli crepe.

OUR MAIL

Dear Miss Wilcox:

While reading over my great grandfather's Scrap Book, this evening, I came across this clipping on a "Legend of St Valentine" and thought it such a nice sentiment it might possibly interest some of your readers and also be one solution to the article in tonight's edition of The Examoner, "St. Valentine's Is Pretty Myth That Has Never Been Explained."

I trust this clipping will be of use to you and that it may not be too late to publish.

Yours truly,
E. C.

"A Legend of St. Valentine. In the long ago there were three friends, Pietro, Luigi and Valentine. One was a great preacher, one a wonderful singer, but Valentine was only a gardener. He felt the lowliness of his lot, but in his heart was the love for all and the desire to make the world happier.

"When his flowers bloomed they found their way to the bedside of the sick and the room of the discouraged. At last he became too old to bend over his loved flower beds, still he could use his hands, so they wrote love messages to go with the flowers. So many were the hearts he healed, and so much love he spread abroad, that his name has become a symbol of love, while his two friends are lost in oblivion."

Thank you very much, indeed, for your kindness in sending to the women's page this lovely Legend, E. C. I know the readers will appreciate it very much and so I wish to say 'Thank You" again, on their behalf.

Sincerely,
Anne Wilcox

ACIDSTOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist. It is safe, reliable, easy, and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

The egg, according to Mr. Webster's dictionary, is the reproductive body of birds and many reptiles. But I'm afraid that Mr. Webster slipped up a bit in his definition. For he neglected to mention the fact that the egg is an excellent complexion beautifier. And it's my personal belief that the egg mask is the simplest and most effective of all the masks that I've thus far described to you.

There are three different methods of administering an egg mask, and all three methods are equally effective. Some beauty culturists advise the use of the egg yolk only. Others advise the use of the egg white alone. And still others recommend the use of both.

In the first method of giving an egg mask treatment to the face, the egg yolk alone should be employed. Before the application of this mask, the skin should always be thoroughly cleansed with warm water and a bland soap, and then with co cream. If the skin is very dry, a thin film of the cream may be permitted to remain on under the pack. And in any case, a bit of rich cream should be smoothed around the eyes and mouth. Then the yolk of an egg should be smoothed over the face and neck, after it is first thoroughly beaten.

When applying the egg yolk, don't, I beg of you, forget your neck. So many women do. You should apply the egg yolk to the neck first, and then spread it up over the jawline, and over the entire face, with the exception of the eyelids. Then allow the egg to dry, taking care that you do not, in any way, crack the mask.

If it is possible for you to do so, lie down and relax while the mask is hardening. But lie down immediately after the egg has been applied. If you wait until the egg has begun to set before lying down, you will risk cracking the mask in the process.

In removing the mask, take care that you do not treat your skin too roughly. The best course is to stand over a bowl of clear, lukewarm water, and lave the water over the face and neck with a soft cloth until all the egg has been removed. Then draw a fresh bowl of lukewarm water and rinse the face and neck again. Finish with an application of cool water or a mild skin tonic to close the pores, and to tone up the skin.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Astringent

Patty: The astringent you refer to is made of equal parts of rosewater, glycerine and witch-hazel. Use less witch-hazel, if the lotion proves too drying.

Reducing

Peggy G.: The reducing course contained in my booklet on "The New Figure" is guaranteed to take off 8 to 10 pounds in two weeks. It is, to my knowledge, one of the most healthful reducing routines in existence.

Presentation Made To Lakehurst Pair

LAKEHURST, Feb. 16. — An interesting event took place on Thursday evening, at the conclusion of the meeting of the Young People's Society in the United Church here, when Mr. Joblin, minister in charge of the Lakehurst Circuit, took the chair, and called to the platform a bride and groom of the month, the former being an officer in the society, Mrs. John Brown, formerly Stella Shearer.

The young couple took their places under an arch at the front of the church which was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers. After an appropriate address read by Mr. Parnell, Miss Margaret Coones, president of the Society, presented the bride and groom with a dainty boudoir lamp, the gift of the Society. The bride was also the recipient of some very lovely gifts from many families of the community.

A short program was enjoyed, including several harmonica and accordion selections by Mr. Joblin and Orvil Windover. Mr. Huston, a former pastor of the church, also spoke briefly. A social half hour under the supervision of Mrs. H. Huston, concluded the event.

Messrs J. G. Elliott and Stanley Barcroft of S. S. No. 3, R. Calvert and G. Dixon of S. S. No. 8, attended the meeting of trustees and ratepayers at the Court House, Peterborough, on Saturday.

Mr. Huston spent the week-end at Lakehurst.

Your Health

By Dr LOGAN CLENDENING

Marinetti, the philosopher of Futurism, thought that he could change the soul of the Italian people by making them stop eating spaghetti and macaroni.

This sublimation of Briallat-Savarin's famous exclamation, "Tell me what you eat and I will tell you what you are," is the keynote of Dr. Louis Berman's book, "Food and Character."

Different types of people, according to Dr. Berman, are induced, probably on account of the nature of their ductless gland system, to favor certain kinds of foods. And much of their destiny and their character, he believes, can be changed by careful understanding of these two factors and a modification of the functions of the glands along with a scientific adjustment of diet.

"The composition of a diet must be made to conform to the composition of the individual," and much of life's tragedy might be changed if proper understanding of these chemical factors of personality were made and a careful selection of diet based upon them were planned.

In the chapter on the "Metabolism of Leadership," Dr. Berman discusses the diet of some famous men, and suggests that the enrmous meals which Bismarck ate prepared the way for the World war of 1914. The diet of such a political boss as Boies Penrose indicates that he was a masterful man. For breakfast he was accustomed to have a dozen fried eggs, half an inch thick slice of ham, a dozen hard rolls and a quart of coffee.

Mahatma Gandhi, on the other hand, limits himself to goat's milk and dried fruit. Dr. Berman comments that this is the perfect diet for a man of Gandhi's type. "The fruit supplements the deficiency of the goat's milk, which has a fat content higher than that of cow's milk, and so supplies more calories volume for volume." It is a diet calculated to make for restfulness and for a life of meditation.

Lime, according to the doctor, seems to have much to do with the neurotic constitution, and children who have tantrums and who resent reprimands or discipline may be simply examples of altered function of the parathyroid glands, combined with a lack of calcium in the blood.

Indeed, the dietetic researches of the past few years have shown us how height, strength and mental ability can be modified in many people, but I believe that Dr. Berman's contention oversteps the bounds of possibility, according to our present knowledge.

It is a little as if he contended that if you put the highest grade oil and gas into your Ford car it would turn into a Rolls-Royce under your hands. This is no slur on either the Ford or the Rolls-Royce; personally I would as soon have one as the other. But I fear it would be a waste of time and money to try to convert one into the other by feeding it the proper kind of fuel.

Rev. C. W. Barrett Speaks At Cobourg

(Special to The Examiner.)

COBOURG, Feb. 16. — With Rev. George Campbell, Camborne, presiding, a meeting of the Cobourg Presbytery of the United Church, was held on Tuesday afternoon in Trinity Hall. Rev. John E. Glover, Smithfield, was present in his capacity of secretary. A significant feature of the meeting was an address by Rev. C. W. Barrett, B. A., of Brighton, on "The Oxford Group," a subject that is attracting much interest and sonsideration throughout the Bay of Quinte Conference. The men of Trinity Church, and of this district were especially asked to be present and hear Mr. Barrett. At the noon hour the ladies of Trinity church served luncheon.

A matter of regret to members of Cobourg Presbytery is the expected removal of their secretary, Rev. John E. Glover, who has accepted an invitation to Claremont.

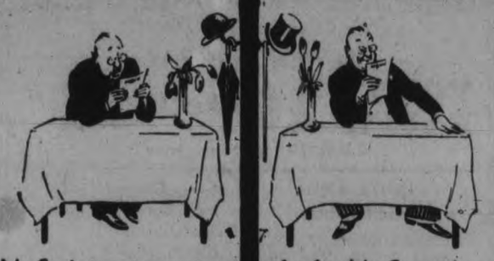
Mr Can't | Mr Can



Mr Can't is quite a nice man in his way. But oh, so fussy about himself, so afraid of catching cold, and so depressed about business. 'If only you had my troubles,' he often says. A great many weary people have got his troubles—though not quite the ones he means. For a great many people are ill and poisoned—because they don't keep clean inside!

As for Mr Can—it's a wonder he doesn't tire himself out sometimes. The way he drives that car. The way he romps with the children. And how he works! The whole point is that Mr Can keeps himself as clean inside as out. Doesn't let waste matter stay long enough to poison him and make him yawny and wretched. Mr Can takes Eno every morning. Mr Can knows!

Eno's 'Fruit Salt' turns Can't into Can! Heaviness—into freshness! Sleeplessness—into dreamless rest! Half-health—into all-year-round fitness! Just to drink Eno is to know you'll feel better for it—the taste is so clean and fresh and pleasant. Eno does for the inner man what soap and water does for the outer. And who can say that this inner cleansing is not the more vital? Take Eno first thing every morning and before you retire at night.

Tune in to any station on the Blue net work of the National Broadcasting system and enjoy the Eno Crime Club programme, Tuesdays and Wednesdays 8 to 8.30 p.m., E. S. T.

That is why Chase & Sanborn instituted Dated Coffee.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

NOW THAT BUTTONS are again coming into fashion as trimming for frocks, it is especially important to know how they should be sewed on.

* * * * * * *

It is true that buttons never are discarded entirely, for they are necessities on garments, but intermittently they emerge as trimming, thus giving them double importance.

* * * * * * *

For such articles as coats and outer wraps which require doing up and undoing whenever worn, nothing has usurped buttons, combining as they do both convenience and ornament.

* * * * * * *

Since coat buttons are of such constant value, it is well to know the best way to sew them on. There are two points to consider—how to secure them firmly and how to sew them on so that there will be no defacing signs of stitches on the inside.

* * * * * * *

Coat linings are often as handsome in their way as are the outside materials. It is for this reason, as much as to prevent textiles from straining goods to the breaking point, that small and inconspicuous buttons are sewed inside the coats, with the same threads and at the same time the larger outside buttons are fastened to the garment.

* * * * * * *

These inner buttons should be pierced with four holes, whether the outside button has a shank or is also pierced. Every time the threaded needle is put through the coat materials, whether from front or back, it is also run through one of the holes in the inner button, each time through an opposite hole.

* * * * * * *

When coats are of very heavy goods, or fur, these inner buttons should always be used, lest the material or skin tears.

* * * * * * *

Buttons should always have a little freedom of motion, or play, as this is termed. Unless purely for ornament, buttons should never be sewed down so tight as to hinder their usefulness as a fastener.

* * * * * * *

Buttons with holes in them should be given similar play by sewing them a trifle loosely to the material. Also before ending off the thread, it should be wound several times tightly about the threads which come between the button and the material.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

CONVENTIONS AND SIGNALS

Good conventions meet actual needs of the game, and are rules followed by trained players. Every part of the game is permeated by conventions, or signals, intended to guide partner's play against the declarer. Every signal must be known to all players to be legitimate. No secret code is allowed. One handy convention is for dummy to place trumps at his right, when spreading his cards.

Long used conventions sometimes end by being incorporated into The Laws of Contract Bridge, that should be in the hands of every player. The long employed method of cutting the cards finally became incorporated into the following law.

"8. (1) The dealer presents the pack to the player on his right, who lifts off a portion from the top and places it towards the dealer beside the bottom portion. The dealer then completes the cut by placing the bottom portion on the top portion."

THE ECHO is the basis of all signals. This consists of the play of an unnecessarily high card of a suit, followed by a lower card on the next round of that suit, instead of playing them in normal order—a lower card followed by a higher card.

THE COME ON is an echo in partner's suit when he leads the K, to show that you hold the Ace or Q, or because you want to trump the third lead. If partner leads you a winning card of the suit which you have bid, play an encouraging high card if you wish him to again lead your suit, or play the lowest card of your suit if you wish him to shift to a lead of another suit through dummy's strength.

Suppose that you have bid a suit upon the A-Q-J-2, plus a side trick, Your partner leads the K of your suit. If you see nothing better for him to do you drop your J under his K, saying "Come on." Suppose that your bid suit is the K-Q-J-8-2, and you hold back of dummy's K-J-7 of a side suit, the A-Q-10. Your partner leads the Ace of your suit. Wanting him to shift to a lead of your side suit, you drop the 2 under partner's ace, saying "Shift to a lead through dummy's strength." Your partner must do as you direct. He must cease leading the suit you have bid and lead your side suit, thus allowing you to pick up an easy trick in a suit which you cannot lead yourself without loss of a trick.

THE CALL FOR A SUIT to be led by partner is made by discarding it in echo form. If unable to make two discards let your first discard be the highest card of the suit that you can spare. If unable to spare a high discard, your lowest card discarded from each of two other suits, by inference, asks for a lead of the suit from which you have not discarded.

Interest At Top

By MME. LISBETH

True to the season's tradition that frock interest must be centered at the top—above the table—is this daytime frock of navy ribbed seer. The upper part of the sleeves, of navy and white print, centers the interest at the shoulder line.

This part of the sleeve is lined with white, the cuffs are banded in the same, and the jabot scarf is also white lined.

Hat, shoes and gloves may either be navy or black.

Pleasing Program At Circle Meeting

A goodly representation of the members of the X. L. Mission Circle gathered last night for their February meeting at the home of Miss Zetta Wood, Lansdowne street.

It was decided to again adopt Miss Robertson and Miss Reade as missionaries for prayer this year. In connection with the Mother and Daughter banquet, to be held, a committee was appointed to co-operate with the W. M. S. in this endeavor. The distribution of 'holiday' bags and the reception of fees followed and the dedicatory prayer offered by Dorcas Nixon closed the business session.

An interesting little dialogue giving Biblical reasons for doing missionary work was presented by Muriel Moorhouse and Jean Hammond, while Grace Sargent gave a most appropriate and delightful reading, "Small Corners."

The study for the month dealt with the beginnings of missionary and church endeavor in the Canadian west and was very ably outlined by Jean Rose, who concluded her talk wth an old Indian legend.

The singing of "Prayer Changes Things" and the benediction brought to a conclusion this very successful program which was followed by a social time.

Gay Valentine cut-outs decorated the rooms and a contest in keeping with the day was much enjoyed. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. W. D. Sargent, assisted by Zetta Wood, Hazel and Dorcas Nixon.

RARE AND ROYAL WEDDING GIFTS FOR MISS CHURCHILL

100 CANDLES GLEAM

London.—Members of almost every aristocratic family in Britain were present at the wedding of Miss Diana Churchill, eldest daughter of Mr. Winston Churchill, to Mr. John Milner Bailey, son of Sir Abe Bailey, the diamond millionaire, at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

But in the bridal procession there were only representatives of the two families.

Miss Churchill's empire gown of white satin, embroidered at the wrists and neck with seed pearls, was so cut that the skirt formed a train. Her tulle veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms.

The Duke of Marlborough, who is Mr. Churchill's cousin, lent his mansion, number 7 Carlton House Terrace, to his young kinswoman for the reception. There the gifts were ranged about the great cream and gold ballroom, and from the enormous candelabrum hanging from the centre of the ceiling a hundred candles threw a rich glow over the marriage feast.

The King and Queen sent a wedding gift of a blue enamel and gold dressing set to Miss Churchill. "With best wishes from the King and Queen" was the inscription on the card accompanying the gift.

There were many hundreds of gifts from political friends of Mr. Winston Churchill, foreign diplomats, and friends and relatives of the young couple.

The bridegroom also received royal gifts. Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught sent a picture, and Lady May Abel-Smith, niece of the Queen, sent a cigar case. Lady May Abel-Smith's father, the Earl of Athlone sent a visitors' book.

Sir Abe Bailey, the bridegroom's father, gave his son a handsome cheque, and to the bride he gave a fur coat.

Mr. Winston Churchill's gift to his daughter was a cheque. The bride's mother gave her a pair of diamond clips. Among the other jewels given to Miss Churchill were a pearl necklace, a diamond clip, and a diamond watch from the bridegroom. She gave him a set of diamond and onyx cufflinks.

Sir Austen Chamberlain's joint gift with his family was an ingenious cocktail tray fitted with a device which gives the recipes for 20 cocktails. The American ambassador, Mr. Andrew Mellon, sent a silver inkstand. The French ambassador and Mme. de Fleuriau sent a silver and enamel cigarette box.

SIX KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION IN YORKS

Wombwell Accident Brings Year's Colliery Death Total to Eighty-Two

London.—The number of deaths this year in serious colliery accidents in Great Britain was brought up to eighty-two by an explosion near Wombwell, Yorkshire, in which six men were killed.

It was the ninth mine disaster since January last. The number of disasters had been unprecedented in 1932.

The explosion occurred at the Cortonwood Colliery during the night shift, when the nine victims—three men injured are in a serious condition—were waiting to begin work in a small seam half a mile underground.

It is attributed to shot firing, and eye witnesses state that a ball of fire rushed along 100 yards of coal face—the result of gas.

Edward Myers, one of the first to dash to the rescue, said he saw two boys, rushing towards him, their clothes blazing and lighting the passages of the pit "like human candles."

As they got near him yelling incoherently their clothes dropped off. He rolled them in stone dust and extinguished the flames, and then telephoned to the pithead for help.

Rescuers found other victims lying semi-conscious.

The more serious colliery accidents with loss of life this year were:

January 26—Explosion in Llwynpia Colliery, Rhondda Valley — eleven killed.

October 10—Winding accident Bickershaw Collieries, Leigh—nineteen killed.

November 12—Explosion in Edgegreen Colliery, Wigan—twenty-seven killed.

November 16—Explosion at Cardawan Colliery—eleven killed.

PREDICTS CONCRETE WORLD FROM SHIPS TO TEA CUPS

Londoner Sees No Limit to His Favorite Form of Construction

FOR NEW STONE AGE

London.—If there is another big war navies may fight with concrete battleships while the people at home sleep securely in bomb-proof, shrapnel-proof houses.

This is the idea visualized by Mr. Harold Lee, research expert of a London firm, and one of the prominent men in the concrete and allied industries.

"We are on the verge of an all-concrete civilization, a new Stone Age," he says. "Already we have concrete buildings, bridges, lamp-posts, and fencing, and it is but a step to cement crockery and all-concrete skyscrapers.

"The latest development is a concrete coffin, shortly to be put on the market, at a cost of about eight shillings.

"To-day it is possible to treat ordinary cement in such a way that a road can be used four hours after it has been laid down.

"In connection with the construction of the giant new Mersey tunnel at Liverpool, a sea-defence demonstration was recently carried out in which concrete piles, immersed thirty-four seconds after their making, proved invulnerable to sea water.

"Modern examples of concrete work are the new home of the B.B.C., the Bank of England, the Dorchester hotel and the five new Underground stations.

"Continental concerns are closely watching our progress towards the inevitable concrete era.

"It will cost twice as much to pull down a large, all-concrete building, by present methods, as it has cost to build.

"Steel ships, particularly battleships, may be soon a thing of the past. A firm in Rochford (Essex) made some concrete ships during the war, and when an attempt was made to destroy them by gun-fire, they just rocked.

"Concrete unbreakable crockery is bound to come, and it may not be long before we have concrete furniture and large buildings without a single steel girder in them.

"Among the problems still to be solved are: Making concrete retain color, rendering it impervious to the action of acid and acid-laden air, and constructional problems of sound and echo such as those experienced in the B.B.C. building."

STATE TO ENFORCE CONTROL OF BIRTHS

To "Benefit Proletariat, Better the Race"

Vera Cruz. — With the idea of "benefitting the proletariat and bettering the race," the authorities here have decided to draw up a law introducing a system of state enforced birth control, announces Dr. Salvador Mendoza, one of the drafters of the new civil code.

The law would require parents wishing to have children to appear before an official board, which would inquire into the size of family, ability to provide and educate, and health condition of the parents.

The measure would prohibit children to extremely poor, incompetent, or defective couples. A state birth control office is being established to carry out the plan.

SELLS CRISIS BOUQUET

Paris.—A Paris florist cannot be daunted by the slump. Realising that his former clients are no longer in the mood to greet their friends with flowers, he is featuring "Le Bouquet de la Crise." It consists of choice carrots and turnips, onions and radishes, set off by bright green tufts of salad leaves. The bouquet is not romantic, but it is cheap and picturesque, and serves to demonstrate the donor's appreciation of the gravity of the hour.

BROKEN RIBS DO NOT KEEP LORD BEATTY IN

Jaw Was Fractured at Previous Hunting Accident

London.—In spite of having two ribs broken, Earl Beatty attended the Dockland Settlements dinner at the Mansion House and helped the lord mayor receive the guests.

He looked well but he had got out of bed only a few minutes previously in his determination to be present at the function.

Earl Beatty broke two ribs in a fall in the hunting field recently and spent two days in bed.

An official of the Dockland Settlements said that "Lord Beatty is a trustee and chairman of our council. He had a similar hunting accident just before our last dinner at the Mansion House, which was in 1930, and he was very disappointed at having to miss it."

His jaw was fractured by the previous hunting accident, but it mended perfectly.

VILLAGE CHOSEN FOR HUGE RADIO STATION

Britain's Biggest Broadcasting Centre Will Be Built at Wychbold

Droitwich, Eng.—A field in the little village of Wychbold, near here, Worcestershire, has been chosen by the B.B.C. as the site for the biggest broadcasting station in Britain.

Work is to begin at once. Some of the contracts have already been placed. Within 18 months regular programs will be transmitted.

This new broadcasting station is to replace the Daventry long-wave transmitter, which for years was known as 5XX, and the Midland Regional transmitter, which was originally known as 5GB.

Wychbold will be the most powerful B.B.C. station, and will radiate on two wave-lengths—one medium-wave, with a power of about 70 kilowatts, and one long-wave, with 100 kilowatts.

RADIO FOR COAL MINES TO WARN WORKERS OF DANGER

Successful Experiments Made at Several Collieries in South Yorkshire

JUST ONE WAY YET

Wakefield, Eng.—Radio stations, to be used between the pit-head and the men working in the mines, are being installed in the Yorkshire coalfields.

Tests made at the Manor Haigh and Roundwood collieries, near Wakefield, and at other pits in south Yorkshire, have proved successful.

A transmitter with a large aerial has been erected at the top of the shaft of one pit, and from this messages have been picked up clearly at points underground nearly two miles away.

A short wavelength is used.

A colliery official says:

"So far the experiments have not got any further than one-way transmission, but this would be sufficient to announce gas and other warnings to the men below.

"These spoken messages have been received underground as clearly as from any loud-speaker in a drawing-room.

"We now want to devise a system by which men below can signal the transmitting station—either by a red glow in the transmitting room or a buzzer.

"The radio will remove one of the miners' greatest fears—the constant dread of being cut off from all outside help by heavy falls of roof.

"Ordinary telephone systems have proved ineffective, owing to the danger of wires being torn down by falls."

The ministry of mines is watching the experiments and the men are anxious to learn all about them.

LONDON IS SO COLD GUARDS DROP RIFLES

But Palace Sentries Must Stand "Properly at Ease"

London.—The metropolis shivered during a recent week-end to such an extent that Coldstream Guardsmen relieving the Scots Guards at Buckingham Palace were allowed to pile arms and walk up and down.

The captain of the guard has the King's authority to order the piling of arms in such circumstances. But no such concession is granted the sentries, who must stand "properly at ease" in the intervals of sentry-go.

TIDE DROWNS WOMEN ON GLAMORGAN COAST

They Were on Donkeys Gathering Mussels

Penclawdd, Wales. — This little coast village in Glamorgan has been plunged into mourning by a tragedy on the sands midway between Llanelly and Penclawdd.

Two women who rode out on donkeys to gather mussels in the estuary were trapped by the tide and drowned.

Four others were rescued by men who put off in a motor boat.

The drowned women were: Mrs. Margaret Pamp, 56, of the Old Post Office, Penclawdd; Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Dallimore, 30, of Bandraw, Penclawdd.

When the women had been at the mussel bed some time they discovered that the tide had marooned them.

They tried to cross the river on their donkeys, but the animals, finding the current too strong, tried to turn back and all the riders were thrown into the water.

Their cries were heard by a fisherman, George Edwards, of Llanmorlais, who dashed towards the Llanelly lighthouse and secured the services of four Llanelly fishermen, who went in a motor boat and saved four of the women.

CHINESE EX-EMPEROR'S SISTER IS IN LONDON

Much Interest Taken in Arrival of "Mrs. Cheng," a Bride of 20

London. — A recent passenger arriving on the liner Tenkuni Maru was a slim Chinese girl wearing a gray squirrel coat — Mrs. Cheng—sister of the ex-emperor of China (now the ruler of the new state of Manchukuo) and her bridegroom, Mr. Cheng, whom she married last April. Their host is Sir Reginald Johnston, professor of Chinese at the School of Oriental Studies, London.

Mrs. Cheng, aged 20, has large hazel eyes in a pale oval face and glossy black hair parted and drawn back severely.

A brief interview was conducted in Chinese with Sir Reginald as interpreter. Mr. and Mrs. Cheng will not, while in Britain, discuss the situation in Manchukuo.

"We are here simply as students, our main object being to learn the language and study social conditions," said Mr. Cheng. "We have no set program. We may spend a few weeks in London before doing any tours.

"We may have a glimpse at industrial centres later on. It is impossible to say how long we shall remain—that depends on several considerations connected with our own country."

Sir Reginald Johnston hopes to have the young couple as his guests until the spring.

Mrs. Cheng has yet to see the London shops. Her English studies will be made under the guidance of a governess.

SHOUT AND SING AND STOP CHURCH SERVICE

Interrupters Object to Vestments and Forms at St. Hilary, Penzance

Penzance, Eng.—"Come out of the pulpit with those vestments on," was shouted in St. Hilary church, near here, on a recent Sunday morning, when, for the second week in succession, extraordinary scenes took place during the service as a result of objection by many of the congregation to high church forms of service.

The names of interrupters were taken by the police at the request of Canon Carr, vicar of St. Mary's church, Penzance, who was conducting the service in the absence of the vicar, Rev. N. B. Walke, who is ill.

The church was full, and immediately the organ began the opening anthem, a section of the congregation rose and sang a hymn.

Canon Carr left the altar, walked to the other end of the church and apparently asked the organist to stop playing.

He then spoke to Superintendent Matthews of the Cornwall Constabulary, who was present in uniform; pointed out that the service had been disturbed, and asked him to take the names of the offending persons.

When Canon Carr went back to the altar the opposition immediately began to sing other hymns.

The singing continued loudly until the canon went to the pulpit to preach. Then came shouts of "Take off those vestments," etc.

Some members of the congregation rose and stood round the pulpit while the sermon was read, but the hymn-singing made the preacher's words inaudible.

When the service was concluded, protesting members of the congregation sang the National Anthem, and, finally, after all the names had been taken, the Doxology.

Telephones and Chandeliers Weapons as Nazis Fight Communists

Berlin.—The Deichstag lobby was practically wrecked when over 100 German M.P.'s used ink-pots, chairs, tables and fists in a fight that lasted nearly half-an-hour.

Telephones were ripped from the walls and used as weapons, chandeliers were pulled from the ceilings, and heavy chairs were flung recklessly about.

Two Nazi and two Communist deputies were gravely injured, as well as a police officer who vainly tried to intervene.

Hardly a pane of glass in the lobby was left unbroken.

The battle started during a debate on the Nazi bill to provide a deputy for the president, should he resign or die, but the real cause of the trouble was a Communist taunt that the Nazis were responsible for the German silk works disaster.

When a Communist rose in the gallery and shouted "Down with Hindenburg," a free fight started there at once, and uniformed Nazi deputies rushed upstairs and dragged out the demonstrator.

About forty Communist members immediately ran into the lobby outside the chamber, where they joined battle with a large group of Nazis who held the demonstrator prisoner.

The deputy-speaker vainly rang his bell for order as the two groups came to blows immediately behind his chair, and the session had finally to be adjourned.

ROUMANIA BANS WHITE BREAD

Bucharest.—White bread will be forbidden, until next harvest, to soldiers, policemen and boarders in schools and colleges here. Instead they will receive rye bread and a kind of stiff porridge made of maize.

"REDUCE OR RESIGN" FAT POLICEMEN TOLD

Must Be Down to 145 Pounds Within Thirty Days

Sydney, New South Wales.—The New South Wales authorities have just published an ultimatum to the police to reduce to 145 lbs. within 30 days or get out of the service.

It has been noticeable that many policemen, particularly those on liquor squads who have to make regular inspections of saloons, have been acquiring excessive weight. The average weight of a policeman is now 190 lbs., while the inspector assigned to a liquor squad weighs over 200.

VARNISHED HAIR NEW PARIS STYLE

But French Women Wear Wig for Japanese Effect

Paris.—French experts in hair-dressing fashions for women have gone for their styles to Old Japan.

The popularity of varnished heads is growing every day.

The Japanese woman uses a varnish to produce a shiny effect, with every hair in its place, but the Parisienne, who dislikes the risk of keeping her hair in so drastic a fashion, wears a special wig.

The advantage of these wigs for day-time wear is that the modern beret, or tight-fitting hat, can be taken off without disarranging the hair.

DISPERSE FOG AT WILL

Stockholm. — A correspondent of "Extrabladet" states that a local engineer has constructed an apparatus which, it is claimed, is able to disperse fog and would thus be of the greatest importance to shipping. The correspondent adds that financial support is to be given to the invention of Prince Lennart.

10,000 FLOCK TO VILLAGE AS CHILDREN SEE VISIONS

Five Youngsters, Praying in Hypnotic Trance, Meet Mystic Woman

Brussels.—Nearly 10,000 people have flocked to the village of Beauraing, on the Franco-Belgian frontier, in the belief that a new Lourdes has been discovered.

Beauraing was filled with cripples, blind and bedridden people, brought there by an endless stream of motor cars, all awaiting a miracle.

For miles around the roads were blocked by the traffic which centred on the gates of the convent of Notre Dame.

Five children were the cause of it. Four girls and a boy, aged from fifteen to nine years, declared that while they were praying outside the convent there appeared the vision of a very beautiful woman, dressed in white, with the traditional features of the Virgin Mary.

Her face, they said, was shining with a golden light and blue rays came from her robe.

In a state of great excitement the children fetched their parents to the spot. Again they declared that they saw the vision.

But the parents saw nothing.

No one in the crowd, however, saw any vision.

Doctors then examined the children and found that while they were "seeing things" they were in reality in a hypnotic trance.

This was proved by pricking the children's cheeks with a knife, and holding lighted matches to their hands. They felt nothing, but just went on praying.

Night after night ever-growing crowds have waited in vain outside the convent gates. There has been no sign of anything supernatural. The life of the village has become so disorganized that the local authorities have had to take steps to prevent the crowds assembling.

CHINA TO CONFER ON ETIQUETTE RULES

Will Revise Rites for Social Functions

Pekin.—An official conference has been convened at Nanking to draw up rules for proper behavior.

The outcome of the conference, which is meeting to "revise the rites for all social functions," will be a book of etiquette prescribing the proper ritual for weddings, funerals, and other occasions.

An official notice explains that many old customs have been supplanted by "hybrid innovations" and that it is, therefore, necessary "to standardize all important rituals and to set rules for even the most ordinary salutations."

GENERALS EXILED FOR 1923 OFFENCE

Spanish Military Men May Not Hold Office

Madrid. — The parliamentary tribunal has passed sentence on the generals and others charged with setting up a dictatorship under General Primo de Rivera in 1923.

General Martinez Anido was condemned to 36 years' exile in a town to be decided upon by the government and perpetual interdiction from holding office under the state. Generals Berenguer, Cavalcanti, Aizpuru and Cobo were sentenced to 12 years' residence in a town to be selected by the government and barred from all public posts. Others received lighter sentences, but all were debarred from taking public posts.

THIRSTS IN SPAIN ARE BIG AS EVER

But Why the Bread, Chicken and Eggs

Madrid.—The Catalan Regionalist League, the other day, gave a banquet in honor of the sixteen newly-elected deputies to the Spanish parliament. It took three hundred waiters to serve:

6,000 bottles of liqueur.
1,500 bottles of champagne.
3,500 bottles of red and white wines.
12,000 rolls of bread.
1,500 chickens, and
13,000 eggs.

Twenty-four ovens were required to cook the food, and two and a half miles of paper was used instead of linen table cloths.

CLAIMS HE DRANK BEER NINETY YEARS

But Missionary Delivers the Knockout

Constantinople.—Mahmoud Agha, a Kurd from Elbasten, claims he is 137 years of age and that for over ninety years he has been drinking beer and smoking cigarettes. He says he is now in the best of health.

An English missionary, angered by the aged man's beer boast, states in the public press that Mahmoud is a liar, for beer was introduced into Constantinople only 40 years ago and Anatolia did not know about it until 15 years later.

ROBES HIDE CONTRABAND

Petch, Ipek (Yugoslavia).—Because so many Albanian Moslem women crossing the frontier have carried contraband tobacco under their flowing robes, the Serb authorities have issued a warning that women who do not wear up-to-date clothes must submit to examination by male customs officials.

QUEENSLANDER CLAIMS HE CAN CURE CANCER

Injection of His Serum Effective Only in Early Stages, He Admits

Brisbane.—The Queensland government is contemplating an inquiry into a claim to cancer cures made by a Brisbane man and said to be substantiated by the testimony of many people in this district.

George A. Roberts, after nine years of research, claims to have discovered an acid which, by injection, cures cancer.

He has notified the Queensland branch of the Empire Cancer Trust but the trust has refused to investigate his claim unless he discloses his formula.

He has declined to do that but has offered to take any certified case of cancer and treat the patient in the presence of medical witnesses.

This offer, in turn, has been declined.

Roberts does not claim to be able to cure advanced stages of cancer but in the earlier stages he states that his formula reduces live cancer cells to dead tissue.

The president of the medical board here, Dr. Connolly, admits that he has probably been successful in curing rodent ulcers—cancerous growths—in infected rats and mice.

In the case of human patients, however, he says that time only is the test of a cancer.

Many of the 170 persons Mr. Roberts treated say that they were cured after ordinary medical treatment had failed.

Mr. Roberts is still hoping that medical men will agree to his treating patients under their supervision.

If they do not it is likely that the government will agree to an inquiry into his claim.

COVENT GARDEN OPERA HOUSE SEEMS DOOMED

Historic London Building May Give Way to a New Sreet

London.—The Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, is to be pulled down unless the Covent Garden Opera Syndicate can make a satisfactory arrangement to renew the lease, which expires next July.

Plans for a complete rebuilding scheme, which include the demolition of the famous theatre and the construction of a new street, have been submitted by the owners—the Covent Garden Properties Co.—to Westminster city council, and have been approved, subject to certain conditions, by the works committee.

"We are anxious to preserve the building, if possible," one of the owners said. "We are not insensible to its historical associations, and we would be loth to deprive opera of its London home. The plan we have submitted to the council is purely tentative—to be put into effect in the event of a breakdown of negotiations with the opera syndicate. Approval of the plans by the council would not commit us to going on with the scheme."

PLANE HAS NO PROPELLER

Madrid.—A new kind of flying machine, without wings and without propeller, and which it is claimed can rise or descend perpendicularly and move backwards and forwards in the air without losing altitude, has been invented by a Barcelona man, Ignacio Gavin.

The motive force is provided by two instruments resembling mill-wheels, which project from either side of the machine. Only a diminutive model of the machine has been made, but this, propelled by a motor of one-twelfth horsepower, succeeded in performing a few evolutions.

Fate Of Europe May Rest On German Elections

"DIVINE DESTINY HAS CALLED ME!"—HITLER.

An election, on the result of which, observers state, rests the fate of Europe, will take place in Germany on Sunday, the fifth of March, when Adolph Hitler, new Fascist chancellor, goes to the country, including Prussia, in an attempt to secure a working majority Hitler has already overcome the objection of the Prussian State Diet by outsting fiery Franz von Papen. Dr. Braun is shown in circle at LOWER RIGHT; Von Papen is shown at UPPER LEFT. With the elections there is bound to come riots and bloodshed between the Communists and the Fascists, hated rivals. The Communists, almost as strong in Germany as the Hiterlites, are said to be one of the main reasons why President Paul von Hindenburg appointed Hitler to the chancellorship, in order that the Communists, who had shown increased strength, could be suppressed. Hitler has fallen in with this plan and has banned all Communist literature and speeches, to say nothing of meetings. The Communists, on the other hand, while fighting Hitler tooth and nail, are somewhat pleased at his appointment since they claim they can show the German people how empty is his administration. Meanwhile, Kurt von Schleicher, who was ousted from the chancellorship on Hitler's appointment, sits quietly by awaiting events, ready, observers think, to pounce when the pouncing looks easiest. He is shown above, at RIGHT, beneath Hitler. Mixed up with Hitlerism are the two German princes, particularly Prince August "Auwi" Wilhelm, in circle, LOWER LEFT, who is one of Hitler's henchmen. Even the former crown prince is an active Fascist performer. Konstantin von Neurath, new foreign minister in the Hitler cabinet, is entrusted with Germany's relations with other countries. He is tolerated in France, and not an ardent Fascist. He was placed there by Hindenburg as an "anchor" for Hitler. He is seen at LEFT, beneath Von Papen. Paul von Hindenburg, CENTRE, the "rock of ages" in Germany, still holds the country in a semblance of order. This giant of a man, at nearly 85, is the only stumbling block to revolution or civil war in Germany. When he dies, what then? Will the emblem shown at RIGHT, the Communist sickle and hammer reign supreme, or will it be the Swastika, shown at LEFT, the Fascist emblem? Perhaps March 5 will tell.

JAPANESE ARMY CHOKING ROADS INTO MANCHURIA

Prepare to Open Drive to Seize Jehol Inside Next Two Weeks.

200 MILE FRONT.

Face 150,000 Loosely Organized Chinese—Victory in Month.

(By James A. Mills—A.P. Correspondent)

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Feb. 16.—Roads southward and westward from this most important Manchurian city are alive day and night with Japanese and Manchukuo troops moving steadily toward positions, whence they will "jump off," probably within two weeks, for the long-waited invasion of Jehol Province. The drive along the 200-mile front is expected to bring the biggest Sino-Japanese clash since fighting began in September, 1931, with the capture of this city by the Japanese.

The combined Japanese-Manchukuo force is expected to total 50,000, half of them tested Japanese veterans. They will oppose about 150,000 loosely organized Chinese.

Best Officers in Charge.

Realizing the campaign to wrest this additional territory from Chinese control may be difficult, the Japanese command has diverted its ablest officers from other parts of Manchuria to lead the drive.

The Japanese confidently predict the Jehol campaign will last less than one month after it is definitely under way.

Japan declared she is not at war with China, and describes the Jehol drive as merely a "policing" operation. Its aim is to bring Jehol under the control of the Japanese-maintained government of Manchukuo.

FALL PROVES FATAL.

WASHINGTON. — Godfrey G. Goodwin, Minnesota member of the United States House of Representatives, was found dead of injuries received early to-day in a fall from the window of his room at a local hotel.

Goodwin, a Republican, was first elected to the 69th Congress. He was not re-elected last November.

FIRE GUTS STOREHOUSE

BROCKVILLE—Fire to-day gutted a frame building used as a storehouse by Gilmour and Co., wholesale grocers. Heavy damage was done to contents, mostly canned goods and household articles, by smoke and water.

The blaze, of unknown origin, was confined to the Sotrehouse through firemen's efforts. The loss, not estimated, is covered by insurance.

The Practical Wife

Helen was an eminently practical wife. She left nothing to chance, except when she left it to Julian. And she only did that once a year, when she paid a seven days' visit to that sturdy old warhorse, Julian's mother-in-law, whose sold recommendation, in his view, was the fact that she lived a hundred miles away.

Even then, Helen usually persuaded her husband to close up the house and go and stay with friends (she disapproved of friends coming to stay with him; they left such a mess behind to clear up).

But on this particular occasion, all Julian's friends discovered that their holidays fell due round about the same time, and he was left alone, with a list of reminders concerning the cat, the canary, and the change of underwear set carefully aside for him in the spare drawer.

For the first forty-eight hours after the front door banged behind Helen, he felt as if a heavy cloak had dropped from him, but, in falling, had left him naked to the cold.

And then he met Rosemary. She was twenty-seven—fifteen years younger than he. When he had last known her, she had been nineteen. Then, she was tomboyish and bubbling. Now she was a pastel, all delicate tints and tones. Yet there was still something of the tomboy in the way she swung out her hand in joyous greeting.

"I say, this is rather jolly!" she said. "You haven't altered a bit!"

They went into a teashop and talked. She told him where she was going in life and he told her where he'd already been. Visions and memories. Faith—and its destroyer, experience. It was all very matter of fact on the service, but something stirred that he had believed dead, that he discovered now had only been chloroformed by the anæsthesia of the humdrum.

"All these years I've been talking to myself," he said, as they parted, "and now you've been repeating it all back to me. I shall begin to believe it's true——"

She smiled up at him as their hands met. She was never pretty, he reflected gratefully, but she possessed a quiet radiance that seemed to cast a soft light before her as she walked. He forgot Helen for a whole hour that day.

They met again the next day and the next. He found that, in her society, the staring world of ledgers and late nights, of cats and canaries and heavy underwear, faded into the blue, its circus passing by like a clattering milk-dray along a country road, leaving a peace even sweeter than that which it had disturbed.

He told her that he was married and described Helen in glowing colors.

"She's so sane and sensible," he said. "There's no nonsense about Helen. 'Look after the body,' she says, 'and the soul will look after itself.' You must meet her some day."

"Must I?" Rosemary murmured.

And in that moment he was surprised into the need for standing sentinel over himself. I startled him.

But the guard must soon have slept . . . perhaps through fatigue. Unaware, he had been on duty like that for many years — the years while Rosemary was growing up. The years while he was damping down. And when he had a wire to say that Helen's mother was unwell and she was staying over for a bit longer, he was conscious of a sudden relief without that prickly sense of guilt which should have been proper to the occasion.

Sunday came. They went out into the country—found, miraculously, a hill that was not crawling with humans, and spread themselves luxuriously. The very air was lyrical.

"You know that I love you?" he said, after a long silence.

She smiled without answering. She was watching a little cloud, like a strayed goose, wandering across the sky. But one cool hand covered his, like a gently falling leaf.

Every muscle of his body sighed and relaxed, like taut wires suddenly released. He felt like a man who had just come up from a strong, steady swim. It was one of those glowing moments when life was too real to be true.

Suddenly he sat up. "I've forgotten to pay the laundry bill, he said.

She turned slowly and looked at him. Her fingers plucked in seeming idleness at the lapel of his coat. And all at once he saw that her eyes were melting.

"Rosemary, little Rosemary! he cried; and the taste of her happy tears was as nectar upon his lips.

"I ought to have waited, he said, passionately, "waited for you to grow up. Though I knew you'd never do that, and you haven't, bless you. I can't stick this any longer. I want you to come away with me, somewhere, anywhere, so long as it's miles and miles from bricks and mortar and houses in a row and cats and canaries and laundry bills——"

"And Helen is coming back tomorrow," she reminded him, gently checking his reckless gesture. "No, Julian, dear. I'm glad if you've been a little happier with me. I've been happy, too. But you won't let me down, Julian, you're not that sort?"

A soaking misery came over him. He rose abruptly to his feet. She lifted up her hands and cupped them round his white, set face.

"A kiss to seal a dream," she whispered. "Good-by, Julian."

He spent the night counting sheep and cursing the pattern of the wallpaper and came down, sour, to a tasteless breakfast. Another hour, and Helen would be here—she was already on her way.

He set out for the office—and almost collided with Rosemary, hastening with a strange and secret urgency to see him. Wordlessly she held out a newspaper (he recollected vaguely that he hadn't bothered to glance at his own copy, set beside him at breakfast by the maid).

There was a double line of black type in the stop press. Something to do with a railway smash. There was a list of names of the killed, and among them—Helen s.

The world rocked round him. Only Rosemary remained perfectly still. It seemed that her eyes would never leave his face. She seemed to be waiting.

"I—I shall have to see about this, he mumbled, "I must go at once!

The accident had occurred halfway down the line. Somehow or other he reached the spot and was directed to the hospital where both dead and injured had been taken. He repeated Helen s name, parrot-like, to half a dozen people and was shepherded into a room where a white-jacketed house-surgeon met him.

"These newspapers! said the doctor. "Well, it s all right, old man. Come this way.

In one of the public wards he found her—shaken, white-faced, but oddly like her ordinary self. He dropped to his knees beside the bed, weeping like a child.

"They told me you were dead, he cried. "Frightened the life out of me, it did!"

Helen smiled curiously and for a moment her square, practical hand touched the bald spot on the top of his head. Then:

"Did you remember to pay the laundry?" she asked, in her usual brisk voice.

SPYING ON SPORTS

International Canadian

"Gossip and Such"

THE PASSING OF DICK Nallin, veteran umpire, from the ranks of the American League, takes from baseball a colorful character whose efforts and personality were never appreciated by the fans who have yet to give any umpire his just due.

* * *

THE UMPIRES ARE THE real hermits of the sport world. They must not associate off the field during the season with ball players of their own leagues. They must not associate off the apart. They travel in Pullmans and live in hotels other than those occupied by players.

* * *

THE SOUL OF AN UMPIRE —oh, yes, he really has one!— must yearn for the sympathy and companionship that he never gets. From bleacher to box seat every man's hand is raised against him.

* * *

I HAVE NEVER SEEN AN umpire in his own home town, but it is extremely doubtful that the local citizenry regard him with pride as they do some half-wit, tow-headed left-hander who has landed a job in the Tall Timber League.

OF ALL THE FIELD OFFICials of sport the baseball umpire is an out-and-out pariah.

BASKETBALL, HOCKEY, track and field—the official's job is a pleasant one. Big Bill Tilden was a rarity because he would often disagree with a tennis field official's decision.

AUTO RACE REFEREES and horse track judges have real cushy jobs. Apart and away from the crowd they go unnoticed and so may do their work in peace.

BUT NOT THE BASEBALL umpire. Under the spotlight of a July sun, he is surrounded by enemies.

UMPIRES, MORE THAN ANY others connected with baseball, enjoy reading their praise in print—it's because this so rarely happens. Unhappily, the reverse is true.

AN EXAMPLE OF HOW UNfair the attitude of a baseball crowd may be toward an umpire is the incident which happened to Billy Evans many years ago in St. Louis.

EVANS, NOW BUSINESS manager of the Cleveland Indians, for many years was one of the best umpires in the business. He rarely had difficulty with players or managers. But during a disturbance in St. Louis some one crowned him with a pop bottle, hurled from the stands. He was badly hurt.

* * *

EVANS, OF COURSE, RE-covered. Umpires are made of stern suff. A beaner like that to an umpire was just another headache.

JUNIORS DEFEAT RUBBER TOWN OUTFIT IN SECOND GAME 10-6 FOR TWO-GOAL WIN ON ROUND

BURELY, HILL AND WILLIAMSON ARE STARS IN LOCAL OFFENSIVE—CLEVER GOAL-TENDING

Playing wide-open hockey before more than twelve hundred excited fans at the Brock last night, the junior Petes captured their group title from Bowmanville, winning the game by a 10-6 score and taking the playoff series by 14 goals to 12. It was the liveliest dish of hockey served here this year, fast and furious throughout, and sent the large crowd home happy.

The Petes deserved the win, returning to form to hold an edge on play most of the way, but a battling Bowmanville bunch fought back bitterly to keep the issue in doubt till the final bell. The score was 4-2 for the homesters to end the first frame, and 7-3 for them going into the third. The game visitors sewed up the round early, but the Petes finished stronger to put it in the bag. The game was marked by numerous arguments over goals, the Bowmanville boys fighting hard for everything. While the refereeing wasn't perfect, it was impartial. Of the eleven penalties drawn, the Petes were guilty five times.

Star on Offensive

Burley, Hill and Williamson, the "pepper line", starred every time they were on, playing better hockey than the first string line till the last frame. They uncorked speed, fight and fine hockey, figuring in five of the goals. Sanderson turned in a sparkling performance between the posts, drawing applause frequently for brilliant saves. Bill Calladine did some fine checking and was going fine the last half of the game. Jay turned in one of his best efforts and McGregor worked hard all through. Cadd was again the best of the defencemen at rushing, with Weir and Fenton checking hard. The Petes' defence looked shaky at times as the tricky visitors bored in fast.

Bagnell was the shining light for Bowmanville, the husky centre star figuring in four of their goals and being the Petes' toughest problem throughout. The defence again checked hard, and W. Mutton, the Osbornes and Dunlop all were dangerous. They never eased up in the hectic third frame and made it a fight to the finish.

Scores First Goal

Cadd took Jay's pass to split the defence and score in less than a minute as they opened her up fast. Then Cliff got the gate for charging. Williams evened the count shortly on Dunlop's assist in close. The pace was red hot and even. Calladine and Jay almost tallied and then the second line turned on the juice and kept the place in an uproar as they threatened repeatedly, finally forcing Bowmanville to shoot the puck up the ice.

Burley put the Petes in front on a pass from Cadd, the goal-umpire being changed when the visitors protested it. Williamson took a fine pass out by Burley shortly after to get another in a scramble, and another dispute followed but it was allowed. Bagnell batted one in the air right after as he parked near the locals' net. Calladine and Jay almost got in again, and then McGregor and Bill, after C. Osborne went off for tripping. The Petes were backchecking them fine and keeping play in Bowmanville's territory. Calladine's perfect pass to Mac went for a high shot over the net, and then the goalie came out to stop Weir. Hill got one more near the close on a neat passout by Williamson.

Hold Edge on Play

The second started slower, the homesters having most of the play again and threatening. Finally, Calladine took Weir's pass at defence to zig-zag his way in close and find the twine. W. Mutton was jugged for tripping, and Cadd pulled a neat rush. Then Burley grabbed the disc at centre and whirled in like a streak to blaze the puck past the goalie again. Bowmanville threatened hard then, Hill getting a stretch in the cooler for tripping to save a goal. Calladine nearly worked in again, and Sandy pulled a circus save on W. Mutton. Bagnell dashed through the defence on a great effort to score at close range, and Bowmanville had a decided edge for a space.

Jay gave the locals a lead of two on the round when his hot shot on Calladine's pass picked a corner. The Blue and Whites' first line was clicking perfectly at this time and doing a lot of hard potting in close. Burley replaced McGregor on the first line and went good. Then, Williams got the hooks for charging, and Jay missed at the goalmouth. Sanderson drew a cheer for two smart saves just before the bell.

Clever Goal Tending

Williams took it on the lam again to start the third for tripping Cadd as he breezed in, and later Jay's shot hit the post. Sandy got a few tough ones but cleared smartly, and Weir's goal from Jay was offside. Play was even and fast now. McGregor almost netted the bootheel, and Cadd got the finger for charging. Weir rushed hard, but the Rubbertown battlers were threatening continuously till D. Osborne finally chalked one up on Bagnell's assist inside the defence. Bill Calladine was almost through but tripped. Dunlop tore up the left boards and his whistling shot found a corner past Sanderson to tie up the round. Play was furiously exciting again and hot. Thickson went off for tripping Cadd in a fine rush, and play was rougher and thrilling.

Bowmanville Battles Hard

The homesters' second line held an edge on play as they pepped things up and buzzed around like hornets. Williamson spoiled it when he drew a penalty for boarding, and Bowmanville threatened making the home defence look slow several times. Burley finally got a big hand when he took Cadd's pass at defence and fooled the goalie with a hot drive. Sanderson was going good as the other side kept fighting back, and then Jay again hit the post at close range. Weir hooked to save a goal but was chased and McGregor's goal was disallowed as he kicked it in. Next Calladine missed an open net, being off-balance, but he came right back on beautiful stickhandling after taking McGregor's pass and scored. Hill and Williamson almost got one right after that, but the shifty Bagnell worked in close and again made things interesting by scoring. Hill missed the net and with a minute to go, Jay made it sure by taking one right in and outguessing the harassed Bowmanville goalie. C. Osborne was chased for throwing his stick, and the final gong sounded.

DOHERTY CLUB BEATS MAROONS ON ROUND 7-4

Campbellford Fans See One of Hardest Fought Games This Year on Home Ice.

HULIN STARS IN NETS.

Davis, McKay and Ingram Brothers Carry Brunt of Attack for Maroons.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 6 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Winning out in the last of the O.H.A. group play-offs over the Campbellford Maroons with a 2-1 count, and the round by 7-4, the Belleville D.A.C. captured the group honors.

The game, played in the Davidson Arena, Campbellford, last evening, was seen by over one thousand fans and proved to be one of the finest and fastest exhibitions of hockey seen this season. Played on exceptionally fast ice, the game developed a speed which brought the side-line to its toes and sent both teams into a class by themselves. A hard checking and stiff game, it was kept exceptionally clean by Frank McCurry of Toronto, who handled the bell and let nothing get away from him.

Stars for Maroons

The D.A.C. took no chances and for the major portion of the three frames played defensive hockey, having a two-goal lead on the round and being determined to retain it. Going into action with an eye to the main chances it was Davis, McKay and the Ingram Brothers that warmed the play up and made it a battle from the start. Davis starred at pivot and working a pretty combination with McKay and the Ingrams showed much better combination and held the visitors to their area. And Hulin in the nets was more than good, saving many goals by his wits and presence of mind when the Maroons were bunched round the Belleville net in an endeavor to count. On more than one occasion this nifty tender faced the field alone and despite the swiftness and accuracy of the Belleville attack kept the net clean.

McMeekin showed up to splendid advantage, as also did Gilbert on defence, although the latter started some heavy play and took several "coolers" in the last stanza. P. Morgan and MacDonald showed fine form with their nifty passing and followed up their play every time, taking every rebound they could get. And Tice in the nets got more than his share of punishment, so hot was the attack upon him in the second session that the net gave way under the weight and time was called to get it fixed.

Maroons Stage Early Attack

Belleville took the puck from the face-off and started long shots. Sherry and Gilbert doing their best to stop what looked like a fierce attack by the Maroons. They failed, however, and Fred Ingram drove forward and staged an attack assisted by Davis, who in a melee was fenced for tripping. From then on the entertainers staged attack after attack, the majority of the first frame being theirs; but Tice was a hard man to beat, and no scoring was registered. Breaking away, MacDonald tried to pass the Maroons' defence, but failed. Fred Ingram made a pretty lone play, but was tripped in front of the Belleville net by P. Morgan, who took a penalty.

Gilbert and Sherry tried hard to break through but McArthur and Ingram were too much for them. Starting a three-minute offensive, Fred Ingram went through and commenced a severe attack in the visitors' house, in which P. Morgan was fenced for tripping Bush.

Heavy Checking.

The second frame of the game opened fast and furious, with checking getting to the heavy stage, Gilbert being the first to suffer when he tripped McKay. Belleville made several attacks on the Maroons net, but failed to get through. Eight minutes after play McMeekin drew first blood when with a lone rush he broke from a Campbellford attack, and with no defence to stop him, netted the puck.

Gilbert again started some severe checking and was "cooled" for tripping, Davis and McKay taking the play from the blue line. This was returned to centre ice, where Fred Ingram stole the puck from McMeekin, and with one of his flashing rushes drove right through the visitors' team and counted, two minutes after the first goal. This started the Maroons on the rush again, and the major portion of the period was played in the D.A.C. area with only a few rushes through by Sherry and Gilbert. Gilbert, however, was again fenced toward the end of the session.

Go On Offensive.

In the last stanza both outfits went on the offensive in an endeavor to count, but apart from some terrific rushes and fast skating with heavy checking and back-checking, neither side held an advantage. The Maroons showed much better combination in their attacks, but the Belleville boys knew how to carry the rubber down the ice when they got it. On three separate occasions Hulin faced the ice alone, at one time the whole forward line of the visitors, but he was too much for them and cleared again and again.

Not until eight minutes after play was a count made, in favor of the D.A.C., when Harry Morgan netted the puck from a pass from Nicoll, the Maroons defence all being up ice in the Belleville area. Then play certainly got hot, with Harry Ingram, McKay and Davis driving forward with speed and fine team play, but all to no advantage. Shot after shot went into the Belleville net, but Tice played up in a masterly way. The last few minutes of play, with the Maroons in their house, the visitors contented themselves with clearing the puck every time they got it, keeping the Marcons busy travelling the ice.

The teams:

Belleville—Goal, Tice; defense, Sherry, Gilbert; centre, McMeekin; wings, MacDonald, P. Morgan; subs., Nicholl, H. Morgan, St. Denis, Weir.

Campbellford—Goal, Hulin; defense, MacArthur, Harry Ingram; centre, Ken Davis; wings, McKay, Fred Ingram; subs., Hendy, Bush, Copperthwaite.

First Time Best Has Won Coveted Trophy in Many Years of Curling.

BRILLIANT PLAY.

Emerging undefeated from stiff competition in the first day of curling in the Peterborough Curling Club's bonspiel, Ray Best's veteran rink, of Peterborough, defeated R. H. Edmunds' skilled foursome, of Millbrook, in the play-off round to win the historic Matthews-Blackwell Trophy.

In his many years of curling it is the first time that Ray Best has won the trophy, although he has long been recognized as one of the best skips in the district.

Edmunds, on the other hand, had three times previously won the Matthews-Blackwell Cup, which has been up for competition since 1919.

Both Best and Edmunds were the among the 14 rinks that played the three games in the regular competition of the bonspiel. The two rinks met in a four-end round for the championship, Best winning by 6 points to 2.

Personnel of the two rinks were:

ENGLAND RECOVERS "ASHES" LOST TO AUSTRALIA IN 1930

Victors Win Fourth Match With Six Wickets to Spare — Tests Marked By Unprecedented Squabbles Over "Body-line" Bowling.

FIVE CENTURIES SCORED THROUGHOUT SERIES; BATTING NOT AS PROLIFIC AS IN OTHER YEARS

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 16 (C. P. Cable)—An English team of "all round" cricketers regained possession of the "ashes" to-day by defeating Australia in the fourth test match with six wickets to spare. England won the first and third games. Edward Paynter, Lancaster pro played the last ball to-day, sent down by Stanley McCabe, and hit it out of the grounds for six.

In contrast to the crowd of 60,000 persons who saw the series start at Sydney last December 2, only 1,000 watched the end of to-day's match. A light rain fell as the players walked off the field.

First Lost in 1930

England recovered the "ashes" lost in 1930 when the Aussies visited Britain, with a combination of demon bowlers and stubborn batsmen who held up the tail of the team when that of England collapsed. Even addition of three young and usually aggressive batsmen failed to bolster the Australians' scoring ability.

The tests were marked by an unprecedented suqabble over the trundling of Harold Larwood, Nottinghamshire whirlwind. Larwood, adopting the so-called "leg theory" sent down "body line" balls some of of which h t Australian batters. W. A. Oldfield, veteran wicket keeper, was struck on the head by one and forced out of the series.

Even before the injury to Oldfield, spectators took strong exception to Larwood's body line bowling and set up vigorous "barracking" whenever he started on his leg theory. After Oldfield was hurt the Australian Cricket Board of Control cabled the Marylebone Cricket Club, world-arbitral body of the game, requesting its executive instruct the English team to abandon such tactics. The cable described body line bowling as unsportsmanlike.

The M.C.C., however, upheld the English team and the Australians withdrew the term "unsportsmanlike" when the visitors pointed out they felt it cast a personal reflection on themselves.

Outshine Homesters

While England outshone their opponents in the series to date in the matter of run-getting, the batting was not as prolific as in other encounters between the two countries. Only five centuries were scored, three of them being obtained by English players Herbert Sutcliffe's 194 in the first game at Sydney stood out, but in the same game Stanley McCabe, the young New South Wales player, was mainly responsible for his side's good showing in the first innings with 187 not out W. R. Hammond, the Gloucestershire wizard, of whom great things were expected compiled 112 also in the initial test, while the Nawab of Pataudi, who played in only two tests, got 102. Don Bradman, hailed as the world's premier batsman, got the only other century of the series when he scored 103 not out in the second game at Melbourne.

Larwood with his bodyline tactics was the most effective bowler of the series, and in the four games garnered 29 wickets for 502 runs, an average of a fraction over 17 runs apiece. G. O. Allen, Middlesex amateur, performed remarkably well, topping 18 Aussie wickets for 311, which gave him an average almost as good as Larwood's. Bill Voce played in only three games, his 12 wickets costing 24 runs each.

Carry the Brunt.

W. J. O'Reilly, T. Wall and H. Ironmonger carried the brunt of the Antipodean trundling. O'Reilly proved the best of the three, getting 24 English wickets for 592. Ironmonger did not play in the first Test, but his deliveries were extremely baffling and his 13 wickets cost only 22 runs each. Wall had 16 for 409.

In the game concluded to-day, England, except for a period during the first innings, at all times held the upper hand. Australia led off with 340 and their opponents wint one better with 356. The home players collapsed badly in the second before the English bowlers, compiling only 175 runs. These were obtained by England for the loss of four wickets.

The final game of the series will be played a week from to-day at Sydney, where all attendance records for Test cricket were smashed during the inaugural Test.

U.S. Section Lead At Stake To-Night

TORONTO, Feb. 16. (CP)—First place in the National Hockey League's American division is at stake with three clubs in the running for the berth in four hockey tilts due for settlement to-night. Rangers and Detroit, tied for leadership meet teams from the rival section while Boston Bruins, one point behind the deadlocked group leaders, battle with last-place Chicago.

New York Rangers tackle Toronto Maple Leafs in the last regular game of the season and need a win to even the season's series. Detroit engage the spurting Montreal Maroons. Outcome of these games will settle the question—temporarily at least—of group leadership and if both end in a tie, Boston can occupy the coveted spot with a victory over Chicago.

Inspired by a 6-2 triumph over Detroit on Tuesday, Canadiens invade Ottawa for a duel with Senators. Tied at the bottom of the Canadian division, the winners of this engagement will move up into a favorable position for an attack on the last play-off position now held by a four-point margin by New York Americans who are idle to-night.

ORILLIA "MISS" IS FIELD STAR

Mamie Shrum Captured Two Canadian Titles at Hamilton Meet Last Summer.

SET DOMINION RECORD.

ORILLIA, Ont., Feb. 16 (C.P.)—It isn't strange any more to have girls run to sport headlines, so the fact Orillia considers Miss Mamie Shrum her leading athletic luminary is expected to cause a very small ripple of excitement. Mamie is, and that's that.

No other athlete in many, many years has gone out from Orillia and brought back a Canadian championship of any description except Miss Shrum, husky, 20-year-old weight-throwing artist who has a fond hope of one day being world's champion.

At Hamilton last Summer the Orillia girl climaxed a three-year track and field career by winning two Canadian championships and setting a new Dominion mark of 37 feet, 3 inches in the shot put; she won the discus throw with a toss of 103 feet, 3 inches, which is nothing to rave about. But then Mamie doesn't specialize with the discus.

Instructed by Knox

Three years ago Walter Knox, commissioned by the Ontario Government to develop track talent in schools, became interested in Miss Shrum's ability to throw things. Under the direction of the one-time all-round atlete, she has captured numerous Ontario championships with the shot, discus and javelin.

Since the retirement of Fanny Rosenfeldt, who dominated the throwers as well as most of the runners, hurdlers and jumpers, in Canada, the Orillia star stands as the best prospect of succeeding her as queen of the weights.

A specialist, Miss Shrum aims to be no less than a world's record-holder some day. Having missed the Los Angeles Olympics she is confident her shot putting will be important enough on the record books to land her a place on Canada's 1936 team.

Pays High Tribute To Aussie Eleven

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 16 (C.P. Cable).—Greatly pleased by their victory over Australia in the 1933 test series which gives them the cricket supremacy of the world, the manager and the captain of the M.C.C. declared to-day the fine spirit showed by the men of the team accounted for the win and paid high tribute to the Australian eleven.

"Plum" Warner, manager of the M.C.C., said, "We are naturally proud and delighted at recovering the ashes. The Australians lived up to true tradition and fought hard. The bowling of H. Ironmonger and W. J. O'Reilly was of the highest order.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT

"UPTOWN NEW YORK"

This is the type of picture that comes all too seldom and that everyone seems to enjoy. Its interest centers mainly about the acting of the man who came to them ovies as a cut-up and remains to do the sort of acting that has made Wallace Beery famous in similar roles.

Jack Oakie has a part that suits him down to the ground, in "Uptown New York" the role of a straight-shooting, honest guy who meets up with a dame who isn't quite such a straight shooter. But she gets to be before Eddie Doyle sees the last of her.

"Uptown New York", with a title that doesn't signify very much, as many recent titles have a habit of doing, deals with the loves of a Vinia Delmar creation. Shirley Grey is the lovely heroine, Patricia Smith, Jack is Eddie Doyle, the big business man of the gum-vending machines, and Leon Waycoff is Dr. Max Silver, the handsome Jewish surgeon who loves Pat,—and leaves her.

The picture is full of likeable touches; the manner in which Eddie meets Pat at Coney Island, in the off-season, is remarkable, to say the least, then there is the nut-cracking gent at the wrestling match and the fall that knocks Eddie out. And there is Eddie's pal, the wall-eyed Al.

The picture is notable for its clear and beautiful light effects in the photographing and for its mixture of a laughter and tears that makes it just like the Celtic type of humour, with fun behind the sorrow and a tear behind the joy.

"Uptown New York" is excellent entertainment from start to finish and Jack Oakie's acting, spontaneous and natural, makes it outstanding.

GUS RIVERS OF PROVIDENCE IS ON FRONT LINE

MARTY BURKE ON LOAN.

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (C.P.)—Hockey's giants, upholstered with the final bit of experienced padding they are allowed to tack on this season, lumbered around the curve into the National League's home stretch to-day. Most of them had acquired important man-power since the campaign opened back in November.

Fewer last-minute trades and promotions than usual marked the end of the trading season at midnight last night, but the only two downright laggers in either division turned a trick or two that were designed to add defensive strength to Ottawa Senators and two-way power to Montreal Canadiens.

For the rest of the season clubs are not permitted to buy or obtain players through trades. Only the amateur marts are open to them.

Gus Rivers Promoted

Dapper Leo Dandurand added the finishing touches to his Canadien machine by promoting Gus Rivers from Providence Reds of the Canadian-American League to help his forwards and adding Harold Starr and the veteran Leo Bourgeault to his defensive force.

Searching frantically for material that would lift the Flying Frenchmen to the play-offs, Dandurand failed in a bid for Lolo Couture, Chicago right winger. The Canadien boss offered Johnny Gagnon for the St. Boniface, Man., boy, but the Hawks preferred to keep Couture.

Hago Harrington and Gizzy Hart, brought up from Providence recently, are retained. But Dandurand refused to let Burke get definitely away from him. Marty will return to Canadiens at the end of the present season and Starr and Bourgeault will go back to Ottawa. Then Dandurand will trade Burke for Walter Buswell of Detroit Red Wings.

Three-Man Defence

Senators, tied for last place in the Canadian section with Canadiens, base play-off hopes on a sturdy three-man defence—Burke, Harvey Rockburn, obtained recently from Detroit Olympics of the International League, and Goalie Bill Beveridge. None of these started the season with Ottawa.

The three Canadian Division leaders—Toronto, Maroons and Americans—stood pat with one exception as the zero hour passed. Conny Smythe made one change in his champions, replacing little Ken Doraty with Dave Downie from Syracuse Stars. Doraty will finish the season with Stars. Smythe expects to have Andy Blair, third-string centre whose arm was cut by a skate two weeks ago, in uniform soon.

Strong Defence Club.

The final Maroon switch was made when Desse Roche was traded to Ottawa for Wally Kilrea. Eddie Gerard made his most far-reaching move three weeks ago, turning the Redmen into one of the strongest defensive clubs in the circuit by placing Dave Kerr in goal and old Reg Noble beside Lionel Conacher on defence.

New York Rangers, Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks slipped into the stretch drive without changes in personnel and Jack Adams made only one addition to his Red Wings, bringing up Bob Davis, defenceman, from Olympics. Davis, former star of Fort William's amateur thundering herd, played last season with Duluth in the American Association.

In the Intermediate section, the leading team will be declared the champion at the end of the regular schedule. There are three more games to be played, but if All Saints win their next one, they will be the winners.

Mark Street Midgets have to win to-night to stay in the race. St. James' Juveniles cannot afford to lose this evening, either. They did not lose a game all through the schedule and should put up a real playoff battle. The two top Juniors cannot afford to lose this evening, either. They did not lose a game all through the schedule and should put up a real playoff battle. The two top Juniors finished a tie for first place, and their only scheduled game ended in a 2-all draw. Their playoff tussles should be fast and close. All Saints Intermediates won the first game by default, but in the third, George Street forced them to the limit and only lost by one goal. Their next clash will likely be a close one.

Bobby Jones Is Most Dominant Sports Performer Of Glamorous 1923-33 Span

They haven't matched wallops on the links or in the ball park but they have just been through a whirlwind struggle of ballots in which Robert Tyre Jones, retired, undefeated golf champion, emerged with a hair-line decision over George Herman Ruth, greatest baseball slugger of all time, as the most dominant sports performer of the glorious decade, 1923-'33.

It may served only to stimulate the main argument, but a jury of 50 veteran sports observers, representing the United States leading newspapers, voted the "athlete - of - the-decade" award to Jones by the thin margin of 207 points to 202 for Ruth.

At the request of the Associated Press, these critics ranked the five leading performers of the last ten years, taking in every sphere of sporting activity, in the United States as well as abroad. The votes were tallied on the basis of five points for first, four for second place, and so on.

William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, ex-heavyweight boxing king, chiefly because of his spectacular role as a gate attraction during the decade, rather than the calibre of his accomplishments, won third place easily with 126 points. Gene Tunney, finished eighth, with only 18 points.

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

Apologies to the junior Petes. They're not a bunch of punks, they're a team of hockey players. We're doffing the weather-beaten chapeau for that 10-6 win, giving 'em the round by two goals. We called them to win by three, and that's coming closer than most of our guesses. The boys were playing hockey last night, clicking like they should have been before. Bowmanville has a smart team, and showed a real fighting spirit which made it a great game. But the Buckland boys are better and we were positive of it before the affair last night. They meet Queen's next in the O.H.A. playdowns.

* * * * * * *

It was a grand old battle and the large crowd enjoyed every minutes of it. Fast ice, a speedy pace, some smart hockey and all kinds of thrills thrown in. What more do you want for two bits, or did you park yourself in a four-bit chair? You could hear the roars a couple of blocks away, we're told, as the boys opened it up with some plain and fancy scoring. And that hectic third period was a lulu. In fact, it was a classy tussle all the way through and we'd like to see more like it before we park the "heavies" in the trunk.

* * * * * * *

Talk about crabbing, those Bowmanville boys sure kicked plenty. They didn't like several of the goals called against them and told the ref. so. He wasn't getting everything last night, but he was calling 'em about evenly for both sides. The visitors were hardly used to being cut down to an even break by a referee, and it went hard. Still, it was a tough one to lose, and also a nice little souvenir to tuck away in the bag for the young Peterborough team.

* * * * * * *

Handing out the bouquets is no cinch after an all-around fine performance by the winners. The second-string forward line came to life last night to steal most of the glory. Burley's flashing speed and hard shot, Hill's boring-in style and checking, and Williamson's hard work throughout, all appealed to the customers, but not to the Rubbertown players. Calladine and Jay, both of whom were somewhat under the weather, were slow in starting but turned in a fine game the last half. McGregor did a lot of useful work along the boards, and Cadd again proved a dangerous puck-carrier. Fenton and Weir checked hard and each pulled off a few good rambles down the ice.

* * * * * * *

Sanderson, keeper of the cage, deserves special mention. He saved the locals time and again when they either eased up or the other side put on a spurt. Half a dozen times, Sandy flopped in the nick of time or came out to rob one of the enemy when he was through alone. And the local goalie didn't take any chances on any long shots. He was fine all evening between the old gaspipes. His defence bodied and covered up much better than they did in Bowmanville, but still failed to show up quite as well as they were earlier in the season, and were pierced on a number of occasions which made them look bad. But they were in there trying, and that's the spirit that gave the homesters the win.

* * * * * * *

Credit where credit is due is a good motto to go by, and for that reason we'd pick Bagnell, Bowmanville centre, as the best player on the ice last night. He was No. 2, and a ripe pain in the neck to the Blue and White squad all evening. He got three goals himself and assisted in another, besides checking like a fiend while he was on. A husky junior like he is wont to be around Bowmanville long, or we never saw a star in the making. A game bunch, Bowmanville.

Doherty A.C. of Belleville eliminated Campbellford last night before a thousand fans in the Hydro town, the round being 7-4 for the Quinte city aggregation. As the Kingston rink is not available on Friday, that means that the Queen's-Petes junior game will be played here in Peterborough to-morrow (Friday night, with the return affair being in Kingston on Monday. And it also means that the Petes Intermediates will go to Belleville to-morrow eve and play back here on Monday. This was definitely ascertained, Eddie Wright getting word by 'phone from both Percy Bond and Bill Hewitt of the O.H.A. shortly before noon to-day. And what a crowd will be at the Brock to-morrow to see the classy Queen's tangle with the gallant local squad! Probably a sell-out.

* * * * * * *

In an E.P.L. affair back in Lakefield last night, the hustling kids from Cementville sent a big crowd home slapping each other on the back by nailing a 5-4 overtime loss on the classy Carters. R. Wannamaker dropped in the winning marker in the second overtime frame, after a fine exhibition of hockey. Those Lakefield lads are tougher than 'flu when playing in their own backyard and every other team in the loop will nod a feeble assent to that crack.

* * * * * * *

Picking up the loose ends: All Saints won 3-1 from the Maroons last night in the first West-end League play-off game.....Queen's won from Belleville 7-4 on the round, and then called up on the 'phone to find out if we won.....The local intermediates had a stiff hour's drill at the Brock late last eve.....Tickets are now on sale for the Queen's-Petes game here to-morrow.....The referees were changed for last night's game here when Bowmanville objected to Shaw; Clayton was a former T.C.C. senior star, and later with Chicago Shamrocks.....Doctors' ethics won't permit us to openly slip a bouquet to a local M.D. who is always patching up injured or ailing athletes free gratis.....Two swelegant cage games at the Collegiate yesterday opened the City Basketball Loop; two more on the "Y" menu on Saturday, Stangers meeting McLeish's at eight, and P.C.I. tackling Kitchen's at nine.

BOWLING NOTES

The scheduled games of the indoor bowling league that were to be played on Tuesday night last will be played on Friday evening of this week in the club rooms, McDonnel street.

QUEEN'S HERE FOR 1ST GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Intermediates Will Play First Game of Belleville Series in Quinte Town Same Night.

WILL BE CLASSY GAMES.

The Peterborough Hockey Club was notified by the O.H.A. shortly before noon to-day that the Queen's junior team would play here to-morrow (Friday) evening, the first game of their home-and-home series in the first round of the O.H.A. playdowns. The return game will be played in Kingston Monday evening. This notice changes the plans of the intermediates, who will now have to journey to Belleville for their game to-morrow night, playing back here Monday.

The juniors' first round playoffs should pack the Brock at 8.30 to-morrow evening. Reserved seat tickets went on sale this afternoon, and the arena may be sold out by game time, except for rush seats. The classy collegians who have been playing on artificial ice all winter, will be the strongest team the local juniors have had to meet so far this winter, and outside of Toronto, one of the toughest ones in the province. They won their own group and then eliminated Belleville, beating them the first game and holding them to a tie in the second. They are said to be a colorful aggregation, fast, tricky and strong.

The Petes will have to flash their best hockey, even better than that shown last night, if they would advance further in the O.H.A. hunt. Manager Frank Buckland will have every player in tip-top shape, and may add one or two of the best City Leaguers to bolster possible weak spots. The boys are in good condition, and have apparently got rid of all their bad hockey for the year, and for this reason stand about a fifty-fifty chance of copping the round. If Belleville could hold the Queensters to a draw, the Petes might ride through to a win. They will work their heads off to grab a two or three-goal lead to take to the Limestone City Monday.

Twelve hundred fans saws a fine exhibition of fast, exciting junior hockey here last night, and they're still talking about it. Half as many again will doubtless fill the ice-box to-morrow. Burley's great speed, and the fine work of the second forward line lately has made the young Petes a team twenty-five per cent. stronger than they were two weeks ago, and they may gallop through to another smart victory over Queen's.

STARS CLINCH SECOND PLACE

Ken Doraty Scores His Initial Goal in 4-2 Victory Over Detroit Olympics.

TRADING DEAD-LINE.

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (C.P.).—Their roster safe from any more inroads by Toronto Maple Leafs, Syracuse Stars settled down to-day to battle Buffalo Bisons and London Tecumsehs for the last drive in the International Hockey League race.

Midnight last night was the deadline for trading in the National Hockey League, and stars—who have traded back and forth with the Leafs for the latter part of the campaign—will now rely on their present players to bring them the championship.

A 4-2 win over Detroit Olympics at Syracuse last night, gave the Maple Leaf farm-hands sole possession of second rung, two points behind Buffalo, a like number in front of London.

Stew Adams and Gordie Brydson tangled to add a little excitement to the somewhat drab play, witnessed by a small crowd. Ken Doraty, making his debut with Stars, after a lengthy trial with Toronto Leafs, fitted in nicely and helped himself to a goal. Sands, Miller and Adams notched the other three.

Tommy O'Neil and Brydson scored for Detroit.

STUDENTS WIN INITIAL TUSSLE

McLEOD'S WIN 31-18.

Two exciting and keenly-contested games ushered in the 1933 City Basketball League schedule at the Collegiate gym before a fair crowd of fans last night. P.C.I. captured the first one from McLeish's 23 to 19; and the second one went to McLeod's over Kitchen's, 31-26. Both contests were marked by open play with plenty of smart cage work shown.

It was 13-9 for the Collegians at the end of the first half, but a battling McLeish outfit came back strong and played on equal terms the last session. Armstrong and Amys were the leading snipers for the students, but the whole squad clicked nicely. Routley was outstanding for the losers, with McLeish also turning in a good offensive game. The teams:

McLeish: Mitchell, Dinesen, Mulhall, Swartz, McLeish, Williams and Routley.

P.C.I.: Armstrong, V. Holmes, Macdonald, Amys, Kelly, Marsh, Reynolds and McIntyre.

Referee—H. C. McLeod; scorer, C. Hunt.

Outplay Winners

The second fixture saw the losers outplay the winners most of the second half, after trailing 19-9 to wind up the initial frame. They ran in nineteen points against twelve and were threatening to tie it up at the last whistle. Little difference was shown on the general play of this contest. Grimes scored sixteen points for the winners, with A. Holmes getting ten. Dundas, Kitchen and Ellis were the chief scorers for the losing side. The teams:

Kitchen's: Curry, Emery, Kitchen, Ellis, Dundas and Stewart.

McLeod's: Grimes, A. Holmes, Campbell, Sager, McLeod, Palmer, Taylor and Brady.

Referee, Doug. Loomis; scorer, C. Hunt.

England Is Pleased With Cricket Victory

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(C.P. Cable.)—The win of the English test team over the Australian cricketers to-day in the fourth test which gives them the coveted "ashes" was accepted with great cheer throughout the country to-day.

Messages from high officials of state and leading merchants and business men poured across the cables to Australia sending congratulations, while the bulletin services given people by the London newspapers was loudly acclaimed.

Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald cabled D. R. Jardine, the English captain, as follows: "Heartiest congratulations to you and all your team. We looked forward to hearing of the hard fought games with our old rivals on the cricket field and the win for us this time was well done."

The secretary for the Dominions, J. H. Thomas, cabled: "Bravo — the ashes are won but they are secondary to the great fighting spirit and good sportsmanship shown by both sides."

"GONEY" McGOWAN HEADS SCORE LIST IN SENIOR O.H.A. HOCKEY

Adds Four More Points to His Total as Hamilton Tigers Defeat Kitchener Empires 6-2.

TWO FREE-FOR-ALLS AND 22 PENALTIES — MIXED IN ROUGH GAME AT MOUNTAIN CITY

(By The Canadian Press)

Perennial leadership of Senior Ontario Hockey Association point-scorers, Jerry Shannon, Niagara Falls' sharp-shooter, finds his position usurped to-day by Captain "Goney" McGowan of Hamilton Tigers.

McGowan, steadily forging ahead during the past month's campaigning, climaxed his climb last night when he picked up four points as his team defeated Kitchener Empires, 6-2, in their last scheduled game of the season. The veteran centres total now is 27, one more than Shannon's.

The Cataract player, however, still has an "ace-in-hole" as his team plays one more game before finishing the schedule—that with Toronto Marlboros Friday.

It was a rough, rugged display put on by the Empires and Tigers at Hamilton. Two free-for-alls and 22 penalties—14 to Kitchener — showed the trend followed by the gladiators.

Carry Goal Lead

The visitors carried a one-goal lead—scored by Chuck Roth—from early in the game halfway through the final frame, when they increased it to two, Kampman tallying.

Tigers then cut loose with a brilliant burst of speed to rush in the tying counters within two minutes. Herbie Cain scored on a pass from McGowan and Toe Black notched the equalizer 50 seconds later.

The first overtime period was scoreless, but in the second 10 minutes, nerves cracked and the players mingled with flying fists.

When order was restored, Tigers promptly ran in four goals, McGowan netting three and Blake the other.

Fellbaum Injured

Bobby Fellbaum, Kitchener winger, suffered a badly-cut cheek from a flying stick, while numerous players received swollen eyes and other bruises in the meleeing.

Empires can take some consolation, however, from the fact their juniors, after absorbing four defeats in group games from Stratford, turned on the Midgets at Kitchener last night and downed them 4-2 in the first game for the group honors.

Hiller scored three of the Kitchener markers, assisted in two by Schultz and Sacht notched the other. Des Islets was the Stratford marksman on both occasions.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

One pencil is short,
One pencil is long,
Some pencils write right
And some pencils write wrong.
—Shadow Song.

"Just look at me," cried the pencil. The five shadow children looked at it. It was lying on top of the desk, right next to the pens and the glass inkwell. The pens didn't pay any attention to the poor pencil and neither did the inkwell.

"You point is all worn down," Hanid exclaimed.

"It is," the pencil sighed.

"Who wore it down?" Knarf wanted to know.

At this the pencil looked very sharp (even though its point was dull), and replied to the shadow boy. "Your master wore me down."

"He must have been doing his homework," Knarf answered, trying to protect his master as best he could. His master was sitting in the dining room at this moment, eating his dinner, and had no idea

"Who wore it down?" asked Knarf that the pencil was telling its troubles to his shadow, Knarf. "He must have been working hard at his homework," Knarf repeated.

"He was supposed to be working at his homework," said the pencil. "He was really drawing pictures. That's why I'm all worn out."

Knarf and the other shadows were astonished to hear this. "Pictures of what?" Yam asked.

"Pictures of cats," the pencil told them.

"Cats!"

"All kinds of cats. Black cats White cats. Tom cats. Cats with whiskers. Fat cats and skinny cats ....all while he was supposed to be busy at his homework. Now I'm good for nothing. I can't write a word, no, not even a line," the pencil declared angrily.

"We'll have to get you sharpened," Hanid said. She went up to the pen-knife, which was lying in another part of the desk, and asked it politely to sharpen the pencil. The pen-knife said it would be glad to do so "only get me over to where the pencil is lying," it added. This the shadows couldn't do, much as they tried.

"Oh, I have no point at all. I'm good for nothing," the pencil wailed. "I've drawn cats till I'm good for nothing." Then the poor pencil, seeing that the pen-knife couldn't move itself, or be moved, over to it, it decided to roll over to the pen-knife. But instead of rolling over to the pen-knife, it rolled off the desk, and rolled under the chair. And if it hasn't been found, it is surely lying there yet.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, February 17.

A rather adverse alignment of stellar influences is found at work in this day's astrological forecast. There may be friction, difficulties or perhaps real peril in employment, and it is admonished that a predisposition to sarcastic, sharp or bitter speech be held in subjection. Offsetting this there is a promise of an advantage or opportunity to mend the fortunes and gain the assistance of persons of power and prestige.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which they may benefit or have assistance to gain cherished ambitions, with the aid of persons in authority or power. But a tendency to sharp, bitter and sarcastic speech must be checked or these signs of progress may be imperiled. A child born on this day may be difficult to get on with owing to its tendency to rash, caustic and unguarded speech. This may react on its success in employment.

Curve Lake Blanks Young's Point 2-0

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 16 (Examiner Correspondence).—The prelude to the East Peterborough hockey match on Monday night was provided by the Curve Lake Falcons and Young Point Maroons. The game was very keenly contested. The great improvement in the Curve Lake team in combination play was very much remarked and their improved form will make the Buckhorn Bruins, who are leading their group, step out when next the two teams meet. Clayton McCue, the Falcon's goalie played a wonderfully good game, as Young's Point sharpshooters bombarded him from all angles, but could not pass. The combination play won the game: in the ranks of the Maroons there was too much individual effort without team play. The game was keen but very cleanly fought out with only one minor penalty in the entire game.

The Knott boys, George McCue, Billy Rome and Clayton Fitzgerald were among the Falcon stars; Carroll, Young, Johnston and Darling were the best of the maroons, with Hamblin playing a good game in goal.

The first goal was scored by Fitzgerald after three minutes' play in the first period, and this was the only counter under one minute before the bell rang to end the second period Cecil Knott got in his shot. And that was all, no more scoring; but what a battle, both teams skating, shooting, checking, but no one could get very far. This was one of the best games in the District League fixtures to date. The line-up was as follows:

Curve Lake Falcons.—C. McCue, goal; A. Johnston, right defence; J. Galvin, left defence; G. McCue, centre! B. Rome, C. Fitzgerald, wings; P. Knott, C. Knott, E. Coppway, L. McCue, subs.

Cecil Hart Will Guide Boston Club

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (C.P.)—Out of hockey for a season after he resigned as pilot of the Canadiens, Cecil Hart will probably be the master mind on the bench for Boston Bruins in the 1933-34 National Hockey League campaign with Art Ross, present manager, replacing Charles F. Adams on the league board of governors, it was learned here yesterday.

Ross was in conference here over the week-end with Hart. It is understood that Charles F. Adams, President of the Boston club, will retire to the background, leaving Art Ross as general manager and Boston representative on the Board of governors, a post which Adams resigned a week ago.

Cecil Hart coached the Canadiens to two successive Stanley Cup championships in 1929-30 and 1930-1931.

MOVE IS MADE TO CUT STAFF BOARD OF WORKS

Motion Asking Resignations of Kelman and Thirnbeck Defeated.

NOT WORK TO DO.

Question is Left With Finance Committee to Deal With.

One of the hottest debates to feature the deliberations of a City Council committee for many moons developed in the Board of Works Committee last night when Aldermen McIntyre and Tuggey made a motion requesting the resignations of Jack Kelman, assistant engineer and street commissioner, and Jack Thirnbeck, street inspector, from the Board of Works' staff.

Alderman McIntyre stated he was making the motion in the interest of economy and efficiency for the Board of Works department. He declared that the program of work for the Board of Works was ten years ahead of schedule and that there was no need for the department to continue employing Mr. Kelman and Mr. Thirnbeck. "What we need," he said, "is another Harry Evans, who would easily do the work of both Kelman and Thirnbeck and at a great salary saving".

He favored the calling of applications for the position of street commissioner. "What do we need with two engineers on our Board of Works?" he asked.

Oppose Motion

Opposition to the motion was expressed by Alderman Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Works, Alderman Macdonald, Cotton and McNabb. While others considered that there was no need for a reduction in the salaries of the Board of Works' officials, they did not favour calling for the resignation of Mr. Kelman and Mr. Thirnbeck without first giving them an opportunity to accept a greatly decreased salary.

After lengthy discussion, an amendment, moved by Aldermen Macdonald and Cotton, that the salaries of Mr. Kelman and Mr. Thirnbeck be left to the consideration of the Finance Committee, was carried.

Alderman McIntyre opened up the debate when he declared that the city only required one engineer. He moved that the resigations of Mr. Kelman and Mr. Thirnbeck be asked for and that applications for the position of street commissioner be advertised for. "We have too

Fishing by Auto

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. Feb. 17 (C.P.)—When they get tired of catching wolves up here in the Algoma country—and telling about it—they catch fish. And they don't wait for summer time to do it, either.

From Batchawana Bay comes the report of huge salmon trout—some of them weighing 40 pounds—caught by hardy fishermen who chop through three feet of ice. Then this unique style of fishing begins.

A motor car is backed on the ice. One end of a clothes line is attached to the car, and on the other end of the line is fastened a live herring. The herring is dropped into the water.

When a bite comes, the motor car starts for the shore in low gear, yanking the fish through the hole and thus to land.

ALLEGE FRAUDS IN RENT RELIEF AT CHELMSFORD

North Bay Inspector Sent to Make Check-up Following Charges.

MONIES MISSPENT.

Statemnts Made By Councillor Who Resigned as Result of System.

SUDBURY, Feb. 17. (CP)—Following charges of Councillor Marcotte that there was "serious fraud" in the handling of relief rents in the town of Chelmsford, an investigation of relief accounts is now being made by relief inspector Le Baron Diblee, of North Bay.

Councillor Marcotte's charges were contained in a letter to J. A. Ellis, secretary of the Unemployment Relief Department, Toronto. Dated Feb. 14, it stated: "Knowing of many cases here where monies are being misspent on relief purposes, especially on rents paid by the Government, I hereby ask the Relief Commission to make an investigation. I am not going to draw any particular case to your attention, for I know that whoever will look into this will find serious fraud in the handling of rents. I may state that I have in my possession a list of rents for a certain month which is proof of what is going on here.

Resigned His Post

Councillor Marcotte goes on to say that, not being satisfied with the way relief is administered in Chelmsford, he resigned as a member of the council on Feb. 6.

Since November, 1932, the Provincial Government has taken charge of relief in Chelmsford

Councillor Marcotte told of two cases where two individuals are living in the same house, for whom the Government pays individual rents at $10 per month each. He says he knows of other cases where people who were not on relief then had their rent paid by the Government.

Able-Bodied Men Get Chance To Work

Able-bodied men receiving relief orders will be given an opportunity to work for relief wherever possible on city jobs, was the decision reached last night at the Board of Works' meeting.

This was the immediate action taken by the City Council in response to the instruction from J. L. Malcolm, chief Government relief investigator, that able-bodied men receiving relief could be refused relief unless they accepted work given by city by which they could do some labor equal to the relief received.

Acting on the expected instructions from the Board of Works, City Engineer Parsons yesterday sent out slips to 50 men receiving relief, requesting them to appear at his office to-day to start working for their relief orders. Only 28 of the 50 men turned up to-day for the work, which consisted of shovelling snow from the streets.

A program will probably be drawn by which those receiving relief will be used extensively this summer on all Board of Works' undertakings.

PETER VERIGIN TO KNOW FATE NEXT SATURDAY

Judge Issues Decision Following Doukhobor's Third Court Appearance.

LENGTHY HEARINGS.

Defense Counsel Moves For Discharge on Grounds Deportation Illegal.

HALIFAX, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—Peter Verigin, Doukhobor chieftain, will know on Saturday, Feb. 25, whether or not he is to be deported to his native Russia. At the conclusion of his third appearance in Supreme Court here, Mr. Justice Humphrey Mellish to-day announced he expected to give a judgment in the case on that date.

Arguments by opposing counsel as to the validity of the order for Verigin's deportation continued for three hours to-day. J. J. Power, K.C., of Halifax, moved for the discharge of the bearded cult leader, on the ground that deportation was illegal, since the Governor-General's commutation of sentence had been an unconditional pardon.

Defence Argument.

Verigin's counsel contended that, if the commutation were not in the nature of a free pardon, then the prisoner might exercise the right to refuse it and go back to jail for the unexpired nine months of his 18 months' sentence for perjury. The Crown, he said, could not commute sentence without the prisoner's consent.

C. B. Smith, K.C., of Halifax, representing the Department of Immigration, argued that the deportation order issued by the Department following a hearing at Prince Albert prison in August had been legal. He asserted that the pardon was conditional and that Verigin's deportation to Russia constituted a "lawful condition."

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE ERNIE SCHAAF

Three Mile Funeral Cortege Bears Body of Boston Heavyweight to Grave.

HEADLINERS ATTEND.

WRENTHAM, Mass., Feb. 17 (A.P.)—From the little white house he bought his mother with his first earnings, the body of Ernie Schaaf, fallen ring gladiator, was borne today by sorrowing friends to its last resting place.

For three miles a long automobile cortege passed from the Schaaf home to tiny St. Mary's Church. A scant 500 mourners could find seats. Hundreds of residents lined the streets.

The five cars immediately following the hearse with its gray casketed burden were filled with flowers. The largest of these floral tributes were from Primo Carnera, giant Italian under whose gloved fist Schaaf fell in Madison Square Garden last Friday night; Max Schmeling, German boxer; Jack Sharkey, who lifted the heavyweight crown from Schmeling's head, and Johnny Buckley, Schaaf's manager.

Mrs. Lucy Schaaf, mother of the late aspirant for the heavyweight crown, required the supporting arms of her husband, Ernest, and her son, Nelson, 15, as she came up the church steps.

Other members of the family, weeping, followed, including a younger son, John, and three sisters, Lucille Schaaf, Mrs. Joseph Daly, and Mrs. Florence Sullivan.

William F. Carey, President of the New York Madison Square Garden; Jimmy Johnston, match-maker for that organization, and other well known men, attended.

Rev. Walter J. Mitchell, pastor, celebrated a solemn high funeral Mass. He was assisted by Rev. Scheuver of St. John's Preparatory James J. Walsh and Rev. Remi B. School at Danvers, a close friend of Schaaf.

Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Foxboro.

NEW U S CABINET SHAPING UP FAST

Roosevelt Arranges For Talks With Senators Glass, Cutting and Hull.

WALSH ALSO KEY MAN.

All three are desired by Mr. Roosevelt in his cabinet. He is ready to talk business with the Senators.

The Roosevelt train stopped early today at Richmond, Va., to pick up Senator Hull. Senator Glass is regarded as the key to the cabinet situation. He is the man Mr. Roosevelt has in mind for secretary of the treasury. Should the veteran Virginian find it impossible to take over this office he held once before under Woodrow Wilson a realignment of cabinet forces is believed likely.

Senator Hull is in the mind of Roosevelt for secretary of state. It is believed possible he might be sifted to treasury should Glass not go in that office.

Senator Cutting, one of the Republican Independents who supported the Roosevelt presidential candidacy, is the choice of the president-elect for secretary of interior.

It is expected that today's conferences will bring definite decisions between Mr. Roosevelt and the senate members on the cabinet positions. Senator Walsh of Montana is expected to take over the attorney generalship. He is also regarded as a likely choice for the next vacancy on the supreme court.

SANITY TEST FOR ZANGARA

Request is Made By Three Lawyers Named to Defend Would-be Assassin.

CONFER WITH PRISONER.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17 (A.P.)—The Dade County Medical Association was asked to-day to appoint physicians on a sanity commission to examine Guiseppe Zangara, charged with the attempted assassination fo President-elect Franklin Roosevelt. The request was made by the three attorneys appointed by Criminal Court Judge E. C. Collings to defend Zangara.

The announcement was made by Lewis Twyman, President of the Dade County Bar Association, at conclusion of a lengthy conference by the attorneys with the prisoner. Other attorneys appointed are J. M. McCaskill, past president of the Bar Association, and Alfred E. Raia.

"We have been appointed by the court to defend this man because of our position as members of the Dade County Bar Association," Twyman said. "We feel that a sanity test should be made, and consequently have asked the Dade County Medical Association to do its bit, as we are doing."

Twyman said he did not know who would be asked by the Medical Association to make the test.

PARKS TO COST CITY $1,000.00 LESS THIS YEAR

Parks Committee of City Council Requires $3,900 This Year.

CUTS ARE GENERAL.

Alderman Walter Stocker, Chairman, Vigorously Opposes Estimates.

Using the pruning hook with some effect, the Parks Committee of the City Council lopped $1,000 off the appropriations of the committee for this year.

Appropriations for parks and railways last year were $4,900, but meeting in committee ast night to consider the Parks Committee's estimates for this year the aldermen were successful in reducing them to $3,900. Before this committee's estimates are definitely struck and included in the tax rate, a further cut of $400, or even more, may be made, because last night more than one of the committee members expressed the opinion that the parks and railways could manage along on $3,500 for the year.

Stocker Disapproves.

Much of the clipping in the appropriations was made with the disapproval of the chairman, Alderman Walter Stocker, who repeatedly stated that the reductions would badly cripple the work on the city's parks. However, his protests went for nought, and when the chairman observed the mood of his committee members he gave in and stated he would try and do his best on the lessened funds.

The cutting activities of the committee were somewhat hampered by the indefinite manner in which the estimates had been prepared, and after paring here and paring there with sharpened pencils the

Racial Assimilation Begun in Germany Spreading to Other Countries.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9.—Judaism has arrived at the most critical stage of its history. There is no question of the magnitude of what has been accomplished so far in redeeming the Land of Israel. There is no question either that Zionism would under normal circumstances have transformed Jewish life throughout the world by infusing new strength and conscious Jewish ideological content into the Dispersion. The economic crisis, however, has cut abruptly across this process and at present has brought it virtually to a standstill. The future of Israel looks dark. One would be an enemy to the Jewish people to hide the truth. At this moment, when the economic crisis is declassing the Jews of America, that is to say, forcing them out of their middleclass position into the proletariat, there is no noticeable rally on

Refuses to Accept Recommendations Sent All Nations

Envoy Defends Preparations For Invasion Of Jehol, Saying Country Will Fight If Necessary—Evasive On Withdrawal From League As Tokyo Debates Action.

LEAGUE UNEASY LEST BOLD MOVE FOR UNITED CONDEMNATION MAY LEAD TO WORLD WAR.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Less than an hour after the League of Nations had transmitted to all the world's governments its report and recommendations totalling more than 24,000 words, on the Manchuria dispute today, Yosuke Matsuoka, the Japanese spokesman, said his government would not accept them.

He defended preparations for invasion of the Province of Jehol, asserting that Japan will fight if she has to, but he evaded questions about the possibility of his government's withdrawal from the League.

Another snag appeared in the attitude of the spokesman for Russia, whose government the League asks to co-operate in negotiations for a Manchurian settlement. He indicated that Russia believes this new effort to find a solution never will reach the stage of the negotiations proposed.

"To protect Manchukuo," Matsuoka declared, "we must possess the chief town of Jehol. The only way to get peace is for the Chinese to withdraw their troops from Jehol.

"We will fight if we have to.

"I have heard that there are about 150,000 Chinese troops in Jehol, but one Japanese is worth ten Chinese All Chinese soldiers are bandits."

Boldest Move Ever Taken

As a sequel to the Lytton report, the assembly's pronouncement constitutes with that document the most ambitious international effort ever exerted to regulate a warlike struggle through peaceful means. It embodies the most severe and arresting indictment of the policies of a great power whichever was undertaken.

In issuing the report the League leaders experienced the extremes of apprehension and hope-apprehension lest their bold move for concerted condemnation of a strong state might lead to rupture and a world conflagration; hope that this organized and solemn effort might prove a tremendous victory for the world's peace machinery and a powerful guarantee against later international disturbance.

The Manchurian question must be settled according to the principles of the League Covenant, the Kellogg-Briand Pact and the nine-power treaty, the report asserts.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—One child is dead and another so badly burned that little hope is held for its recovery as a result of a fire which swept a frame farm dwelling two miles north of the village of Alfred last night.

Caught in the burning building while their parents were doing their chores in the barns 200 feet from the house, Madeleine Leduce, eight months old, met death before an attempt could be made to effect her rescue while her 22-months-old brother, Jacques, taken from the house by a neighbor, is dying in a nearby homestead.

HUNT CONFESSES TO HOLDING UP MARKHAM BANK

Tells Chicago Police He Got $2,788—Spent Most of it on Good Time.

WAIVES EXTRADITION.

Does Not Mention Frank West Held in Toronto for Part in Same Robbery.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—Elroy Hunt, wanted by Ontario Provincial police, kept his promise to-day to tell how he robbed a bank in Ontario

Arrested last night on information from Toronto, he said, "Wait until morning, and I'll tell you all about it."

This morning, detectives said, he confessed that he entered the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Markham ,Ont., last January 30 and got away with $2,788. He agreed to waive extradition.

Hunt said he had fled to Toronto and then Detroit, spending most of the money for a "good time." He had been at a hotel here since Feb. 6.

Lays Arrest To Telegram.

Hunt said his first name was Edward, and made no mention of Frank West, who confessed complicity in Toronto. He attributed his arrest to a telegram he sent a Canadian bank last Wednesday seeking to withdraw $125 of his Markham loot which he had deposited there.

Detective-Lieutenant John Cartan said that Hunt was desperate and would take any chance to escape. He refused to take Hunt for a haircut and shave.

Hunt's mother lives at Ripley, Ont.

Second Arrest.

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—The arrest of Elroy Hunt in Chicago for the holdup of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Markham Jan. 30 makes the second in the search for the armed bandits who escaped with $2,788.

Frank West was arrested at an apartment hotel here 10 days ago. Police report half the stolen money seized in West's room and say they have a confession he was one of the two hold-up men.

The two robbers herded the bank staff into the vault but were unable to lock it. They escaped in an automobile and were chased over rough country roads by Bank Manager M. M. Mackenzie and a passing motorist, O. B. Helsey. The chase ended when the pursuing car became disabled.

On Wednesday last Provincial police announced circulars had been sent out in an effort to find Elroy Hunt, also known as Eddie Hunt and Eddie Price.

"Any amount you earn will be supplemented to give you the full amount of relief you should receive," the board declares.

BAN PLACED ON LIQUOR EXPORT IS NOT CHANGED

Col. Robinson's Bill is Defeated in Commons 100 to 44.

LEADERS OPPOSED

Penitentiaries Under Review in Commons and Senate.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP)—Liquor, railways, penitentiaries, Communist and section 98 of the criminal code provided a varied bill of fare yesterday which parliament leaves today to revert to the more prosaic business of voting sums of money for varied branches of the public service.

The liquor involved was not the liquor drunk by Canadians but the liquor consumed by the supposedly dry citizens of the United States. The question was whether they should be permitted to obtain their liquor from Canada and the answer was 'no."

Will Not Repeal Ban

By a vote of 100 to 44 the House of Commons defeated Col. S. C. Robinson's bill to repeal the ban imposed on the export of liquor to the United States in 1930. Col. Robinson comes from Windsor and in the days before 1930 scores of little boats used to race across the Detroit river carrying Canadian liquor and on every shipment the government of Canada collected a tax.

Now there is no more export and no more tax. His argument was Canada was uselessly throwing away needed revenue trying to keep a country dry that would not be dry in any case.

Both Premier R. B. Bennett and Mr. Mackenzie King opposed the change and the majority of the House agreed with them.

The Senate railway committee placed its final approval on the railway bill which implements the recommendations of the Duff Royal Commission provides a new organization for the Canadian National Railways and requires the two railway systems to co-operate in elliminating wasteful competition. The main principles of the bill were left unchanged and it will now receive third reading in the Senate and be passed on to the House of Commons.

REDISTRIBUTION MOVES SECRET

No Inkling of Plans Given By Members After Pre-sessional Caucus.

UP TO HOUSE COMMITTEE.

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (C.P.). — What's what with regard to redistribution? This is the question which to-day buzzes back and forth in Legislative corridors, as members discuss the bill expected to provide what pyrotechnical display the present session of the Ontario Parliament is to provide.

There wasn't a word said by members of the Government following their pre-sessional caucus yesterday. But just what members to be affected by the decision of the Government to drastically reduce membership will do is problematical.

Members had agreed at pre-sessional caucuses reduction in seats was necessary. But when the House Committee which studies the entire question has reported to the Government, things are expected to be different, according to prominent members to-day.

"No matter what decision is reached, someone is going to be hurt," the members agreed. "After all, some of us wish to retain our seats. We have worked hard, and our constituents have worked hard, to be members of the House, and it seems hard to lose seats at the next election without having an opportunity to fight for them."

As matters stand now, the House Committee is yet to bring in its recommendations. When it does, 20 or more members of the Legislature will automatically lose their ridings at the next election if the Government-sponsored redistribution bill is carried.

As yet, no definite decision has been reached with regard to affected seats. That rests on the shoulders of the House Committee. But whether members of the House will accept the decision remains to be seen.

ASSASSIN IS DUE TO-DAY IN COURT TO TELL STORY

Sheriff Places Extra Guards as Rumors of Lynching Spread.

FOUR CHARGES LAID.

Mayor Cermak Holding Own, Should Recover—Mrs. J. Gill Slightly Better.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17 (A.P.) — Florida called Guiseppe Zangara to appear before the bar of justice today for his attempt to assassinate United States President-elect F. D. Roosevelt; and all persons were barred from the jail on rumors an attempt might be made to kidnap and lynch the gunman.

Sheriff Dan Hardie said he was unable to trace the reports of possible violence against the assassin, but he placed a guard at the official elevator that operates to the top of the County Building where the jail cell Zangara occupies is located.

The swarthy little Italian was cool and defiant when he was brought before the court late yesterday after charges of attempts to murder four persons had been filed against him.

"I don't want anybody to help me," he reported when Judge E. C. Collin informed him of his right to be represented by counsel. "You're the judge and you can do what you want to do!"

Must Have Counsel

But the State of Florida is determined that Giuseppe Zangara, the short, beady-eyed man who "hates" governments, shall have every legal opportunity to defend himself against charges growing out of the attempt to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt Wednesday night.

Zangara—he says he has "beeg" pains in his stomach and thinks he should kill Presidents and Kings—doesn't want "anybody to help me."

The law of the Government says, however, he must have counsel, and Judge E. C. Collins believes he should have the "best of counsel" to forestall any allegation that he was "railroaded."

Four informations, each charging attempt to murder and each carrying a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison, were drawn up against Zangara by County Solicitor Charles A. Morehead.

One was based on the assassin's futile and admitted attempt to kill President-elect Roosevelt. The others were based on the wounding of Miss Margaret Kruis of Newark, N.J.; William Sinnott, New York opliceman; Russell Caldwell of Cocoanut Grove, Fla.

Florida has elected not to arraign Zangara on charges of grievously wounding Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago and Mrs. Joe Gill of Miami until outcome of their wounds is determined.

Electrocutes Murderers

Should either die, the charge would be murder. Florida electrocutes murderers.

The maximum penalty for assault with intent to murder—the charge Zangara faces now—is 20 years.

Zangara was brought before Judge Collins yesterday, but the jurist wouldn't arraign him because he had no counsel.

"I am not an anarchist," said Zangara.

"I want to kill all Presidents," he said. "In Italy, 10 years ago, I want to kill the King, but I cannot get to him. Sometimes I get beeg pain in the stomach, too, and then I want to kill these Presidents who oppress the working men."

He has no grudge against policemen, even when he has the stomach-ache, he said.

Zangara is an immigrant, an Italian by birth, and American by adoption.

One of his victims—Anton Cermak—also is an immigrant. Cermak

INSULL SCORED BY MARY GARDEN

Claims He Fired Stars Because of Personal Prejudices —Set Us as Czar.

KILLED CHICAGO OPERA.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (C.P.)—Mary Garden, volatile as ever, chose the very time the United States was dissecting the affairs of Samuel Insull, the fallen utilities king, to perform a deft bit of oral surgery on Insull, the music magnate.

The famous opera star's theme song was "Music and money won't always mix."

"Samuel Insull killed opera in Chicago," she charged. She has said that before. To-day she had told why, in her opinion.

"When Insull became President of the Grand Opera Company four years ago, he set himself up as a czar," said Mary. "He dictated everything. He fired stars because of personal prejudices. He told us what to sing and how to sing it.

"He couldn't do that. He was a financier—not a musician; an entrepreneur, not an impresario. When he moved us from the old Auditorium to his new Civic Opera Building, he took us from a certain present to a dubious future.

"And to-day, Chicago has no grand opera."

The Civic Opera Building is now the scene of an occasional operetta—a monument to a musical enterprise that struck a sour note.

Suing Himself

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 17. (A.P.)—Attorneys for the plaintiff and the defendant argued strenuously in Civil Superior court— but both represent the same man.

James F. Lawlor, acting as executor of the estate of his mother, who was killed in an automobile accident, is suing himself as driver of the car. He asks $10,000 for the estate against himself.

A motion entered by Lawlor's defense for non-suit was overruled after an objection by council for Lawlor, plaintiff.

FARMER DIED OF STRYCHNINE JURY DECIDES

CAUSES SENSATION.

Seizure in Doctor's Office Explained—Unknown Person Blamed.

INGERSOLL, Feb. 17.—One and one-quarter grains of strychnine were found by Prof. L. J. Rogers, of Toronto, Provincial analyst, in his examination of the stomach and contents of Albert Snelgrove, the North Norwich farmer who died in a convulsion in the office of Dr. H. M. Barrett at Mount Elgin on January 6, according to his report read at the inquest last night.

The inquest, which was still in session at press time, opened at 7.30 in the Mount Elgin Village hall, eight miles south of here The hall was jammed. Coroner Dr. C. C. Cornish, of Ingersoll, presided, and County Crown Attorney R. N. Ball, of Woodstock, conducted the examination. Thirteen witnesses were listed for examination.

Rumors Numerous.

Many rumors have been afloat since the death of Snelgrove, and Provincial Constable Markle, of Woodstock, has been working in the district for some time. Although received some time ago, the report of the Provincial analyst was not made known until last night.

From the first the public associated poison with Snelgrove's death. He was 47 years of age, widely known in the district, and he apparently had been in good health up to the time he was suddenly stricken on Friday, January 6, while driving his sister-in-law, Mrs. Foye, of Aylmer, in his buggy to Mount Elgin, where she intended to take a bus to her home. He also was accompanied by his son Harold. Snelgrove was seized with a convulsion as he neared Mount Elgin, and a resident of the village assisted him to Dr. Barrett's office, where his death followed in about an hour and a half, in a second convulsion.

Canadian Engineers To Visit Abyssinia

LONDON, Feb. 17 (C.P. Cable).—Arrangements are being made for an expedition into Abyssinia of a party of Canadian mining engineers and commercial experts, it was learned to-day by the Canadian Press from John F. Hansen, Montreal.

Some time ago, Mr. Hansen explained, a party of Canadian scientists visited the country and were asked by the Emperor to enlist Canadian co-operation in connection with gold mines and other developments. A concession, "of general terms," was granted.

The expedition of which Mr. Hansen spoke, intends settling the details of the concession and preparing for the shipping to the District of agricultural supplies and equipment, sawmill machinery and road equipment.

SUBURBAN AREA ROADS TO COST LESS THIS YEAR

$9,000 is Set as County's Share on Suburban Area Roads.

CITY PAYS SAME AMOUNT.

Reeve Ferguson is Re-elected Chairman of County Roads Commission.

Reducing the amount as compared with last year by $750, the County Roads Commission at their inaugural sessions of the present year, yesterday afternoon, fixed the appropriation for suburban area roads at $9,000.

The appropriation, which is usually made at the inaugural sessions of Peterborough County Council, was this year left to the County Roads Commission. On the final day of the recently concluded sittings of the Council, a motion was placed on the minutes which in effect vested the commission with the authority to stipulate the amount of the appropriation subject to an agreement being reached with the Suburban Area Commission relative to the scale of wages to be paid to road employees for the current year.

Reeve Rork Ferguson was again elected chairman of the County Roads Commission, and presided over the meeting, which was constituted as a joint meeting of the County Roads and Suburban Area Commissions.

Commissioner Harry Gainey, the city's representative on the Suburban Area Commission, took exception to what he believed to be the arbitrary attitude adopted by the County Council in attempting to force the hand of the Suburban Area Commission.

The chairman of the meeting explained that it had not been the intention of the Council to hold a whip over the Suburban Area Commission. "What we do wish," he said, "is to get a rate of wages for road employees that will be agreed to by both commissions."

Morley Smithson, newly elected chairman of the Suburban Area Commission, agreed to making a reduction in wages so far as the men engaged on construction were concerned. Maintainence workers would also be subject to a reduction in wages, he said, but on that point it was not possible for the Suburban Area Commission to place the amount of pay on the same basis as the county road wages.

During the course of discussion that arose, Warden John McIntosh urged close co-operation between the two bodies. The Suburban Area Commission, he believed, deserved great credit for the work they had done during the past few years, although he smilingly observed, "they have done nothing for North Monaghan."

In fixing the appropriation for the suburban area roads at $9,000, the commission voted in favor of an amendment to Reeve F. D. Leahy's motion that the amount should be on the same basis as last year. Those in favor of the amendment were Warden McIntosh,

$100,000 WINE STOCK SEIZED

French Champagne Bottled in This Country Held by Hamilton Police.

PERMIT VIOLATED.

HAMILTON, Feb. 17.—A huge stock of French champagne, bottled in this country and valued at more than $100,000, is under seizure here by Provincial Police, and will remain under guard until an investigation is completed.

The wine is in a warehouse at Aikman and Sanford Avenues, and was seized by Provincial Inspector Jordan, acting, it is said, under instructions from the Liquor Control Board. Inspector Jordan declined to comment on the seizure last night other than to say that the authorities believed, from investigations already made, that certain regulations of the permit, granted the owners of the liquor, had been violated.

Two men named Roger d'Eaubonne and H. Johnston are said to have obtained a manufacturer's export license from the Liquor Control Board to act as manufacturers' agents. The wine was stored in the warehouse, with the knowledge of the authorities, it is said, but such wine was intended only for export.

Mr. d'Eaubonne and Mr. Johnston are said to have retained legal counsel to represent them. If the authorities prove that the provisions of the permit were violated the costly stock of wine can be confiscated, it was stated.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17. — (C.P.).—Dr. Alex. Masalik is a dentist but he knows more about extraction than is involved in pulling teeth. They kept the $8.

TOKIO MAKING HER DECISION ON SECESSION

War Minister Said to Have Converted Foreign Minister to View of Lone Stand.

OUTCOME IN BALANCE.

Gen. Araki Claims Country Will Be More Isolated Than She is To-day.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The League of Nations Assembly report denouncing Japan's Manchurian policy was transmitted to all governments of the world this afternoon by wireless telegraph.

It declares against the maintenance and recognition of the State of Manchukuo and it invites the United States and Soviet Russia to join the League powers in effecting a just settlement of the dispute between China and Japan.

TOKYO, Feb. 17 (A.P.) — The Cabinet met to-day to decide whether Japan secedes from the League of Nations and withdraws from the painstakingly elaborated post-war peace machinery of the Western world. The session was expected to be continued to-morrow.

Japanese newspapers said General Sadao Araki, the War Minister and champion of secession, has converted Viscount Yasyua Uchida, the Foreign Minister, to his viewpoint. They were expected jointly to urge their colleagues to agree with them.

There were indications the question still hung in the balance. As the Ministers gathered, some were still opposing withdrawal.

It remained to be seen whether the dominant General Araki, with the power of the Army and the Nationalist elements behind him, could over-ride them.

No Worse Than at Present

The General was reported by Japanese papers as saying if Japan left the League, she would be no more isolated than she is to-day.

"Many fear that secession from the League means Japan's isolation, but it will not be any worse than it is to-day," he was reported as saying.

He was said to have made the observation that withdrawal was the only course left open in view of the reported League recommendations which urged the nations of the world to continue to refuse recognition to the State of Manchukuo, established in Manchuria by the Japanese. It was further stated he confidently predicted all the Cabinet members would agree with him.

10 Years in Jail—

ST. PAUL, Feb. 17. —(AP)— Two men who spent nearly ten years in prison before being declared innocent of bank robbery charges on which they were convicted may receive $40,000 from the state.

George Hughes, and Louis Thorvik, both of St. Paul, were freed after one man confessed and said the two had no part in an Almelund, Minn., raid.

A bill was introduced in the state senate yesterday providing $25,000 for Hughes because of his imprisonment. A previous measure asked $15,000 for Thorvik.

BAN PLACED ON LIQUOR EXPORT IS NOT CHANGED

view in both Houses of Parliament: The Commons discussed a proposal to limit the hours of work of both guards and convicts to eight hours but it was dropped when Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, stated it was impracticable at the present time.

In the senate Senator John Lewis of Toronto pressed the need of prison reform and accused the government of arrogance and obstinancy in refusing an inquiry into penitentiary conditions. His resolution, urging prison discipline should be based on the principle of reformation rather than punishment was passed with an amendment which stressed the need of protecting society against offenders.

Communists figured in the House of Commons discussions as J. S. Woodsworth's bill to repeal Section 98 of the Criminal Code came up again for discussion. John R. MacNicol from Toronto, said most of the agitation for repeal was carried on by Communists and Socialists.

Supports Proposal

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, supported the repeal proposal, however, and declared he was as much opposed to Communism as any one. It was a poor way to fight Communism, he thought, to enact drastic arbitrary legislation contrary to all principles of law and justice and offensive to many people who had no connection with Communism.

Repeal of the export ban, said Mr. King, would place the government of Canada in the position of "knowingly and openly aiding and abetting smugglers in the violation of the laws of a friendly and neighboring country". It would encourage rum-running along the Canadian frontier, making Windsor and other border points a base for criminal operations and "if we are reduced in this country to a position where we can get our revenue and provide employment only by becoming partners in the rum-running business, things have come to a strange pass."

Hon. Raymond Morand, (Cons., Essex East) declared that the only effect of the export ban had been to deprive the Canadian treasury of a large income and carry out a "noble gesture" that meant nothing. The officials, whose integrity was to be protected, now signed permits for liquor going to St. Pierre Miquelon and West Indies knowing fill well that it was destined for the United States, and were therefore just as much allies of the smugglers as they had been before, he said.

As a result of the recent riots in federal penitentiaries the number of guards at the three prisons where riots broke out has been increased, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice told the House. Another result of the riots will be that more attention will be paid in future to the selection of guards.

Opposes Bill

Mr. Guthrie opposed a bill introduced by Thomas Reid (Lib., New Westminster) to establish the eight-hour day for both guards and prisoners in penitentiaries. The law now provides for an eight-hour day on all Dominion Government work except in the Penitentiary service.

After a brief discussion Mr. Reid withdrew the bill, stating he was pleased with Mr. Guthrie's views and did not want to press the matter at present.

The "slavish adherence" of members of Parliament to their part was caustically denounced by Miss Agnes MacPhail (C.C.F., South-East Grey), in debate in the resolution advocating repeal of Section 26.

Miss MacPhail delivered strictures at what she called efforts of J. R. MacNichol (Cons., Toronto North East) to link the C.C.F. up with the Communists. The Communists hated the C.C.F. members, because the latter stood between them and violence in this country.

became Mayor of America's second largest city.

Zangara became an assassin.

Cermak Should Recover

MIAMI, Feb. 17 —(AP)— Mayor Anton Cermak, struck down Wednesday night by a bullet intended for the president-elect of the United States, should recover from his wounds, barring complications, it was announced at the hospital early today.

A bulletin signed by Doctors S. E. Nichol, T. W. Hutson and J. W. Snyder said:

"Mayor Cermak's rest continues to be broken only for short intervals. His pulse is 96 and of satisfactory quality. Temperature 99.6 and respiration 20. The blood pressure has recovered to normal level. The patient is requiring much less sedatives."

Hospital authorities said no surgery was contemplated now. His family and friends are staying close to his sick bed. His youngest daughter, Mrs. Helen Cermak Kenley, and two of his sons-in-law, Dr. Frank J. Jirkla, superintendent of the public health department of Chicago, and Richey V. Graham, Illinois state senator, flew here yesterday.

Governor Henry Horner of Illinois was enroute today from Springifeld.

Bullet Still in Body.

The bullet that Giuseppe Zangara fired into the Mayor's body in an attempted assassination of President-elect Roosevelt was still in his body to-day.

An X-ray report said:

"Films of the chest and abdomen show presence of a .32 caliber bullet lying exactly in the midling of the upper anterior margin of the body of the 11th dorsal vertebra. The wound of entry was on the right side posteriorly under the tip of the scapula at about the level of the 9th rib. There is no evidence that it fractured the ribs at these points.

"It must have passed downward and toward the midling and has apparently lodged itself in the body of this vertebra. It has produced very little fracture of the body structure of this vertebra, in fact, no displaced fragments of bone are noted in this area.

"In estimating the course of this bullet, it is evident that the spinal cord would escape injury. It lies too high to have affected the right kidney, but it is possible that in its course it passed through the posterior margin of the liver. The amount of injury produced will have to be observed from the clinical findings."

Mr. Roosevelt sent the Mayor this message before departing for New York yesterday:

"For my old friend, Tony, with my affectionate good wishes. Get well fast and come to see me in Washington."

ALLOW CONCESSION FOR POWER USERS

Light Customers in Arrears Will Have Advantage of P.P. Discount.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 17 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).— To enable all users who are in arrears of payment for water, light, and power in the town of Campbellford to take advantage of the prompt paymnt discount, which will be deducted from their arrears providing the said arrears extend back more than two months, a motion was put on the books of the Water and Light Commission Board at a special meeting over which Charman J. O. Benor presided. This motion followed a close scrutiny of the defaulting customers of the system, and was placed on the records not only to give the users the opportunity of taking advantage of the discount of twenty-five per cent. offered by the Commission, but by applying this to the arrears to enable them to straighten up their accounts.

The motion, which was sponsored by Commissioner A. J. Meyers and Mayor H. N. Carr, read: "That after this date electric light consumers who are in arrears of over two months will be allowed the prompt payment discount if they pay their current electric light account within th prompt payment due date, hs said discount to be applied on the reduction of their arrears for light, power, and water."

SUBURBAN AREA ROADS TO COST

Reeve Allan B. Mann and Deputy-Reeve Davidson.

On the wages question the two commissions agreed to pay 40 cents per hour for teams and 22 cents per hour for laborers. The resolution carried on motion of Reeve W. H. Montgomery, seconded by Commissioner Morley Smithson.

Last year the Suburban Area Commission paid 50 cents an hour for teams and 28 cents an hour for laborers, as compared with 45 cents an hour for teams and 23 cents an hour for laborers as paid by the County Roads Commission. Wages of machine men, foremen and patrolmen, which will also undergo revision, were not fixed at yesterday's meeting.

At the close of the meeting Commissioner Gainey thanked the representatives of the county for the reduction they had made in their appropriation and which would mean a saving of $750 to the city.

Under statute requirements, the city is obliged to expend on suburban area roads an amount equal to that put up by the county.

Hall's Bridge

(Examiner Correspondence)

HALL'S BRIDGE, Feb. 17.—The usual meeting of the Hall's Bridge W. I. was held at the house of Mrs. H. Windover on Monday, Feb. 13, with a good attendance of members. The roll call was an exhibit of articles made by each member from one yard of calico. The current events were ably taken by Dorothy Harvey. Mrs. F. Armstrong gave a reading and then a Valentine contest was sponsored by Mrs. W. Shearer and Mrs. F. Armstrong in which Miss Harvey and Mrs. Shaw carried off the prizes. After a dainty lunch the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Burns And Allen

The radio search for Gracie Allen's brother continues in full swing. Although dozens of imposters have appeared to claim the reward offered by Gracie, her brother's whereabouts is still a mystery. George Burns, Miss Allen's co-worker, is shown here helping the young lady in her search.

Burns and Allen are on the air over a Columbia network every Wednesday evening at 9.30 o'clock, with Guy Lombardo's orchestra.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

Many radios have a switch installed marked "local-distance." This switch is needed when the set is used in a city where there is a local station, as the signal comes in so loudly the volume control cannot reduce it sufficiently unless the switch is set in the "local" position. This switch also holds the station to a narrower part of the dial. In this locality it is usually best to use it in the "distance" position.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

Weddings

LOCKE—ODDIE

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17. — A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, February 11, at high noon at the home of Mrs. John Oddie, Campbellford, when her daughter, Helen Dorothy became the bride of Henry E. Locke, son of Thomas Locke. The officiating minister was the Rev. D. A. McKenzie B.A. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Burnbrae.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Neil Morrison and was charmingly gowned in hyacinthe blue krinkle crepe with metallic trimming, wearing a crystale necklace and carrying a bouquet of crimson bridal roses and maiden hair fern tied with streamers of white tulle. She wore hose to match her dress and white satin slippers.

After the ceremony a delicious dinner was served in the dining room, the color scheme being pink and white. The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. D. A. McKenzie and responded to by the groom. Felicitations were offered by Messrs T. Locke, N. Morrison, R. Fox, H. Maitland, Miss Ada Locke and Miss Ruth Plumpton.

The brides' going-away dress was brown Jerico crepe with hat to match and muskrat coat. Amid showers of confetti the happy couple left for a motor trip to Toronto and Hamilton. On their return they will reside on the Locke farm, English Line, Seymour township. The bride was the recipient of a large numberof beautiful gifts.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

Parliament has been giving some consideration to a suggestion that the Government estimates should be reviewed by a special committee instead of by the whole House, and Premier Bennett, in the course of the discussion, on the whole approved of the idea which was brought forward by a private member, Dr. McGibbon.

Whether his proposal would do all that is claimed for it or whether Parliament should relinquish its present right to scrutinize every appropriation are debatable questions, but it does seem apparent that a speeding up of the whole House machinery would be a desirable change.

Under the present method the House is likely to waste many hours over a trifling expenditure and then vote millions without stopping to take breath, a haphazard system that wastes time at the expense of the country and that in practice is far from being effective as a safeguard of the public's interests.

The McGibbon plan might not on close analysis prove superior to the procedure now in use, but at least it deserves some consideration as a well meant attempt to bring about a reform in a field where improvement is sadly needed.

The general public can see little excuse for the amount of time squandered in Parliament every session.

AN OPPORTUNTIY TO RETRENCH.

The Ontario Department of Education has paved the way for economies by municipal educational authorities by its decision that school boards which wish to discontinue night vocational classes for the time being will be given permission to do so.

The matter is now entirely up to local educational authorities, and it is certain that a number of municipalities will decide to abolish night classes until the economic skies clear.

In regard to the local situation it seems only necessary to say that with public opinion strongly in favor of retrenchment in all branches of the public service, citizens will look to the Board of Education to take advantage of the opportunity that is now offered and to scale down expenditures on night classes.

There is a feeling that only those classes should be maintained for the present that are helpful to the younger people of the community, and that courses primarily for the benefit of adults should be abolished or else placed on a paying basis.

While night classes for adults can be justified under normal conditions, it is by no means clear that it is fair to ask harassed taxpayers to maintain training facilities for people who might quite well be asked to pay for their tuition.

MR. NIXON'S MOTION.

Contending that the extension of the term of the Legislative Assembly was not intended to apply to the life of the present Legislature, Hon. H. C. Nixon, the Progressive leader, intends to introduce a motion calling upon the Government to resign and go to the people this year.

The resolution, of course, has no chance of being passed, and no one knows that any better than Mr. Nixon, who has introduced his motion merely for the sake of what political capital may be obtained from it.

Chief interest in the matter will centre around Mr. Nixon's claim that when the act increasing the term of the Legislature to five years was introduced it was understood that it would not come into effect until after an election had been held.

This contention is stoutly denied by the Government, and if we are not mistaken W. E. N. Sinclair, M.P.P., the Liberal House leader, intimated in an interview some time ago that his understanding of the situation was that there was no pledge that the legislation would not apply to the present Legislature.

This angle will, of course, be developed during the discussion of Mr. Nixon's motion, a discussion that may not be very helpful, but that most certainly should be interesting.

In any event there is no chance of an election this year; the Government chooses to gamble that conditions may have been bettered before it becomes necessary to go to the country.

THAT "WORK" ORDER.

The ruling from Ontario Government relief officials that municipal authorities are justified in declining to furnish relief to able-bodied men who refuse to do a measure of work in return will be well received.

The vast majority of those who are being helped through the present emergency would prefer a chance to earn the relief they are receiving to accepting assistance for which they have done nothing in return; as for the few who demand help and then refuse to do any work in exchange it is clear that they forfeit any claim for consideration.

Relief represents a heavy burden upon those who are able to pay taxes, but it is recognized that the responsibility of caring for the many victims of the upset economic conditions must be discharged.

However, the handful of unemployed who regard the help they receive as something to which they are rightfully entitled, even if they decline to stir a finger to help themselves, have the wrong slant on the situation, and the plain talk contained in the letter received from Relief Inspector J. L. Malcolm would seem to have been necessary to make such people realize that they, too, have a responsibility, and that if they are sound in body and in health they can be called upon to discharge that responsibility.

Already Premier Bennett has dined with two Kings and their Queen's. And he has been in London only a few days!—Toronto Globe.

SIGNIFICANT FIGURES.

Figures quoted by Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner to Canada, in a speech at Ottawa, show conclusively the great change that has taken place so far as British trade is concerned. The trend is definitely away from the United States and toward Canada and other sections of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

In the first nine months of 1932 the United Kingdom bought 35 per cent. of its total imports from the Empire, as against 29 per cent. in 1931. While between 1931 and 1932 Britain's total imports from foreign countries declined by £103,000,000, those from the Empire increased by £3,000,000.

Inevitably, Sir William says, British trade with the United States has been the one most affected by this change-over. In the first nine months of 1930 John Bull bought from the United States goods to the value of £112,000,000, but in the same period of 1932 only £59,000,000. If we deduct from these totals, the High Commissioner adds, raw cotton, since the United States has to a very large extent a monopoly of the class of cotton Lancashire requires and it has to be bought from her in any case, the figures become £100,000,000 for 1930 and £49,000,000 for 1932 or a decline of 50 per cent.

No doubt many American producers and exporters are feeling badly about this situation, but they will not be able to find reasonable fault with Britain nor the other partners of the British family. Uncle Sam is primarily responsible for the war of high tariffs in existence to-day. Over a period of years he has built up customs walls that are the highest in the history of man. The goods of other nations have been shut out. It is only natural, then, that other nations, seeking an outlet for their products, should turn elsewhere. And it is just as natural, that increasing their export markets in other directions, they should transfer their own purchases to nations that are prepared to buy from them.—Border Cities Star.

CANNOT HAPPEN HERE.

The unfortunate financial crisis which has arisen in the State of Michigan, once more serves to illustrate in the minds of Canadian people the sound and safe principles of banking maintained in this Dominion.

There is absolutely no danger of such a "bank holiday" being declared in this country. Canadian banks are in such fortunate liquid condition that they are able to meet all emergencies; and moreover, their system of financing is so well known and respected, that they hold the entire confidence of the investing public.

While the crisis in Michigan comes as a shock to the whole country, the surprise occasioned by the news is lessened by the knowledge that there have been 11,000 bank failures in the United States since 1921, half of them in the last three years. It has become general knowledge that many American banking institutions are loaded up with "frozen assets" created through the system of banking which is followed in that country. Far greater latitude is given to the banks in the States than is allowed banking institutions in this country in the class of security offered for loans. American bankers are permitted to tie up large sums of money in mortgages, etc., which deteriorate in value as the price of real estate goes down—such as has occurred during the season of depression which hit this continent a few years ago. This lessens the amount of ready money available to meet crisis when they arrive, and serious financial complications result.

In spite of President Hoover's recent speech to the contrary, in which he belittled the argument that international debts are a serious factor in prolonging the depression, the situation in Michigan to-day once more proves the necessity for the United States going seriously into the question of cancelling or revising the heavy debts owing to her by the other nations of the world. With the great proportion of the gold of the world in her possession, that country is still unable to avert financial complications among her own banks and financial corporations; due to the fact that through squeezing the other nations she is hindering her own world trade, without which the country cannot survive.

Canadians may be thankful that their banking laws are such that catastrophies, such as this Michigan disaster, are not liable to happen here. Very often complaint is made that Canadian banks are too strict in demanding security for loans; but in pursuing a policy of doing business only upon the most solid grounds, they are protecting their depositors, and keeping themselves in readiness for any financial emergency. Banks often lose money for themselves by observing this extreme caution with regard to loan security—but such a policy removes any possibility of fear on the part of depositors, and keeps the resources of the banks in liquid shape.

Latest advices are to the effect that arrangements may be completed for at least a partial service from the banks of Michigan, and it will be hoped, for the welfare of people everywhere, that the financiers affected may be able to pull through this crisis without injury to the great masses of people.—Chatham News.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Relief Fund is slowly climbing. If those who can help and have not yet done so will send in their donations the objective would be soon realized, however.

It seems the irony of fate that the mayor of Chicago should have to go as far away from home as Florida to get shot.

Redistribution is not a popular subject round Queen's Park these days. Any move that puts a couple of dozen members on the unemployed list is not likely to be appreciated.

Western Ontario Liberals are organizing for the next election. It is not coming until 1934 apparently, but the party evidently believes in preparedness.

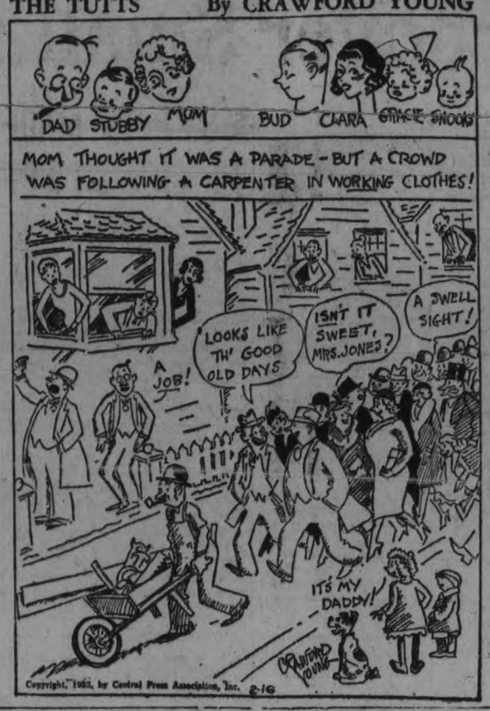
And now the mystery is how the attempted assassin of President-elect Roosevelt ever succeeded in entering the United States.

There is one thing about the C.C.F. plan. It can do no harm—unless we try to put it into effect.

It is strange that many of those alarmists who foresee the destruction of all culture by machinery use the radio to broadcast their fears, read their speeches from a typewritten manuscript and then ride home in a taxi.—New York Sun.

New Dominion loan is to be available in $100 and $200 lots for the use of small investors. Perhaps it would be better to say for the use of those who used to take on large amounts.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

THE TUTTS By CRAWFORD YOUNG



MURDÉR IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 45

Once more Jere Kane read the last line in the diary:

"They're going to try to shut her up."

He gazed at it abstractedly for a moment and then tossed the little brown volume aside. Lying there on the bed, he stared out the window, the while he tried to weld the facts which he had into a strong chain.

"They're going to try to shut her up," he repeated from memory. "I wonder who 'they' are and what is meant by that entry."

Gradually, his mind ran back over the events of the last few days, from the time that he had first seen the body of the murdered director. The motive for that murder was plain enough. It was revenge, coupled possibly with blackmail. From what he had learned of Richard Bailey's life in Hollywood there could be no other motive.

Throughout the diary there recurred references to "Buddy." Was that "Buddy" Deane—Evelyn? The poor, unfortunate girl had been known in Hollywood as "Buddy." But was she the "my buddy" to whom Bailey referred?

In the turmoil of his deliberations his mind wandered to the fiospital where Evelyn Deane had died. Her last words—

Kane sprang to his feet and went to the window. That was it! There was another. "Buddy." What were those last words?

"Buddy—tricked—me!"

Nanette had told him:

"She robbed him of everything he had."

And Lucy had declared:

"I have often heard him talk of his buddy. He used to tell us about her—but not lately."

And then, prompted by Kane, she had added:

"Something must have happened between them."

But what was that something? Undoubtedly, Kane considered, it was that the girl had found out something about Bailey that turned her against him, that transformed her from an adoring, forgiving creature into a cunning, ravenous fiend.

No longer was she Bailey's "buddy." She was a greedy, exacting thing who exercised the woman's prerogative to make the man pay, not in humility and pleas for forgiveness but where it apparently would hurt him most—from his pocketbook.

The director lived extravagantly. That was obvious after a study of his home up on that hill above Hollywood. He had numerous affaires d'armour and those required money, much money. Added to that, he had not had an engagement for some time and his supply of cash had dwindled to the point where he himself was forced to exact blackmail from one who had fallen into his hands.

Kane was forced to smile at the irony of the situation—a man forced to pay blackmail with money he himself had obtained by the same vicious and disreputable means.

Nanette had been his victim. It was her money that he was using to pay off this other woman. She had paid him handsomely, he had no doubt of that. But who was getting the money?

Kane looked at his watch. Seven o'clock! Why didn't Holmes telephone? Had he failed in his mission?

He was just about to decide to telephone the LeRoi and ascertain for himself the reason for the delay when the phone rang. He leaped to the instrument and shouted:

"Well?"

But when the voice came to him over the wire he felt a chill of desolation in his heart.

"Jere?" It was Inspector MacQuarrie.

"Yes."

"I'd like to see you for a moment. How about at dinner?"

Kane told him that he was awaiting a telephone call and could not leave the room.

"I'm coming up," the other said and before Kane could stop him he hung up.

Jere Kane was in no mood for MacQuarrie's banalities at the moment. He wanted to be left alone with his thoughts, but how, he asked himself, could he deny himself to an old friend.

Presently, without ceremony, the inspector walked into the room. Ben MacQuarrie looked at him through quizzical eyes, then:

"Son, you're in trouble."

"Don't I know it?" lonely.

"Take it easy, Jere, take it easy. If I can help you—"

Kane shrugged his shoulders and turned away. The older man went to him and, in a fatherly manner, slipped his arm about his shoulders.

"Come, come," he said comfortingly, "I know what you're up against. I've just had a talk with Lee."

"Yes?" with a scowl.

"It's about the Hull girl."

"What's that?" quickly. "What about her?"

MacQuarrie grinned. "I thought that would interest you."

Kane dropped down on the edge of the bed and MacQuarrie took possession of the easy chair. After a moment:

"Lillian Hull," the inspector said slowly, "knew who murdered Richard Bailey."

"How do you know that?" the other snapped.

"Now, just keep quiet and let me talk. And when I'm through you can ask all the questions you want."

He fumbled in his pocket and finally found that for which he was looking, a sheet of stationery. He gazed at it for a moment and then, perfunctorily, handed it to the other.

Kane turned red as his eyes fell upon what was written there.

"Where did you get this?" he demanded.

"I told you Chief Lee gave it to me—to give to you."

"Why didn't he bring it to me?"

"Because," hotly, "he couldn't find you. He said you promised to see him this afternoon but you didn't show up."

"I've had a lot to do," defensively.

"I know you have son," kindly. "You're up against one of the toughest cases I ever heard of. I'm not censuring you, but—"

"I promised John Lee I would deliver the murderer in twenty-four hours," Kane cried. "Ben, I've got to make good."

"Twenty-four hours or forty-eight hours, Jere, it's all the same."

"What's the chief doing to help me?" bitterly.

"He's carrying on an independent investigation. You don't need to think for a moment that he's laying down on the job. He's not hampering you—that little tiff you had with him is forgotten—but he's trying to pick up some loose ends. But what do you think of that," he indicated the sheet of paper.

Kane glanced down at the paper. It was written in a rather cramped style, as though it had been penned hastily. He read:

"Larry—

"You've got to help me. You have to. If you don't hurry I'm going the way of the others. I know it—I'm marked. Lillian."

"Did Lee tell you where he got this?" Kane demanded.

"Yes. He said Sergeant James found it in the Hull girl's desk."

"In her desk?" quizzically.

"Yes. The desk was locked. They had to break it open. That was after you left there."

Kane stared at the floor and unconsciously rubbed his chin. Presently:

"Did they find anything else?" shortly.

"Yes. This." MacQuarrie handed him an envelope.

Hastily, Kane drew out the sheet of paper and unfolded it. Neatly typewritten was this message:

"Lillian—

"You're getting too friendly with that person. If you don't watch out you're going to get in trouble. She's a devil. You can't trust her.

"Take my advice and avoid her. She's in a position where she can do a lot of harm. Larry."

Kane was on his feet in a flash, snapping his fingers. His face beamed; an almost fanatical light gleamed in his eyes.

"I've got it, Ben, I've got it!" he cried. "I'm going to need just one thing to clinch it."

"Who is it, Jere?" the inspector asked eagerly.

"It's—" But the insistent ringing of the telephone stopped him.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

You'd think, watching some people, observing the way they live, that life is a delicate thing that must be handled with exceeding care, for fear it might be smutched like new-fallen snow, or discolored as a magnolia blossom is at the touch of a hand, or dissipated like a shining bubble, or broken to bits like a precious but delicate teacup.

But people who hold life so gingerly in their hands are storing up trouble for themselves.

They have set their hearts on a certain kind of life that must not be disturbed, cannot be rearranged without pain, without tragedy.

They have decided arbitrarily that life is fixed and unchangeable; as definite as a statue made from stone, and that it must be kept as it is forever and forever.

And grief and anxiety wait always at their elbows. Until they learn that life is no fragile toy nor movable possession.

Because life is surely not so delicate as all that. Life is stubborn and life is tough. You beat life down and break it to bits, but it springs up again. Melt it down and shape it anew, lash it and shatter it and tear it to pieces. In the morning, it is at your door again.

You say: "My life is over. The treasure I held so precious is lost to me forever. I said my heart would break and my heart IS broken. There's nothing left for me now but dull existence. I am at an end."

You think so, indeed. But life has the last word. In the fog there's a gleam. On the stark twig a bud appears. In your east the darkness is a shade less and the great sky lightens to the dawn. Despite all that fretful human beings can do, life will not be denied and life survives. Life never knows when it is beaten. You cannot drive it from your house with insults, with pouting, with loud abuse. Life is your stubbornly persistent friend. No enemy, but your good companion. Always within you. And you are a part of life as much as life is a part of you.

This man's signature indicates him to be a representative of that type among men most highly perceptive, most sensitively attuned and most delicately adjusted. This man perceives and records vibrations of feeling and thought on a greater range than the average emotional and mental equipment. This faculty indicates the possession of, rather than explains, the uncanny facility this man has for reading the minds and hearts of others. It is imperative on him to ferret out the hidden things, but even when he is apparently most ruthless he is fundamentally pitying. He is visionary and susceptible to moods of black depression, and of exaltation. Although his ambitions express themselves in terms of material desires, physical details are difficult for him. He dwells in a world apart, generally impenetrable and preoccupied—a world of sensations and ideas, in which he is sometimes supremely content and at other times very humanly lonely.

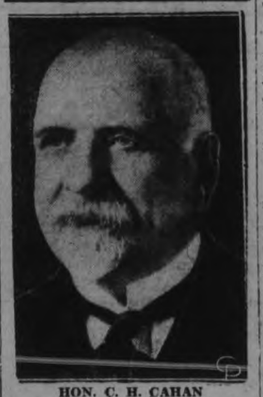
Who's Who in Ottawa

By CHARLES ROSS, Jr.



HON. C. H. CAHAN

There is a towering giant of a man, both intellectually and physically, with mild and laughing blue eyes, who first saw the light of day in the village of Hebron, N.S., to whom the youth of Canada might well look for the qualities which will mould them into men and women of whom Canada of tomorrow will be justly proud. The man is Hon. C. H. Cahan, Canada's secretary of state. These are the qualities which have made him what he is to-day—courage, ingenuity, tolerance, initiative, perseverance, tact, diplomacy and a love for the beautiful in nature, music, literature and art. Most young men of 26 would consider editorship the crowning achievement of their lives; 75 per cent. would probably be satisfied with such journalistic laurels and never soar to more supernal realms. Not so with the young Cahan, however, who sat in an editor's chair in Halifax when a stripling of 26. His was a two-fold task requiring much burning of midnight oil, for, beside his job, he was studying law at Dalhousie University. Because of the circumstances under which he studied he was obliged to make a hard fight for admission to practise law. This battle revealed at an early age the striking strength of character of the man. The bar of Nova Scotia was essentially all for rich men's sons. Every applicat for admission to practise law was required to make a declaration that during the course of his study he was not engaged in any other business. The law reports of Nova Scotia and of the supreme court of Canada bear witness to an endeavor on the part of young Cahan to force the N.S. bar to allow hom to practise. He lost out, however, for the time being, and for two years occupied himself with newspaper work. A second time he fought for his rights, and in doing so he proved his mettle. On his return to newspaper work he interested himself in politics and, burning more midnight oil, he soon became leader of the Conservative party in Nova Scotia—which was precisely what he wanted. Instead of being a listener, a heckler from the gallery, he was in the arena with the gladiators themselves. He forced the fight—his fight—right from the gong, as it were. He attacked forcefully on the floor of the legislature, and through the columns of the press, the statutes and rules of the bar accociation which permitted sons of only rich fathers to practise law. Young Cahan succeeded and in due time was called to the bar. Starting from the bottom rung of the ladder, his tact, his tireless energy, his aggresiveness, his honesty, have combined to bring him to the top.

STUDENTS SHOULD PAY COSTS

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir: — I want to thank Mr. Kenner for his very plain and courteous explanation of the reason of the returning of the $2.00 "fee" for night classes. This, as he explains, is recommended by the Dept. of Education at Toronto. We must, perforce, submit, but it does not follow that the already overburdened Taxpayer agrees with the recommendation. I honestly believe there is not a scholar attending the classes but would willingly pay the small fee.

As is usually the case, I gather from the tone of Mr. Kenner's letter that I am to consider myself taken to task pretty much for daring to criticize any part of the system now in force in the Dept. of Education, but had Mr. Kenner read my letter with an absolutely unbiased mind he would know, it is not that I am against the continuance of the night classes. I feel the same as he does, that they are supplying a community need, and should be considered always as the poor man's university.

Regarding a visit to the school, I have already visited it, and am proud of it. We, in Peterborough, have reason to be proud of all our schools, but after visiting the Vocational School, and seeing the wonderful equipment, and the splendid privileges it affords the students attending, I more than ever endorse Mr. McKone's statement as quoted in the press: "I would not like to see a discontinuance of the evening classes, but I believe those wishing to take them should be prepared to pay the cost of tuition."

Yours truly,
J. H. CRIDLAND.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A MURDERER'S FATAL ERROR.

On this date, in 1890, there took place in a swamp near Princeton, Ont., one of the most brutal, because most carefully planned, murders in the history of Canada. Remarkable also because the murderer convicted himself by returning to identify his victim! Fred C. Benwell was a son of a wealthy middle class family in England who, tiring of London life, decided that he would like to "try his luck in the colonies" and answered an advertisement in the London Times, of a man who offered, for a fee, to take farm pupils in "Western Canada." The advertiser was Reginald Birchall, who for some years had with his wife been cutting quite a dash at Woodstock, Ont., masquerading as "Lord" and "Lady Somerset"; the applicant was Fred C. Benwell. An interview was arranged; the young man was magnetized by the beauty of Mrs. Birchall, whose tales of good times made in Canada, coupled with her husband's assertion of the money to be made on a Canadian farm, an agreement was signed; and a fee of one hundred pounds was paid as a starter (I do not recall whether the total amount of the fee asked and promised was ever made public). In course of time the trio left Liverpool for Canada, via New York. With them a fourth, a young man named Pelly, another of Birchall's "farm pupils," who had also paid the £100. The two young men met on shipboard and compared notes, though Birchall sought to keep them apart. From New York the four proceeded to Buffalo and thence to Niagara Falls. There Birchall fas faced with the problem of how to separate the two. Pelly testified at the murder trial that Birchall tried to push him into the Niagara River and that he lived by a miracle, the appearance of a third person. So that it was necessary to get rid of Benwell.

On the morning of February 17, Birchall and Benwell took a train at the Falls and debarked at Princeton, where they went to "look at the farm." The path led through a swamp. Birchall returned alone. Two or three days later a couple of farmers while chopping wood saw something at the edge of the swamp. It was, the frozen, half-decomposed body of a young man with two bullet holes in the head. All identification marks had been removed by the clothing, but a short distance away from the corpse was a cigar case with the initial "F.C.B." engraved on it. The police were notified and the body was interred in Princeton's little cemetery.

Then Birchall made his fatal error! Moved by what? curiosity as to what would happen, security in his certainty that he had left no clue, or by the fact that a murderer oft returns to the scene of his crime—Birchall went to Princeton, said he had been a newspaper picture of the dead man and identified him as one whom he had met on an Atalantic steamer. From that folly he never escaped until he paid the death penalty on the scaffold at Woodstock on November 14 following. John Murray, the great Ontario government detective, suspected, investigated and proved the crime to the hilt. The trial at Woodstock was a great sensation. The address for the crown by B. B. Osler, over 16,000 words, was cabled in full to London, and the English papers published column upon column over the case of the "Canadian Murder of a Farm Pupil."

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (C.P.)—Buying of British American Oil gave that issue a firm appearance at 8 most of the day on the Toronto Stock Exchange, but it weakened later to close at 7⅞. Mild selling in both Imperial and International Pete gave those issues a fractional set-back. McColl-Frontenac and Canadian Oils were slightly stronger.

Outside of a gain of 2¼ points in Consumers Gas the utilities showed practically no change. The interlisted stocks had a much better tone in the afternoon, and Brazilian was taken up ⅜ to 8⅝. C.P.R. also showed a ⅜ gain, while both International Nickel and Ford A closed on the down side.

Food and beverage stocks were mostly steady.

In the miscellaneous section General Electric showed a 15-point drop to 100, while Dufferin Paving Preferred jumped 5, and F. N. Burn closed moderately lower.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—Interlisted issues were steady on the Montreal Stock Exchange to-day as the market went through the motions of another extremely dull day. In the main body of stocks gains and losses were about evenly divided.

Canadian Pacific closed slightly below its best level of the day, finishing at 11¼ for a net gain of ¼. Brazilian was up 1-8 at 8⅛, while International Nickel held unchanged at 9 1-8. Consolidated Smelters yielded ⅛ to 60½.

In the Utilities, Montreal Power advanced ¾ to 30. Bell Telephone dipped 1 1-8 to 89, while Shawinigan was off 1-8 at 11. Both common and preferred shares of Steel of Canada picked up ¼-point gains.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—The Standard Mining Market got through the quietest session of the month so far with the price structure not fully intact. Some of the leaders in the high-priced gold group weakened moderately and there was a slight sagging tendency in the Base Metal shares.

Both Dome and Lake Shore dropped about 50 and McIntyre closed down about 30. Pioneer was the exception, gaining about 15 and Hollinger was firm.

Good buying in small lots again appeared in Noranda, and the quotation held around $24.75, 10 up for the day. Buying was less active in International Nickel, off 5 to 10.

Better buying appeared in Eldorado, accompanied by a gain of 5 points, and the other shares of the group were unchanged.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. — (AP). — Earlier gainsof fractions to two points were maintained in the late dealings on the stock exchange today. Rails firmed while the so-called "wet" stocks held steadily to their earlier advances, accompanied by a gentle backing and filling movement in the main list of securities. Santa Fe, Union Pacific, McKeesport, United States industrial alcohol, Allied Chemical and Case were up a point. Gains of 2 points were held by National Distillers, Owens Bottle and Seaboard Oil. United States Steel, American Telephone, American Tobacco B, Harvester, American Can, New York Central and Public Service of N. J., were fractionally higher. Transfers approximated 600,000 shares.

MUST SACRIFICE HIGH INTERESTS

Vancouver Sun Publisher Claims Gov't Action Plunging Millions in Misery.

SEES WAY OUT.

CALGARY, Feb. 17 (C.P.)—The Canadian capitalistic system, if freed from high interest rates and overcapitalization, is quite capable of distributing huge quantities of foods and goods which engineers and chemists are turning out with new automatic machines, Robert J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, said in an address before the Board of Trade and Canadian Club here to-day.

"Canadians may laugh at India feeding 12,000,000 sacred cows and sacred monkeys while millions of Hindus starve," he declared. "But a few years hence Canadians will look back and laugh at the present depression and the 'scared cow' we made of high interest rates and gold standards."

Millions of Canadians and Americans, the speaker continued, were to-day being plunged into misery and penury through governments trying to pay insupportably high interest rates and gold premiums and trying to keep alive huge debts and over capitalizations which should be cut to a half or a quarter.

Money was only a token or symbol of goods or wages or property, and unless governments and financial institutions quickly restored money to its proper function of distribution goods and wages, it was clear people would be forced to try some other token or inferior system.

"Give capitalism a fighting chance," urged Mr. Comrie, "and try and adjust capitalism to present needs before it is too late."

LIBERALS RALLY CITY OF LONDON

New Factor in Coming Elections Expected to be Shaped Up Before Night.

SINCLAIR MISSING.

(By Jack Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Ont., February 17 (C.P.). — With formation of a West-Ontario Liberal Association in view, members of Provincial and Federal Parliaments assembled here to-day Before nightfall it is expected, a new factor in coming elections may be born.

The Conservative Association in Western Ontario is known to be decidedly strong, and the association expected to be formed to-day will have strong competition at election time.

However, all Liberal Western Ontario members of both Houses arrived this morning. Mitchell F. Hepburn, Provincial Leader, will address his followers during the day, so will Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.P., Vancouver, and Hon. Vincent Massey, practically the only outstanding Liberal missing from the meeting is W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., the Leader of the Party in the Ontario House.

The afternoon meeting is edpected to prove merely an organizational one, with to-night being reserved for the bulk of the discussion.

Members Will Visit Vast Schreiber Area

TORONTO, Feb. 17.— (C.P.) — Seeking to have the government form closer contact between the section of the province west of Schreiber to the Manitoba boundary, a large deputation conferred to-day with Premier George S. Henry urging the Cabinet and members of the Legislature to visit the area this summer in a similar manner to the inspection by a party that visited Moosonee and district late last summer.

Premier Henry agreed with the suggestion and agreed also to place the matter before the Cabinet and Government members with a view to laying plans for the inspection.

The deputation pointed out that the area comprises half the total area of the province, and it was contended that those who are legislating for the area know nothing of its size and value to the other sections of the province. A closer contact, they urged, would prove beneficial to Southern Ontario.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, February 17 (C.P.).—Trading on the Toronto Live Stock Market was very dull during the week with cattle prices 15c to 25c lower. Veal calves showed the only advance in prices, gaining 50c at the opening and held steady for the balance of the week. Cattle trade was dull; calves stronger; hogs steady; sheep and lambs were steady.

The cattle supply proved too heavy for market requirements. Export demands were limited, and there was not enough competition in buying to hold prices steady. Good and choice heavy and weighty steers closed at $3.75 to $4.00, with small lots at $4.25.

Common steers sold downward to $3.00. Choice butcher cattle brought $3.75 to $3.85, with most of the butchers selling between $3.25 and $3.50. Fed calves held steady all week at $4.00 to $5.50 for the majority, with a few tops at $6.00.

Good butcher cows sold at $2.35 to $2.75, with heavy cows hard to sell. Bulls sold as high as $3.00 at the opening with a good export demand, but closed at $2.50 for tops. Small lots of common store cattle sold at from $2.50 to $3.00 per cwt. Milkers brought $45.00 to $50.00 for tops.

Export shipments for the week totalled only 10 loads, including four loads of heavy bulls.

Choice veal calves sold at $7.50 to $8.00 with common downward to $4.00. The bulk of the supply sold between $5.00 and $7.00.

Hog prices opened 10c to 15c higher than last week's close at $3.35 to $3.40 f.o.b. for bacons, but lost the advance on Tuesday. For the balance of the week, hogs held steady at $3.25 f.o.b. for bacons at $3.50 off truck and at $3.75 off cars. The closing feeling was easier.

Sheep and lamb receipts included 1,200 western lambs. The western lambs were of good quality and sold mostly at $6.00 per cwt. with some at $5.75. Native lambs sold in small lots at $4.00 to $5.75 according to quality. The small run of sheep sold at $1.00 to $3.00 per cwt. according to quality.

MOVE IS MADE TO CUT STAFF

many foremen for the amount of work we are doing" he stated.

Chairman Hamilton said that he considered that when Mr. Kelman was appointed to the dual role of assistant engineer and street commissioner that a real economy was being made.

Alderman Tuggey—"Every alderman on this Board will admit that the Board of Works' work program is ten years ahead of schedule because of the extensive unemployment relief work we did during the past two years. If we haven't the work to do then why should we have so many officials. There is great room for a reduction in the staff."

Alderman Stocker said that while the Board of Works were only employing small gangs a foreman was required to see that each job was properly done. "Look at this in the proper light, gentlemen" he urged.

Alderman McIntyre—"Get another Harry Evans and that is all you need."

Alderman Tuggey charged that he had repeatedly seen Foreman Cox "leaning against a building" when he was supposed to be superintending the work of two or three men."

Alderman McIntyre — "What would you do in your own business under such conditions? Wouldn't you make an adjustment?"

Alderman Holland—"We don't need these men leaning against the wall."

Alderman McNabb—"Would you dispose of Mr. Kelman's services and then hire another man to take his place. I don't think that's fair."

Would Save $2,900

Alderman McIntyre figured that Mr. Kelman and Mr. Thirnbeck, who together received $4,100 could be replaced by one good man at a salary of $1,200. Hed declared that Mr. Kelman was not a good man to handle men on the jobs.

Alderman Cotton opposed this view, but Alderman McIntyre told him that he was not serious then about economy. Alderman Tuggey declared that the Board of Works now had the same staff of officials as when they were employing 150 men on jobs. But Chairman Hamilton said that several of the foremen just came on the staff as they were required from time to time to superintend jobs as they arose. "We dont keep them on steady," he said.

Alderman Tuggey said that he took pleasure in seconding Alderman McIntyre's motion requesting the two resignations.

Alderman Sloan: "Would you then permit Mr. Kelman to apply for the street commissioner's job at the decreased salary?"

Alderman McIntyre: "One good street inspector would do both Kelman and Thirnbeck's work and you would get economy and efficiency."

Alderman Tuggey: "You bet, economy and efficiency."

Alderman McIntyre said he wanted to be fair to Mr. Thirnbeck who had done much good work for the city, "but we haven't any work for him to do now."

In reply to a question, City Engineer Parsons said Mr. Thirnbeck was now engaged at the wood yard, superintending its deliveries.

Alderman Tuggey: "We've been going around in the rut too long, keeping men on when we don't need them."

Cut Salaries

Alderman Sloan said he favored a large reduction in the two men's salaries rather than calling for their resignations. Alderman Holland suggested that that was the more humane way of doing. "Of course," he said, "if they don't want to accept the lowered salary they can resign, but give them the opportunity of accepting it first.

Alderman Tuggey assured the board that he was in favor of giving Mr. Thirnbeck the preference over other men when work was available for which he might be useful.

Alderman Holland moved an amendment to the motion, that the chairman of the Board of Works and the City Engineer interview the two men and learn whether they would be willing to accept a reduction.

Alderman Macdonald: "Why couldn't we take this up with the other salaries in the Finance Committee?"

Alderman McNabb said he was against asking for their resignation. "I don't think it is fair," he declared. "And I don' think the ratepayers would like that attitude. They want' us to be fair with our employees. I'll clip when the time comes to clip."

Alderman McIntyre maintained that in Mr. Kelman the city did not have the right man for bossing work jobs, and that the right man could be secured at far less money and the work done with great efficiency. "I want to impress that on Alderman McNabb," he said.

Alderman Macdonald took the view that in asking for the resignations and hiring another man at a low wage, the city would be just taking advantage of the times. Alderman McNabb said the factories would take their pattern from that and do the same thing; take advantage of the financial situation. Alderman McIntyre maintained that the factories had already done it.

Alderman Hamilton said that Mr. Kelman was a good man, a willing worker and that he was entirely satisfied with him in every way. "I've seen him at all times on the job, and he does his work well." Alderman Macdonald said he considered both Kelman and Thirnbeck splendid men.

Aldermen Tuggey and McIntyre said they were not questioning the ability of the men, or Mr. Kelman's skill as an engineer, but they were questioning the need of them on the Board of Works' staff. "God only knows the taxpayer needs some consideration as well as others," exclaimed Alderman Tuggey.

Aldermen Cotton and Macdonald moved an amendment to the amendment, that the question of a reduction in the two men's salaries be left to the Finance meeting. The amendment, moved by Aldermen Holland and Stocker was withdrawn, and the Cotton-Macdonald amendment carried.

Landscape Design To Be Shown In City

Citizens of Peterborough will be privileged to view the elaborate and intricate landscape foundation design for the International Peace Garden located in Manitoba and North Dakota, which was dedicated on July 14, with the visit here of "K-K," "Creator of Gardens Beautiful."

The stupendous design, carries a peculiar interest as it is entirely a labor of love, which has occupied its creator's time for the past two years. The plan, which is to be placed on display at the local Y.M.C.A. next week covers an area 31 feet 5 inches by 19 feet 6 inches, and represents an international area of approximately 3,000 acres at a scale of 44 feet to one inch. It is a free gift by "K-K" to the organizers of the International Peace Garden, fostered by the National Association of Gardeners, under the secretaryship of H. J. Moore of Islington, Ontario.

"K-K" as this master horticulturist prefers to call himself, since early boyhood has devoted himself to his art. His mass of knowledge has been embodied in his plan for the development of the 3 000 acres area which constitutes the International Peace Garden.

The exhibition here, the details of which have not yet been completed, are being arranged by "K-K" with G. H. Roper, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17 (C.P.)—Despite indifferent Liverpool cables and heavy wheat shipments from southern - hemisphere countries, wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day advanced during early trading to score gains of about ½ cent. Offerings from the start were extremely thin and this was a strong factor in the advance.

At mid-session, however, all wheat futures were unchanged with May 48½, July 49⅝, and October 50⅝.

Early reports indicated a fair export business out of Vancouver overnight, but no figures were available. Most buying came from export interests, supplemented by scattered purchases for Eastern and Southern account. Trading at times was quite active and the feeling toward the market appeared to be quite friendly.

Liverpool wheat opened lower, but firmed up about mid-session, and quotations near the close were unchanged to ⅝d higher. Buenos Aires wheat at noon was unchanged to ⅛c lower.

Argentine wheat shipments for the week totalled slightly more than 5,000,000 bushels, while clearances from Australia amounted to about 6,500,000 bushels, of which nearly 4,000,000 bushels went to non-European countries.

CLAIM INSULL REPORTS WRONG

Properties Pictured as Money Makers to Public—Tax Returns Showed Loss.

1,000 SHARES PUT ASIDE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP).—Testimony that Insull properties were pictured to the public as money-makers at the same time that tax returns were claiming large losses was put into the record of a United States Senate committee to-day during the questioning of Samuel Insull, Jr.

Insull agreed with Ferdinand Pecora, the banking committee counsel, that the public statement of the company showed net earnings of more than $2,000,000 at a time when the tax report showed a loss of $3,463,000.

Pecora also put into the record a notation that 1,000 shares of Insull stocks had been put aside to "take care of certain people."

Insull said he did not know to what this referred, but that he could write to his father, now in voluntary exile in Greece, and find out.

Insull was followed on the stand by Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Company, who had been listed as a preferred purchaser of Insull stock.

the part of the Jewish masses to Zionism or a desperate clinging to Jewish values. The contrary is true. That a large number of American Jews are turning their eyes longingly in the direction of the homeland in this moment is not due to an ideological impulse, but finds its origin in the hope of finding a new basis of economic existence.

Tragedy of Jewish Life

Bialik, the great Hebrew poet, whose visionary power is akin to that of the ancient prophets of Israel, once expressed his fear to me that Jewry's greatest tragedy would come in America. The first act of that tragedy has begun. Jewish life is withering away so rapidly in America, including Canada, of course, that at the present rate the doom of Judaism begins to become apparent to all. A number of circumstances are conspiring to empty Jewish life of its significance.

Anti-Zionists amongst the Jews have decried the national movement on the ground that they see in it a tendency to withdraw from the world. Jews must fight their battle in the lands and in the environment in which they find themselves, they say. Yet what these men exactly mean by battle is becoming increasingly difficult to see. If the meaning of battle is surrender, conformity, apology, self-effacement and assimilation, these men are indeed supreme heroes themselves. But if the deeper meaning of Judaism is to prepare the Jews and humanity for the Messianic era on earth, the battle, in my estimation, is not being fought at all. For that battle requires a conscious Jewish life, no matter in what economic environment the Jews find themselves, and no matter which way the future of Palestine goes. That battle requires a passionate seeking of abstract justice. It must turn against the sacredness of the state. It must rebel. It must never say yes. Ever and again it must challenge the status quo.

But, so runs the answer to this: We cannot live a complete Jewish life. It would be dangerous. We would be considered aliens, unpatriotic, unassimilable ingredients, we would become the victims of discrimination, we would be persecuted. We would be destroyed.

Destruction From Within

A people is never destroyed except from within, as we see clearly at the present time. The Jews are a part of the world, an essential part of the universe. Jewish culture has a right to exist, just as much as German culture or Italian or Hindu culture. During the war it was said that German civilization must be wiped out. That was, as Lewisohn pointed out, the babble of little children. A hundred times the world has tried to destroy the Jews. Still, the Jews have survived. The Jews do not exist by the will or by the grace of the world. They are there just as the Rocky Mountains exist, a natural phenomenon.

To the Jews who say they want to fight the battle of the Jews in the lands of the dispersion, that battle has more and more become a fight against Jewishness. In this they not only hurt themselves, they hurt all mankind. What the world expects from the Jew and what the world has but seldom seen, certainly not in modern times, is Jewish self-expression. The Jew, crushed by the memory of centuries of oppression, trembles at the thought of self-expression. He flees from himself. He seeks to assure his Gentile neighbors that he is no different, no better and no worse than they. He wants to show that he is physically just as courageous as the Gentiles, just as good a citizen, meaning that he shares the opinions of the majority. He tries to edge in on Gentile society, and when he gets there he considers it such a tremendous achievement that it justifies him to look down on his brethren, the "ghetto-Yidden," who have not climbed to that dizzying height.

What they forget is that those heights are false heights, that false gods are worshipped there. They forget that the flight from Judaism is fut t ..his. bat-ishseth lfxie is futile, that it means estrangement from Jewish life, assimilation pure and simple. How futile it is we may well see in Germany. How long ago is it that the German Jews pointed with pride to their integration in German life, their complete acceptance in German society, their merger with Germany national life in all its phases? But a few years. And now? Is not Jewish life menaced more seriously in Germany than anywhere else on earth? The Jew who in our time starts out on the road to assimilation meets uncounted numbers, the elite of his own people, on their way back. They have returned because they found assimilation a delusion.

The Zionist, or the anti-assimilationist in general, does not advocate a severanceof Jewish ties with western culture, a withdrawal from the world, either into Palestine or in some new spiritual ghetto. He wants the very opposite. He wants to show the world what Jewish Jews are like. Jews without false shame. Jews who by virtue of Judaic tradition refuse to accept or condone the barbarism of the world, a barbarism which the ancient Hebrews already transcended. He wants the Jew to be true to himself, to his Jewish traditions, a sharer in moral revolutions, a builder of a new world.

It was inevitable that the modern social creeds were the creation of Jews. These creators acted out of an immemorial Jewish instinct. "He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was this not to know me? saith Jehovah?" The conflict of the Jews is not primarily directed against the world at large. It is an inner conflict. It is an attempt to fit in by hook and by crook. Hence Jewish restlessness. Hence also Jewish sorrow, spiritual hunger and neurasthenia and the Jewish sense of inferiority. Only the Jew who finds himself has the serenity of heart to face the world around him, that is as a Jewish Jew and not as one who curbs and cringes and effaces himself. There is more "Schutzjudentum" and so-called ghetto - mentality today amongst modern quasi-emancipated Jews than there ever was in the Chassidic pale of eastern Europe.

I have tried to show in previous articles that the New Palestine is being built on foundations of Hebraic justice. In closing these letters on Jewish life in Palestine, I would yet like to say this: We, liberals and pacifists and socialists, want the same foundations to be laid in our lands. We are partisans of the old Hebraic justice. We want to build innumerable Palestines, as it were, all over the globe. For that we want the co-operation of the Jewish people everywhere, not only in Palestine but in Canada as well.

For that reason we protest against Jewish assimilation. We do not want a diluted Jewish collaboration, but a full, free Hebraic co-operation. The Jews owe it to mankind to be themselves, unflinching enemies of the false gods, intransigent champions of justice. We want the Jews with us, as our elder brothers, in the fierce struggle that is coming against the idols in the market place the idols of blood and guile and violence which symbolize the barbaric modern state.

BOARD OF WORKS CUTS ESTIMATES $9,825 FOR YEAR

Reduction is $17,968.19 From That Spent Last Year.

TO CUT SALARIES.

Appropriations For Board Are Temporarily Fixed at $61,850.

With the probability of some further reductions, mainly in salaries, the Board of Works Committee of the City Council was successful last night in reducing this year's appropriation of the Board of Works by $9,825.00.

The appropriations for the Board of Works were temporarily fixed last night at $61,850.00, as compared with last year's appropriation for the department of $71,675.00. However, the reduction in the appropriations for the department, as now drawn, up is a decrease of $17,968.19 on the total expenditures of the Board of Works last year. Expenditures last year were $78,822.19.

To Cut Salaries

Probabilities of a ten per cent reduction in all civic salaries were sounded at the Board of Works' conclave last night, and from the tone of the meeting it is quite possible that some of the officials of the Board of Works will get an even stiffer reduction.

The salary question was left more or less in the air. The aldermen deciding to consider the subject more fully at the meeting of the Finance Committee, which will be held within a few days. However, two employees at the sewage disposal plant, J. Gates and T. Nolan, had their salary of $1,314 reduced by ten percent to $1,182.60.

Reduction Details

Details of the reduction made in the Board of Works' appropriators are:

	1932 Expenditure	1932 Appropriation	Proposed 1933 Appropriation
Streets and Bridges	$56,303.21	$28,175.00	$44,350.00
Dust laying	10,385.06	10,000.00	6,000.00
Sewage disposal	9,325.00	9,500.00	9,000.00
			(without wage cuts)
Snow removal	2,908.43	4,000.00	2,500.00
Totals	$78,822.19	$71,675.00	$61,850.00

Opening the attack on the estimates, the appropriation for gravel was reduced from $10,000 to $8,000. Alderman James Hamilton, chairman, explained that the gravel expense was mainly incurred in crushing the stone and delivering it upon the streets and spreading it. The committee considered that the appropriation could not be cut below the $8,000 because it was said the city's roads would be in bad shape after the open winter and extensive work would be required. It is contemplated putting a hard surface on Sherbrooke street west of Park street, similar to the surface laid on Burnham street last year. City Engineer Parsons said that the cost of the Burnham street road was 44 cents per square. This was considered very cheap because the road resembles an asphalt surface and it was estimated will stand for four years without needing repairs.

When the $8,000 appropriation for gravel was being passed, Alderman Stocker commented, "We've got to leave our scissors out of this." It was pointed out that in this expenditure work would be supplied to the unemployed.

Clip Another $1,000 Off

However, the $5,000 appropriation for street cleaning and sidewalk repairs was reduced to $4,000. It was stated that in deciding this reduction the department must be careful in making sidewalk repairs to see that only the worst places were repaired or otherwise the appropriation would be exceeded.

Attention was drawn to the $4,107.69 expenditure for surface drains last year, but it was explained that this was mainly spent in rebuilding the Romaine street drain. The appropriation for this work this year was fixed at $500.

Horses Maintained

An appropriation for $500 for the maintenance of the three horses owned by the Board of Works raised the ire of Alderman Macdonald. "I thought we instructed you to sell those horses?" he questioned Chairman Hamilton.

Chairman Hamilton—"You did, but I couldn't get near the price for them that they are worth." He explained that the horses were being used every day and were proving their worth.

Alderman McIntyre considered the appropriation too high and it was cut to $400.

Officials' Telephones

Alderman Macdonald raised the question as to whether the city paid the home telephone bills of the city officials. There was an appropriation for telephones of $100. It was learned that the city did pay for the officials' telephones. This item will probably gain the close attention of the Finance Committee.

An appropriation of $500 for boundary roads also came in for scrutiny. Engineer Parsons explained that the city does not do any work on the boundary roads, "but the townships do and they charge it back to us and we have nothing else to do but pay."

An expenditure of $1,895.11 last year under the heading of pumping stations, raised a question from Alderman McNabb. "That's a big sum. What was it for?" he queried.

It was explained that the pumping station, an old one, on Engleburn Avenue, had broken down and had to be replaced. It was considered that $600 was sufficient under that heading for this year, no breakdowns being expected.

The "Mystery Account"

The miscellaneous account of $7,000 was referred to as the "mystery account" by Alderman Tuggey. "Is there anything in the mystery account for tearing down the brewery?" he asked. It was explained that this account took care of salaries of officials, operation of trucks, street flushing, seeding boulevards, stop signs, painting, fences, stables and unforeseen expenditures.

Alderman Macdonald—"What are we going to do at Riverside Park?"

Alderman Stocker—"Nothing."

Alderman Macdonald said that $1,000 could be spent to advantage in improving the park. "If we're going to give any work to the unemployed its in this department we'll have to do it and here's our chance" he said.

Alderman Sloan—"There's no $1 000 for Riverside Park."

Discussion on the park improvements then stopped.

Cut Oiling by $4,000

Chairman Hamilton explained that in the appropriation for oiling the streets was the only place where any radical reductions could really be made in the Board's estimates. Last year's appropriation of $10 000 for oiling was reduced to $6,000 without discussion on his recommendation.

Alderman Macdonald—"If they 'phone up for oil we'll have to tell them there is no oil."

Alderman McIntyre — "Money spent for oil is well spent.

Alderman McIntyre suggested that in order to make the $4,000 saving on oil only the most important streets could be oiled.

Then when the sewage disposal estimates were being considered, Alderman Tuggey made his motion reducing the salaries of J. Gates and T. Nolan by ten percent. "Because of the decrease in the cost of living' he said. "The dollar goes further now." He declared that he was prepared to move that the salaries of all civic employees be cut ten percent. Alderman Sloan seconded his motion making the ten percent cut in the two sewage disposal employees' salaries, dating from March 1.

Foreman's Salary Later

The $1,800 salary of John O. Fife, foreman of at the sewage plant, also came up for consideration, but it was explained that he was appointed by by-law and his salary was left to the consideration of the Finance Committee. A cut of $300 was suggested for him.

This concluded consideration of the Board of Works' estimates for the meeting, but they will be further revised att he Finance meeting.

PARKS TO COST CITY $1,000.00 LESS THIS YEAR

committee members were rather disappointed to find that they had reduced the estimates by a less amount than they had fondly considered they were succeeding in doing.

The Results

The results of their work shows as follows:

	1932 Appropriations.	1933 Appropriations.	Decrease.
Bathing beaches.	$400	$375	$ 25
Parks	3,490	2,575	915
Rinks	740	700	40
Tourist camp	270	250	20
Totals	$4,900	3,900	$1,000

For one thing, the committee eliminated the fire insurance on the grandstand in Riverside Park. As Mayor Denne commented, "Now the thing will be sure to burn down."

The committee also took the stand that there must be a great reduction in the amount set aside for the purchase of trees, shrubs and plants.

Alderman McIntyre: "We don't need any shrubs this year."

Alderman Tuggey: "You've got down $1,000 for trees, shrubs and plants. We can certainly cut out the trees."

"Just Cut Grass"

Alderman McIntyre: "For this year it should be almost enough to just cut the grass on the parks."

Chairman Stocker: "What, and leave the beds vacant?"

Alderman Sloan: "I think the appropriation can quite easily be cut in half.

Chairman Stocker went on to the next item of painting; the appropriation being $40. "What! Is that for painting those 'Keep Off the Grass' signs?" asked Alderman Tuggey. It was explained that the appropriation was for painting fences, benches and bandstands in the parks. The appropriation was reduced to $25.

The next item of $350 for the upkeep of the Parks Committee's truck was next considered. This appropriation was passed intact; it being thought just about sufficient to buy fuel and pay for repairs to the truck, which is kept busy every day.

80% Reduction

The committee moved on to the consideration of the appropriation of $600 for tools and sundries.

Chairman Stocker: "I think we can cut that to $300."

Alderman Sloan: "We can cut it to $150."

Chairman Stocker: "No, I don't think we can do it."

Mayor Denne: "Why, you've got all the tools you need. You have about $1,000 worth on hand.

Alderman Macdonald: "No new tools this year; just put in enough to make repairs."

Alderman Tuggey thought $200 would be enough, and Mayor Denne considered that amount reasonable.

Alderman Stocker: "Why, you'll make it unworkable."

However, the committee decided that $200 was sufficient.

Deal With Purchases

The committee then returned to consideration of the $1,000 appropriation for trees, plants and shrubs. Alderman McNabb considered that since the parks had on hand 14,000 bulbs, that these bulbs will have to do a second year.

It was decided that $500 would be plenty for the plants and shrubs, since it was understood that no trees should be purchased this year.

An appropriation of $2,000 was the next item considered.

Chairman Stocker: "If you cut that 60 per cent; we might as well quit and fold up."

Mayor Denne stated that last year a great deal of work was done in connection with the parks that will not be required this year.

Chairman Stocker: "Who is going to take the ball park over. It will be left to the parks committee. They'll want us to operate it."

Consider Labor

Alderman Macdonald declared that it would be run in the same manner as other years. "You'll only have to fix it up at the start of the summer and the ball club will carry on with it," he said.

Alderman Tuggey stated he was opposed to cutting the mens' salaries. But Mayor Denne said that the Parks Committee would have to adopt a similar policy as that planned for the Board of Works, use the labor of men securing relief. "These are extraordinary conditions and we must cut our cloth accordingly," he declared. "We can't pay $25 a week for men working on the parks. We don't want to have weeds and burdocks in the parks, but there has got to be a reduction in the cost of operating them."

Alderman Sloan suggested a reduction of $500 for the labor appropriation.

Chairman Stocker: "Well, if you want to take $500 off, just take it off."

An appropriation of $740 for sundries, which includes skating rinks, was reduced to $700.

The appropriation of $272 last year for the tourist camp was for the wages of the caretaker who received $18 a week for 14 weeks. It was reduced to $250, and Chairman Stocker said he intended cutting the salary to $15 per week.

The figures were then added up and several aldermen estimated that $1,600 had been reduced from the appropriations, which were fixed at $3,900.

$2,797 in 1925

Alderman Sloan commented that 1925 was a prosperous year, but in that year the Parks Committee's estimates were only $2,797. "The parks are really one place that we can really make a saving, because after all they are a luxury; just for show," he stated.

Other aldermen argued, however, that the parks had been vastly improved to the benefit of the city and must be maintained on a scale that would do the city credit.

Alderman Sloan moved that the estimates be reduced to $3,500, but Mayor Denne suggested that they be left at $3,900 until the final meeting of the Finance Committee, when they will be closely reconsidered. "But the $3,900 isn't final, we can reduce it more at that time."

By motion of Aldermen Holland and Cotton, it was decided to pass the estimates at $3,900 until the Finance Committee's meeting.

Record Flight

One of the most amazing flying feats in history was performed by two British army flying officers, Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Flight Lieutenant G. F. Nicholetts when they made a non-stop trip from England to South Africa travelling a distance of 5,070 miles. They landed at Walfish Bay, not far from Cape Town, their objective. They broke all records in their flight. The non-stop record was held previously by Americans, Boardman and Polando, who flew from New York to Istanbul.

COUNTY VAULT IS TOO SMALL

Cost $500 to Enlarge Vault County Engineer Estimates.

PLANS ARE READY.

Enlargement of the vault in the office of the county clerk and treasurer has long been a growing necessity. Year by year valuable county records and documents have piled up until present accommodation of the vault is entirely inadequate.

It is a condition that will probably be remedied in the near future, action having already been taken by Reeve C. S. Tanner, of Lakefield, chairman of the county property committee, who was given authority by the Council at the January sessions to get estimates on the cost of proposed alterations.

Taking advantage of the fact, that a majority of members of the County Council were in the city yesterday attending the inaugural sessions of the Old Age Pension Board and the County Roads Commission, Reeve Tanner broached the subject late yesterday afternoon. Armed with a sketch plan of the proposed alterations to the vault, prepared by County Engineer A. E. Chalmers, Reeve Tanner claimed that the work could be undertaken at an approximate cost of $500.

Enlargement of the vault, according to the plan submitted, would provide three times the existing vault space.

Unofficial sanction to the project was given by each of the ten members of the Council who were present, in addition to Reeve Tanner. Without exception, the members of the Council agreed that the work was necessary, and that the undertaking was a good piece of business.

GUY IS CLEARED FATAL SHOOTING

Jury Rejects State's Explanation of Capt. Wanderwell's Slaying.

REMAINS MYSTERY.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 17. —(A.P.)—The State's explanation of the sensational slaying of "Captain" Walter Wanderwell—a mystery with background and developments rivaling detective fiction—was rejected by a jury.

On the fuorth ballot, the jury late last night freed the 23-year-old Welshman, William James "Curly" Guy of the charge he slew the leader of an adventure-seeking band of eight young women and seven men the night of last Dec. 5.

The almost fantastic career of Wanderwell, 39 year old Polish-born soldier of fortune whose wdow is the former Glivis Hall, of Winnipeg and Victoria, B.C., was ended by a pistol bullet aboard his yacht "Carma," docked in the ocean harbor here.

In a few days, the Carma, a former rum-running craft bought at a customs auction, was to have put out for Hawaii, the South Seas and Oriental ports on a vagabond cruise for which the strangely assorted "crew" members were charged $190 each.

ART OF THE STORY TELLER MASEFIELD'S BEST ROLE

MONTREAL, Feb. 17 (C.P.)—"With a tale forsooth he cometh unto you, with a tale which holdeth children from play and old men from the chimney corner. . . ."

Thus came John Masefield last night. England's tall, spare, meditative looking poet laureate spoke to about 800 people of his own youth, his literary experiences, indulged "in in brief unfurling of the banner of hope, which is my credo," but especially told of and illustrated "the art of the story teller, which is the art I love most."

He told of his literary life: "I have practised three ways of writing. I have tried to write lyrics which are the instantaneous reaction to some overwhelming emotion. I have practised the art of story-teller which is the art I enjoy most. And I have tried playwriting, which is—well, a very different thing."

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Large export buying in Canada strengthened wheat prices yesterday, and was more than a counterbalance for unsettlement of securities.

Reports of approaching exhaustion of home-grown wheat supplies in Europe and the Orient were current. There were also advices that Argentina and Australia had both ceased to press wheat exports.

Wheat closed firm, ¼c to ⅜c above Wednesday's finish; corn unchanged to ¼c lower; oats, ⅜c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2c.

ONTARIO GRAIN

Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point: Wheat, 43c to 45c; oats, 23c to 24c; barley, 32c to 35c; corn, 33c to 35c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat, 28c to 29c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—A cent advance was recorded by butter prices on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday. Eggs declined a cent, while cheese and potatoes remained unchanged.

The strong statistical position of butter, with just enough stocks to last until 1933 production gets under way in the spring and assurances against importation of New Zealand butter combined to push prices higher. At the close of the market No. 1 grass make in carlots was quoted at 22¾c to 23c a pound. Receipts were only 13 boxes.

Mild weather and slackening of demand as the result of the recent rise in prices caused fresh eggs to lose 1c a dozen yesterday, the first reaction since the upturn three weeks ago. Fresh graded extras in car-lots or less were quoted at 25c to 26c, firsts at 23c to 24c, pullets at 21c to 22c, and seconds at 19c to 20c a dozen. Receipts were 935 cases.

Cheese held steady, Ontario colored being quoted at 10c to 10¼c and Ontario early make at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts were two boxes.

Potatoes were unchanged. New Brunswick Green Mountains being quoted at 80c per 80-pound bag, and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains at 90c per 90-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 17. — Slow for some time, demand for Canadian wheat has improved in the past few days. Heavy export sales were again made yesterday, sending the wheat prices on the Winnipeg grain market bounding upward. Trading buoyantly active throughout the session. Values closed ⅝c to ¾c higher.

The tendency of traders to take profits shaded fractions from the high spots, with May option finishing at 48½c July at 49¼c and October at 50⅝c.

Weakness in outside markets failed to shake futures prices here. A friendly feeling toward the market was prevalent and offerings generally were light.

Activity in the export field failed to inject enthusiasm into the cash garins, spreads again closing a dull session unchanged. Coarse grains trading also continued quiet.

$150,000 Model Car Tied Up In Dispute

WINDSOR, Ont., February 16 (C.P.). — An experimental model of a "radically new type" of automobile said to have cost $150,000, is held under court order here while the designer and his associates fight for its possession.

The order was obtained on behalf of Warren Noble and associates, incorporated (address not given) and the affidavit filed with the writ names H. A. Holden, vice-president and treasurer of the plaintiff corporation. The car is said to bear a Michigan registration license. Warren Noble, said to be the designer, is stated to be a lieutenant-commander at a United States naval base.

The auto is said to be "quite unorthodox," with front wheel drive radiator under the hood, and cooled by a fan.

The court hearing is set for February 22.

GABLE ABOUT REACH TOP OF LADDER

STARDOM AT LAST for Clark Gable! The tall young actor who created a vogue for "treat 'em rough" heroes, will reach the screen's highest goal in "The Harbor," his next picture but one at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

It will be as a young doctor in a hospital melodrama that Clark achieves the recognition he used to long for so eagerly in his days as a motion picture extra.

Experienced now and successful, he takes a soberer view of the promotion, but the studio thinks it has the right story to introduce him among the chosen few.

"The Harbor" is an unproduced play by Theodore Reeves. Mervyn Leroy is being borrowed from Warners to direct, and he expects to start the picture after Clark finishes "Soviet."

Meanwhile, the star-to-be is polishing up his guns for a hunting trip in Mexico. He'll leave as soon as "The White Sister" is given its final okay. In the more distant future, he'll journey to Europe to visit the Count and Countess Frasco.

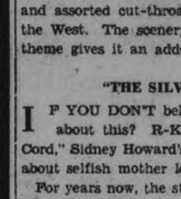
MARION DAVIES IN "PEG O' MY HEART"

EVERYBODY AT Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is welcoming Marion Davies back to the studio. The popular star will be starting very soon now on her new picture, "Peg O' My Heart." Onslow Stevens has been signed for the film, also J. Farrell MacDonald and Alan Mowbray.



Marion Davies

And just to show how motion pictures strive to be authentic these days, Director Robert Leonard has had the studio buy 100 pounds of Irish grass seed to be sown on the site of the Mayo County fishing hamlet that will be used as a background for the picture. The turf of the Emerald Isle is unique. Even the top-soil will have to be specially prepared.

HAYES AND COOPER STARRED IN HEMINGWAY NOVEL

FAREWELL TO ARMS," the screen feature to open the Capitol attractions next week is an emotion-stirring dramatic romance with story laid along the Italian battlefront during the World War. The plot is taken from Ernest Hemingway's best seller with Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper seen in the leading parts and Adolphe Menjou heading the supporting cast.

Based on extravagant incidents in the history of one of Broadway's gaudier press agents, "The Half Naked Truth" describes with bold frankness how stars are made and tells an uproarious story of show business, that most fantastic of all commercial pursuits. Gayly played by Lee Tracy and Lupe Velez, the principal characters are plausible and alive. George Raft and Nancy Carroll will star in "Under Cover Man" as feature No. 2 on same program.

Those entertaining comedians, Pitts and Summerville, describe in "They Just Had to Get Married" starting next Friday, the tribulations of sudden wealth and matrimony. The highly implausible story is merely an excuse for gags and situations from which the able comedians produce their laughs.

ON THE HOLLYWOOD SAND LOTS.

HENRY GARAT has been given the male lead in Fox's "Adorable"; Dave Karsner and Ernest Pascal have signed long term contracts with Warnes; Tom Reed has been assigned to write the screen play for "Suicide Club" for Universal; Richard Barthelmess will be starred in First National's "The Bread Line"; Howard Hughes is planning to make another sound picture of "The Racket"; Warren William, Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Ruby Keeyer, Guy Kibee, Aline McMahon, Ned Sparks and Allen Jenkins will have roles in First National's "High Life."

"AMERICAN MADNESS" IS SCREEN MASTERPIECE

AGAINST THE timely tapestry of adding machines, teller's cages and the intricate paraphernalia of a modern bank, a story will be unfolded at Regent theatre next week in "American Madness" which deals with one of the greatest human problems of today. With so superb an actor as Walter Huston in the feature role, supported by Pat O'Brien, Kay Johnson and Constance Cummings, its wide sweeping power makes it a screen masterpiece.

"Hello Trouble" starring Buck Jones starting Saturday of next week at the Regent Theatre tells usual story of rustlers, highwaymen, gamblers and assorted cut-throats, all of whom are finally routed by "Bucky" of the West. The scenery and riding are thrilling and the usual romantic theme gives it an added touch for adult interest.

"THE SILVER CORD" AT LAST TO BE FILMED

IF YOU DON'T believe the film companies are gaining courage, how about this? R-K-O is going to start Irene Dunne in "The Silver Cord," Sidney Howard's bitter but trenchant drama about selfish mother love.

For years now, the studios have dodged this play fearing to tread upon such delicate ground. Jane Murfin will do the treatment and John Cromwell will direct.

"The Silver Cord" is sure to create controversy. When it played on the stage here—Nance O'Neil was the jealous mother, Kay Johnson the clear-seeing daughter-in-law—a famous woman composer rushed backstage and demanded to know why the drama was allowed to be produced. Others were just as loud in its praise. In no case, was the play-goer indifferent.

Irene Dunne

Should they want her, R-K-O will find the actress who created the mother role ready at hand. For that Broadway performance, Laura Hope Crewes won universal acclaim.

BENNETT BACK ON THE LOT AGAIN

DOCTORS ARE SURPRISED and pleased over the recuperative powers of Richard Bennett. Having whipped two cases of bronchitis and two of pneumonia since October 30, Dick is pronounced able to take his original part in "The Song of Songs." He plays the old baron, who is Marlene Dietrich's first husband.

Warned to guard against more colds, Dick introduces a new studio garb—lumberman's cap, shirt, trousers and boots.

He says he feels as good as ever.

Obituary

JAMES DONALDSON

MILLBROOK, Feb. 16—The death of James Donaldson, in his eighty-first year, which occurred on Monday, February 13, following a three days' illness, removed one of the oldest citizens of the community his home for almost the past half century having been Millbrook.

Deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Donaldson, his mother's maiden name being Sarah Larmer, pioneer residents of Smith Township not far from Peterborough, who later moved to Plainville to reside.

Fifty-seven years ago last June Mr. Donaldson was united in marriage to Elizabeth Richardson, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson of Millbrook, and to their union four children were born, two sons dying in infancy, and two, Arthur and Hilliard, both of Toronto, surviving their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson made their first home at Bethany, but forty-eight years ago came to Millbrook to reside, his wife predeceasing him by five years. Employed in the pump factory of the late Walter Green, and taking over the business when the latter moved to Peterborough, deceased continued an active career along this line until within a comparatively recent time when advancing years and consequent failing strength compelled his retirement.

Formerly a Presbyterian, Mr. Donaldson, in the latter years of his life attended the United Church; in young manhood he was united with the Orange Order but in later life had given up his Lodge affiliations; in politics he was a Conservative.

Besides the sons already mentioned deceased is survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Alex Harkness, with whom he made his home here, and two other grandchildren in Toronto; three great grandchildren, one brother, William, of Winnipeg; and two sisters, Mrs. Larmer of Toronto, and Mrs. S. Sandy of Peterborough.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his late residence, Tupper street, on Wednesday at 2 p.m., the Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., having charge of the service; the pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. L. Byam, I. M. Nattress, W. J. E. Gillott of Peterborough, Alonza Larmer of Oshawa, H. A. Elson and T. G. Harkness. Interment was in Gardiner's cemetery, Millbrook.

A few of those from outside points who were here for the funeral were a brother-in-law, Isaac Richardson of Omemee; Alonza and Arnold Larmer of Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. McBride of Plainville and J. Donladson, Peterborough.

Woman Sleeps In Box Because Of No Bed

This is just a sample of the letters that come in almost daily, asking for some simple article of household furnishing or convenience that comes easily to those of moderate or well-to-do circumstances, but is almost impossible to get, owing to lack of funds, in homes where such things are badly needed:

"Would you be so kind as to see if you could get me a baby carriage to take my little baby out, as the doctor said that she has to go out every day and I haven't anything to take her out in, or put on the porch. The carriage I had is all gone to pieces; I had it for fourteen years so it doesn't owe me anything."

And then there is the young woman in another household who is at present sleeping in a big box, because they haven't enough beds to go round. A cot would do nicely for her. Clothes for an eight months' baby are also required in this home.

If anyone has a baby carriage or baby clothes or a cot, please telephone The Examiner and we will call

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of Itching, bleeding, or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the cause of Piles to be internal—congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby; the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1,000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay, McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS RHODES

Cocoa and Chocolate Manufacture Described at Luncheon.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE.

"Cocoa and Chocolate Manufacture" was the title of an interesting and informative address delivered to the Kiwanis Club today noon by A. B. Rhodes, accountant at the local plant of A. Wander Limited.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Shaw, manager of the Ovaltine plant, and at the close of his address was tendered a vote of thanks on motion of C. H. Saunders.

Mr. Rhodes commenced his address with a description of the origin of the cacao tree from which the cocoa beans are procured. The trees were discovered he stated, in the territory watered by the Amazon and Orinoco Rivers.

Columbus was the first European to introduce the cocoa bean into the old world, but long before that cocoa had been a favourite beverage of the Aztecs. In Mexico the cocoa bean had a high intrinsic value and was paid by the cities of Mexico as tribute to the lords of that country. It is even on record that the cocoa bean was used as currency in Mexico.

The use of cocoa as a beverage was first adopted in the French Court. The English at first had a contempt for cocoa, because of the fact that one of the Spanish galleons that had been captured was laden with cocoa beans. The beans were dumped overboard.

Early in the sixteenth century cocoa came into use as a beverage in England and was served in the coffee shops in London. Since that time the cocoa manufacturing business has grown. The manufacture of cocoa in England, the speaker declared is almost solely in the hands of Quakers, and at Fry's Bristol plant a prayer meeting used to be held every forenoon for the employees. The house of Fry, Mr. Rhodes stated, was built on altrustic principles.

With the growth in the use of cocoa, the cacao tree was transferred from South America to the West Indies and to the Gold Coast of West Africa. In 1891 the first export of eighty pounds of cocoa beans was made from the Gold Coast to Europe, as compared with the present enormous exports running into millions of pounds a year.

Mr. Rhodes provided a lucid description of the method used in gathering the fruit from the cacao tree, and the subsequent processes through which the bean has to go before emerging as the finished product.

He showed that the only real difference between cocoa and chocolate was in the cocoa fat content. In the manufacture of cocoa, a large percentage of the cocoa fat was extracted and in the making of chocolate fat was added.

The program—a most enjoyable one, was enlivened by the antics of Charles Shaw, and by the mystic demonstrations of All Sharpe and Harry J. Boyle.

ROBIN IS SEEN AT LIFT LOCKS.

At least one robin appears to be wintering in Peterborough. The red-breasted bird was observed on the lawn about the Lift Locks yesterday afternoon by employees of the Lift Locks. It looked fat and sleek, apparently having had little difficulty in finding enough sustenance.

POLICE WEIGH BREAD.

Police yesterday afternoon visited all bake shops in the city and systematically weighed samples of bread in the shops. All the bread in all the shops, except one was found to be the proper weight. In the case of the single exception some loaves were under weight, but the number did not form a sufficiently high percentage of the total loaves on hand to warrant any police court proceedings. Chief Newham said he was quite satisfied that local bakers were doing the best to give true and proper weight in every loaf.

"Mr. and Mrs. George H. Adam celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently at their home, 91 William street south.

"Mr. Adam and Mrs. Adam, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Wilson, were married in Port Hope in 1883 by Rev. Dr. O'Meara, of St. John's Church of England. Both of them were born in Port Hope in 1862. They came to Lindsay in 1885 and have lived here practically continuously ever since. Railroading, up until the time of his retirement on pension five years ago, have been Mr. Adam's occupation, and he is one of the best known trainmen in the division. In religion, the couple are Baptist. Mr. Adam is a member of Caledonian 294, A.F. A.M., Midland, and a veteran member of the Lindsay Lodge No. 100, I.O.O.F.

"The occasion was celebrated very quietly, on account of Mr. Adam's recent severe illness. The members of the family, who were all present, presented the couple with a well-filled purse, and they also received many felicitation from various friends on having reached the half century mark of happy wedded life. THE NEXT EQUIVALENT to a sense of actual leisure is the feeling of repose that comes from a well-ordered routine.

* * * * * * *

At least to have the mind at rest while the body is physically active as one washes, sews, cooks, or sweeps, is quite satisfactory as to have the mind harassed as one relaxes the body physically.

* * * * * * *

The terms "supervised play" has been much heard in connection with school successes. The homemaker should, to some extent, see herself that her play is "supervised"; that is, that a constructive effort is made to prescribe certain intervals, if they be no longer than for the space of five minutes at a time, to seek to fill that time with some restful occupation so different and engaging as to absorb the mind and give that feeling of change in returning to the task in hand.

* * * * * * *

It is not "lazy" to withdraw from the scene of action briefly, even if the moment anticpated finds matters at sixes and sevens in the kitchen or elsewhere.

* * * * * * *

The feeling that you "just can't stop" is one of the surest signs that you are overdoing. What is there more important to stop for than one's own good health and mental balance necessary to remaining master of the situation.

* * * * * * *

A business concern often realizes that when one of its employees feels that the organization cannot possibly carry on without his or her efforts, the time has come for the two to part company.

* * * * * * *

This lends perspective to the situation, even if that employee is later re-engaged.

* * * * * * *

So in the household. If there is one task that seems to have taken the attitude of that special employee, and become too insistent upon occupying the "centre of the stage," it may be well to dismiss it —at least from the mind for a little while.

* * * * * * *

And how often it happens, when one assumes this more lenient attitude towards oneself and one's work, that an impulse comes to do the dreaded task, and at such a time and in such a way as to relieve it of its reproach.

* * * * * * *

In the intervals of pause which the housewife creates for herself, there is really no time lost, and much in mental calm and efficiency may be acquired.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

As I told you in my last column, there are three different methods of administering an egg mask to the face. The first and simplest method, in which the egg yolk alone is employed. I have already described to you. And so today, I shall outline the two remainng processes.

When the egg white only is utilized for giving the face an egg mask treatment ,the skin should first be thoroughly cleansed with tepid water and soap, and then with a good cleansing cream. In this case, too, if the skin is very dry or sensitive, a very thin film of cream may be permitted to remain on the skin under the mask. After cleansing and lubricating the skin, the egg white should be beaten until it is stiff. Then it should be smoothed over the entire face and neck, and permitted to dry. When the egg white is thoroughly dry, it should be removed with tepid water and a soft cloth. And as the final step, a good astringent or skin tonic should be applied to close the pores.

The third method of administering an egg facial requires the use of both the yolk and the white of the egg. This method is a bit more complicated and requires more time than the other two processes. But it is well worth the extra time, because of the increased benefits that the skin derives from it.

When employing this mask, of course, you should first cleanse and lubricate your skin in the usual manner. Then take the white of an egg, beat it stiff, and apply it thickly to your face and neck with a small brush. When the first application has dried thoroughly, go over it a second time with the brush, so that the egg white is all used up. Then, after this second application is entirely dry, paint on the beaten yolk of the egg, and permit this also to dry.

Try to lie down and relax while this mask is hardening, if you possibly can. And allow it to remain on your face for a least an hour, in order to insure perfect drying. When thoroughly dry, remove the mask with warm water and a soft cloth. And as the final step, apply a bit of nourishing or cold cream in order to counteract any drying effects of the pack.

Co-eds Wear 'Em

Miss Marvel Middleton

By LILIAN CAMPBELL

The bogeyman of the gay nineties, when women donned bloomers and divided skirts to ride their "bikes" has again raised its head and threatens to haunt men indefinitely with visions of the females of the species wearing the pants. He's bigger and better able to scare folks now. For the gals are going in not only for pajamas, but 'slacks' wide trousers, are being worn on the campus, and even on the streets.

Pictured is Miss Marvel Middleton, of Ogden, Utah, coe-ed of the University of Utah, at Salt Lake City, a leader in the on-with-the-trouser movement.

These trousers come with belt attached and button down the side, with sweaters to match the stripes on the trousers.

Next thing the gals will be appearing at formal college dances in tuxedos, which are being worn by some movie picture stars.

The Salada man may call on you. If he does--show him a pound or a half pound packet of SALADA tea and receive a dollar.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

Queen Alexandra Home and School Association staged two successful and novel events recently. Last Friday evening a skating party for the pupils was attended by over 200, and with keen ice and a plentiful supply of hot dogs served by the members of the association, proved most enjoyable.

Parents and ex-pupils were invited to an old-fashioned skating party on Wednesday evening of this week, and over one hundred responded. A carpet bowling competition was arranged for the non-skaters. Refreshments were served a cafeteria style. All joined heartily in the community singing, with Jack Telford presiding at the piano.

An enjoyable feature of the evening was a group of singing games, most ably conducted by J. C. McClenaghan of the Y.M.C.A., assisted at the piano by J. Marshall. These were participated in by every one and a jolly evening came to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Actress Gives Up Her Trouser Fad

HOLLYWOOD, Calif, Feb. 17 (A.P.)—The men's pants for women question has bobbed up here again —from new quarters and on the negative side.

Just before she left for a visit in New York, Katharine Hepburn—a pioneer with Marlene Dietrich in the pants mode—said she is giving up her trousers because she started wearing them merely for comfort and there has been too much talk and publicity about it.

Jack L. Warner, vice-president of Warner Brothers-First National Studio, ordered actresses working for him not to appear either in pictures or in public in mannish attire. He described such dress as "a freakish fad which will pass even more quickly than it started," and said "We have learned that the public generally is emphatic in its disapproval."

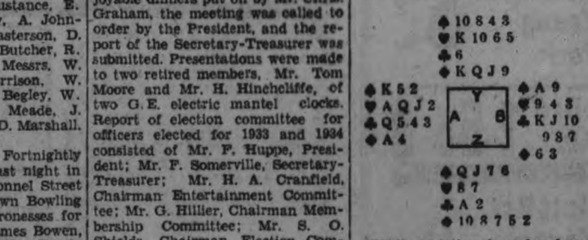
THE PLAIN-SUIT ECHO.

The plain-suit echo is used at no trumps to show partner four or more cards of his suit and to avoid blocking the free run of the suit. Unless forced to play the highest card of four or more to the first lead, play your second highest; the next time play your next lowest card of partner's suit, and so on until you hold only your original highest and lowest cards of that suit. If you hold more of the suit than partner you must win the fourth trick in order to continue leads for extra tricks. If you and your partner hold equal numbers of the suit, win the last trick if you have a good suit to lead; let partner win the last trick if you wish partner to lead through strength in dummy or if you think partner may have a better second suit to lead than any held by you.



Bidding of the above hand went: A, 1-Heart; B, 2-Clubs; A, 2-No Trumps; B, 3-Clubs; A, 3-No Trumps, ending the auction.

The opening lead was the K of diamonds. Y played his cards properly, by dropping his second highest card of that suit—the 8—under his partner's K, that held the trick. The Q of diamonds was led, and Z's 7 went on that. The Ace won the trick. The declarer led the Q of clubs. There was no use waiting for the second round of the suit, and Z's Ace won the trick. He led back his 5 of diamonds. Had his partner been dreaming he might have won the trick with his 9, effectually blocking the run of diamonds, and losing game, as five club tricks, one diamond trick, one heart trick and two spade tricks would have given the declaring side nine tricks and fulfillment of the contract.

Y, however, was wide awake. He won the third lead of diamonds with his J, and led back his 9. The 10 overtook the 2 of that suit gave the defenders just the five tricks required to defeat the contract by one trick. Having won the one setting trick, Z led the 7 of hearts,

PUBLIC HEALTH CHILD WELFARE ARE DISCUSSED

Local Council of Women Holds Short Session in Y.W.C.A.

DANGERS OF ADOLESCENCE

The Local Council of Women probably established a record for brevity in its regular meeting, held yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., by taking only forty-five minutes to transact its business for the month. There was a large attendance.

After routine matters were attended to, the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. B. W. Harvey, newly-elected president, heard five minute talks by several convenors of committees. Brevity and interest characterized these little thumbnail sketches of matters which have a wide local range.

Mrs. T. W. H. Young spoke on Public Health matters, especially in regard to children, stressing the importance of plenty of fresh air and sunshine, and proper diet and exercise, as essentials of right living.

Ignorance, rather than intention, declared the speaker, is at the root of many of the infractions of laws of health. The listeners were warned against taking advice from those who do not really understand what they are talking about.

Reference was made to the low total of communicable diseases registered in Peterborough last year, as compared with other centres, such as London, Ont., where over 600 cases were recorded.

Mrs. R. Parnell spoke about matters pertaining to Child Welfare, especially with regard to relief work done among children by the Home and School Associations. Used clothing was gathered in, to be utilized for the children, the major spending being done in new shoes and rubbers.

Referring to the lack of calls this year for milk for the pupils, whereas in previous years of plenty constant calls were made for milk for undernourished children, Mrs. Parnell said she had been informed by a school nurse that there were few cases of undernourishment among the pupils now. She thought this was due to the fact that many people on relief received milk as part of their supply, and the children did not lack for this necessity now, whereas in good times money in the home was spent for gasoline for a car or in theatre tickets, rather than in providing milk for the children.

Dangers of Adolescence.

Mrs. Parnell, in speaking of a case of a young girl whose record and habits have caused her expulsion from her own home, and inability to find a refuge elsewhere, except in questionable surroundings, advocated the institution of some type of corrective home for such girls, such as is done with young boys. She also spoke of the girls of youthful years, students in the fourth forms, many of them, who have become so used to smoking cigarettes that many of them claim they cannot now do without their "smokes."

Mrs. G. Helson spoke of Housing and Town Planning as almost prohibitive at present where so many landlords are unable to collect rents and are consequently unwilling or unable to do much in the way of improvements. She said in the majority of the poorer homes oil lamps were now being used instead of electricity.

Mrs. J. Mills told the ladies something about the work commenced recently by the ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, which is receiving bundles of old clothing and converting them into quilts and also into garments of many useful types. They are making much-needed pants for boys and skirts for the girls. Gifts of sweaters at Christmas time are being used satisfactorily, but there are no warm skirts to go with them, many of the girls wearing thin summer skirts with the warm sweaters.

An interesting report of the year's work done by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion, was given by Mrs. M. Budd.

A German physicist has announced that element 62, a rare earth known as samarium, is radioactive.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

When the modern era of chemistry began, scientists thought that they could find out something about the process of thought by studying the chemistry of the brain.

Among the first things that they found was that the brain yielded a large amount of phosphoric acid, and proportionately to most other organs phosphorus is very abundant in brain tissue. This led the famous chemist, Leibig, to state, "There can be no thinking without phosphorus."

Among the foods which yield phosphorus, besides the yolk of egg, the flesh of fish has been popularized in the public mind as the proper food for brain workers. Unfortunately, as everybody knows, the beautiful theory which is based on these findings does not work out, and it does not mean that a person who consumes a great deal of fish and eggs is necessarily more intellectual than his fellows.

Recent researches have shown, as was stated in this column some time ago, that it is probable that the brain uses sugar for energy.

A large divergence of opinion, however, has accumulated as to what is the best food on which to do brain work. Herbert Spencer said, "I tried vegetarianism for three months and found I was obliged to destroy everything I wrote during that period because of a lack of meat." George Bernard Shaw, on the other hand, always has been a vegetarian.

Arnold Bennett wrote during the war: "Brain workers expected no favors from Lord Rhondda; but they did not expect to be insulted. Says Lord Rhondda: 'Scientific opinion is unanimous to the effect that a man does not need any more food because he works with his brain than he would need if he were not working.' I should like Lord Rhondda to produce his authorities. I have little scientific knowledge of the mysteries of the human organism in being, but I have a very considerable empric knowledge of the functioning of my own body. I assert that I can sit down fresh to my particular sort of brain work, and at the end of three hours' concentration upon it, I can be so utterly exhausted that further efficient work is impossible till the next day. I am prepared to believe that the exhaustion has a toxic origin, and that physical exercise will appreciably mitigate it: * * * My experience is that I need more food for a day's brain work than for a day of activity in the open air."

In spite of Arnold Bennett's opinion, so careful a worker as Benedict finds that the body uses up no more energy during active mental exercise than sitting still and breathing would consume. According to Dr. Louis Berman's experience as expressed in his recent book, "Food and Character," the amount of energy used in a day's mental work is furnished by half a peanut.

Three More Convicts Sent Up For Trial

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 17 (C.P.)—Three more convicts of Portsmouth Penitentiary, making 18 in all who have been sent up for trial, were committed by Magistrate J. M. Farrell in County Police Court today. All are charged in connection with the Penitentiary riots of last October.

Further hearings were adjourned to-day until Monday.

Prominent in the trio facing trial to-day was Albert Dorland, 28, whose claim of being "framed" by Toronto Police brought police commissioners from that city two weeks ago to interview him. Dorland is serving a five-year term for possession of firearms.

Murray Kirkland, who figured in a sensational bank robbery in North Toronto three years ago when $10,000 was dropped by the bandits and recovered by a child, was the second committed.

The third was Robert Spinks, sentenced in Sarnia in 1927 to a 20-year term for a serious offence.

HASTINGS, Feb. 17. — The A.Y.P.A. of St. George's church held a most enjoyable box social on Monday evening Feb. 13th.

Eddie Radford was judged the best artist for drawing a heart, while blindfolded. Miss Plant and Charles Jeffries won a valentine word hunt by making 57 words from "Valentine," in 15 minutes. Eddie Radford also won the "Keep from Laughing, Smith and Brown" contest, although Arthur Turner was a good second. Miss M. Battersby reviewed "Valentine Customs through the Ages." Rev. H. F. Battersby was chief post master for a Valentine post office, with Gerald Calberry and Helen Jefferies as clerks. H. Tyrrell as auctioneer soon disposed of the boxes and the buyers and their ladies disposed of the contents.

Riddles and stories kept all interested during the supper.

Arrangements Made For Omemee Course

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, February 17. — Mrs. Rea was hostess for the February meeting of the Women's Institute, held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15th.

Arrangements were made with regard to the two weeks' course in dietitics, which will take place next month.

After much discussion the ladies decided to hold a euchre party and hot pancake supper on Tuesday, February 28th.

Miss Jean Parsons contributed a vocal solo which was heartily applauded, and Miss Frances MacPherson gave several instrumental selections which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Following community singing, a social hour was spent when refreshments were served by the hostess.

W. Curtis, principal of the Public school, entertained his pupils who passed their entrance last year to a chicken supper on Tuesday evening. After supper the guests were taken to the skating rink where they joined the other pupils of the teacher's room, and a very pleasant skating party was held until ten o'clock, at which time lunch was served.

A very successful Valentine Tea was held by the ladies of Trinity United Church in the church basement on Tuesday evening, February 14th.

Following supper games and contests were indulged in under the supervision of Mrs. Moncrief and Mrs. Reddick.

"Dogs of war" were no mere figures of speech in ancient time, for the Asyrians and other nations used dogs in the fighting, and often dog fought against dog when armies met.

THAT "LIKE THE DICKENS" FEELING IS LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile. Feel Fit. You Needn't use Calomel To Do It.

It's your liver, failing to pour out the vital two pounds of bile, daily, into your bowels, that makes you feel so off-colour.

Lack of bile means poor digestion. Food stays too long in your bowels and decays. Your system is poisoned. You go through the misery of gas, bloating, pain, heartburn. You have a dark brown abominable taste in your mouth and bad breath. Your skin's unhealthy and often your head aches. Your whole system seems out of kilter.

How can you reasonably expect to clear up a condition like this by merely taking salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage? These only move the bowels, and that's not enough. You must wake up your liver bile.

Avoid calomel (mercury). Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. They're purely vegetable, gentle, sure and safe. They'll make you feel a hundred per cent better in a very short time.

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name—and get them! Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25c. at all druggists. 49

Leafs Defeat Rangers 5-2 to Hold Edge on Series

HARVEY JACKSON SCORES THREE TIMES IN SMYTH EMEN VICTORY; CANADIENS BLANK OTTAWA 6-0

Morenz Leads Canucks Back to Old Time Form in Capital City Win.

HAWKS BEAT BRUINS 2-1.

Wings and Maroons Battle to 2-2 Overtime Tie at Border City.

TORONTO, Feb. '17 (C.P.)—There was reason to believe to-day that Leo Dandurand, the veteran whose player speculations have brought him world championships, had completed the psychological finesse of the National League season.

A Canadien team that played so futilely just two weeks ago that most of Montreal's French faithful joined Magnate Dandurand in expressions of disgust put on its second straight high-scoring spree last night at Ottawa, and blanked the Senators, 6-0. Two nights before, they dropped a 6-2 barrage on the heads of Detroit Red Wings.

A few changes and forcible ejection threats, including sale by auction of more than one star, lifted Canadiens to peak form in jig-time. To-day the play-off section of the Canadian group is not far off.

The Flying Frenchmen stole the four-ring ice show last night despite a sensational triumph at New York by Toronto Maple Leafs, and Montreal Maroons' brilliant battle at Detroit where they held the Red Wings to a 2-2 overtime tie. The Leafs swamped Rangers 5-2.

Young Bill Beveridge was besieged by a Canadien attack that never let up. Howie Morenz led it, turning loose with all his speed, and little Aurel Joliat provided the fine touches, scoring three goals. Art Giroux scored two and Gerald Carson the other. Morenz contributed his 18th assist of the season to one of the Joliat tallies. The win landed Canadiens in fourth place, only a game back of New York Americans.

Win on Series

Toronto won the season's series from Rangers, six to four, by outshooting the Blueshirts. The Stanley Cuppers outplayed Lester Patrick's team all along the line, but they held the greatest margin on the firing line.

Harvey Jackson, the league's leading scorer last year, laced three shots past Andy Aitkenhead and came within edge of the best 1933 sharpshooters. Jackson's point-total mounted to 27. Bill Cook of Rangers added one assist to bring his—and the league's highest—total to 33.

Charlie Conacher and Happy Day also scored for Toronto, and Cecil Dillon and Ossie Osmundson for Rangers.

Wings Take Lead

The Ranger defeat cost the New Yorkers a share in the United States section leadership, Detroit pulling ahead with the point they earned against Maroons. Johnny Sorrell gave the Wings an even break with the Redmen by scoring the tying goal less than two minutes from the end of the second period. Dave Trottier had just finished putting Maroons ahead.

Each team scored in the first period; Doug Young for Detroit and Lionel Conacher on a long shot for Montreal.

Defenceman Art Coulter added to his pinch-hitting record at Chicago with a third-period goal that gave the Hawks a 2-1 win over Boston Bruins. The young Winnipeg husky barged through the rugged Shore-Hitchman defence all alone to rap in the winning tally.

Don McFayden had scored for Hawks in the second period, and Marty Barry—as usual on Eddie Shore's pass—for Bruins. It was Shore's 19th assist.

BISONS INCREASE KING LEAGUE LEAD

Windsor Blondes, Blinco and Fields, Spoil Shutout for Bus Taugher.

TORONTO, Feb. 17. — (CP) — Coach Frank Nighbor experienced no-end of trouble piloting his Buffalo Bisons into first position in the Internation Hockey League. On their form during the past six weeks, however, it should require little effort to keep them there.

The "Thundering Herd" were in a lethargic mood for the first two months of the campaign and appeared destined for nowhere. Since they shook this at the beginning of the year they have shown a decided reversal of form. In their last 16 starts—three of which were no decisions—they have suffered only two reverses.

Keeping their home record of wins intact, Bisons outed Windsor Bulldogs last night, 6-1, and increased their advantage to four points over the second-place Syracuse Stars.

The winners had garnered their half-dozen goals and Bus Taugher was pointed for a shut-out, when the Windsor blondes, Russel Blinco and Whitey Fields got together, Blinco scoring with about two minutes of play remaining.

Lloyd Gross continued his consistent sniping, notching two, Sammy Godin doing likewise. Roter Roth and Marty Lauder completed the tallying.

Harry Scott, formerly of Montreal Canadiens, scored twice for the Whites and counted an assist. Eddie King, Calgary amateur, who once bid for a place on the Ottawa Senators, counted for the Reds.

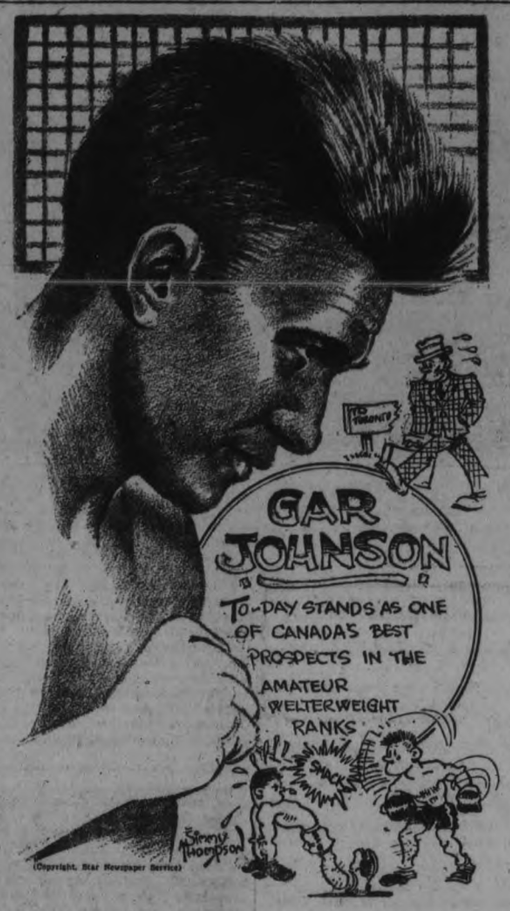
R. Best Rink Wins Morrow Curling Trophy



LOCAL CURLERS TAKE TWO CUPS IN ICE 'SPIEL

Best Rink Scores Decided 6-1 Victory Over A. W. Archibald in Final.

NOT UNPRECEDENTED.

Judge L. V. O'Connor and Dr. J. N. Harvie Also Won Double Victories.

Ray P. Best's curling quartette emerged from the two-day open bonspiel late last night, proud possessors of both the Matthews - Blackwell and Morrow Trophies.

On the first day of the bonspiel Best defeated R. H. Edmund's skilled foursome of Millbrook in the play-off round to win the Matthews-Blackwell Cup; and last night after another gruelling day on the ice he won a decided victory over the A. W. Archibald quartette, capturing the unique and well-earned distinction of carrying off both trophies and the individual prizes accompanying the cups.

Although a remarkable curling feat, Best's double win in this event is not unprecedented. Twice previously both trophies have been won by the same rinks since they were put up for annual competition in 1919. Other holders of the dual distinction being Judge L. V. O'Connor when with Lindsay Curling Club; and Dr. J. N. Harvie of Orillia, this year's holder of the O.C.A. Silver Tankard.

Both the victorious rink and the runners-up in the Morrow Trophy contest featured a father and son combination, Skip Ray Best having his son Don playing lead, and Skip A. W. Archibald having his son W. Archibald in a shimilar position on his rink.

Personnel of the rinks in the play-off round for the Morrow Cup was:

Peterborough	Peterborough
Don Best	W. Archibald
H. C. Giroux	Rev. D. Wren
G. F. Cairns	J. W. Richmond
R. P. Best	A. W. Archibald
Skip 6	Skip 1

Prizes for best events of the two-day 'spiel were presented at the close of play last night by President Dr. N. H. Sutton, who was himself a Morrow Cup contestant, and who accidentally won two of his three games and drew the third.

The members of Best's rink as winners of the Matthews-Blackwell trophy each got auto rugs; and as victors in the Morrow Cup event were awarded an Ayres blanket each.

R. H. Edmund's quartette, runners-up in the Matthews-Blackwell competition received silver water pitchers; and Archibald's aggregate won a silver entree' dish apiece.

Eighteen rinks participated in the Morrow Cup games yesterday, including twelve Peterborough rinks, and representative rinks from Millbrook, Norwood, Keene, Lakefield, and Cobourg.

Working on a new scoring system, which assured three games each for every rink entered, and which proved to be eminently satisfactory to everyone concerned according to Jack Mayneord, the rinks that went into the finals were those with three scores to their credit.

The first round of the contest was concluded at noon yesterday. Results of games played in second and third rounds, were as follows:

Smelters Win From Marmora Team 4-1

MARMORA, Feb. 17 (Examiner Correspondence).—Playing in a snowstorm, a game divided into four periods instead of three, thus permitting more frequent clearance of snow, Madoc accounted for Marmora on the latter's rink on Thursday evening by the score of 4-1.

In the first period Akey opened the scoring on an assist by Henderson. McWilliams equalized shortly afterwards, scoring on a lone rush. Watson placed his side further ahead before the period closed with a good shot from the blue line.

The second period was scoreless. In the third, Weir put the finishing touches to a good individual rush by netting, and half-way through the last period, Blue and Weir ended good combination with the former scoring. Teams:

Madoc.—Goal, C. Nickle; defence, L. Blue, T. Rupert; centre, J. Henderson; wings, S. R. Weir, T. Akey; subs., J. Watson, E. Alexander, K. West, P. Embury.

AT THE REGENT

"AMERICAN MADNESS"

Appearing at the Regent Theatre next week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 22nd to 24th, inclusive, will be the big feature picture entitled "American Madness." This is sponsored by The Examiner, whose relief fund will profit by the box office receipts for the three days.

A special added attraction will be the playing of Mose Yokom's ten-piece orchestra.

Considered tremendous in scope and of sweeping power, "American Madness" is a film that strikes at the vitals of present-day America.

Robert Riskin, the author of the original story, is considered to have done a superb job of weaving against the complicated background of a great bank, the poignant story of a man who forestalls the ruin of his bank and of his home, by his definite, courageous vision. The picture was directed by Frank Capra, known to the movie world for his success in directing such popular films as "Dirigible," "Flight," "Submarine," "Ladies of Leisure," "Forbidden" and "Rain or Shine." The entire picture reflects the movement and power that always stamp a Capra picture.

The personnel of the cast includes Walter Huston, Pat O'Brien, Kay Johnson, Constance Cummings and Gavin Gordon.

The flour in the wedding cake of gypsies is mixed with blood taken from the wrists of the bride and groom.

The symbol for Pluto is PL, the first two letters of its name, and also the initials of Percival Lowell, who predicted its existence.

Family Act

The flowing grace of action that makes championship timber in the skating world is here displayed by Mrs. Constance Wilson Samuels and her brother, Bud Wilson, Canadians, as they practice at a New York rink for participation in the American figure skating championships. Some of the most famous skaters of the United States and Canadian will compete for title honors, which seems a cinch for the Canadians, Mrs. Samuels and Miss Eustace Cecil Smith (Mrs. E. Gooderham) of Canada being the outstanding stars.

MAGNATES FACE HEAVY PROBLEM IN SALARY CUTS

Ruth, Gehrig, Dickey, Lucas, Lombardi, Wilson and Stripp Among Unsigned.

AMERICAN LOOP HIT HARD.

(By Herbert W. Barker, A.P. Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (A.P.) — Spring and the training camps are just around the corner, but for some major league clubs the hold-out situation remains a serious problem yet to be solved.

The magnates, when they adopted a general policy of retrenchment and cut deeply into salaries, were prepared for a somewhat larger quota of indignant protests from star performers than customary, but probably not even they expected so heavy a list of dissatisfied players.

Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey, Red Lucas, Ernie Lombardi, Hack Wilson, Joe Stripp, Wes Ferrell, Willie Kamm, Willis Hudlin, Frank Frisch and Heinie Manush are just a few of the headliners who have balked at terms.

Complete Signed Roster

There are striking exceptions of course. The Pittsburgh Pirates who surprised the National League by finishing second last season with inexperienced men at both short-stop and second base, have signed every player on the 1933 roster and are busily engaged preparing for the training season and perhaps a pennant.

The Boston Red Sox likewise have all their men under contract, and the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs each have only one player outside the fold. The Giants have yet to snare Outfielder Len Koenecke and the Cubs are still awaiting Outfielder Vince Barton's contract.

The Washington Senators have only four unsigned players—Manush, Moe Berg, Bob Burke and Bob Friedrich.

The outlook for the others, however, is not so rosy.

TIGER COACH FORMER N. Y. AMERKS STAR

Shorty Green Played With Sudbury Wolves When Whole Team Turned Pro.

BORN IN SUDBURY.

SUDBURY, Ont., February 17 (C.P.) — Dynamic son of the north country, Shorty Green, coach of Hamilton's Senior O.H.A. team, has sacrificed part of a nose and all of a kidney for the cause of hockey. Five years ago when Green was on the line-up of New York Americans the doctor told him after removing the kidney, "Listen, son, no more hockey for you."

But Shorty will always be identified with hockey, it seems. Last year coach of Tulsa Oilers in the American Association, he found his team's ranks riddled with injuries, so at the age of 35 he donned the blades, took out the old war club, and made them all step.

Played Hockey at 16.

Son of a pioneer prospector during the Cobalt silver rush, Shorty was baptized Wilfred Thomas. At 16 he was so much a hockey player they took him out of High School to play on the old Sudbury intermediates. The following season he was regular centre when Sudbury opposed Cobalt for the Gordon Cup.

Shorty scored four goals, and when attempting to tally a fifth the Cobalt goalie stepped out of his net and slugged the 17-year-old Sudbury upstart across the face with his stick. Shorty's nose has never been the same since that blow.

In Two Allan Cup Finals.

Green played in two Allan Cup finals, first with the 227th Battalion team in 1916 before he went overseas with the Canadian troops and after the war with Hamilton Tigers. The Army team lost to Toronto Dentals, but Tigers won. For three seasons Green played with Sudbury's Wolves, when the Wolves were one of hockey's famous outfits were one of hockey's most famous outfits.

So good were the Wolves that Percy Thompson took the team almost intact and put it into the National League as Hamilton's entry. Subsequently the franchise was transferred to New York and Shorty played in an American uniform two seasons before the kidney injury ended his playing career. Later he coached the Amerks and piloted the Duluth Hornets of the American Association for two years.

Back in Hamilton this winter Green has hopes his Tigers may win the Allan Cup.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

The old barbecue cry goes tonight: "Take it while it's hot, folks!" We mean that dish of junior hockey at the Brock at half past eight. It's Queen's of Kingston versus the Petes in the latter's home game of the O.H.A. first round playdowns. Fresh from a fine win over the husky Bowmanville boys, the young Petes feel they can win tonight's tussle and carry a lead down to the limestone city Monday. Don't miss it, fans, as it's sure to be the berries.

* * * * * * *

Bill Calladine and George Jay have completely recovered and will be at their best against the speedy students. McGregor will again round out the first line, while the "pepper" line seems to have hit its stride properly now, and boy oh boy, what a stride that is! The locals' defence will be coached to cover all incoming fowards and not bunch up on one, leaving a potential receiver to coast in alone. The goalie, Sanderson, doesn't need any coaching the way he has been stone-walling it lately.

* * * * * * *

We haven't been able to dig up anything to speak of in regard to the Queens juniors. They've played some good hockey according to reports, and have artificial ice in Kingston, so should be fast. And all college athletes are kept in fine physical condition, so they should extend the locals to the limit. Our guess is that we'll pull out a close win here, and then have a battle to hold it down in the town where they make little ones out of big ones. Get around early if you're shopping for a rush seat at the Brock tonight, as there'll be another big crowd out for this promising playdown game.

* * * * * * *

The Petes' intermediates play Belleville Monday night. The locals cleaned up nicely on their group and then broke the hearts of Madoc followers, but Monday night's fracas will be something else again. From what we've heard, the '33 edition of the Quinte team is not only a smart one but contains a bunch of boys who like to mix it. But, then, the Petes don't go in for parlor-gaming it, either.

Up around Omemee way quite a bit of hockey is being pulled off this week, and good hockey at that. The Omemee team has been entered in three tournaments, the Hughes' cup, the Bobcaygeon tourney and the Hogg and Lytle Trophy. Monday, they pressed out a 1-0 win over Kirkfield in the first round of the Hogg and Lytle affair. Tuesday e'en at Bobcaygeon, the Fenelon Falls junior O.H.A. squad blanked the O's by 3 to 0 in a lively song-and-dance. Then in the first round of the Hughes' tourney at Oakwood Wednesday, Omemee trounced the Lindsay Pirates, making the bucaneers from Scugogville walk the plank to the tune of 5 to 1. Heavy hockey, that Recent disputes over protested goals show how bad this home-umpire thing is. The goal-umpire of one team won't lift his mitt when the other side scores until he absolutely has to, and sometimes the other team is cheated by the puck bouncing out fast. On the other hand, every time his home-town outfit comes close to scoring, up goes the duke like one of these moon-rockets. It's tough on everybody, and the harassed referee of play can't always be in position to judge just whether the goal should be allowed or not. Obviously, goal-umpires can't be imported for every game, so what?

* * * * * * *

We'd suggest having each team start with a goal-umpire from the same team's town back of its net. In to-night's game for instance, we'd say put a Kingston man behind the Queen's goal, and a local umpire back of the Petes' cage. And keep them this way in all three periods. It's a cinch they won't be jerking their hands up in the air every time the goalie clears a fast one. It's not perfect by any means but it's the lesser of the two evils. And more arguments are caused by a guy trying to "steal" a goal than one who just won't put up his hand till everyone in the place is sure the rubber is in. It should be tried one game, anyhow.

* * * * * * *

A couple of good Church League cage games will be run off at the "Y" tomorrow evening. At six, it's the juvenile final affair between George Street A and Trinity, while at seven it's Murray Street juniors against Mark Street in a sudden-death game for second half honors. If Murray wins, no play-off will be necessary. A bunch of good gals' basketball games are listed tonight at the Y. W., with those interested invited to drop in and see them. And two City League fixtures will be played up at the "Y" this p.m.

* * * * * * *

Boxing locally has sort of hit the skids for the winter months. Up till Christmas, shows were being run off regularly here and all over the district, but the game is sure in the doldrums now. Needs strong trade winds, but the competition with hockey is too great for the present. We may have a bit of a revival in the Spring, and who knows but the rowdy rasslers will be back again?

* * * * * * *

East side, west side: C.G.E. shop play-offs tomorrow at the Brock are: Switchgear vs. Toolroom at eleven, Machine Shop vs. Fractional Motors at one . . . . E.P.L. and City League are still being held up by O.H.A. games . . . . Southend Loop play-offs in all divisions will be staged at the Brock next Thursday if the rink is available . . . . And the prize ticket draw for this league is Thursday also . . . . A bouquet to Johnny Burke of Canuck intermediates for agreeing to play Pirates for second place Tues. at seven, instead of taking second-place alone by default from Northenders . . . . Park Hill is in first place in the S.E.L. int. section . . . . Yeah, we got some dough riding on the junior Petes' to-night again.

JUNIORS ARE CONFIDENT OF O.H.A. VICTORY

Petes Should Eke Out Win By Small Majority on Home Ice.

BELLEVILLE GAME OFF.

To-night's Junior O.H.A. playoff game at the Brock will be the only game this evening in which a Peterborough team will take part, the Petes'-Belleville first one being put back to Monday, at Belleville. The first round Juniors face each other at 8.30 o'clock on a good sheet of ice, and with Bert Clayton of Toronto named referee. The largest crowd to see a play-off contest this year here is expected.

The Queen's college team is figured to be one of the strong teams of the province, aside from those in Toronto leagues and Newmarket. They play a dashing brand of hockey and should give the young Petes a hard game, though the latter will have the advantage of home ice. It is undoubtedly the strongest competition given the locals so far this year, though the Petes should be in prime shape now after eliminating Fenelon Falls and Bowmanville in good series.

Manager Buckland will ice his strongest possible team, but it is uncertain whether there will be changes seen in the homsters' line-up or not. Several of the Petes' Juniors this year are just about as good as Junior players anywhere, and the team has begun clicking properly in their last game and last couple of workouts. If the goalie is right again, and the defence plays airtight hockey, the two forward lines will prove plenty troublesome for the student visitors. The Petes, on their past performances, and considering that Belleville held Queen's to a tie in one of the play-off games, should win here in a hard-fought contest. They will then have the hard task of holding the lead in Kingston Monday.

Plenty of Hockey

Fans may be assured of plenty of excitement whenever the 1933 Petes' Juniors swing into action. They will likely draw the biggest play-off crowd of the year; those who saw Wednesday's fine contest being back and others coming out. Rush-seat patrons should get there before game time in order to get good vantage points. It's the first O.H.A. playdown round for the Petes and promises to be a memorable one.

Haboco Deliveries Tie Scouts 6 To 6

The Scouts met Haboco's delivery boys in an exciting hockey game last night at the Sacred Heart Rink, and battled to a 6-all draw in thirty minutes' overtime. Play was slowed up by the snowfall, and at times the players got a bit rough, but were sent to the "cooler" quickly. It was a hard-fought match between well-matched outfits. The teams:

Scouts—Goal, R. Bennett; defence E. Creighton and A. Lefevre; centre, W. Flint; wings, F. Todd and J. Kirby; sub., Valanse.

Haboco's—Goal, Bowen; defence, B. Donoghue and Alton; centre, F. Alton; wings, Donoghue and Sullivan; sub., McDougall.

Reserves Judgment In Dainard Will

(Special to The Examiner.)

The Honorable Mr. Justice Garrow, in a motion to interpret the will of the late William A. Dainard of Port Hope, at Osgood Hall, said that it was the most peculiar will he had ever seen in his life.

The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., appeared for Wesley Dainard of South Monaghan, and contended that the proper interpretation of the will was that Wesley Dainard's legacy was payable at the end of a year and that the whole estate was security for the payment of the legacy.

W. M. McMahon appeared for the executors, and A. R. Wilmot of Cobourg appeared for Lydia J. Dainard, the widow of the late Mr. Dainard, and opposed Mr. Gordon's contention.

Mr. Justice Garrow stated that the will was so difficult to understand the intention of the deceased, that he would reserve judgment.

13 HARDY SNOWSHOERS ARE LEFT IN CONTEST

PONT VIAU, ue., Feb. 17 (C.P.)—A shorter lap to-day faced the 13 hardy snowshoers who remain in the 150-mile Haull to Montreal international marthon. They were to skirt the northwestern end of Montreal Island from Pont Viau to St. Anne de Bellevue. The first of the journey is over, Saturday's lap being a comparatively short run to Lachine, with the finish Sunday at Montreal.

For to-day's 18-mile stretch over freshly-covered highways—a snowfall was experienced last night—the Finnish contingent had secured a lead which they were not likely to relinquish. Johnny Koukku, Montreal, led in elapsed time for the week's grind; Ivaar Hakkarainen, Montreal, was second, only nine minutes behind, and Johnny Jokela, Toronto, was about half an hour behind Hakkarainen.

Church Basketball Playoffs To-Night

In the Church Basketball League juvenile final game at six in the "Y" this evening, George Street A will carry a one-point lead over Trinity, owing to that 13-12 game last week. If the round is tied to-night after the full time of play, five minutes' overtime will be held. Vince Holmes will referee.

A sudden-death game will be staged between the juniors, Murray Street and Mark Street. If the former wins, no play-off will be required in this section, as they won the first half. If Mark Street wins, the same two teams will play two games for the title. Carlos Routley will referee this junior game this evening.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

I met a little egg
It had nothing to do,
So I waited till it hatched
Then away it flew.
—Shadow Song.

Once upon a time there was an egg. It was a nice soft egg. It was only a day or two old. The five shadow children found it in the pantry, waiting to be boiled.

It said good morning to the shadows.

"Good morning," the shadows answered. "How do you feel?"

"Very fresh, thank you," the egg said. "How do you feel?"

"Which one of us?" Knarf asked.

"All five of you," said the egg. The five shadows all answered that they felt fine. "But do you feel fresh Are you only a day or two old like I am?"

The shadows replied that they were quite sure that they were more than a day or two old. "I feel pretty fresh sometimes," Knarf said. The other shadows knew that Knarf did not mean what the egg meant.

"Would you like to get boiled, too?" the egg inquired. It had such a pleasant, soft voice. The shadows were really sorry that it was going to get boiled. If only it got fried, or poached, or scrambled, that would have been better. The shadows wished they could do something about keeping the egg from getting boiled. They wondered what they could do.

"If we could only hide it somewhere, till it hatched," Mij said, "then it would be able to run away by itself."

"I feel pretty fresh, myself, sometimes," Knarf said to the egg

To Save the Egg

"We'd have to hide it in a warm place," Hanid, who knew something about hatching eggs, replied.

"We could hide it near the oven," Flor suggested.

So the shadows made up their minds to hide it in back of the oven, where it was warm (and yet not too hot). The egg was standing on the pantry shelf. "Come down," the shadows urged it. They could hear Katybelle, the cook, stirring about in the kitchen, and they expected her to come walking into the pantry at any moment. But the egg wouldn't come down off the shelf. "Not me," the egg kept saying. "Do you think I want to fall? What will happen to me if I fall?"

At that very moment Knarf, who had climbed quietly behind the egg, gave it a push and down it went until—crack! It landed upon the next shelf.

Yes, my dears, the poor egg was cracked. It was a terrible thing. It couldn't be boiled after that, for you can't boil a cracked egg because it keeps running out of its shell (unless you put vinegar into the water), so it was poured into a little cup, and the next time Katybelle baked a cake, it went right into the cake. But it wasn't boiled anyway, and that's something.... isn't it?

WILL LIBERALS LET HAWTHORNE STAY IN FIELD

Old East Riding Has Already Nominated Liberal Candidate.

WORK IS NOT UPSET.

Central Ontario Association Has Nominations Well in Hand.

Political gossip has been raising the question as to what the Liberals of the new Peterborough riding within the county boundaries will do with the candidate who has already been nominated for the old East Peterborough riding.

James Hawthorne of Dummer Township was the choice of the Liberals who met at Norwood last fall for the incidental purpose of putting a man in the field as early as possible.

The city Liberals, however, and those of Smith and Monaghan Townships, decided to defer nomination. Now, with the proposed new Peterborough riding to consist of the county and city, Mr. Hawthorne is still a candidate, and many members of the party are asking what the next step will be.

J. J. Duffus, who is president of the Central Ontario Liberal Organization, said he expected that the situation would no doubt be agreeably settled, but he declined to express any opinion as to what might be the result.

"I suppose that when the new riding is definitely announced would be time enough to think of this matter," he said. "If there is a new constituency, there will, of course, have to be new organization. Whether that body will nominate Mr. Hawthorne because of the fact that he has already been placed in the field, simply remains to be seen. The Central Ontario Association has been very careful not to interfere with riding affairs, although the executive has been more than willing to give all the encouragement and assistance possible.

Speaking personally, I can say what most people in the city and county know, namely, that Mr. Hawthorne is a very estimable citizen, a practical farmer, and a member of an old family of Dummer Township. The Hawthornes have been associated with Dummer municipal affairs for a long time, and even Mr. Hawthorne's political opponents would agree that his public and personal record has been altogether in his favor. I suppose it would not be held against a Peterborough candidate that he was born in this county and that he and his family had given long service in the public interest."

Work Is Not Upset.

Mr. Duffus said that the preparations made by Central Ontario Liberals had not been complicated by the announcement of the Government's plans for redistribution.

"In Durham Mr. Bragg has been re-nominated and no change will be made there. In Victoria it was generally understood by William Newman and Percy Pogue that if their ridings were united the whole question of nominating a candidate for the new constituency would be taken up on the new basis. So that is satisfactory. The same applies to Hastings where, it is reported, three ridings are to be reduced to two. The Liberals there have declared their determination to give the Government a real battle. Three candidates have been nominated, but there was a feeling there that if the constituencies were changed, one of the candidates would drop out of the provincial field and accept a Federal nomination.

In Northumberland, nomination has been put off, but a special committee appointed by the County Association canvassed the riding, and several names have been prominently mentioned, including Clarence Massey, a farmer, and the president of the Northumberland Liberal Association. Nowhere in the entire district has there been any problem created. The sentiment within the party during the last year would not countenance anything like that. We have been more active than ever, getting into the field and also getting acquainted instead of leaving everything until the last moment, and I am confident that redistribution will not disturb that spirit."

Invited to London.

Mr. Duffus left this morning for London to attend a convention of Western Ontario Liberals who have been planning a district organization similar to that of the Central Ontario Liberals, which the Hon. Vincent Massey stated was the first of its kind in Canada. Mr. Duffus was invited as the president of this association, and is down on the agenda for an address.

"It is going to be brief," he told The Examiner. "But I am glad to say that as a result of the work of the rank and file of the party in this district I shall be able to report that we have organizations in nearly all our ridings, and that the spirit of Liberalism is stronger than it has been for a long time."

A sixty-year-old native of Bosnia is said to be the world's smallest. He is only nineteen and a half inches tall, runs a farm and has refused tempting "sideshow" offers.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE REQUIRES ADDITIONAL MONEY THIS YEAR

Rest Room on Market Square Will Cost $1,500 to Operate.

ESTIMATES STRUCK.

An appropriation for $1,500 required for the operation of the rest room on the Market Square increased the Property committee's estimates for this by $425 over last year's estimates. Alderman Holland, chairman of the Property committee, considered that he would require $2,000 for the operation of the rest room for the year, but the committee cut the appropriation to $1,500. For the period that the rest room was open last year its cost to operate totalled $1,018.16.

The increase for the rest room was the only change in the Property committee's estimates from last year. It was explained that all of its expenses are fixed charges and can not be reduced.

PARA Brazil—Two more battles between Colombian and Peruvian naval and military forces struggling for possession of the border city of Leticia have been reported in brief despatches from the upper Amazon jungle regions.

The clashes were said to have occurred at points 200 miles apart on the Putumayo river.

MILK AND MEAT PRICES WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Government-fixed Price May Be Outcome Says Wentworth M.P.

BENNETT PROMISES AID.

Spread Between Producers and Consumers Rates Chief Objection.

HAMILTON, February 18. — Gordon C. Wilson of Dundas, M.P. for Wentworth County, stated on his return from Ottawa yesterday that the Agricultural Committee of the Federal Government would soon launch a probe into the retail price of milk and other farm commodities with a view to ensuring a more equitable price for the producers.

Milk and Meat.

The investigation will centre upon milk and meat prices, it was stated, as the producers have complained that there is too great a spread between the prices they receive and what the retailers charge the consumer. Mr. Wilson, who was made a member of this committee to succeed Milton Campbell, M.P., said Prime Minister Bennett had assured the committee of the Government's assistance toward finding a solution to what is conceded to be one of the baffling problems of the day.

Mr. Wilson also intimated that the committee might recommend that Canada adopt legislation fixing the price which proddcers of milk should receive. Such legislation now is in force in New York State.

Will Hear Complaints

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—Grievances of Canadian farmers in connection with the low prices of milk, meats and other commodities they produce are to be ventilated before the Agricultural Commitee of the House of Commons. The matter was brought to the attention of the Government by Gordon Wilson, M.P. for Wentworth, and by other members representing dairy producers and mixed farming districts. The farmers complain of the spread between the prices at which they are obliged to sell and the prices the consumers are called upon to pay.

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, pointed out last night, however, that while the Agricultural Committee has authority to investigate, the matter of regulation is really within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Government authorities, and it is understood Hon. T. L. Kennedy of Ontario is studying the situation. The Dominion authorities could take action under the combines investigation legislation if complaints were lodged by farmers or consumers to the effect that a combine exists.

Prime Minister Bennett, when in Hamilton recently, assured the Wentworth milk producers through Mr. Wilson, that the matter would be probed fully by the Federal Agricultural Committee

SAILOR KILLED BY GAS BLAST

Three Others Injured as They Enter Hold to Inspect Cargo.

ONE MAY DIE.

BOSTON, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—The British steamer Baron Carnegie arrived from Glasgow to-day with one of her crew dead, another critically injured, and two others less seriously hurt as a result of a terrific gas explosion in the holds yesterday afternoon. The Baron Carnegie carried 3,500 tons of coal.

The dead man was Antonio Greech, 38, a seaman, of Cardiff.

Alexander McQuarrie, 31, a seaman of Loch Laddie, Scotland, received burns which, it was believed, would prove fatal. Two other seamen, whose names were not immediately ascertained were less seriously burned.

Yesterday afternoon, after the ship's holds had been opened to air the cargo, customary in coal laden vessels, the four seamen were sent below to inspect the cargo.

While the four men were below a terrific gas explosion occurred. There was no visible damage.

Campbell To Make Speed Test Sunday

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The intricate mechanism of the newly-installed gear ratio in Sir Malcolm Campbell's Blue Bird racing car must be absolutely perfect before he makes another test run preparatory to an attempt to set a new world land speed mark.

Mechanics to-day were going over the car so it will be ready for a trial dash Sunday, the last day of the sanctioned racing dates.

HIT-RUN DRIVER SNUFFS OUT LIFE OF TORONTO BOY

Heavy Coupe Sweeps Body of 10-year Victim 50 Feet Along Sidewalk.

LAD'S PALS ESCAPE.

Police Broadcast Description of Car—All Garages Warned.

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—Clad in the green jersey and blue shorts of the Wolf Cubs, the mangled, pitiful little body of ten-year-old Lumsden Silvestor of 326 Hillsdale Avenue East was picked up from the pavement on Manor Road East last night, slain victim of a hit-and-run automobile driver.

Auto Leaps Curb.

The boy, with a companion, Alex. Suter, also a Cub, of 6 Cuthbert Crescent, had been walking up the hill, pulling a toy wagon, near the Church of the Transfiguration, when a heavy coupe auto swept down over the brow of the hill, and veered over to one side of the street toward them.

"Run!" screamed Alex. Suter, as he scampered across the street.

Lumsden Silvester leaped for the sidewalk. He was less than a yard from it when the auto, charging down the hill at a high speed, and skidding along the icy roadway, struck him, caught him on the bumper, and rolled wildly over the sidewalk, across lawns, crashing a young tree, and then swerving back into the street again before dropping the boy's body, 50 yards from where the car hit him. The auto continued on its way in utter disregard of the slaying.

Last night, at the request of the police department, a description was broadcast by radio. A city-wide search has been launched, a search in which every citizen, every garage-attendant, every motor-mechanic, is asked by police to lend his services:

"A heavy coupe with a canvas top; may be dark gray in color or light blue. Likely has damaged right front, or possibly a flat right tire."

Alex. Suter, who had succeeded in evading the onrushing auto, and two other Wolf Cubs who had witnessed the accident from near the top of the hill, ran in a panic into the church hall where a meeting of the 58th Troop was being held.

The three youngsters broke in on the gathering of Cubs and broke the news to Troopmaster W. H. Mackintosh, who was in charge.

Mackintosh and a few of the Cub leaders rushed out to the street and down the hill. By that time, however, a citizen had picked up the boy and taken him into a physician's office, which is almost opposite the scene of the accident. He had been killed instantly.

Failed to Get Number.

Edward Colgan, of 263 Manor Road East, reported to police that he did not see the car strike the boy, but saw it careening down the street eastward toward Mount Pleasant Road. He was unable to ascertain the license number, but described the auto as a heavy greyish-green coupe. The driver, he said, paused at the intersection of Mount Pleasant Road, looked around, and then turned south and disappeared.

The police teletype system last night sent out to all city stations a description of the auto, also the information that it would be damaged from the collision with the tree, and likely stained with blood. An intensive search is under way.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—Charges of the theft of State documents and conspiracy to steal such documents were among several accusations made to-day against Colonel Michael Hogan of the Free State Army and Inspector Edward O'Connel of the Civic Guard in Circuit Court to-day.

Both were remanded until next Saturday, O'Connel without bail, and Hogan under £1,000 personal bail and two surety bonds of £500 each.

CITY TREASURER, BANKER JAILED

Pair Held on Charges of Embezzling $500,000 of Milwaukee Funds.

BAIL REFUSED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 18. — (C.P.)—A man who served as city treasurer of Milwaukee for 16 years and another who was head of the defunct Liberty State Bank, were in jail to-day awaiting arraignment on indictments charging embezzlement of $500,000 of city funds.

John I. Drew, city treasurer from 1916 to 1932, was accused by the Grand Jury returning the indictments with misappropriating the money, and I. J. Rosenberg, the former bank president, with aiding him through his banking connections.

Deputy sheriffs arrested Drew late last night at a hospital, where he had been a patient for several days. He has been ill for some months. Rosenberg was arrested at his home. Both were denied release on bail.

ZANGARA'S PLEA IS UNDECIDED

Expected to Admit Guilt, or Plead Not Guilty by Reason of Insanity.

ALIENISTS ON JOB.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (A.P.) — County Solicitor Charles A. Morehead to-day said he expected Giuseppe Zangar, who attempted to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt Wednesday night, either to plead guilty, or not guilty by reason of insanity when he is brought to trial Monday, at 10 a.m.

Morehead said defence attorneys had told him they would not divulge their plea, or the findings of a defence medical commission which inquired into Zangara's sanity before Monday.

Morehead said further he would not summon witnesses to testify Monday, because of his anticipation of the plea.

"If Zangara pleads guilty, I will not need witnesses," Morehead said, "and if he pleads not guilty by reason of insanity I could not get my witnesses here by Monday."

He continued that if Zangara pleads not guilty by reason of insanity, the prosecution would call upon several outstanding alienists from other cities to come here and examine the defendant.

Zangara's scheduled arraignment to-day was postponed until Monday because the defence alienists had not completed their report.

Manchukuo Note Held Opening Gun In Huge Jap Drive

Ultimatum Backed By Japanese Officials Is Sent To General Chang Hsiao Liang, Commander-in-Chief Of China's Northern Army.

CHINESE WITH 50,000 ARMY OF VOLUNTEERS IGNORE ORDER DESPITE THREAT OF ATTACK

MUKDEN, Manchuria, February 18 (C.P.).—The State of Manchukuo to-day delivered an ultimatum to Chang Hsiao Liang ,Commander-in-Chief of China's Northern Army, demanding the withdrawal of all Chinese troops from the Province of Jehol.

This appeared to be the opening gun in the Jehol offensive, which has been in preparation for several weeks.

Major Battle Looms.

PEIPING, China, February 18 (C.P.). — A major battle between Chinese and Japanese troops at Kailu, northern gateway of Jehol Province, appeared imminent after the receipt to-day of a Japanese ultimatum.

It ordered Chinese forces immediately to evacuate the city. The Chinese decided to ignore it, it was stated at Manchurian headquarters here, despite a Japanese threat to attack at once if the demand was not complied with.

Army Stands Ready.

An army of 30,000 to 50,000 volunteers have been concentrated in the Kailu region to block any Japanese invasion of Jehol from that point. Kailu is at the start of a main communication route to the city of Chinfeng and the capital, Jehol City .

The Japanese already have made at least a half dozen airplane bombing raids upon Kailu from their military base at Tungliao, 20 miles eastward across the Manchurian border. (The Japanese declared Chinese were a menace to railways centering at Tungliao).

Withdrawal Certain

TOKYO, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—A high official said to-day it was "safe to interpret" actions planned by Premier Saito as an indication that the Cabinet has decided in favor of Japanese withdrawal from the League of Nations "unless a miracle prevents" the league's assembly's adoption of its report on Manchuria next week.

Tragedy Occurs as Brantford Men Are Returning From Hamilton.

TWO BADLY HURT.

ALBERTSON, Ont., Feb. 18. — (C.P.)—Rupert Conway, of Brantford, was fatally hurt and two other persons were injured when a car driven by Wilfred S. Marshall went out of control on the Brantford highway near here early today.

The party included Mr. Conway, Mr. Marshall and Douglas Lawrence, all of Brantford, who were returning from a machine-gun training class in Hamilton.

Their car was passing the Alberton Post Office when it suddenly went out of control, skidded wildly and rolled over.

Conway suffered terrible injuries and died within a few minutes. Marshall suffered lacerations and a possible fracture of the knee, and Lawrence suffered a severe cut in his neck.

The injured persons were taken to Hamilton for treatment.

Mr. Conway was a brother-in-law of E. F. Mason of this city and a brother of the late W. E. Conway for years manager of the Grafton store here. He was connected with the Grafton Company and made numerous business trips to this city.

SUSPECT HELD EXTORTION PLOT

Arrest is Made as Man Approaches Car to Get Money Demanded.

NOTE THREATENED DEATH.

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP)—Because A. J. Dugal, prominent Montreal businessman, did not hesitate to take to police an extortion letter demanding $10,000, failing which he and his daughter would be killed, Jean B. Daigle was in police cells to-day.

Daigle was arrested when he approached Dugal's car last night. A police detective was seated inside, waiting to see who would keep an appointment made in the letter which stated that the man who approached the car would be an innocent aide to three "Chicago bandits, Harry, Hack and Lucien."

As the tall, slim man drew near and demanded the parcel, into which was supposed to have been wrapped, he was seized by police. Diagle stated he had been beaten by three men and ordered to get the package. He denied all knowledge of the death threats in the letter. Police later announced they had found writing paper of the same color and texture as that of the extortion letter in Daigle's room.

PETER HEENAN SCORES PLAN OF RE DISTRIBUTION

Hon. Peter Heenan Addresses Rally of Liberal Workers in City.

NORTHERN MACHINE.

Redistribution Measure is Stamped With Insincerity Speaker Says.

As a measure of public economy, the proposed electoral redistribution in Ontario is stamped with insincerity, Hon. Peter Heenan declared at a Liberal meeting in the Duffus building last night.

Lauded as a method of reducing the membership of the Legislature, and thereby the cost of government, it was apparently to be projected as a gesture of saving public money, but behind it was an effort to bolster the strength of the government in the face of declining power and popular favor.

"In Northern Ontario, for example," Mr. Heenan said, "they propose to amalgamate two large constituencies comprising thousands of square miles, and sparsley settled, where it is out of the question for one representative to cover the entire territory and look after their needs. In that part of the province the Conservative party has felt secure by their operation of a system of discrimination and persecution of settlers because of their political beliefs. In that respect I don't think there could be anything much worse in Russia.

At election time gangs of men employed on the roads would be brought to places to hear the Conservative candidate who was going that way ahead of me. These workmen were brought in hundreds to hear the Conservative, but when I followed after him they would be gone, taken into the bush to cut down trees, and so far that you couldn't find them. I know that men and women were afraid to go to Liberal meetings because these gangsters, I can't call them anything else, foremen, engineers, timekeepers, standing at the door as if taking down the names of those who were going in. Men were afraid of losing their jobs if they came to our meetings. That kind of thing was carried so far that the people have turned against the government, and because they know they are losing ground in Northern Ontario they propose to make two large ridings into one.

If the government wants to cut down the Legislature, why don't they start in Toronto, and eliminate all but one representative. All the Toronto members of the Legislature have to do is go around and address ward meetings. There are no bridges to be built, no road problems, none of the things which come before the members for the more rural ridings of the province. These Toronto members are simply tripping over themselves, and are being paid under the guise of representation by population.

Queen's Park, with a Lieutenant-Governor, Speaker of the House, and all the rest of it, has an organization big enough to take care of all Canada. It is a glorified Parliament, and in my opinion it was never intended to be more

RYCKMAN SPONSORS MEASURE TO TIGHTEN CUSTOMS ACT AGAINST RUM SMUGGLERS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—(CP)—The correspondence brought down in the Commons today between Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, and G. G. Serkau of the Winnipeg Cattle Syndicate, does not in any place commit the minister to the barter proposal. The communications on the plan to exchange 100,000 Canadian cattle for Russian products, chiefly petroleum, started back in October.

The letter about which most rumors have been circulated was the reply of Mr. Weir to to Mr. Serkau early in November before Mr. Serkau left for Moscow. It turns out to be chiefly a declaration that 100,000 head of cattle could be purchased in Canada, that Canadian cattle would be particularly adaptable to Russian climate, and that Canadian cattle are the most healthy found anywhere.

Mr. Serkau had asked "if the question of credibility should arise I assume I may refer the Russian authorities to you via cable." Mr. Weir replied, "I would be glad if you would have any matter of credibility of the records of the cattle, not the credibility of Mr. Serkau who was a stranger to him.

Provided Code

The Department of Agriculture provided a code for Mr. Serkau to use when in New York and in Europe in communicating with Mr. Weir. Some cables and telegrams were sent in code. The information from the department is that frequently codes are provided to persons who wish to wire for information to the department and desire secrecy. Mr. Serkau was unable to obtain code privileges in Russia.

The returns also include the telegrams and letters received from various organizations and private persons throughout Canada for the most part urging the Minister to press the deal through.

Check-up Continues

Members of the House of Commons have before them to-day the Government's correspondence in connection with the scheme to barter 100,000 Canadian cattle for Russian oil and coal. It is being closely scrutinized by a group of Opposition members and will be the subject of discussion next week when Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, asks the House to pass the estimates for the livestock branch.

The prospect of a more intense study of the barter scheme than could be given in the House of Commons arose last with the report certain Liberal members would move to have the correspondence referred to the agricultural committee.

The committee has power to summon witnesses and if it wished could call Mr. Serkau and other members of the barter syndicate before them and subject them to direct examination on their negotiations with Russia, their dealings with the government here and the merits of the scheme.

Several millions of dollars in agricultural estimates passed the House with only occasional snags. Discussion centred around experimental farm work, fruit inspection and seed and feed inspection.

Answers All Questions

Jingling a key-ring in his fingers, Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, stood up to a flood of questions from Opposition members, chiefly from Western Canada. Item after item was passed as quickly as read by the chairman.

Designed to tighten loopholes in the Customs Act and aimed directly at liquor smugglers, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, sponsored a bill in the House that promised to receive a stormy passage.

Because of a technicality in the law, explained the Revenue Minister, smugglers into Canada were not convicted of possessing contraband. Magistrates held where good were subject to specific duties and not to ad valorem duties there was no value for duty, and dismissed smuggling cases. He proposed inserting in the Customs Act specific words to cover cases of that type.

The clause passed the committee stage, but two other clauses were held over. One clause would permit unloading of a vessel on Sundays and holidays, escaping demurrage charges; another would permit any customs officer at any time in any territorial waters and inspect it for contraband.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Going from one hotel to another, a holdup man was told by the clerks they were out of cash, having just cashed cheques for their guests.

Finally tired of this alibi, he forced a clerk to surrender a cash box in which he found $4.

"It's getting so a fellow can't trust anybody," he said.

WOMAN'S DEATH GOES UNSOLVED

Former Toronto Resident Suddenly Topples Dead in New York Cell.

HELD FOR DEPORTATION.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Feb. 18. (AP) — Death of Mrs. Kathleen Holland Hennigan, 23, formerly of Toronto, in Jefferson County jail Monday morning, will go down in records as without cause. Physicians here believe it is the first time in history no cause of death could be found.

The final report Friday came no nearer a solution of the mystery than other inquiries since the woman toppled over on her cell cot and died.

Analysis of blood and the stomach fluids by a pathologist, last step in the rigid examination of the body was completed to-day by Dr. Thomas T. Walker. He found no cause, either.

No trace of poison, no bruises, no heart ailment, nor other possible causes could be found by five doctors that conducted the autopsy. All declared the woman normal. She was being held for deportation.

JACKSON CASE BEING APPEALED

Notice of Appeal Has Been Filed With the Attorney-General.

SENTENCED TO HANG.

Edward Franklin Jackson, convicted on February 17 at the Assizes here on a charge of murder, and who is now under sentence of death at the County Gaol has filed notice of appeal with the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario through his counsel the Hon. G. N Gordon, K.C. A copy of the notice of appeal has also been filed with Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry K.C.

The notice is couched in the following terms:

"I, Edward Franklin Jackson, of the Township of Dummer, in the County of Peterborough, hereby give notice that I desire to appeal and do apply for leave of appeal to the Court of Appeal of Ontario, against my conviction and sentence to the death penalty upon the following grounds:

"1. That the Learned Trial Judge made an indirect comment to the Jury, upon my failure to testify upon my own behalf, at my trial, contrary to the Provisions of the Canada Evidence Act.

"2. That the Learned Trial Judge failed to sufficiently examine the witnesses producing certain statements in writing made by me to ascertain whether or not such written statements were voluntary or not when made, while I was under arrest.

"3. That the Learned Trial Judge failed to sufficiently examine Ruby Saltern, one of the witnesses, at my trial, who was an infant of tender years, to ascertain if she was of sufficient intelligence to understand the nature of an oath before she was permitted to give her testimony at my trial.

"4. That the Learned Trial Judge should have found upon his examination of the said Ruby Saltern that she was insufficiently qualified to give such testimony, by reason of her age and lack of knowledge and that the Learned Trial Judge did not in fact make a direct finding that the said Ruth Saltern had sufficient intelligence and knowledge to give her testimony.

"5. That there was not sufficient corroboration of the evidence of the said Ruby Saltern and that the Learned Trial Judge should have so directed the jury.

"6. That upon the evidence adduced at the trial, the Learned Trial Judge should have instructed the Jury that a verdict of not guilty should have been delivered upon the charge against him.

"7. That the said conviction was against the evidence and the weight of evidence and contrary to law.

I desire to present my case and argument by oral argument to the said Court.

My address for service is the County Gaol, County of Peterborough.

Dated at Peterborough this 16th day of February, 1933.

Edward Franklin Jackson, by his solicitors, Gordon and Elliott, 395-397 George street, Peterborough, Ontario.

To: The Honorable, the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario and to V. J. McElderry, Esquire, K.C., Clerk of the Peace of the Peace of the County of Peterborough.

CARNIVAL HELD AT HAVELOCK

Skaters in Bright Costumes Present Gay Scene Amid Fallen Snow.

SPONSORED BY BAND.

HAVELOCK, February 18 (Examiner Correspondence). — Despite rather unfavorable weather conditions on Thursday evening, February 16, the carnival held at the local rink under the auspices of Havelock Brass Band, proved an outstanding success. Practically everyone in the village, young and old, turned out in costume to help make the occasion a joyous one and though some of them were rather bedraggled looking before the carnival was over, due to the soft snow that fell during the evening, the latter contributed in no small measure to the beauty of the scene at the rink, when almost every imaginable character was represented, skating to the music furnished by the local band.

The energetic committee did all in its power to give the guests a good time, and many beautiful prizes were awarded for the various costumes.

Followng are the prize-winners:

Ladies' fancy costume, Marie Bedford; Gent.'s fancy costume, Jerome Voyer; Boys' fancy costume Lloyd Anderson; Gent.'s comic, Will Doughty; Ladies' comic, Mrs. Angus Graham; Boys' comic, Alvin Logan Girls' fancy costume, Julie McLaughlin; Girls' comic, Marguerite Little; best dressed couple, Mrs. J Little as an old lady, and Mrs. Gordon Ames as a pelican; Lucky ticket-holder, Hazel McCutcheon.

Judges—Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mr. J S Reynolds, Mr. L. A. Gould.

Others who helped in a large measure to ensure the success of the arnival were: Charles Brennan, Clarence Hubel, George Kennedy, Harold Seabrooke, all members of the band, C. F. Roberts, village constable, Mr. Josh Parcels and Mrs. Orville Parcels. To these, the committee are greatly indebted.

Mr. Joseph Little, Mr. J. Wiggins, and Everett Chiles were the executive committee, Mr. J. H. Moore, president, and Mr. A. Wilson, secretary. Total receipts for the evening were $27.49.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

Cattle Feed Short In Seymour Township

BURNBRAE, Feb. 18 (Examiner Correspondence). — Wherever a group of farmers meet now it is likley that someone will remark that he has lots of straw and grain, but little hay for feed, or yet another has some hay and roots or silage but not enough grain or straw and so it goes. The feed shortage in Seymour Township in the spring of 1933 is bound to be acute. Cattle went on strict winter rations nearly a month ahead of time last fall and the mild winter has not remedied the situation to any appreciable extent.

Egg prices are the only thing in the farmers' market to show any advance and that small. Hogs are a drug at about $3 a cwt. Cattle buyers just do not bother moving out. They could get a load too easily.

GOLDEN TEXT—Isaiah 11:9—"The earth shall be full of the knowledge of Jehovah, as the waters cover the sea."

The Electorate and Legislators of the United States Are Facing a Period of Disturbance and Decisions Unparalleled Since the Civil War

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

IN a few days Hoover will be out of the White House and Franklin D. Roosevelt will be in. This is more than a passing event. The effect will be world-wide. Some time will be required for the United States to catch its breath and to see clearly the significance of the new administration. The utmost is being done by the present administration to smooth the way of the incoming.

Already Hoover has put into the hands of the President-elect command of the nation's foreign affairs. In this field Hoover and Stimson are performing the administrative details of their successors. This spirit of co-operation has won the admiration of the American people. It is to their credit and to the advantage of the nation. The presidential election was hot enough. The good of the nation has taken the place of the election heat. It is evident that all the people are hoping that the change of administration will somehow stir the whole nation into a renewed faith and into a wiser use of their abilities and resources, which are ample for a better and happier day.

The change of White House occupants is not as important as are the conditions in Congress. Will Congress be equal to its responsibilities in such a way as to be of service in this hour of national need? Eight weeks of the thirteen have passed without passing event one major legislative act. The Philipine freedom bill which promises independence in ten years is already looked upon as of doubtful benefit to the Phillipines by the Phillipines themselves. Not one bill has been reported out of the committees of both Houses which promises the bettering of economic conditions. Senator Glass is one of the ablest Democrats in Congress. He is sponsor of a new banking bill. It took him twenty-one days to get it through the Senate. Filibuster tactics by the members of his own party blocked its way. The bill now is threatened with mutilation or defeat by his disgruntled fellow party members of the lower House.

Will it be with Roosevelt as it has become with Hitler? Before Hitler was honored with the chancellorship of his country he seemed to be a confirmed enemy of the Republican form of government for Germany. Hitler now seems to be a changed man. So changed is he that Hindenburg hesitates not to entrust him with the responsibilities of that high office. And Hitler is making good. Besides, he is to be married?

The ideas of Roosevelt about capital and trusts have awakened fear. His fraternizing with Norris and Johnson and Cutting and La Follett since the election has not quieted the unrest. His visit with Norris to Muscle Shoals has added to the misgiving. Government ownership seems to be on the way with the incoming Democratic administration. Capital is forming a solid front to resist any destructive legislation. Capital has its faults. Everything human has. Constructive legislation is an evolution, rather than a drastic change. Capital has its merits. Blind is the man or party that everlastingly rails at capital.

There are good reasons for believing that Roosevelt is ambitious of merging the progressive members of Congress with the Democratic party. Such merging would mean fewer favors for the Democrats. Every Democratic member of Congress is eager that the party shall have all that is coming to it. This currying of progressive support may make a rift in Roosevelt's own party.

Cabinet building is a ticklish job for any man, however wise he may be. Cabinet news are buzzing at the capitol. Resentment is as evident as approval. Henry Wallace and Miss Frances Perkins are mentioned as ideal appointments. Senator Walsh as Attorney-General is the likely selection of Roosevelt. If he is selected there is no doubt about what will be his attitude towards the enforcement of every anti-trust law. The trusts are resting on their cars. Walsh is of the destructive kind of politician. Were his constructive inclination equal to his mentality his appointment as Attorney-General would win the confidence of the American electorate. Times of depression are in need of constructive legislation rather than legislation of the radical kind. Senator Cordell Hull is in the limelight as the likely choice of Roosevelt to succeed Stimson as Secretary of State. Hull is an authority on tariffs. He has the reputation of the very highest character. No man has ever been able to influence him from what he sees to be right and wise.

Roosevelt must have a program that will lift the depression. Demand, with no ifs and ands, to give relief to the millions must be met. Jobs must be created for the millions. Trade must be expanded. Recognition of Russia must be given. Inflation of currency will be attempted. Income and inheritance taxes to correct the maldistribution of wealth which makes millionaires of the few and paupers of the many must be adopted. Will he?

In France, the children do not hang up their stockings on Christmas eve; instead they put their little sabots, which are wooden shoes, in front of the hearth close to the chimney by which Father Christmas descends.

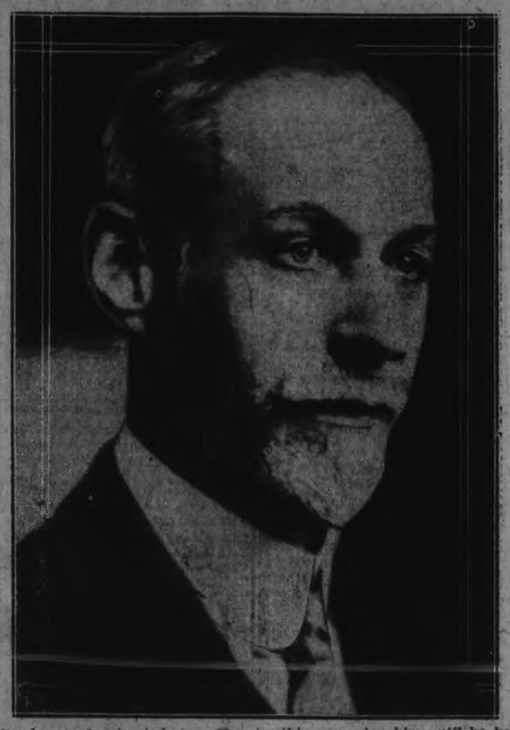
Canada's Little Shaver

Private Lives by the "Private Secretary"



The loudest voice in the House of Commons.

Yet one of the smallest men—almost fragile.

Piercing eye, always alert; lean face, sensitive nostrils, pointed chin covered with much whiskers; concave ears.

James Shaver Woodsworth, stormy petrel of Canada's House of Commons; leader, organizer, moving spirit of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation—the C.C.F.

Mr. Roosevelt promised a "new deal" for the U.S. Hitler propagandizes a "new deal" for Germany; Woodsworth is backing a "new deal" for Canada.

Ex-minister; ex-government employee; ex-longshoreman; ex-Labor M.P. for Winnipeg Centre; ex-Soviet observer; ex-many other things.

Now leader of that little band of left wingers in the House, social service worker, lecturer, idealist, still M.P. Winnipeg Centre, writer, disturber of the front benchers in the H. of C. who wish the electors of Winnipeg Centre thought the same of him as they do.

Started out in life as a preacher. Was forced to resign because he didn't believe all he was supposed to.

But was so popular he had to resign three times before it was accepted.

Became a longshoreman in Vancouver. Slung heavy lumber with the best of them. From this the idea of social reform was born.

Had a job with the government during the war, but had to resign because he didn't believe in conscription. Wrote a letter to the Free Press in Winnipeg about it.

Had a taste of jail in Winnipeg during the great strike in 1919. Accused of publishing seditious libel which was later found to be an accurate quotation from the book of Isaiah in the Bible.

Recently called down on his head the ire of the House when he stated that Mr. Bennett, Prime Minister, hadn't earned his fortune by honest toil. Was "named" by the Speaker and retracted (see Hansard Feb.2).

Used to take great delight in bating Mr. Meighen in the House. Now spends odd moments in bating other members.

Has always been a champion of social reform and has championed a dozen causes. The C.C.F. his latest and perhaps greatest.

Has both [illegible] worried. Believes the Conservatives will not gain a seat west of Ontario. Thinks the same about the Liberals.

This fact comforts him as he stands to deliver a fiery oration to a lethagic House.

Doesn't care what the hon. members of the world at large think of him personally. Has an aim and nothing can stop him until he has gone the limit with it.

Very active man for his age. See him strutting back and forth on platform; one would think he was a university debater—full of youthful pep, vitality and ideas.

Is affiliated with no church organization now. But remains true to Christian ideals.

Natty dresser, but doesn't spend much time on clothes. Spends less time worrying about food. His type doesn't.

Has never said much about technocracy, but would probably welcome advent of food pills. They would save time in eating, and give him more time to spend with his beloved party.

An amazing Shaver, in all.

THE first temptation which meets every one on the road to regeneration is the hunger of the lower qualities in him.

The human will refuses to submit itself entirely to the exquisite grace which offers itself out of divine love, and seeks for its own self and for the love of that self which belongs to that which is not permanent. It loves itself and the estate of this world better than God. . . .

The second temptation for the regenerated is spiritual pride. The soul having tasted of divine love, having once been illumined, desires to have that light in her possession and act therein in her own power.—From letters of Jacob Boehme, Rosicrucian Mystic, 1575-1624.

Jesus Teaching by Parables — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell and Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 4:21-34

Jesus taught the people many things in parables as he sat in a boat and they gathered upon the shore. Afterwards he explained to his disciples why he taught the people in parables while to his disciples he spoke more plainly.

He explained that he used parables to adjust the truth to folks' ability and willingness to receive it. It was not in order to hide the light, for men do not light lamps to put them under bushels, but they do shade lamps to suit folks' eyes.

Truth is like good seed sown by a farmer. If it needs is a chance and it will grow. If we meet it with receptive minds then it will develop, "first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear."

Jesus likened the Kingdom of God in its small beginnings and later growth and spread to a mustard seed, "less than all the seeds . . . . yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs".

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Despatches from Toronto indicate that before the redistribution shuffle is finally accomplished there will be some lively battling all along the line.

A few days ago a list of the expected changes was published, but it is by no means assured that when the thing is all over the list will prove entirely correct.

In the first place, the whole matter will have to be considered by a committee of the House, and even when this committee has arrived at a decision there is no guarantee that the Legislature will accept the complete report.

Those members who are threatened with the loss of their seats are naturally not going to accept their fate without at least putting up the semblance of a fight, and while everybody recognizes that two score constituencies must be wiped out, each representative is hoping that somebody else will be the victim.

The redistribution bill will probably be the most interesting bit of legislation befvore the Legislature at this session, and it will be surprising if it does not develop some spectacular fireworks before the reshuffle of constituencies is finally completed.

THE ONE BIG JOB.

Windsor, faced with a financial crisis, has succeeded in reducing its tax bill by approximately one-third, a slash that will undoubtedly prove a very welcome relief to the ratepayers of the Border Cities.

Our financial situation is fortunately not so serious as was that of Windsor, but it is grave enough to warrant a very substantial reduction in civic expenditures—and to bring about that reduction is plainly the duty of the hour.

It can only be done if our spending bodies tackle their estimates with a determination to retrench, rather than in the hope that they will succeed in securing support for all their appropriations.

They must approach their task with their minds made up that the financial outlook permits of only one policy, and that is to save money in every field of expenditure, even if it is necessary to do without some of the things that in ordinary times have some right to be regarded as essential.

The average taxpayer has had to make sacrifices, to do without this and that, to forego purchases that in a period of prosperity he would make without hesitation, and he has a right to demand that in the spending of that portion of his income which must be paid into the civic treasury the same conditions as regulate his own expenditures shall apply.

He does not feel that he should have to deprive himself of most of the luxuries and some of the necessities of life to pay his tax bills and then have his taxes paid out as lavishly as if these were ordinary times and there were no such things as unemployment, business dullness and reduced incomes.

Granted it is difficult for public bodies which for years have had ample revenues at their disposal and have been encouraged by the public to provide all kinds of services to suddenly draw in their horns and commence to retrench.

It is always easier to spend money than to save it.

But the time has arrived when, difficult as it may be, our municipal bodies must sharply reduce their spending, cutting out everything that can be spared, no matter how desirable the service may be.

Merely making a gesture will not do; the axe must be used on the estimates to sufficient purpose to bring about a substantial saving.

When one municipality can cut its tax bill by a full third, it is nonsense for other councils to say that even a small reduction is impossible; it is not impossible if there is a will to succeed; it only looks impossible to those who have no real desire to trim their estimates.

The big job of all our spending bodies at the present moment is to bring about effective economies, and if they fail to measure up to the task they will show themselves unworthy of the responsibilities with which they have been entrusted and dead to the crisis with which many of our taxpayers are confronted.

PASSING OF AN HISTORIC OUTPORT.

The days of York Factory as a customs outport are numbered. Official notice has been issued by the Department of National Revenue that this historic outport of Winnipeg, Manitoba, will be closed April 1, 1933. Its passing recalls the colorful career of this trading post which had an eventful history long before it was made a customs outport in 1872, remarks the National Revenue Review. It was established by the Hudson's Bay Company in the seventeenth century, and for nearly two hundred years maintained its position as one of the company's three chief depots through which passed the large export of furs collected by the company from the many interior posts. The other two depots were Moose Factory on James Bay and Fort Vancouver on the Pacific coast. Indians who wished to trade their furs at York Factory in the old days would assemble early in May at Lake Winnipeg preparatory to their descent upon the trading post. These gatherings would consist often of 1,000 Indian braves, besides women, and about 500 canoes. The canoes were small and designed to hold two paddlers and 100 beaver skins each. The actual trading at the post was a prolonged affair, and was begun only after elaborate formalities.

This rich trading post was the scene of many hard-fought battles, and was captured and recaptured many times in its earlier history. Taken by the French in the latter part of the seventeenth century it was retaken by the English in 1696 with the aid of four ships of war sent out for this purpose from England. In 1773 a small body of French appeared suddenly before the fort and prepared to attack. The post was strongly garrisoned and in good condition for defense. It was manned by sixty soldiers and twelve Indians. Its defense consisted of thirteen cannon, twelve and nine pounders, and 12 swivel guns, besides an abundance of small arms and ammunition. Within the confines of the stockade were abundant provisions, including thirty head of cattle and as many hogs. All the people were taken prisoners and the buildings, together with furs, stores and implements, were burned. The Hudson's Bay Company sent a bill for thousands of pounds to the British Government for failing to protect their fort. However, the French Government finally agreed to make redress.

York Factory was described in those days as a large square of some six acres lying along the Haye River, and shut in by high stockades. The houses are all wooden, and on account of the swampy soil are raised up to escape the water of the springtime floods. At a point of advantage a lofty platform was erected to serve as a look-out to watch for the coming ship, the great annual event in the old days of the slow-passing lives of the occupants of the post.

York Factory being a principal depot had a considerable staff, consisting chiefly of young men who lived in a separate building called Bachelors' Hall. Here dwelt the surgeon, accountant, postmaster, half a dozen clerks and others. The chief factor was in charge at the post and his authority was absolute and unquestioned.

York Factory is to-day a thriving trading post. Many of the old landmarks such as the palisades and high lookout, being no longer required, have disappeared, but much remains at this old northern outpost to remind one of fine traditions and of great achievements.

And now York Factory is to be added to the list of closed customs outports.

ANOTHER DICKENS NEEDED.

The anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens was celebrated all over the world a few days ago, and nowhere was the event more generously toasted and honored than in the United States. Dickens was hard on the Americans after he visited there, hard on their business methods, hard on their manners, particularly the habit of expectoration, and their "Yes, sirring" each other to an absurd extent. Yet the Americans have always loved Dickens, and the sale of his books, the loyalty of the Dickens' Fellowships, indicate a spirit of generosity that does them credit.

At the New York Fellowship dinner tribute was paid to the achievements of Dickens as a reformer. How deeply and bitingly he railed at the injustices and pomposity of the poor law system, the circumlocution of legal processes, the tyranny of the private school, the imprisonment of debtors, the game of party politics, and many other constitutional and social practices. The speakers at the New York dinner realized the juxtaposition between the evils of Dickens' era, and the particular evils in the United States to-day.

For instance, Mr. Bainbridge Colby, who was Secretary of State in the Wilson administration, drew a parallel thus:

"Think of what he could do with Huey Long. What fun he would have with the recent filibuster in the Senate! Can you imagine him describing a Congress that sits and twiddles its thumbs from December to March and assures the country that it is impossible to do anything? What material a certain former sheriff and his tinbox would be for Dickens, or those twenty-two horses of the city which cost $87,000 for maintenance!

"I tremble to think of what would happen to the entire government of the United States if a Dickens were on its trail. I sometimes think that is what we need most, men of genius and courage to ridicule and expose the true conditions. If people had them shown to them in that light they wouldn't stand for it a minute."

The whole world to-day needs another Dickens. —St. Thomas Times-Journal.

THE POSITION OF BANKS.

Some light on the true position of the Canadian banks and their part in the business structure of Canada was given the House of Commons by George B. Nicholson, Conservative M.P. for Algoma East, during the debts on the Conservative Commonwealth Federation, says the Border Cities Star. He said:

"I have heard it said also, if my memory serves me aright, by the honorable member for Macleod (Mr. Coote), that savings deposits play no part whatever in the loans that are effected and the credit granted by banks.

"I took the trouble to find out what was the position of all the Canadian chartered banks on November 30 last, which is the latest date for which I could get complete returns.

"I found that the savings deposits of the Canadian people in the chartered banks on that day was $1,378,663,124, and the chartered banks in Canada had granted on that same day to corporations and individuals, commercial companies, merchants and all the people who were carrying on business, farmers and elevator companies for the movement of the grain crop in Western Canada, credits to the extent of $1,359,476,190, or within less than $20,000,000 of the total of the savings of the people of this country.

"That is how the banking business is done, and yet honorable gentlemen will say that all that is necessary for banks to do in order to provide this credit is to take a fountain pen and write the credit on one side of the ledger book.

"As I have stated, these balances with which the bank does these things, the currency out of which these credits are granted, are the savings of the Canadian people, and these are the savings that are to be confiscated. In addition to taking our homes under this dictatorship, they are to take our savings with them."

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The bigger the total of the Relief Fund the lighter the relief burden upon the taxpayers. That is an additional reason why all who are in a position to help should subscribe.

It is worthy of note that the man who wanted a weapon with which to shoot the President had no trouble in buying a revolver. Those deadly weapons are too easy to obtain.

The Ontario Government is not putting any impediment in the way of those who want to use their automobiles. The time for securing markers has been extended another month.

The ban on liquor shipments to the United States remains. However, it looks as if Uncle Sam will soon make such shipments legal by putting the Volstead Act completely out of business.

MURDER IN EDEN

CHAPTER 46

Rodolf Holmes was on the wire.

"I've got the road clear," he announced.

"How long will they be gone?"

"At least for a couple of hours—longer than that."

"Good. I'll be right out." Kane was almost shouting in his exhilaration.

He hung up and turned to MacQuarrie. "I'm going out to LeRoi's," he explained. "Do you wish to go with me?"

"But," the inspector expostulated, "you started to tell me who you think pulled these jobs."

Kane was getting into his coat. "Never mind about that now," he exclaimed. "I haven't any time to lose. Come on."

The older man shook his head. "Sorry," he said, "but I've got some things to do tonight. The convention's over tonight and I'll have to be getting back to New Orleans."

"I'll see you later."

He allowed MacQuarrie to leave the room ahead of him, then locked his door and started off on a half-run. The inspector watched him with mingled doubt and pride.

"I hope he's right," he muttered. "He deserves to win this one—and if he does he'll be the most famous detective in the world."

Kane lost no time in getting out to Beverly Hills. He leaped into a waiting taxicab at the hotel entrance, on edge, prayed for the driver to make more speed.

Dusk was falling when the machine finally halted in front of the little cottage. He paid his fare and fairly ran to the door. Holmes, his face marked with anxiety, admitted him.

"I had a pretty hard time getting them away," he said. "Nanette didn't want to go, but Lucy and Dorotha loaned me a hand."

"Well, they're gone," Kane snapped "That's the important thing. And there's much to be done before they get back."

"What are you going to do?" the actor demanded.

"Search this house."

"Look here," Holmes blazed, "if you think you're going to involve—"

"Listen," Kane cut him off, "four murders have been committed. Another one is in the making. I'm going to stop it and," with emphasis, "I'm going to grab that murderer and turn her over to the police."

"Her?" with bewilderment.

"Yes," shortly, "the murderer is a woman."

"But who—"

"Never mind about that now."

Without another word Kane turned to the task which confronted him. He gazed about the room for an instant, taking in his surroundings. Everything was arranged just as it was on the night that Nanette was shot.

The window was closed. The throne chair stood beside the window. The divan was against the wall, between the throne chair and the teakwood table. There were other articles of furniture arranged neatly about the room.

"How about Lucy Wilbur?" Kane asked suddenly.

"I don't understand."

"I mean just this, are she and Miss LeRoi very close friends?"

"Yes."

"Did LeRoi's enmity for Lillian Hull affect them?"

"None whatever."

"And Dorotha? What is her place in this household?"

"She is Nanette's secretary—well," he corrected himself, "Perhaps I should say that she is more of a companion. Why those two girls are just like sisters."

Throughout this colloquy Kane had been gazing about the room. Now he faced the other man.

"Holmes, did you know that Nanette LeRoi was paying blackmail to Richard Bailey?"

The actor went white and cringed at the words. "You—you mean—she's—he had—something on her?" he stammered.

"I mean that she was paying Bailey to keep the secret of her identity and her past," sharply.

"No," angrily, "I didn't know that. If I had I would have killed him."

His face became distorted with rage.

"It's too late now," dryly. "Some one else did the job for you."

Holmes drew his handkerchief and mopped his perspiring brow. The room, he thought, was beastly warm. He walked to the window and pushed it open.

With a cry of anger Kane threw himself upon him, knocking him to the floor. "Do you want to kill yourself?" he snarled.

At that moment a gust of wind caught the window and flung it wide. An ear-splitting roar filled the room.

The actor, with a cry, sank back on the floor. His face was white, his eyes were distended with fear.

"Now you see how Miss LeRoi was shot," Kane snorted. "And you nearly got it this time."

The amateur detective got to his feet and went to the window. He ran his fingers along the facing until they reached the hinges, then along the bottom for a few inches, until he found what he was seeking.

An exclamation of pleasure escaped his lips. The actor, who had arisen and stood behind him peering over his shoulder, grunted in surprise.

Kane drew a penknife and carefully cut a heavy black thread which was secured firmly to the lower curtain rod. Gingerly, he followed it across the room—it was dropped behind the top of the back of the divan out of sight and held in place by common pins which had been crooked into brackets—to the teakwood table.

Quickly, he opened the panel in the table, reached in and drew out a revolver. The thread was tied to the trigger. He reached in again and drew out two books, which had been placed in such a manner as to maintain the rigidity of the pistol.

The actor's eyes bulged almost out of their sockets as he took the weapon. "Why," he sputtered, "that's the gun I loaned Lucy Wilbur."

"When?"

"At the studio one day—I guess it was about a week ago. She was working in a murder melodrama and needed the gun."

"Why didn't she return it when she was through with it?"

"I—I don't know."

"I do," Kane said meaningly.

He dropped to his knees beside the table and peered into the opening. Presently:

"The gun was placed against one of those large worm holes and was aimed directly at the throne chair," he explained, "so that anyone who was sitting there would get the bullet."

"Why," Holmes exclaimed, "Nanette was sitting there when she was shot."

"I know it, but, luckily for her, the aim was bad that night."

Kane got to his feet. "Where did Miss LeRoi get this table?" he asked.

"Why—er—Lucy Wilbur and Lillian Hull gave it to her. They got it at the studio after it had been used in a picture."

"Lillian Hull?"

"Yes—she wanted it as a sort of peace offering. She was genuinely sorry for what she had done to Nanette—"

"And Nanette wouldn't allow her to be friends?" caustically.

Kane studied him for a moment, then reached in his pocket and drew out the dirk, which was still wrapped in his handkerchief. Carefully, he drew away the cloth.

Holmes started when he saw it.

"Did you ever see this before?"

Holmes wet his lips. "Yes," in a whisper. "I—I—gave it to—"

But he could not go on. He dropped into a chair and buried his face in his hands. Great sobs shook his body.

ALL OF US

JUST VANITY.

A family in the country owned a peacock, and this peacock was vain. He used to fly into a big cherry tree and look through a bathroom window into a wall mirror and admire himself for hours....Once while he was preening himself they pulled the curtain down and he was furious. Finally, they found an old mirror and attached it to a limb in the tree and thereafter he'd spend hours and hours in delicious enjoyment of himself.

Don't tell me that peacocks are not really vain. That peacock surely was, and I'm inclined to think that everything in life is inclined to like itself.

There's a period in life when young things, boys and girls, cannot pass a mirror—in the home or on the street—without looking to see how beautiful they are; or to suffer acute agony over their ugliness. Both excessive pride and excessive sham may be forms of vanity.

* * *

But after a while they learn to conceal some of their vanity. They discover that although all people are vain, hardly any of us wish to admit it. Narcissus was vain and spent his days looking in the mirroring brook, but he probably explained that he did it only so that the brook might see itself in Narcissus' eyes....So we conceal our vanity as much as we can.

There was a man who said, "I try to be humble and, after a fashion, I succeed. But I am never able to forget that I am being humble and I am usually proud of my humility."

And I know another man who said, "I'm the worst blankety-blank in all the world," and groaned in self-lacerating shame, but that's a kind of vanity, too.

This is the signature of a man who is guided by a strong sense of duty in all he does. His concept of duty is governed by feelings of personal pride, family tradition, civic responsibility and patriotism. Having once taken up a position on this basis he never deviates nor doubts but carries right through. He makes a strong leader for this reason. He makes his decision and carries it through resolutely. Because he is blessed with so much of this quality and is so capable of making things for himself he believes firmly in individual initiative and responsibility; it is the obligation of every man to help himself. He is imbued with a strong faith in discipline and without meaning to be unkind or unsympathetic is likely to be severe in judgment. On top of that he is reserved and not easy to know. But he can be certain of deep affection and loyalty from those whom he leads, if not on the instant, without doubt eventually when such have been given opportunity to observe how sincere his interest in and his concern for themselves. He would be cautious and wary in action, though essentially fearless. In money matters he would be prudent and careful.

Cadi's Hand Forced In Excise Act Case

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP)—Magistrate D. M. Brodie of Windsor had not another course open to him than impose both a term of imprisonment and a fine upon Arthur Whittaker, who pleaded guilty in the magistrate's court to a charge of having in his posession a quantity of spirits unlawfully manufactured, contrary to the excise act.

Such is the decision of Mr. Justice G. H. Sedgwick today upon a case stated to him recently.

Magistrate Brodie sentenced Whittaker to pay a fine of $200 and serve one month in jail In doing so his worship held that "he was without jurisdiction to do less or other than impose both fine and imprisonment by way of penalty."

Mr. Justice Sedgwick declares in his written judgment there can be no doubt an amendment to the Excise Act, enacted in 1930, takes away from the magistrate the general power conferred by the criminal court to fine or imprison in such a case.

SALARY REDUCTIONS

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir.—A few remarks with reference to salary reductions in all the departments that take the taxpayers' money to support them.

Your editorials along that line meet with the approval of practically everyone, and the letter by "Householder" and several others go to show the prevailing opinion is that salaries must be reduced at least 25 per cent. and even at that there is a bonus of 10 per cent. over the cost of living in their favor.

The employees of the city are not to blame for taking their salaries—it is right and proper for them to do so; but the authorities who are elected to handle the situation as they would their own—it is up to them.

The City Council should be the first to show the way by taking no salary this year. None of them are in dire need of it. Even with so small a sacrifice, it would show the right spirit for others to follow.

The estimates will soon be under way, with each department acting independent of the other; with the thought in mind to ask enough and then let the others do the objecting. This has been the rule more or less every year. The taxpayer sizes it up and has to accept the final decision, whether he likes it or not. However, this year we are looking for a real reduction in salaries and all grants eliminated, where it is not compulsory.

There is no need of telling us it can't be done, and have efficiency. How is it if the business were privately owned it would be done and that long ago. Those same men at the head of affairs have had to accept reduction after reduction and mighty glad to have a job to go to. Yet they are fearful of criticism from a few employees.

This is how the Citizens' Research Institute gives warning to municipalities: "Reduction of expenditures by Canadian municipalities is essential if taxpayers are to be enabled to bear their tax burdens. Reports so far received show a probable increase in tax arrears in many Canadian municipalities at the end of the year. The bulletin says: "This is a clear indication that the tax burden has become greater than many can bear. There is only one way to reduce the municipal tax burden, and that is to cut down municipal expenditures. If this action has not been taken in your municipality, see that it is done in 1933, by electing only representatives pledged to a program of sane economy."

The Bulletin notes that the per capita cost of municipal services in Canada rose from $11.36 to $27.56 per capita between 1913 and 1930, while the net increase in the index number of the cost of living in the Dominion between 1913 and 1932 was only from 100 to 136.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

TALBOT, SOLDIER AND COLONISER

On this date, in 1793, Colonel John Graves Simcoe and party who had marched from Niagara arrived at Lake St. Clair and were welcomed with a few de joie by the local militia, after which they crossed the river in boats, through floating ice to Detroit (then still in British hands) where "the guns of the fort fired a royal salute." Simcoe stayed at Detroit until the 23rd, reviewed the 24th Regiment, inspected the fortifications, looked at a warship in course of construction at River Rouge, held a reception of the inhabitants and conferred with Colonel England and Indian agent McKee.

On the governor's staff was Thomas Talbot, a young Irishman, of good family, who had been a lieutenant in the 24th Regiment at Quebec and had attracted the attention of Simcoe and made him his military secretary. That was Talbot's first visit to Detroit as a soldier; his second was with Brock in 1812, when that great military governor compelled Hull, with a much larger force, to yield possession of the city of the straits. Meanwhile, Talbot, after returning to Europe and fighting in Flanders, had literally turned his sword into a pruning hook, for he developed the greatest colonising project in the history of Ontario, the opening of southwestern Upper Canada to which, like Father Galinee, the Sulpician priest, more than a century before, had described as "The Paradise of Canada." He had sold his commission in the army on Christmas day, 1800, and made up his mind to settle in and develop Canada.

He had got an intimate idea of the country in his journeyings with Simcoe. Professor Fred Landon tells us that on one of those, while travelling along the north shore of Lake Erie, they came to a beautiful creek and Talbot, in his enthusiasm, declared "Here will I roost and will soon make the forest tremble under the wings of the block. I will invite, by my warblings, around me." In a very real way the prophecy was fulfilled for the Talbot settlers and their descendants of today, turned this forest wilderness into the finest farms.

Talbot did not get the land he wanted, that went to James Baby—but he took its neighbor. And on it he and his settlers and their descendants have built up St. Thomas and its prosperous surroundings. The years that followed were strenuous; settlers were brought in; roads were eventually laid out, eastwards towards Long Point, westward in the direction of the Detroit River, and northward to the Thames. Then came the war. Talbot again buckled on his sword, rallied the militia and went out to face the foe. In his absence his settlement was burned. Was it any wonder that thereafter Talbot hated the "Yankees?" Twenty odd years of peace were followed by the rebellion of '37-38; again Talbot became the soldier and played havoc with the "Rebels." But he was then near the end of the road. He lived until February 5, 1853, and was buried in the graveyard of old St. Peter's Church at Tyrconnell on the shore of Lake Erie, the huge slab describing him as "The founder of the Talbot settlement." Domineering, autocratic, even despotic sometimes, Talbot was yet at heart kindly and, privately, charitable. He was a product of his times, when landgrabbing was a sport of the favored class. Maybe when he crossed the great divide he found that some of those whom he had bullied in life were there too, with those whom he had helped also. He was a great soldier, a pioneer of empire and one of the builders of Canada.

CAR GOES THROUGH ICE THREE HAVE CLOSE CALL

WINNDSOR, Ont., Feb. 18 (C.P.)—Game Warden A. C. Jensen, his brother Merle and companion, Louis Gillitte, saved their lives by smashing the glass of their automobile and climbing to the ice in Lake St. Clair when the machine broke through.

The game warden had warned some American fishermen about the game laws, and was about a mile and a half from shore off Stoney Point when the car ran into honeycombed ice and plunged to the bottom in 10 feet of water

Efforts are being made to recover the car.

Grain Review

WINNIPEG MARKET.

WINNIPEG, February 18 (C.P.).—Practically at a standstill for many weeks, foreign demand for Canadian wheat suddenly burst into life this week, large shipments being booked for Continental Europe and the United Kingdom. Two cargoes also were sold to the Orient.

The Winnipeg grain market reflected this activity in the export field. Futures prices advanced buoyanaly, and finished the week mode than one cent higher.

May delivery closed the six-dav period, Friday at 48½, July at 49⅜ and October at 50¾; an all-round upswing of 1¼ to 1¼ cents.

Large export sales were made on each of the past four days, bringing the week's total to approximately 2,000,000 bushels. Most of this was sold from Vancouver.

Cash grains did not reflect the activity of futures. Trading continued dull and spreads closed the period again unchanged.

Coarse gdains also were quiet. Futures moved in sympathy with wheat throughout the week.

CHICAGO MARKET.

(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.— (A.P.) — New life has come into the corn market, and two reasons loom big.

Speeding up of United States' prohibition repeal action at Washington is one cause. Another is that United States' corn and Argentine corn have changed positions at Liverpool, and for the first time in several weeks corn from the United States is practically on an export basis.

Compared with a week ago, corn values this morning were exactly unchanged to 3-8 of a cent higher, wheat ⅛-½ up, oats ⅛-¼ down, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of seven cents.

Estimates are current that United States' winter wheat crop losses this spring may run to 30 per cent of the 39,902,000 acres reported as having been seeded last fall. Oats prices changes are apparently minus significance.

Provisions average lower in response to accumulating stocks of lard.

GARDEN PLAN WILL BE SHOWN IN LEGION HALL

Plan Won Immediate Acclaim at Dedication of Peace Garden.

TWO YEARS OF WORK.

Tribute of a great landscape gardener's genius to the comity of two nations, a plan of an international garden, suggested as the layout for the International Peace Garden, the site of which is already dedicated between Manitoba and North Dakota, is being exhibited next week by "K-K" in the Canadian Legion Hall.

The plan, which was viewed this morning by several interested citizens and which will be on view in the city for the greater part of next week, covers an area 31 feet 5 inches by 19 feet 6 6inches, and represents an international area of approximately 3,000 acres at a scale of 44 feet to one inch.

Representing two years of patriotic thought and industry, inspired by fervent devotion to an ideal of goodwill between two nations, the plan is a free gift by "K-K" to the organizers of the International Peace Garden fostered by the National Association of Gardeners, under the secretaryship of the original proposer H. J. Moore, of Islington, Ont., and with headquarters at 522 Fifth Avenue, NeNw York.

Dedicated in July

Announced as the greatest undertaking of its kind, the International Peace Garden was dedicated on July 14 last year at Turtle Mountain and straddles the boundary line between Manitoba and North Dakota. Members of the international committee sponsoring the inauguration included E. W. Beatty, Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, D.D., Hon. Athanase David, Hon. William R. Motherwell, Miss Idola St. Jean, Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., Senator J. Walsh and Owen D. Young. The opening ceremonies featured by all the pomp and ceremony that many nations could provide, lacked at the time one thing, this being official acceptation of a design by the International Peace Commissioners.

Present at the dedication was an idealist in the cause of peace among nations, "K-K" whose design, made under extraordinary, even dramatic circumstances, was exhibited on a platform 80 feet by 100 feet, and won immediate acclaim, not only by the public in general, but also by official representatives of the commission. It was "K-K's" 185th design—and his last.

Poignant indeed, is the story of the free gift to nations being shown for the first time to the people of Peterborough. Gripped by an idea, 'K-K' whose commercial slogan is creator of gardens beautiful, prepared for the dedication by devoting days and weeks and months and even years of valuable time to the making of the great plan that shoiud net him — financially—nothing. The offer to many nations to contribute plants, trees and herbiage to the first, forescent manifestation of international peace in history piqued him to the exertion of his utmost experience in different parts of the world with the result that, accompanying the plan, as an explanatory text, a slim, leather-bound "book of words' cleverly condensed from a great sheaf of manuscript.

Plan in Brief

Briefly the plan 'K-K has created is laid on the foundation of two roads, one running along the boundary line, the other intersersing it at right angles, running north and south. Inset in the broken stone paving are the words "International" on the one road, "Peace Garden" on the other. The letter A where they cross is the spot marked by careful geodetic survey as the dead centre of the 47th parallel.

A great disc, a quarter of a mile in diameter, a Garden of Peace, is centred around the letter A. Around it again are six gardens of similar dimensions, designated by such names as Truth and Honor and other attributes of the primal virtue of peace, and sown with herbiage indicative of their respective names.

To the south on the American side, luxurious gardens stretch, with approximate hosky dells and the gift sanctuary of many nations. To the north in the main, the supreme virtuosity of nature prevails, with the harmony of virgin timberland enhanced by judicious planting and subdivided by meandering pathways and lovers walks.

'K-K' will deliver lectures in the Legion Hall this evening and on Tuesday evening commencing at 8 p.m., where the plan is on view. He extends a cordial invitation to the various women's organizations, to each of the three service clubs, and members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society, etc.

Well Hidden

BRANTFORD, Ont., Feb. 18. —(C.P.)—Outdoor skaters who wish to hide securely their coats and shoes while enjoying the exercise may learn from a Brantford boy what not to do.

He took extra precautions to find a safe hiding place. When he returned not only had a new pair of shoes and the overcoat disappeared, but so had the hiding place.

The cache was a box car on the Brantford and Hamilton radial tracks, and while he skated on the canal the car was coupled and rolled away.

WANTS INQUIRY IN SOVIET CASE

Utah Senator Claims There is Considerable Propaganda Urging Recognition of Russia.

CAREFUL STEPS NEEDED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (C.P.).—A resolution for a Senate inquiry into matters bearing on recognition of Russia was introduced to-day by Senator King, Democrat, Utah. It set forth that a full investigation should be had before any steps toward recognition are taken.

The resolution said there is "extreme propaganda" urging recognition of the Soviet.

It proposed that the Foreign Relations Committee investigate "the economic, political and other conditions existing in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," including the attitude of that Government toward the United States. King did not ask immediate consideration.

The resolution went to the Foreign Relations Committee for consideration.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

(By Claude A. Jaggeh, Associated Financial Editor).

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. —(A.P.) — The stock market moved sideways in a quiet week-end session to-day. Scattered selling was largely offset by buying or short covering elsewhere in the list, with the result that price averages showed scant change. The close was barely steady. Tranfers for the short session approximated 300,000 shares.

Brokers said distress selling had practically vanished in the past two sessions, and there was a tendency among professional trades to cover short committments.

The weekly freight movement report, showing a gain of 16,128 cars over the previous week, was favorably received.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (C.P.)—The Standard Mining Exchange wound up the week with a dribbling market but with prices in all sections holding firm. Lake Shore and Pioneer in the high-priced group, stood out with small gains and the others merely held on while in the base metal group, Falconbridge was taken a little above the previous close. Nickel traded unchanged and Noranda was down slightly in quite active broken-lot trading.

Turnover in Lake Shore was good and the close at $36.75 was up 50. Pioneer was readily taken at $5.75 and McIntyre slipped about 15, while Teck Hughes gained 5 and Wright Hargreaves a couple.

All the medium-priced shares held within a cent or two of their close on Friday. Silver shares were unchanged.

Oil shares made no headway.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (C.P.) — While prices firmed on the Toronto Exchange to-day and the market closed with a liberal sprinkling of gains, volume continued at a low level. Boardroom opinion leans to the view that while the market is technically strong there will be no forward movement until the New York market can see some business improvement ahead.

Trading in the oil shares tapered off to-day, and while International Pete was strong, moving up 12, British American and Imperial merely held their position unchanged. In the utilities, Consumers Gas continued its rise, closing at 179 for a gain of ¾. Bell Telephone turned down again, closing at 88 and Montreal Power finished on the upside.

In the beverage and food stocks small losses appeared in Loblaw "A", Dominion Stores and Canada Vinegars. Brazilian dropped a fraction in the inter-listed section, but C.P.R. and Ford were unchanged and International Nickel up ⅛.

ROBB IS TOLD MASEFIELD WANTED NO APPOINTMENT

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 18 (C.P.).—Authorities of Queen's University have replied to Wallace Havelock Robb, well-known local poet, who protested against what he said was a slight in not being able to meet John Masefield, Poet Laureate of England, who was here this week.

University authorities said they had received a telegram from Mr. Masefield before he came here, asking specifically that no appointments of any kind be made for him and for that reason did not arrange a meeting with Mr. Robb.

KAISER'S WIFE VISITING BERLIN

Suspect Main Objective is Conference With Hitlerites and Old Nobility.

WANT MONARCHY.

LONDON, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—The Reuters News Agency correspondent at Doorn, Holland, tlegeraphed today that the former Kaiser's wife, Princess Hermine, left with a secretary for Berlin, with the announced object of opening a fancy goods fair there.

The correspondent continues:

"However, it is considered highly probable that the Princess will endeavor to effect meetings with leaders of the Nationalist Coalition (Hitler Government), others in Nationalist circles and former members of the nobility, who will be invited to a tea party, at which no doubt the actual political problems regarding possible restoration of the monarchy will be discussed."

The message states the ex-Kaiser is in excellent health, cutting wood daily.

Will Move Extension Blank Cheque Powers

OTTAWA, Fev. 18 (C P.)—Hon. W. A. Gordon has given notice of a resolution he will move Monday in the House of Commons to extend for another year the provisions of the Unemployment Relief legislation.

The relief measure has come to be known as the "blank cheque legislation," a name attached to it by Liberals because of its sweeping powers. It empowers the government to do almost anything to relieve unemployment and farm distress and it has been the medium through which the Dominion has co-operated with the provinces and municipalities.

The Labor Minister's resolution, similar to one introduced last year, would extend the legislation another year until March 31, 1934.

CERMAK HOLDING OWN

MIAMI, Fla.—Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, one of the five victims of bullets fired at President-elect Roosevelt, slept well and had a comfortable night, hospital attendants said at 7.30 a.m. to-day. Mrs. Joe H. Gill of Miami, also seriously wounded, was reported as "feeling much better" to-day.

Ghost Only Bunny Out of Bounds

GUELPH, Ont., Feb. 18 (CP) —That bumping noise a Guelph doctor heard at night, he decided, was a burglar. He arose and investigated timidly. No signs of a burglar.

The next day he found a number of articles had been chewed. "Rats," said the doctor; "Cheese will get 'em."

Then he reflected. Do rats chew up things? Perhaps it was a ghost, but do ghosts become hungry?

It remained for the maid to solve the mystery and ease the doctor's nerves.

Cleaning a room, she saw beneath a radiator what appeared to be a fur neckpiece. She stopped to pick it up and the neckpiece bounded across the room. She screamed and the doctor arrived.

Carefully he stalked the prey a big, wild, cottontail rabbit.

Relief Body Declines To Act—Gov't Steps In

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (C.P.)—The recently appointed Government Relief Committee at Sturgeon Falls has declined to act, Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, chairman of the special cabinet committee on unemployment relief stated yesterday.

A Government inspector would be appointed to take charge of the work which was intended for the committee of three, named a week ago, when the inquiry into relief disbursements was drawing to a close.

"The members felt that being citizens of Sturgeon Falls they did not wish to act," said Dr. Monteith. "We will appoint an inspector to take charge of relief in the town."

Unsettled Weather Hurts Clover, Wheat

STONEY CREEK, Ont., Feb. 18. (CP)—Mild weather during the day and frost at night, with lack of show as ground covering, is having its effect on clover and wheat fields in this section.

Farmers say many alfalfa and red clover fields are practically ruined now, the constant freezing and thawing pulling the plants out of the ground in many places.

Fall wheat has also suffered, especially where it had not good top and well-developed root system. Unless more seasonable weather comes during the next three months, the crop of Fall wheat and rye is likely to be short

GERMAN YOUTHS ENTER POLITICS

Hitler Encourages Movement With View to Future Votes.

FIGHT STREET BATTLES.

(By Walter Brockman)

BERLIN, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—Under the aegis of Adolf Hitler, German youth has entered the political arena with new enthusiasm. Hitlerism is staking its future in its youth movement and it is not difficult to conceive that if these youngsters were eligible to vote to-day there would be no question as to the outcome of the Reichstag and Prussian diet election March 5.

But youth of all political camps is fighting the street battles in the current campaign—becoming militant as Hitler prescribed long ago for the "salvation" of Germany.

"The assertions of Hitler leaders that the March 5 elections may be the last ever held in Germany and that in any event the chancellor will be able to overcome the opposition majority in the Reichstag and the Prussian diet may have some foundation in fact, for behind them is his popularity among the younger generation."

Mrs. J. H. Goldsmith was the guardian of the fish pond, which was a rendezvous for the younger set, and drove a flourishing trade in which was no depression.

According to the custom of former years a progressive euchre party was held in the evening with six tables played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Bruce Preston and Mr. Mendal Smith, and the consolation prizes by Mrs. E. Robertshaw and Mr. C. C. Stenner. The ladies of the W.A. were congratulated over and over at the success of this their annual effort, and which has come to be a real village institution.

Valentine Party

Miss Ione Sanderson entertained on Monday evening at a delightful Valetine party at her home on Strickland street. The evening was spent in games, contests and in dancing. The prizes were won by Misses Jean Millen, Greta McColl, and Elsie Kidd. The house was attractively decorated with the insignia of St. Valentine and the scheme was carried on in the serving of refreshments which were served about midnight. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Art Millen, Misses Jean Millen, Greta McColl, Nina Andrus and Jean Hammond and Messrs. Gordon Millen and Charles Mordan of Peterborough, and Misses Helen Burgess, Kay Wannamaker, Mary Davis, Elsie Kidd, Marion Payne, Marion Miles, Grace Watson and Marguerite White, and Messrs. Herman Kidd, Ralph Darling, Victor Lancaster, Kenneth Baird, Roger Davis, and Roger Wannamaker, all of Lakefield.

Guests at Manse

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Archer were hosts to the cast of the play "Sweet William," put on so successfully in January under the auspices of the Efficiency League. The party, which was a re-union of the producers and the cast, was held on Friday evening, Feb. 10th, and was a very jolly affair. The evening was spent in contests which were original and highly entertaining. A peanut race was won by Miss E. Blakely and Allan Gill; an adverting contest by Mrs. Archer and Robert Spence. Carroll Evans won the geographical contest. The company divided into groups and acted charades, using words of three syllables. This was very popular and dramatic talent, hitherto unsuspected, was brought out by the impromptu acting. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Archer, Misses Marion Miles, Etta Garbutt, Eva Hendren and Ethel Blakeley; Robert Spence, Carroll Evans, George Sherin, Allan Gill, Ralph Moore, Ralph Darling and Elwood Dunford.

Funeral of John Kemp

The funeral of the late John Kemp was held on Tuesday afternoon from his late residence, Clementi street, and was attended by a large number of friends. Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., officiated, speaking briefly from the last verse of the 23rd Psalm: "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever," laying especial stress on the last word, which unfolds a vista of endless joy in the presence of the great Father in heaven. Mr. Archer paid a tribute to the beautiful Christian life of the deceased for, like Enoch, he walked with God and delighted in his service. Two favorite hymns were sung.

The pall-bearers were Grattan and Emerson Kempt of Toronto (grandsons), Bert Ray of Warsaw, Archie and David Kemp of Keene, and Leonard Brown of Peterborough.

Interment was made in the Lakefield cemetery.

Mr. Kemp, who just lacked one month of his eighty-fifth birthday, had lived in or near Lakefield for most of his life. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp were married sixty-two years ago and their anniversaries and birthdays were always celebrated by a group of neighbors, who delighted in surprising the dear old couple, who had endeared themselves to young and old. These little neighborhood reunions were a source of great pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, who were the "Darby and Joan" of the community and who went down life's long road, lovers still. Mr. Kemp's high standard of honesty and integrity and his sincere Christian faith had earned for him the respect of his community and made scores of friends.

Mrs. Kemp is very ill and was not able to be present at the service. Mr. Kemp is survived by his widow, three daugthers, Mrs. David Keefe, Mrs. Frank Riche, Mrs. Sidney Emery of Rochester (all of whom were present), and one son, Herbert Kemp of Lakefield. A brother, William Kemp of Keene, also survives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp were among the oldest members of the Methodist (now United) Church of Lakefield.

McWilliams

The following refers to former residents of Lakefield, as Mr. M. H. McWilliams is a son of the late J. H. McWilliams and Mrs. McWilliams and is a brother of Mr. Walter Preston of Smith. The late Mrs. Matthew McWilliams was a sister of the late Mrs. John Bradgn of Peterborough and Mrs. Robert Junkin of Toronto:

"Mrs. Matthew H. McWilliams (nee Ada S. Jane Turner), died on Sunday at her home, 143 Lake Shore Road, Mimico. Interment was made in Park Lawn Cemetery after a private service at the house.

Mrs. McWilliams was a daughter of the late Dr. John Turner of Baltimore, Ontario.

PETER HEENAN SCORES PLAN OF RE DISTRIBUTION

than a big county council."

A Loss To Rural Ontario.

W. A. Anderson, ex-M.P.P., who was asked by the chairman, Vincent Eastwood, to address the meeting, enlarged upon this theme of Mr. Heenan's speech.

With approximately 20,000 people in Peterborough, and the indemnity to the local member of $2,000, the actual saving to the individual citizen by amalgamating the two Peterborough ridings would amount to only ten cents a year.

"They would save a few thousands that way but waste millions in other ways," Mr. Heenan interposed.

"I would give every county a member in the Legislature" Mr. Anderson continued, "on the same plan as the townships are represented in the county council. Some of the cities would be represented in the same way, and also Northern Ontario. This would not increase the membership of the House. But, I certainly wouldn't give Toronto fifteen members, or even twelve. The government proposed to reduce Peterborough's representation by 50 per cent, but Toronto's will be cut only 20 per cent.

If a candidate in Toronto gets the nomination that's all he has to do. It means he is elected. And after he is elected he has nothing to do. The President of the Conservative Association is the man who has the say. If you are a representative of the county of Peterborough many people come to you during the year for information and with other questions that have to be referred to the member; but in Toronto a citizen buys a street car ticket and goes up to Queen's Park, and looks after such things himself."

According to the reported plan of redistribution, Mr. Anderson stated that it was obviously against the interests of rural Ontario.

The Federal Field

Mr. Heenan said his visit to Peterborough was mainly of personal import, but wherever he went he liked to meet groups of Liberals and discuss with them questions of political and party interest.

After sketching the economic difficulties that confront the government of Canada to-day, Mr. Heenan said that people everywhere were seeking information and doing more thinking than ever.

"The Liberal party with its policies will bring about the needed reforms to-day more speedily than any other party I know.

We must have a more equitable distribution of wealth. We have got to develop the machinery to bring that about. We have allowed the present system to go too far.

One or two individuals preaching some new gospel are not going to bring it about, but our people of wealth must realize that to retain the position they hold they must help their fellow man to secure a new deal.

The people must be given their share of the advantages of mechanical inventions. There is a different ethical attitude in regard to the machine than there is with most other inventions. If a doctor discovers some new treatment of helping mankind, you don't find the doctors putting their heads together and exacting the last penny out of the human race. The ethics of their profession lead them to extend the benefits of their discoveries to the corners of the world, so that even the Hottentot is helped. They do not commercialize their discoveries. They realize that God gave man the inspiration, and through the agency of the profession its advantages should be for the whole human race.

On the other hand, if a man invents some machine that puts thousands of men out of work by its greatly increased mechanical production, it is commercialised by manufacturers and the whole community of people suffers. That must be curbed. If I thought there was some other party that could bring it about more quickly, I would belong to that party. I am not a Liberal just because of that name. Politics has no greater honor for me than I have already received as a member of the Dominion Cabinet and of His Majesty's privy council. My purpose is to be of some help to the people, and I am firmly convinced that the Liberal party is the only one that can be of the greatest use to the people."

Mr. Heenan said that the Liberal policies would be announced in the near future.

"And they will be promises of action that will be put into effect at the earliest opportunity," he added.

Mr. Heenan briefly reviewed the record of the Mackenzie King government, especially in its railway policy, and contrasted it with the present administration's policy.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a purer, more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs about one-fourth as much as ready-made medicine, but which really has no equal for breaking up obstinate coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to fill this big bottle. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

A Chat with Young Peterboro

ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 26.

ABOUT these things the Saviour did—stopping the storm, curing sick folks with a word, and the like. Some folks tell me they think the Saviour's teachings were all right, but they don't take much stock in His miracles. Well, I've seen those same folks swallow things from the papers that were lots harder to believe than the Saviour's mighty works. Old Nicodemus had it down right when he said to Jesus: "We know you have come from God to teach us, because no one could do the things you do unless God were with him."

No sir, the two go together, the Saviour's words and the Saviour's works. As I see it, the miracles are just the parables. The miracles are parables acted out. I could tell you a story or I could act it out. Well, Jesus gives sight to a blind man to show that He is the Light of the World. He gave life to dead people like Jairus' daughter to show that He is the Resurrection and the Life. I heard a minister say once that the miracles of Christ are the bell that God used to draw the people to church to hear the sermon.

I'm glad we have these stories of the Saviour's mighty works. Gospel wouldn't be complete without them. It's like this. You know it shows we can believe His words about salvation from sin. The there's power in the electric wires, but it's all covered up, you can't see the current. Somebody says he doesn't believe its there. All right. You cut the wire and put a bit of filament between the two ends! What happens? It begins to glow as soon as the power goes through it. The Saviour's miracles are like the bit of filament. They showed that the power of God, that made the world and all things, was in Him and in Him alone.—Young Canada.

WEEKLY BIBLE LESSON

(By REV. WYLIE CLARK, B.D., D.D.)

Jesus Teaching by Parables—Four Kinds of Hearers. Mark 4:1-20.

* * *

Golden Text: "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." John 15:8.

* * *

T is hard work to explain anything so that it will be understood. After many years of teaching I know this to be true.

During college days I often wondered why professors could not make clear what they evidently knew, and many times since I have worried over the fact that I could not make the people understand.

Jesus used the story to explain what He wanted the people to know. His parables, as recorded, are short and so simply arranged that, although they deal with the most difficult relationship of life, yet they are the last word in clearness.

Let us now look at this parable of the sower or, rather, of the Four Kinds of Soils.

Taking the parable as a whole, we have many things to look at and think about. There are the Field, the Sower, the Seed and the Harvest.

The Field requires to be fenced, cleared, cultivated and sown.

The Sower should be skilled, careful and willing.

The Seed needs to be good and clean.

The Harvest will be like the seed; but multiplied many times over.

Each one of these has a most interesting story to tell to any one who has ears to hear; but to-day we are concerned about the Field.

The Field which Jesus tells about had a beaten path running through it. There were parts of it where the rock came near the surface and left the soil very shallow. Other parts had thorns, which had not been removed.

The rest of the Field was good ground, well cleared and cultivated.

Into all of these some of the seed fell and tried to grow. We must not forget all the seed was the same—out of the one bag, and sowed by the same Sower. The responsibility was with the Field.

The hard pathway gave no covering, so the birds had a meal.

The shallow soil, with the heat of the rock underneath, gave a great start to the seed which fell upon it; but it had no roots, so it withered away.

The thorns were too much for the sprouting grain, and smothered it.

But the good ground measured up and produced a fine harvest.

Each one of us is a field into which the Seed of God's truth is sown. Let us take a look at our hearts and see what is happening to the Seed. If all is not well, let us get busy and do some cultivating.

BROUGHT BRITAIN FLU IN '89 VICTIM OF FRESH EPIDEMIC

"Should Have Been Shot" Friends Told Round-the-World Hairdresser

ENGLAND HARD HIT

Southampton.—Tom Starkey, the man who first brought influenza to Britain more than forty years ago, has fallen a victim to the present epidemic.

Mr. Starkey, now a gaunt, silver-haired man, who also won fame years ago as the "round-the-world hairdresser," was sitting huddled over a roaring fire when interviewed. A thick woollen scarf was wound round his neck.

"My goodness," he said, "I thought the world had forgotten how I brought the first flu to England. I have been unhappy about it ever since.

"Why, it was nearly half a century ago, and the policemen and people who spread the news that I was a flu victim on my landing here from France in 1889 are probably all dead.

Flu Is His Weakness

"Some people have told me since that I should have been locked up or shot at the time!"

Mr. Starkey's face lit up with a broad smile. "I told the doctors," he said, "that they have a lot to thank me for. I must have put thousands of pounds into their pockets.

"It was in 1889, when I was working in Paris, that that city was in the grip of a terrible new epidemic, and thousands of people were dying.

"I was congratulating myself on escaping it when I went down with it.

"I decided to hop off to England, and so I was carried to the boat on a stretcher and came back to my father's home, where I was nursed and recovered.

"Columns appeared in the papers about me, and now, after nearly half a century, I was hoping I had lived down that one dark deed of my life.

"When I fell a victim to the epidemic just recently it was the first day's illness I had since first bringing the flu to England."

Give Employees Rum Ration

England has been hard hit by the present epidemic. In Swansea, one-quarter of the population of 65,000 was laid up at one time with influenza. In Manchester 128 cases of pneumonia were reported in one week as a sequel to the flu. In Norfolk 100 schools were closed and 200 teachers were sick.

Rum and milk as a preventative was issued to employees twice a day at one Leicester factory.

The epidemic even reached the high seas. The Grimsby trawler Rehearo had just reached its fishing grounds when all the crew, with the exception of the captain and mate, were stricken. The boat was forced to abandon its fishing and steam 200 miles against a head wind to Aberdeen where three of the more seriously ill members of the crew were rushed to hospital.

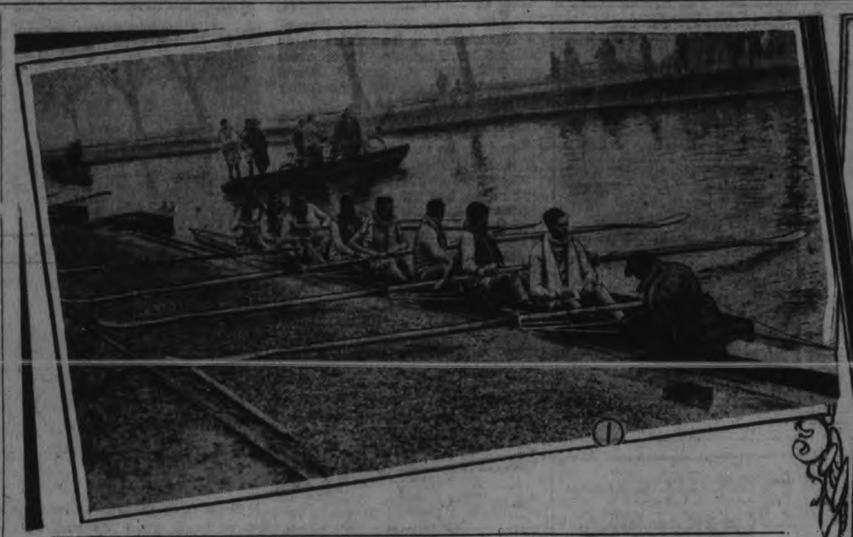
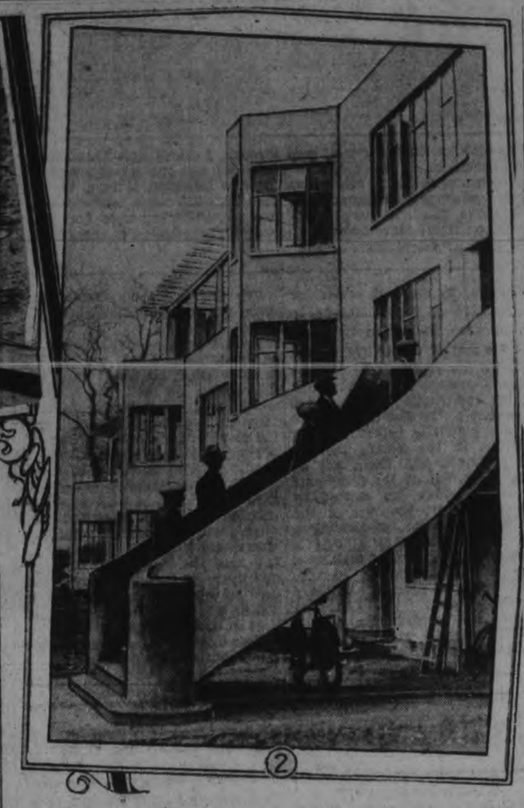
Overhanging Architecture Helped Butler in His Looting

London.—Arthur Green, 39, a butler who had been in one man's employment since he was a boy, met a temptation which falls to few in a lifetime—and he fell.

The place where he was employed was partly built over an older house next door. Green discovered that, by lifting the linoleum and a couple of loose boards in the floor of his room he could reach down and lift bottles of choice vintage off the racks in a wine-cellar of the other house.

This he did. The magistrate remanded him on being promised that restitution would be made.





ULTRA MODERN FLATS MAKE WEMBLEY DEBUT

A large number of small blocks of flats, built on "cubic" lines, are being erected at Wembley, Middlesex, Eng. Entrance to the flats, showing how windows designed to admit as much light as possible, is seen in photograph (2). The flats are so designed to step flat by flat from each end, providing a roof garden for each flat. In photograph (1) the Cambridge University crew, which have been putting in plenty of work on the Cam under Coach P. Haig-Thomas, are seen waiting to put out while the coach is taken across the Cam in a barge.

TRAMP 2,000 MILES QUESTING AFTER JOBS

Scot-Welsh 'Vagabond Lovers' Even Tried to Stow Away for America

London.—A young Scotsman, William Newell, and his twenty-year-old Welsh wife, Winifred Davies, arrived in London recently after tramping more than 2,000 miles over the highways of England, Scotland and Ireland in six months.

Following a Gretna Green wedding, they travelled the road between London and Scotland four times, getting lifts here and there, and helping with the harvest, "hopping," lifting potatoes, or cutting hedges.

"Then we struggled down to Dover," said Newell, "and tried in vain to stow away to France. From the south coast we trudged to the Mersey, and almost succeeded in stowing aboard a ship bound for America.

"A cook whom we tried to take into confidence gave us up, and we were rushed off the boat.

"We again crossed the border, and in Glasgow we were given £1 relief, with which, in spite of our hunger, we bought tickets for Belfast.

"I have been taken for an escaped Dartmoor convict," smiled the fair, blue-eyed Scot, "detained in connection with a lodging-house murder, and my life has been threatened more than once.

"We have slept in barns with rats running over us, and in a sty with pigs for company!"

These "vagabond lovers"—still as fond as ever—wonder what London has in store.

"We are both very weary, and want to settle down," said dark-eyed Winnie from Pontypridd. "We mean to make a great effort for work here this time, but if we are still dogged by ill-luck," she shrugged, "it must be the open road for us once more."

STOLEN STATUETTE OF VENUS JAILS NOTED CRIME-FIGHTER

Insurance Assessor Claimed He Bought Aphrodite Outside Buckingham Palace

FRIEND OF "YARD"

London.—A man stood in the dock at the Old Bailey, trembling violently from head to foot and clutching at the attendant warders for support when he was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment as a receiver of stolen property.

The convicted receiver was John William Bell, for many years one of the most prominent assessors in London—a man who was respected by Lloyd's underwriters, and who enjoyed the confidence of Scotland Yard.

Bell was the head of one of the most efficient unofficial crime-fighting organizations in the country. He employed three ex-detective inspectors of the C.I.D., as well as 20 clerks, in his offices in Fenchurch St. Special agents represented him in the great cities of Europe.

Insured for £20,000

Many of the greatest jewel robberies since the war were entrusted to him by Lloyd's underwriters for investigation. Settlement of insurance claims for great sums often depended on his report.

He was instrumental in the legitimate recovery of tens of thousands of pounds' worth of stolen property.

When it was alleged that he was trying to dispose of a stolen statue of Aphrodite, insured for £20,000, and other valuable works of art, there were senior detectives at Scotland Yard who could hardly believe the news.

The statuette, a Greek vase, a silver bust, and a Paduan bronze had been stolen last April from the home of Count Spetia di Radione in Kensington Court, London.

At one time they were supposed to be lying at the bottom of the Regent's Canal.

Eventually the statuette and the rest of the valuables came into the possession of Bell, who explained in the witness-box that he bought them for £1,500 from an "unknown man" he met outside Buckingham Palace. His object, he claimed, was to restore the articles to the owner and save the underwriters' money.

Be that as it may, Bell was lured into a trap by one Rothfield, who, following the assessor's arrest, obtained £2,500 reward for the recovery of the stolen property.

In imposing a jail term, the recorder also ordered Bell to pay not more than £200 toward the cost of the prosecution.

The broken man in the dock pitched forward. The warders caught him in their arms and carried him away to the cells.

Bell began life as a solicitor's clerk. He joined the navy during the war, and served with minesweepers. Demobolized, he set up as an assessor, and the delicate nature of his inquiry work made it necessary for him to maintain "channels of communication" with the underworld.

The rather portly Mr. Bell, a non-smoker and the most temperate of men, came to his office every day from a delightful home at Hove, where he spent a happy family life with his wife and nineteen-year-old daughter.

WEDDING MARCH AT FUNERAL

Bridport.—Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played by the organist at the funeral of Mrs. Marjorie D'Ombrain, wife of the vicar of Bradpole. It was Mrs. D'Ombrain's wish.

UPPER PART OF HOUSE BLOWN OFF BY BLAST

Aged Woman Hurled From Room to Stair Landing

Cambridge.—All the upper part of a house at Parkside was blown off by a gas explosion which was felt nearly a quarter of a mile away.

A ten-foot hole was blasted in the wall, and the street was so thickly strewn with debris that the police searched to see if any passers-by had been buried.

Pieces of chairs, window-frames and other furniture were hurled in the sky and rattled down on the road like a shower of shrapnel.

Miss Rebecca Edwards, aged 84, was blown from her room to a landing, where she was found unconscious by the police.

TURKEY WILL EMPLOY WOMEN AS DIPLOMATS

To Attach Them to Embassies in London and Washington

Istanbul. — Turkey intends to admit women to the diplomatic service very soon.

From being, before the war, one of the most backward nations in the world so far as the treatment of women was concerned, Turkey is becoming, under Mustapha Kemal, its soldier ruler, a land of real emancipation.

Girls who were born in the harem are now training for posts in the mercantile marine.

Next are to come the "Attachettes" posted to the leading embassies and legations of the world.

Washington, London and Stockholm are among the capitals to which the women diplomats would be sent.

Paris and Rome, owing to the lack of political significance of women in those countries, would be excluded.

Examinations for these diplomatic posts will at first be confined to girls who have male relatives serving Turkey abroad.

A bill to admit women to the service will be put before the Turkish National Assembly, and it is expected to be passed with little opposition.

COURT'S BLACK CAT ENDS MARITAL RIFT

Cruelty Charge Dropped and Couple Reconciled

London.—A black cat reconciled a husband and wife in Tottenham police court.

The woman had summoned her husband for cruelty. As she entered the witness box the cat jumped on the clerk's table, and the magistrate suggested it was a sign her married life might yet be happy.

"No!" said the woman. Reconciliation was impossible.

Then the cat leaped to the ledge of the witness box and rubbed its nose on the woman's hand.

The outraged wife's expression changed. "Well . . ." she murmured doubtfully. Her husband smiled.

The black cat left the court with them.

BLAZING-SHED SLAYER VOIDED INSURANCE?

Furnace Deliberately Took Life While of Sound Mind

London.—Payment of £3,000 of insurance policies may never be made to Mrs. Samuel Furnace, widow of the torch-slayer who murdered his friend, Walter Spatchett, later tried to conceal traces of the crime by cremating his victim's body in a blazing shed and finally committed suicide by drinking poison in prison.

Insurance companies are taking legal opinion as to whether, in view of the inquest finding that Furnace deliberately took his own life whilst of sound mind, Mrs. Furnace is entitled to any benefit.

Furnace's main insurance was for £1,000, payable at death to his wife, with an annuity of £100 a year for 18 years. He also had other policies.

BURST MAIN PERILS HOUSES

London.—Five houses on a steep hill in Blackheath were in danger of slipping away owing to a water main burst the other night. The occupants were ordered to leave.

50 YEARS IN SAME HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. George Syms, who recently celebrated their golden wedding, have lived all their married life in Kimberley Rd., Nunhead, S. E., London.

LITTLE MOTHER DEAD CAMDEN TOWN SAD

Took Charge of Family When Only Nine Years Old

London.—The "Little Mother" of Camden Town is dead. She gave her life for those she loved.

Betty Wilson was her name and she was only 14 years of age. Her home was in one of those drab back streets where there is little sunshine, but it was a happy home until her mother died.

Betty was then only nine, and to her fell the task of caring for her father, sister, and two baby brothers.

For three years she cooked, washed and sewed for them. Then her brave little heart gave way under the strain and she was taken to hospital.

ARMLESS MAN IS ARTIST

Uses Artificial Limb In Painting Delicate Water Colors

Leeds.—Although he lost both arms in the war, Brian Wade is achieving a reputation as an artist in water colors. Following some years spent on the lovely French Riviera and in Provence, he is back here surprising people by the skill with which he manipulates his artificial arm in the production of lovely and delicate landscapes.

ATTAINED "ROOF OF WORLD" WITHOUT CLIMBING ONE FOOT

Mount Everest Party Spends Quarter-Hour in Steel Death Chamber

Farnborough.—Six men have survived, in a chamber of death, the greatest test of human endurance ever devised.

They ascended to the summit of Mount Everest, and remained there for fifteen minutes, without having climbed a foot.

Scientists and doctors of the air ministry reproduced at the Royal Aircraft establishment here in Hampshire, the atmospheric dangers at the top of the world's highest mountain, which have already accounted for the death of 13 men.

The Marquis of Douglas and Clydesdale will shortly lead five men in an attack on the mountain from the air, while Hugh Ruttledge, with a band of a dozen skilled mountaineers, will attempt to conquer the mountain on foot.

Those taking part in these expeditions expressed their eagerness to undergo the most rigorous examination that could be imposed.

Paper Drops Like Stone

The "boxing marquis" and his fellow-adventurers were shown a steel circular chamber 20 feet long with a diameter of 13 feet.

Two of the greatest perils that the ascent of Mount Everest has to offer were reproduced in this chamber.

The six men entered the chamber, and within a quarter of an hour were living in the same atmosphere as is encountered at a height of 37,000 feet.

Air had been extracted by powerful pumps from the chamber, and the marquis and his men tested the apparatus with which they will overcome the lack of oxygen that exists in the air at altitudes above 15,000 feet.

The adventurers in effect "ascended" 37,000 feet without leaving the ground.

The sole slender links with life held by the men in the chamber for that 15 minutes were the tubes which conveyed life-sustaining oxygen to the masks through which they breathed.

All around them within the chamber was death in the form of an almost airless void.

The men consumed oxygen at the rate of one and a half gallons a minute.

As the air was being pumped from the chamber talking became difficult, for in such conditions sound can be felt rather than heard. A sheet of paper does not flutter to the ground, but, as there is not air enough to delay its fall, it drops like a stone.

An instrument recorded the progress of the "ascent" to be at the rate of, roughly, 2,000 feet a minute. The needle hovered for a moment at 20,000 feet, and the expert in charge of the tests passed notes every few thousand feet after that. They read, "Are you all right?" The men nodded.

The needle crept up, and outside the air exerted a pressure of 100 tons on the door of the chamber. This door is so heavy that it can only be opened and closed by mechanical means.

Other experts watched the progress of the test from outside by peering through the massive plate-glass portholes along the side of the chamber.

When the needle registered an "altitude" of 37,000 feet, electric lights five minutes later gave the signal for the "descent" to be made. The chamber was gradually filled with life-giving air, and the oxygen apparatus was switched off.

The sensation of high altitude is uncanny.

A number of those who underwent the test complained of slight pains in the stomach when 37,000 feet was reached.

Others said that when they coughed they felt as though the front of the body was made of thin leather, and that it was flapping against the backbone.

The men had previously been warned to leave their fountain pens outside the chamber, as the air in the pens would force the ink out after 20,000 feet had been "reached."

PEER'S SISTER FINDS SHE IS JUST ALIEN

Lost British Status Without Gaining U.S. Citizenship

London.—The Hon. Mrs. James Beck, sister of Lord Glenconner, has petitioned the home secretary to recover her status as a British subject.

She has discovered that, as a result of her marriage in 1923 to J. M. Beck, son of the former solicitor-general of the United States, she is "deemed" to be an alien under English law, while the United States do not recognize her as a subject of that country.

Mrs. Beck, therefore, although the British-born daughter of a peer and the mother of the heir to another peerage (she was previously married to the Hon. Lionel Tennyson, now Lord Tennyson), has become a woman without any nationality.

$100,000 PANELS IN STORAGE

London.—The sixteen panels painted by Frank Brangwyn, R.A., for a fee of £20,000 as part of the peers' war memorial in the House of Lords, are now languishing unseen in a storeroom at Ken Wood, Hampstead, but the possibility of showing them to the public is being considered, if a large enough hall can be procured.

WOOD-IRON CHURCH IS LEFT FOR GOOD

Golden Key Opens Fine Baptist Edifice in Highland Capital

Inverness.—A thirty-three-year-old dream was realized at Inverness when the new Baptist church—of which the foundation stone was laid last July—was declared open by Rev. Alexander Bremner of Dumfries, who unlocked the door with a key of gold.

Ever since the formation of a Baptist congregation in the Highland capital the need for a suitable church has been ever in mind. From a small room in Church St. they removed to a wood and corrugated iron erection in Friars Lane, and now they are housed in a beautiful new church in Castle St.

It is understood that the total cost was £4,000 and that there is a debt remaining of £1,800 to be cleared off by donations, etc.

SAFETY-FIRST BOWLER AGAIN FAVORED HAT

High Court Judges and Scotland Yard Help Revival

London.—The bowler hat has made a strong come-back this season, a check-up showing that out of every ten hats worn in Bond St. six were de-bies. At the stock exchange, 60 per cent. of the brokers and their clerks also had bowlers. High court judges and Scotland Yard detectives almost all followed the same style.

In the case of the Yard men, the predilection may be explained by the fact that the bowler is regarded as the "safety first" headgear. London hatters often have dented and battered bowlers sent back to them by their grateful clients with a note: "This is the hat that saved by life."

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS FROM FAR CORNERS OF THE WORLD

FRENCH 'SCHOOL' OF CRIME COACHED PUPILS BY MAIL

Cofrespondence Course Included Tips on How to Mislead Police

FEE $50 TO $500

Marseilles.—Following three arrests here the police have discovered an international correspondence school for teaching up-to-date methods of law-breaking to its clients.

Complete correspondence courses in burglary, altering and forging cheques and banknotes had been prepared in five different languages, and the "school" had on its books several hundred pupils in different parts of the world who were receiving monthly lessons in return for fees varying from $50 to $500 for the complete courses.

One section of the school offered tuition in the methods of the American gangster, specializing in "sticking-up banks," and for the guidance of the burglary section hints were given on how to avoid leaving behind finger-prints when "operating," and the claim is made also that it is possible to mislead the police by leaving the wrong finger-prints.

One of the men arrested, Luigi Zacchoni, a Corsican, is quoted as boasting that he could carry out a burglary and leave the finger-prints of a bishop to mislead the police.

One circular, ready for sending out, offered an attractive insurance scheme to protect criminals against the risks of their calling and to ensure counsel being briefed for them when they fell into the hands of the police.

The service also included complete instruction in the forging and alteration of passports and identity papers of all kinds.

Where correspondence courses were not suitable, pupils were offered residential tuition in any branch of crime and a practical course in burglary, including a chance of operating in any country of the world under the eyes of the best exponents of the art in that country.

FREE MOVIES GIVEN WARSAW UNEMPLOYED

But Polish Plan Includes Sociological Lecture

Warsaw.—Acting through a special committee, the Warsaw town council has decided to open moving picture houses for the unemployed, men and women, in the city.

Every workless, on producing his unemployment card, will be admitted into the "theatre" at least once every week free of charge. The cost will be defrayed by the town council. Each show is to be accompanied by a lecture on social subjects, delivered especially for the down and out by university professors and social workers.

This decision is a result of a report drafted by a committee investigating the moral standard among the unemployed. The committee advised the authorities to use the cinema as a weapon to fight the demoralization which unemployment is causing among the workless.

ITALIAN ARMS SENT JUGOSLAV REFUGEES

Big Shipments to Hungary Reported to League

Geneva.—Full agreement has now been reached by the governments of Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Roumania (the Little Entente) about the complaint to be made to the League council in relation to an alleged violation by Austria of article 118 of the Treaty St. Germain.

The three governments have ascertained that forty-seven railroad wagons containing 65,000 rifles and 200 machine guns were sent from Italy to Austria in December. Ten wagons were subsequently smuggled into Hungary.

Inquiries are reported to have elicited the fact that all those arms were to be distributed to Croat refugees (Jugoslav subjects) in Hungary.

SHEIK FINDS NEW WIFE IS HUSKY YOUNG MAN

Blames French Government for Trick Played Upon Paris Agent

Constantine, Algeria.—Ibrahim Ben Ali, a native chief of great power, is threatening war against France unless all the members of the French cabinet in full dress apologize for the insult to which, he feels, he has been subjected.

A few months ago he wrote to his representative in Paris expressing his desire to add a beautiful French girl to his harem. His agent inserted an advertisement in the Paris papers, and received 1,200 replies. After careful examination, one of the applicants was selected. "She" was received with pomp at the Moroccan's palace. But before Ibrahim had a chance to see "her," he had an attack of 'flu. Some weeks later, when he recovered, he wanted to meet the girl. To his consternation he discovered that "she" was a strapping 26-year-old Frenchman.

Ibrahim is especially angry to think that the young man has been in his harem for five weeks. He thinks the French played a joke on him, hence the ultimatum.

FRENCH ARE SLIMMING

Paris.—A Parisian film producer wants to secure a dozen men of wide girth to take part in a screen adaptation of M. Henri Beraud's book "The Martyrdom of Obesity". He says he has been seeking for twelve fat men for three weeks, and he has not yet found more than three in all of Paris. Frenchmen have ceased to grow fat, he complains. Unless the twelve extra fat men come forward within a few days, he is going to abandon the picture.

CLAIMS FRENCH HUBBY BEST

Paris.—The Frenchman is described as a model husband, better than the husbands of all other nations, by an authority here. "Criticized on all sides," it says, "he is in reality the pearl of husbands."

BRANDY STEAM BATH FINDS MANY PATRONS

Hungarian Liquor Merchant Treats Rheumatism

Vienna.—The only brandy steam bath in the world is in the little village of Ecsed, in Southwestern Hungary. The owner is a big wine and liquor merchant, who cannot sell his goods at a price which would pay transport expenses, and has hit upon this original idea for using his surplus stock.

He has bought an old Russian bath, and has placed wine instead of water in the baths. Brandy fumes instead of steam fill the hot rooms. The brandy baths are said to be good for rheumatism, and are visited by tourists and the local peasantry.

COMMUNISM UPROOTED JAP POLICE ANNOUNCE

Report 2,000 Arrests, Including Women of Prominent Families, in Big Raid

Tokio.—Communism has been uprooted in Japan, according to a lengthy announcement by the police.

This was accomplished by a big and carefully-prepared drive. Detectives accompanied by their families threw off suspicion by taking rooms in a hotel overlooking the chief resort of the Communists.

Protected by bullet-proof vests and helmets, a hundred police officers made a raid at daybreak on the Red resort. They encountered armed resistance and several were wounded on both sides.

Over 2,000 people in all were arrested as the result of the raid. They included the national leaders of the Communist movement, Japanese who had returned from Moscow, jurists, professors, clerks and workmen, as well as women members of prosperous families, who contributed money to the movement. Communist funds, it is stated by the police, were also obtained from bank robberies.

HUNGARY'S FIRST PRESIDENT PRIEST GETS YEAR IN JAIL

Returns From Exile and Is Seized for Criticisms Written in 1920

Vienna.—Crowds pressed round a 73-year-old Catholic priest, who had once been head of the Hungarian republic, and fought to kiss his hands when he was sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the Budapest courts.

He was Father John Hock, who in the Hungarian revolution of 1918 was elected president of the Hungarian parliament.

And his offence was that—12 years ago!—he had written a series of articles criticizing the present regime, which had then begun, and its head, Regent Horthy.

It was before Father Hock that the archdukes of the Hapsburg family swore the oath of allegiance to the Hungarian republic, and since its fall and the re-establishment of a monarch-less monarchy, they have sworn to have their revenge on him.

After living in exile for 13 years, Father Hock, who is growing old and weary, returned to his native land a few nights ago, hoping he would be forgiven for the sake of his old age and as a priest.

He was, however, pitilessly thrust in a prison cell as soon as he arrived.

So strong has been the agitation for his pardon that he was set free immediately after his sentence, till the question of a reprieve has been decided.

BUILD NO MORE JAILS

Sydney.—No more jails are to be built in New South Wales, Minister of Justice Martin having declared them obsolete.

This is because of the success of prison honor camps, where convicts have been graded by intelligence, sent to forests and given hard work and ample food.

A greater percentage than formerly "go straight" after release, and the camps, moreover, are cheaper to run than penitentiaries.

ESTHONIAN EXECUTED BUT STILL SURVIVES

Chooses Poison, But Strong Dose Fails to Kill

Tallinn, Esthonia. — The highest court of Esthonia has a puzzle to solve. A murderer was executed, yet he still lives.

Under the Esthonian law a convict sentenced to death may choose the method of execution. He may be shot, hanged, or poisoned. This murderer chose poison. A doctor prepared a strong dose and the prisoner drank it. Though he fell very ill, his constitution was very strong, and he survived the effects of the poison. He is now well again.

As the law does not permit a man to be executed more than once, it is up to the supreme court of Esthonia to decide the murderer's future.

RICH RACE-HORSE MAN SYMPHONY CONDUCTOR

Owner of Diomedes Dropped Baton at First Hurdle

London.—A rich young owner of racehorses conducted the London Philharmonic orchestra at Queen's Hall the other night.

He was Sidney Beer, who is 33 years of age, and has owned 100 horses, including Diomedes, for which he refused an offer of £30,000.

It is said that he sold valuable horses to devote himself to music.

At the Queen's Hall concert he was as much at home as he would be at Epsom, after a little nervousness at the start, when he dropped his baton—but recovered it quickly from a grand piano on which it fell.

Wagner said a conductor's job was to "set the pace and find the tune." Mr. Beer's pace-setting was of the tiptop order.

He was educated at Uppingham and Oxford.

READY TO KILL SELF IF SENT TO RUSSIA

But "Prince" Jailed and Recommended for Deportation

London.—A man who claimed to be a Russian prince and who declared that he hated the Soviet and would kill himself if he were sent to Russia was sentenced to a month in jail and recommended for deportation recently in Bow St. police court.

He was described as Stig Erikson Stenfelt, naval engineer, of uncertain nationality.

Detective-Sergeant Fury said that the man claimed that he was Prince Dimitri Troubetskoy, and as it was difficult to prove that he was not. He had been a friend of a woman whose father was a wealthy man of title and he had been trying to obtain money from her family.

BISHOP OF LONDON 75 STILL PLAYS HOCKEY

Tennis, Squash Rackets, Golf Among Other Relaxations

London.—The Bishop of London was 75 the other day and celebrated his birthday with a dinner for 22 old friends and by telling an interviewer something of his active life:

"I have played two rounds of golf on my holidays, as well as getting in four hockey matches with school boys—my side won—also daily walks, tennis and squash rackets," said Dr. Ingram.

"But more important than being known as the Sporting Bishop is that I answer a hundred letters a day, give twelve interviews to visiting clergy from all over Britain, attend to numerous conferences, and preach five times a week."

KEPT WIFE'S MUMMY IN A FLAT

Berlin.—The Hanover police have discovered that a chemist had kept the dead body of his wife in his rooms for the last ten months, having mummified it. The body has now been buried, and the chemist taken to an asylum.

DARING PILOTS BRAVE WINTER TO CARRY MAIL

Pilots in Northern Canada Brave Deather to Deliver Mail.

RAGING BLIZZARDS

By JAMES MONTAGNES,
Cent..l Press Canadian Writer.

It's only a letter from home. Just a word about the old folks; maybe it contains tragedy, perhaps happiness. It may only tell of the homely activities in the home town; or it may bear the sorrowful tidings of mother's death.

Be what tidings they may, that letter must be delivered. Whether it be within the confines of a large city—or far off in the icy wastes of Canada's Arctic.

When the Government disbanded the air mail service, it left but a fragment. Only a few pilots—one or two planes.

But these few pilots and their beloved "busses" are writing pages into the colorful book of Canada's history.

They are the men who deliver the mail to the far-flung outposts in the snow-covered, isolated Canada that is north—north too and past the rim of the Arctic circle.

Blizzard, snow, wind, sleet, fog, temperatures that hover around thirty and forty below zero all winter long, do not deter Canada's Arctic air mail.

That letter must be delivered — even if life itself must be sacrificed.

All through the long Arctic night these daring flyers fly. Their landing fields are a barren waste of ice and snow—treacherous, unsafe; their safety rests with Mother Nature. If she is kind they are spared, if she is violent . . . .

From the end of steel—far north in Alberta at McMurray — 1,800 miles north they go, 200 miles nearer the pole than the Arctic circle. They fly farther north than any mail service in the world; they have changed a bi-annual postal service into a weekly service.

It is under conditions such as these that Pilot "Wop" May and his adventuresome crew of pilots, engineers and mechanics endeavor to get the mail through.

On their life-risking trips into the hinterland they carry letters, books, newspapers, magazines, parcels—even freight.

Once Pilot May decided that the Christmas mail must go through. He took off in the face of weather that spelled blizzard—dark and foggy.

Before many miles he was forced to return. The storm grew worse. There was a day's delay. Pilot May made up his mind that the mail would be delivered regardless of storm—regardless of life.

Next day with the storm at its height he took off again. This time he forced his plane through to the next fort, delivered his burden and returned to meet the last load of mail from the south.

This must go on—storm or no storm.

Two more planes went out into the raging blizzard. On and on they flew into the teeth of the gale.

Suddenly one of them faltered; the engine died, and the plane fluttered to the snow-covered earth like a wounded bird. The other plane landed beside it.

Off the pilots trudged to Fort Norman, two miles away. The temperature was 45 degrees below zero.

They made the fort in time for Christmas eve dinner; sat around the big hall with the rest of the boys and enjoyed the music of a Chicago dance orchestra—by radio.

After dinner they trudged back to their planes. With only the aid of an electric torch they worked in the almost unbearable weather and succeeded in repairing a metal throttle which had cracked with the extreme cold.

They returned to the Fort with feet and hands frost-bitten — the penalty of their duty.

Sometimes these planes carry other loads than mail. They flew the administrator of the North West Territories to Edmonton from Fort Fitzgerald on the Slave River, when he was dangerously ill. They had him in Edmonton in five and a half hours. He owes his life to those pilots.

And just at the most dangerous time of the year, the freeze-up, one of those planes winged its way with some mail, a trapper, six husky dogs, sleigh traps, ammunition, food, etc., to Baillie Island along the Arctic coast, so that the trapper could get in to his territory before the snow fell and the mail could be delivered to this lonely spot where a mounted police detachment and a fur trader are stationed.

To push back the frontiers of civilization, to make it easier for the pioneers of the northland to live, to keep the north in touch with the rest of the country, these are but a few reasons why the Canadian Government is flying the mail to the Arctic Ocean winter and summer. To aid these people who are gradually becoming more numerous in the north, the air mail is flown, and flown not at excess rates, but at the same rate for which letters are carried by train throughout the rest of the Dominion. The cost of sending a letter from Aklavik to Florida is the same as the cost of mailing a letter from Montreal to Florida. Three cents an ounce, ordinary first-class rates; the Canadian Government's contribution to the comforts of those who are the pioneers of the northland.

Thrilling are the stories that come out to civilization about the value of the air mail service and especially the planes that take it in to the country. There was one day in June when all along the 1,800-mile course the mail was delivered within twenty-four hours. At thirteen posts along the water route the plane with its royal crest of His Majesty's Mail stopped, left a bundle of bags, and flew on again from his water landing-place. One thousand pounds of mail were distributed that day from 5.50 a.m. when the plane took off from McMurray till it landed at Aklavik at 2.50 a.m. the next day. Twenty-one hours to cover a journey that used to take weeks by dog sled in winter and more than a week by boat in summer time.

What Of The Arctic Mail?—It Must Go Out

Canada's northern air mail goes through, hazards notwithstanding. Above shows one of the aeroplanes frozen solid in the ice, this picture being taken at nearly 60 below zero. In the CENTRE is Pilot W. W. Sherlock of the service. Canada's air mail flies 200 miles north of the Arctic circle. The little lad at LEFT is a young Eskimo from Fort Resolution on Great Slave Lake who looks with amazement at these huge birds that fly all winter.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 18.—Wheat prices fluctuated erratically on yesterday' session of the Winnipeg grain market, profit-taking erasing earlier strength caused by continued foreign demand for Canadian wheat. With trading lively throughout, values finished unchanged to ⅛c lower.

May future moved within a 1c range, to close at 48½c, July at 49⅜c, and October at 50⅜c.

For the fourth successive day sales of wheat for overseas export were announced. The amount sold was difficult to ascertain, however, estimates ranging between 500,000 and 1,000,000 bushels.

Offerings are Light.

Coupled with early lightness of offerings, this support sent values sharply upward until foreign orders had been filled. Traders then displayed a tendency to take profits, and futures prices moved erratically until near the close, when further export induced a rally, prices finally closing practically unchanged. Sentiment to the market generally again remained friendly yesterday.

Cash and coarse grans continued the even tenor of their way, closing another quiet session practically unchanged.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL— Butter continued to move higher on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

Although demand was not so brisk as during the past few days, strong sentiment in other Canadian markets enabled butter to advance ¼c today. Car lots or less of No. 1 grass make were quoted at 23c to 23¼c a pound. To retailers, solids were quoted at 24c and prints at 25c a pound. Receipts were only 17 boxes.

In sympathy with the upturn in butter prices, cheese quotations were ¼c higher at 10c to 10½ a pound for fresh or recent make Ontario colored. Early Ontario colored was unchanged at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Small quantities of current Ontario white were quoted at 9c a pound. Receipts were 50 boxes.

Egg prices were again lower, a decline of 1c to 2c being recorded. Fresh graded extras and firsts in car lots or less lost 2c at 23c to 24c and 21c to 22c, while seconds were off 1c at 19c a dozen. To retailers, eggs in cartons eased 1c to 2c. Receipts were 994 cases.

Potatoes lost 5c. Brunswick Green Mountains selling at 85c to 90c per 80-pound bag and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains at 85c to 90c per 90-pound bag.

ONTARIO GRAIN

Appriximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 43c to 45c; oats, 23c to 24c; barley, 32c to 35c; corn, 33c to 35c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat 26c to 29c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Corn prices ran briskly upward a cent a bushel yesterday and rural holders seized the chance to realize cash on the largest business this season.

Likelihood that the House of Representatives at Washington would give quick approval Monday to the prohibition repeal bill which passed the Senate yesterday was largely responsible for the action of the corn market. Proposed legislation to facilitate manufacture of alcohol for automobile use acted also as a strengthening influence on values.

Corn closed firm, but at some set-back from the day's top, ¼c-⅜c above Thursday's finish, wheat unchanged to ¼c up, oats ¼c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

BETWEEN BOOK ENDS

"THE LAST ADAM" by James Gould Couzzens, 1933. With the publishing of his "S.S. San Pedro," that unusual sea novel which won the $5,000 Scribner's Magazine Prize last year, it was apparent that Mr. Couzzens was a young man—he is still under 30—to watch. He gave promise of fine things. And "The Last Adam" now partly fulfills that promise. "The Last Adam" presents the panorama of a small Connecticut town, a scene with which the author is apparently intimately acquainted. Amid a host of finely draw characters, the elderly town doctor stands out sharply as principal figure. Dr. George Bull, robust, lusty and individualistic, has little use for modern medicine; using "horse doctor" methods, liberal dosages of castor oil and bluffness. He also lives with little regard for the wealthy and aristocratic Bannings, the political power of Matthew Herring and other townspeople. But, although lackadaisical in the performance of the duties of Town Health Officer, Dr. Bull, on the sudden outbreak of cholera, works himself to the bone, sparing no one. The town stirred by sullen animosity turns on the hale old practitioner and the last part of the story quivers with intensity.

Living people animate this story—the Bannings, Mrs. Banning, Mr Banning, Virginia Banning, a determined young woman of 16, and Guy, the son from Harvard, Judith Cardmaker in her masculine garb and power—up behind Cold Hill—the rude contruction gang, the telephone operator and the small town shyster politician. This is a most varied collection of characters, all well observed and deeply understood, passing through melodrama, sentiment, broad humor savageness, death; and well founded on a keen appreciation of nature, her ways, and on man and his, and written by an author with a brilliant narrative talent—technique here reaches its epitome. Mr. Couzzens is one of the authors of this coming decade and we would do well to expect his next book.

Unusual, although fully deserved, is the present popularity of the season's better plays in their book forms. So much so that this week the publishers were forced to hang out the S.R.O. sign while they rushed through another large printing of "Design for Living," Noel Coward's suave comedy which with Coward, Lynn Fontaine and Alfred Lunt in the leading roles, is presently titilating the East. Coward's sensational "Cavalcade" has already sold to thousands in both English and American editions and now has been reprinted in a $1.00 edition—that supreme laurel wreath which the Reading Public bestow. George Kaufman's "Dinner at Eight" with Edna Ferber co-operating, has raised a spontaneous shout of recognition from all those who already know his Pulitzer Prize winner, "Of Thee I Sing." "Dinner at Eight" is as virulent a social satire as its predecessor was poisonous to politicians, although Miss Ferber has added a depth of rare human understanding. And then Clemence Dane's "Wild December" and Beverly Nichols "Evensong" afford more serious entertainment, while much discussion still froths over Thornton Wilder's translation from the contemporary French play of "Lucrece," which is in turn derived fairly directly from Will Shakespear. Kathrine Cornell is playing the part of the Roman matron in Mr. Wilder's translation, you will remember.

"INTERPRETATIONS," 1931-1932 by Walter Lippman. In an age marked by a lack of adequate leadership and consequent public bewilderment, the figure of Walter Lippman stands out as an American phenonemon. With his daily column in the New York Herald-Tribune and 112 other key American newspapers, Mr. Lippman speaks directly to the largest public of any publicist in the world. In his daily column he strives to find his way through the difficult problems which confront us all. He reports his opinions and suggests solutions. His range is amazing, and considering that he does not confine himself like a specialist, to foreign affairs, national finance or other groups of facts in the general complex of to-day, it is remarkable not only how right his judgment usually is but how he has been able to discern the trend of events before others have. He does not dogmatize; he makes no pretence at infallibility. His mind moves simply along intellectual lines, as if he were doing an arithmetical problem. This makes his articles singularly clear. It is this training of his public to reason unemotionally that is one of the most valuable services Mr. Lippman is rendering. On the top of this Mr. Lippman is non-partisan and is probably as unbiased as it is possible for a human mind to be. It was no mere accident that the New York Herald-Tribune, a strong Republican organ offered Mr. Lippman, fresh from the editorship of equally strong Democratic organ, this opportunity of a daily public.

"Interprettions, 1931-1932," is a selection of articles which have appeared in the famous daily column. In these is apparent none of the professional crusader nor the carping critics, but the sanity of a balanced mind. It is a splendid presentation of a free intellect playing over the problems of the time; without prejudice or passion, and which has won for itself a commanding position in the nation's respect. Mr. Lippman at the age of 43, is now at the height of his influence and power and "Interpretations" amply demonstrates the reasons why.

PLANE BRINGS REPAIRS.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 17 (C.P.)—Though Algoma and the North Country have progressed in the matter of transporation during the past half century, and motors and airplanes now make light of long distances that formerly were navigated under trying conditions, as yet members of the Northern Development Staff, the Forestry Branch and Dr. J. E. Gimby, of the Sault are unconvinced present day locomotion is one whit improved when Winter seals the highways and canoe routes.

A badly battered crew of the Northern Development Branch has reached the Sault with a tale of trying experiences.

Starting from the city Saturday afternoon to open the road 50 miles north to Batchawana and take in much-needed relief supplies, a tractor, snow plough and sleigh occupied five full days on the trip, bringing in with them Thomas White, well-known lumberman, suffering from influenza and in the care of Dr. Gimby.

The road was blocked by drifts in some cases 15 feet deep. By strenuous effort, travelling all night, the party reached the Sunset Inn beyond the Ohippewa River, five miles from their destination, on Sunday night. They slept in the tractor the preceding night. Here the tractor failed.

Continue on Foot

Realizing the necessity of reaching the sick man, Dr. Gimby and a member of the party took to the ice and managed to reach Batchawana in an exhausted condition after making less than a mile an hour through the huge drifts, and in the face of a roaring blizzard. They sent a telephone message to the Sault and a plane of the Forestry Branch made the flight to the tractor, bringing gas and equipment for repairs that permitted the caravan to reach Batchawana village Monday night.

The return trip was even worse than the outgoing one. The party slept in the tractor at night, and the doctor devoted every minute to his patient. The Sault was reached early yesterday, and White is now resting easily at the hospital with assurance by Dr. Gimby he will recover.

SUPPER CLUB HEARS HEENAN

Hon. Peter Heenan Addressed Friday Night Supper Club.

VALUE OF EDUCATION.

In a short talk before the Y.M.C.A. Friday Night Club last evening the Hon. Peter Heenan demonstrated some of the reasons why he is one of the most respected members of the Dominion House of Commons.

Although his speech was fundamentally serious it was touched with that peculiar charm of "Tir-an-og" which lies not far from the surface in every Irishman. The Hon. Mr. Heenan stressed the value of education in the youth of our country and urged the development of interest in public affairs as one of the most logical and valuable applications to which this education could be applied.

When a young man with his formal education behind him turned to public affairs he had three fields which he could enter: The traditional "stand-pat" position; the radical—frequently all too rich in unproven theories,—or the central position unbounded with theories and blind traditions. The speaker himself an outstanding example of this middle position, further demonstrated the rich practicality which lay behind the attitude of not abandoning an idea until the way to a better one was apparent; the value of exact information covering all subjects and the wholesome quality of homely commonsense. Politics, he said in concluding, "is merely the looking after of our affairs by men selected by us for this purpose. Why should there be any hesitancy in mentioning or discussing politics in polite conversation? Why should it not be a subject of more universal interest and public concern." The speaker urged young men to take an active part in public affairs.

With Hon. Mr. Heenan as guests of the club were his son, P. Heenan of this city and the Rev. C. D. Daniel. The latter, although scheduled as speaker for the evening graciously gave up his time to Hon. Mr. Heenan, consenting to speak at some later date.

The speaker was introduced by the chairman, C. A. Salmonsen. Members Neil Gemmell and Harry Marsh moved and seconded a vote of thanks to Hon. Mr. Heenan and the Rev. Mr. Daniel.

The high spots of the evening's musical program were the melodies from the piano accordion by Sam Padrone. The dance committee reported that the annual dance held last week besides being the finest entertainment ever held by the club was successful from the financial aspect.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY PLANS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

Most Enthusiastic Meeting of Society is Held.

CONVENTION REPORT.

Another enthusiastic meeting of the Peterborough Horticultural Society was held on Thursday in the office of the Department of Agriculture.

Discussion was keen and on every hand the spirit was manifested to make 1933 an outstanding year in local horticultural activity.

Dr. A. J. Madill occupied the chair, and the new secretary, W. G. P. Benton, gave early evidence of his grasp of the post by the able manner in which business was carried on.

For the purpose of stimulating greater interest in the society's work and to be of assistance to local growers, Mr. J. F. Clarke, lecturer of the Ontario Horticultural Assocation, has been invited to give a public lecture early in May, about which further auuoncement will be made.

The secretary, who attended the annual convention in Toronto of the Ontario Horticultural Association, held in the King Edward Hotel, Feb. 9 and 10, gave his report. The following items being the highlights of the convention:

"Peterborough is to be honored by the acceptance by the district association of the invitation to hold its district show here, the date of the event to be Thursday, August 10, 1933."

"Local societies could obtain young trees from the Ontario Forestry Branch for planting, freight charges only to be met."

Extracts from the report of the Superintendent, J. Lockie Wilson, who is retiring after 25 years of service with the Ontario Association:

"In 1906 the association had a membership of 32 societies, at the present convention 296 societies were represented; we certainly have accomplished much, and much remains to be done. Many of our cities and towns are improving their entrances, outstanding among these are Kitchener and Hamilton. The magnificent rockery in Kitchener is a thing of beauty and a joy for those who visit that city of homes and gardens."

"The appropriation for grants to horticultural societies in 1931 was $40,000, in 1932 it was reduced to $20,000, and in the estimates for 1933 it has been further reduced to $15,000. If this reduction in your legislative grant is to be continued, the next step, I take it, will be the wiping out of the government supervision of your societies. Then the work you have accomplished in the last three decades will, I fear, be literally smashed into its original fragments. Are our legislators prepared to accept the responsibility of wrecking an institution that has been the pride, not only of Ontario, but the thousands of tourists visiting our fair province? The proud boast that you have built up in your communities, the greatest civic and country-side improvement organization in any country in the world would have vanished like the baseless fabric of a midsummer night's dream. It has been reiterated from time to time that strictest economy is of vital necessity, but there is a so-called economy that does not economize, and the drastic measures that have been applied to our organization, doubtless, will not be accepted without protest."

The very able manner in which the secretary presented his report was unanimously accepted.

In the drive for new and old members, the directors undertook to go out in the endeavor to enlarge the work of the society by getting people interested enough to take up membership tickets. The chairmen of various committees then gave reports of work proposed to date.

Beautification, etc. (J. S. Bell, chairman).—"Further development of Horticultural Drive; section competition of streets; campaign against noxious weeds and unsightly fences; planting of bulbs and plants in various parts of city such as the Goose Pond on Water street.

For this purpose an offer of a large quantity of bulbs was made by Mr. C. Williamson of the Peterborough Cloral Company; the offer being thankfully accepted by the Society."

Options Committee (S. T. Harris, chairman).—A provision list was presented of 27 options; all very attractive; details of same will be published at the earliest possible convenience. (Keep your eye on this paper).

Show Committee (F. Biddle, chairman).—Outlined proposals for the joint event of the district and local show, to be held Thursday, August 10, 1933; a sub-committee being at work outlining a prize list.

Open classes for amtaeurs are to be a feature, for which a small entrance fee will be charged to exhibitors.

The Spring show of tulips, daffodils and other early flowers, both wild and cultivated, and the show of delphiniums, roses, etc., will be staged as in past years in the windows of local merchants. Interest is urged upon members to send along anything they may have either for competition or display purposes; details and dates will be notified through the medium of The Examiner columns. Several offers have been made of financial assistance to make the show a success from all points of view; yet more money is required by this committee in order to achieve its objective, that of stimulating interest in the district to grow and display quality flowers and vegetables, and also a means of advertising the beauties of the Peterborough countryside. Donations are therefore urgently requested both in money or kind as prizes for the show."

Finance Committee (H. L. Beal, chairman).—Further stressed the need for increasing the membership of the society; in light of the fact that the grant to societies will be further curtailed, and so enable work already commenced to be carried forward. Various economies were suggested, chiefly concerning printed matter, which is to be reduced to the absolute minimum consistent with informing members of the various benefits to be derived from becoming members of the society.

One dollar is again the membership fee and this includes choice of an option, attendance at lectures, to enter competitions, both shows and gardens, to assist in further improvements along the Horticultural Drive, to influence your neighbor to display the beauties of their lawn and garden to the passer by and to put your own city on the map so far as beauty of homes and gardens are concerned, and to make them comparable, or surpass, those of other cities about which we read from time to time.

This is not a large subscription to make, but carries with it great opportunities to show your interest and pride in beauty of surroundings by and through the medium of lawns, flowers, shrubs, trees, rock gardens, and vegetables.

Judge Dismissed Paquette Action

The action involving a real estate conveyance which was brought by J. Raymond Paquette against James Brown in the recent assizes of the Supreme Court of Ontario has been dismissed with costs.

G. N. Gordon, counsel for the plaintiff, said this morning that the judgment of Mr. Justice Sedgewick would be appealed. The Osgoode Hall summary of the case follows:

J. Raymond Paquette et al v. James B. Brown et al.—Trial at Peterborough. G. N. Gordon, K.C., for plaintiff; F. D. Kerr, K.C., and J. W. Stevenson for defendants. Action to set aside, as being in fraud of creditors, a conveyance of lands from defendant, James Brown, to his daughters, the defendant, Lillie and Elizabeth A. Brown. Judgment—The onus is on the plaintiff to establish that the conveyance was made with intent to defeat creditors. I think the plaintiff has not discharged that onus. I see no reason why I should not believe that nearly ten years ago James Brown promised one daughter that if she stayed in Peterborough he would give his house to her and her sister; and that he made a similar promise to the sister more than a year before the execution of the conveyance under attack. The action, therefore, fails and must be dismissed with costs."

WIDDESS—COMSTOCK.

At high noon to-day, a very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at St. Paul's Presbyterian church, when Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manson Comstock, became the bride of Mr. Stewart Knowlson Widdess, son of Mrs. Eleanor Widdess of Stewart street, and the late W. R. Widdess. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of the weddin. march played by Mr. M. B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O.

She wore a frock of honey-colored embroidered lace with cape and turban of the same shade, in transparent velvet. Her slippers, hose and gloves were in matching tone, and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Grace Comstock, sister of the bride, was in apricot moire taffeta, with matching velvet cape, turban and accessories, and bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mr. William Widdess acted as best man for his brother.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Widdess and his bride left later for a honeymoon trip to Florida.

HOPE—SMITH.

A lovely wedding was solemnized at two o'clock this afternoon at All Saints' Church, by the rector, the Rev. J. D. Paterson, when Ellen Amelia, only daughter of Mrs. Eva Smith, 535 Chamberlain Street, and the late John Smith, became the bride of Mr. Spencer Hope, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hope, of 219 Stewart Street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Jack Smith, wore a beautiful frock, made on plain bridal lines, of eggshell crepe satin, and a white tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. Her slippers were of eggshell moire with matching hose. She wore long white silk gloves and carried a bouquet of pink Butterfly roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Clara Wilford, was in Nile green georgette, with black velvet hat, black moire slippers, and white silk gloves. She carried a cluster of yellow daffodils.

Mr. Jack Hope, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The wedding music was played by Miss Dorothy Worboy.

Ushers were Mr. Earl Hope, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr Lloyd Livingstone.

After the ceremony, a dainty wedding repast was served at the home of the parents of the bridegroom, Stewart Street.

The house was attractively decorated with yellow and white. The table was done with an Indian lace cloth, centered by the bride's cake and arranged with yellow daffodils and yellow candles in silver candlesticks.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Hope left by train for Toronto. On their return they will live at 217 Stewart Street.

The bride travelled in a dress of green crepe, with brown felt hat, brown shoes and hose, and coat of muskrat fur.

GROTTICK. — In loving memory of my dear granddaughter Gladys, who passed away February 18, 1930.

To-day I am thinking of someone
Sho was loving, kind, and true;
Whose smile was as dear as the sunshine—
That someone, dear Gladys, was you.

—Sadly missed by her Grandmother

GROTTICK. — In loving memory of our dear sister Gladys, who departed this life on February 18, 1930.

Her faint last wish we should like to have heard,
And breathed in her ear one last parting word;
Only those who have lost are able to tell
The pain of the heart in not saying farewell.

—Lovingly remembered by her Sisters.

GROTTICK. — In loving memory of our dear daughter, who died on February 18, 1930.

A treasure from our house has gone,
A dear, sweet voice is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
You left behind many aching hearts
That loved you most sincere;
We never can and never will Forget you, Gladys dear.

—Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.

Average Picture Star Is Slim And Blond, Attends Movies

By LILLIAN CAMPBELL

AM I OVERWEIGHT? is the anxious query women always are asking. For in spite of the edict that "curves are fashionable," the style creators continue to make dresses so that they emphasize every little bit of extra flash a gal has acquired, and only truly becoming to the very, very slim and preferably youthful.

Women who flock to the movies gaze enviously at the stars of Screenland who wear these sheath-like garments so exquisitely, without displaying a single superfluous roll of fat anywhere. How do they keep so slim and alluring? And what is their weight?

Well, it has recently been computed that the average feminine screen player weighs exactly 109 pounds, 14 ounces, is 5 feet 3 1-3 inches tall, and in addition she has greenish blue eyes with a golden glint in the iris, and either brown, ash blonde or auburn hair.

How does she keep her figger? She drinks orange juice for breakfast, has a salad and a sandwich for luncheon, favors lamb chops or a roast for dinner, omitting the starches.

Believe it or not, she sees four motion pictures a week, dislikes bridge, has no patience with jigsaw puzzles, traffic policemen, football crowds after the game, or for persons anxious to buy her cast-off gowns.

So says Fred Datig, casting director in Hollywood, and personal inquiry among the friends of the glamorous ladies.

To give you the actual figures on the figures of some of the stars, Marlene Dietrich is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weight 120 pounds, has blue eyes, blonde hair. Nancy Carroll, 5 feet 4 inches, 116 pounds, blue eyes, red hair. Claudette Colbert, 5 feet 5 inches, 112 pounds, brown eyes, black hair. Miriam Hopkins, 5 feet 2 inches, 105 pounds, gray eyes, blonde hair; Carole Lombard, 5 feet 4 inches, 112 pounds, blue eyes, blonde hair. Sari Maritza, 5 feet, 1½ inches ,103 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair. Mae West, 5 feet 1 inch, 114 pounds, blue eyes, blonde hair. Sylvia Sidney, 5 feet 4 inches, 104 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair.

YOUNG'S POINT SUPPER DANCE

Women's Institute Social on St. Valentine's Day.

LARGELY ATTENDED

YOUNG'S POINT, Feb. 18 (Examiner Correspondence) — On Tuesday evening, February 4th the Young's Point branch of the Women's Institute held a card party, dance, and pot luck supper in Young's Hall in the form of St. Valentine's party.

A very good crowd was in attendance with thirteen tables of cards being played. Miss Irene Davis was awarded the ladies first prize for the cards while Mr. Victor Young was lucky in winning the gentleman's prize. At the conclusion of the cards, refreshments were served in the form of a self-serve pot-luck supper, with a goodly assortment of victuals.

In the course of the dancing two contests were held, one to determine the best square-dancers, the other the best in the old-tyme waltz. Mrs. Elmer Johnston, in the judge's decision proved to be the most able square-dancer with G. Ayotte as her partner, while Miss Wilson was awarded the prize in the waltzing contest with E. Bickell as her partner.

Music was supplied for dancing by Messrs. J. LaRoche and William Harvey, with "Mickey" McManus entertaining the crowd with his accomplished art of step-dancing.

The evening proved a great success and a jolly time was had by all.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

A brief talk on "Courtesy" was much appreciated at an Institute meeting held in Western Ontario last week, the branch being visited by a woman widely travelled and of a carriage and presence that bespoke education, and knowledge of the world and folk gained at first hand.

Graciously responding to the request that she address the monthly gathering of Institute women, incidentally the homemakers of the community (a small village practically rural in its interests and occupations) the guest of the day chose the topic mentioned above, and in choice language, and with apt illustrations and ideas, held her listeners closely to the final word of her informal talk.

"If we are to make a study of the rules of courtesy," the speaker began, "we had better begin with the formation of the habit of treating everyone, in our homes and out of them, with a politeness that bespeaks breeding, and a quiet interest and carefulness. Asking a favor in a nice tone of voice, not demanding it, even of our own, and expressing grateful thanks when the favor is granted, are the two first rules of courtesy. Then there is the need of constantly speaking in pleasant tones, smothering any feeling of irritation or impatience that circumstances may have engendered, and having always in mind consideration for the feeling of others, no matter what our own may be in the whole situation.

Following these rules will react in graces of manner and speech, and in the very set of our faces, even of our dispositions, eventually, and we ourselves reap the reward far more than those for whom we are possibly suppressing inclinations and tempers that want to come to the surface and find nasty expression.

Perhaps, everyone of us cannot have a 'fascinating' manner ner, but there is not one who cannot cultivate a manner that is quiet, polite, and low toned in conversation; to show deference to elders; courtesy to strangers, without familiarity; and a quiet reserve that carries its own impression and leads to respect, the whole tending to an elegance of manner that is really readily acquired by anyone determined to reach this standard, especially if we are of a gentle nature and have a kind heart.

Not always do we receive courtesy from others, but when it is forthcoming make it a rule to acknowledge it gracefully and promptly, and what requires more divine grace and self control, never notice rudeness nor resent it; just ignore it altogether—I am aware that the observance of this rule calls for Christian charity and forbearance, but it is highly commendable.

If we would compass this whole subject of good manners—for that is what courtesy actually is—it may be safely summed up in command of temper, delicacy of feeling, and simplicity of manner—possessing and cultivating these one is quite fitted for society anywhere, and will hold an acknowledged place among any company."

WARSAW

Nearly two years ago an Institute summer series speaker was asked why nearly all the speakers devoted their energies to general topics or special ones relating to all seasons, or to the summer, but rarely anything especial relating actually to winter. The fact that one of Warsaw's young men is likely to lose the toes from one foot because of freezing, brings to mind a few actual winter suggestions.

We have had such mild winters for some years that frost bites have been rare. With the mild weather we had, followed by the sudden dip to ten degrees lower that it has been for some years, we are perhaps more susceptible to the cold than under other conditions.

A portion of the body may be so badly frozen, and remain so for such a length of time that it will slough away, and gangrene follow.

We hear a great deal about rubbing with snow.

It is often very dangerous, and simply makes the frozen area larger, and perhaps rubs off the skin.

The thing to do is to get the frost out, without heating much above the freezing point until it is well out, and circulation is restored.

If the only means at all near is snow, hold a little in the hand until it begins to melt and then apply gently. This will do for cheek, nose, ears and small portions, but when it comes to feet or hands, pump fresh cold water, immerse the part, and rub very gently. Have patient in a cool room, body well protected from cold, and see that your own body is warm. Do not get out in a freezing cold woodshed. Patient may have a warm drink.

When circulation is well started, patient may go to a warm room but avoid heating injured parts too rapidly; wrap them in soft cloths, encourage gentle motion. If there be any sign of any spot not supporting circulation, if it is black or blue, instead of red, the sooner a doctor sees it the better.

In some parts of the West, where frozen feet are common, they dig a hole in the earth in the cellar, and put the feet in that, throwing loose earth around them.

Just here it may be well to warn people that when they are very cold, and the desire to sit down and rest, or lie down, comes over them, if they yield to the desire, it is apt to be fatal, for it will not be very long before they are asleep, frozen. A school girl once was caught so, not far from here; just a few days before she had heard of some one freezing to death because he sat down, evidently because he was so tired because of the cold.

During one of our last cold winters, a man just had to force himself to keep going. He was not frozen in the least, but thoroughly chilled. Had he given in, unless some one had found him, he would likely have perished. These things do happen, or nearly happen, in our own districts.

Chilblains are another cold weather torment. Some are never troubled; some have difficulty avoiding them. Easier to prevent than to cure. Keep the feet warm, dry and clean; avoid putting the feet in the oven, or standing over a register when cold or damp. If more is needed, hold the shoes over sulphur fumes or sprinkle a little dry sulphur inside the hose.

If you do get them, many treatments are advocated: paint parts with iodine (some cannot stand iodine) liniment, coal oil, witch hazel. Sometimes one treatment cures them for one person but not for another. Chilblains sometimes come on the hands, or even ears, nose or other parts.

People who have been very ill, are generally more apt to get them than those who are perfectly well. People whose feet are inclined to sweat must be particularly careful, perhaps to putting on absolutely fresh hose every day.

WARSAW INSTITUTE WILL SPONSOR PLAY

Postponed Meeting Held at Home of Mrs. Theodore Douglas.

WARSAW, Feb. 16. (Examiner Correspondence) — The postponed Women's Institute meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Theodore Douglas on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Douglas read a letter regarding the Women's Institute sending a delegate to the trustees and ratepayers convention in Toronto during Easter week. Mrs. G. Douglas and Mrs. Miller were appointed to find out particulars regarding the convention. It was decided to give a play some time in the spring and Mrs. G. H. Crowe and Mrs. Douglas are to see about it. Mrs. J. A. Crowe will give current events at March meeting. Telephone System Meeting

A larger number than usual attended the Dummer Municipal Telephone System annual meeting in the Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon, February 15th. William Davis, chairman of the commission presided and John C. Darling, secretary-treasurer of the commission was secretary. Reports were read and adopted. Messrs. E. Hawthorne and M. Clysdale audited the books..

Mr. Garfield Crowe, treasurer of Dummer council, informed the subscribers that the idea generally possessed that they own telephone instruments in their homes when the debentures are paid, as all except those in the north were last year, is wholly wrong. The instrument belongs to the system, and if any subscriber wishes it removed he must turn it in to the system, he cannot sell it. It is not his to sell. If property be bought or sold special provision must be made for the telephone.

A little dispute arose over some bills sent Mr. Knox at Lennox Hotel, Crowe's Landing. Mr. Knox was given an opportunity to state his grievances which he did in detail. He was ably replied to by the operator, Thomas Clements and Wallace Anderson. Subscribers carried a motion which was made that they go on record as approving of the action taken by the commission.

It was moved, seconded and carried that there be a ten per cent. cut in all salaries.

Garfield Crowe made a motion which was seconded and carried that each commissioner be voted upon individually. There were seven nominations, the names of the old commission being given first. All except the three former members resigned, so that Messrs. W. Davis, J. C. Darling and W. S. Anderson are commissioners for 1933.

It was suggested that a by-law be drafted that commissioners hold office for three years, one to drop out each year. He would be open for re-election.

NEW BOOKS ARE SELECTED FOR HAVELOCK LIBRARY

HAVELOCK, Feb. 18 (Examiner Correspondence)—A meeting of the Library Board was held at the home of Mrs. L. A. Gould, for the purpose of selecting new books. Seven of the ten members were present and the following books were chosen: Lark Ascending by Mazo de la Roche, Shadows on the Rock by Willa Cather, The River's End by James Oliver Curwood, Barberry Bush by Kathleen Norris, Education of a Russian Princess by Grend Duchess Marie of Russia.

It was felt that there should be more children's books, as a number of children are interested in the library, and a few of the old reliables were selected for their benefit. Among these are "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," K. D. Wiggins; "Anne of Green Gables" and "Anne or Avonlea" by L. Montgomery.

HOW TO GET RID OF ACID STOMACH

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in sour stomach, indigestion, headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person.

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress.

This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy; genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Neutralizes Food and Tobacco Acids a few minutes after taking.

The tea at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon was a very successful and pleasant event, many ladies dropping in for a cup of tea and a chat in the pretty rooms and to listen to Miss Dora Robotham, an interesting visitor from India, who has been identified for many years with Y.W.C.A. work in the East, and is now on furlough, visiting the United States and Canada before returning to her home in England, and later, to India, to resume her work with the Y.W.C.A. there. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. E. E. Harvey, president of the Association, and Miss Leta Brownscombe. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner and Mrs. B. Shortley, at a table arranged with a lace cloth and centered by a bouquet of spring flowers. Miss Robotham, whose address was illustrated by a small exhibit of native Indian costumes and photographic views, gave an interesting talk on the customs of that far-away country and the work done there by the Y.W.C.A. The Purdah system of India gives women very little freedom and there is great difficulty in obtaining native leadership. A few years ago, eighty per cent. of those attending the Y Summer Schools in India were of European origin. To-day, seventy per cent. of those registered are native women. This is indicative of a marvellous change which is sweeping over the land. Many interesting illustrations were cited of the mingling of Christian and non-Christian women and of the problems presented by the Purdah system. There is now a widespread desire among native women to become equipped for a life work and a part of the Y.W. work is to offer inspiration and opportunity for service. Much of the work is carried on in the large cities, and the need for recreation has been met by the organization of clubs and summer camps. In closing, the speaker referred to the action of the United States Y.W.C.A. Board in withdrawing their representatives from India, because of distress and economic depression at home. This was a real calamity, declared Miss Robotham, who urged the Canadian groups to continue the good work in that land. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Harvey, and the vote of thanks was voiced by Mrs. Kenner and seconded by Mrs. F. M. Somerville.

Mrs. Frank Pratt, McGill street lent her home on Wednesday evening for a delightful talent tea, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. James' United Church. Despite the severe weather, there was a splendid attendance of members and friends, who were received by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Fry. As convenor of the social committee Mrs. Pratt, with her aides, were in charge of the tea arrangements, as well as for the delightful program presented. A vocal solo by Miss Jean Hurl was greatly enjoyed as were the group of songs, sung in duet by Mesdames Telford and Hepburn. Vocal solos were also contributed by Mr. Telford and the host, Mr. Pratt and well received. As a reader Miss Margaret Pitchford is a general favourite and her humorous numbers were heartily applauded to which Miss Pitchford generously responded with encores. An appropriate reading by Rev. Mr. Moorhouse, concluded the program. Mrs. Telford and Jack Cuffe were accompanists for the evening. Mrs. Pratt was assisted in the service of refreshments by Mesdames Drysdale, Gregson, Roberts, F. "Neo-Aeon" a dance of the new era, was staged last night in Toronto by the Ontario College of Art, presenting the thirteenth annual artists' masquerade ball, with hundreds of strangely garbed guests who entered enthusiastically into the futuristic spirit of the party, which pictured the world of to-morrow. Robots, those mechanical mysteries, played the leading part in the decorative scheme and mechanical monsters dominated the scene. The decorations were the work of the students, and among those who had an active part in the preparations was Miss Violet Davidson of Antrim street, third year student of the College, also Miss Ruth Sutton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. The members of the staff and the students of the Normal school held a very enjoyable 'At Home' last evening in the school, attended by nearly five hundred people. The rooms were very attractively decorated in the school colors of gold and green and the hall, which was cosily furnished with rugs, Chesterfields and brightly shaded floor lamps, was adorned with beautiful work of the Students' Art Class, done in crayon in tapestry effect. The guests were received by the Principal, Dr. J. A. Bannister, the president of the Literary Society, Mr. D. McDougall, Miss M. Laidlaw, Miss E. MacVannel (Dean), Miss Rose McCracken, Mr. B. Kinlin and Mr. G. Purcell. In the Assembly Hall the president, Mr. D. McDougall, warmly welcomed the guests, and Dr. Bannister added a few words of welcome. A very fine rendition of Gilbert and Sullivan's play, H.M.S. "Pinafore," was presented. The stage setting was very effective, with a harbor background in silhouette done by the Art students, and a ship with masts, sails and full rigging at anchor in the foreground. The part of the captain was splendidly enacted by Mr. M. H. Park, his fine tenor voice being heard to splendid advantage in the solo parts. The part of the admiral was taken by Mr. McNeely; of the bowsun by Mr. Buchanan; Deadeye, Mr. McKay; Rack Straw, Mr. Lowes; Josephine, Miss Fern Weatherill; Buttercup, Miss Ada Allin; Hebe, Miss Wootten, all of whom depicted their parts admirably. The choruses, taken by over fifty students, under the direction of Miss D. Rannie, were especially good. The girls were dressed in middy suits and the boys in sailor outfits. During the intermission Miss Valleau danced the Sailors' Hornpipe. The play was directed by Mr. Adrian MacDonald. Miss Rannie had charge of the music, and Miss A. Going of the stage effects, with Miss E. Munroe assisting. At the conclusion of the play, dancing was participated in, with George Broadley's orchestra furnish excellent music, and games were played. The tea room was very attractive with decorations, carried out in gold and green. The tea table was centred by a large crystal bowl of lovely daffodils. Yellow and green candles in silver candle holders completed the decorations. Refreshments were served by the students, Hooper and Sons doing the catering.

The rooms were lovely with spring flowers, the warm tones of bleeding hearts and the soft silvery grey of pussy willows making a charming adornment. The table was exceptionally attractive with a cloth of Cluny lace, and a central mirror reflector holding a silver basket filled with daffodils, tulips and the delicate white fronds of steevia. There were red tapers in tall silver holders. Tea convenors were Mrs. B. Burns, Mrs. J. Kemp, Mrs. G. A. Benor and Mrs. A. Milne. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Benor and Mrs. G. Just Between Us Women

DAY BEDS in one guise or another have been found interesting and practical pieces of furniture.

* * * * * *

They were not a new idea when they were put out some years ago in this country, but were a revival of an old style. Visits to museums will acquaint one with some of the antique day beds, while visits to modern furniture shops will reveal the latest developments which certainly are luxurious.

* * * * * *

The studio davenport is a modernized day bed in single or twin bed style.

* * * * * *

There are endless models and various names given day beds.

* * * * * *

When the revival first came the name sounded surprising—it was so definite. This was the style of terms in olden days.

* * * * * *

But when apartment life made living-room sleeping facilities essential in the cramped quarters, all sorts of strange devices were evolved; such as tables which could be opened and extended into bedsteads, and what appeared to be bookcases or handsome chests of drawers proved but beds in disguise.

* * * * * *

When these inventions reached their height, nothing was more natural than the return to the old-time simplicity of day beds.

* * * * * *

It was when day beds became nothing more or less than cots with covers for ends, matching those thrown over made-up beds beneath, that day beds as such lost prestige in modern furnishings.

* * * * * *

It was style which changed, however, rather than different articles being substituted.

* * * * * *

The day bed style was too satisfactory to be discarded. To-day studio davenports are the last word in day beds.

* * * * * *

These modernized day beds are interesting acquisitions in furniture for small quarters or for informal rooms which may thus make additional sleeping places should homemakers wish to entertain more guests than chambers would accommodate.

Shipwrecked Women Saved As Food Ends

SEWARD, Alaska, Feb. 18 (A.P.)—Three women to-day related their experiences of eating mouldy bread and the meat of wild bulls, and using tea and hay for cigarettes, while marooned on Bleak Chirikof Island.

They were Misses Hilda and Frances Mousel of Chicago and Mrs. Jack McCord, wife of the promoter of a platinum-gold property on Chirikof, all members of a party rescued by the coast guard cutter Tallapoosa Feb. 10 when their supplies were almost exhausted.

The party was cast away on one of the most isolated spots of the Aleutian Island group when the motorship Dorothy was wrecked in the surf.

Set Monday Morning For Zangara Hearing

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (C.P.).—The county solicitor's office announced this morning that Gieuseppe Zangara would not be arraigned to-day on charges of attempting to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

The announcement was made after Zangara, heavily guarded by five deputies who towered high above his tiny figure, was brought into the courtroom to answer charges of attempting to kill Mr. Roosevelt and three other persons at a reception here Wednesday night.

Each spectator among the crowd that jammed the court-room was searched for weapons by deputies. Judge E. C. Collins set 10 o'clock Monday for the hearing. He said the postponement was made in order that a sanity commission may examine Zangara.

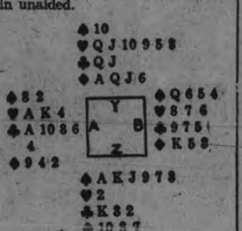
DON'T HELP THE DECLARER

Many a hand cannot go game unless the defenders help the declarer by bad defensive strategy, or, perhaps, complete lack of strategy. The following hand illustrates a case where the declarer was just handed a game that he cannot possibly win unaided.



Bidding went: Z, 1-Spade; A, 2-Clubs; Y, 3-Hearts, to force further bidding from partner; Z, 3-Spades; Y, 4-Diamonds; Z, 4-Spades, which was an overbid of one trick.

The opening lead was the K of hearts, to see dummy. A knew from what he saw in dummy that Z could not have regulation opening bid strength, unless he held either, or both the missing minor suit K's. A led his Ace of clubs, and B denied holding the K of that suit, by playing the lowest club held. B played the 5 and Z played the 2, when he might better have played the 3, so that the missing 2 might appear to be held by B, and that B was calling for a second round of clubs. Perhaps A thought that B held the 6 and 3, with the K, and that B was starting an echo. In any event, instead of trying to find the missing K of diamonds in B's hand, A made a perfectly useless lead of a trump, through B's Q of spades, but B was not crazy enough to hand game to the declarer, by putting up the Q. B let the 10 of spades hold the trick in dummy.

Dummy led a low heart, and the declarer ruffed, trying to establish that long suit in dummy. Then the declarer led his Ace and K of spades, but he was unable to pick up B's Q.

Dummy was put in the lead by winning a low club with its Q. Another heart was led from dummy and trumped by the declarer, establishing three hearts in dummy, upon which to discard the declarer's two low diamonds, provided he was able to do this without having B ruff and spoil the play.

The declarer felt morally certain that A held the missing K of diamonds, because that player had not led a diamond. Most players would have led a diamond and attempted to win the trick with dummy's J—and thus have lost the game. Z was an old stager, who never liked to gamble upon his ideas when he had a certain way of accomplishing his purpose with safety. Z led his last trump, putting B in the lead with his only trump, and obliging B to lead up to dummy. B led a club, Z won the trick. Dummy's Ace of diamonds enabled Z to discard his two diamonds on dummy's hearts, and go game.

BE BEAUTIFUL

Madame Tallien, a famous French beauty of Napoleon's era, always bathed her skin in a mixture of crushed strawberries and raspberries. She possessed a very fair, smooth skin. And she considered these berries indispensable for preserving the creamy-whiteness of her complexion.

Apparently, then, this beautiful young Parisienne knew her onions—or, I should say, her berries. For both strawberries and raspberries do act as bleaches when externally applied to the skin. And if you look back into cosmetic history, you'll notice that in many cases, fruits and vegetables were employed as skin beautifiers. Lemons, oranges, strawberries, raspberries, tomatoes, beets and cucumbers all were used as beautifiers by women in the past.

Even today, however, some women still employ fruits and vegetables for enhancing their loveliness. Women on distant and secluded farms, for instance, sometimes still use beet juice as rouge. And there are any number of housewife who use lemons on their hands, in order to keep the skin white and free from discolorations.

One of the most effective bleaches that I know of, however, in which fruits and vegetables are employed, is the cucumber and lemon mask treatment. This mask is especially appropriate for use during sultry summer days, for it is very cooling and refreshing. To prepare this mask, place the peel of a cucumber in a cup of water. Add the juice of one lemon to this water, and moisten in it a square of soft linen or thin muslin.

Before applying this mask, cleanse your skin thoroughly with tepid water and a bland soap, and then with a good cleansing cream. Wipe away the cream next, and lie down on your bed or chaise lounge. Remove the cucumber peel from the solution and arrange it over your face in the form of a mask. Over this lay the moist, cool linen, and pat it into contact with the skin of your face. A strip of cloth tied over your head and under your chin will hold the mask in position.

Rest in this mask for about half an hour, remoistening the cloth at intervals. Then, after removing the mask, rinse your face with warm water, and apply a mild astringent or skin tonic to close the pores and tone up the skin.

OUR MAIL

My Dear Anne:

Where have all our pen friends gone? Surely not south with the birds to escape the winter; if so, I am sorry for them as our Canadian winter is wonderful, don't you think so Anne? It is simply ideal—no snow banks for our couriers to wade through to bring us our mail, which is always a bugbear in the country when the mail is late or worse still, could not get through at all.

We hear so much of depression these days that I don't know whether it is real or imaginary. I know we farmers have to cut down expenses until it hurts. We cannot sell our livestock, etc., but that is not depression. It is just a chance given us to practice economy. All of us—city people and farmers—got a chance to save when times were good. Did we do it? The cars will answer that question and all those modern conveniences and luxuries. So now we will have to pay the price and for pity sake let us do it without whining. We took prosperity for granted; let us do likewise with adversity—not trying to put the blame where it does not belong. Just do a little serious thinking and we will find the blame lies at our own door.

We hear people say we shall have to go back to the pioneer days and if we do will it hurt us? No indeed, but it will do us good. Picture living in a little cabin, 12 feet square in the heart of a Canadian forest. The furniture consisted of a table, bed, and a couple of housemade benches; a cradle for the baby, hewn out of a pine log, a team of oxen and a cow, comprised their possessions. The husbands set to work to clear a little space to plant a garden and as the household tasks were not numerous, the brave wife was ever ready to help. The meals were simple—for breakfast there was oatmeal porridge, with skimmed milk and bread baked in the ashes of the fireplace. For dinner there were potatoes cooked with the jackets on, buttermilk for a beverage and butter very sparingly used; for supper, bread and a cup of tea, tea being very expensive in those days—yet these people were healthy and robust on that food. Side by side they worker—the husband cutting down the trees and then getting the stumps out of the ground. Later on a tiny plot of wheat was planted; when fit to cut a sickle was used to cut it down and a hand flail used to thresh it. Then the men cleaned it as best they could, placed it in a sack and carried it to the mill. They were not filled with self pity at the hardness of their lot, but their hearts were filled with thanksgiving to their Creator.

Surely we should have inherited enough of their courage to make the best of things and to remember the old proverb, a warning, prosperity and a comfort—adversity, "Even this will pass away."

OPTIMIST

Welcome to our page, Optimist. I don't recall ever having received a letter from you before and so I will extend a welcome on behalf of the other readers of the page, too. Your attitude toward the times we are passing through is splendid and if more people had that attitude, things would seem a whole lot different. May we hear from you again whenever you can find time to write?

Mattresses Needed At Relief Bureau

One of the major wants at the Relief Depot on George Street, at the present time, is for mattresses. A dozen mattresses could easily be utilized, if obtainable.

Clothing of any type, used or new, is always acceptable. There are dozens of people in every day, looking for clothing and footwear and for household necessities of many kinds. Dishes, curtains, bedding and underwear (two things that are always in demand), stoves, beds, chairs, tables, in fact, anything is welcome and will be called for if 2315 is telephoned.

Now that house-cleaning time is approaching, there should be many articles of furniture and clothing that are cluttering up cellars and attics, that could be put to splendid use.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

In a recent article I discussed the dangers from explosion that occur from using gasoline and other similar cleaning fluids in a closed room. Friction from rubbing the garments, or heat from the pilot light on the stove, have caused many fatal explosions.

The only alternative for this is the use of carbon tetrachloride. I said that the fumes of carbon tetrachloride were poisonous, but quoted the secretary of the National Fire Protection association to the effect that, "If we have a choice between two poisonous materials, one of them involving a fire hazard and the other none, it is clear that the material without the fire hazard should be selected." Carbon tetrachloride has no fire hazard.

I have received a letter from a gentleman who has long been engaged in the dry cleaning business, and who feels that I did not stress sufficiently the danger of the poison hazard of carbon tetrachloride. He says: "There are numerous cases on file of fatalities caused by carbon tetrachloride, but I have never heard of any caused by gasoline vapors. Gasoline vapors merely cause a disiness which rapidly passes away when one enters the fresh air.

"Numerous cleaning fluids, although sold by different names, contain carbon tetrachloride and are sold as safe. I know of one case of a young woman being found by her roomate, unconscious, in a room with the doors closed, when she tried dry cleaning with a fluid containing carbon tetrachloride, in a lavatory.

"When you consider these fact, I believe you will agree with me that we should not advocate home dry cleaning."

The National Fire Protection association, in a warning pamphlet, states, "Dry cleaning can best be done by a professional dry cleaner in a plant where the hazards of flammable solvents are understood and guarded against."

There is no question of the definite hazards of doing extensive dry cleaning at home. At the same time the economic stress is such that all dry cleaning cannot be done in dry cleaning establishments. The best we can do is to say that small jobs or dry cleaning at home should be done under conditions of safety, and to warn all those who are doing any dry cleaning at home to consider all the factors involved—to do the work in a room where there is no fire and where the windows are open. In these two ways the two great dangers of inflammable gases and the accumulation of poisonous gases can be avoided.

Petes Drop First Play-Off Game to Queen's 4-2

WEIR AND CADD SCORE JUNIORS' TWO COUNTS IN CLOSE THIRD CANTO

Sticky Ice and Defensive Hockey By Collegians Turns Game Into Slow Affair For Over Half-time—Queen's Secure Lead on Two Soft Goals in First Frame.

CADD, WEIR AND CALLADINE ARE LOCAL STARS. FIVE PENALTIES METED OUT TO KINGSTON CREW

A full house at the Brock last night saw the junior Petes go down to a 4-2 defeat at the hands of Queen's in the first game of their O.H.A. playdown series. It was a tame affair for about half the contest with the university outfit coasting along on a 4-0 lead, but then the homesters opened up and made it a battle the rest of the way. They outplayed their husky opponents all through the third period.

Sticky ice and defensive hockey by the visitors clogged play up considerably, and the Petes were slow in starting. Besides this, two of the three goals scored by the Queensters in the opening frame were soft, one being on an interference play and the other a long shot that got away from Sanderson. The game saw most of its thrills late in the second and throughout the third chukkers. Kingston was guilty of all five penalties, but play was clean in every period.

Goalie Off His Game

Sanderson was somewhat off the first session, though he stopped some tough ones, too. He got better as play progressed. The locals' defence bodied better than they have been doing, but some of the fast-skating visitors worked around them in close at times. The first forward line went good the last half of the game, while the second line put a lot of fight in it every time they came out. Cadd, Weir and Calladine proved the most dangerous on rushes, with Bill going fine at backchecking. Jay and McGregor showed up well the last part, and the whole team tried hard against an outfit that checked them up closely all the time.

The star of the contest was James in the Queen's net, the cool guardian of the cage robbing the homesters repeatedly late in the middle chapter and during the lively last frame. His defence was big but slow, Smith being the most effective. Lewis proved a dangerous puck-carrier, getting three of the goals on smart work. Wing and Bain aided considerably, particularly at back-checking and covering up, and Christie worked in several dangerous rushes.

Game Opens Slow

They opened it up slowly, fooling around and it was not till the locals' relief line dashed out that the fans got any kick out of proceedings. Queen's were playing careful hockey and keeping the Petes guarded closely. Halfway through, Bryden, riding in through the defence behind a team-mate, slapped a shot at Sanderson and it trickled through for a score. Lewis got another right after when he camped in front of the net and took Wing's drive. A bit later, Lewis zoomed down the right-hand boards and blazed a wicked one from an angle. It went in off the local goalie's glove, and play was ragged till the end.

Twice Calladine intercepted passes and almost scored to start the second, but James was too quick. Cadd, Jay, Bill and McGregor all in turn whistled the puck at him as the Petes buzzed around, but the Queen's first line returned and kept play even Gibson drew a penalty for slashing Williamson, and Pettit followed him when he tripped Cadd. With two off, they tightened up and played defensive hockey, even shooting the puck down the ice. McGregor did score on Calladine's pass, but the bell had rung when he kicked it.

Scores Fourth Goal

At full strength again, Queen's threatened and finally Lewis took Smith's pass at defence to streak in fast alone and pick a corner, winding up the visitors' scoring. Fenton pulled off a neat rush and later, Jay shot over the goal on Cadd's pass. Pettit was chased again for charging, and the Petes were pressing hard and forcing the others to shoot up the ice at the finish of this frame.

Sticky ice bothered both sides in the third, but the local outfit got up steam early and never eased up, having most of the play the full twenty minutes. Smith climbed the fence for tripping Jay, and the goalie just managed to flop on the rubber on McGregor's wicked thrust. The first line did everything but score, James being unbeatable. Pettit hit the well-worn trail for tripping, and play was hard for a space. Then, Weir hammered in one on Burley's rebound off a skate in a mixup at the Queen's goal-mouth and the crowd roared. The Petes' second line forced the play in Kingston territory and excitement was high. Cadd pulled off a beautiful rink-length rush to skirt the defence and fool James, and the last six minutes saw all the Petes piling in and giving Kingston a bad scare but being unable to score again.

The teams:

Queen's: Goal, James; defence, Gibson and Smith; centre, Wing; wings, Lewis and Bain; alternates, Christie, Bryden, Corrigan and Pettit.

NEWMARKET RED SHIRTS BLANK OSHAWA IMPS BY 4-0 SCORE

Big Bill Hancock's Juniors Start Out on Annual Scramble for O.H.A. Honors.

PENALTIES COSTLY.

NEWMARKET, Ont., Feb. 18 (C.P.)—Big Bill Hancock, the rockey-wise Young Street tallorman, whose Junior teams for years have been title contenders in the O.H.A. play-downs, to-day had his Newmarket Redmen just about ready for another round of the annual scramble.

Favorites to sweep the boards, despite the fact they were ungrouped, Newmarket blanked Oshawa's Blue Imps here last night, 4-0, in the first game of their series and virtually clinched the two-game round. The return game is to be played at Oshawa Wednesday night.

In the approved Hancock fashion the Redmen hoisted an airtight six-man defence that kept the Imps from even getting close to a scoring position, and blasted Oshawa's guard with fast-breaking attacks that usually formed at the centre line. The Imps checked furiously to hold Newmarket's forwards to a quartette of counters.

Smooth Passing

Penalties to Sanford, Oshawa defenceman, opened the way for the first two goals and the smooth-passing Hancock proteges banged in the last two without assistance. Soft ice prevented either team from showing its best combination rushes.

Sandford was on the sidelines in the first period when Tod Doran, Newmarket defence star, raced the length of the ice and slipped a pass to Frank Huggins, who scored from close quarters. The Redmen outskated Oshawa throughout the period without holding an appreciable edge of the shifty Imps.

But when Sandford drew another penalty early in the second period Don Wilson stickhandled in close to push the second shot behind Goalie Petersen. Wilson passed to Norm Mann for the third goal after a sustained Newmarket attack.

The Imps seldom threatened in the third period, but the Redmen bumped into a sturdy defence as they fought to amass a big margin. Reg Kelly scored the only goal of the session on Howard Peterson's pass.

LONDON SURE OF PLAY-OFFS

Weakened Detroit Team Loses 2-1 Decision to Tecs Last Night.

TORONTO, Feb. 18. —(CP)— A last-minute goal by Speedy Groh is responsible for London Tecumsehs sharing second place with Syracuse Stars in the International Hockey League today.

An apparent deadlock, while playing the weakened Detfot Olympics at London last night, was averted when Groh snared a pass-out from Mike Neville at the 19-minute marker to rap in the deciding counter of a 2-1 score.

The same combination scored the first London tally near the end of the second session. Groh stole the puck from Manager Carson Cooper inside the Detroit blue-line and slipped it over to Neville, who blasted a hot one past Abbe Cox.

Ten seconds after the start of the final frame, Williams and Makarsky combined to tie the counter, which lasted until Groh came through with his "money" marker.

Olympics were only able to dress nine men. Tommy O'Neil and Gus Marker adorning the injured list and Gordon Brydson serving time because he had earned three major penalties. Cooper played, but only because of necessity.

MARLBOROS BATTLE CATARACTS TO 4-4 TIE IN OVERTIME TILT

Play-off Draw Calls For Tigers to Meet Port Colborne, While Dukes Tangle With Niagara Falls — Jery Shannon Tops Goal Scorers.

HOME AND HOME GAMES—GOALS TO COUNT.

(By the Canadian Press)

After more than three months of hectic manoeuvring, four of the seven teams in the Senior "A" series of the Ontario Hockey Association have finally jockeyed into play-off positions today, prepared for the serious business of declaring a champion.

A 4-4, 30-minute overtime tie with Niagara Falls, in the final game of the schedule last night, gave Toronto Marlboros sole possession of second place.

The draw calls for the leading Hamilton Tigers to engage Port Colborne Sailors, who finished third, while Marlboros and Niagara Falls, the fourth-placers, will renew their struggle of last night. Home-and-home games, total goals to count, will decide the two finalists.

Leading Point Scorer

Jerry Shannon, his rule of the point - gatherers threatened by "Goney" McGowan of Hamilton, rose to the occasion and scored two counters. This enabled him to clinch his claim as best point-scorer of the season.

Despite their higher position, Marlboros failed to win one game from Cataracts this season. Two of the affairs ended in a deadlock, while Cataracts scored victories in the other pair.

The Dukes twice were forced to come from behind, narrowly averting defeat in the second overtime-session, when Jack Shill snared a pass-out from Jimmy Primeau to sink the tying counter, with only a minute left.

Arva Maki and Hunter added to Shannon's scoring efforts, while Whitey Farrant, Pud Kitchen and Jimmy Primeau completed the Marlboro tallying.

Detroit Red Wings Face "Iron Task"

TORONTO, Feb. 18. — (C.P.)— Detroit Red Wings, who have come to be regarded as a menace around the National League circle, set out to-night to build up a lead in the American division that will take some hacking down. And they have chosen a partitcularly unpromising week-end for the point construction.

The Red Wings, already a point in front of New York Rangers, play Maple Leafs to-night at Toronto.

Sunday night Detroit's team faces Boston Bruins at the border. Rangers can pick up only two points in the week-end festivities and they must down Canadiens in Montreal to do that.

Ottawa meet Americans at New York and Maroons hook up with Black Hawks at Chicago in the other Sabbath fixtures.

Pennsylvania Track Star Seriously Hurt

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 18. — (C.P.).—The Arkansas flyer, Black-thatched Bill Carr, who flashed to running heights in the Olympic games last summer, may be lost to the University of Pennsylvania track team for the remainder of his college career.

Water has developed on the right knee of the world's 400 meters champion, injured in a simple game of touch football. While optimism prevails, a change for the worse may cost Bill this last collegiate track season of his career.

GROVE FIRST TEAM DEFEATS STUDENTS

Prep School Outfit Scores Brilliant 5-1 Victory on Lakefield Ice.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 18. (Examiner Correspondence)—The Grove first team won a 5-1 victory over the High School in a fast game on Wednesday afternoon with a large crowd present.

Loyst was a good man in goal, probably quite equal to Ames, but his team did not rally to his support, Jewell and White were probably the pick of the High School. The Grove was strong in both lines of forwards and each one made good play. Wright is the top notcher of The Grove, speed, skill and sportsmanship and his rushes were always making the opposition slip out. Ames was exceptionally good.

Line-ups

High School—Loyst, goal; Morrison, r. defence; Stenner, l. defence; Lennox, centre; White, r. wing; Payne, l. wing; Brown, Blewett, Chittick, Jewell, alternates.

The Grove—Ames, goal; Wood, r. defence; Wright, l. defence; Macrae, centre; Gunn, r. wing; Stuart l. wing; Fletcher, Dench, Hepburn.

Second Team Wins

The second hockey team of The Grove won from the second Trinity College School team in a closely contested game on Wednesday afternoon. The score was 4-2. K. A. Mackenzie handled the game which was interesting as the combination of both teams was good, the checking strong and the pace a fast one throughout the three periods. The Grove had the edge all the way and the score is an indication of the relative strength.

The line-up:

The Grove—Burgess, goal; Dawe, l. defence; Atwood, r. defence; MacPherson, centre; Strickland, r. wing; Clarkson, l. wing; Carter, McMaster, Herder, Grey, subs.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, things has been moving at top speed in local hockey circles this week, and right now (Thurs.) the fans is all hot and bothered about the doings. I don't know what's going to happen to-morrow (Fri.) nite when both our teams swing into action, but I do know the local bugs seen a hair-raising battle here Wed. nite when Mister Buckland's kids tumbled the Bowmanville youngsers outa the group title. Our lads took it on the chin 6 to 4 in Bowmanville Mon. nite, so they had to come back strong in the return bout, which game they did, taking the round 14 to 12. But don't kid yourself it was any soft win. Them boys from the rubber town certainly fought it out till the last ditch, and they was moments when it looked like they might be good enough to cop the duke. This here Mister Bagnell, their 1st string centre ice player, was plenty elusive, and he was a thorn in the Petes' side all night. Both defences was as wide open as a New York speakeasy, and the result was a scoring carnival, as well as a flock of narrow squeaks that had the fans up on their toes all the way. It might not have been the most brilliant hockey in the world, but, neighbors, it was fast, and it was in earnest, and when you get that kinda going you get a hockey match, and I don't mean probably.

Both our teams is matched with Eastern outfits, the kids taking on Queen's 3rd's and the Wright machine hooking up with Belleville. Nothing much ain't known about the students, but the intermediates has some tough opposition in this Belleville crew who has just nosed Campbellford outa the contention. The Petes is fortunately in good fettle for this important round, and the return game with Belleville, which is scheduled here for Wednesday night, should be sizzling with excitement. The old rink will be jammed for this fixture which brings Belleville and Peterborough into action here for the 1st time in years.

In general sport, Mac, the death of Earnie Schaaf has been the big news of the week. Poor Schaaf went down before Primo Carnera last Fri. nite while thousands of fans yelled "Fake" and score that Mister Sharkey's for mer protege had done the well-known dive act. And now the loser is dead, which must make lotta folks which give him the raspberry feel rather funny just about now. It just illustrates how easy it is for a crowd of sport fans to lose their sense of proportion and to get all worked up over something they don't know a thing about. We had a illustration of that here in a recent hockey game when visiting goal umpire was booed because he refused to signal a score on a shot that hit the post. As usual the fans furthest away from the play did the loudest hollering over the affair, and the umpire was eventually removed, although his decision was perfectly right.

Well, old-timer, here's hoping for more wins to chortle over next week. Meanwhile, let's call it a day.

A. WISE CRACKER.

Gordon Kuhn Given Chance In Majors

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (CP) — Manager "Bullet Joe" Simpson of the New York Americans to-morrow night will give another Maritime hockeyist a chance to make good in big league competition.

Owing to an injury to burly George Patterson, hard-shooting wingman, Simpson has decided to bring Gordon "Doggie" Kuhn, a right winger, up from the New Haven Eagles for Sunday's game with the luckless Ottawa Senators. Kuhn is a former member of the Truro, N.S., Bearcats. He has been showing fine speed and stick-handling ability with the Eagles in the Canadian-American circuit but his lack of weight may make it hard for him to remain in the majors.

Patterson, former Kingston, Ont., amateur, fractured his right arm while the team was practicing at Lakewood, N.J., and may be out of action for the balance of the season.

CLOCKMAKERS DEFEAT BLUE PETES 10 TO 8

G. Mortimer Stars in Third Game of Girls' Basketball Series.

WOHELO'S WIN 10-4.

The Ladies' Basketball League held four interesting games at the Y.W.C.A. last night. The 'Y' Seniors and 'Y' Intermediates played the first game. In the first quarter H. Cole and O. Elcombe gathered in the only field baskets which were both for the seniors. In the second quarter the Interemdiates rushed determinedly and nearly evened the score. B. Simpson registered a field basket and D. Ackford a foul shot to bring the score to 4-3. This was short lived when E. Armstrong tallied for the Y Seniors to put them in the lead at half time 6-3.

In the third quarter the Intermediates broke loose and only lacked one point at the end of the period to knot the count. H. Cole scored for the Seniors a few seconds after the first whistle. D. Paterson followed this with a field shot for the Intermediates. O. Elcombe registered again for the Seniors on a foul shot from J. Dawson. The Intermediates then registered a field basket by D. Ackford and a foul shot by D. Paterson to end the period in a 9-8 score.

In the last quarter the Intermediates failed to find the hoop for their shots while the Seniors registered four more baskets, H. Cole scoring two and E. Armstrong and I. Davidson the other two. The 'Y' seniors led at full time 17-8.

Line-up:

'Y' Seniors—Forwards, I. Davidson, J. Harvey, E. Armstrong; centre, H. Cole; defense, H. Jackson, O. Elcombe, J. Allin, S. Levine.

'Y' Intermediates—Forwards, S. Ecobichon, B. Simpson. A. Thompson, J. McConomy; centre, D. Patterson, S. Lynch; defense, L. Magee, J. Dawson, D. Ackford.

Referee—Stan Shields.

C.G.E. Seniors Win 4-2.

The C. G. E. Seniors and St. Paul's played the second close game. Both teams started off at a high speed and the ball was kept in swift motion throughout the game. M. Hodson tallied the lone basket of the first half for the C. G.E. Seniors.

In the second half the C.G.E. Seniors were anxious to keep the lead and the Saints desired to even the score. In the third quarter C. Legon squeezed in a basket and the period closed with a knotted count of 2-2. The last quarter was the most interesting. Both teams passed quickly and the game became fast. A few seconds before full time, M. Hodson tallied for the C. G.E. Seniors and the Saints were not able to knot the count and were defeated 4-2.

Line-up:

C.G.E. Seniors — Forwards, M. Hodson, L. Coursey, H. Peryer; centre, M. Amyott; defence, M. Hallihan, M. Burnley, B. Cappisoli.

Blanks Blue Petes 10-0.

The Westclox Seniors and Blue Petes played the third senior game. The Clockmakers held the Blue Petes to a scoreless count while they gathered in ten points. Both teams checked closely and passed quickly. In the first quarter G. Mortimer tallied the only field basket. The second quarter was confined to one foul shot, put in by G. Robinson. At half-time the score was 3.-0

In the third quarter G. Mortimer gathered in a field basket, and D. Webb followed this by a foul shot. G. Mortimer tallied again, and the period ended 8-0. G. Robinson netted the only basket of the last quarter, which ended in the 10-0 victory for the Westclox Seniors.

Line-up:

Westclox Seniors—Forwards: G. Mortimer, H. Joyce, G. Robinson; centre, M. Mortimer, G. Hardill; defence, I. Thirnbeck, D. Webb, C. Mason.

Referee, Stan. Shields.

Wohelo's Win 10-4.

The Wohelo and St. Andrew's teams played the fourth encounter, which was a junior game. The Wohelo girls showed that they have now become accustomed to handling the ball. The Saints are just new at the sport, and they have showed great improvement in their passing. The Wohelos came out on top with a 10-4 victory. They held the St. Andrew's to one basket in each half period, these being tallied by M. Donaldson in the first half and J. Cole in the last. In the first quarter E. Hodson scored the first basket for the Wohelo team. In the second quarter A. Livingston gathered in two field shots, which ended half-time in a 6-2 score for Wohelo.

The second half was run off quite quickly, each team working very hard. I. Vivash tallied in the third quarter for Wohelo, and O. Gillespie registered the last basket in the fourth quarter to make sure of their victory.

A sudden-death game at the Brock at five o'clock Monday will settle the Public School Hockey League championship this year. Finances being a bit low, King Edward and King George schools decided to clean up the play-offs with the one tussle. These are rivals that meet year after year and always put up a fine show of keen competition. They're playing for the School Cup put up by a number of business men, and captured last season by the K.E. lads.

Peterborough intermediates go to Belleville in their second round playoffs Monday, playing back here Wednesday. A letter from Ken Colling of the Quinte city informs us that the Belleville team is known down that way as the "Oilmen" and is sponsored by the Cities service Oil Co. The Doherty A. C. is a club within the Cities Service and was the one playing city league hockey. They were granted permission later to use the B.A.A.A. franchise in the O.H.A. intermediate series. Interesting enough, Ken, but how good are they?

Lots of classy cage playing seen every Friday p.m. down at the Y. W. where the Ladies' City League games are held. Four were staged last night and a couple of them proved smart tussles. "Y" Seniors galloped through for fairly soft win over their intermediate sisters, C.G.E. Seniors just trickled down the stretch ahead of All Saints with a 4-2 win, Westclox Seniors didn't spare the whitewash in their 10-0 affair over Blue Petes (we wouldn't blame 'em to be blue!), while Wohelos took the junior tilt from St. Andrew's. Lots of excitement and no-so-worse basketball at all the way these gals.. play it.

* * * * * *

Church Hockey League playoffs, midget and juvenile, the other night at All Saints, settled the issue in the case of the midget section. Knox won the title by beating Mark Street 4 to 3, after beating 'em last week 5-0. All Saints and St. James juveniles went to a 4-4 tie, so another and maybe two games will have to be played. The junior affair was called off. Monday, the juveniles resume at seven bells, while Knox juniors will open their series against All Saints at eight o'clock.

Grab-bag: Baked potatoes, or would you sooner them boiled and with their jackets off? . . . . The Queen's team had to wait an hour and a half after they arrived yesterday down at Louis Yeotes' as their coach insisted on baked spuds . . . . Athletes' training diet, it seems . . . . McLeod's drugstore cowboys roped and hogtied Cowan's newsboys 6 to 3 in one of those games at the Brock . . . . We lost our bet last night, but are still even up on the season . . . . E.P.L. play-offs start around the first of the week between Norwood and Carters . . . . Other loops better get squared around and pointing toward their titular tilts, too . . . . Some good Church basketball games billed for the "Y" to-night . . . . And the City League hoop games might be worth giving the once-over, also.

* * * * * *

Two down and one to go. That's the task of the Petes' juniors in Kingston Monday night. They dropped last night's tilt 4 to 2 at the Brock, although they outplayed the visitors all through the last period. Get them going right Monday and they might just about pull out a win, who knows? Queen's looked good here last night in a way, but are far from a brilliant bunch of pucksters. Their combination is so-so and their forwards fast. While the defence is plenty beef on the hoof, it's slow and not so hot at body-checking. The shooting of the forwards and the net-guarding of James were the big factors in last night's win. That and their strong defensive play throughout.

* * * * * *

The Petes weren't going so good for two stanzas. True, they tried hard in the first but were just outplayed. They made it about even-stephen in the second but were outscored. In the third, it was all Peterborough. But they could just fool James twice and that wasn't quite enough. Well say one thing for the Kingstonians, they sure cover up opposing players nicely, and stick to their checks.

* * * * * *

A swelegant crowd jammed its way into the ice-box by the time the affair opened. And were the fans disgusted the first period? The Petes couldn't seem to get going at all, and the other side seemed content to sit back and wait for the breaks. They got 'em all right, getting a couple of tainted markers and one earned one. They also earned the one in the middle spasm, but they couldn't come close in the third at all. The Petes earned both theirs, so what? They should have had several more on their play, but this guy James looked like another Vezina, kickin 'em aside without any excitement whatsoever.

* * * * * *

Those collitch boys play clean hockey, aside from a few charges and trips that will happen to anyone occasionally Lewis was the toughest one the Petes had to contend with, stealing Wing's thunder by grabbing off scoring honors. Three goals out of four isn't bad after a day's studying. Pettit, the husky tow-headed defenceman helped himself to an armful of boos on his various little jaunts to the "clink" for clumsy checking tactics. But the goalie was the standout.

* * * * * *

All the homesters tried hard, some of 'em going better than the others. Sandy muffed a couple but blocked a bunch as well. Cadd looked smart on several rushes, with Weir and Fenton both ankling up several times on good tries, too. Both front lines worked hard, though the first-stringers didn't get clicking till halfway through. Burley again showed a lot of speed in spots but didn't stick so well to his position. Hill's checking was effective and so was Caladine's. Well, if the whole squad turned it on for all they're worth in the return match, they might even it up and possibly pull out a win. Again, we say, who knows?

OBS HEXIMER ONE FOR BEST BRUINS' STARS

Niagara Falls' Youth Starred in Junior Ontario Hockey Association Ranks.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 18 (C.P.)—Orville "Obs" Heximer whose compact 155 pounds streaks along left wing for Art Ross' Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League, is rated among the outstanding athletes of this border city.

Before making the leap to professional ranks with New York Rangers in 1929, the then 18-year-old youth was the sensation of Ontario Hockey Association's Junior ranks, with a turn of speed and goal-getting ability that made him the idol of his native city.

Young Heximer's professional debut was made in New York with Lester Patrick's galaxy of stars, hardest team in the league for a young player to earn a place. After a few weeks, mostly warming a Rangers' bench, Obs was sent to Springfield Indians of the Canadian-American League.

Stars With Springfield

With the Springfield team he jumped into stardom and was a big factor in that team's title-winning race in 1931. In that season Heximer compiled a total of 61 scoring points, made up of 36 goals and 25 assists, highest marksman in the circuit.

Marked by every team in the league the following year, the youthful speedster was held down, but managed to finish tied with four others for seventh place with 11 goals and 17 assists on a team that finished in last place in the league.

Shipped from Rangers to Boston at the start of this season, Heximer has been playing great hockey for the Bruins. His great speed has been used more for back-checking than goal-getting plays, but he has come to the fore in numerous Bruin games with a timely goal.

Now 22 years of age, Heximer apparently has a great future before him in the hockey world. Slightly below medium height, his sinewy frame and great speed make him the type of player defenceman find hard to stop. He is unmarried and described as "handsome."

Snowshoers Start On The Final Lap

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que., Feb. 18.—(CP)—Eighteen miles of snow covered highway loomed before the 13 runners still in the 130-mile Hull to Montreal snowshoe race. The runners, who arrived here yesterday from Pont Viau, travel on to Lachine, Que., the second last lap of their week's grind. The run ends tomorrow at the Montreal baseball stadium where the prize of $2,500 will be divided.

Unless they crack hopelessly, most of the money will go to the Finnish squad who have placed one-two-three for several days. They are Johnny Koukku and Ivaar Hakkarainen, Montreal, and Johnny Jokela, Toronto.

Pressing at their heels in the veteran August Fagar, of Ashtabula, Ont., winner of two laps, who is less than half an hour in elapsed time out of third place.

INTERCOLLEGIATE FINALS TO-NIGHT

Queen's University Defending Honors at 20th Assault-at-arms in Montral.

MONTREAL, Feb. 18.—(C.P.) — Cracking of boxing gloves and crashing of grappling bodies will resound again at the McGill University to-night as the finals of the 20th Intercollegiate assault at arms are held.

Swords will be crossed in the afternoon as the three universities taking part in the annual affair hold their fencing championships. The fencing title is worth three points in the final reckoning and each of the eight boxing and eight wrestling final events is worth a point.

By midnight either Queen's University will have defended successfully its title won last year or University of Toronto or McGill will have captured the honors.

Varsity has placed 12 men in the final mat and ring events and McGill and Queen's 10 each. Semi-finals were run off last night.

Seven of Varsity's finalists are in wrestling, Johnson, 125 pounds; Miller, 235; Fletcher, 145; Dimitrief, 155; Shute, 165; Watt, 175, and Gray, heavyweight. Varsity's five boxers remaining are Rapsey, 118 pounds; Smith, 125; Lossing, 135; Green, 155; and Farley, heavyweight.

Queen's has four boxers, McGill, 118 pounds; Peever, 145; Carr, 165 and Peters, 175; and six wrestlers, May, 118 pounds; Foresburg, 125; Johnson, 145; Bews, 155; Carlyle, 165 and Hoskin, 175. McGill's chief hopes are in boxing, where she has seven finalists.

NEW SOUTH WALES TEAM SCORES 320 RUNS FOR 7

NEWCASTLE, Australia, Feb. 18 (C.P. Cable).—A team representative of the northern districts of New South Wales scored 320 for seven wickets against the visiting English test cricket team here today in an exhibition game. Beattie and Chipperfield knocked up 53 and 162.

Many of the test team players have been resting and holidaying following their deciding victory over Australia and to-day's eleven included P. F. Warner, the manager, and Jack Hobbs, who is accompanying the team in a journalistic capacity.

Earl Wildcat McCan Is Welter Champion

CINCINNATI, Feb. 18 (A.P.) — The world's welterweight wrestling crown—as far at least as the United States Wrestling Association is concerned—to-day rested on the head of Earl (Wildcat) McCann, of Portland, Ore.

McCann won the title last night from Jack Reynolds when he raised the new former champion into the air, banged him to the mat and applied a double reverse arm hold. The end of the one-fall match came after 21 minutes and 46 seconds.

PICTURE AT REGENT WILL AID RELIEF

"American Madness" Will Be Presented Last Three Days of Next Week.

The Relief Fund of The Examiner will profit by a portion of the proceeds of the feature picture, "American Madness," which will be shown at the Regent Theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

This fund has taken care of many people during several years past, and has filled in gaps in the regular relief agencies, by providing necessities of life for those who, through some regulation or lack of residence, are not able to obtain help through the other channels.

"American Madness" is described as a compelling screen drama which puts its finger on the pulse of the nation of to-day and presents a picture of modern conditions that should be of intense interest to all who are living in this day and generation.

Walter Huston, the star, who made such a success in the title role of "Lincoln," and was also starred in "The Criminal Code" and other pictures, was born in Canada, of Scotch-Irish parentage. He studied to be an engineer, but went on the stage at the age of eighteen. He acted in stock for awhile—then went back to engineering. After four years he returned to the stage, in vaudeville this time, and remained there for twelve years. He returned to legitimate acting with "Mr. Pitt," and became a star overnight. "Kongo," "The Barker," and "Desire Under the Elms" were among his successes. Then pictures claimed him.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

When you're eating an apple
And you come to the core,
You can be very sure
That there isn't much more.
—Shadow Sayings.

Mij, Flor, Hanid and Yam—oh, yes, and Knarf, too—gazed at each other in alarm. Why alarm? I'll tell you. They had just heard a loud cry, from the direction of the children's room.

Mij thought that his master must have hit his head. Yam thought that her mistress must have stubbed her toe, and the other three shadows thought that their masters and mistresses must have got into other kinds of trouble. So after gazing at each other in alarm for a second or two, they all slid along the floor of the hall (shadows mostly always slide along floors when they're in a hurry), and then they squeezed through the crack of the door of the children's room.

A Call for Help

Of course, the children hadn't heard the apple's cry, because children don't know how to listen to apples when they cry (or when they laugh, either, for that matter), but the shadows had heard the apple very well.

"He has bitten me Help! Help!" the apple cried, thankfully, as a spied the five shadows and begged them to keep the boy from biting it again.

"I'll stop him," Knarf promised.

"Oh, that will be so nice of you," the applie cried, thankfully, as a tear (or perhaps it was just a drop of sweet juice) rolled down its rosy cheek. Knarf's master had just set the apple down upon the table. He was reading a book, you see, and had set the apple down so as to be able to turn a page. Just then Mij's master, little Jim, came along and said to little Frank: "Give me a bite of your apple."

"Oh, no," Frank answered. "This is my apple I won't give you a bite."

A New Life

When the apple heard this, it was very glad, for it thought sure that little Frank was going to let Jim take a bite out of it. Knarf smiled at the apple. "Didn't I tell you," the shadow-boy said to the apple, "that no one would bite you again?"

"And will I be put back on the tree I came from?" the apple asked.

"What tree do you come from?" Yam broke in.

"From the apple tree, of course," Knarf replied, sharply. "Don't you know anything?"

"Will you put me back on the apple tree?" the apple asked again. "Or even if you put me back on a pear tree, or a peach tree, or an oak tree I won't mind—just so long as I won't be bitten."

"Oh, you'll never be bitten..... never—" Knarf began to say, when —dear me, little Frank finished turning his page and took such a large bite out of the poor apple that it was impossible to say whether there was more of the apple in Franks mouth than there was on the apple itself. Was it eaten up? I'm afraid it was, all except the core, which little Frank generously gave to little Jim, and which little Jim wouldn't touch. So the core was thrown away, and one of the pits fell on the ground and grew, so the apple kept on living after all.

DETROIT SHOWS FAITH IN BANKS

Depositors Draw Out Only 17 Per Cent. of Sums Set as Limit.

$26,117,000 AVAILABLE.

DETROIT, Feb. 17 (C.P.).—The story of Detroit's faith in its banks could be told to-day in plain figures.

Closed since last Saturday noon because an extraordinary eight-day banking holiday was proclaimed early Tuesday on the heels of a legal holiday, the Detroit banks re-opened yesterday, making five per cent. of all balances available to depositors.

Those depositors could have withdrawn $26,117,000. Actually, the bankers announced last night when the day's business was totalled, they checked out only $4,610,000—just 17 per cent. of the amount 'earmarked' for withdrawal during the "holiday." It was considerably less than a routine day's business.

Elsewhere over the State most banks remained closed, except in the upper peninsula, and John C. Hicks, President of the Michigan Banks' Association, said that "for the most part, all financial institutions are abiding by the proclamation." Upper peninsula banks, in a different Federal Reserve district, have remained open all week.

Until the end of the moratorium period proclaimed by Governor William A. Comstock, the Detroit banks will continue on the same limited-withdrawal basis.

Meanwhile, what Lieut.-Governor Allen E. Stebbins characterized as "the best minds in Michigan" were concentrating on the problem of building a buffer to absorb the inevitable shock when that day comes. They had notable help from outside the state.

In most instances, the suggestions took the form of legislation, both state and national, to expand the facilities for liquidating slow assets.

For 7 years he has had relief from RHEUMATISM

"T-R-C's (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules) have never allowed my old affliction to return," says Capt. Jas. Bowes of Dartmouth, N.S.

Dreadful sufferer. Rheumatism lasting 5½ months left Capt. Bowes in bad shape. Exposure to cold invariably brought the Rheumatism back. Seven years ago his druggist suggested T-R-C's. "I don't believe I could stay at work as I do, day in and day out, if it weren't for T-R-C's," Capt. Bowes declares.

Pain and Stiffness vanish when you use T-R-C's. No harmful drugs. T-R-C's give you quick and safe relief by actually entering your blood stream and helping drive out poisons located there. Wonderful for Sciatica (stabbing hip pain), Neuralgia, Neuritis, Lumbago (Lame Back), Headaches. 50c and $1 at your dealer's.

SCOUT CUBITT GIVEN MEDAL

Mayor H. N. Carr Presents Scouts Silver Cross at Hollywood Theatre.

FOR LIFE SAVING.

CAMPBELLFORD, February 18 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—The reward of valor was bestowed last evening on Scout Victor Cubitt of the First Campbellford Troop of Boy Scouts, when before a very large audience in the Hollywood Theatre, Mayor H. N. Carr presented him with the Scout Silver Cross, awarded by the Dominion Executive Council of Scouts in Canada and the second highest award that any Scout can win, in token of his heroism in the rescue of two swimmers last summer in the waters of the Trent system.

In making the presentation, Mayor Carr emphasized the fine training that the Scout movement gives the boys, outlining the deed for which this particular award was given. Seeing two bathers in difficulties in the waters of Crow Bay last summer, while in camp with the local troop, Scout Cubitt immediately went to their assistance, brining them to land, showing promotness of action and extreme courage.

Scoutmaster M. H. Sergeant, of the Campbellford Troop, made the recommendation for the award.

Included in this ceremony, Scout Bob Morrison presented Abram Rappaport, local theatre manager, with the Scouts' Thanks Badge, the highest honor that can be bestowed upon anyone by the troop. This was for facilities offered by Mr. Rappaport to the local troop for raising funds to assist them in carrying on this worth-while work.

Scoutmaster Sergeant also presented the Wolf Patrol, with the Silver Shield, an award which this group has won for the second time, and which is awarded for general work and efficiency.

During the ceremony, which took place between the two shows, all the local Scouts were present on the stage in uniform.

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

Pictorial stamps, especially commemorative issues of different British colonies, are always exceptionally popular with stamp collectors the world over.

Last year British Guiana issued a very attractive short set of five different values in commemoration of the centenary of the union of Berbice, Demerara and Essequibo to form the colony of British Guiana.

The following illustrations may help to give you some idea of the attractiveness of this new issue, which, by the way, should be well worth having, and will never be lower in price than it is at the present time.

The one-cent blue-green shows natives plowing in a rice field, Oxen are used in place of horses or tractors, and there seems to be about a foot or so of water covering the entire rice field. Looks to be very slow and wet job, but if the weather is real hot perhaps it is not so uncomfortable as one might imagine.

The design of the two-cent dark brown is most attractive and interesting. A native is shown shooting fish. Fish being an important part of their diet, they become quite expert, of necessity, at what one would imagine to be a rather difficult sport.

The four-cent carmine-rose depicts the famous Kaieteur Falls, the Niagara of South America. It is called "Old Man's Falls" by the natives of the surrounding districts, who regard it with awe and superstition, due to some very old and almost forgotten legends regarding it.

The $1 violet is of the same design, and this stamp is quite scarce, especially used.

The six-cent ultramarine (not shown), an interesting view of the "Public Buildings at Georgetown," the capital of British Guiana.

Collectors interested in British colonies should not delay in securing a set of these stamps. They have been out some little time now, and will probably be withdrawn very soon, if they haven't already. Naturally as soon as the large wholesale dealers are unable to secure supplies of current or commemorative issues at the post offices, the price of the stamps they then have in stock goes up. This, of course, is to be expected, and the collector who buys the new issues while they are in current use will seldom be sorry. Even now the price is more than face value, as the dealers must be paid for their trouble and expense in supplying the collector, but as I have said, the longer one puts off buying these new issues the more they will cost, and invariably one buys them, when they are seen, due to their attractive designs and colors, if nothing else. Fortunately, we seldom lose in buying British colonials, provided a little judgment is used as regards price, and the stamps are in good condition.

Questions and Answers

William Snook, Halifax, N.S.:

Does it add to their value to keep stamps on the entire envelope, complete with cancellations?

Yes and no.

Many old issues of stamps are worth more on cover (as above) than if separated. Perhaps I should say they are worth more to some collectors. Thus, if you have a market for them they are worth more, if you haven't it is sometimes worth while keeping them until you come across someone interested in collecting covers complete with the stamp or stamps and cancellations. If you have any old stamps of Canada or foreign countries, by all means leave them on the complete envelope.

Recent issues are not much in demand on covers so far. However, it has taken quite a few years to add any extra value to these old stamps when on covers, and the same will apply to more recent issues. If you are patient, and just put them away for a number of years and forget about them, they will probably have an added value some day.

Clarence Shattuck, Boundary Creek, Alta.:

United States, half cent, olive issue; centre design, a bust of Abraham Lincoln; below it, 1809-Feb. 12-1909; face value two cents; color, carmine. Used copies catalogue at four cents, unused 15 cents.

United States, half cent, olive brown with picture of Nathan Hale in centre. Catalogs at two cents, used or unused.

United States two-cent violet shows "Landing of Columbus". Dates in top corners, "1492-1892". This is one of a set of 17 stamps issued by the United States in 1893 to commemorate the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. This two-cent value catalogues at 15 cents unused and two cents used.

I am unable to determine from your descriptions the other stamps inquired about.

PLEASE NOTE: When requesting the value or other information regarding any stamp or stamps, send as much information regarding its appearance as possible. There are somewhat over 100,000 different postage stamps that have been issued up to the present time, so please make your descriptions and questions as clear as you possibly can. A single question should be confined to one stamp or one set of stamps.

The author will be pleased to answer all questions regarding stamps or stamp collecting. If your question is of general interest it will be answered in this column. If a written reply is required, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. Address your letter in care of this paper.

WINDSOR SCHOOL RATES SET 35 AND 37.3 MILLS

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 16 (C.P.)—Rate of 35 mills for East Windsor Public School supporters and 37.3 mills for Separate School supporters was agreed upon at a conference of the Council School Board and the committee of supervisors. There will be confirmed at the next council meeting.

The rates are the same as in 1932, but the assessments are lowered by almost $3,000,000—the assessed value of lands registered in the name of the city for arrears of taxes.

BRITAIN, FRANCE OBJECT TO ARMS FOR AUSTRIANS

Send Stern Notes Giving Government Fortnight to Get Rid of Shipment.

SAY TREATY VIOLATED.

Italian Press Claims Demands Will Lead to New International Dissensions.

ROME, Feb. 18 (C.P.).—Giornale D'Italia yesterday published the text of what it called a virtual ultimatum that France, with Great Britain's adhesion, sent to Vienna giving the Austrian Government a fortnight in which to get rid of arms and supplies allegedly concentrated in that country in violation, the paper says, of the treaty of St. Germain.

The note was published in Paris, the newspaper said. The note was kept secret, the Giornale D'Italia said, because responsible French circles realized it was "excessively forceful," and did not wish to lay themselves open to public judgment.

The note evidently referred to the reported shipment of 40,000 rifles, and 200 machine guns from Italy to Austria recently, although it did not mention the specific origin of the arms, according to the Giornale.

Italian Foreign Under-Secretary Suvich told the British and French Ambassadors on Jan. 31 that the shipment consisted of material formerly owned by Austria, which was sent to Italy by a private company for repair.

Four Demands Made.

The communications, as printed by the Giornale D'Italia, made four demands of Austria.

First, that the Austrian Government must obtain assurance of the complete reshipment of arms to the point of origin.

Second, if the shipper refused to re-accept the arms, the Government must destroy them.

Third, the Government must give British and French representatives proof in the form of sworn statements that the arms were reshipped or destroyed.

Fourth, the Government must investigate whether a part of the arms had been reshipped to Hungary and report the findings to British and French representatives. In case it was found that the arms had been shipped, Hungary must state the number of arms thus shipped.

A fifth point appended to the demands said that a period of two weeks, dating from the presentation of the note, was fixed for complete compliance with the demands.

The note added that the French Minister was authorized to inform the Austrian Government that it should be well understood that the note does not affect "the right of all governments to sumbit the question to the council of the League of Nations if circumstances make such procedure necessary."

The Giornale added that the note was sent following a previous exchange between Paris and Vienna.

The note referred specifically to the Austrian cities of Hittenberg and Stefer (probably Huttenberg and Steyer) as the places where the arms allegedly are concentrated.

The newspaper termed the note "most violent." Editorially, it said it was an example of French international manoeuvres which are "extremely dangerous for Europe".

The note necessarily will lead to new international dissensions with grave effects on the cause of disarmament, the Giornale concluded. The paper expressed surprise that Great Britain should adhere to such a move.

Y.P.S. EVENING AT MILLBROOK

Centreville Presbyterian Y.P. Guests of Grace Church.

MISSION CIRCLE MEETING

MILLBROOK, Feb. 18 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Young People's Society of the Centreville Presbyterian Church were guests of the Grace Church young people, at Millbrook, on Tuesday evening, McIntosh Bradshaw, president of the visiting organization, taking the chair, and George McKnight, president of the local branch, extending a hearty welcome to the visitors, who provided an entertaining program.

Miss Alice Berry took up the literary topic, the story of St. Valentine, Miss Whyte read the scripture lesson, and James Whittington presented the devotional study. Readings by Miss Dorothy Hall, a piano duet by Misses Grace Johnson and Gwen Hutchison, and quartet selections by Misses A. Berry and G. Johnson, and Messrs. George Berry and M. Bradshaw, completed the program which was thoroughly enjoyed throughout.

Appropriate games and contests followed, the large room being attractively decorated with red hearts large and small and other features suitable for St. Valentine's Day, the Grace Church Y.P.S. serving dainty refreshments at the close. The committee in charge preparing the supper tables included Misses Jean Bothwell, Vanita Ingram and Margaret Armstrong.

Rev. Mr. Williams voiced the thanks of the hostess society for the good time provided, and dismissed the happy gathering with prayer.

Mission Circle

The regular meeting of the Golden Links Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs. J. Spence, Main street, on Tuesday night with the new president, Miss Gertrude Spence, in the chair, an instructive program and unusually large attendance featuring the gathering.

After discussion it was decided to divide the Circle into three groups, Betty O'Brian to lead the east end section, Jean Burnham the centre, and Miss Spence the west end of the village. A social evening, with good program, will be sponsored by the Circle on March 14th, the executive to be the committee in charge, with Mrs. J. McKnight, Madeline McDowell, Mrs. D. Lunn and the president as refreshment committee.

A practical talk on the finance of the society was given by Jean Burnham urging tithing, and presenting a plan for raising the one hundred dollars which is the allocation for the year. A quintette sang, "Be a Helper," and the C.G.I.T. group which meets monthly with the Circle conducted its business, deciding on a table setting demonstration at the next gathering in charge of Anna Rowland and Jessie Armstrong. A practice for its public meeting on February 28, and word from the secretary that the Tuxis Square had accepted the challenge for a debate on that night, the topic being "Resolved that Paul was a greater man than Moses," with the decision to send a contribution to the Bible Society, closed this part of the program.

The Wide Awakes repeated their dramatisation of the Bible Story, "Abraham and the Three Guests," and the first chapter of the study book was taken up by Madeline and Dorothy McDowell, the president and Marian O'Brian, Mrs. Jones closing the gathering with prayer. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed before the guests left for home.

School Board Meets

The regular meeting of the Millbrook School Board was held in the council chamber on Monday at 8 p.m., L. W. Smith taking the chair in the absence of the chairman, W. H. Coombe.

Rev. William Simpson, B.A., wrote accepting membership on the Public Library Board.

Reports—The secretary read the auditors' report of financial statement, Wood-McDowell, that the auditors' report be received, carried.

Attendance officer's report for month of January was read, and on motion of Ford-McDowell, was received and fyled.

Wood-McDowell—That the secretary write Colonel J. W. Odell, P.S.I. for further information regarding the teaching of music in the schools, carried.

Accounts read and ordered paid on motion of W. T. Wood and R. A. Ford: Hydro-Electric, $9.14; Walter Woods Company, $11.45; S. E. Eakins, $7.80.

Wood-Ford—That the Board adjourn until the second Monday in March, carried.

MEETING SERIES HAS GOOD START

Livestock Breeders Hold Joint Gathering at Farm of J. C. Nelson.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BURNBRAE, Feb. 18. — Under the joint auspices of the Northumberland Live Stock Improvement Association and the Junior Farmers, a very successful start in the proposed series of barn meetings was staged at the farm of J. C. Nelson & Son, near Burnbrae, on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 14. While a near-by auction sale interfered with attendance, about 30 were present, and the interest was keen throughout the session. Mr. Innes, of Woodstock, who is placed as coach for this series in the county, and Mr. Holtby of Port Perry, senior fieldman of the Holstein breeders, opened the afternoon's proceedings with remarks on the aims and objects of the work. Alex. Hume, president of the County Improvement Association, was present and took an active part in the discussion, and judging, which followed. P. B. Nelson, as head of the township committee, arranged two classes for judging purposes—one of dry cows, the other of fresh heifers. Messrs. Alex Hume and Garnet Circle tied for high points in the first class and retained their position for the two classes as Mac Little, the only one to obtain correct placing on the second class, failed to turn in a card on the first ones.

Many varied opinions were expressed as several life-long breeders failed to agree with the judges on the placing of the second class.

Messrs. Nelson & Son have in their stables over 30 of the finest pure-bred Holstein cattle in the district, and they were complimented on the manner in which they were fitted and handled by Mr. Innes, himself a world-renowned breeder of Holsteins and Jerseys. The Nelson herd has over a period of years been remarkably successful at the various township shows.

The next meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 21, will be held at the barns of Alex. Hume & Sons, Ayrshire breeders, of Menie, Ont.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE of City Radio Service.

Most radios manufactured within the last two years are equipped with tone controls. This is a control by means of which the tone of the radio can be varied from treble to a deep bass pitch. This control also acts as a static modifier when used in the deep tone position, as it reduces the high-pitched noises.

A speaker's voice is usually more distinct with the control in the light tone position. These controls can be added to older radios, and result in improved tone quality.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

The little village of Leticia, over which Brazil and Columbia have been disputing, is a "seaport" town on the Amazon River, almost 2,000 miles from the sea.

WILL ESTABLISH TRAINING COLLEGE

New Departure in Christian Education is Being Created in Montreal.

In these troublous times, when we are tempted to sit back and await developments, it is heartening to find a body of people in Montreal creating a new departure in Christian education. This summer there is to be established the Westward Training College, to provide a six weeks' course during July and August every year, for ministers and workers among youth. It is under the auspices of the Province of Quebec R.E.C., and all denominations are sharing in the responsibility for it. While the theory associated with educational problems as related to the teaching of the Gospel will be given its rightful place, yet practical work will be provided for every student. The Faculty will be composed of: Principal, the Rev. E. I. Rexford of the Diocesan Theological College, Montreal; Vice-Principal, The Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, D.D., Erskine United Church, Montreal; Dean, George Hamilton Archibald, formerly Principal of Westhill Teachers' Training College, England; and the Rev. Kenneth Naylor, B.A., Associate Dean. Courses in Psychology will be given by Dr. Pidgeon; in New Testament, by the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr of Peterborough, Ont., and Prof. Naylor; in Worship by the Rev. Elton Scott, M.A., Rector of St. Columbia's Church, Montreal; and in the Principles of Teaching by the Rev. Dr. C. A. Myers of Toronto. It is expected that there will be a large attendance of students, not only from the Province of Quebec, but also from Ontario.

The first American almanac was published by William Pierce of Cambridge in 1639.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT PARK STREET

Young People's Association Has Conducted Special Fellowship Services.

During the past week, special fellowship services have been conducted in Park Street Baptist Church, under the auspices of The Young People's Association of that church. Both old and young have been attending, and you have missed a great spiritual treat if you have not been present at at least one of these services.

The services of one of the senior students of the Toronto Bible College and a male quartette of four other students, have been secured for these meetings, and only those who have heard these fellows sing can appreciate the harmony that results from not only voices, but lives, that have been dedicated unreservedly to the furtherance of God's kingdom. These young men—ranging in age from 22 to 28—have a singing testimony of the saving, keeping and satisfying power of Jesus Christ in their lives since they accepted Him as their own personal Saviour.

The senior student, who has been preaching almost every night, has repeatedly said that it does not matter whether our name is on a membership church roll—whether or not we have been baptized—whether or not we take the Sacrament (although all these ordinances are very sweet and helpful)—but what does matter, and what God demands—is that our names be written in the Lamb's Book of Life. Until that time we are lost sinners. The idea that prevails throughout the country to-day that it is sufficient to be "sincere" in whatever creed we believe in, is not enough, said the student Thursday night. "I was very 'sincere' in my desire to come to Peterborough, but if I had got on a train going the opposite direction, my sincerity would not have helped me much, would it?"

Another added feature of these services is the children's meetings, conducted by these students, in the basement of the church, at 4.15 p.m.

Because of the great blessings received by those attending these services, it has been arranged that the male quartette and the senior student remain over until Wednesday night (inclusive). The young and old people of Peterborough should not miss this spiritual treat. Bright, snappy song services each week night at 7.45 p.m.; children's meeting at 4.15 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Send the children after school—they'll enjoy the services, and who knows but what the Word sown will bring forth much fruit in years to come. Many of the most noted preachers of today accepted Jesus Christ as their Saviour when but little children.

TIMMINS, Ont., Feb. 20.—(CP)—Pilot H. R. Clegg, of North Bay, and four Schumacher residents are dead today, victims of an air crash late Sunday afternoon when their 'plane crashed on the frozen surface of a lake or river in the Wataikin district 50 miles south of here. BLAST WRECKS HOME IN SAULT

Family Warned, Return From Concert In time To Witness Explosion.

POLICE AFTER SUSPECT.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Police are investigating an explosion which destroyed the $6,000 home of Joseph Krmpovitch here last night in the belief it may be connected with recent threats of bombing in the Sault. The blast destroyed most of the home and fire completed the destruction. The family had just left the house to go to a concert.

Searching near the house, police found six cans smelling of gasoline immediately across from the Krmpovitch home. It was believed the gas line had been sprinkled around the house and then ignited. The family can advance no reason for the outrage.

Jack Krmpovitch, son of the owner, who had accompanied the rest of the family to the concert, returned to the house soon after and found the lights on. While he was turning them off a man came to the door he said, and told him to get out of the house and stay out. He hurried to the concert and told his parents. They returned and, without entering, phoned police from a neighbors.

Members of the family were standing 300 feet from the house waiting for police to arrive when the explosion occurred. A man seen running from the rear of the house is believed to be known and police are searching for him.

FRANK BARNJUM RICH TIMBERMAN DIES IN FRANCE

Millionaire Was One Of Canada's Foremost Advocates For Reforestation.

AUTHOR AS WELL.

Overtaken By Death On Way Home From Visiting Italy's Forest Service.

PARIS, Feb. 20 (C.P. Cable) — Frank J. D. Barnjum, millionaire Canadian lumberman, was dead today after a week's illness. He succumbed Saturday at Neuilly Clinic where he had been receiving treatment.

Author as well as forestry expert, Mr. Barnjum of late resided at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia. His son was in Paris with him, while his widow is at present in Lynnfield, Mass.

Fought For Reforestation

HALIFAX, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Frank J. D. Barnjum, who died in Paris on Saturday, was Canada's foremost advocate of reforestation. After retiring from active business about ten years ago, he set aside half his fortune for a one-man campaign to conserve the Dominion's "fast-vanishing forest resources."

His death occurred when he was returning from Italy, where he had inspected Premier Mussolini's gigantic forestry systems. He had gone to Italy on invitation of the chief of the coutry's forest service.

Wherever he went, whether to New York, London, Paris, the Hague or Berlin, he talked trees. Sometimes he became disgusted with "the cold-blooded indifference of Canadians toward the slaughter of their forests" and in one of these moods he decided to sell his vast holdings and leave the country because he had "no desire to live in a treeless country, a condition which Canada is fast approaching.

Given An Opening

That was in 1924. He was about to offer his 450,000 acres of timberlands, pulp mills, farms, houses and other property "for sale to the first buyer who comes along", when suddenly the political picture in Nova Scotia changed and he saw a new opening for his campaign in the legislature. Nominated to represent Queen's county in the Nova Scotia assembly, he was elected as a Conservative member when Hon. E. N. Rhodes and his followers swept the province in 1925 and ousted the Liberals from office for the first time in 40 years.

But his plans for action in the legislature did not work out satisfactorily, and he resigned his seat two years later.

Although he maintained a beautiful home at Annapolis Royal, "The Gables," he spent little time there after his resignation from the legislature. He travelled much and made several trips to England.

Frank Barnum's colorful business career began when he was 13 years of age, in a stockbroker's office in Montreal. His wage was four shillings a week.

Over fifty per cent of the automobile accidents in the Province of Quebec last year were due to careless driving.

PROHIBITION REPEAL LEFT UP TO STATES

House of Representatives Musters Two-thirds Vote As Required.

BRIEF FIERY DEBATE

Conventions In 36 States Now Must Approve to put Amendment in Effect.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP) — Congress today put repeal of the prohibition amendment up to the states.

The House of Representatives mustered the two thirds vote required, after a brief but fervid debate that roused the packed galleries.

States Must Act

The Senate already having voted 63 to 23 to submit the repeal, the states now for the first time in history must act on such a change to the constitution.

Conventions in 36 states must approve to put the new amendment, the twenty-first, into effect. It requires federal protection from liquor imports for dry states.

The House vote saw many changes from the positions recorded on that taken the opening day on the Garner outright repeal resolution, assuring the majority required to suspend the rules and submit the new amendment. On the previous vote, the resolution lost by a margin of six.

Battle In Full Swing

As soon as today's outcome was known, the Congressional quarrel on how state conventions should be called to act swung into full light.

Chairman Sumners of the House judiciary committee introduced legislation authorizing the calling of conventions to pass on the proposed amendment.

He announced the judiciary committee would convene immediately to consider the bill. Simultaneously Representative Laguardia, Republican, New York, introduced a similar bill.

The House vote was 289 to 121 to submit a repeal amendment to the states.

STATE WORKERS OUT ON STRIKE

Thousands of Frenchmen Tie Up Public Services As Warning to Government.

PROTEST PAY CUTS.

PARIS, Feb. 20 (A.P.)—State and Government employees throughout France to-day defied the Government and executed brief "warning" strikes in public services in protest against proposed wage cuts.

Last Thursday merchants closed thousands of stores throughout the country as a protest against higher taxes and an apparent reluctance by Parliament to economize. Even a number of restaurants in Paris closed for a time.

Street cars, buses and subways were halted for ten minutes to-day, causing a traffic jam. Telephone service was interrupted for an hour and postmen delayed distribution of the mails for an hour. Hundreds of thousands of employees in public offices folded their arms or left their places of employment. School teachers announced a half hour delay in the afternoon sessions.

Six Youths Arrested In Car Ring Roundup

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 20.—(C.P.)—Bernard Strong spotted his father's car which had been stolen. Charles Proulx, 18, and Gordon Thoms, 16, were arrested. Herbert Kelley, 18, and John Tobin, 21, asked about them at police headquarters and were also arrested.

In addition two juveniles were taken into custody and the six face auto theft charges. Police believe a theft ring has been broken.

FORMER LEADER OF COMMUNISTS TO STAND TRIAL

Tim Buck Committed For His Part In Penitentiary Riots.

ONE OF THE LEADERS.

One Guard Declares Buck Was Armed With Hammer During Riot.

KINGSTON, February 20 (C.P.). — Tim Buck, former leader of the Communist Party in Canada, was committed for trial to-day on a charge of rioting during the Portsmouth Penitentiary riots last October. Buck, now serving a five years' sentence for belonging to an unlawful association—the Communist Party — was the 21st Portsmouth convict to be sent up for trial on charges growing out of the riots.

Two Others Committed.

Before Buck's hearing William McCrea and Paul Demers, two other convicts, were committed before Buck's hearing to-day.

More than 200 persons, attracted by Buck's appearance, crowded the courtroom for the hearing. Michael Garber, Montreal barrister, appeared for the former Communist head, who was brought into court with shackled legs and a heavy guard around him. There had been unsubstantiated reports that a disturbance was planned.

Several guards gave evidence tending to show Buck was the ringleader of the October 17 riots. They said he pulled the electric power switch which evidently was the signal for the riot to start, and gave orders barricading doors and storing water for a long siege. Only one guard was able to testify that Buck was armed. He said the Com-

City's Ratepayers Are Signing Petition

"A drastic cut in the tax rate" is the subject of a petition which is being circulated by a group of ratepayers for presentation to the City Council at the next meeting, Monday, March 6.

One of these citizens, owner of considerable property, showed The Examiner to-day four sheets of foolscap, filled with names like by line, the result of only several days' canvass.

"Very few ratepayers have declined to sign it," The Examiner was told. "Those who don't probably think that they would be hurting some personal interest, which is more than I can imagine. The consensus of those I approached is in favor of a cut in the tax rate that will be of real help to the people who have to pay the taxes. I think that was promised at the municipal elections, and we all know the March meeting of the Council is the most important because that is when the rate is struck. From the present response, I think we will have a large number of names on the petition."

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Gross earnings of the British Columbia Power Corporation for January showed a decline of $145,697 from the same month of last year. While expenses were reduced $103,420, it was not sufficient to overcome the drop in the gross figures and net earnings, as a result, were $42,277 under the total for January, 1932.

TRIPLE MURDER IS UNCOVERED IN SPEAKEASY

Newsboy Finds Woman,, Notorious Bandit and Bartender Shot.

NO CASH TAKEN.

Burglar Victim Is Man Who Escaped From Sing Sing Last December.

NEW YORK, Feb 20. (AP) John Sweeney, peddling his papers, pushed into the midtown speakeasy known as "Porky's Place" early to-day and stumbled upon triple murder.

On the floor before the bar lay the bodies of a young brunette, attractive, and of John Egan, bandit and burglar of New Jersey who performed last December the rare feat of escaping from Sing Sing prison. Behind the bar was the body of Michael Griffin, 45 year old bar-tender.

Each had been killed by a shot which entered the right side of the head.

Police did not know who the woman was. She was about 25 years old, an attractive person modishly attired.

Cash on Bar

On the bar were four one dollar bills and some silver—change from a larger bill which apparently had been given in payment for drinks. In the inside pocket of Egan's coat was a fully loaded pistol of .38 calibre.

The shooting was done at close range. There were powder burns about the heads of all three victims. Police concluded, too, that the murders were done quickly and without warning, for the place showed no signs of disorder. Robbery was not the motive, they said. Money in the cash register and in the men's pockets had not been touched.

PAINTINGS SELL $19.50

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Two canvases believed to be from the brush of the English master, Sir Henry Raeburn, and worth $40,000, were bought at an auction here for $19.50, Dr. W. H. Gutzeit, local collector, revealed to-day.

HITLER SHOWS THE IRON HAND AS PRESS, RADIO, ARE MUZZLED

Europe Apprehensive As Fascists Centralize Power For Dictatorship.

WILL RETAIN POWER.

(By Pierre Van Paassen. Copyright.)

BERLIN, January 30. — German Libera's are gravely disquieted not only by the threat to democratic institutions involved in Hitler's advent to power, but also over his attitude on foreign relations. The Fuehrer's (Fuehrer means Leader or Duce) point-blank refusal to receive French newspaper men and his studious avoidance of mentioning France by name is taken as an evil omen for the future.

Pierre van Paassen

On the other hand, Hitler's insistence on the closest possible collaboration of Fascist Italy with Fascist Germany are taken as the prelude of a military alliance between the two countries directed against the French system of alliances, which is supreme in Europe at the present time. It should be added that if German Liberal journals still discuss this angle of the new situation in the Reich, they will not do so in another few weeks time. The Liberal press has been notified that it is going to be muzzled as mercilessly as the Social Democratic and Communist newspapers.

Foreign correspondents who are not in sympathy with the Hitler regime will shortly be invited to quit German territory, that is as soon as their despatches and letters describing the present situation have been examined. The Director of the Press Bureau of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs told me coolly this morning that questions about the freedom of the press, such as I put to him, were not going to be answered, and that insistence on my part to find out the leader's intentions respecting the Republican constitution would be followed by prompt expulsion.

For the sake of clarity I told the gentleman that, personally, I had nothing but the broadest sympathy for the German people, but that my acquaintance with Fascism made me hope that Germany might be spared the humiliating experiences of the Italian people.

Press Muzzled

Except for the recent brief flamboyant statement to "sympathetic" foreign newspapermen, Hitler will

Assassin Laughs, Asks Heavier Term Upon Hearing Fate

"Man Is Unquestionably Sane," Judge States On Leaving Bench As Zangara Pleads Guilty To Four Charges And Gets 20 Years Each, Terms Consecutive.

'NO WANT SHOOT CERMAK, ONLY ROOSEVELT' PRISONER SAYS; LAYS ALL ON STOMACH PAINS

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 20. —(AP)— Florida justice, moving swiftly, today gave Giuseppe Zangara, the Italian assassin the limit of the law—eighty years in prison—for four cases of attempt to murder in connection with his unsuccessful effort to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, on February 15. The sentences run consecutively.

Scornfully, the swarthy little man who boldly declared he had no regret for his act, and asserted he conceived the deed because of his hatred of capitalists and stomach pains, turned to Judge E. C. Collins and asked for a longer sentence.

"Don't be stingy," he shouted, holding up eight fingers.

"Four times twenty is eighty. Give me a hundred years."

Then, the assassin, laughing, was led from the courtroom.

"The man is unquestionably sane," asserted Judge Collins as he left the bench.

Zangara may yet be tried for murder. His pleas today did not cover the cases of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago and Mrs. Joe H. Gill of Miami, who are fighting for their lives in a hospital here.

He was taken back to the Dade County jail.

Zangara was sentenced after he pleaded guilty to the four charges and after he had reiterated to the judge his attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt was unsuccessful.

Full Recovery For Cermak

The most cheering news since they were shot came from the bedsides of both Mayor Cermak and Mrs. Gill. Dr. Frederick Tice, Chicago heart specialist, who arrived only this morning and went immediately into consultation with the attending physicians, said: "I believe we may look forward to the full recovery of the mayor." Mrs. Gill's husband said her recovery "Is just as rapid as we could expect. To-day's condition is very encouraging."

Disdaining any attempt to plead that he was insane when he walked up to the president-elect's car last Wednesday night and wounded five persons when his aim at Mr. Roosevelt was diverted by specta-

YOUTHS APPEAR AMHERST COURT FACING MURDER

Pair Charged With Fatally Beating Woman Night of February 3.

ONE CONFESSES.

Police Arrest First Suspect Within 24 Hours After His Wedding.

AMHERST, N.S., Feb. 20. (CP) Charged with the murder of Mrs. Elmer E. Smith, Amherst woman who was knifed and beaten to death the night of Feb. 3, two 18-year-old youths appeared in court to-day before Magistrate McKenzie.

No evidence was recorded, and the two were remanded to jail to await preliminary hearing on Thursday, Feb. 23.

One was Alavah Henwood, who married an Amherst girl on Saturday night and was arrested on Sunday in the rooms he and his bride had taken scarcely more than 24 hours before.

The other, Trueman Smith, was arrested at the home of his anut in Sackville, about 10 miles from here.

One Confesses

Police to-day said they knew almost the complete story of the murder. Henwood had confessed, they said, and told them that he had planned to rob the Smith residence a week before the murder was committed but had lost his nerve and requested the assistance of Trueman Smith. Trueman is not related to the victim.

The police said Henwood told them he knocked at the Smith residence about 7.30 on the night of Feb. 3 and asked for Mrs. Smith's son, Wilson. When she said he was not home, Henwood thrust his foot between the door and the linta and he and his companion entered. Police alleged that Henwood seized the woman by the throat and after choking her threw her on the floor. Henwood said Smith, who carried a baseball bat under his coat, struck her on the head three times.

CROWDS ATTEND BURIAL SERVICE

Celebrities of Stage and Ring Mourn Loss of "Gentleman Jim" Corbett.

STAND IN COLD RAIN.

(By Edward J. O'Neill—A.P. Sports Writer).

LONG ISLAND, N.Y., Feb. 20. — Celebrities of the ring and stage mourned in tiny St. Malachi's Church this morning at the funeral service of "Gentleman James" J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion of the world, who died on Saturday after a lingering illness.

After a solemn high mass of requiem at 11 a.m., the body was taken to Cypress Hills Cemetery for interment. Heedless of a cold rain that beat steadily down, a crowd of over several hundred stood in 49th Street, outside the church known as the "Actor's Own," as Father John F. Hayes, from his own parish at Bayside, L.I., celebrated the mass.

JAPAN IS READY TO QUIT LEAGUE; MOVE ON JEHOL

Indicate Offensive In Chinese-Ruled Province May Start Tuesday.

STANDS FIRM TO COURSE.

Will Stick With League Only If Report on Manchuria Is Torn Up.

TOKYO, February 20 (C.P.). — Japan prepared to take two far-reaching steps — withdraw from the League of Nations, and send its military forces into the Chinese Province of Jehol.

The Cabinet reached a definite decision to quit the League unless the League tears up its report and recommendations on Manchurian affairs.

Approval of the Cabinet's decision by the Privy Council and the Emperor is considered as certain as is the League Assembly's endorsement of the Manchurian report — a report demanding that Japan withdraw from military and political control in that territory.

It was indicated the Japanese military offensive in the Chinese-administered province of Jehol might be started to-morrow, simultaneous with the meeting in Geneva of the League assembly to act on the Manchuria report. Only a few days ago the League asked Japan informally to promise to stay out of Jehol. Japan declined to promise.

Drive Opens Tuesday.

A Foreign Office spokesman said it would not be surprising if the campaign to annex Jehol to the Japanese-sponsored Government of Manchukuo in Manchuria would begin to-morrow.

In quitting the League, Japan

Explorer Believes Remains May Set Up Asiatic Origin Of Early Americans.

UNCOVERED IN MEXICO.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Parson C. Hayes believes an Indian burial cave discovered in Mexico may furnish proof of the theory, of Asiatic origin of the ancient peoples of the American continent. He is negotiating with the Mexican government for permission to bring the contents here for exhibition.

Under debris of ages, Hayes said, he and his co-workers found the remains of 34 ancients, nine of them mummified and wrapped in coarse native cloth.

Hayes is known as an authority on snakes of Mexico as an authority America. He has spent several years in exploration in Mexico and recently returned from an expedition in South America.

"The features of these people," he said, "are certainly those of an Asiatic race, and we are certain they were members of an old civilization that practised mummification similar to the old Egyptian methods."

ANGLICAN CHURCH APPEAL NETS OVER-SUBSCRIPTION

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Feb. 20 (C.P.).—Confidence that the laity of the Church of England in Canada would respond to the appeal in behalf of restoration of the funds of the Western Dioceses, wiped out by the Machray defalcations, as the bishops and clergy have already responded, was expressed here last night by Rt. Rev. John Lyons, bishop of the Diocese of Ontario. He said the bishops and clergy, asked to subscribe about $75,000 in order to permit continuance of the work in Western Canada, had already subscribed almost $100,000 with 700 still to be heard from.

LOUISIANA MOB DEFIES SHERIFFS LYNCHES NEGRO

Use Rope After Wet Wood Foils Attempt to Burn Victim at Stake.

HAD SLAIN BANKER.

Crowd Acts After Prisoner Admits Attacking Woman After Slaying Husband.

RINGGOLD, La., Feb. 20. — A mob of more than 500 men last night captured a confessed Negro killer from Bienville parish officers, hanged him to a tree at the scene of his crime and fired more than 50 shots into his body.

Mob leaders tried to burn the Negro at a stake but wood and brush around the place were too wet to burn.

The Negro confessed he killed J. P. Batchelor, 50-year-old banker, early Sunday and attacked Mrs. Batchelor after forcing them to walk two miles from their home in night clothes.

The Negro said he was Nelson Nash, 24. Mob leaders allowed him to write the name of his mother on a piece of paper before they hanged him. The mother lives at Curtis, La.

The body was left hanging to the tree. Deputy Sheriff Charles Dugan said it probably would remain there until morning.

The mob quickly dispersed after the lynching and the town was soon quiet.

The Negro was captured late on Sunday. He was carrying a watch said to have belonged to the slain banker.

Took Him From Officers.

There was no jail here, so officers locked him in a garage. All available deputies stood guard. The mob assembled quickly. Guns were displayed threateningly. At one time the mob numbered almost 2,000 men from this and nearby towns. They demanded the Negro's life.

Early last night the Negro confessed to the killing and offered to lead officers to a place on railroad tracks two miles from town, where he had disposed of the pistol he used to beat Batchelor to death.

Officers started him for the place. A mile from town the mob closed in on them. They demanded the prisoner. Sheriff Jordan again pleaded with them, but the mob leaders snatched the Negro from him. The crowd fled half a mile with the prisoner to the spot where Batchelor was beaten to death and there killed him.

Police Spoil Fun Of Stage Wedding

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—(CP)—Pronounced illegal by police, the proposed marriage of a Toronto couple—both 18 years old— scheduled to take place at one o'clock this morning on the stage of a downtown theatre, was cancelled.

The unusual marriage ceremony was arranged, it is said, as a drawing card to introduce "night life" to theatre goers attending midnight shows starting after the hour of 12 o'clock every Sunday night.

The couple were Fred MacCare and Jesse Arlean McFadyen. Rev. Edward C. South, a Baptist minister from Aurora, was present to perform the ceremony.

McCarl's parents had complained to the police, maintaining it was illegal on the ground their son was under age.

CLAIM FRANCE ARMING ALLIES

Mussolini's Papers Declare Move Is Directed Against Italy.

AUSTRIANS PROTEST.

MILAN, Feb. 20 (A.P.)—The assertion that the peace of Europe is being threatened was made yesterday by Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, in summing up Fascist newspaper charges that France is arming her Balkan allies against Italy.

The Balkan bloc must be considered a "provocation," Il Popolo said, adding that new war clouds were collecting over the continent.

La Stampa of Turin printed a list of armaments it said were furnished Jugoslavia and Roumania in the last few years by France, and asserted the French controlled armament factories in Czechoslovakia.

Done Nothing Wrong

VIENNA, Australia, Feb. 20—The Reichs-Post, in an editorial to-day on the French note demanding return of an arms shipment from Italy to the factory as a breach of the Treaty of St. Germain, declared that Austria has done nothing wrong.

The editorial said neither France nor England, who joined the French in making the arm "representation" would risk an open fight with Italy or Germany by bringing the question before the League of Nations, and nobody would refer the matter to The Hague court because the decision would be certain to uphold Austria.

Down in Weight and Very Pale

Mrs. Beare Thankful for Way in Which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Helped Her Back to Health.

Gained Weight and Color

"I can truly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they did wonders for me," writes Mrs. Mabel R. Beare, New Westminster, B.C. "After a long and very trying illness, I was down to 90 lbs. in weight. I could not eat a hearty meal. In fact, I have had to go away from the table hungry, from a dinner I dared not touch. I was also very pale. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so thought I would give them a trial. I soon found I was able to eat with any one, and life began to look brighter. My weight came up to 118 lbs. and my lips and cheeks had lots of color. I am more than thankful I ever took Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and I only hope others will try them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create an abundance of new red blood, which is the reason they have given new vitality and strength to thousands of such nervously exhausted women. Equally helpful for growing girls. Try them. At your druggist's in the new glass container, 50c.

Heavy Snow Follows English Mild Spell

LONDON, Feb. 20 (C.P. Cable)—A sharp cold spell with intermittent snow flurries has gripped the whole of England following the mild spell it had recently been enjoying.

Many roads in the North Country are blocked by snowdrifts and severe blizzards prevented any outdoor amusement over the week-end in many districts. Along the coast lifeboats have been launched to assist the small vessels in finding their way. A heavy fog lies over the water.

TECHNOCRATS ARE ALL WRONG SAYS EX-KAISER

Rule of Machine Must Be Broken By International Agreement.

UP TO MIND OF MAN.

Holds Some Intelligence Which Created Machine Can Remedy Evils.

(Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press).

DOORN, Holland, Feb. 20.—Wilhelm II., former Emperor of Germany, reflecting in the solitude of his banishment upon North American discussions concerning technocracy, has arrived at the conclusion that the technocrats are wrong in conceding the supremacy of the machine.

The rule of the machine, he believes, can and must by international agreement and co-operation be broken by the same human mind which called the machine into being, only then can the problem of unemployment be solved.

The former monarch's views were laid down in the form of a letter written to his life-long friend, T. St. John Goffney of Summit, New Jersey. Summed up, Wilhelm II. sees technocracy and the problem of unemployment as follows:

1. Unemployment cannot be cured by material means alone, for it is "spiritual distress."

2. While it is true that the machine threatens our entire economic life, yet the mind of man, which created the machine, will also "find ways and means of effectively meeting the excesses of technics."

3. One effective way of meeting unemployment is that of taking industrial workers out of the big cities and away from the machine-dominated factory, and "putting them to work at building streets and canals, or cultivating waste land, or colonizing them" as small farmers.

4. For the machine, as for business, certain regulatory laws must be promulgated "so that its planless, inorganic multiplication and use may cease."

5. This regulation must come about "by international agreement."

The former Kaiser also expresses the belief that, even if the depression were suddenly to cease and business and industry to advance by leaps and bounds, the great mass of industrial workers who were thrown out of jobs during the depression could not be reinstated has meanwhile rendered them superfluous. He adds:

"It becomes quite clear that the problem presented by unemployment is by no means . . . merely a question as to how to carry the unemployed through this period of economic impression. No, it is in reality a problem of the future—of how our economic life of the future is to be organized. . . .

"The state must open up new fields of labor, and until these have been opened up it must look after the men without earnings. . . . Happy the state which has at its disposal regions which have not yet been opened up by human endeavor."

An Insult?

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., February 20 (C.P.). — The State Police don't know whether they have been complimented or not.

Hailed by three hitch-hiking girls from Ashtabula, O., a trio of policemen gave them a ride —straight to police headquarters, where the wanderers were held for their parents.

"Just imagine. We thought they were Boy Scouts," said the girls.

JAPAN IS READY TO QUIT LEAGUE

withdraws from the Western world's entire peace machinery, built up by long and difficult post-war negotiations. Also it quits the body which gave it rank with the strongest powers of the Western world for the first time in history, chucking overboard its influential position as one of the five permanent members of the League Council. The others are Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

Vice-Admiral Osami Nagano and Lieutenant-General Yoshiji Tatekawa, delegates to the disarmament conference, will be recalled when the Empire secedes from the League, Navy and War Office spokesmen told the Associated Press.

Loyal Signatory.

"It is futile to continue to discuss disarmament in that hostil atmosphere," said the War Office spokesman. The Navy Office stated that Japan remained a loyal signatory of the Washington and London naval treaties and hoped to participate in a conference with those other signatories in 1935.

Yosuke Matsuoka, who has been Japan's delegate to the League of Nations during the long drawn-out debate on its controversy with China over possession of Manchuria, was notified immediately of the Cabinet's action. As soon as the League vote is taken, he is expected to leave Geneva.

When and how Japan will quit the League were the problems still to be decided. The Japanese (Rengo) News Agency said formal notice would be sent to the League about the middle of March, when Matsuoka reaches Tokyo.

CLOTHING PLANT SWEPT BY FIRE $250,000 LOSS

Over 250 Thrown Out of Work —Factory Owned by Mayor.

SPRING STOCK LOST.

Blaze Follows Minor Explosion In Boiler Room— Hope to Rebuild.

CORNWALL, Feb. 20—About 250 persons were thrown out of employment and approximately $250,000 loss was suffered when fire swept No. 1 plant of Cornwall Pants and Prince Clothing Company on Saturday afternoon.

The plant, a four-storey brick and sheet metal building on Marlborough street south, was completely swept by flames.

While the exact cause of the fire was still unknown this afternoon, it is believed that a minor explosion took place in the boiler room of the plant shortly after four o'clock Saturday afternoon. At that time there was no one in the building, but passersby stated that they heard a distinct report and saw two windows blown out. A few minutes later smoke began to seep through the windows.

When the firemen arrived they found the fire in the rear half of the plant, spreading through the first and second floors. Burning cloth sent up clouds of dense smoke which made it almost impossible for firemen to locate the heart of the fire.

Five streams were poured into the burning buildings for more than an hour before the flames were brought under control but, in the meantime fire had spread to almost every section of the first and second floors, doing extensive damage. The third floor, while escaping fire damage, was flooded with water and the contents, consisting mainly of finished clothing and cloth, were ruined by water and smoke.

The Cornwall Pants and Prince Clothing Company was one of Cornwall's biggest industries, and more than 250 employees were working night and day filling orders for Spring delivery. On this account, the store-rooms of the plant were filled with finished goods and materials, which made the loss exceptionally heavy.

The factory is owned by Aaron Horovitz, Mayor of Cornwall, who was in New York yesterday. Notified by telegraph of the fire, Mayor Horovitz returned to Cornwall this morning. After making a full survey of the plant, he estimated the loss at from $200,000 to 250,000, and pointed out that an even heavier loss would be suffered because of the inability of the company to make delivery of Spring goods.

No. 1 plant is the main unit of two factories operated by the company but, owing to the fact that all material is stocked and cut in No. 1, the fire will result in the closing of No. 2, where the goods were finished into clothing. The number of workers thrown out of employment will almost double Cornwall's unemployment total. Mayor Horowitz stated to-day that rebuilding of the factory would begin as soon as insurance companies have adjusted the loss. He hopes to have the factory in operation within three months.

FOURTH DEATH REALLY FATAL

Man Who Sat Up In Morgue Declared Definitely Lifeless In Delaware.

BAFFLED DOCTORS.

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 20 (A.P.)—One of the strangest cases in medical annals had ended last night as Leroy Taylor, 43, officially was pronounced dead.

Taylor actually died last Thursday, but not until exhaustive tests over a period of two days failed to show any signs of life and rigor mortis set in fully, were attending physicians ready to state unequivocally that he was ready for the undertaker. That was because Taylor had "died" several times before.

Once, in 1927, he dropped in a Philadelphia railroad station. Authorities pronounced him dead. He was taken to the morgue and placed on a slab to await identification.

The attendant went out of the room for a moment. Returning, he took one look, shrieked in terror, and fled. For Taylor was sitting up, gazing about him in bewilderment.

Several times later Taylor seemed dead and ordinary tests failed to show otherwise. A stethoscope gave no indication of a heart beat. But each time, after a period of an hour or two, Taylor revived.

The cause lay in a war injury. As a result of it, a vein and an artery in his head, his family said, were connected and venous blood seeped from the vein into the arterial system.

When sufficient venous blood got into the arterial system a condition difficult for physicians to explain other than in medical terms resulted.

That would result in a deep sleep so similar to death, his family declared, as to defy ordinary, perfunctory examination.

BOY IS RESCUED FROM ICE CAKE

Lou E. Marsh Swims Out With Rope Held By Scoutmaster.

AT TORONTO BEACH.

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—Two men with a rope, one wading and the other swimming, and both fully clad, on Saturday co-operated to rescue one small boy from a perilous position on a floating cake of ice which was drifting rapidly from the shore near the foot of Leslie street.

The men, who were drenched by their act, were Lou E. Marsh, sports editor of The Toronto Daily Star, and Scoutmaster William J. Myall, Jr., 223 Bain Avenue. The youngster, who suffered only wet feet and a bad scare, was Billy Vaughan of Carlaw Avenue. The rescue was watched by a crowd which rushed to the spot from up and down the beach.

Billy and his younger brother, George, were playing on the beach when the older boy ventured upon a cake of ice clinging to the shore. Under the burden of his weight and the combined enthusiasm of the two children to have a boat, the ice broke away and began to drift into the lake under the pressure of a strang wind. Billy began to yell, George ran for help, and a crowd began to gather.

In the crowd was Scoutmaster Myall, who had a group of boys on the beach. Unable to swim, Mr. Myall produced a rope with which he had been instructing his corps in knots and rope hitches and sought to throw it to the drifting lad. At the same time he urged Billy to sit still and not upset or shatter his precarious craft.

Hears Shouts

Sitting in his car several hundred yards from the spot, Lou Marsh looked up from the book he was reading when he heard shouts. He drove to the foot of the street and ran to the beach. As he ran up to the group who watch the boy, he pulled off his heavy overcoat.

"Myall had kept his head and sent another boy for the rescue rope and lifebuoy which hung on a post down the beach," Mr. Marsh said. "He knotted the two ropes together but could not throw the rope to the lad. In any event it was dangerous because the boy might have fallen in while reaching for it.

"We thought about getting a rowboat. But something had to be done right away, because kids get excited and by the time a boat could be brought the little fellow might have become panicky and upset himself. So I started to wade out. I though it wasn't deep until I stepped in over my depth. So then I swam. I managed to reach the ice floe and get my fingertips on it. Myall, who couldn't swim, waded into the water up to his shoulders so I could get enough rope to get out to the kid."

MOTORIST DROWNS DIVER FINDS AUTO

Howard Smith Second To Have Perished In Sydenham Lake This Winter.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

KINGSTON, Feb. 20. — Missing since Friday, when he started across Sydenham Lake in his car, Howard Smith, 20 years old, was the second victim of the lake this winter. A diver yesterday found the car, which had gone through the ice, but was unable to discover the body.

It is believed Smith got free of the car, and was swept under the ice. He had left the land north of the lake Friday on his way to the Village of Sydenham, when his car plunged through a crack in the ice. He did not return home by Saturday night, and an alarm was raised, resulting in the diver finding the car today. This is the second drowning in Sydenham Lake since the new year. In January another youth, E. Rousthorn, was drowned when he went through a crack in the ice while skating.

GOVERNMENT WILL HANG ON

No Provincial Election This Year Henry Cabinet Decides.

MAJORITY DECISION.

TORONTO, February 20. — The Henry Government proposes to "hang on," and avail itself of a "lame duck" session of Ontario's Parliament under the Act extending the life of the Provincial Legislature from four to five years.

The huge increase in the debt of the Province, due to the orgy of expenditure during the past few years, and the consequent increase in taxation, decided the politicians at Queen's Park to play for time and hope for the best.

Die-Hards Get Their Way.

It was a majority decision. Certain of the Ministers, in view of bluntly expressed Conservative opinion throughout the Province, particularly in the rural districts, where the stress of taxation is falling heavily, were inclined to favor an appeal to the people at the end of the regulation four years—even if it resulted, as anticipated, in electoral defeat.

"Let the other fellows," was the argument, "struggle with the complications and the mess into which we have got ourselves." One Legislature, at most, under existing indebtedness and taxation, would, they maintained, result in a return to Conservative administration.

During the evening, the presentation of a cabinet containing thirty-three pieces of silver, was made; also the gifts of a book, a pearl-handled cold meat fork and berry spoon, a pyrex pie plate, a silver basket filled with roses and a purse of money, all gifts of their friends and relatives. The presentations on behalf of the assemblage, were made by Miss Edith Thorne, Mr. Harold Thorn and Mr. Harold Dawson. The accompanying address, read by Mr. Will Dawson, expressed in eloquent terms the high esteem and affection in which Mr. and Mrs. Thorn are held by their friends. It said, in part: "As our memories go back over the years that have passed since your marriage, we recall with pleasure the many times we have enjoyed the kind hospitality of your home and of how we have found in you a true friend and neighbor at all times. We appreciate your earnest endeavor to promote the true spirit of friendship among a wide circle of friends and relatives, and your deep interest in the welfare of one and all." The address was signed on behalf of the gathering by Mrs. James Thorn, Mrs. William Thorn, Mr. Robert Thorn, Mrs. Welford Dawson and Miss M. E. Fair. A suitable response was made by Mr. Walter Thorn, for his father and mother, and everyone joined in the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and brief speeches were made by Mr. Wilbert Wood of Bensfort, Mr. Melville Stewart of Smith and James McCamus of Millbrook. Congratulations sent by mail and telephone were received from Mr. and Mrs. George S. Thorn of Port Hope. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter of Lakefield; Mrs. Graham and family of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bragg, Mr. Fred Hoar, Miss Florence Hoar, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wight, Mrs. Garbutt, Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Wight, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Just Between Us Women

A FEW DAYS AGO we were speaking about flowers—and to-day we will continue the subject.

* * * * * * *

A boudoir bouquet must be light, in the shades of pink, blue, and yellow—a little bouquet, preferably in a small vase. Try not to use bowls of flowers in the bedroom, as they are a little off the scheme of things.

* * * * * * *

Bowls belong downstairs in the home. However, a gay little vase of flowers for the guest gives just the right greeting, and adds much to the warmth of the welcome.

* * * * * * *

Flowers for the dining-room should be arranged in a low bowl. In this room, we ordinarily look down upon them. Therefore, they should be loosely arranged.

* * * * * * *

The homemaker will do well to have a flower holder in this event, arranging the blooms so that the person looking down upon them gets just the right effect.

* * * * * * *

If they are on a buffet or sideboard, then you will look at them from the side and front. They should be arranged with this in mind. Take heed of the tell-tale mirror back of the bowl of flowers.

* * * * * * *

If you have been neglectful of the back of the bouquet, this will show up. Of course, flowers properly arranged and set in front of a mirror are best displayed because they always look to be twice as many, and give a sense of profusion and richness.

* * * * * * *

Flowers on the mantelpiece will be looked up at. Keep this thought in mind, and have the flowers hang down over the side of the container.

* * * * * * *

For a luncheon in the home, a cool-looking bowl is best for the dining table. The flowers should be loosely arranged and so low that those around the table can readily see one another. It is annoying if a bouquet is too high or too tall, so that the guests are constantly having to peer at one another through the foliage.

* * * * * * *

The same is true of an intimate, informal dinner. Arrange the flowers that guests on different sides of the table will be able to converse pleasantly with those on the other side, so that faces will not be hidden.

* * * * * * *

For the formal dinner, the hostess will, of course, wear flowers. Soft candle-light is warmer and more inviting than any other means of illumination, and with the candles harmonizing in color with the various shades of flowers, some very lovely effects can be obtained.

THE THREE-TRUMP ECHO

The three-trump echo consists of the play of a useless middle trump upon declarer's first lead, followed by the lowest trump upon his second lead. This echo enable partners to count declarer's trumps, and also shows that the one echoing has one trump left, in case partner can win the second round of trumps and wants the echoer to ruff a suit of which he is void.

This echo, which is used only with just three trumps, is of great possible utility, as the following hand shows:

	♠ K Q ♥ K Q 8 7 5 ♣ A 7 ♦ Q J 9 5
♠ 9 7 6 4 ♥ J 10 4 ♣ K Q J 10 ♦ A 4	Y A B Z	♠ A J 10 8 ♥ A 6 3 ♣ 9 8 6 ♦ K 3 2
	♠ 5 3 2 ♥ 9 2 ♣ 5 4 3 2 ♦ 10 8 7 6

Y made a third-hand opening bid of 1-Heart, B bid 1-Spade, Z passed, A jumped to 4-Spades, having two assists plus, ending bidding.

Normal play of the hand, without the benefit of the echo, will give Y-Z only three defensive tricks; one spade, one heart and one club trick.

Z's opening lead was the 9 of hearts; the 10 forced the Q, and declarer's Ace won the trick. A low diamond put dummy in the lead with the Ace, and the 9 of spades brought out Y's Q. The Ace won the trick. Z played his 3 of spades. The declarer led back his J of spades. Z played the 2, stating that he held just one more spade. Had Z not echoed in trumps his partner would have credited the declarer with holding five trumps, and game would have been lost, as Y would not have led two rounds of hearts, thereby establishing a good heart in dummy (supposing Z could not trump the trick. As it was, when won the second lead of trumps he led his K of hearts, and noted that Z dropped the 2, stating that he held no more of that suit. Thereupon Y led back a low heart, knowing that Z would trump the trick with his third and last spade.

Having won one heart trick and two spade tricks, Z sought the fourth and setting trick. As the declarer had led diamonds, to gain entry to dummy for the purpose of leading trumps through Y, it did not look as if Y held the K of diamonds, although he might do so. It was certain that the declarer held at least one club or he would have shown a six-card suit in preference to first bidding four spade. B might or might not hold another diamond, but if he had none it could do no harm to ruff him, so Z led a diamond. B won the trick and led a club, that gave the defenders their fourth and last trick, as the declaring side held no more losers. Remember the three-trump echo, when holding neither more nor less than three.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

"Dear Miss Glad: My little daughter is now two years old, and has very prettily-colored blonde hair. It is quite thin, however, and grows very slowly. I was wondering, therefore, if because of her youngness, it would be in any way harmful for me to use a bit of oil on her scalp. Do you think so?

"MRS. L. J."

Personally I do not think that it would be harmful for you to use a bit of oil on your child's scalp, if you exercise care in its application. For the scalp of a child so young is naturally very tender. Before putting your daughter to bed at night, warm a half-and-half mixture of castor oil and olive oil to body temperature by placing the container in a basin of warm water. Then apply the oil very gently to her scalp with a piece of absorbent cotton. Allow the oil to remain on her scalp until the child's head is washed in the following morning's bath.

"Dear Miss Glad: During the past few years I have been very much overweight. And my body was quite out of proportion, too, for my bust seemed undeveloped, while my hips and thighs were much too large. Through the excellence of your 'New Figure' booklet, however, I've managed to lose 25 pounds already. And my bust measurement has increased by a good two inches. My present problem, however, is blind pimples. Could you tell me how to eradicate such blemishes? PATSY."

Most pimple and eruptions have their beginnings in the condition of the blood, and so their primary treatment is internal. If your skin is marred with such blemishes, modify your diet with attention to better elimination. Drink 8 to 10 glasses of water each day. Consume large quantities of fruits and vegetables. Eat figs, dates, oranges, spinach, agar and bran to cleanse your intestines of poisons. Never attempt to press a blind pimple, however. The poisons are gathered too far under the skin. The only thing you can do is to massage around the pimply area and thus stimulate the blood to carry away the poisons.

"Dear Miss Glad: I'm having quite a bit of difficulty with make-up just at present. I just can't seem to find a shade of lipstick that looks natural on my lips. Are there any rules to be followed in choosing the shade of lipstick one should use?

"RITA."

The wrong shade of lip rouge can ruin even the most artistic make-up in the world, and so I'm glad that you're concerned about it. There are several suggestions that may profitably be borne in mind when the tint for the lips is selected. The present trend in make-up is toward naturalness. Always, therefore, select the most normal coloring, and avoid deep purples, brilliant reds and mandarin shades. Your lipstick should blend with the shade of rouge you use. The light yellowship reds are best, because they are the youthful tones the reds of exuberant health. The dark, purplish shades are the tones that appear in an aging face, and should therefore be banned by any average woman under 50.

TOURIST TRAFFIC.

How serious was the decline in tourist travel from the United States into Canada last year is shown by figures that have recently been issued at Fort Erie, Ontario.

Traffic over the Peace River bridge, situated at this point last year amounted to a total of 1,633,195 automobiles and other motor vehicles while in 1931 the total was 2,269,648 motor vehicles, a decrease last year of 636,453.

This was partially made up by the fact that the ferry between Fort Erie and Buffalo carried 142,167 more cars last year than in 1932, so that the net decrease in travel at Fort Erie last year was 494,286 motor vehicles.

That is, of course, a huge falling off and it is probably reflected in the revenues of summer hotels, and other business enterprises dealing with tourists.

The decline throws a light upon the desirability of stimulating tourist traffic during the coming summer by the judicious use of advertising for it is evident that unless the trade is given a decided impetus by such means there will be a similar falling off this year.

The district that goes out after tourist traffic will undoubtedly get a fair share but other sections are likely to fare badly.

UNCLE SAM ACTS.

While Mr. Woodsworth has been striving to remove Section 98 from the Canadian Criminal Code, it is interesting to note that the United States Senate is preparing to pass a similar act that will make it illegal to hold membership in organizations that would overthrow by force the American constitution.

The need in the present unsettled situation of such a safeguard will be appreciated by the majority of people on both sides of the international boundary line.

There are in Canada those who pretend to believe that Section 98 strikes at trades unions and labor organizations generally, but it is not difficult for those who really want to disabuse themselves of that idea.

The law Mr. Woodsworth would have thrown overboard does not of course affect labor organizations; it only hits at those societies which advocate the violent overthrow of our Canadian system of government and which comprise in their membership individuals who would force by bloody revolution the communist system upon the people of this country.

As The Examiner has already pointed out, only those who mean no good to Canada need worry for a moment over Section 98.

BRITISH EMPLOYMENT.

Some interesting figures on employment have been given out by the British Ministry of Labor, who declares that in the period from 1923 to the present, while the basic industries of Great Britain have been on the decline, expansion has been taking place in a number of more recently established industries.

There have been heavy decreases in shipbuilding, coal and other mining, steel and iron, general engineering and woollens, but new and increased outlets for labor have been afforded in the various sections of the great electrical industry, transportation, silk and artificial silk, the motor vehicle industry and many branches associated with travel and entertainment.

An interesting fact is that decline in work took place continuously in industries where labor is supplied almost continuously by men, whereas those industries which have been developing include a much greater proportion of operations which provide employment for women.

Of a total of 9,896,680 employed in 1923, the number of females was 2,706,600 as compared with 7,190,080 males. In 1929 the total number employed was 10,930,360, comprising 3,117,560 females and 7,812,790 males. For the year 1932 the figures were respectively 9,965,210, 3,020,870 and 6,944,340. These figures show that between 1923 and 1929 the number of insured males in employment increased by 8.7 per cent, and the number of females by 15.2 per cent. Between 1929 and 1932 the number of insured males in employment decreased by 11.1 per cent, while the corresponding figure as regards females was only 3.1 per cent. Over the ten years, employment of males marked a decline of 3.4 per cent, while there was in the case of women a net increase of 11.6 per cent. Moreover, of the total number of insured persons in employment, females represented 27.4 per cent in 1923, 28.5 per cent in 1929, and 30.3 per cent in 1932.

SOME HELPFUL HINTS.

Just by way of throwing a little sunshine into the general situation and in a desire to be helpful, The Examiner, calling attention to the fact that the time for filing income tax returns is just around the corner brings to the attention of those who are effected some information just issued by the Department of National Revenue in regard to the proper preparation of the forms.

In compiling returns care should be exercised by taxpayers that the information in detail required by the income tax form is fully supplied.

A general impression seems to prevail that a return with a report attached, certified to by the taxpayer's auditors, is sufficient to meet all requirements. This, of course, is not so. A large number of important returns are compiled by public accountants, and they in particular should so complete the form with all the details required on every page so as to eliminate as much as possible any subsequent inquiry by income tax auditors.

A return which does not contain the information so plainly required by the form is delayed in its progress through the Income Tax division. Correspondence and personal visits by assessors follow, with resultant delay in assessing, additional cost to both parties, and additional interest to be paid where increased assessments are involved.

It is suggested that public accountants to whom is delegated the responsibility of preparing returns for their clients, can render a real and tangible national service by carrying out their duties in the manner indicated. All taxpayers must not only fill in the front page but must supply all information requested on the other pages notwithstanding that certified statements are attached. Taxpayers and auditors should know that reconciliations and continuities, which experience with the division has shown are necessary, should be furnished to complete a taxpayer's financial history.

BLACK EYE FOR THE PRIZE RING.

Death of Ernie Schaaf in a New York hospital, following a knockout blow from Primo Carnera in Madison Square Garden last Friday night, will revive agitation against the prize ring. Football's toll of lives in the United States is far greater than that of boxing, but that will little matter. The dramatic circumstances of Schaaf's death, coupled with the importance of the principals concerned in the tragedy, will blind a section of the public to all else. The ring, quite clearly, is in for a storm.

Perhaps it would be well if it didn't weather it. Not in its present form. Boxing is a fine, manly sport; as fine a sport, in its best practice, as fencing. But between boxing as an exhibition of skill and the sort of thing that takes place in the ordinary prize ring there is a wide chasm. Under the Walker law—an act sponsored by New York's late, non-lamented mayor—boxing bouts in New York State rings are supposed to be exhibitions. Actually they are savage contests in which mostly everything, including fouls, are winked at. The law provides that contestants shall be at approximately even weights. Yet time and again we read of lightweights taking on welterweights and welterweights middleweights, with the frequent consequence of gory punishment for the lighter participant.

But that isn't all. Professional boxing—as witness the revelations of Tunney in recent articles in the Journal—has become the happy hunting ground of gamblers, gangsters, racketeers and chiselers. One of the largest of New York newspapers now scatters over its sports pages the warning, "don't bet on fights." And hardly a week passes without news of some fighter "taking a dive" for the benefit of the gamblers.

The harm and pity of this is that all boxing, even clean amateur boxing, is brought into disrepute, discouraged. People grow to regard the pastime as low and brutish, scoff at the claim that it is admirable exercise. It is the common habit of arguing from the particular to the general.

In the circumstances, a general clean-up of professional boxing might be a good thing. Whether it will come is, of course, another thing. Moral waves, especially in the United States, have a way of breaking harmlessly upon the rocks of a short public memory.—Ottawa Journal.

THERE ARE TWO PLANS.

The City Council is considering making changes in the method of purchasing goods for relief orders. The idea is that there are commodities which can be secured to advantage through wholesale buying and central distribution. Some time ago there was a letter in the Beacon-Herald written by a resident of Goderich. The writer stated there were large quantities of beans in many barns in Huron County and these could be secured at a low price. The food value of beans is high. About the same time there was a statement from a farmer in Logan Township, saying that he took wheat to the mill and had it cracked; it made excellent cereal and was used also for making muffins. He had figures which showed this food to be available at a low cost.

There have been various plans tried in Canadian and American cities, and central distribution has not proved best. A check up of methods in U. S. cities showed that Rochester had tried out a number of methods, and had finally settled upon the plan of having certain staple articles distributed in existing stores at 12 per cent. above the actual cost price. Stores which did not desire to do business on that basis were left off the list, but there were plenty in agreement with the plan to make the work of distribution possible. The experience there was that on the 12 per cent. basis it was possible to attend to distribution for less money than it took to secure central quarters and to engage the necessary staff for waiting on customers and attending to the clerical work.

The idea which the City Council in Stratford has in mind is timely and there is urgency behind it. It is necessary that each dollar which the ratepayers must provide for relief work shall go just as far as possible. It is also important that those securing relief shall have just as great a quantity of desirable commodities as can be provided.

When the committees have made their investigations it will be known what central store rooms would cost for rent and operation. Then it will be possible to compare that figure with one which does business through existing stores at a stated rate of profit. Both plans are worth serious consideration. —Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Relief Fund campaign cannot be allowed to fail. Every dollar asked for is required.

Retrenchment to be effective must out deep. The situation calls for genuine saving by all spending bodies

Perhaps when the question of Russian barter gets before the House the country will finally be able to get a clear idea of what the whole thing means.

The Sault bobs up with a story of how Algoma folks use an automobile to catch fish. That's a great country up there.

The idea should begin to sink home that robbing banks in Ontario is not the safest way to earn a living.

Premier Henry may have to introduce Ontario's budget himself. Is he trying to equal Mr. Bennett's record in the volume of public business personally transacted?

News despatches from Europe tell of the discovery of a liquid that will make a rabbit spit in a bulldog's face. People who live in easy reaching distance of the Tennessee mountains have known about somewhat similar stuff for generations.—Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 47

Jere Kane felt genuinely sorry for Rodolf Holmes. But, he told himself, this was no time for sorrow. It was time for action.

"I think I understand," he said.

The actor looked up at him. "I got it on a location trip to Egypt," he explained huskily.

"And you gave it to—Nanette?"

"Yes. She took a fancy to it when she saw it in my apartment one evening not long ago. I gave it to her."

Kane gazed at the actor for a moment, then:

"They went riding—and were going to have dinner out."

"They went riding?" excitedly.

"Yes. They went in Dorotha's car. It was lighter and more chummy—"

"Never mind that," harshly. "Where did they go?"

"Look here, Kane," the actor expostulated, "what difference does it make where they went. You wanted them—"

"It makes all the difference in the world if we don't catch them," coldly. "They're riding to their death—"

Holmes wilted hopelessly. "But how are we going to follow them?"

"In your car."

"But it is in the garage—I had an accident yesterday."

Kane groaned. "Can we get a cab nearby?"

And then remembered that yesterday he had obtained one but two blocks away.

"Come on," he shouted, "before it's too late."

Holmes protested, "But where are we going?"

"Where did they go?" the other countered.

"They were going to the summit house on Mount Lowe for dinner."

"Up the mountain?" Kane asked incredulously.

"Yes," weakly.

He was galvanized into instant action. He seized the actor by the arm and fairly dragged him from the house. "We've no time to lose," he explained hastily. "Even now, we may be too late—"

They raced to the cab stand, instructed the driver to take them to the mountain out beyond Pasadena and leaped into the machine. The chauffeur, grinning at the fare he was going to collect, leisurely shifted gears and started away.

"Snap out of it," Kane shouted through the window into the driver's ear. "This is a matter of life and death."

But the chauffeur was in no hurry. He poked through the traffic, winding back toward Hollywood boulevard, the most crowded street in the city, and then headed for town.

Kane was beside himself with anger. He tried to get the driver to follow less traveled streets, but without avail. Finally:

"Never mind about that Mount Lowe trip," he shouted, "take us to police headquarters."

"But, mister," the chauffeur protested, "I'll get you there all right."

"Take us to police headquarters," Kane reiterated.

When the machine drew up in front of the headquarters station Kane paid the fare, barked to Holmes to wait for him and rushed into the building. He went straight to Chief Lee's office, but that individual was not there.

A sergeant greeted him familiarly.

"I've got to have a car," Kane shouted. "At once. And I want a squad to go with me."

The officer looked questioningly at him.

"Never mind about the questions," Kane exploded. "You know who I am. Please do as I ask."

The sergeant, apparently realizing in his slow working brain, that Kane was in a hurry, dashed off and shortly returned to announce that the car and squad were waiting.

The car sped away after Holmes had taken his place in the machine. The shrieking siren caused traffic to scramble out of its path to safety.

"What's up, Mister Kane?" one of the detectives asked.

"We're going after the murderer of Richard Bailey," he shouted, but the wind almost ripped the words from his lips and flung them at his companions.

The detectives settled back, grimly happy, for they were going to be in on the kill. They thought of the publicity they would get and visualized the screaming headlines that would proclaim the fact to the world that they had arrested the most-wanted murderer in the history of this Garden of Eden.

Once or twice they tried to engage him in conversation with questions about the identity of the slayer. But he ignored them, keeping his eyes glued on the thin white ribbon that was the pavement unfolding under the glare of the powerful headlights.

The machine raced out of the city, whirled through Pasadena and out onto the open road that led to Mount Lowe. Curious eyes followed the progress of the roaring automobile as it moved precariously along its path.

Dusk faded into night before they reached the foot of the rocky hump that is Mount Lowe, but that did not cause the driver to slacken his speed one whit.

Holmes clutched the hand rest on the rear of the front seat and held on for dear life. His face was as white as a sheet and his lips were clenched tight.

Suddenly, the car skidded protestingly around a sharp curve and started up the mountain road. Twisting and turning, its wheels biting into the hard surface, it raced toward the summit.

Now the road was bordering on a deep chasm. The driver slackened his speed a bit. One of the detectives remarked grimly, "A lot of cars have gone off here."

Higher and higher they climbed. But Kane, alertly watching the road failed to discover that for which he sought. Finally the lights of the summit house showed up ahead of him.

He asked Holmes, "Are you sure they were coming up here?"

"Yes," the actor returned. "This is where they said they were coming."

As the car whirled around a short curve Kane saw the shadowy form of a light coupe off to one side of the road in the brush. There were no lights on the machine, but instinct told him this was the car he sought.

A command shouted into the driver's ear brought the big machine to a shrieking stop. Kane leaped out and started for the other machine, the detectives and Holmes laboriously following him.

One of the officers, right behind Kane, whipped out his searchlight. Its beam cut a swath through the darkness ahead of them.

The beam caught the form of a woman lying on the ground. A thin stream of blood trickled from her temple. It was Nanette LeRoi.

Holmes dropped to his knee beside her and lifted her head in his arms. Gently, with his handkerchief, he wiped away the blood. He could feel her heart throbbing and he knew he was not too late.

The light fell on the other two women. They were standing facing each other. Lucy stood with a wrench raised above her head as if ready to strike. Her face was distorted.

Dorotha cringed. Kane heard Lucy say in a husky voice:

"You make one move toward me and I'll brain you."

ARE MEN VAINER THAN WOMEN?

Is it really true that men have more vanity than women?

I asked a man. I asked a woman.

The man said no. Once in a while, said he, you see a man who is fussy about his clothes, his appearance, but whenever you find a man like him you find a fellow that isn't liked by other men. A man doesn't pay much attention to such things. He takes himself as he is, and lets it go. He knows he isn't much and he isn't vain about his appearance.

But women are almost always vain about themselves. You know very well that they spend an enormous amount of time on fixing themselves up, buying clothes, worrying about the slight changes that announce the coming of age.

They diet, they dye, they powder, they grieve. Don't tell ME that men have more vanity than women—are you crazy, or are you just trying to please the women? (That's what the man said.)

The woman said that of course men are vainer than women, and every woman knows that is true. A woman does spend a certain amount of time in fixing, in primping, but that's because she wants to improve her appearance. She knows she has one or two points that are fairly good; so she tries to emphasize them. She knows she has weak points, so she tries to conceal them.

But a man! well, a man doesn't admit he has any imperfections at all. Or, if he has any, they are so small that they hardly count.

A woman wants to impress ONE man, as a rule (or perhaps two or three). But a man thinks he's a charmer at any age. Such arrogance, such vanity, is beyond any woman's reach. To his last breath a man thinks—and knows—that he is irresistible! (That's what the woman said, and she likes men, too, but she was smilingly emphatic about expressing her opinion.)

What do I think? I agree with her and disagree with him. When she says that the greatest vanity is the one that is impertursably satisfied with itself, she submits an argument that is practically invincible and only superb vanity would attempt to demolish it.

But I think a woman is probably vainer about not being vain than a man is about BEING vain—and this argument has become entirely too complicated. It's a vain argument.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Pertinacious selling that developed on wheat price upturns, and was attributed to Government-financed bodies, had a cumulative bearish effect Saturday at the last. Set-backs in wheat values were in the face of late reports of dust storms in Kansas, and, despite rumors that Japan had been buying wheat, cotton and scrap iron, with China buying wheat from Australia. Comparative strength shown by the wheat market in absorbing Government financed offerings was looked upon in some quarters as an incentive to purchase.

Wheat closed unsettled at a shade to ¼c below Friday's finish; corn, ¼c to ½c down; oats, 1-8c to ¼c decline, and provisions unchanged to 5c up.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Feb. 20.—A higher movement in butter and reactionary tendencies by egg prices were the most important developments on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market last week.

Strong statistical position with enough stocks in Canada to last until spring production begins, and assurances of no more New Zealand importations, attracted buyers. As a result, prices rose 3c a pound, with extensive business being transacted. A good demand was reported from Montreal and out-of-town points. No. 1 grass make finished the week at 23¼c to 23½c a pound for cartots or less. To retailers, solids were 25c and prints 25c a pound. Receipts for the week totalled 531 boxes, as compared with 376 boxes the previous week.

After touching new highs for the present upward movement, reaction set in on the egg market in the middle of the week. Prices quickly broke, and on Saturday were down as much as 6c from the top levels recorded early in the week. A falling-off of demand, as the result of advance, was the main reason for the downward trend. Fresh graded extras in cartots or less closed at 21c, firsts at 19c, pullets at 18c, and seconds at 17c a dozen. Last week's receipts were 7,136 cases as compared with 7,844 cases the previous week.

A fractional advance was registered by cheese prices following the butter upturn. Fresh or recent make Ontario colored was quoted at 10c to 10½c, with early Ontario colored at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts for the week were 290 boxes, an advance in comparison with the previous week's total of 222 boxes.

After recording a small gain, potato prices eased off at the close of the week. New Brunswick Green Mountains, per 80-pound bag, were quoted at 77c to 80c, and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains at 85c to 90c per 90-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, February 20. — Satiated with four days of buying, foreign importers declared a holiday on Canada's wheat on Saturday. Caught in the eddy of indifferent demand, wheat prices on the Winnipeg grain market drifted fractionally lower in the short Saturday session, closing ¼c to ⅝c below Friday's finish.

Trading was dull throughout, values moving within a narrow range. May futures ended at 48¼c, July at 49½c, and October at 50¼c.

Moderate buying at seaboard houses enlivened trading at the opening. Some selling thereafter nullified this support, though offerings at no time were heavy, and futures moved indifferently until the close. At times the pit was deserted.

Outside markets also weakened, but this did not influence the local trend. Cheaper offerings from Argentina pressed heavily upon the Liverpool exchange, resulting in fractional declines there.

Trading continued slow in cash grains. Offers again were scarce and spreads closed unchanged. Coarse grains futures also were dull, moving within a narrow range.

The outstanding characteristics of this signature are strength, reliability and durability. He has the independence of mind and the fearless, free, warm and friendly personality of the lover of natural things. He is bluff and straightforward, hale and hearty. Though he is capable of lively enthusiasm he is too level headed, too intelligent—and he posseses too good sense of humor—to be easily ruffled or excited. He as all sorts of energy, a resolute will and active mind. He is conservative and strong on tradition and custom; not too quick to accept new things; but perfectly willing to accept whatevre new seems to have practical and common sense value. He is sincere and scrupulously honest, sympathetic and generous often to an extreme.

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A GREAT SHIPPING DISASTER

On this date, in 1860, there took place one of the most awful marine disasters in Canadian history. The Allan line was then engaged in a vigorous attempt to prove that the Canadian route could be made as speedy as that via New York. The St. Lawrence, unlighted as it then was compared with today, was fairly safe, only one or two minor accidents marring its record; but the winter route was damned by a series of disasters which played havoc with the company and disturbed public opinion. On November 29, 1859, the Indian was wrecked on the "Dead Ledges" on the Nova Scotian coast and sixty lives were lost. Three months later, on February 20th, the Hungarian went down among the rocks off Cape Sable. Not a soul on board was saved, over 240 perishing. She was a new vessel, the pride of the fleet, and had a record of three consecutive passages in 27 days and 23 hours.

The facts disclosed by the investigation were few; but it did transpire that the captain was noted for a certain dash rather than for seamanly prudence. It was said that by his skill in saving sharp corners and scudding over shoals and by his recklessness in keeping up a head of steam, he had converted the slowest of the Canadian steamers into the fastest.

Montreal, indeed all of the then Canada, was stunned by the news of the catastrophe. Postmaster General Smith was assailed as a partner in the criminal recklessness and a parliamentary investigation was held. It showed clearly that the fault lay not so much in the captain's folly in trying to make a record as to the lack of lights and warnings. The result was the inauguration of the present system of lights and markers which now make the St. Lawrence the best directed channel in the world from the Atlantic right up to Montreal. So that the disaster of 1860 was a blessing in disguise; since it forced that safeguarding of our seaways. But it was a bitter medicine at the time.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, February 20 (C.P.).—Ford A stock was offered freely on the Toronto Stock Exchange this afternoon, and the price receded to 6 at the close. The selling was said to be coming from New York. A feature also was the weakening of Bell Telephone to 84½ for a loss of 3½.

The unsettled feeling in the New York market was largely responsible for the bearish trend locally. Interlisted shares especially were affected. Brazilian dropped below 8 for the first time since last summer, an dC.P.R. fell to 10¾, though it recovered a fraction before the close. Nickel lost ⅛ and Smelters a fraction.

The utilities were uniformly weak. Consumers Gas falling back nearly as much as Bell Telephone. Quebec issues of the group also slumped, but less sharply, Shawinigan falling a point and Montreal Power ¾.

British American Oil forged ahead to 8¼, while Imperial lost a fraction and International Pete ¼.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—The jump in the price of bar silver in New York to-day gave new interest to the silver shares on the standard mining market. Late buying came into both Nipissing and Mining Corporaton and these along with Eldorado and Castle Trethaway closed higher. Trading was rather lethargic in the big gold stocks.

McIntyre was the weakest of the high-priced gold group slipping back to $35.25 for a loss of $1. Lake Shore held its loss down to 25 cents, Dome to 40, Hollinger to 5, Wright Hargreaves to 8 and Teck to a few cents.

In the base metal section Nickel was fairly firm at $9.20 but Norands dropped about 40 cents and Falconbridge gained 3 to $2.35.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (CP)—The stock market followed a quiet downward course to-day, showing numerous losses of 1 to 3 points in the later dealings. "Repeal" issues were firm but dull. American Can, under considerable pressure, dropped more than 3 points, while loses of about 2 appeared in Allied Chemical, McKeesport Tin Plate and Union Pacific. Du Pont, Columbia Carbon and J. C. Penney were off a point or more. National Distilleries was up 2 and Owens-Illinois Glass gained one. United States Steel and Montgomery Ward lost major fractions. Sales approximated 860,000 shares.

BOETTCHER ALIVE

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 20.—(AP)—A week after Charles Boettcher, 2nd was kidnapped from his home here, his millionaire father, Claude K. SILVERWOOD'S SHOWS 4 1-2 P.C. PROFIT ON GROSS SALES FOR YEAR

Annual Report Reveals Profit Of $300,039.78 On Twenty-five Plants.

STRONG LIQUID POSITION.

Operating results for the first ten months of the fiscal year which began last April 3rd, indicate that Silverwood's Dairies, Limited, will end the period with a reduced profit but with an improved liquid position. In the previous financial year the company had net profits on their twenty-five plants of $300,-000.78, which was 4½ per cent on gross sales. This is less than one half cent per quart net.

Volume has been well maintained in all departments, it is stated authoritatively, but the spread between producers' costs and retail prices has been reduced by lower prices in some districts, by increased taxation and by the increasing amount of milk which is supplied to municipalities at practically wholesale prices for relief purposes.

Owing partly to the cool summer and partly to the imposition of the 6 per cent sales tax, the ice cream branch of the industry was much less profitable in 1932 than in the previous summer. It is generally conceded that sales for 1932 were at least 33 1-3 per cent lower than the peak sales during good years. These important reductions in earnings have been offset by the most rigid economies and by sharp reductions in salaries. Higher paid officials of the various companies have taken at least 20 per cent reduction, and reductions have been applied all down the line.

JOEY GREEN IS DEAD

GLEN FALLS—Joey Green, racketeer, who like the late Jack Diamond once nursed his bullet riddled body back to health only to be shot down again, is dead today, victim of an early Sunday morning battle in a soft drink shop.

Green was killed, police believe, by a gunman who seized his tie and held him close while two bullets were pumped into his side.

PENNY ARCADE LOOTED

LONDON, Ont. — Armed with axes, a gang of robbers destroyed equipment in a penny arcade at Springbank amusement park, police were informed today, and stole stock valued at $600. The door of a shop next door also was broken but it is not yet known whether anything was stolen.

iliar with the north country. He appeared in the news a year ago when, after his plane crashed while he was flying to Toronto to compete in an air derby, he hitchhiked to the Ontario capital, borrowed a plane just before the race started and made a fair showing. He leaves a widow and young son. They live in North Bay.

Clegg also was well-known in Western Ontario. During 1926 and 1929 he was pilot-instructor for the Atlantic and Pacific Airways in Sarnia.

Sunday Pleasure Jaunt

The four Schumacher people were members of a party who had flown from Porcupine lake to one of the Feldman Brothers' lumber camps in the Wataikin area Sunday morning. They had dinner at the camp and Clegg was ferrying them back to South Porcupine, taking four on each trip. All but the four killed had been safely returned to Porcupine. Clegg had just taken off from the lake with the last party when the crash occurred.

Forty-five employees of the lumber camp witnessed the crash. The machine was a Fairchild and was said to be owned by Stanley J. Smith, of Sarnia, Ont.

Provincial Officer Craik and Coroner Montgomery, of Timmins, are now on their way to the scene of the accident by sleigh. A heavy snowstorm made it impossible for them to make the trip by plane to-day.

Heavily Wooded District

A 40-mile wind is blowing today in the district where the accident occurred. The shore of the lake near where the plane crashed is thickly wooded on high banks.

The plane had ascended only 200 feet when it nosed down and crashed through the ice. Lumbermen who saw it fall said they heard a loud noise like a backfire and then saw the machine come crashing down. A team from the camp had to travel 20 miles to the nearest telephone to get word of the accident out.

Known Around London

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 20 (C.P.)—While H. R. Clegg, of North Bay, killed with four passengers when his plane crashed near Timmins Sunday, was a member of the London Flying Club in 1928 and in 1929 when he was employed as pilot-instructor for the Atlantic and Pacific Airways at Sarnia. He was recognized as one of the finest stunt flyers in the country, having taken part in many air pageants.

Clegg spent all last summer and fall supervising the rebuilding of the Fairchild plane in which he met his death. It had been badly damaged in a crash at Sarnia. Clegg left London last December with the plane. Last week club officials heard his machine was stuck in a small field near Sudbury.

Canadian National Loadings Increase

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 20 (C.P.).—Canadian National Railway car loadings here and passage of cars through Sarnia tunnel continue to show a definite increase.

At Sarnia there was an increase of 253 revenue loads last week over the corresponding week in 1932, and London division kept intact its record for an increase each week since the New Year by topping both the 1932 marks.

This spectacular picture, telephoned from Batavia to Amsterdam, transmitted to London and radioed to New York, shows the actual explosion of a bomb aboard the Dutch battleship De Zeven Provincien, which had been stolen by mutineers and held for several days. The bomb, dropped by a Dutch plane, killed 22 of the mutinous crew and injured 25 others, causing the surrender of the remaining mutineers. In background is the Dutch destrayer, Piet Hein, which had purcued the stolen battleship from Kuta Raja, Sumatra. Seventeen planes were used in rounding up the stolen ship.

When George Lansbury, British Labor leader, addressed a trades union meeting in Hyde Park, London, such a tremendous crowd gathered that 15,000 police reserves were called out in an effort to nip in the bud any attempt at disorder. ABOVE is seen the fiery Labor champion in characteristic pose as he vigorously protests the government's economic policy.

INQUIRES SUM PAID TO TILLEY

Nixon Would Know What Hydro Probe Cost Ontario For Counsel.

MEDD HAS QUESTIONS.

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Further inquiries regarding the amount of money paid by the Ontario Government to the law firm of W. N. Tilley, K.C., who was commission counsel during the enquiry into Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission matters, were yesterday placed on the order paper of the legislature by H. C. Nixon, Progressive leader.

M. Nixon asks: "Has Mr. W. N. Tilley, K.C., or any member of the firm of Tilley, Johnson, Thomson and Parmenter, barristers, (Toronto), or the firm itself been retained by the government or H.E.P.V., in connection with the acquiring of the Abitibi Power development?

If so, who are they? How were they appointed and when? What is the nature of their duties? What remuneration does each receive?"

BANKERS LOOK TO LEGISLATURE

Michigan Officials Hope To Have Plan of Operation Ready in 48 Hours.

MAY EXTEND HOLIDAY.

DETROIT, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Michigan bankers looked to the state legislature today for assistance in working their way out of the problems which last Tuesday resulted in the proclamation of an eight-day banking holiday.

In conference rooms, by telephone and by telegraph the bankers worked with state and federal officials throughout the week-end to devise measures which would guarantee the funds of depositors and insure the resumption of the holiday period Thursday.

Out of the week-end conferences of Detroit bankers came word that substantial progress was made and that a plan of operation probably would be announced within 48 hours. Meanwhile 83 outstate bankers met at Grand Rapids and went on record as favoring an extension of the holiday "until such time as legislation necessary for the protection of depositors has been enacted."

That action the legislature will take when it assembles at Lansing tonight was not definitely known today. Among the bills ready for introduction are those making legal Gov. Wm. A. Comstock's proclamation of the holiday, extending the power of the state banking commission to permit him to limit withdrawals after the holiday is over and giving the governor extraordinary powers in dealing with the situation.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

OSHAWA.—Archie Hopkins, of Oshawa, was committed for trial today on a manslaughter charge arising from the mysterious death on January 20 of Thomas Sheridan, former Oshawa alderman. He was remanded to the county jail at Whitby until the Assizes starting March 2.

Sheridan was found dead in a field early one morning near Hopkins' home.

$1,200 DIAMOND FOUND.

WINDSOR, Ont.—A diamond ring valued at $1,200, reported stolen from a Detroit home, was found hidden in a vacant lot in East Windsor, near the home of a former girl employee of the Detroit family which lost the ring. The owner would not lay a charge.

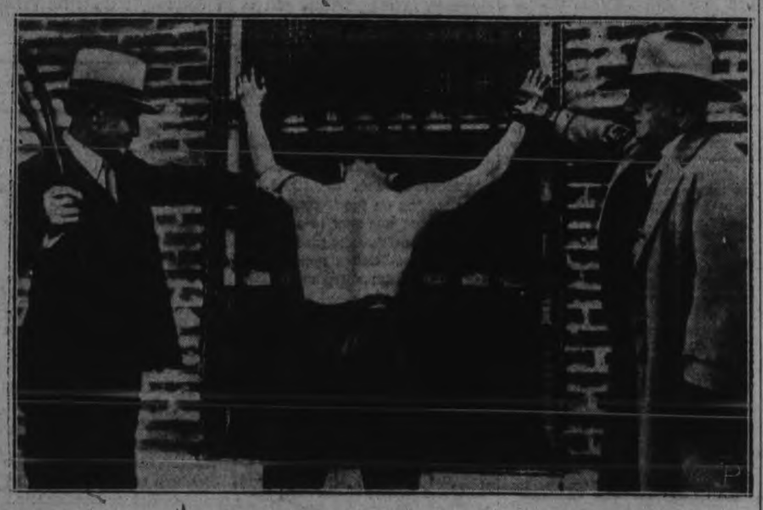
BILLY AND "MA" SUNDAY

Although pronounced out of danger, the Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday, has been ordered to take a long rest. The 69-year-old evangelist has been seriously ill since he was stricken with acute indigestion during a revival meeting in Des Moines.

It seems that the faculty of differentiating between art and obscenity is strangely absent in the United States Customs Office at New York. Here is a photograph of one of the rotogravure copies of the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican which was recently halted at the gate to the U.S. on the grounds that they were "obscene." The ceiling famous the world over as the crowning masterpiece of the immortal Michael Angelo is regarded as one of the world's greatest art treasures. The pictures were later given a clean slate and permitted to enter.

This may not seem a pleasant smile to you, but it's a smile of victory just the same. And the owner of it has cause to feel pleased with himself for he had just been adjudged best dog of his breed at the Westminster Kennel Club show in New York when this photo was made. He is "Crovanspring," an English bull, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. McCroden, of Ridgewood, N.J.

The Versailles Treaty, by prohibiting the use of fighting aeroplanes in Germany, makes it impossible for the German army to engage in anti-aircraft gunnery practice with real planes, the ingenious Teutons have devised this method of keeping their hands in. At LEFT a soldier is shown governing the movements of a cardboard plane, which is manoeuvred on a wire between two pylons to provide a target for the anti-aircraft gunners, who are shown (RIGHT) firing at a proportionately scaled model.



Sentenced to 60 days in jail for violation of the liquor laws, Jack Liatt, 16, of Muskogee, Okla., requested that the judge give him a whipping instead. His request was granted, and here is Jack strung up to the whipping post as Officers Billy Guy (LEFT), and R. H. Hinson, of the Muskogee police department, plied their lashes. Jack took ten swipes on his bare back and is now reconciled to prohibition.

Captain James Mollison, famous British flier, surveys the globe with a view to new worlds to conquer. His recent trip to South America was another epoch-making flight in the career of this intrepid bridger of continents. What flight he will make next is a mystery.

The deputy attorney-general of Quebec, Charles Lanciot (above) has issued an order that forbids any member of the department or any provincial police office from giving any news whatsoever to the press. It is said that this drastic decision arose out of developments in a recent murder case. But the "news-hawks" can be depended on to get the news some place else, if not from official quarters.

Chief Joseph Sunstona (Charging Bull), star of "Cowboy Tom's Round-Up," has been invited to lead the all-Indian band at the inaugural ball in Washington, March 4. When on the air, Chief Shunastona is heard in Pawnee and English, although he can sing in French, German and Italian.

One of radio's newest master-of-ceremonies is J. P. Medbury, well-known columnist and humorist, who is featured on the program of Waring's Pennsylvanians. Medbury went to New York all the way from the west coast for an audition and was rewarded with a contract on the new microphone program.

There's a time for everything, and this isn't one of the occasions when Sir Malcolm Campbell, Britisher, who has travelled faster than any other man has ever done on land, is leading his speedy life. Sir Malcolm is shown enjoying a spin on a bicycle at Daytona Beach, Fla., as he awaited favorable beach conditions before making an attempt to better his record of 254 miles an hour. Sir Malcolm was once arrested in England for speeding on a bicycle!

Charles Boettcher, 2nd, scion of a wealthy Denver, Colo., family and friend of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who is held by kidnappers for a purported $60,000 ransom. Boettcher, who is 31, was abducted from his own home in the presence of his wife, to whom one of the kidnappers handed a ransom note. Claude K. Boettcher, the abducted man's father, has offered $5,000 reward for his son's safe return.

It is reported from Lausanne, Switzerland ,that the Prince of Asturias, eldest son of ex-King Alfonso of Spain, and heir to the vacant throne, is about to renounce his royal rights to marry Senorita Elizarda Sampedro Robato, of Havana, Cuba. The couple, shown above, have been enjoying the winter sports together at the Swiss resort. Senorita Sampedro is 22 and was educated in the United States. Some time ago it was rported Alfonso's daughters were forbidden to marry because of some illness.

President Enrique Alaya-Herrera of Colombia . . . . and President Luis M. Sanchez Cerro of Peru, whose respective forces have started hostilities (Feb. 14) in the frontier region of Leticia, ending a century of peace between the two countries. Fighting was reported at Tarapaca, on the Putumayo river, north of the town of Leticia, over which key point the two countries are struggling. It was feared a real war would result.

Wielding the power of a dictator to save the state from financial chaos, Governor William A. Comstock (LEFT) closed on Feb. 14 every bank and trust company in Michigan for an eighty-day period. The governor's proclamation tied up approximately $1,200,000,000 in savings accounts, commercial deposits and trust funds. Five hundred banks and trust companies were affected. Governor Comstock's statement said the financial situation which made the "holiday" necessary, centred in Detroit's gigantic Union Gardian Trust Co., of which Edsel Ford (RIGHT), is a prominent stock holder. The Union Guardian Trust faced disaster, the governor said, and would have been forced to close its doors the other day.

Apparently not content that Paraguay and Bolivia should absorb the entire limelight in South America, Colombia and Peru have now agreed to disagree over the possession of Leticia, a small town of 500 inhabitants at the headwaters of the Amazon. This town is said to hold the key position to vast unexplored regions of great riches and during the last 100 years has been claimed by Peru, Bouador and Colombia. Now Peru and Colombia are embroiled in a battle for this town, and it may possibly be that Brazil will be drawn into the affair since recent battles have taken place in Brazil territory. The map ABOVE shows the scene of the new war. At Tarapaca a serious aerial battle took place. As usual, ex-German officers are playing a big part in training the armies.

Police Court

Harry McLean, of Toronto, former operator of a transport company here, was arrested by Toronto police over the week-end at the request of local police on a charge of false pretences. In police court he faced a charge of obtaining heavy service chains for a truck from a local garage in payment for which he tendered a cheque which was not honored at the bank because of insufficient funds. He was remanded for week without plea or election, his lawyer guaranteeing to have him in court next Monday morning.

No evidence was submitted in the case of Ernest George O'Hare, Toronto youth, who last Wednesday was remanded on a charge of vagrancy in order to investigate his connection with a stolen car that was wrecked and then abandoned on Highway 28 five miles south of the city. It was explained that although the car was stolen from a Toronto garage in which several relatives of O'Hare are employed, Toronto police and the owner of the car did not desire to press the prosecution. The charge was withdrawn and the youth freed.

ONE-THIRD OF MOTORISTS PURCHASED LICENCES

Peterborough and district motorists score a high rating in the purchase of 1933 automobile markers over the entire Province. Here, according to James Dorris, licence issuer, one third of the motor owners have obtained their new markers, while throughout Ontario only ten per cent have purchased them.

The issuer reports that 2400 truck and passenger car licence plates have been issued. The total number of markers last year was approximately 7200, of which about 600 were passenger plates. The figures for this year, are at present on a par with the rate of issue in 1932.

Foul Play Discounted In Farmer's Death

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Reports of foul play in connection with the death of John L. Shannon, Ernstown Township farmer, found dead Saturday on a side road two miles west of Napanee, were deprecated to-day by Professor Miller, of Queen's University, who performed the post-mortem.

Although Professor Miller's findings were not made public, he stated he believed Shannon had died from either a stroke or a heart attack. Blood was issuing from the nose when he was found by J. Rogers. His team was standing in a fence corner a short distance from the body, and it was believed he stumbled from the sleigh. It is likely an inquest will be held.

WILKINS' AIM IS CHAIN METROLOGICAL STATIONS

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—A chain of meteorological stations, linked with posts in the Arctic, the Tropics and Antarctic, in daily radio communication with a central bureau, is the ambition of Sir Hubert Wilkins, adventurer and scientist. When that is a reality, Sir Hubert's life ambition will be achieved, he told interviewers here.

At the central station reports would be assembled and correlated, he explained, making "long distance" weather forecasts possible.

Sir Hubert, who will accompany Lincoln Ellsworth and Pilot Bernt Balchen on an areial expedition to the Antarctic this summer, plans a second submarine exploration journey to the Arctic in 1934 or 1935. A study of weather conditions will be the objective of the Far-North journey.

"Gossip and Such"

ADD ONE MORE LINE TO the fighting record of James J. Corbett. Make it read:

1932-33 Corbett vs. Death — lost K. O.

FOR GENTLEMAN JIM, A fighting man to the finish has gone to the canvas for the last time against the Dark Destroyer who never fights fair, seldom meets a man in his prime and usually waits until one's punch, speed and strength are gone.

* * *

BUT DEATH PICKED A star in Gentleman Jim Corbett.

* * *

Last Spring the Ghost Rider sneaked up on Jim and delivered his best punch, a hard one to the heart. Jim went down but he got up off that canvas and gave the Destroyer one of the tastiest trouncings he ever received. But no man ever wins last victory over Father Time so call it a knockout.

* * *

Jim Corbett was a fighter the moment he opened his eyes in that forgotten little home in the Mission sectionof San Francisco, 66 years ago last September.

* * *

He had to be a fighter to shake off the sneers and the slurs of the ring crowd when he entered the fight game — in those days an outlaw sport— a clean-living straight-thinking youth—The fight game changed but Corbett didn't.

* * *

And Jim was still a fighter when a year ago he saw who was in the other corner, saw the grim shadow that was sweeping towards him. But Jim ducked, ducked as he did forty years before when John L. Sullivan fired his jaw-crushing right. Jim ducked and danced away—and won his first fight with death.

* * *

They tell a story about the first round of Jim Corbett's first battle with death and it is a better, finer story than his brilliant defeat of Sullivan, his grand battle against dark Peter Jackson, his heart-breaking fight with Bob Fitzsimmons and his valiant but vain attempts to dethrone Jim Jeffries.

* * *

JIM WAS WAITING FOR his train in the Times Square, New York City subway station... A fiery lance of pain drove from shoulder to the heart, Corbett staggered but did not fall. Through his brain flashed a thought: "I can't quit here: So—so many regard me as an example of physical fitness—I mustn't sit down, I musn't—"

* * *

SO, WHILE H I S BODY quivered with pain, Jim Corbett stood there, apparently reading a wall sign—until the twisting agony lessened and he could move, slowly, on trembling legs, which fumbled for the stairway. Up and out of there struggled Corbett and into a taxicab, headed for home.

* * *

DEATH HAD ATTACKED— and been beaten off — by a champion.

BRILLIANT GOALKEEPING FEATURES CHICAGO GAME

Jackson, Primeau, Clancy and Gracie Score in Toronto Fixture.

RANGERS WIN 3-1.

Maroons and Hawks Battle 70 Minutes to Scoreless Draw on Sunday.

TORONTO, February 20. — While an almost capacity crowd cheered their every move, "Conny" Smythe's Maple Leafs, played a championship brand of hockey on Saturday evening to score a decisive 4 to 1 victory over the menacing Detroit Red Wings in a speedy and exciting match at Maple Leaf Gardens. The victory enabled the locals to strengthen their lead at the top of the International Section, while it also served to topple the Detroiters from the top rung in the United States division for twenty-four hours anyway.

SCORELESS DRAW.

CHICAGO, February 20. — On the strength of a remarkable exhibition of goal-tending, the Montreal Maroons last night played he Chicago Black Hawks to a goalless tie in a rough, interesting National League hockey game.

During the regular three periods, Kerr had 41 stops to 28 for Chuck Gardiner of the Hawks, and some of his work was almost like magic. Muah March and Paul Thompson, among others, had what looked like set-up shots, but Kerr made all kinds of attempts look the same.

REGAIN TOP PLACE.

DETROIT, February 20.— Detroit Red Wings regained first place in the American division of the National Hockey League last night by downing the Boston Bruins 2 to 1.

The Wings scored in the first and second periods, Lewis and Aurie tallying, before the Bruns opened a third-period spurt that kept the crowd on its feet. Joe Lamb got the Boston goal early in the final session.

CANADIENS DEFEATED.

MONTREAL, February 20. — New York Rangers had too much defensive power for Montreal Canadiens here on Saturday night, and turned in a 3-1 victory over the National Hackey League's Flying Frenchmen.

Ching Johnson and Andy Aitkenhead between them put up a defence that the eager Canadiens forwards could not pierce for more than one goal. Rugged body checking along the New York defence took the steam out of the Canadiens' attacks and slowed down the redshirt speedsters.

Bailieboro Team Wins From Bewdley

BAILIEBORO, Feb. 20. (Examiner Correspondence). — The local hockey team motored to Bewdley on Friday evening and played an exhibition game against the fast skating Bewdley team, on a fast ice surface. The Bewdley sextette won out with a score of 6 to 1.

The game throughout was a wide open contest, but the locals lacked the scoring punch around the nets. In all three periods the local boys deserved goals as they carried the play and kept Wilson, the opposing goalie on the hop, but he was unbeatable. Jewison, the local left winger, scored the lone counter on a long hard drive from the Bewdley blue line.

E. Wilson, P. Sidey and C. Morton were goal getters for Bewdley.

Lineups:

Bewdley—Wilson, goal; H. Goss and Decuett, defence; P. Sidey, A. Goss and D. Sidey, forwards; alternates, E. Wilson, D. Farr and C. Morton.

Bailieboro—Muspratt, goal; A. Watt and F. Barnard; defence A. Dawson, M. Wood and L. Jewison, forwards; alternates, S. Fry, C. Lang and S. Johnston.

Referee—B. Russel.

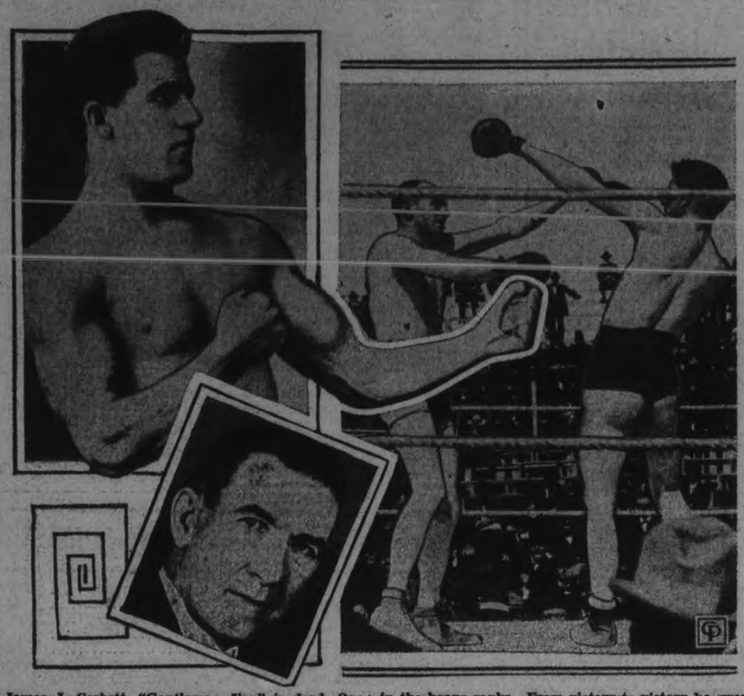
Gentleman Jim Corbett Takes Final Count



James J. Corbett, "Gentleman Jim," is dead. One of the greatest fighters of all times, once world's heavyweight champion, a talented actor, and a true gentleman has gone down for the last, long count. He was the man who made of fighting a science, who, because he was not a particularly hard hitter, developed the boxing style of today. He may well be known as the father of legalized boxing. Starting as an obscure clerk in San Francisco, his rise to fame and fortune was sensational. As an amateur boxer he drew forth much praise and was heralded as the man to best the great John L. Sullivan, king of the heavyweights at that time (1884). He was opposed to turning professional, but was finally prevailed upon and in 1889 he knocked out Joe Choynski, a front-runner in the heavy ranks. From victory to victory he swept on; first Jake Kilrain, then the great Australian negro, Peter Jackson. In this fight Corbett held off and actually out-fought Jackson for 61 rounds, when the fight was declared no contest. The greatest fight, of course, was when he won the title from John L. Sullivan in 21 rounds of a finish fight. After retiring from the game on his defeat at the hands of Bob Fitzsimmons, Corbett devoted his time to the stage and made many visits to Canada. His life has always been a model of clean-living and good sportsmanship. Corbett was born in 1866. In the layout, above, he is shown (LEFT); at the height of his career; (RIGHT) as he lost the title to Fitzsimmons with the famous "solar plexus" punch; and (CENTRE) a recent photograph.

GROVE FIRST TEAM BEATEN 6-4 BY U.C.C.

Lakefield Prep School Stages Great Offensive in Third To Net Three Goals.

CANADA GOALIE STARS.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 20. (By Staff Reporter)—Outlucked on many attempts in their determined drive for goals in the third period, the smart Grove School first team suffered a 6 to 4 defeat here on Saturday afternoon, losing to the powerful first-string sextet of Upper Canada College.

The Grove team were on the short end of a 4-1 score when they entered the final stanza, but they threw everything into the attack to swarm around the Upper Canada nets. Their great offensive caught their bigger oppenents as they wearied after forty minutes of strenuous play, and in quick order the Grove boys netted three counters. Their play earned them more, but Fairhead, in the Upper Canada goal, turned aside a flock of shots and on others luck was against them. Upper Canada netted their sixth goal as the final gong clanged.

Fast Hockey

Play was fast throughout, being on a class with good junior O.H.A. hockey. Grove's opposition was the same team that represented Upper Canada College in the Toronto Prep School League, and the team recently returned from a tour of Quebec and Ontario in which they played all the smart Prep School teams. The visitors were tall and rangy, and had that cohesion to their play which well-coached teams show. But the Grove players were faster neater in their stick-handling and better conditioned. The defence pair of Whittaker and Gooderham gave a fine display of proper defensive work and the light Grove squad found difficulty in penetrating through on the nets.

Douglas and Hood stood out on Upper Canada's attacking lines. Wright, Macrae and Stuart led the Grove attack, but the whole team turned in smart efforts.

Edge on Play

Upper Canada had a big edge in the first period play, running in three goals, but in the second Grove came on and play was about even. Upper Canada secured a lucky goal in the second when Goalie Ames knocked a high shot into the nets.

The final stanza featured the onslaught of Grove. They were all around their big opponents, and most of their goals came from scrambles in front of the Upper Canada nets.

The teams:

Upper Canada College—Goal, Fairhead; defence, Whittaker, Gooderham; wings, Douglas, Hood; centre D. Ross; alternates, J. Ross, Healy, Sanson, Mills.

Grove School—Goal, Ames; defence, Wood, Wright; centre, Macrae; wings, Stuart, Gunn; alternates, Dench, Fletcher, Hepburn.

Referee—Max Board, of Peterborough.

STRATFORD BLANKS KITCHENER 2 TO 0

Western Ontario Junior Group Tied 4-4—London East Eliminated.

(By the Canadian Press).

Voluble Dave Pinkney, hockey impressario of Stratford, had his junior midgets on an even footing to-day with the hard-hitting Kitchener Empires in their battle for group honors, and to-night at Galt, the two outfits will again tangle in an effort to settle the matter of supremacy.

Before approximately 4,000 fans at Stratford Saturday, the husky Midgets blanked their opponents, 2-0, and tied the round, 4-4. The first game at Kitchener resulted in a 4-2 decision for Empires—their first victory of the year over the S.P.A. titleholders.

Urged on by their eager supporters, the classic city outfit commanded the play throughout, the sensational work of Voll, Kitchener goalie, preventing the score from mounting.

Further west on the same night, a well-coached Windsor sextette were eliminating London East Juniors. Wanderers won the game 3-1, and the round 7-2.

BISONS DROP 1 POINT OFF LEAGUE LEAD

Leaders Tie Indians 5-5 and Go Down to Defeat Before Syracuse 4-1.

LONDON WINS 2-1.

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (C.P.). — Grimly determined to draw up even with Buffalo Bisons, International Hockey League leaders, before the rapidly - dwindling season ends, Syracuse Stars and London Tecumsehs, deadlocked second-players today were in full flight after their quarry.

A quartette of games over the week-end served to knock a point off Bisons' four-point margin, as the leaders were only able to tie Cleveland Indians, 5-5, and went down to defeat before Syracuse by a 4-1 score.

Tecumsehs kept pace with Stars, when they battled the Indians weary after their struggle with the leaders and eked out a 2-1 win. The other contest saw those arch-rivals, Windsor Bulldogs, and Detroit Olympics, deadlock at two goals each.

Eric Pettinger led the Londoners in their win over cellar-occupants, scoring both their goals, assisted by Tory Gregg and Harold Hicks. Bernard Brophy garnered the solitary Cleveland tally on a pass from Jack Riley.

Stars Hold Edge.

Syracuse had an edge over Bisons after the initial session, which saw Sammy Godin notch the lone Buffalo tally. Stars garnered two the next frame and another pair in the final frame. Harold Darragh, Earl Miller, Art Teasdale and Sands were the winners' marksmen.

The much-disputed Frankie Ingram made his first appearance with Olympics in their game with Windsor and turned in a creditable performance. Ingram obtained his release from Cleveland to play with Detroit.

Wide-Open Hockey.

It was wide-open hockey Bisons and Cleveland displayed before Fort Erie fandom. One-half the goals were scored in the opening frame. Cleveland grabbing three of them. Roter Roth, Gamey Lederman and Sammy Godin assisted Carr mount up the Buffalo total.

U. OF T. TEAM WINS COLLEGE ASSAULT

Six Toronto Wrestlers Are Victorious—McGill University Second.

MONTREAL, Feb. 20.—University of Toronto captured the twentieth annual Intercollegiate assault-at arms Saturday night by scoring six wins out of a possible eight in the wrestluing end of the program and adding three more points in the boxing for an aggregate of nine points out of a possible 17.

Queen's University, although defending the title won last year, could only capture two points, while McGill was second. The emblem of supremacy of the annual contest, the Gibson Trophy, in memory of a U. of T. man who lost his life in the Great War, goes back to Hart House.

Wiggers of McGill won the individual championship of the fencing and with his teammates captured the team fencing title.

WARSAW RANGERS BEAT HAWKS 3-1

Fred Wannamaker Scores Only Goal For Davis' Outfit—Tight Defence.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 20.—The second game of Lakefield double-header was tame in comparison to the first and the crowd settled down to watch Warsaw trim up Davis' Black Hawks which they did 3-1 and the fact that the score was not larger is an indication of the valiant defence put up by the Hawks against the fast shooting Rangers. Penalties were almost a minus.

The first goal was scored by Fred Wannamaker and this not only began but ended the Black Hawks success in getting past Darling who had tightened up since the last game with High School.

Pete Bowen and T. Darling had the scoring punch in the second period and snapped in one each, and in the third period Darling in an assist for Bowen got in the only counter, Stewart drew the only penalty in the game in the second period, a minor offence. B. Blewett handled the game. The following is the line-up:

Davis' Garage Black Hawks — Goal, T. Webster; defence, E. Stewart, E. Morin; centre, D. Davis; wings, G. Wannamaker, K. Wannamaker; subs, F. Wannamaker, M. Wannamaker, F. Payne.

Warsaw Rangers—Goal, A. Darling; defense, J. Morgan, H. Darling; centre, T. Darling; wings, G. Bowen, A. Bowen; subs, D. Darling, I. Payne, T. Watts, F. Bell.

Grove Second Team Loses To U.C.C. 3-0

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 20 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Grove Seconds were defeated by the Upper Canada College Seconds on Saturday afternoon in the second game of the Inter-School hockey with a score of 3-0, with the weight greatly in their favor; the fact that a larger score was not piled up was due to The Grove's close checking and strong defence. The U.C.C. team used their weight on every occasion, but in the main the game was clean and fairly fast. Braden Blewett handled the bell. Hunter scored the only goal of the first period after ten minutes' play. The third found Woods scoring after eight minutes' play and six minutes later Hughes slid one past Dench. The Grove tried hard to score, but Martin was too strong, and the defence was a powerful one. Robertson and MacPherson were the highlights of The Grove team, but the entire team was plucky and took their defeat in a plucky manner, which won the fans who crowded the side-lines. The line-up was as follows:

The Grove.—Dench, goal; Drake, Braid, defence; MacPherson, centre; Robertson, Clarkson, wings; Carter, McMaster, Herder, Dunn, subs.

U.C.C.—Martin, goal; Woods, Scott, defence; Hunter, centre; Hudson, Scandred, wings; Cooper, Christie, Coste, Hughes, subs.

Oshawa Earns Lead Beating U. Of T. 4-1

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—Taking advantage of every opportunity afforded them, Oshawa Maroons defeated U. of T. Senior "Bees" 4-1 on Saturday night at Varsity Arena, and will take a 3-goal lead back with them to Oshawa for their game to-night. The Students, although outscored, displayed their best hockey of the year and clearly outplayed their opponents.

Lack of finish around the net combined with the tenacious backchecking of the Maroons brought about their downfall. The U of T. forwards consistently rounded or went through the Oshawa defense, but they were frustrated by Burr in goal and the fast-skating forwards of the defenders. Owen had an off night in the "Blue" net, and three counters were of the easy variety.

BOBBY KERR PLACED HAMILTON IN OLYMPIC TRACK SPORTSDOM

Reach Athletic Heights No Other Mountain City Competitor Ever Attained.

COMPETED IN EUROPE.

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 20. (CP) Perhaps Bobby Kerr, the greatest sprinter of his day in the world, started Hamilton on the way to becoming the track and field centre of Canada, once of the Empire and every day one of the most track-conscious cities in any country.

Because Kerr, rotund, pink-cheeked and still a power in track in his middle-age, was Canada's first Olympic trasman. It was in 1904 when Bobby had still to reach the heights of sprintdom he later reached and St. Louis was host to Olympiad athletes at her world fair.

So impressive was the speed Bobby flashed in sweeping the sprints, quarter mile and half mile in numerous meets here, starting with the Coronation games in 1902, that he was selected to represent the Dominion at St. Louis.

There was no team manager, team coach and what not in those days, mainly because Kerr comprised the "team" and he rode a day coach to Missouri on the strength of $75 he had saved. They had quarters for Olympic athletes at St. Louis but not enough. Bobby slept on a hard floor the night before his most important race.

Kerr Defeated

After winning his heat in the 111 metres Bobby was defeated in the semi- final, Archie Hahn winning both sprint finals for United States.

Since that day Kerr has reached athletic heights no other Hamilton competitor in any sport has attained. In 1908 he was internationally recognized as the world's greatest sprinter. When he lost to Reggie Walker in the 100-metre final at the Stamford Bridge Olmpic games that year the defeat was regarded as a stunning upset; and when Bobby captured the 200-metre title for Canada two days later the world accepted the triumph as that of a champion coming into his own.

Competed in England

While in England in 1908 Kerr captured the British 100 and 220 yard championships and was awarded the Harvey Gold cup as the outstanding athlete in the games. From 1905 to 1912 Bobby was virtually unbeatable in Canada, collecting sprint titles. At the Canadian championships at Winnipeg in 1910 he ran 100 yards in 7 4/5 seconds, 150 yards in 14 3/10 and 220 yards in 21 3/10.

Chosen for the Stockholm Olympic games in 1912, Kerr refused his place because he didn't think he was good enough to justify the journey.

Hamilton thinks this typical of the greatest athlete she has produced.

Sarazen Favors Six-Inch Cup

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 20 (A.P.)—Gene Sarazen, British and United States open golf champion, has decided he stretched the point when he proposed eight-inch putting cups for golf courses, and now he favors a six-inch cup.

His endorsement was accepted by the Miami Biltmore Club, where he is under Winter contract, and as a result six-inch cups will be used in the $5,000 Florida Year Round Club's open tournament March 3, 4, and 5, "as an experiment."

BOWLING NOTES

The first regular tournament in the newly organized Indoor Bowling league will start on Tuesday evening, February 21 at the club rooms with eight teams entered. The draw for the first round will be Brown vs. Chesler and Dyer vs. Biddle at 7.30 . Each game will consist of 12 ends for two valuable prizes. The play will continue on Friday evening of the same week.

INFLAMMATION OF BRAIN CAUSE OF SCHAAF DEATH

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (A.P.)—Inflammation of the brain, probably due to an attack of influenza, was the primary cause of the death of Ernie Schaaf, in the opinion of Dr. Charles Norris, Chief Medical Examiner for New York City.

Microscopic examination of the brain, Dr. Norris said in a final report yesterday, revealed the Boston heavyweight was suffering from inflammation of the brain before he entered the ring to face Primo Carnera in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden, Feb. 10. Schaaf was knocked out in the 13th round by a left jab to the nose, collapsed, and died in Polyclinic Hospital last Tuesday after an operation to relieve pressure on the brain.

TRINITY DROPS 13-10 DECISION IN CAGE FINAL

Murray Street Clinches Second Half Honors By Defeating Mark Street 25-18.

HARD-FOUGHT BATTLES.

George Street A and Murray Street won the titles in their Church League basketball play-offs at the "Y" on Saturday evening. In the juvenile game, George Street A defeated Trinity, 13-10, giving them the round by a score of 26 to 22. By beating Mark Street Juniors, 25 to 18, Murray Street cinched the second half honors, so no play-off series is required. The winners will be presented with shields by the Peterborough Boys' Work Board.

The juvenile fixture was a hard-fought one, with George Street opening strong to lead 9-4 at the end of the half. They were outscored in the last session, but showed up well defensively. Trinity had trouble getting its combination working. Thorburn, leading sniper, was well watched. Ward scored the ten points and turned in a star performance. Gates was good defensively . Both teams, practically the same as last year, should go well next season as juniors. Kingdon of the winners was the best player on the floor, Fair went good, and the whole team played basketball of championship calibre. Fair got five points, with Galley and Kingdon each counting four. The teams:

Trinity — Ward, Thorburn, Gates, Edmundson, and Davern.

George Street A — Fair, Heard, Galley, Kingdon and Roberts.

Referee—V. Holmes. Scorer—D. McPherson.

Close Checking.

Murray Street Juniors were right on Saturday and played a fine game checking up closely. They led 15-5 to start the last half, with the Mark Street crew threatening all the way through. Mark Street, winners last year, have been without a couple of their stars, and J. Smith, who was held up by work on Saturday, made his presence felt the last fifteen minutes when he tallied ten points. M Hunter also went well, getting eight points. Heavy checking marked the contest. Galley got a dozen points for the winners on long shots. V Holmes accounted for eight, A Holmes shoved in four, and Welch one. The teams:

Mark Street — Ferguson, M. Hunter, G. Hunter, Sagar, Mackey, Pearse and Smith.

Murray Street—Welch, A. Holmes, V Holmes, Galley, Miller, and Lasenby.

Referee—C. Routley. Scorer—D. Charlton.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT

"AMERICAN MADNESS."

The Examiner Relief Fund will profit by the proceeds from the picture, "American Madness," which will be the feature at the Regent Theatre on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week.

A special attraction will be the playing of Mose Yokom's ten-piece orchestra.

A powerful dramatic characterization by that splendid actor, Walter Huston, as a courageous and human bank president, who fights valiantly to protect the savings of his depositors and to hold the love of his young wife, is the backbone of "American Madness." Huston's performance is one of the finest he has yet brought to the screen, comparable in its acting quality with his memorable portrayal of Abraham Lincoln.

But it is the fast-moving suspense, the feeling that here is something very close to life going on before our eyes, the exciting spectacle of more than a thousand frenzied persons struggling and trampling one another down, and the human problems in the background of the main characters that make "American Madness" such a noteworthy offering.

Huston's performance has a worthy rival in a splendid exhibition by Pat O'Brien, the young actor who made his screen debut in such exciting fashion in "The Front Page." Here he gives his best acting since that picture. Constance Cummings, whose star has been very much in the ascendancy recently, is the juvenile lead, as Huston's secretary. Kay Johnson has the role of Huston's wife. Gavin Gordon, the young stage actor, who played opposite Garbo in "Romance," is well cast as the "heavy."

SPORTS
HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING
Day by Day
BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

This week and next will write "finis" to hockey around here for the winter. One week from tomorrow sees February tossed overboard and the first Spring month ankling in like a lion or a mouse. And by the fourth, O.H.A. games in Peterborough will likely be just a memory, the E.P.I. playoffs will be all done with, City League, Church Loop, Southend circuit—all will be completed. If there is still ice, we should have a little hockey even after that, but the schedules and playoffs will be over. The days of winter sports are numbered.

* * * * * *

Our intermediates are in Belleville tonight in the first game of the O.H.A. second round playdowns. They'll play the return one back here Wednesday. The Haboco Cup series between Lindsay Vics and the local intermediates will probably be played before long, depending on just how far the Petes travel along the O.H.A. trail. It's an annual home and home series between these two teams for a trophy put up by Harry Boyle, and Lindsay copped it last year. We should bring home the silverware this season.

* * * * * *

No, we're not laying any money on the line for tonight's junior game in Kingston. We'd sure like to see the young Petes grab off the series and hope they will, but the dope points to Queen's. The local kids will find the going tough on a large sheet of artificial ice, especially after the long trip down, even by train. And they're two goals down on the round, playing in the enemy's sector and against a strong defensive squad. One never knows in sports, but the chances are very much against the junior Blue and Whites. Miracles may happen sometimes but we haven't seen one since Belleville's ball team twice came from miles behind in ninth-inning rallies here last summer to put the greased skids under the luckless Petes. But why bring that up?

* * * * * *

King George and King Edward schools held a hockey tourney Saturday morning, the second, third and fourth teams of each knowledge shop tangling. The K.E. outfits won all three, the seconds winning, 4 to 1; thirds copping a 7-0 decision; and the fourths whitewashing the opposition, 10-0. Some good kids are being developed into promising pucksters in these schools, and the first teams of each will be made up of strong material, regardless of the number of stars who graduate. First teams of King George and King Edward play from five to six at the Brock tomorrow night in a sudden-death play-off for the Public School League championship.

* * * * * *

We'd like to see a little bit of action regarding senior baseball here this summer. It's a bit early but wont be long till all the clubs have organized. Cobourg has already and will field a much stronger team than last summer. Kingston is beginning to do some gassing again about the C.O.B.L., and even Belleville—a team that is always noted as a last-minute organizer, and generally winds up in the playoffs. Both Kingston and Belleville will be fairly strong again, the former in particular. Those three teams are all figuring on going places this summer, but what about the Petes?

* * * * * *

At eight in the Chamber of Commerce to-night, the local soccer moguls meet, with representatives here from Port Hope, Deloro and Lindsay. Reports of the past year will be read and discussed, officers elected, a decision reached on whether or not to rejoin the O.F.A.—and a flock of other matters gone over. Looks like six or seven strong teams in the loop this coming year, including one from Lindsay.

* * * * * *

Here's what the Post says, in part: "Universal Silk Dyers' Club held its first meeting Friday . . . . One motion of great interest because it shows how soccer is coming back as a sport in this district was that the team join the Peterborough and District Football Association . . . . Messrs. Kinnersly, Low, Vandyke, Reid and Munt were chosen as a delegation to attend the annual meeting of the P. and D. F. A. Monday . . . . "

* * * * * *

Hockey at the Brock tonight is served in the shape of a City League twin bill, St. Peter's and Rangers tangling at eight, and Normal meeting P.C.I. at nine. Ought to be a couple of lively games, and we'd like to see more of the followers of these school teams out. There's nothing that looks and sounds better than a flock of studes of both sexes in the stands whooping her up as their class-mates do or die for dear old Alma Mater.

* * * * * *

Cobourg Collegiate boys clinched first place honors in their C.O.S.S.A. basketball group by trouncing Oshawa recently, 41 to 31. That makes it five straight wins. Bowmanville is in second place. The Cobourg quintet will play off with the winners of the Lindsay-Uxbridge group. Jack Turpin has been big point-getter for the Lakeshore leaders all season. Perhaps P.C.I. could get an exhibition series with this team and find out just how good they are.

* * * * * *

Up and down Sports Rialto: Carters open the five-game E.P.I. play-offs to-night (Monday) in Norwood . . . . Big ice-carnival at the Brock next Monday, better make plans for it now . . . . Collins and Kane of the Toronto Nationals knew they were in a game when they just licked a bunch of foreign pucksters living in Paris, 1-0, in what is said to be the fastest exhibition of hockey ever seen in Gay Paree . . . . Two Church games to-night at All Saints, and a Southend intermediate one tomorrow at Sacred Heart . . . . Lou Marsh pulls the hero act by diving into icy water fully dressed and rescuing a boy from an ice-floe . . . . Lots of good skiing the past week or more at Nassau and Jackson Park . . . . We hope to have the scores of both tonight's O.H.A. games phoned back by eleven bells.

Daytona Speed Test Is Again Postponed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20. (AP)—The winds and waves have conspired to keep Sir Malcolm Campbell from trying to break the land speed record he holds until to-morrow at the earliest.

West winds sent waves rolling over the beach course here during the week-end and chopped and softened the sand.

Campbell hoped for a north or northeast wind to-day to bring waves that will iron out the wrinkles in the beach. He had planned to test out the adjustments made on his rebuilt Bluebird racing automobile yesterday but the condition of the sands prevented.

Sir Malcolm plans a test run just as soon as conditions are right and will try to exceed his own speed of 253 miles an hour shortly afterward if the test run is satisfactory.

Saints Meet Rangers In City League Tilt

A City Hockey League double-header will be staged at the Brock to-night, starting at eight o'clock. St. Peter's meets Rangers in the first fixture, followed at nine by Normal School and P.C.I. The first game of this twin-bill is really the opening contest of the second half schedule, as decided upon by the City loop. The other game is a postponed affair from earlier in the season. This second schedule depends upon ice, and may be discontinued if the weather proves unsuitable.

St. Peter's will ice a stronger team than before to start this half, and will doubtless give the scrappy Rangers a hard fight. This game promises to be the high-light of the dual affair. Normal meets the classy P.C.I. squad and will have to fight all the way against their inter-school rivals. Both games should be fast and exciting.

MACHINE SHOP GAINS BERTH IN PLAY-OFFS

Advances With Switchgear In C.G.E. Inter-department Group Series.

TO MEET FOR TITLE.

The Switchgear Department and Machine Shop advanced into the play-offs for the championship of the C.G.E. Inter-department Hockey League on Saturday afternoon at the Brock Street Arena when they defeated the Tool Room and Fractional Motors respectively to win the group honors. The Switchgear trounced the Toolmakers by a count of 6 to 2 thus winning the round 12-3 while the Machinists were just as impressive against the Motor-builders turning them back 4-0 and taking the series 11 to 2.

The winners will meet in a two game series, goals to count, sometime this week for the Works' championship.

The Tool Room-Switchgear tussle was a hard fought battle but the Mechanics were handicapped from the start when they took the ice without substitutes and although they had an edge in the first frame which they took by the score of 1 to 0 nevertheless they soon faded and the winners took command.

The Switchgear players began to pull away from their aggressive opponent early in the second frame when Cy Whatley sunk the tying goal on a beautiful solo rush and his defence mate, Holly Mowry drilled a long shot from the blue line which also beat the Tool-Room goalie. The forwards of both teams displayed clever team-work with the winners having more finish to their plays and more shots on the goal. Playford, Maudsley and Pagget, the winners' first string line was the most formidable combination in the game. Ron Routley who scored both of the Tool Room markers was the star for that team, although Wheeler and Earle, both played clever hockey.

Score Three in Third

The winners counted three times in the third, Whatley getting the first with one of his characteristic lone jaunts. Maudsley sunk the second on a pass from Playford, while Higgins bagged the third alone. Stan Jones in the losers' net gave a splendid performance, every marker that beat him being ticketed with the exception of the one long shot. Hope in the opposing citadel was as formidable as ever, stopping a raft of wicked shots.

The teams:

Switchgear—Goal, Hope; defence, Mowry and Whatley; centre, Maudsley; wings, Pagget and Playford; alternates, Cordery, Hurst and Higgins

Tool Room—Goal, Stan Jones; defence, Williams and Griffin; centre, Earle; wings, Routley and Wheeler.

Penalties—Higgins 2.

Persistent Checking

The first period of play between the Machinists and Fractionals showed the latter team displaying a style of persistent checking that kept the opposing Machinists almost powerless from a scoring standpoint but not quite as Clarke tallied once on a pass from Gibson.

In the second the Fractionals led by Hatton and Thomas stormed the Machine Shop net in a series of attacks that were smothered by Ted Tice who handled every shot carefully. The team work and speed of the winners was the predominant feature in their victory as they broke fast enough to catch the opposing forwards napping and as a result were able to work in close before shooting. Bernie Jones took a pass from Pearson for the second marker of the game and this was followed in short order by another which came when Rogers nabbed Jones' pass at the goalmouth to give Bill Bennett no chance of saving.

In the last frame, Craig playing centre for the winners scored the only goal of the period unassisted to make the count 4-0 in favor of the Machinists. Hayes, Hall and Routley were the outstanding forwards on the losing side, while the rear guard composed of Hatton and Cathcart, broke up several thrusts and were always dangerous when rushing.

The teams:

Fractional Motors—Goal, Bennett; defence, Cathcart and Hatton; centre, Routley; wings, Hayes and Thomas; alternates, Hollingsworth, Fanning and Hall.

Machine Shop—Goal, Tice; defence, McGillen and Ashmore; centre, Craig; wings, Pearson and Jones; alternates, Clarke, Rogers and Hetherington.

Penalties—Ashmore, McGillen.

Referee for both games—Archie Weir.

Two Close Victories In City Cage League

Two unusually close City Basketball League games were run off at the "Y" Saturday night, Stanger's beating McLeish's by a 33-32 count in the first; and P.C.I. nosing out Kitchen's 33 to 28, in the second. Both were free-scoring affairs, highly exciting throughout, and the issue very much in doubt till the final whistles.

The first game saw the count 17-14 for Stanger's at half-time, but play even closer than last half. Routley was the sharpshooter for the losers, getting, sixteen points in a fine effort. Williams, Swartz and Mulhall each dropped in two baskets. For the victors, Stanger, Broadley and Thirnbeck all accounted for eight points, the whole team clicking nicely in combination. The teams:

McLeish's: Swartz, Williams, Routley, Mulhall, Dennison, and Mitchell.

Stanger's: Stanger, Hunt, Broadley, Sheppard, Thirnbeck and Hayes.

Referee—H. McLeod; scorer, W. Brady.

It was 29 to 16 for Collegiate in the first half of their game, but Kitchens' outfit came on fast to have a decided edge in the last chapter, without however being able to overtake the students' early lead. Holmes dropped in five baskets for P.C.I., with Amys next with nine points. Smith starred for the losers, tallying sixteen points. Kitchen was good for ten points, and the whole crew worked hard all through the second half in a desperate attempt to tie up the game. The teams:

Kitchen's: Curry, Stewart, Emery, Kitchen, Ellis, Smith and Dundas.

Collegiate: Armstrong, Holmes, Amys, Masdonald, McIntyre, and Marsh.

Referee—D. Loomis; scorer, M. Hunter.

Ivaar Hakkarainen Wins Snowshoe Race

MONTREAL, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—A week of almost constant grinding over snow-covered highways behind him, Ivaar Hakkarainen to-day could plan on how he is going to spend $1,000, first prize of the 162-mile snowshoe race between Hull, Que., and Montreal.

Hakkarainen won the annual race, run this year along the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, taking first money by a margin of eight minutes over Johnny Koukku, also of Montreal, who had led for most part of the week but was displaced by the winner on Saturday.

Although three Finns, Hakkarainen, Koukku and Johnny Jokela, Toronto, had been expected to place 1-2-3, August Pager, veteran from Ashtabula, Ohio, raced so well during the last part of the race he succeeded in displacing Jokela for third place.

C.L.T.A. OPPOSES OPEN TOURNAMENTS

Canadian Tennis Championships Awarded to Vancouver.

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (C.P.)—Canada is not ready for open tennis tournaments, in the opinion of the Canadian Lawn Tenis Associatio, goveror of the sport. The Dominion will vote against the proposal at the International Federal annual meeting at Paris next month.

After awarding the 1933 championship tournament to Vancouver and the 1934 tourney to Toronto, the annual meeting of the C.L.T.A. Saturday staged a brisk discussion of the open tournament proposal, adopted recently by the United States Amateur Tennis authorities.

Most speakers opposed the innovation and a vote on its advisability was solidly adverse. President G. H. Meldrum of Toronto was re-elected.

The ranking committee's report, placing Marcel Rainville of Montreal at the top of the men's list for 1932 and Mrs. G. Worsley, the former Olive Wade of Toronto in No.1 position among women players, was adopted.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

Two little fish
Each made a wish,
The first wished for a swim
And the other fish wished
To go swimming after him.
Shadow Song.

Can shadows help their masters and mistresses? I should say they can. You must read how Yam helped her mistress, the little girl named May which is Yam spelled backwards, you see), and how the shadow boy Knarf tried to help his master, the little boy named Frank.

It happened like this. Little Frank went up to little May the other afternoon. He held out a wishbone, from a goose. Frank said to May: "Do you want to make a wish?"

"Yes," answered the little girl.

"All right," Frank said. "Whoever breaks off the biggest piece of the wishbone gets the wish."

Now, since the shadows always follow their masters and mistresses around wherever they go (except on dark days), they hear exactly what their masters and mistresses say. Yam and Knarf, therefore, heard little May and Frank. At once Yam decided to help her mistress pull the wishbone. So did Knarf decide to help his master. At this both the shadows seized an end of the wishbone and began pulling.

The Shadows Help.

The shadows had hardly started pulling when Knarf's master said to Yam's mistress: "Did you make a wish?" The little girl nodded. "What did you wish?" the boy asked. But May would not tell him what she wished. She said it was a secret.

Then Knarf asked Yam: "Did you wish?" But Yam was just like her mistress. She wouldn't tell Knarf what she wished. Then the two children began pulling away at the wishbone. And the two shadows pulled away, too.

Little Mary and Frank were about to make a "wishbone" wish.

I guess Knarf and his master would have won the wish, for they were stronger than Yam and her little mistress. Yam knew this very well and she made up her mind that the only way for her mistress to have her wish was to keep Knarf from helping his master. She could not ask Knarf to stop helping his master. She would have to play a trick on Knarf.

Outsmarting Knarf.

"I'll tell you what my wish is," Yam said to Knarf quickly.

"What is it?" Knarf wanted to know.

"I wish that you win your wish, Yam answered.

"Oh, in that case, I don't have bother helping my master pull," shadow boy said cleverly. "bec even if he doesn't break off the bi piece he'll get his wish. My wis that he gets his wish, and you w is that I get my wish."

Knarf began to get a little mix up, but at that moment he stopp helping his master, and the little gi broke off the bigger piece. So she go her wish. But whether Knarf's mast got his wish, too, I really can't say.

For Tuesday, February 21.

While the auguries for this day, according to the lunar aspects, point to some excellent prospects for gain, progress and personal gratification, yet there are also signs of petty annoyances, setbacks, upheaval and confusion. The promised benefits seem coiled in chaos unless great wisdom be exercised to meet complicated conditions. The mind will be found well keyed for this, but may need firm direction and restraint. Change cautiously and manage all with calmness.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of definite advantages and benefits if they will meet chaotic and complicated conditions with calmness and wise and cool decisions. Make changes with care, refrain from reckless acts and speech. The mind will be found brilliant and clever, but will call for rigid direction and calmness in time of confusion and possible upheaval. A child born on this day should be versatile, mentally brilliant, but may be inclined to "fly off the handle," thus defeating some excellent opportunity for success.

Some German scientists have announced that brain workers require more meat in their diet than hand workers. These scientists point out that brain work always is accompanied by a regular increase in the amount of phosphoric acid contained in the blood, and this acid must be got rid of as rapidly as possible.

Manual labor requires a greater amount of food with a large content of carbohydrates. The brain worker suffers from an excess of acidity in the blood, due to the large amount of phosphorus contained in the brain substance and discharged into the blood stream during brain work. The best way to counteract this over-supply of phosphorus in the blood stream of brain workers is to increase the flow of gastric juice. Meat is the food which most strongly and for the longest times stimulates the secretion of the gastric juices. Hence brain workers should eat plentifully of meat.

Unfortunately, there are certain holes in this theory. No careful chemical analysis of the blood following brain work has ever shown any marked chemical change. Even if phosphoric acid were present in extra amounts in the blood after brain work, the body has a large margin of safety which would take care of it by turning it into neutral phosphates and excreting the extra acid radicles in the urine. The urine is always acid on account of processes similar to this going on in the body.

No theory or genius, or theory of the chemistry of thought based on physical factors, can stand up against the barrage of criticism based on such biochemical facts as are now known. For instance, the idea has been advanced that purin metabolism has something to do with genius. The purins are the end products of the metabolism of meat, and this theory, which was outlined in the first paragraph, may be connected with the theory that gout, which is a disease of purin metabolism, has frequently been associated with genius.

For instance, Darwin, John Wesley, Gibbon, Newton, Milton and Samuel Johnson had gout and also had genius. Families with genius, such as the Bacons and the Pitts, were gouty families—so goes the theory.

Another chemical theory of genius is that it is associated with tuberculosis. Thus Chopin, Stenvenson, Ernest Dowson and Keat might be accounted for.

Perhaps when technocracy comes completely into its own, we will be able to produce geniuses as readily as we produce seedless oranges.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

J. F. L.: 'Please tell me through your column where I could obtain information on lip reading. An illness recently left me hard of hearing, and I would like very much to learn how to read lips to help me out of my predicament."

Answer: The American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing, Inc., 1537 35th street, N.W., Washington, D.C., will be glad to furnish you information which is up-to-date for your community. My last advice is that in Iowa the Des Moines League for the Hard of Hearing, suite 505, Polk building, Des Moines, Iowa, is the only constituent body of that federation.

Campbellford Play Is Great Success

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20. — A three act farce "A Poor Married Man" was successfully presented Friday evening in the basement of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford, when under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the church an evening of laughs and fun was heartily enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

The play, which was directed by F. F. Long, contained a very interesting and humorous theme and was presented in first class style. With the right portion of romance, giving it a strong human interest, there was also the usual family difficulty given it by too much mother-in-law, and the laughs which always come from the "nigah" servant—in this case a black trump.

The cast of characters was: Professor John R. Wise, a poor married man, J. D. McEachern; Dr. Mathew Graham, a country doctor, G. G. Stephens; Billy Blake, a popular college boy, Stuart Anderson; Jupiter Jackson, a black trump, Frank Rae; Mrs. Iona Ford, some mother-in-law, Mrs. Roy McGee; Zoie, her charming daughter, Bertha McInroy; June Graham, a little freshman, Mary McGregor; Rosalind Wilson, a college reporter, Annie Park.

Music for the evening was supplied by Mrs. Gwen E. Lewis at the piano, vocal solos by Miss Hazel Atkinson and instrumentals by the Labrash Trio. The chair was taken by the Rev. J. C. Robinson.

CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE TAXATION IS INAUGURATED BY COMMITTEE

Peterborough Represented On Province-Wide Committee By Col. Ackerman.

ISSUE BULLETINS.

Peterborough Represented by Col. C. H. Ackerman.

Taxation in Canada having now, and for the first time, reached the point where it has become a major and serious factor in the conducting of business and is having a crippling effect upon all branches of trade and commerce, strong action towards remedial measures has been commenced throughout the country under the primary auspices of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Toronto Board of Trade, through the setting up of Provincial Committees to consider the situation in each of the Provinces.

Following a preliminary survey of conditions in Ontario, and representing thirty-seven cities and towns of the Province, the Ontario Committee on Economy in Puble Finance met on Thursday under the auspices of the Toronto Board of Trade, to formulate a plan of action to provide definite information for the public, so that all citizens may know exactly what they are contributing, directly and indirectly, to the Provincal revenues and to the various local administrative bodies. From this step, backed by an enlightened public opinion, it will be the object of the committee to cooperate with the Provincial and the local administrations in securing necessary action towards reducing governmental expenditures of all kinds so that substantal reductions in taxation may follow in due course.

Peterborough is represented on the committee by Colonel C. H. Ackerman.

Acquaint Governments.

The National Committee (of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce) on Economy in Public Finance met in Toronto on November 21st last. One of the decisions reached at that time was that the Provincial Governments should be made acquainted as soon as possible with the economy campaign which was being undertaken through the National and Provincial Committees in order that they would understand its purpose and that it was intended to be a non-political co-operative movement and not one of destructive criticism of governments. In accordance with this decision, a delegation from the Toronto Board of Trade waited upon the Honorable George S. Henry, Prime Minister of Ontario, and the Honorable E. A. Dunlop, Provincial Treasurer, and explained that the object of the movement was to study Federal, Provincial, and municipal finances in order to obtain a first-hand knowledge of the existing financial condition of the various interested governments, to co-operate with them, through constructive suggestions as to economiess which might be effected, and to educate public opinion to the need for economy so that governments might supported in their endeavors to economize and reduce taxation rather than be petitioned for increased expenditures.

A most sympathetic hearing was granted the delegation, and the Ontario Government has since given its cordial approval to the formation of the Provincial Committee.

With respect to the finances of the Province of Ontario, the Ontario Committee will shortly issue a series of bulletins dealing with revenues, expendituress, debt and public utilitiess. The Ontario Committee has recommended the formation of committees in the various municipalitiess throughout the Province, through local Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce, and other recognized bodies, for the purpose of studying local municipal finances. Already a number of local committees are actvely engaged in such work.

tors, Zangara proudly insisted he was sane and told Judge Collins he could do what he wished to him.

Zangara's Story

"I work in Jersey as brick-layer until I begin to feel bad," Zangara stated.

"Were you ever in jail before?" the judge asked.

"No, no, never."

"When did you plan to kill the President?" the judge asked.

"I suffer all the time from my stomach; I no like the way capitalists take all money. When I read in paper the President come here I decide to kill him.

"I decide to kill him and make him suffer. I want to make it 50-50. Since my stomach hurt I get even with capitalists by killing the President. My stomach hurt long time."

Attorney Raia, who speaks Italian assisted Zangara to clarify his statements.

"Did you know what you were doing the night you shot at the President?" Raia asked.

"Sure I know. I gonna kill President.

"I take picture the President in my pocket when I go to the park. I no want to shoot Cermak or anybody except Roosevelt.

"I aim at him. I shoot at him. But somebody moved my arm. They fools. They should let me kill him.

"Have American people been kind to you?" asked the judge.

"No."

"Do you regret what you did?" Raia asked.

"Sure I sorry I no kill him. But he's the judge—he do what he want to."

"I think that's enough," Judge Collins concluded the bizarre situation.

Defense counsel Raia asked to make a statement.

"We are fully determined that the plea we have entered for our client is correct. But this man's mental state presents a puzzle."

FORMER LEADER OF COMMUNISTS TO STAND TRIAL

munist held a hammer in his hand, but the others were quite confident but the others were quite definite in their statements he had no weapon.

Operated the Torch.

McCrea, guard testified, operated the acetylene torch which cut the locks from the doors of the shops holding the convicts.

Instructor W. L. Whiteland said Buck was working in the machine shop on October 17, and at three o'clock the machinery slowed up.

"I saw Convict Buck at the switch," he said. "I asked him what was wrong with the power, and he said he stopped it."

Buck joined a crowd around Convict William McCrea and then went into the dome, he said.

Called for Unity

"Later I saw Buck on the balcony steps addressing rioting convicts, saying: 'We must have unity; all for one, and one for all.' Some time after I heard him telling the convicts to get all the water they could as they could live without food but not water.

"The convicts came at me and Buck said: 'You're wanted in the mail bag department. I'll see no harm comes to you!"

Witness said that convicts were in complete control and if "I hadn't gone, I would have been in for a rough time."

Instructor Whiteland said that at the time Back was not armed.

"Later on," continued Whiteland, "we were forced to line up in front of the shop. At that time officers came from outside and I heard two shots fired. I heard sewing machines in mail bag department being smashed."

Witness said he later saw Buck in mail bag department. Instructor Whiteland said he did not know if one of the officers asked Buck to address the convicts.

Instructor Dunford corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Just Howling Mob

"I saw Buck making a speech to the convicts in shop dome," he said. "It was just a howling mob in the dome."

Guard J. T. Hull said he saw Tim Buck on the afternoon of October 17 in the mail bag department. "Previously I was in the stone shed," said the witness, "and the door was forced open by an acetylene torch. The convicts went into the shop dome. I was forced to leave by ten or fifteen armed convicts after the door was barricaded. I saw Buck armed with a hammer and he said: "If they don't grant the terms we ask, we'll kill the screws.' I heard several sewing machines being broken."

Cross examined by Mr. Garber, witness said that when he arrived at the mail bag department, the convicts were milling around. He did not see Buck until he made his speech about the "killing of screws."

Given the opportunity of making a statement, Buck said: "I have nothing to say, Your Worship," and was then committeed for trial.

PAY CUTS SEEN FOR HOLLYWOOD

Film Stars Fight To Retain Their "Boom" Days Contracts.

MANY TURN TO STAGE.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 20.—The drive against the big salaries of Hollywood movie stars is under way and, with many of the "boom" days' contracts expiring in rapid-fire order, an unusual tactical situation exists in the industry.

Greta Garbo, Maurice Chevalier, Marlene Dietrich, Gloria Swanson, Ronald Colman, the Four Marx Brothers, Ann Harding, William Powell and George Arliss are among the film folk involved in the producers' program to bring salaries into line with the times. Contracts of these "big money" games range from $3,000 a week to $250,000 a picture.

What will come of the negotiations in new contracts is somewhat problematical, for some of the performers who have gained marked success on the stage are known to be casting glances toward offers in other centres.

Ann Harding may take a stage engagement in England; Chevalier intends to make one picture in California and one in France each Autumn. His contract calling for four more pictures at the rate of two a year and guarantees against infringement upon his salary, reported to be $1,000 a day.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS AT CAMPBELLFORD

Rally of Orangemen Hear Many Topics of Interest Discussed.

SCHOOL TAX QUESTION.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20. (By Examiner Staff Correspondence).—A meeting in the interests of the Orange Association of Ontario was held at Campbellford on Saturday evening when two prominent members of the organization, Harold C. Shipman, Grand Master of Ontario East, Loyal Orange Grand Lodge and D. J. Sutherland, Provincial Grand Secretary, addressed members of the local and district lodges in the Parish Hall, and over which Wm. J. Duncan, Grand Master of the Campbellford Lodge presided.

Matters that were dealt with in the addresses pertained to the work of the order in the Province and especially with attitude of the Orange Association toward the present school tax situation. The meeting was not largely attended but very enthusiastic toward these two outstanding Orangemen, who were assisted on the platform by Major J. F. Belford, ex.-M.P.

A strong plea was made by the Grand Master, Worshipful Brother Shipman, for the hearty support of the order and more actively on the part of Protestants in the life of the community. "Organizations and churches," he said, "had a work to do in the building up of a right spirit of citizenship, which was one of the main functions of the Order." It was not enough to belong to these activities for what one got out of them, but the main object should be to assist in helping and building up.

The men of the community should take more interest in the church and church activities he declared, for there was real work and service that could be rendered by them in this direction. There were many men who never attended church he said, and although he admitted that preachers were sometimes poor, he emphasized the fact that it would be better for the community and province if there was a more regular attendance at church and a greater interest in the activities of the church. "Your church is just what you are, and if you are worth while, your church will be and so will the community" he pointed out.

Builders for Eternity

"We are builders for eternity and can be either stumbling blocks or stepping stones" the speaker said, pointing out that every individual had his life to live and to make something of and questioning if we were really becoming stepping stones to things worth while.

Of the Orange Association itself, much of the public opinion regarding it, especially by those who knew nothing of it, was wrong. It was not opposed to any individuals of any faith but to any church that was a political and financial institution.

Regarding the school situation he stated that there was no such thing as a Protestant school for any child of any denomination had a right to attend the public schools of the province, expressing himself opposed to the segregation of faiths in childhood. "If we only had one school system and one united childhood it would be better for the Province of Ontario" Mr. Shipman declared. Of the present school tax and the demands made by one church for a different financial division he pointed out that there was no unfairness to this church for they have the right to pay into the Separate schools through their taxes if they so desire. If they wanted separate schools they should be prepared to pay for them.

Speaking to the members of the order he stated that many had dropped out and yet there were a very large number of people, not members of the order, who nevertheless approve of the work accomplished by it. The L.O.L. had spent thousands of dollars in the Province of Ontario to help Protestants, Mr. Shipman declared, pointing out that the question of the validity of the marriage laws by all ministers, which had been taken to the Privy Council by the Orange Association, had cost them $30,000, and this had benefited many who were not members of the order. It was a service to Protestism as a whole. In the last fifteen years one hundred thousand dollars had been spent in this way, the upholding of the schools and the fight to retain the Union Jack as the country's flag being two instances of their activities.

In a brief address the Grand Secretary, D. J. Sutherland, stressed the fact that those who were present were there in the interests of the Orange Association which had always stood for a close connection with the Mother Land and the furtherance of her ideals, which were theirs, handed down by their forefathers who came from the Old Land and established the Order in Canada.

He deplored the misconception that people had of the association, pointing out that it stood for "equal rights for all and special privileges for none." The main object was to build up loyal citizenship and if it accomplished this it would be doing great work.

Major Belford

"We have no antagonism against any other faith, every man can worship the way he wants, that is his business, we do not try to step on his toes, but we do not want him to step on ours" declared Major J. F. B. Belford in a short address to the gathering, making a brief explanation of the school systems in Ontario and Quebec and stressing the fact that there can be no comparison of these. Regarding the present tax situation he pointed out that any other faith could teach what religion it wanted but it should pay for it and not expect to dip out of the public treasury. "Of Protestantism today, he said that it was not a negative force as some people often think, but a very positive and active agency, and it was striving to bring to the people equal rights and a fairness of action due them."

Lakefield

The W.M.S. of the United Church held a very successful afternoon tea and sale of cooking and candy at the home of the president, Mrs. W. J. Charlton, on Friday afternoon. The pretty rooms were decorated for the Valentine season with a profusion of beautiful Spring flowers. Daffodils were used in the living room and the dining table was centered with a large bouquet of vivid red tulips and with red candles in silver candlesticks on either side of the beautiful centre. Hearts showered as pendants from the electroller.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Albert Darling and Mrs. Theodore Crawford, while Mrs. P. H. Darling and Mrs. G. E. Renwick served tea and Mrs. G. H. Spence acted as cashier. Mrs. W. J. Charlton, Mrs. J. H. Sherin and Mrs. D. H. Charlton received the guests.

Mrs. A. E. Higgins and Miss Frankish were in charge of the home cooking.

Others assisting were Mrs. W. W. Leonard, Mrs. J. Reid, and Mrs. S. Pearson. Mrs. A. B. Burrows sang during the afternoon, Mrs. H. E. Moore being the accompanist. The name of the selection which was very much appreciated was "My Dear Soul."

The success financially was most gratifying and the proceeds will be used for the expense fund of the society, but as a delightful social afternoon it was even more successful, as the guests tarried long and all expressed great enjoyment of the kind hospitality.

MARMORA

The Anchor Class of boys of St. Paul's Sunday School had a very enjoyable sleighing party on Friday evening, visiting the home of their president, Ross Rogers, where a social evening concluding with refreshments was much appreciated.

HITLER SHOWS THE IRON HAND

not grant any more interviews "until he is formally established after the elections," the press director said. This seems to indicates that the Nazis have not the slightest idea of giving up power no matter which way the elections go. There is not much doubt on this subject anyway. With the opposition press of all shades muzzled, with the right of assembly for non-Nazis confiscated, with the Nazis in exclusive control of all the radio stations in the Reich, the other parties have not even a chance to make their views on the changed situation known to the German electorate. Added to this is the system of intimidation and provacation enforced by the Nazi storm-troops, with the object of evoking physical resistance on the part of Socialists and Communists. The least show of physical resistance is to be followed by an application of "the full Fascist terror," declares the Angriff, Hitler's life-organ and now the official government newspaper.

I want to point out that statements as the above, which merely reflect the actual state of affairs, render me liable to expulsion without trial. To say that the coming elections are going to be a huge fraud and a sham is tantamount to "Landesverrat," a minor form of high treason.

In France Hitler's procedure up till now is frankly viewed with alarm. The French Liberals are utterly dismayed by the show of violence and repression and realize now that the conciliatory policy of Briand, Herriot, Painleve and Paul-Boncour has failed to stem the tide of German nationalism with its essentially anti-French and "revenchard" basis. French nationalists, on the other hand, see in it the riseof Hitlerism and its approachment to Italy clear signs of a new armed struggle looming on the European horizon.

Poland Is Quiet.

As to Poland, the country which has formerly been menaced outright and more than once by Hitler because of the so-called Polish corridor and Upper-Silesia, where six million Germans live on a territory that was German before the war. Poland and the Polish press are extremely calm. There is a definite impression that Hitler and the Polish government (also nationalist-fascist in makeup) have a secret understanding whereby Germany will ultimately get back the corridor and Poland will be compensated with a slice of the Ukraine as far as the Black Sea and Odessa.

To get back the corridor would be a tremendous achievement for Hitler and would mean consolidation of the Fascist-Nazi regime for many years to come. The price is support of Poland in an anti-Soviet war. Franz von Papen, who secretly proposed such a war to Herriot less than two months ago, is vice-president of Hitler's cabinet. On the side of Poland would be ranged Roumania, a country where the foreign war would serve as a more than welcome diversion from the implications of the complete bankruptcy of the state.

It can easily be seen that the Hitler dictatorship which Germany will certainly have after March 3 is not going to be a matter of concern to the German people alone, but that its orientation will have the widest repercussions throughout Europe and the world at large.

KNOX W.M.S.

Havelock Ladies Meet at Mrs. W. Copp's Home in Honor of Mrs. Arthur Copp.

HAVELOCK, Feb. 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of Knox Church W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Copp on Thursday evening, Feb. 16, with a very fair attendance of the membership. This meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Alexander Watson, but owing to the fact that Mrs. Copp had as her guest Mrs. Arthur Copp, an old and much esteemed former member of the society, who is in rather poor health, the members thought it would be very nice to have the meeting where Mrs. Copp could attend it, and Mrs. Watson graciously acceded to their request, and invited them for a later meeting.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Scott, who was unavoidably detained, the past president, Mrs. R. A. Buchanan presided.

Mrs. (Rev.) Beaton read the passage from Sacred Scripture, and Mrs. Watson read the prayer from Glad Tidings. The study was ably taken by Miss M. Sexsmith and was on Ukrainia. Mrs. T. C. Jamieson contributed a vocal solo, "Saved by Grace," which was much appreciated. The Supply Secretary read a letter concerning the supply allocation for the support of an Indian girl at Birtle School, but this matter was left over until the next meeting, when it is hoped the president will be present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss M. Sexsmith.

$26,000 PLACED IN ESTIMATES FOR THE POLICE

Mayor Denne Stands Firm On No Increase Over Last Year.

COMMISSION MEETING.

Chief Newhall Declares Force Is Inadequate And Underpaid.

Standing firm against the arguments and protests of Chief Constable Samuel Newhall, Mayor Denne insisted yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Police Commission that there must be no loosening of the city's purse-strings for police expenditures this year.

Although Chief Newhall warned the Commission that the economy measures clapped down on police department last year had "crippled the force in every way," Mayor Denne stoutly refused to support the Chief recommendation that the department's estimates this year be placed at $27,417. He said he would endorse a resolution in the City Council from the Commission placing the police estimates at $26,000, the same figure to which they had been reduced at his insistence last year. "But I warn you," he said, "that the Council may not give you that much."

Police Force Inadequate.

Due to the economies forced on the department last year, Chief Newhall said, "The police officers are not properly clothed. The autos have depreciated, and are not safe to make a fast run if needed. In other words, unless these articles are soon replaced the police force will be inadequate should any serious occasion arise.

"I well recognize the difficulties the City Council has to face, and have taken great precaution not to ask for one dollar more than is necessary to bring this department

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21 (A.P.)—Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, wounded Wednesday night by Giuseppe Zangara in an attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt, has "definitely passed his crisis so far as trouble with his lungs is concerned," one of his physicians announced this morning.

The statement was made by Dr. E. S. Nichol, who visited the wounded Mayor for five minutes prior to the official conference of the group of physicians who have attended him. "The crisis so far as trouble with Mayor Cermak's lungs is concerned is definitely passed," Dr. Nichol said as he left the room.

"We consider it passed with last night.

"To-day, to-night and to-morrow will be the so-called crisis in the condition of his heart and infection from the bullet wound.

"To-day there appears no indication of any complications. He had a fairly restless night, but is comfortable now."

Dr. Frederick Tice, and Dr. Karl Meyer, Chicago physicians, arrived at the hospital a few minutes after Dr. Nichol made his statement, and prepared for a general conference of attending physicians on the Mayor's condition.

WAR IN BALKANS SEEN CERTAINTY BY VIENNA PRESS

Claims Austria Must Unite With Germany For Security.

RESENTS ARMS PROBE.

Believes Conflict Betwen Italy And Jugoslavia Is Inevitable.

VIENNA, Feb. 21—Predicting warfare between Italy and Jugoslavia, the newspaper Wiener Neueste Nachrichten appealed yesterday for union with Germany, to save Austria from "destruction, devastation and annihilation."

The international reaction to a recent shipment of arms from Italy, the paper declared, indicated that it would be impossible for Austria to remain neutral in the event of hostilities in the south.

"It will be interesting to observe," the paper continued, "what pretext will be found when the time comes for the stronger power to justify the use of Austria as a battlefield."

The Socialist Allgemeine Zeitung asserted that the arms shipment violated the provisions of the Treaty of St. Germain. The paper called for the defeat of the Dollfus Government as a demonstration that only the Government, and not the Austrian people, "played with the idea of helping Italy to furnish arms to Hungary."

"We in Vienna," the Allgemeine Zeitung editorial continued, "know that the Government has violated the Treaty of St. Germain, and also that it has violated neutrality by attempting to facilitate the transport of arms for a decidedly militant group of States."

79 GIRLS, 2 MEN KILLED BY BLAST

Ten Others Missing, 120 Injured in East Shanghai Tragedy.

VULCANIZERS EXPLODE.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 21 (A.P.) — Eighty-one persons were killed, 120 were injured, and 10 were missing to-day after an explosion in two gasoline vulcanizers in a Chinese rubber factory in East Shanghai.

Of the 120 injured, 50 were taken to hospitals while the remainder escaped with only slight injuries.

These figures appeared to be the only toll of the blast as rescuers virtually completed a search of the ruins. Police had believed earlier the death toll might reach 200. Of the known dead 79 were girls and two men.

All Badly Burned

The bodies of the victims were placed in a vacant lot near the factory while relatives sought to identify them. Virtually all the bodies were badly burned.

A numberof the injured taken to hospitals were reported to be gravely burned and it was feared some of them would die. Searchers digging into the ruins said they expected to find the bodies of the 10 missing persons buried there.

Police stated they had not been able to determine the cause of the blast. The owner of the factory disappeared, apparently fearing, the police said, damage claims from relatives of the victims.

LIBERAL LEADER IS SYMPATHETIC TOWARDS GOV'T

NEED ENCOURAGEMENT.

House Deplores Reduction In School Grants Motion Declares.

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Sympathy for the efforts of the government to maintain the affairs of the Province of Ontario, and an appeal for support today featured the opening address of W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., House Liberal leader, as the debate on the Throne Speech began. Coupled with this sentiment however, was a frank criticism of governmental expenditures and an amendment to the Throne Speech to the effect "This House deplores reductions in grants to Ontario schools without the repeal of regulations requiring expensive standards of equipment, so the taxpayers might absorb such reductions through other economies in education."

Require Leadership

"When we left in April we hoped for better times. They did not come," said Mr. Sinclair. "We hope on. The courage of the people is commendable. They are trusting guiding hands will lead them through. We must give them leadership. It is our battle as well as theirs. This session should be conducted in such a manner as to encourage them in the struggle.

"I sympathize with any government. The burdens are tremendous

LABOR LEAGUE DISGUISED REDS SAYS BENNETT

Tells Deputation They Have Been Carrying On Work That Sent 8 To Prison.

WARNS LEADER SMITH.

Says Buck Will Not Be Released But Face New Charges.

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (C.P.). — The Canadian Labor Defence League has been carrying on the work of the Communistic League under this new name since the conviction of the eight Toronto Communists a year ago, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett declared to-day, Tim Buck and his Communist associates in Portsmouth Penitentiary, now further charged with inciting the Portsmouth prison riots last fall, will not be released but will face their trial in court on the new charges, he said.

The Premier made these statements to a deputation of 14 members of the Canadian Labor Defence League, headed by A. E. Smith, Toronto, former clergyman, and Mrs. Tim Buck.

"Guilty Also."

Speaking to Mr. Smith directly, the Prime Minister added: "And you have been the leading head of this new League. In my opinion, there is no doubt but that a jury of the citizens of this country would so find you guilty."

Senator Arthur Meighen and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, both joined in the charge that the Canadian Labor Defence League was Communistic. Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General, said that a delegate who had spoken in French had admitted that he was a Communist. Mr. Smith said he did not belong to any "political party."

Emphatic denial was made by the Government that "battleships and machine guns" were at Amyox, B.C., owing to unrest there. A fishing patrol vessel only was there and these had taken 20 Provincial police to Amyox because the planes could not get into Amyox so easily, the Government stated. No civilian had been injured there, according to official advice this morning, but several of the policemen had been hurt.

413 PRISONERS DECREASE OF 39 IN POLICE COURT

Annual Report Of Chief Constable Is Given Police Commission.

LARGER FORCE NEEDED.

147 Traffic Accidents Investigated, Four Of Which Were Fatal.

Crime showed a further decrease in Peterborough last year.

Although Chief Constable Samuel Newhall told the Police Commission yesterday afternoon that the city has its share of "undesirable and criminally-inclined" citizens, he reported with some pride that the number of prisoners passing through the city police court last year had totalled 413, a decrease of 39 from the previous year.

505 Cases In 1930

In 1930 there were 505 cases in police court and in 1929 they totalled 553, proving the great reduction during the past four years.

However, last year breaches of the Liquor Control Act showed an increase over the previous year of 36 cases, there being 133 such cases as compared with 107 in 1931. House breaking and theft, two of the most serious crimes in the Code, were double last year over the number in 1931. Shop-breaking and theft showed only a small decrease, 27 last year as compared with 30 the previous year.

Most of the decrease in the crime record came in minor offences. Breaches of the Highway Traffic Act decreased from 54 to 38.

"All through the country the depression has left its trail in serious crimes," stated Chief Newhall. "Not missing this city, there being one murder which was successfully dealt with by our limited force and which was the first case of such homicide in the past 23 years."

Routs Defenders In Bloody Battle At Border Village

Invading Troops Capture Two Towns While Manchukuo Officials Prepare Fresh Ultimatum Giving Chinese 24 Hours To Submit Or Be Driven Out.

LEAGUE REPORT CONDEMNING JAP POLICY PRESENTED TO ASSEMBLY—ACTION FRIDAY.

CHANCHOW, Manchuria, February 21 (C.P.).—Japan's war machine rolled into Jehol Province to-day after a sanguinary night battle on the border.

Many Chinese were slain at Chaoyangssu, a Jehol village, about 30 miles west of here, and their defeated comrades fled northward.

A Japanese garrison stationed at Chanyangssu battled with the Chinese last night while the main Japanese force under General Yoshimichi Suzuki, who captured the Chinese city of Shanhaikwan last January 3, poured into the province without a hitch in its movement.

The Japanese, who have held Chaoyangssu for many months, asserted they were attacked by the Chinese. They identified the troops as under the command of General Tang Yu-Lin, the Governor of Jehol.

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 22 (A.P.)—A Rengo (Japanese) news agency despatch from Chinchow today said Japanese troops occupied Nanking early this morning and then took over Koupeiyingtzu, eight miles further northwest in Jehol Province.

The advices added the Japanese troops then continued in the direction of Peipiao, which is the terminus of a railroad line from Chinchow.

After occupation of Peiao, the advance will be suspended, headquarters in Chingchun said.

Japanese airplanes bombed concentrations of guerillas in the neighborhood of Kailu, said Rengo despatches from Tungliao.

BE ON GROUND IS WAY TO NIP PRISON RIOTS

General Hughes Addresses Banquet of St. Paul's Men's Association.

DENOUNCES PRESS.

Served For Almost 40 Years In Canadian Penitentiary Service.

Offering no criticism of the present administration, nor drawing any comparisons, Brigadier General William St. Pierre Hughes, former superintendent of penitentiaries, last night addressed a Father and Son Banquet at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Men's Club.

Speaking from a sympathetic and intimate knowledge of his subject, born of forty years in the service, and increasing the interest of his lecture by the inclusion of a number of lantern slides depicting various phases of prison life and administration, General Hughes contended that the prevention of prison rioting was only a matter "of being on the job." Between snatches of wisdom and humor, the General told how he had once donned a pair of felt slippers and going down a cell block in the early hours of the morning had overheard convicts hatching a plot to riot at Kingston Penitentiary. The plot was nipped in the bud. On another occasion, at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, he had actually stopped a threatened riot. Thirteen of the ringleaders had been subject to disciplinary action, while the remainder of the prisoners were ordered off to church.

"I am not desirous of criticizing the penitentiary service," said General Hughes at the outset of his address. I severed my connection with the service on January 21, 1932." He was, however, most emphatic in his denunciation of some of the press reports on the recent riots at Kingston and Dorechester penitentiaries. "I'll say one hundred per cent of what the press has told you in the last few months is not true," he said.

Possibility of fire in any of the penitentiaries, as had been suggested by certain newspapers, was ridiculous. Cells, including the floors and ceilings were of solid concrete. The beds were of steel. The only inflammable material was in the bed-clothing. The ball and chain was absolutely a thing of the past, and was discarded thirty-eight years ago. There were no dark cells and no dungeons.

In all his experience, the Gen-

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—Germany has once again the largest army of Europe. The theory of General Weygand, chief of the French general staff, that the half million Hitlerite "storm - troopers" can at a moment's notice be turned into a regular fighting force has been demonstrated to be correct. Through Hitler's coming to power, the Reichswehr, Germany's official army of 100,000 men, stands no longer alone. It is flanked on one side by 500,000 Brown Shirts and on the other side by 200,000 Steel Helmets, 100,000 members of the Kyffhaeuser Society of ex-combatants and other smaller groups of semi-military formation.

It is true that the one million men at present under arms have no artillery, but the French staff considers that the advanced technique of aeronautics in Germany makes the Reichswehr alone potentially

BOTH CHINA, JAPAN BUY.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Feb. 21 (C.P. Cable).—The British Government is keeping close tab on war supplies destined for the Far East. Munitions can be exported from Great Britain only under Government licenses, and the licenses for export of war material during 1932 totalled 410.

Of this number 31 concerned material destined to China and 41 to Japan. The largest individual items were 7,735,000 small arms and cartridges for China, and 5,361,450 for Japan. China also bought 2,788 hundredweight of high explosive, while Japan purchased 4,909 hundredweight of high explosives. Japan secured 740 machine guns.

Drifts 15 Feet Deep In Sault District

SAULTE STE. MARIE, Ont., Feb. 21 (C.P.)—A 40-mile an hour wind, the strongest here since 1889, today piled up an eight-inch snowfall into drifts 15-feet deep on country roads and hampered city traffic.

Traffic on country roads is badly tied up and street and motor cars in the Sault were halted for a time to-day. All snow removal equipment available was brought into action.

The salt-clay-gravel type of highway is stated to be practically dust free, with "washboard," and the surface non-skid.

CITY COUNCIL IS ASKED TO GIVE $4,000 TO BOARD

Queen Mary Hospital Estimates Cut $1,500 by Board Of Health.

SALARIES ARE LESS.

Two Trained Nurses Taken On Staff At $20 Per Month Each.

The Queen Mary Isolation Hospital will have to manage along on $4,000 this year, $1,500 less than last year. After close scrutiny of the hospital's expenditures for last year, this was the decision reached this morning by the Board of Health.

Cut Reduced Estimates

With sharpened pencils and with economy as their watchword, the members of the Board of Health attacked the hospital's estimates. They succeeded in further slashing the reduced estimates of $4,500 as proposed temporarily by the chairman, Alderman Walter Stocker.

In doing so they not only cut all the salaries of the hospital employees, but provided nothing for repairs to the hospital, furniture and furnishings or for extra help. "We won't need to make any repairs or do any painting up there this year and there certainly is not going to be any more furnishings bought," declared Chairman Stocker.

Take on Two Nurses

Not only that but the Board succeeded in saving $125 in the salaries of the permanent nurses. Two replace the two nurses-in-training that are resigning, they decided to employ for a year two trained nurses at a salary of $20 a month each. The two former nurses-in-training cost the Board $595 last year.

Twenty-seven applicants, mainly from graduate nurses, were received in response to the advertisement for nurses at the hospital. With the recommendation of Miss A. Price, matron of the hospital, the Board unanimously appointed Miss Bernadine Scollard, R.N., 189 Mark street, graduate of St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, and Miss S. Adam, Elcombe-Crescent street, graduate of Nicholls Hospital, to the staff of the hospital at a salary of $20 a month each, providing they will remain at the hospital for a year's period. Both nurses were highly recommended from every available source.

Cut Matron's Salary.

The salary of Miss Price was reduced $150 from $1,150 to $1,000. The salary of the caretaker and

GIANT JACKPINE CAUSE OF CRASH

Reports of Tragedy In North Say Pilot Evidently Failed To See Towering Tree.

WINGS TORN OFF.

TIMMINS, Ont., Feb. 21 (C.P.)—A 75-foot jackpine on the shore of Lake Kenogamissi caused the plane crash which took five lives Sunday, according to reports of the tragedy reaching here to-day. The cabin plane, piloted by H. R. Clegg, of North Bay, had just taken off from the lake and the pilot, in trying to gain altitude, seemingly did not see the tree towering above the others in the bush.

The jackpine snapped off like a match when the machine struck it, the reports said. The plane seemed to hover a moment. Then the wings fell off and the fuselage plunged into a clump of trees, scattering the mangled bodies of the crash victims into the snow beneath. The other dead are: Miss Alam Tario, Gordon Kanigsberg, North Abrahams and Lorne Bucknam, all of Schumacher.

It was expected the bodies would be brought to Schumacher to-day.

Reciprocity With United States Invited by House of Commons

TRADE TREATY WITH STATES IS ADVOCATED

Bennett Invites Reciprocity With United States—All Parties Applaud.

LONG TERM ARGUMENT.

Wait Until New Government Takes Office Says Bennett.

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (C.P.)—Reciprocity, the subject of many lusty political battles both in Parliament and on the hustings ever since Canada became Canada, is again before Parliament. Sponsored by William Duff (Liberal member for Antigonish-Guysboro), a resolution declaring it is now expedient to open negotiations with the United States for the negotiation of a reciprocal trade agreement is under discussion in the House of Commons.

It brought from Premier R. B. Bennett the statement that Canada is ready to enter into closer commercial relations with the United States, the natural market for this country's surplus goods. Any treaty, however, he said, should have a measure of permanency about it, should be for a long term of years and not terminable on short notice or at the caprice of either party.

For two reasons Mr. Bennett thought the present moment inappropriate for a declaration by the House on the question. The first was the new government of the United States has not yet taken office and the details of its trade policy have not been announced. The other is because the coming World Economic Conference is to consider the question of tariffs on a world-wide scale.

Now Is the Time, Says King

The Liberal Leader, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, differed with Mr. Bennett on this point. He thought Canada should lose no time in getting negotiations under way. The need for markets was never greater and all obstacles in the way of making a bargain with the United States should be removed.

A. E. MacLean (Lib., Prince), seconded the resolution and expressed the opinion the Prime Minister had offered no good reasons why it should be abandoned. He believed that the time was opportune, with a new government about to take office in the United States, for Canada to make the first move to secure a reciprocal trade agreement.

For "good and sufficient reason" the Canadian people had defeated the Reciprocity Pact in 1911, said R. B. Hanson (Cons., York-Sunbury). Therefore he did not propose to go back and discuss those reasons. As far as he was concerned, he was willing to enter into any agreement with the United States provided that it was on fair and reasonable terms, and provided also that it carried with it a guarantee of stability.

No person could fail to realize, said Hon. Charles Stewart (Lib., Edmonton West) that trade with United States was more important to Canada than trade with any other country. Ever since statistics had been kept, and in the face of exorbitant tariffs raised by the United States, that country had been Canada's best customer.

Vancouver Constables Injured As Rioters Beseige Steamer Docks.

ONE ARREST.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—Two constables were injured and one man arrested last night when police were called to quell a demonstration by 300 Communists at the Canadian National Steamship dock, foot of Main street. The Reds, it was declared, were endeavoring to prevent a number of men from boarding a steamer for the North, where work awaited them.

During a fracas on the dock, Mounted Constable Barker suffered a broken leg when his mount slipped and fell, carrying its rider with it. No one else was injured, and police dispersed the demonstrators after taking one of their number into custody.

GERMAN ARMY IS NOW LARGEST

the most formidable striking force in the world. One of the Reichswehr generals, Von Groener, has worked out a plan of war in which the air force largely takes the place of artillery.

The confidence of the new regime in its military invulnerability is evident in the revival of the well-known slogans of the Imperial regime.

Eager For "Rights."

"Deutschland Ueber Alles" thunders through the streets of Berlin and Potsdam as in the hectic days of August, 1914. The nationalist papers talk once more of "Germany's place in the sun." An artificial fever of expectation is being worked up. The Angriff, Hitler's life-organ, now official government paper, says that Germany will soon claim her rights and will not be denied her rights this time. The Hugenberg press, comprising 237 daily and weekly newspapers, which is an organization that also controls 1,200 motion picture houses in Germany, has launched a campaign for the restitution of Germany's colonies, Kenya, Tanganyka, Cameroun, Togoland, the Caroline Islands. "Germany must have her colonies back within a year!" exclaims Herr Hugenberg in a signed editorial.

Not only is the statue of Frederick the Great draped with a ribbon in the old royal colors with inscription that "Germany will be Germany Again!" but Herr Goehring, the right-hand man of Hitler, speaking before the microphone during one of the mammoth parades, exclaimed: "I see Frederick the Great rising from his pedestal and wave a hand of welcome to our immortal Fuehrer (Leader Hitler). And I hear him say: 'You have saved Germany. You have revived the ancient Teutonic spirit. 'The armistice is over. Germany moves ahead!'"

Goehring's voice broadcast in all the parks and along the route of march of the Nazi parade, exhorted the troops to be ready for great sacrifices, "but remember," he exclaimed, "you have never been defeated. You were stabbed in the back in 1918 by Liberal traitors, by Jewish speculators, by the republican scum and the Moscow rabble at home."

As part of the Hitlerite propaganda, an old German legend has been revived which more than once served to put new heart in the Kaiser's legions during the war.

Legend Revived.

On the Kyfhaueser Mountain, after which the great ex-service men's union is named, stands a ruined castle which dates from the thirteenth century. This castle is said to be inhabited or haunted by the spirit of the Emperor Frederick Barbarossa, the Red Beard, under whose reign the first German empire extended over the better part of Europe. The legend has it that once every ten years the ghost of Barbarossa awakens from slumber in the Kyfhaueser castle and climbs to the roof of one of the towers. Frederick always appears in a thunderstorm. There he stands, an awesome apparition. Violet bolts of lightning flash about his venerable head. His beard has grown long and white. His great two-edged sword drags and rattles against the crumpling flagstones of the parapet.

From the topmost balcony the spirit of Frederick then surveys the German land. He turns his gaze from east to west, north and south. If the Teutonic territory is free of enemies he gives a shout of joy and goes back to sleep for another ten years. Back in 1917 when he saw the Teutonic legions march upon the Warsaw of the czars, when the Italians were being pressed back and German taubes flew in the Flemish sky and above France, the imperial ghost was reassured that all was well with the Fatherland. But he has not been seen since.

Now he is back. The Hitler papers have revived him. He is, of course, anxiously scanning the horizon to see the Brown Shirts and their Fuehrer make preparations to exalt Teutonic renown as in days of yore. And in chorus the Nazi press replies: "Yes, Frederick we are ready. Bald geht's los! Soon we'll be on our way!"

JAPS OFFICIALLY TO QUIT LEAGUE EARLY IN MARCH

Foreign Minister Matsuoka Will Leave Geneva About February 26.

RETURN VIA U.S.

All Japanese Naval Commanders Ordered Ready For Any Emergency.

TOKYO, Feb. 21 (C.P.).—Japan's formal notification of its withdrawal from the League, planned in view of the certainty that the League will condem Japan's policy in Manchuria this week, will be issued some time in March, it was learned to-day from an official source.

The Government will not await the return of Yosuke Matsuoka, the chief Japanese delegate at Geneva. (Geneva reports said orders for Japanese withdrawal from the League Assembly were received there yesterday, but that withdrawal from the League itself was a constitutional question to be considered after the delegation departs).

Foreign Minister Yasyua Uchida telegraphed approved of Matsuoka's plan to leave Geneva about February 26, returning homeward by way of the United States. He would sail from San Francisco March 23.

Hopes To See Roosevelt.

Matsuoka will stop at Washington, hoping to meet President-elect Roosevelt. It was doubtful whether this would be possible, however, due to the stress of the post-inauguration period in the American capital. Matsuoka's status in America would be unofficial.

In addition to recalling its envoy from the disarmament conference as well as the League itself, Japan is not likely to participate in the forthcoming World Economic Conference, an official spokesman said. These conferences are sponsored by the League, although the United States and Soviet Russia are participants.

"In the present atmosphere, Japan's participation is not likely to be conducive to good results. Moreover, the Economic Conference is mainly concerned with European and American problems, Japan being only slightly interested," said the spokesman.

Meanwhile, orders to all Japanese naval base and fleet commanders to be on the alert and prepared to meet any emergency were despatched to-day. The naval office said at present there are no naval units at the Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific Ocean, between the Philippines and Hawaii, and so no orders were sent there.

Will Keep Islands.

Japan, granted a mandate over those islands by the League after they were taken from Germany, does not intend to part with them when it leaves the League officials said. The new naval orders were made in view of Japan's secession from the League.

An explanation of Japan's decision to quit the League was to-day's main business before the Japanese Diet, or House of Representatives and the House of Peers. Cabinet members were to appear to discuss the program for withdrawal.

The Privy Council will meet on Wednesday when its endorsement of secession was considered a foregone conclusion.

SHORTEN TERM; EARLY ELECTION IS NIXON'S AIM

Would Get Away From Five Sessions—Henry's Ideas Differ.

TO-DAY, "LEADER'S DAY"

Premier To Outline Detail On Abitibi Power Project purchase.

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP)—Battle flags are flying over the legislature today as Premier George S. Henry, W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., Liberal leader, and H. C. Nixon, Progressive head, prepare to open their oratorical barrage during the debate on the speech from the throne. For today is "leader's day" and packed galleries are expected to listen intently as the debate progresses.

Just whether the Prime Minister will conclude at a night session tonight, or continue the debate on Thursday is not yet known. One thing sure, Mr. Henry will undoubtedly take the opportunity to outline to his followers the government's solution to many difficulties.

It is expected there will be further election talk. Repeatedly in the past few months the premier has insisted "this is not the time for elections." Just as often, Mr. Nixon has insisted the government should go to the country. Mr. Sinclair has not yet definitely spoken either way.

en either way.

The situation is this: Prior to the departure of former Premier G. H. Ferguson, the legislature passed an amendment to the legislative assembly act providing a continuation of its life from four to five years.

Early Election

Mr. Nixon declares the amendment was passed with the understanding, however, the term of the legislature would not be extended until after the next election. Accordingly, he intends moving another amendment to the act which would provide for an early election.

On the other hand, Premier Henry declares there was no such intention, and no election would be called until after the house had met for five sessions. This is the fourth of the present parliament, and hence the House would meet again before election rolled around.

The Premier also has intimated he will outline further details of the purchase by the province of the Abitibi Power project—and is expected to announce on the completion of negotiations the entire Abitibi plant will be turned over to the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission for operation and administration.

OVER 60 SLAIN POLITICAL RIOTS

German Opposition Press Claims Figures Are Total Since First of Year.

TWO CAST NIGHT.

BERLIN, Feb. 21 (C.P.). — More than 60 persons have been reported slain in political clashes throughout Germany since the first of the year, when Adolf Hitler began his swift rise to power.

A tabulation made by an opposition newspaper showed less than one-quarter of those killed were Hitler followers.

Two persons were killed last night in fights between Hitler's Nazisund, their foes in Frankfort-on-the-Main and Kaisers-Lauten, Bavaria. Former Chancellor Heinrich Bruening had to be escorted out of the Bavarian town by a heavy police guard.

The newspaper Montag Morgen said 62 persons were killed between January 2 and February 18. The Hitler-Von Papen Coalition Cabinet was sworn in January 30.

RED PAYMENTS FALLING BEHIND STEVENS CLAIMS

COLLECTION DIFFICULT

Montreal Firm Gives Instance Of Trouble In Getting Cash From Amtorg.

OTTAWA, February 21.— Further correspondence in connection with the Serkau barter plan was tabled in the House of Commons yesterday, this time comprising communications to Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade ond Commerce, and the Minister's replies. Seeking to show that the Amtorg agency (which is the Soviet trading concern in New York) is a difficult one to collect money from J. Brock, of the Brock Shipping Company of Montreal, recites some experiences of that firm in the transportation of Russian lumber.

A number of pertinent questions are asked by E. E. Weber of Columbus., Ont., in replying to which the Minister sets forth that "not one shred of evidence is before the Government that any such deal is recognized by the Russian authorities."

The Soviets had met their payments fairly well recently, Mr. Stevens wrote, but he was informed they were now falling behind.

'Done Out of Money."

The communication from Mr. Brock, accompanied by a memorandum setting forth the claim of his company against the Soviet authorities, involving $436.93, with interest at 6 per cent. as from February 21, 1931, declares that the company has "been done out of a sum of money by the Amtorg Trading Corporation, New York." The letter adds that the company has been unable to force Amtorg to pay this sum because the Soviet agency has no assets in this country.

"The matter naturally is our own concern, and we regret to bother the Department of Trade and Commerce with it, but, as Soviet organizations make it a habit to state publicly for propaganda purposes that they always fulfill their obligations, we are desirous that the Department should have knowledge of our case."

Case of Demurrage.

The amount was incurred in demurrage at Achangel in the case of the steamer Tacoma City, chartered to carry lumber amounting to 56,000 cords for discharge at Sorel and Three Rivers in 1930. The initial claim for demurrage and other things was paid at one time, but eventually in a final settlement of accounts the Amtorg agency withheld an amount equivalent to that sum. Repeated requests for payment have been unanswered, the company's communication says.

Freightage of the 56,000 cords was at the rate of $6.00 a cord.

In answering the letter, Mr. Stevens comments that "it goes to show the difficulty that there is to dea with these people in the normal business way."

Covers were laid in the spacious dining room for about 20 guests and when the business was over the members and their wives were invited to a sumptuous helping of oysters and other good things prepared by Mrs. Birchard, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Tamlin of Cambray. Phelps Is Appointed King's Bargemaster

LONDON, February 21 (C.P. Cable). — J. T. Phelps — "Bossy" Phelps as he is known on the Thames—has been appointed King's Bargemaster, in succession to the late "Bill" East.

Phelps, who belongs to Putney, is father of Ted Phelps, who won the world's sculling championship from Major Goodsell of Australia, at Long Beach, California, last August.

Unless His Majesty's present patronage of the river undergoes an alteration, Phelps is likely to find his new office pretty much of a sinecure. The last time the King used the Royal barge was in 1919, when there was a procession upon the Thames. Phelps was a participant under Bill East, who piloted the King.

ALL SCARBORO'S REVENUE GOES TO BANK FOR YEAR

"It was the only line of action agreeable to the bank," declared Reeve Harry T. Sanders. "As long as we keep within our budget, the bank will advance us funds for the current necessities."

OVEN WARMING UP of left-overs is apt to be more successful than reheating food on top of a stove.

* * * * * * *

The heat in the oven is more even than over a flame which comes directly on the bottom of the pan, and has, after that, to be distributed.

* * * * * * *

In an oven the heat radiates to surround the sides and top as well as the bottom of the enclosure. This makes the top of the container get as much, or nearly as much, heat pressure as the bottom of it.

* * * * * * *

When the edible to be reheated is liquid, such as soup and sauces, they should be heated on top of the range, as the under heat is taken up immediately into the liquid and distributed through it fairly evenly and very quickly.

* * * * * * *

There is no advantage in having heat on all sides, and there is a distinct disadvantage in handling pans of liquid when putting them in and out of the oven. Containers with handles should be used, for the reheating of liquids, and not oven pans, which are generally minus handles.

* * * * * * *

Many foods when properly reheated in the oven are scarcely distinguishable from freshly cooked edibles. The container should be tightly covered to permit of no escape of steam, as it is the steam which permeates the food, keeping it soft as it heats.

* * * * * * *

Beefsteak left-over is delicious if put in a tightly covered container with a very, very little water in the bottom of the pan, just enough to germinate steam, and the temperature be kept medium or lower.

* * * * * * *

Never try to reheat food in a hot oven, for the outside of the food will be hot when the inside is almost cold.

* * * * * * *

String beans are quite as good when reheated in the oven as when freshly boiled. Pour a little of the water in which the beans were boiled over the beans in the oven pan.

* * * * * * *

Season well with salt and pepper and dot well with butter. Keep well covered all the time. Mashed potato is delicious when reheated in the oven. Pour just a little extra milk over the top which should be even so that all the potato is about the same depth.

* * * * * * *

Grate a little cheese over the potato. Cover well. When heated through, remove the cover, put the pan under the flame, and lightly brown the cheese.

* * * * * * *

Biscuits can be heated in the oven successfully to make them just like fresh-baked. There are two methods. One is to brush the tops with water, cover the pan tight, and have a moderate oven.

* * * * * * *

The other way is to put the biscuits in a paper bag and hold the tightly-closed bag under the cold water spigot until the paper is thoroughly dampened, but not wet through anywhere.

* * * * * * *

Put this bag in the oven, and when the paper is dry, the biscuits will be ready to serve. The former way is best, but each is excellent.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Those charming hat styles that delighted our grandmothers years ago seem to be achieving just as much popularity among us modern women of today. Yet I can't quite stretch my imagination enough to picture the bulky coiffures of that era fitting beenath today's trim bonnets. Hats may have reverted back to the styles of Granny's age, but coiffures have change greatly. For the hair arrangements of our gay forebears were bulky and cumbersome. While we moderns sport hair styles that are neat and trim, and closely molded to the head.

There is one way, however, in which the standard of hair loveliness has not changed, and that is in its condition of health and luxuriance. For to be considered truly a crowning glory, hair must not only be perfectly and stylishly coiffed, but must also be clean and healthy. And dandruff is one of the greatest destroyers of hair health and beauty.

That sulphur and vaseline ointment described in my "Beauty Culture" booklet is, in my opinion, one of the best remedies for a simple dandruff condition. But to be effective, it must be used correctly. And some of my readers don't seem to be so sure of the proper method.

Before the sulphur and vaseline mixture is applied to the head, a blunt-toothed comb should be taken, and the entire scalp gently scratched with it. The scratching, of course, should not be vigorous enough to irritate the scalp. This procedure will help to loosen accumulated dandruff. After this, the hair should be brushed briskly, in order to remove any loose dandruff particles Then the hair should be parted at close intervals, and a portion of the ointment applied to the scalp at each parting until the entire scalp is covered.

When enough of the ointment has been applied, it should be thoroughly massaged into the scalp with the tips of the fingers. Then it should be permitted to remain on for as long a time as possible. Leave it on overnight, if you can, and the following morning shampoo your hair with a bland soap and tepid water.

OLD BASIS OF FINANCE CLUMSY UNREAL REV. E. J. SPRINGETT SAYS

British-Israelite Association Hears Federation Head.

DIVINE HELP NEEDED.

"I will yet be enquired of by the House of Israel, to do it for them," said the Lord God.

"We shall have to get down upon our knees, not just for a day of supplication but for a period of national repentance and contrition. 'Repent ye,' says the Lord. In the next few months, the circumstances of our life will be such that we shall at last realize that there is no other Arm that we can trust as a people and no other Strength upon which we can rely as a nation, save on the strength and the power and the wisdom of the Lord. He says: 'Ye shall come to enquire of Me and I will sprinkle clean water upon thee; I will replace thy stony heart with a heart of flesh and I will write upon thy heart My law—and all shall know Me, from the least to the greatest."

"And that shall be the re-birth of the old world order," said the Rev. E. J. Springett of Toronto, in conclusion of a speech on "The Birth of the New World Order, or the Re Birth of the Old World Order," delivered last night in the parish hall of All Saints' Church, under auspices of the local branch of the British-Israel Federation, with Allan MacNab in the chair.

The audience was one of those extremely intent gatherings that listen with such extraordinary and silent interest to the speeches of the British-Israel Federation, in meetings which are increasingly large in numbers as the cult spreads. Manifestly popular with a wide range of citizens, these audiences number in them members of almost every class and creed in the community. The theory of British-Israel is fascinating and the Rev. Mr. Springett is one of its most eloquent and forceful exponents. He is the head in Canada of the Federation.

Its Genesis

Following his introduction by the chairman and the Scripture lesson read by W. W. Gray, the speaker prefaced his address with an allusion to the Bible, declaring it to be "the one book which is the least read and the most misunderstood, notwithstanding the fact that it still remains the best seller and has been translated into seven hundred different languages and dialects.—And this misunderstanding and neglect of the Book, and the fact that we have banished religious education from our public schools, and give our children only on an average of twenty hours of such religious education during the Sundays of our year, has resulted in a very real ignorance of a Book which is the foundation of our race, our national life, our faith and our laws."

It is on the Bible alone that British-Israel bases its beliefs, declared the speaker, saying that pyramidology was relied on only for corroborative testimony of those beliefs, just as reliance was also placed on what ethnology and philology and archaeology and kindred sciences, had to say.

Recent bank reports, especially that of the Bank of Commerce, with Sir John Aird as its mouthpiece, had, asserted the speaker, declared the problem of the day lay in a return as soon as possible, to old orders of life and business.

"But we will never go back to the old way," said the speaker, "because now we are beginning to realize that the old basis of finance was clumsy and unreal and proved in time of stress to be a fictitious basis of value."

Signs of this growing consciousness were pointed out in the doing away, in the Old Land, of political parties in favor of a Nationalist regime, and in the realm of industry, tremendous changes had taken place also.

Referring to the new political party recently launched in Ontario, the Rev. Mr. Springett said that he had no brief for or against it. "But," he went on, "no party will endure whose platform is based upon political party aspirations and whose planks are worm-eaten by age, even though covered by a new coat of paint."

Divine Help Needed

"But the statesmen—not the politicians—of to-day — the thinking people of the world—are saying that superhuman intervention is also necessary in order to bring about a change and to recover from the crisis through which our civilization is passing. And we of the British-Israel Federation are trying to bring to you the kind of world administrative order that must shortly be brought into being. And that is the re-birth of an old order long forgotten, as far as man is concerned, but designed by God for the good government of mankind, by which His purpose shall be demonstrated on the stage of the world's history—a perfect world order in every respect."

On January 31st, he declared, according to the findings of Mr. Davidson, eminent Egyptologist and pyramidologist, the creation of a theocratic state had come into being. And that did not mean anything of a spectacular or instantaneous nature, any more than the conception of birth of any type meant its instant development. It was merely that the germ of a hidden idea had commenced on that date to start its way to ultimate fruition.

Quoting the Scriptural text which refers to the grain of wheat that does not fulfill its destiny until it falls into the ground and dies, the Rev. Mr. Springett said, "Out of death comes life" and went on to liken this time as a period of travail and anguish—the birth-pains of a new civilization, or the re-birth of an old order "to be brought about by Divine intervention, working through me and you."

He then sketched graphically the birth, 3,400 years ago, of a new world order, a people, "undisciplined, abject, terror-stricken, with the hearts of slaves" emerging from their years of bondage in the land of Egypt, with their leader Moses, to form a pure theocracy which acknowledged God as its King, Moses as the mediator and a Divine law imparted to Israel.

"And it was no man-made law, it was a theocracy, God-given, Divine.

'And in it was the law of the land, the law of the Sabbath, the law of the tithe.

The Three Laws

"The law of the land, declared by Yahweh, or Jehovah, said that the land belonged to God and must never be sold. If that law had been followed, we would not labour under the burden of taxes and interest that now oppresses us.

"Then there was the law of the Sabbath—not the law of church-going, for many of you would be much better people if you never went to church, coming out to criticize and going just for the sermon, which was never meant as the chief aspect of church-going, which should be mainly as an obeisance of the spirit to the Creator—and that law commanded that one day in seven should be set apart so that man might commune with his Maker. God knew that man required one day in seven for physical and mental rest. In war-time, they found out that they could not continue the system when they tried to make the munition factory workers labour straight through without their day of rest.

"But he law of the Sabbath also enjoyed that one year in seven should be a year of rest and release for the land. God said, let the land rest for a year, and if you do that, I will give you enough in six years to go through the whole seven. And there was also the injunction that the seventh year should be one of release of debt likewise. Do we remember that? We have it on our statute book—we call it the Statue of Limitations—but we get around it by devious methods.

"And there is the law of the tithe—to give ten per cent. of our increase to God—not to the church, remember, many of you get mixed up in that—and God has promised to pour out His blessings on those who follow this rule.

"In the old order, that tenth which belonged to God went in to the National Treasury and was used for public works and for administering the law courts and for everything in national life. And there were no taxes then. There would be no taxes now if that system were followed out. You will find in the fifteenth chapter of Deuteronomy, about the tenth verse, the words of God: "These economic laws are designed to the intent that there should be no more poor among you."

Christ's Denunciation

"It is not a disgrace to be poor, but it is a disgrace that there should be poverty in a Christian community. If Christ were to come back to-day, He would say it was a disgrace that such grinding misery should be tolerated among people who profess to believe in His principles. I know you will say: "But Christ said that the poor shall be always among ye." He said that, as an indictment, a stern denunciation of the system of His day, when, as he said: "Ye lay burdens on the people's shoulders, too heavy for them to bear."

"That system of worship, as ordered by the Lord for His people Israel, was the pure system of worship, the monotheism which recognizes but one Lord: "Hear ye, O Israel, the Lord thy God is one God" Thou shalt have no other gods but Me."

Tracing the descent of Israel down through the time when the pure form of worship became adulterated by heathenish practices, the speaker spoke of the punishment meted out to the rebellious children, a sentence that kept them for many long centuries under the rod and that its cessation, he declared, only in 1800, when the wrath of God was appeased and the gradual expansion of Anglo-Saxendom commenced.

He spoke of thel eaders of affairs in Russia as men who are determined to undermine civilization in every possible way, and are equally determined to spread the anti-God cult.

"In the second chapter of Job, in the eleventh of Daniel, in the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth of Revelation, you will find a true picture of world conditions to-day" he said, going on to declare that the press of the world, the economic structure, a certain section of the church, and one of the great Masonic institutions, all are controlled by the same secret and malevolent organization which will, within a short time, be asserted, make a further determined effort to stamp out the spiritual influences which are the only means of bringing the world back to its true aspect.

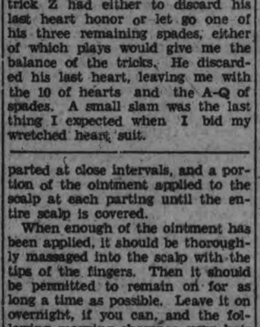
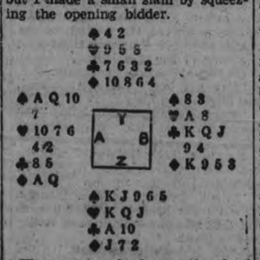
UNUSUAL SUIT BIDS

UNDER ORDINARY circumstances it is improper to make an opening bid of a suit incapable of winning a minimum of three trump tricks provided neither adversary holds more than three cards of the suit, and further provided dummy has at least three small trumps. But general strength and the division of the remaining cards of the hand at times may render it necessary to bid an exceedingly weak suit for strategic purposes. Two such instances are shown in this article.



I dealt Z's hand to myself. I did not want to bid no trump with the doubleton spade, nor could I bid either of the three-card minor suits, so I bid the five-card heart suit, although it failed to meet ordinary requirements. My partner overcalled with 1-Spade. I shifted into 2-No Trumps, and my partner bid 3-No Trumps. The opening lead was the 6 of diamonds. We won three diamond, three spade and four club tricks. Had hearts been opened we could have made three-odd.

The night before writing this article the hand shown below was dealt. Over Z's opening bid of 1-Spade, I bid 2-Hearts, to discover who held clubs. When my partner bid 3-Clubs I bid 3-No Trumps. It does not resemble a squeeze hand, but I made a small slam by squeezing the opening bidder.



The opening lead was the 4 of spades. Dummy's 8 and Z's 9 fell to my 10. I led the 8 of clubs, and covered with dummy's J. Z dropped the 10, making all of dummy's suit good except one card. I took my Ace and Q of diamonds, then I led my last club, putting Z in with the Ace of that suit. Naturally he led a high heart, expecting to win a trick in that suit. Dummy's Ace won the trick, which was our fifth. Dummy won a diamond trick and three club tricks. At the tenth trick Z had either to discard his last heart honor or let go one of his three remaining spades, either of which plays would give me the balance of the tricks. He discarded his last heart, leaving me with the 10 of hearts and the A-Q of spades. A small slam was the last thing I expected when I bid my wretched heart suit.

DOES IT WORK BOTH WAYS?

Figures quoted by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, as to the beneficial effects on Canada's export trade to Great Britain of the Imperial Conference pacts make agreeable reading.

It is satisfactory to learn from the Minister that during January exports from Canada to the United Kingdom were greater than those of a year ago by 26 per cent. and exceeded exports in January, 1931, by 56 per cent.

The increases were general, too, according to Mr. Stevens, who remarks that "from agricultural products to chemicals there was a considerable general advance."

That's fine, of course, but there is another angle to the matter, and that is of our imports from Britain.

As the Ottawa Journal truly says, there is one thing, however, many people would like to know. "It is as to whether when Britain is increasing her purchases from us are we increasing our purchases from Britain? In other words, is the conference arrangement working both ways?"

That is a very important point.

Mr. Bennett has more than once remarked that a trade agreement that was not mutually beneficial could not be expected to last—and he is right.

That being so, there will be natural concern as to whether the Ottawa pacts are proving as stimulating to British trade as they are beginning to prove to our own.

FEWER CHARGES IN ONTARIO.

It has been a favorite charge of prohibitionist speakers that under the present system of dealing with the liquor problem crime has been on the increase in Ontario.

Official figures just issued go far to show that this complaint is not justified; as a matter of fact, they prove that crime has been falling off in this province for several years past.

Throughout Ontario last year 15,804 prisoners were sentenced for various offences, as against 18,131 in 1931 and 21,421 in 1930; in other words, there was the large and significant reduction of 5,617 cases in two years.

Offences under the Liquor Control Act numbered 22,716 in 1927, and last year the total was 14,510. The number of cases of drunkenness heard in the courts of Ontario last year was 8,066. Ten years ago 16,007 cases under this head were heard in one year.

Traffic offences have been also growing fewer. There were 27,666 convictions for speeding in 1931, but last year this total decreased by 25 per cent. to 20,654, while reckless driving cases were reduced from 7,571 to 4,693, a falling off of 33 per cent., and drunken driving cases fell from 689 to 564, a decrease of 18 per cent.

Even if, in connection with this last offence, it is remembered that a good many cases that could be dealt with under the head of drunken driving are treated as reckless driving, it is worthy of note that the total of reckless driving charges has also been very materially reduced.

TORONTO'S REPRESENTATION.

When Hon. Peter Heenan told a local audience the other night that Toronto should have only one representative in the Legislature he was undoubtedly using a certain amount of poetic license.

Most people will agree that the number of members from the Queen City might be reduced with benefit to the whole province, but that is a different thing from declaring that the provincial capital's representation in the Legislature should be confined to one member.

As a matter of fact, Toronto with a half million population contributes a huge share of the revenue that goes into the provincial treasury, and is certainly entitled to adequate representation in the Legislative Assembly, unless the whole theory of representation by population is to be thrown overboard.

The large population that makes up Ontario's chief city has every right to be heard in the deciding of provincial policies and issues, since these things involve taxation, which falls heavily upon the residents of Toronto, and there are not many people who will say that, having regard to its population and its tax-paying activities, the capital should have but a single representative at Queen's Park.

Mr. Heenan probably over-stated his position to give emphasis to his contention that the present Toronto quota in the Legislature is unnecessarily large.

A FORWARD STEP.

The decision of the executive of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce to organize a representative local committee to co-operate with the Ontario Committee on Economy in Public Finance is a timely forward step that cannot fail to be helpful.

The local committee, the composition of which will be announced in the near future, will study particularly the whole field of local public finance with a view toward enlightening the public generally as to how their money is spent and assisting the spending bodies in an effort to cut down municipal overhead and reducing the burden of taxation.

The spirit behind this plan is entirely helpful; the sole desire of those who are interesting themselves in the movement is to aid the municipal government and to give an intelligent lead to public opinion as regards municipal expenditures.

While local committees study the problems of their own communities, provincial committees will perform a similar service in the field of provincial finance, and a national committee is undertaking a like service in connection with federal expenditures.

Thus in the whole three jurisdictions all angles of expenditure will be under review, and the net result should be the amassing of a vast fund of useful and accurate information and the formation of constructive suggestions that will be of service to the various taxing bodies.

COURAGE IN PUBLIC LIFE

A well-known Canadian citizen, himself prominent in public life, in a personal letter makes the comment that, "We are getting more courageous all the time in public life." But, with his feet on the ground, he goes on to say:

"Probably quite a long time before the millennium is reached there will be a breed of public servant who will, without a qualm, place his head in a political noose in order to accomplish a very desirable reform. When that time comes, and the great majority of the people have accepted the reform—and at the same time censured the reformer—you and I will be singing hymns in the Great Hereafter in glorification of the achievement."

Perhaps this is the point of view of the sceptic, of the practical politician, but everyone has to admit that it contains much experience and truth. The politician, with his superior sources of information, very often actually is far in advance of public opinion. He would go farther and faster in change and reform than the people would follow. The problem which faces him in such a case is an obvious one. If he comes out wholly and openly for something considerably beyond current public thought the people more than likely will condemn him as an impractical visionary, perhaps begin to think of him as dangerously radical (or reactionary), and his career may be blighted. Furthermore, and possibly more important, he misses the opportunity to lead opinion by easy stages to the ultimate goal. In other words, if he seeks to force the issue he injures himself and delays the program of reform to which he has set his mind.

This is the process of reasoning by which politicians defend themselves against charges that ordinarily they lack aggressiveness in reform and must be pushed and prodded into any activity in the least degree off the beaten path of custom. Unquestionably it has some force. Perhaps it might be said of most public men that they believe what they preach, but they do not preach all they believe.—Ottawa Journal.

PARTLY TO BLAME OURSELVES.

In talking of our economic troubles to-day there is a very general tendency for us to lay most of the blame on world conditions, to treat the present situation as something over which we have no control. To what extent is this true? Is it possible that we are to a very large extent ourselves to blame; that if we had followed different policies in Canada our present difficulties would be far less acute?

Speaking to the Canadian Club of Montreal the other day, W. H. Moore, M.P., former chairman of the Tariff Board, provided something to think about when he asserted that the western farmer and the financial men of the east—"Prairie Avenue and St. James Street"—had contributed two main causes of the depression in the form of agricultural over-production and wrong financial methods.

It is argued by the economic committee of the League of Nations, Mr. Moore stated, that the cause of the world crisis lies in agricultural depression and the cause of the latter in the over-production of cereals, mainly wheat. Before the war there was equilibrium of supply and demand in this field. Until 1926 Canada's production of wheat remained at pre-war figures. Since then Canadian production had advanced, the West increasing its acreage greatly. From 1926 to 1930 the Canadian price was maintained better than that of her competitors, but was maintained by artificial means. And since the war, while the world's population had increased, the wheat consuming population had not increased in pace with wheat production. In Europe, the chief market, strong movements were under way toward self-sufficiency. In face of this situation, since 1921 Saskatchewan had increased its acreage by 34 per cent. and Alberta by 50 per cent. As compared with pre-war acreage, the acreage of the United States was 119, Argentine 116, Australia 172 and Canada 214. The sins of "Prairie Avenue" were in thus increasing production and ignoring the facts of the consuming situation.

As for St. James Street, said Mr. Moore, it was under the spell of "the ugly god of bigness." It had followed the world's example of refinancing corporations. It took out the old manufacturers who knew their business and replaced them with lawyers and brokers. It converted profit-sharing securities into interest-paying securities and built up mergers the whole object of which was to destroy competition which, he asserted, was the very thing upon which the capitalistic order was based. These were the sins of "St. James Street." Mr. Moore urged a return to the old freedom of competitive economics.

Such frank criticism is all to the good. It is an easy matter to lay the blame elsewhere for present problems. But if they are to be corrected there must be recognition of the extent to which we have contributed to them by our own conduct. Even if there is disagreement with Mr. Moore's views they have the tonic quality of stimulating healthy self-examination.—Kingston Whig-Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Relief Fund campaign must be carried through to a successful termination. Peterborough cannot afford to fall down in this most important matter.

The trouble with slashing expenditures is that most chairmen feel "this was the most unkindest cut of all" whenever their estimates are reduced.

Zangara, who attempted to shoot President-elect Roosevelt, has been sentenced to 80 years' imprisonment, which permanently removes him from the list of menaces to the safety of American Presidents.

Correspondence in regard to the Russian barter would seem to show that even the promoter feels that the press campaign in favor of the deal has been badly overdone.

In its handling of the railway situation the Senate has shown a commendable desire to forget party politics. A similar attitude on the part of the lower House would be appreciated.

THE TUTTS By CRAWFORD YOUNG

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 48

Kane brushed past Lucy and grasped for Dorotha. With a scream she turned and fled from him. He set out after her, stumbling through the dark.

One of the officers, who had grabbed Lucy Wilbur, shouted after him:

"Stop her, Kane. You're both heading straight for the canyon."

But hardly had the words fallen from his lip than Dorotha uttered a blood-curdling scream. The cry rang through the night, and then died out. Far below, Kane could hear stones bouncing toward the bottom of the chasm and knew that with them went the body of Dorotha Deane.

He turned back to the others.

"I've got her," James exclaimed, nodding toward Lucy.

"Yes," Kane agreed quietly, "you have her—but the murderer got way."

He knelt beside Holmes. Under the beam of the officer's pocket lamp he examined Nanette's wound. Then:

"It isn't serious," he said. "Only a blow on the head with that wrench She'll be all right in an hour or so."

* * *

"But I don't understand," Chief John Lee said in perplexity, "how you figured that the Deane girl committed the murder."

"I didn't figure it out for certain until this afternoon," Kane replied. "But I was fairly certain of it last night."

"Last night!" the police official exclaimed.

"Yes," Kane said, and then went on to explain about Dorotha's visit to him at his hotel.

"She visited you at your hotel last night!" Nanette LeRoi exclaimed incredulously.

"Yes, and thereby proved her own undoing. She brought me a very complete diagram of this house—" He gazed about the drawing room of Nanette LeRoi's little home "—much more complete than I could have made with my meager knowledge. She was very much upset over your marriage to Mr. Holmes."

"But why should she be?" the actor demanded.

"She thought she was safe here in Miss LeRoi's employ and she was afraid that the marriage would rob her of that protection. At least, that is my theory."

"But why should she kill Bailey?" John Lee wanted to know. "That's what puzzles me. I didn't think she even knew him."

"She told you that?" Holmes demanded.

"She told Mr. Kane that," the chief corrected.

"Why, the little liar!" the actor exploded.

"Yes, the little liar," Kane echoed. "But if you will allow me I will explain my deductions from the start and then you can draw your own conclusions.

"I knew from the first that Richard Bailey was murdered by someone who knew him exceptionally well, and in addition who knew Nanette LeRoi. I knew that whoever committed that crime wanted it to appear she had done it.

"Miss LeRoi had ample reason to get Bailey out of the way. He was blackmailing her under threat of revealing her true identity and her past. The murderer followed Nanette to Bailey's house that night—who else knew that she was going there except Dorotha Deane?

"Fate played one of her cruel tricks to aid Dorotha in her scheme. She had not intended killing Bailey that night, but when Miss LeRoi struck Bailey in a fit of anger at his unreasonable demands he slipped and struck his head against the table and fell to the floor unconscious.

"Dorotha Deane was watching from a ladder propped against the window. When Miss LeRoi fled from the house the murderer crept into the room, placed the gun against Bailey's temple and pulled the trigger."

He explained how he arrived at this conclusion, telling them of the coroner's findings after his talk with that official.

"Then, wanting it to appear that Bailey had been slain by an intruder in a fight she pushed back the table—but did it so carefully that she did not upset the decanter or four glasses which has been used earlier in that den—ruffled up the rug, broke the top cover of the bookcase and strewed its contents over the floor.

"But when she did that she did one other thing which eventually led me to her trail. Bailey kept his diary in that top shelf along with a lot of other papers. She did not know it and I found the diary on the floor. After contenting herself that she had done this job well she fled.

"Then she returned here and baited the trap for Miss LeRoi. That was to be her supreme coup. She was going to make it appear that Bailey's assailant had also attacked her."

He told of his discovery of the trap before he and Holmes had started in pursuit of the three women.

"Sunday," he continued, "she took Miss LeRoi to the beach and when she was released she hurried back into town to keep a rendezvous with someone—she said it was Larry Weldon, but I have my doubts. It was probably some sweetheart. She chanced upon her sister.

"Suddenly it dawned on her that Chivington was in the complete confidence of his master. Then, she reasoned probably, he knew enough to set the police on her trail. She decided he had to be gotten out of the way. In some way she tricked her sister into getting Chivington into the garage, where she attacked them with a wrench and left them to die, after locking the garage doors so that there would be no possible chance for either to escape should they recover from the blows on the head before the carbon monoxide had got in its deadly work.

"Dorotha Deane, once she started her criminal career, stopped at nothing. Taking her sister's life meant only one thing to her—her own safety. After that crime, she thought she was safe. Then, the arrest of Lillian Hull brought the climax. She thought she was safe.

"But when Lillian was released this morning—I can't understand yet how she found tha out. But—"

"I suppose I was responsible for that," Nanette murmured. "I felt remorseful. I had Dorotha call and see if we could visit her to take her some candy and things, and Dorotha learned that Lillian had been released."
